PRESIDENT BEGINS PREPARATION OF SECOND NOTE TO GERMANY IN ANSWER TO TEUTON REPLY

ITALIAN TROOPS HAVE TAKEN THIRTY-SEVEN VILLAGES IN AUSTRIA

Work of Army Which Has Been Invading Province of Trent.

Advance of Troops Beyond Tyrol-Trentino Frontier Continues.

Important Height of Zugna Dominating Rovereto Is Held.

DROP BOMBS IN ITALY.

Rome, June 1, via Paris.—Austrian aeroplanes have flown over Bari and Brindisi, seaports on the Adriatic in Southern Italy. They threw bombs which killed one person and wounded two others.

Udine, Italy, June 1, via Paris.—Italian troops have occupied thirty-seven villages surrounding Cortina, in the Ampezzo valley.

The troops which occupied these towns constitute the Italian army, which is invading the province of Trent from the east simultaneously with invasions from the south and west. The town of Cortina, occupation of which by the Italians was announced yesterday, lies sixty miles northeast of Trent.

Italian Statement.

Rome, May 31, via Paris, June 1.—The following official statement of the operations of the Italian military forces was issued tonight by Gen. Cadorna, chief of the general staff:

"The advance of our troops beyond the Tyrol-Trentino frontier continues and we have occupied the important height of Zugna, about four miles north of Ala, which dominated Rovereto. Upon this height the Austrians some time ago ordered a fortress built.

"Our vigorous artillery action upon the plateau being followed up the fire of the Austrian fort, Belvedere, diminished in intensity and our infantry is solidly established upon the field.

Within Five Miles of Borgo.

JAPAN'S NEW WAR POLICY APPROVED

House Adopts Provision for an Increase in the Army.

Tokio, Japan, June 1.—The government's policy of military development was approved by the house today, in an exciting session. By a vote of 232 to 131, the house adopted the provision for an increase in the standing army of two divisions, or about 24,000 men. It then approved the entire budget, including the naval program, which provides for construction of three submarines and eight torpedo boat destroyers.

The victory of the government was emphatic. There was no such opposition as appeared in the previous diet which was dissolved by the emperor for rejecting the cabinet's military program. Speeches of government and opposition leaders showed that all parties favored some form of military and naval development. M. Inukai, leader of the Kokuminto party, or the Nationalists, opposed the budget on the ground that increases to the army and navy which it contemplated, were insufficient. He declared the means of national defense should be made stronger.

Speakers on behalf of the Seiyukai or Liberals, based their opposition to the budget on the assertion that there should be perfected a more elaborate system of national defense.

CONDITION OF PANIC AT CONSTANTINOPLE

Athens, June 1, via London.—Latest advices reaching here from Constantinople are that the battle cruiser Sultan Selim, formerly the Goeben, has been virtually dismanned.

Recent developments at the Dardanelles are described as having cast a gloom over the Turkish capital, where a strong current of opinion is in favor of opening the straits and negotiating for peace.

During the recent British submarine raid in the Sea of Marmora and off Constantinople there was a condition of panic in the city. The people shouted that the Russians were coming and vessels were hastily withdrawn to the far end of the Golden Horn. Troops on board transports were disembarked, and some guns were fired at the submarine.

Italians and Greeks continue to arrive at Dedeagatch by rail. They report that Constantinople was sobered by this raid. One of the results was the dispatch of all the troops available to the Dardanelles.

Talaat Bey had the Armenian patriarch brought before him. He remonstrated at the behavior of the Armenians and warned the patriarch that conditions must improve.

BRITISH SUBMARINE HALTS TURK TROOPS

London, June 1.—An Athens dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company says it has been learned there that transportation of Turkish troops to the Dardanelles has been interrupted by the operations of a British submarine which is cruising in front of Constantinople.

SERBIA BACK IN WAR AGAIN

Military Activity Against Austro-Hungary Is Resumed.

Several Months Have Elapsed Since Last Fighting.

Nish, Serbia, June 1, via London.—The resumption of military activity on the part of Serbia against Austria is indicated in an official announcement issued today. In this report the military authorities claim a successful artillery engagement, as a result of which a battalion of Austrians which was fortifying itself to the northeast of Capinova was dispersed.

Considerable military activity on the part of the Serbians has been noted also on the Albania frontier.

Several months have passed since Serbia has been actively engaged in important military operations against Austria-Hungary. It was in December that the last heavy fighting was reported.

Recent dispatches have indicated that a new Serbian army was being organized and that a resumption of hostilities might be expected. On the other hand, Austria also has been making preparations, and a dispatch early in May said a new Austrian army was getting ready to take the field against Serbia.

It has been predicted that Serbia would strike again as soon as Austria was well occupied with the situation on her Italian frontier.

TURKS LOSE 40,000 MEN

Ottomans Meet Serious Reverses on Gallipoli Peninsula.

Allies Make Slow Progress, Gaining a Little Every Day.

London, June 1.—A prisoner captured a fortnight ago in the Dardanelles says the Turkish losses in the defense of their positions on the Gallipoli peninsula were at that time over 40,000 men.

This information was given out in an official statement in London today.

Over Limited Area.

Paris, June 1.—There was given out in Paris this afternoon the following official report on the operations in the Dardanelles:

"The fighting has resolved itself for several days past to engagements over a limited area. These have taken place almost daily and they all have come to an end with gains for the allied troops.

"On the western slope of the Ravine of Koves Dere a detachment of volunteers belonging to a colonial regiment captured by assault on Friday evening a small fort which the enemy had built at the left end of his line, and which German Ambassador Will Meet With President on Wednesday.

Washington, June 1.—After more than two hours' discussion by President Wilson and the cabinet over the international problems with respect to Germany and Mexico confronting the United States, preparation of a second note to Germany was begun and a warning to the factions in Mexico was completed.

Calm in his bearing and showing none of the strain of the international problems before him, the president received the Washington correspondents as is his usual custom on Tuesdays. Questions concerning domestic affairs had hardly touched the edge of his mind, as he phrased it, because of the greater importance of the international situation.

Tomorrow Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador, at his own request, will see the president. In well-informed quarters, however, it is said he is not in close touch with his government because of difficulty in communication. The reply then is expected to go forward on Thursday or Friday.

Calm Outwardly.

The outward calm in executive quarters, however, emphasized the deep concentration and earnest attention which President Wilson and his advis-

NINETY BOMBS DROPPED ON METROPOLIS OF THE WORLD BY ZEPPELINS; FOUR ARE KILLED

SUBMARINES HOIST SAILS

Used as Disguise to Deceive Ships About to Be Attacked.

London, Jun 1.—According to the skipper of the Dixiana, which was torpedoed Saturday, the submarine which sank his vessel had sails hoisted when first observed. He was led by this disguise to mistake her for a harmless sailing craft. This is the first time that the use of this device by a German submarine has been reported.

Soborg Torpedoed.

London, June 1.—The Danish steamer Soborg has been sunk in the English channel by a German submarine, according to a message to Lloyd's agency. The members of the crew were saved.

The Soborg was built at Sunderland in 1899 and was of 1,333 tons net register. The vessel was 286 feet long, 43 feet beam and 19 feet deep. She sailed from Baltimore on her last eastern trip across the Atlantic on April 6, when she was bound for Kirkwall and Aarhus.

Dixiana Sunk.

Savannah, Ga., June 1.—The British steamer Dixiana, Brunswick and Savannah to Havre and Port Talbot with a cargo of cotton and steel billets, has been sunk off the French coast near Ushant by a German submarine, according to telegraphic advices to the agents of the Dixiana Steamship company here. The captain and crew are reported saved.

The Dixiana was owned by the Dixiana Steamship company, a British concern, of which F. D. M. Strachan of Brunswick, Ga., is head. The Dixiana formerly was the British steamer Putney Bridge. Her name was changed when she was purchased by the Dixiana company. Her cargo of cotton was destined for Havre and the steel billets for Port Talbot.

The British steamer Dixiana was of 4,127 net tons. She left Brunswick, Ga., May 7 and Savannah May 11 for Havre and Swansea. She was in command of Capt. Long.

WOULD CUT OFF MEXICAN TRADE

Washington, June 1.—An embargo against exports of arms to Mexico and against imports of foodstuffs to the United States, as a step in relieving famine conditions below the Rio Grande, was proposed today to President Wilson by Miss Mabel Boardman of the executive committee of the American Red Cross.

Reports to the Red Cross and the state department, indicating that in the presence of famine foodstuffs are being shipped out of Mexico to the United States, Cuba and elsewhere and in the United States, are being sold cheaper than over the Mexican line.

As an experiment Red Cross supplies will be sent to American consuls who will form responsible local committees to distribute them. The dispatch of two carloads of supplies to Monterey will test that method.

Governor Withycombe of Oregon has advised the Red Cross he will appeal for aid and other governors are expected to reply to the Red Cross appeal quickly.

FRENCH DESTROY GERMAN CONSULATE

Paris, June 1.—The German consulate at Haifa, in Syria, on the Bay of Acre, having incited Turkish troops to commit acts hostile to the French, a French cruiser passed up to Haifa and by a few well directed shells destroyed the consulate.

This information is found in an announcement given out today by the French ministry of marine, which reads:

"The ministry of marine, having been advised that the German consulate at Haifa had incited Turkish troops to open fire on a boat carrying a flag of truce, and to violate the burial place in Haifa of a number of soldiers of the army of Napoleon, scattering at the same time the remains of a French admiral interred there, sent a cruiser which destroyed the consulate. The Ottoman authorities were given previous notice of the reason for the bombardment. No other buildings were hit."

LONDON RAID HAS BECOME A REALITY

Few People Wounded in Addition to Those Killed.

Numerous Fires May Have Been Caused By the Missiles.

London, June 1, 5:01 p. m.—Ninety bombs were dropped in the raid on London last night by Zeppelin airships. Four persons were killed and a few wounded. No public buildings were damaged.

This information was given out officially today.

London, June 1.—Zeppelin airships, long expected, reached London last night, but the several million inhabitants of the metropolis slept peacefully through the raid and all they knew of it this morning they learned from the admiralty announcement which reported briefly that the raiders flew over certain outlying sections of the city.

The official announcement makes mention also of numerous fires, which may or may not have been connected with the raid.

None of the evening newspapers have yet published any information or further details to supplement the bare announcement from the admiralty.

The ordinary life and business of London is being carried on as usual except one sees small groups discussing with intense curiosity a crop of wild rumors.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

In the Zeppelin raid over London last night ninety bombs were dropped. Four persons were killed and others were injured. Official announcement was made today that no public buildings were damaged.

The Italian army which is invading the Austrian province of Trent from the east, having previously captured the town of Cortina, sixty miles northeast of the city of Trent, has now occupied thirty-seven villages in the surrounding district. The Austrians continue to fall back, presumably having determined to give battle on fields of their own choosing.

Official statements from Constantinople and Paris indicate that the fighting on the Gallipoli peninsula has settled down to the trench warfare familiar in other fields of the war.

Only small engagements in limited areas are shown. The Turks claim to have repulsed several attacks, but the French statement asserts the allies are making gains daily.

On the Western front and in the Galician campaign the situation is virtually unchanged.

The Austrian city of Rovereto, whose elaborate defenses are relied on to check the Italians from pushing up the Adige river valley and besieging Trent, is now threatened by the invaders. Rovereto lies thirteen miles south of Trent, capture of which is one of the great objectives of Italy. An official statement from Rome says the Italians have occupied the important height of Zugna, which dominates Rovereto. The height lies about six miles south of Rovereto.

The other important Italian move, across the eastern border, which has the capture of Trieste as its apparent objective, has been checked by unfavorable weather conditions. Rain swollen rivers are delaying the advance, but the official statement says progress is being made.

Serbia apparently has begun a new campaign, its army having been reorganized during the long lull since active hostilities were under way against Austria early last winter. An official announcement from Nish asserts an Austrian battalion was dispersed by Serbian artillery, and indicates that the Serbians are active in the Albanian front.

Transportation of Turkish reinforcements to the Dardanelles from Constantinople is said to have been interrupted by the operations of a British submarine which is cruising in front of the city. It is reported unofficially that the Turkish cruiser Sultan Selim, formerly the German cruiser Goeben, has been virtually dismanned.

SIX RIDES FOR 25 CENTS ON STREET CARS IN SUPERIOR

Supreme Court Affirms Decision of Railroad Commission Directing Six Tickets Be Sold for a Quarter.

Madison, Wis., June 1.—The supreme court today affirmed the decision of the railroad commision directing the Duluth Street Railway company to give six street car tickets for 25 cents on its Superior, Wis., lines. The opinion was written by Justice Barnes. Justice Marshall dissented on the same grounds which he took in the Milwaukee street car fare case.

The court overruled the company's contention that the franchise provisions respecting rates of fare do not constitute a contract under the United States Constitution, depriving the state of power to regulate the company's rates.

GRAND FORKS TEAM STRIKES

Grand Forks, N. D., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Grand Forks baseball team went on strike this afternoon when their ultimatum to the club demanding that they be paid expense money for their transportation from their homes to this city at the beginning of the season was rejected. Acting under league rules, the Grand Forks club has not paid transportation expenses, the league rules being against such procedure.

When the men were paid off this morning for their work to date they appeared before Director A. J. Kavanaugh with demands for expense money, presenting also the declaration that they would strike in the event the money was not forthcoming. Mr. Kavanaugh informed the delegation that he would not accede to their demands. They gave him until 2 o'clock this afternoon to change his mind. When that hour arrived, Kavanaugh repeated his assertion, and the men declared their strike under way. Kavanaugh conferred with President Burmeister this morning and also with Charles Moll, owner of the St. Boniface franchise. Simultaneously with their strike declaration, every player participating was suspended from professional ball. As a result they lose their salaries and are barred from professional ball, the ultimate effect being they will lose considerable more money than is involved in the controversy here.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

"PINK EYE" IS PREVALENT

Oculists Say Duluthians Are Suffering From Mild Epidemic of Contagious Disease of Eyes.

"You're afflicted with an aggravated case of conjunctivitis," said the physician, frowning and rubbing his beard ruminatively.

"Oh, doctor," cried the patient in alarm, "is that one of those fashionable ills that are so terribly expensive?"

"It's the pink eye," was the disheartening reply.

At least eye, ear and nose physicians say that there are an unusual number of cases of conjunctivitis, particularly among children.

Cold, windy weather, accompanied by dust, has afforded excellent opportunities for the pink-eye germ, and many beautiful young women and handsome young men are hesitant about appearing in society or going to school.

"I don't know any reason for the unusual number of these cases," said Dr. J. M. Robinson. "Of course pink eye is very contagious and a few cases, carelessly handled, mean a lot more of them."

Dr. J. H. Andres, school physician, who examines hundreds of Duluth school children every week, said that he had noticed a few cases, but that as soon as the child showed symptoms he was sent home until danger of contagion was removed.

In the meantime business continues to be good for the conjunctivitis germ.

FEW VIOLATE ORDINANCE

But Six Offenders of Smoke Regulations Reported for May.

There were but six violations of the smoke ordinance during May, according to the monthly report of Smoke Inspector Schneider, submitted this morning to Mayor Prince.

Of the six violations, there were four charged against locomotives and two against buildings, the latter being the Duluth Iron Metal company's derrick, and the Imperial laundry. The locomotives were on the Northern Pacific, Soo and D. M. & N. lines.

During the month Inspector Schneider inspected ninety-nine buildings, fifty-six locomotives and one boat, and issued thirteen permits to the electrical and telephone companies for the erection of poles.

Three Paving Petitions.

Three petitions were filed with City Clerk Borgen this morning, asking for the paving of alleys and streets in various parts of the city.

These include the paving of Twenty-second avenue west from Third to Fifth streets; the paving of Fifth alley from Twenty-first to Twenty-second avenues east, and the paving of Third alley between Nineteenth and Twentieth avenues west.

The petitions are all signed by 25 per cent of the owners of the property to be benefited by the proposed improvements.

NOTICE

All members of Duluth Lodge, No. 119, Degree of Honor, are requested to attend the funeral of our late sister, Mrs. Anna Berg, from the residence, 812 First avenue east, Wednesday at 1:30 p. m., and 2 p. m. from the Swedish Lutheran church, Sixth avenue east and Third street.

LONG SERVICE WITH CITY ENDS

Ross Begins Duties as Humane Agent; Thompson Names Deputies.

After more than fourteen years of service to the city of Duluth as clerk of the municipal court, John G. Ross finished his last monthly report this morning and took up his work at the courthouse as humane officer, succeeding R. D. McKercher.

E. A. Thompson, West end photographer, began his duties as clerk of court, succeeding Mr. Ross, at once. He was appointed by Judge W. H. Smallwood, following the decision of district court judges on the appeal from the election taken by Former Judge W. A. Windom.

Edward Furni, advertising man, also began his work as first deputy clerk, succeeding M. S. Lloyd. Mr. Lloyd held the position for many years.

Miss Harriet A. Walker, for twenty years deputy clerk, will retain her post, as will Walter J. Richeson, deputy clerk, assigned to the criminal division of the court under Judge F. H. Cutting.

Mr. Ross was appointed clerk of municipal court March 4, 1901, during the administration of Mayor T. W. Hugo, by Judge W. E. Edson, and has held the position without interruption since that time.

From now on Mr. Ross will hold the position vacated by Mr. McKercher when he was appointed chief of police.

Clerk Thompson this morning sent a communication to the city council, formally notifying the commissioners of the appointment of Mr. Furni and the retention of Miss Walker and Mr. Richeson.

FEW DOG TAGS SECURED.

Only 591 Licenses Taken Out Compared to 1,800 Last Year.

Only 591 dog licenses have been taken out by Duluthians, according to City Treasurer McLean, while last year more than 1,800 tags were sold.

The city treasurer is unable to account for the large drop, unless it be that the public does not know the necessity of obtaining these tags at once.

Dogs without licenses will be taken to the pound and killed, unless the owner claims the animal and pays the poundkeeper $2 in addition to purchasing a license.

Russian Bark Sunk By Mine.

London, June 1.—The Russian bark Montrosa was blown up by a mine last night in the North sea twenty-five miles from Spurn. The vessel sank. Her crew was landed at Hull today by a Norwegian steamer.

WEATHER—Partly cloudy weather tonight and Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

TWO AUTO ACCIDENTS.

Capt. Massey Has Narrow Escape; Jitney Rams Big Car.

Capt. Chester Massey had a narrow escape from being killed in a crash between his limousine and a Duluth-Superior street car at Tower avenue and Broadway, Superior, yesterday afternoon. The machine was driven down Broadway, and in an attempt to cross ahead of a slowly moving street car, the two came together. The front part of the automobile was smashed in, and it was believed at first that Capt. Massey was killed. He came out of the accident without a scratch.

Another automobile accident occurred on South Tower avenue, when a jitney, owned by Edward Rasmussen, crashed into a heavy car owned by Charles North. Mr. Rasmussen claims that he was crowded to the edge of the highway, and that he was unable to avoid the accident. None of the occupants of the two machines was injured, but the smaller machine was badly smashed.

Case Will Go to Jury.

A motion that the case against James Naughton, charged with giving illegal returns of election, which is now on trial for the second time in the superior court at Superior, be dismissed, was made by attorneys for the defense, but was not granted. The state rested its case this morning and the first witness for the defense will be placed on the stand this afternoon. In making the motion for dismissal of the case, attorneys for the defense contended that no crime had been committed according to the evidence submitted by the state.

Find Anderson's Body.

The body of Axel Anderson, aged 43, who disappeared more than two weeks ago while on his way home from work and for whom friends of the family have searched the city and explored the sewers, was found this morning floating in the bay near the American Milling company's dock. The body was found by a captain of one of the ferry boats, who notified the police and coroner. It is believed that the man fell into the bay while walking along the dock. He leaves a widow and one daughter.

Saloon Keeper Arrested.

Peter Anderson, a confectioner at 1914 Broadway, has been arrested on a Federal warrant charging him with having furnished liquor to Indians. The warrant was served by W. T. Pugh, deputy United States marshal. The liquor is alleged to have been furnished by Anderson to Marguerite Foster, a squaw, on Sunday. The Indian woman claims that she had entered Anderson's place and had asked for a drink of water and had been given the whisky. Anderson's trial will take place at Eau Claire on June 8.

WILL INITIATE FIFTEEN.

Covenant Lodge Will Give Ceremony and Dinner Thursday.

Covenant Lodge, Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, will initiate a class of fifteen candidates at a special ceremony to be held at the Commercial club on Thursday evening.

The ceremony will be preceded by a dinner at 6:30 o'clock to be given for all the members of the local lodge and the novitiates. Bernard Silberstein, safety commissioner, will preside during the evening.

Following the ceremony, Dr. Isaac L. Rypins of St. Paul, will deliver the address of the evening. Toasts will be responded to by Dr. Maurice Lefkovits and Dr. Samuel Gross, president of the lodge.

Charles D. Oreckovsky, Ben Blumenthal and A. B. Kapplin are in charge of the arrangements for the banquet and initiation.

GOES TO SOUTH DAKOTA.

Fargo, N. D., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The resignation of G. W. Randlett, director of extension work at the local agricultural college and experiment station, has been announced. He will take a similar position at the South Dakota agricultural college.

After being prominent in educational work some years Randlett took the agricultural course at the agricultural college here and soon afterwards was made director of extension work. He has also been superintendent of the farmers institute work in this state.

CURTAIL NAVIGATION IN STRAITS OF MESSINA

Washington, June 1.—Navigation in the Straits of Messina, between half an hour after sunset and half an hour before sunrise, has been prohibited by the Italian government which has advised the American embassy at Rome that merchant vessels of the allies and neutral governments must await authorization to enter, keep three miles off shore and exchange signals with land stations.

STATEMENT OF THE CIRCULATION OF THE DULUTH HERALD FOR THE MONTH OF MAY

The Duluth Herald holds a unique place in the Minnesota newspaper field in that it is the only daily paper in the state that has never used voting, guessing, cut prices or premium schemes of any nature to artifically stimulate circulation. Herald advertisers get the full benefit of a home circulation of a high order—a proven circulation of quality as well as quantity.

The Duluth Herald, as a result of the above audit, guarantees its advertisers a circulation greater by thousands than that of any other daily or Sunday paper in Minnesota outside the Twin Cities.

ITALIANS EAGER TO BECOME CITIZENS

Many Applications Are Now Being Received By Inspector Here.

The entry of Italy into the European war is causing a rush of Italians in seeking their citizenship papers in this part of the state, according to Naturalization Inspector Doe at the Federal building. The majority of applications for citizenship at the present time are from Italians, he says.

Applications from foreigners of various nationalities have been coming in rapidly since the war began, said Mr. Doe today, but the Italians are leading at present.

Mr. Doe conducted a hearing at Carlton this morning, at which nine foreigners were admitted to citizenship, four applications continued and eleven dismissed. Tomorrow Mr. Doe will hold a hearing at Two Harbors, at which eleven applications will be heard.

MUST KEEP STREAM FREE FOR PUBLIC

Coolidge-Schussler Co. Enjoined From Monopolizing Floodwood River.

An injunction restraining the Floodwood River Improvement company and M. H. Coolidge and M. H. Schussler, as co-partners, from monopolizing the Floodwood river so as to prevent its use by others was granted by Judge Cant today when the court handed down its decision in a suit in equity brought against the Coolidge-Schussler interests by the attorney general on relation of Samuel and Andrew Heikkila, farmers in section 32, 52-20.

The Floodwood River Improvement company was incorporated some time ago in the interest of Coolidge and Schussler and was made a co-defendant in the suit. The court holds that the loggers monopolized the use of the river to some extent during the past few years and in doing so have ignored the rights of the public.

Judge Cant enjoins the defendants from overloading the river with forest products and requires the company to provide a sufficient number of men for driving the logs down the river, "so that driving may be accelerated in a substantial degree beyond what has been customary in times past." The loggers are also required to keep the river free from obstructions.

ITALIAN RESERVES ARE ORDERED HOME

Winnipeg, June 1.—The Italian vice consul here has been notified by his government that all Italians on the list of reserve officers must return immediately and report in Italy at their particular military district. The government pays all expenses. Italians in Canada born between 1876 and 1895 inclusive, who are liable to military service are to hold themselves ready to return to Italy at the first call. When the news became known at Port Arthur, one Italian exclaimed: "When we fight for Italy we fight with Canadians!"

MISSISSIPPI PASSES THE FLOOD STAGE

St. Louis, Mo., June 1.—The Mississippi passed flood stage here by two inches today and registered 30.2 feet. The water touched the railway tracks on the river levee. In the extreme southern part of the city, the rising water forced many squatters along the river front to move.

It was predicted by the weather bureau that the river would reach 31 feet Thursday.

MORGAN PARK, THE MODEL CITY FOR STEEL PLANT EMPLOYES, RAPIDLY NEARING COMPLETION

ONE OF THE BEAUTIFUL BOULEVARDS AT MORGAN PARK.

Morgan Park—the Model City—the city built on modern ideas with all the latest improvements and conveniences, the city which will become the home of an army of employes of the Minnesota Steel company, is rapidly nearing completion.

It is located on what is probably the most picturesque part of the St. Louis river, where that stream broadens into Spirit Lake and which site was chosen by those who were then called visionaries twenty-five years ago for a townsite.

Two years ago this spring the place was but a barren spot, now it has paved streets, 169 houses of the most modern type, a sewer system, a plan of parking under way which is expected to be the rival of any parkway in the world and to be for years to come the envy of every other community in the Northwest.

Lavish Improvements.

More than a million dollars have already been spent by the steel company at this spot in the building of homes and for the improving of the little city's surroundings. More than another million will be spent before it is completed.

The 169 houses now built will provide homes for 349 families. The houses built for individual families have from five to eight rooms. They will rent to the employes at the rate of $3.75 per room or $18.75 for a five-room house. The houses providing for two or more families will rent at the same rate. Many of the buildings are for two, four and six families, but in each case each family will have an individual basement, a furnace and water and electrical appliances.

The interior of the homes are thoroughly modern and attractive. Hardwood finish, walls prettily tinted, fireplaces, modern electrical and gas fixtures, ample closets and roomy kitchens and pantries will delight the housewives.

Beautifying the Grounds.

At present a large crew of men is at work sodding and seeding the lawns. Shrubbery and trees have been planted on every street and corner and everything has been done with a view of making the place a beauty spot.

While at present there are only about twenty-five families residing at the park, this number is being continually increased. It is expected that before the end of this summer at least 100 families will make that part of the city their home. No stores are yet located in the park, but provisions have been made for this and before the plant is ready to begin making steel it is expected that every line of business will be represented.

At least three large buildings will be erected in the little city within a short time. These are a clubhouse for the employes, a hospital and a school. The clubhouse will also be, it is said, the home of the general offices of the company. The club building will be arranged with a view to furnishing all of the recreation to be desired and will be equipped with a modern gymnasium, auditorium, lounging rooms, billiard rooms and other features.

The hospital will be equipped with all the modern conveniences. It is said that when the steel plant begins operations an automobile ambulance will always be ready to immediately take patients to the hospital in case of accident.

PLAN OLD-TIME CELEBRATION

Meeting Called for Thursday to Decide on the Project.

At a meeting of citizens of West Duluth to be held Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the West Duluth Commercial club, steps will undoubtedly be taken to give an old time celebration on the Fourth of July in this end of the city. Every business man and resident of West Duluth is requested to be present. The invitation is also extended to the women of this end of the city as well as representatives from uptown, who now have under consideration a general city-wide celebration. The uptown people are wanted because many of those who have spoken of a local celebration, do not wish to conflict with an affair that may be city-wide.

According to an outline made by one of the citizens, it will be planned to have an all-day celebration of the national holiday. Some well known citizen will be asked to read the Declaration of Independence, another to give a patriotic address, and a band will be secured to play patriotic music.

It is claimed that subscriptions amounting to about $200 would cover the entire bill for music and pay for considerable fireworks. If the celebration is decided on, a committee will be appointed to begin the soliciting of funds at once.

Among the citizens who have spoken in favor of the celebration, are: W. A. Pond, president of the West Duluth Commercial club; L. A. Barnes, M. J. Fillatrault, John A. Eklund, Archie Boyd, Frank H. Wade, George P. Miller, I. Diebel, H. J. Bell, and many others. A large turn out to the meeting is expected.

Celebrate Silver Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Norlund, 102 North Fifty-third avenue west, celebrated last evening in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Norlund were the recipients of many handsome silver presents.

The evening was spent with games and music. A short talk of congratulation was given by Rev. J. A. Krantz, pastor of the Emil Swedish Lutheran church. Luncheon was served the guests at 10 o'clock.

MANY MERCHANTS ARE TOO TRUSTING

Police Find Numerous Store Doors Unlocked at Night.

Storekeepers in West Duluth either show a great deal of confidence in the public or are somewhat careless, according to reports of the police. During the past month thirteen business men forgot to lock the doors of their stores, and policemen making the rounds at night have had to call the proprietors to perform that duty. Since the first of the year nearly 100 have been negligent in this matter.

West Duluth was quiet and orderly during the month of May. Only twelve arrests were made. The police station accommodated 174 lodgers and the police investigated thirty-seven complaints. The patrol wagon is credited with having traveled eighty-seven miles.

One of the features of the report of Lieut. C. E. Wilcox was that during the month the police have carried home three men because they were so drunk they could not navigate. Assisting the men home is said to be one part of a patrolman's duty that does not often get publicity.

West Duluth Briefs.

Miss Muriel Strand, 921 North Central avenue, will entertain tomorrow evening for members of the Sunshine class of the Westminster Presbyterian church.

A. C. Kingston of Chilton, Wis., is a guest of E. G. Kreidler, 230 North Central avenue.

The Ladies Aid Society of the West Duluth Baptist church will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fannie Erickson, 931 London road.

Charles Black, 426 North Fifty-third avenue west, has returned from a short business trip to the Twin Cities.

West Duluth Lodge No. 145, A. O. U. W., will hold its meeting tomorrow evening at Gilley's hall. Members of the West Duluth Lodge No. 85, Degree of Honor, have arranged a visit to the meeting for the evening.

LIQUOR HABIT CURED

DULUTH, MINN., May 20, 1915.

Dear Sir: I will now have the pleasure of telling how much I appreciate Mr. Fisete's cure for the Liquor Habit, which I was bothered with for 15 years, and am happy to say, I'm relieved from it now, which only took me two weeks. I have no more desire for liquor. I can say it's a perfect cure. In gratitude,

MARTIN J. SOLBERG.

Martin J. Solberg is numbered among the "old timers" of West Duluth although but comparatively a short time in business in this end of the city.

"West Duluth is about to realize its hopes of nearly a quarter of a century ago, that of becoming a great steel center and every month now looks better and brighter for the residents," said Mr. Solberg. "West Duluth will in the near future have more than the one business street. Grand avenue is fast coming into prominence and the men who laid out Grand avenue will realize their dream of big business locating thereon."

Mr. Solberg has been active in many of the public questions brought up in this end of the city.

RAILROADS WILL TELL THEIR SIDE

Michigan Roads Will Establish Publicity Bureau at Detroit.

There will be a meeting of passenger representatives of all lines operating in Michigan in Detroit tomorrow to perfect plans for the publicity bureau that it is proposed to establish in that state for the purpose of putting the railroad side of rates directly before the people.

W. W. Walker, vice president and general manager of the South Shore, was scheduled to attend the meeting, but could not leave in time. Today Mr. Walker said he believed that the Michigan lines would establish a bureau that will hold for some time, and, moreover, that other lines throughout the United States will follow the example of the lines in the Wolverine state, as such plans were being talked of at the present.

SIX SCHOOLS NOT REPRESENTED

Parents of Disappointed Children Will Complain to Board.

Six schools were not represented by a marching regiment of children in the Memorial day parade, and parents have announced their intention of presenting the matter to the board of education, indignant because their youngsters were not given an opportunity to compete for flags.

"My child was broken hearted," said one mother, this morning. "After he had drilled for a long time, he appeared at the school house early in the morning of the parade, to learn that his school was not going to compete."

Principals of the six schools said that they decided not to have a representation in the parade after considering the matter carefully, and denied that any children were "broken hearted" from disappointment at not being allowed to march.

One thousand two hundred children gathered at the assembly hall, Central high school, after the parade, while Judge W. H. Smallwood presented flags to the winning schools. They were the Jackson and Merritt.

The list of children who competed included most of the schools of the city. The parochial institutions were especially well represented, and made a most creditable showing.

PIANO WAR

Korby's competitors admit that they cannot compete with Korby in high-grade piano quality and prices, as he almost gives away real good pianos and player pianos, which are all but human, and that is why he does such a big business without agents, canvassers or sales manager, but their commissions, one-third off the real selling price, Korby gives to the buying public, and that alone looks good to the buyer who expects to pay for the instrument in cash or payments.

The conditions in this country look prospective and all over-loaded piano stocks are closed out. The Korby Piano Co., the manufacturers' headquarters, 26 Lake avenue north, have last dealers' stock almost all in on their two floors and they began selling this morning.

Mr. John Korby, the manufacturers' representative, stated that their store at 26 Lake avenue north will be the Duluth's piano market place this week.

TORPEDOED BY MISTAKE

Germany Makes Declaration in Regard to Steamer Gulflight.

Commander of Submarine Failed to Notice American Flag Flying.

Washington, June 1.—Ambassador Gerard at Berlin has been informally notified that the steamer Gulflight was torpedoed through a mistake. The German submarine commander reported that he failed to notice the Gulflight's American flag and took her for a British vessel.

The state department announcement today says:

Commander's Error.

"The American ambassador at Berlin reports that the chief of the admiralty staff, Admiral Behnke, has informed him that the commander of the submarine which sank the Gulflight did so through mistake because two boats similar to trawlers, one carrying wireless apparatus were apparently convoying the Gulflight. The commander therefore thought it a British boat and did not notice the American flag on the stern until just after giving the order to fire."

Two of Crew Drowned.

The Gulflight was attacked in the English channel on May 1, while bound from Port Arthur, Tex., for Rouen, France, with a cargo of oil. Two members of the crew were drowned while taking to the boats, and the captain died the following day from heart trouble brought on by his experience.

The steamer's bulkheads prevented her from sinking, and she was towed to Crow sound and beached for repairs.

FORMER SECRETARY HAS A CLOSE CALL

Benjamin F. Tracy Hit By Wagon Shaft While Riding in Auto.

New York, June 1.—Gen. Benjamin F. Tracy, former secretary of the navy, narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday while on his way to view the memorial day parade in Brooklyn. The general was in an automobile which collided lightly with a peddler's horse and wagon.

The shaft of the wagon, however,

Gen. Tracy after the wound had been dressed, insisted on resuming his journey to the reviewing stand and he sat through most of the parade. Then weakness, due to the shock, overcame him, and he went to his home. Tonight it was said that no ill-effects were expected from the accident.

Gen. Tracy is 83 years old.

PRESIDENT BEGINS PREPARATION OF SECOND NOTE

ers are giving to the situation. The president, it is understood, has been much impressed with the practically unanimous verdict of American editorial opinion that the German answer is not really an answer, but an evasion of the greater issues of law and humanity. His close advisers say he regards it as a true reflection of the opinion of the country, and will endeavor by his action to express it.

While the president himself would give no intimation of his course, many of those familiar with his previous attitude thought the American rejoinder would be brief and would demand an early reply. Failure to meet the American representations would, it was freely predicted, result in a severance of diplomatic relations. The pressure for that course has been great in many quarters since the sinking of the Lusitania. Some friends of the president have indicated that he would not hesitate to adopt it in the event of a final unsatisfactory answer. Diplomatic non-intercourse, however, would not necessarily be followed, it was pointed out today, by any other step, unless American rights were again flagrantly violated.

Gravity Reflected.

As the cabinet officers arrived at the White House, none would express an opinion, but all reflected the gravity of the situation. Three weeks ago today the president's Lusitania note was discussed and unanimously approved after prolonged debate. In the absence of any prepared document today, a wide expression of views was expected, which the president, it was believed, would take under consideration when the new note actually is prepared.

The president indicated in his speech yesterday at Arlington that he hoped to have the widest counsel in the present situation. While he wants to send a reply within a day or two to indicate to Germany the earnest purpose of the United States to have a prompt understanding on the important issues raised without protracted discussions, he intends to go over the new note carefully with Counselor Lansing and legal officers of the government before it is dispatched.

Secretaries Lane, Garrison, Daniels, Wilson and Bryan walked to the White House, while Secretary Houston, Postmaster General Burleson and Attorney General Gregory came in their carriages. Secretary Bryan was the last to arrive and went into the cabinet room declining to discuss any phase of the foreign situation.

For the first time in several weeks the meeting was held in the cabinet room in the executive offices.

Recently the meetings have been held in the president's study in the White House.

war office this afternon gave out a report on the progress of hostilities which reads:

"Violent fighting took place last night in the region to the north of Arras.

"To the east of the road from Aix Noulette to Souchez we made our way into a grove, and here there developed a hand-to-hand fight in which we had the advantage.

"On the plateau to the east of Notre Dame de Lorette we took possession of a German work.

"A very violent fight developed around the sugar mill at Souchez, in the course of which we took about sixty prisoners.

"In the Vosges, near Fontenelle, north of St. Die, during the night of May 30-31, a German attack in which two companies participated, was repulsed by us with heavy losses for the enemy."

has arrived within five miles of Borgo and is supported strongly on two slopes of the valley. The mountain of Belvedere, which dominates Fiera di Primieri in the Cismon valley, is also in our hands.

"A battalion and a half of Austrians with machine guns attacked our Alpine troops in a defile of Monte Croce on the Carnia frontier May 30. The Alpine troops repulsed five spirited attacks delivered one after the other after which they took the offensive in a violent rain and thick fog putting their assailants to flight. Our losses were light.

"The rain continues on the Friuli frontier and the water courses are swollen but our troops advance in serene confidence to overcome their difficulty."

Raid on Pola.

An official statement issued by the ministry of marine announces that an Italian dirigible has made a raid on the Austrian naval base of Pola, doing damage to the railroad station and the arsenal. The statement follows:

"One of our dirigibles flew over Pola last evening, dropping bombs on the railroad station, a naptha deposit, and the arsenal. All the bombs burst with full effect. A big fire started in the arsenal.

"The dirigible was subjected to a violent fire from the land batteries, but was not hit, and returned intact.

"This morning our destroyer flotilla bombarded a shipyard at Monfalcone, causing considerable damage, as the commander of the destroyers was able to observe. Several large boats laden with flour were surprised and destroyed by the same flotilla, which returned, having accomplished its mission, without being hit by the fire of the guns on the Austrian coast. The crews suffered no loss."

Rain Prevents Operations.

Verona, Italy, June 1, via Paris.—Rain storms and fog are preventing a rapid development of Italian operations against the Austrian positions in the Adige valley. Some Alpine detachments and two regiments of Bersaglieri have been exposed to the weather for fifty hours without the possibility of going into camp.

Long range cannon are now being transported by the Italians towards the points to be occupied, one of which is within seven miles of Roverto. The whole high plateau of Lavarone now is in the hands of Italian troops, who also are threatening to take the Austrian city of Trent from behind along the Fiemme valley.

The Austrian authorities evidently see the danger threatening Trent because they have ordered the evacuation of all persons and institutions considered "useless" included in this category are judges and law courts which are being transferred to Mezolombardo, a village ten miles further north.

dominated our trenches. Our men went forward with such speed that the defenders of this fort, taken by surprise, fled without making any resistance. Two counter-attacks delivered by the Turks in large numbers, the purpose of which was to recapture the fort in question, were repulsed by us and the enemy suffered heavy losses.

"The British troops also won a brilliant success in repulsing a violent assault near Gaba Tepe."

Turk Statement.

Constantinople, June 1, via London.—An official announcement given out today reads:

"The enemy on Monday attacked our right wing near Avi Burnu, but they were repulsed. Their losses are estimated at 100 killed and more dead were observed in the valley.

Monday night the enemy attempted to recapture the trenches lost the previous day in their center by a surprise attack. They were repulsed everywhere and lost many in killed. We also took arms and ammunition.

"On the front of Seddul Bahr there have been exchanges of artillery and rifle fire."

BIG GUNS IN U. S. FORT ARE TAMPERED WITH

Port Townsend, Wash., June 1.—An attempt to put out of commission the big guns at Fort Worden and Fort Flagler, guarding the entrance to Puget Sound, was made several days ago, it became known today, and as a result all visitors have been barred from the forts in this district. It is reported that breech locks of four guns were removed and the loading mechanism damaged.

NEW ORE RATE NOW IN FORCE

Sixty Cent Charge From Mines to Docks Is Supplanted.

Effect on Ore Shipments By Independents Watched With Interest.

The new ore rate from the mines to the docks went into effect today and the result will be watched with much interest. The former rate was 60 cents and the new one is 55 cents. The interstate commerce commission, in a recent decision, ordered this reduction, on protest of the independents, to take effect June 15. The ore roads not only acquiesced without appeal but decide to start the new rate fifteen days earlier than required by the decision; hence the establishment of the new rate today.

Ore shippers are not looking for a rush for the first two weeks of the month, but with a week it is expected to be known whether or not the putting in force of the new rate will encourage independents to loosen up in the matter of shipments.

Profit Must Be Soon.

The season is now six weeks old and to be profitable it must be materially better before July 1. If the shipments do not show a marked improvement within thirty days there may be some profit made in the fall by boats that have had fairly good operation through the summer, but those that have been idle so far will not show up very well.

Some of the vessel owners are expecting to be able to give the boats they have in commission considerable better operation this month. While they have not received anything definite from the shippers, they have received some encouragement and hope to avoid sending so many boats light for coal. The owners generally are of the opinion that they cannot put more boats in commission for at least a month, but they do believe they will be aided by larger ore traffic soon.

WILL PROTECT CANADIAN CARGOES

Grain Clearance Corporation Makes Agreement.

The Grain Clearance corporation of Buffalo has arrived at an agreement with the elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur to protect ships against shortages and overages on the same basis that prevails with American elevators.

Following the investigation into the large shortages reported by vessels loading at the Canadian Head of the Lakes last fall the dominion grain commissioners established rules similar to those in force on the American side of the lakes through the contract with the Grain Clearance corporation. The agreement with the corporation provides for the same contingencies as the commission rules in Canada.

The corporation will receive the same allowances as from American elevators and boats, one-sixth bushel to the thousand of cargo from the elevators and one-fourth bushel to the thousand from the boats plus 12 cents a thousand bushels from the boats for supervision of loading and unloading.

In case of an extraordinary shortage or overage the dominion commission shall investigate and place the responsibility the same as if the cargo were consigned to a Canadian port.

Under this arrangement American boats can load at any of the grain shipping ports west of Buffalo without running a risk of large shortage as formerly.

INVESTIGATING KIRBY EPIDEMIC

Five Cases of Typhoid on Steamer in Quarantine at Houghton.

Gordon Houseman of Cleveland, manager of the Harry H. Brown fleet, is in Houghton, Mich., to take charge of the investigation into the cause for so many cases of typhoid fever aboard the steamer S. R. Kirby, which is held in quarantine there.

He has arranged to have a specialist conduct an investigation in conjunction with the health officer at Houghton. Every effort will be made to stamp out the disease and to determine where and how it started.

The Kirby has had five persons taken down with typhoid in two weeks. Typhoid is one of the most dreaded diseases that is likely to break out on lake ships. Through both individual efforts and association movements sanitary conditions have been kept in excellent shape on the lake ships and so many cases as have been reported by the Kirby is a rare condition nowadays.

GRAIN TRADE DULL.

Line Steamers Making Up Cargoes Peace-Meal; Stagnant Here.

The steamer Lehigh is being used in Chicago to transfer grain from one elevator to another. She was chartered to load a cargo of grain from Chicago to Montreal and when she arrived at Chicago to load, the elevators needed a transfer boat, so chartered her to do this work before loading for Montreal. She has about four days' work in the harbor.

At Chicago the grain market is so extremely dull that brokers have been unable to line up a full cargo for a Welland canal-sized steamer the last few days. A few days ago a broker was offered 50,000 bushels for Buffalo delivery. He tried to find a like amount to cargo a small steamer and could not do it. The grain was then turned over to a line boat. The line boats at Chicago have been taking 10,000-bushel lots to make up the small cargoes that they carry.

Duluth is in very little better shape. The grain trade here is said to be whipped for the rest of the summer and only a few cargoes will be offered before new grain commences to arrive.

OUTLOOK FOR COAL SHIPMENTS IMPROVES

Coal shipments are expected to be much better by the last of this month. Aug. 1 has been set for the coal movement to reach a normal state, but the shipments this month will probably be very much improved according to most shippers. Managers who have coal, but are without ore are likely to have boats operating light for coal.

A few ships are being sent to the dock. The number going into ordinary is not as large as two or three weeks ago, but the business has not grown as some thought it would. Others are thinking of putting some of the boats that are in ordinary in operation, as they have received word that they will be expected to carry more coal this month.

Osborne Is Repaired.

The steamer A. W. Osborne, which was in collision with the Canadian steamer Valcartier, formerly the W. H. Mack, had fourteen plates and ten feet of stem to be replaced. She was repaired at the Globe shipyard in Cleveland. The repairs cost about $7,000. The Valcartier, which is at Port Huron, will be docked at Port Arthur, June 5.

GRANTS INTERVIEW TO VON BERNSTORFF

German Ambassador Will Call on President Wilson Wednesday.

Washington, June 1.—President Wilson has granted a request of Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, for an interview at the White House Wednesday afternoon. It is understood that the ambassador desires to discuss questions pending between his country and the United States.

Announcement of the arrangement for the ambassador's visit was made at the White House late yesterday. It will be the first time Count Bernstorff has seen the president since the negotiations over violations of American rights in the war zone began.

Aged, Wrinkled Faces Easily Rejuvenated

An aged face is often only a mask to a comparatively youthful person. Beneath is a countenance young and fair to look upon. It's a simple matter to remove the mask. Ordinary mercolized wax, to be had at any drug store, gradually absorbs the worn-out surface skin; in a week or two the user has the loveliest pinky white complexion imaginable. An ounce of the wax usually is sufficient to complete the transformation. It is put on at night like cold cream and taken off in the morning with warm water.

This remarkable treatment is invariably effective, no matter how muddy, sallow or discolored the complexion. Freckles, moth patches, liver spots, pimples, blackheads and other cutaneous blemishes, naturally vanish with the discarded skin.

To remove wrinkles, here is a recipe that cannot be too highly recommended: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in ½ pint witch hazel. Use as a wash lotion. It acts instantaneously and is wonderfully effective. —Advertisement.

NEWSBOY RESCUED BY HIS "PAL"

Nearly Provides Memorial Day Fatality By Falling Into Lake.

After falling ten feet into the lake at the foot of First avenue east yesterday afternoon, Abraham Fagel, 220½ East Second street, a "newsie," almost furnished the only casualty to feature Memorial day, but was rescued by Hymen Schraber, age 15, 208½ East Second street.

The two boys were strolling along the lake shore, when the Fagel boy slipped and went down, Hymen looked on, horror stricken, but after his little companion had gone down twice, he plunged in after him, determined to save him, even if he couldn't swim "very good."

"Abie" came up again and clutched his friend, so that Hymen was compelled to fight desperately before he worked himself free and was able to use his arms.

When he finally reached the shore, "Hymie" tried all the safety first methods he had been taught at school, and remembered enough of them to do some good. The boys then "beat it" for a friendly radiator or stove, where they could warm themselves and dry their clothes before reporting at home.

SEEK MISSING HEIR.

An estate valued at $10,000 awaits James Redmond, iron ore prospector, who left his home at McGirr, Ill., to come to the iron ranges fifteen years ago. Murt Redmond, the prospector's father, died last week at McGirr, and relatives of the missing heir have written letters to Duluth newspapers in an attempt to discover his whereabouts. He was last heard from in Deer River, Minn., in 1901.

WINNERS IN STORY CONTEST ON THE SHOPPING TOUR OF MISS BRONAUGH OF BALDWIN PLAYERS

The Herald, in accordance with its announcement on Saturday evening, publishes the list of successful contestants in the shopping tour contest of Miss Bronaugh of the Baldwin Players which was given in detail to the readers in the issue of Saturday night. Although coming at an inopportune time, as most of the readers were busily engaged with thoughts of Memorial day and making preparations as to where they would spend the day, the contest, which was the third of a series arranged by The Herald, was up to the same high standard as were the two preceding it. All of the stories sent in showed very plainly that the contestants were full of knowledge as to what they were to write about, and it gave the advertising story editor much pleasure in reading the various stories that were sent to him. All of the winners showed remarkable talent in short story writing and The Herald wishes to thank them and the others who participated in this contest. Following are the prize winners:

Ninth prize—Two parquet seats at Lyceum, Miss Alice M. Sullivan, 105 West Fifth street.

MAY REVIVE OLD STAR SYSTEM

Permanent stock companies with a restoration of the old-time system of stock stars are looked upon by Eastern theatrical managers as the solution of the present unsettled theatrical conditions, according to Walter S. Baldwin, manager of the Baldwin Players at the Lyceum, who returned yesterday from a trip to New York. Mr. Baldwin went to New York to secure plays for the summer engagement of his company.

"The old stock star system was in use twenty years ago," said Mr. Baldwin. "Then there was a circuit of permanent stock companies, and the stars would travel from city to city. For instance when 'The Count of Monte Cristo' was to be presented James O'Neil would be brought in for the one week to play the leading role, and would be supported by the local company. He would travel around the circuit playing but the one part. Each star had an understudy, a stage manager, who knew the star's part word for word, and every bit of business. He would travel one week ahead of the star, and would rehearse the local company, playing the star's part at the rehearsals. When the star came along he was ready to step into the part without a rehearsal.

Scarcity of Stars.

"The chief drawback to this system now is the scarcity of stars and of plays. All the stars with any reputation have gone into the motion picture business, and are getting such exorbitant salaries that it is out of the question to tempt them to leave, while lesser players are out of work. Another difficulty is that every man who owns a play is selling it to the motion picture industry, and it would be difficult for such a circuit to get first-class plays at anything like a reasonable price.

"Conditions in the theatrical business in the East are in a most unsettled condition. Nobody knows just what is going to happen. There are few producers who are planning to do anything for next season, and it looks as if the man who has a theater lease on his hands is going to be in a bad way for attractions. This is true not only of the smaller cities, but of the larger ones. Cities like Indianapolis, Denver, Cincinnati, Cleveland, and a score of others above the 200,000 mark in population, are likely to find themselves without any traveling attractions worthy of the name. This applies not only to the popular priced houses, but to the first-class theaters. The trouble seems to be that the men with money hesitate about investing it and the men without funds who want to do something haven't the money to do it. And all the time people are hungry for amusement. It is an unusual and deplorable situation, but I am a long way from being a pessimist about it. Some plan will be evolved to give this country amusement, but nobody seems to know yet what that plan will be."

SAVE MONEY FOR THE CITY

Permanent Improvement Fund Deficit Will Be Greatly Reduced.

Contracts Let Below Estimates; Several Jobs Abandoned.

The $100,000 deficit in the permanent improvement fund will be reduced by $20,000 to $30,000 this year, according to an announcement made today by Commissioner Farrell of the works division.

Many paving projects planned for this summer have been abandoned, Mr. Farrell said, but the city also plans to save about $9,000 on street intersections, owing to the fact that the original estimates by the engineers were too high. The contract for the Minnesota avenue pavement was let for $53,000, while the estimate was for $73,000. This will save the city from $3,000 to $4,000 on street intersections. In addition the Woodland avenue pavement will be laid for $14,000, while the estimates called for an expenditure of $22,000, and the Ninth street pavement will be built at a saving of over $8,000, the original estimate having been $32,000, while the contract was let for $24,000. Many smaller jobs will bring the total saving close to $9,000, Mr. Farrell said.

The plan to pave Central avenue, Exeter street, Colorado street and several smaller thoroughfares has been given up, so that the city's expense may be reduced. These streets will be the first paved in 1916, the commissioner announced today.

There is a deficit of $100,000 in the permanent fund, and recently the district court ordered the city commission to pay this money in four annual installments. Last fall the budget included an appropriation of $163,000 for the permanent improvement fund and it is the aim of the commissioners to spend about $90,000 on street intersections, leaving about $60,000 for sidewalks and improvements to Mission creek at Fond du Lac. The improvements will cost about $30,000, leaving $20,000 to pay on the $100,000 deficit.

PAN-AMERICANS ARE SIGHT-SEEING

Delegates to Recent Conference Pay Visit to Independence Hall.

Philadelphia, June 1.—The delegates to the Pan-American conference held in Washington last week arrived here today prepared for two days of sightseeing. The Central and South Americans were especially interested in their visit to this city because it included an inspection of historic Independence hall and the house in which the American flag was first made by Betsy Ross.

The first activity of the day after the delegates had their breakfast was the reception tendered the visitors at the hotel where they are making their headquarters.

The big party then proceeded to Independence hall where the delegates joined in observing the one hundred and thirty-ninth anniversary of the birth of the Declaration of Independence. In the first week in June, 1776, there was presented to the representatives of the colonies a resolution, which when amplified became the Declaration of Independence.

LOW BID FOR CITY FUEL.

Pittsburgh Coal Company Will Get Contract for Next Winter.

The Pittsburgh Coal company has submitted the lowest bid on furnishing the city with all the coal for the coming winter.

The bids were opened this morning by Mayor Prince and the offer of the Pittsburgh company will be accepted, he said, today.

Several bids were submitted by local companies, the proposals practically being all alike, with the exception of Youghiogheny lump coal, for which the Pittsburgh company asks $4.45 a ton, while the others want $4.75 a ton.

The contract will involve about $10,000 as the coal will be used in all the public buildings of the city.

Braga Is President.

Washington, June 1.—Lisbon was reported quiet today by American Minister Birch at Lisbon. He cabled that President Arriagas' resignation was read to a joint session of congress yesterday and accepted and that Theophile Braga was elected.

TWO ORDAINED AS DEACONS

About Fifty Delegates Expected at Convention of Episcopal Diocese.

Bishop Morrison Will Give Address at Opening Session.

Preliminary to the opening of the twentieth annual convention of the Episcopal diocese of Duluth, at 8 o'clock tonight at Trinity cathedral, two candidates were ordained as deacons at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Dr. A. W. Ryan, rector of St. Paul's church, presented the candidates, and Bishop Morrison gave them their charge.

Expect Fifty Delegates.

Delegates representing the clergy and laity of the diocese began to arrive today, and it is expected that about fifty will be present tonight from out of town.

The session tonight will begin at 8 o'clock. Evening prayer will be said, and Bishop J. D. Morrison will deliver part of his episcopal address. Following the business of the convention will be taken up. Some of the committees may be appointed, and nominations for elective offices be received. It is also expected that the secretary for the diocese will be elected.

The business session of the convention will be resumed tomorow morning. Holy communion will be celebrated at 10 o'clock, after which various business matters will be discussed. There will be a recess from 12:30 to 2 o'clock for luncheon. It is hoped that the business of the convention may be completed by 5 p. m., but if this is impossible, another session will be held the following morning.

Women's Meeting Wednesday.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 the annual meeting of the women's auxiliary will be held in the cathedral chapel when the president's address will be given and committees will make reports. Holy communion will be celebrated at 9:30, and the regular session will be resumed.

On Thursday evening Bishop and Mrs. Morrison will give a reception for delegates, the woman's auxiliary and the churchmen of Duluth.

TWO ESCANABA DEATHS ARE BEING LOOKED INTO

Escanaba, Mich., June 1.—The sheriff here is investigating a double tragedy which Sunday night involved the death of Daniel Seavey, who for years had been well known to the authorities of this section of the state, and his companion, James Berube.

Seavey was burned to death in his home at Fayette, across the bay from this city, and a short time afterward Berube was drowned attempting to return to Escanaba.

SCANDINAVIANS ARE MEETING AT ESCANABA

Escanaba, Mich., June 1.—Delegates from many parts of the United States and some from Norway and Sweden, are here today attending the national convention of Scandinavian aid societies. Officers were to be elected tomorrow.

SAYS GEHREY WILL BE PROMOTED

Soo Line Official Denies Popular Agent Was "Let Out."

Harry Lewis, assistant passenger agent of the Soo line, here today declares that James P. Gehrey, former district passnger agent of the same road at Duluth, has not been "let out" of the employ of the Soo.

Mr. Gehrey says he has made other plans for the future. Mr. Lewis declares that Mr. Gehrey has been given a leave of absence of a month, possibly two months, and then will be taken back in the employ of the company and transferred to some other point.

This would not be worth more than the usual mention in such cases were there not somewhat of a mystery in the case. Rumors in railroad circles that refuse to be lighty thrust aside, are to the effect that Mr. Gehrey, one of the most popular passenger men at the Head of the Lakes, has been dropped.

Mr. Lewis was asked directly if this were so. His answer was that there was absolutely no truth in the story, and that instead of being let out, Mr. Gehrey had been in reality promoted.

"Say for me," said Mr. Lewis today, "that 'Jim' Gehrey has not been let out. He is one of the most popular passenger men in the service of the company. He is far too valuable to let go. Make that strong. The Soo recognizes the popularity and ability of Mr. Gehrey. I could think of no reason of letting him out, little short of murder."

Then Mr. Gehrey was asked. He was non-committal, except to state that he had made other plans for the future.

F. R. Smalley, formerly city ticket and passenger agent of the Soo in Minneapolis, is here today, formally taking over the position of district passenger agent at Duluth.

After denying that Mr. Gehrey had been let out, Mr. Lewis stated that passenger travel was not heavy at the present time, and that travel to the San Francisco exposition in particular was not what had been expected. However, Mr. Lewis added that three months of heavy passenger and tourist travel were expected during the summer months.

THROW BACK TROUT.

Lake Superior Fishermen Reject Them at Munising, Mich.

Munising, Mich., June 1.—Of late there has been an unusual dearth of lake trout in the local fish markets because commercial fishermen are not bringing in any lake trout. If, upon lifting their nets any trout are found therein, they are released and only whitefish are retained and marketed. Lake trout, just now, do not bring enough in the local or in any city market to pay fishermen for handling them. The price has recently dropped to only a few cents a pound, whereas it usually is from three to four times as much. Last winter, Lake Superior whitefish brought as much as 32 cents a pound. Now they bring less than half that amount. The city markets have been glutted with unusually early catches brought in by fish tugs on the lower lakes.

ONE SUSPECT KILLED.

Two Others From Duluth and Virginia Are Released.

New Richmond, Wis., June 1.—Joe Konkel of Rhinelander, Wis., 25 years old and unmarried, was fatally shot in the Soo line yards here by Chief of Police Michael Martin. The bullet passed through the abdomen, and Konkel died Monday. District Attorney Sam J. Bradford of Hudson is investigating. An inquest will be held today.

The police here had been advised to watch out for men who held up and robbed Freight Conductor Gallagher in the yard at Irvine, Wis., taking $12 and a gold watch.

The suspects were said to have boarded a westbound freight train. When the train reached here Sunday the police made a systematic search of it. Four men, found in a box car, were commanded to throw up their hands and come out, but refused. Konkel was attempting to escape when shot.

Konkel had $75, but no money was found on others nor was a gold watch found. All four denied any knowledge of the robbery. The other three gave names of Steve Borack, 26, Virginia, Minn.; Helser Allie, 26, and Frank Rukoskie, 23, Duluth. They were not held.

BLOODED STOCK FOR INDIAN SCHOOL

Fort Yates, N. D., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Shorthorns of the dual purpose type, pure bred and high grades, have been purchased by Superintendent C. C. Covey of the Standing Rock Indian reservation for the Indian school here. They are regarded as the best type for this section. About fifteen thoroughbred and twenty-five grades were secured in Minnesota and another shipment is soon expected from Iowa. The dual purpose Shorthorns are now immensely popular in the state.

EXTRA SESSION IS DISCUSSED

President and Kern Talk of October Meeting of Congress; No Decision.

Washington, June 1.—Senator Kern, the Democratic floor leader, today discussed an extra session of congress in October with President Wilson.

The president said afterward that the proposal was under consideration, but he had come to no conclusion.

NOT MUCH CHANGE IN TEMPERATURE

Weather Cool Remainder of Week; Next Week Above Normal.

Washington, June 1.—The weather bureau today, for its forecast for the week, beginning June 2, made the following predictions:

Great Lakes region: Generally fair. Temperature changes will be unimportant.

Plains states and Upper Mississippi valley: Generally fair throughout the week, except local rains in the north portion are probable about Friday Temperature will rise slowly and pass above normal early in the week.

Illinois G. A. R. Meets.

Moline, Ill., June 1.—Veterans of the Civil war and members of other patriotic organizations of the state arrived today for the forty-ninth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, Illinois division, and annual meetings of auxiliary organizations. The sessions will be formally opened tonight and will continue through to Thursday.

Cloquet Honors Heroes.

Cloquet, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Elaborate Memorial day exercises were held here yesterday. The program was in charge of a committee appointed by the Commercial club. A parade was held which included practically all the grade children of the public schools, there being about 1,300 taking part. The parade marched to the cemetery, where the veterans' graves were decorated, then down to the park where the speaking was held. The children of the Jefferson school sang two songs and addresses were given by F. T. Persinger, W. L. Case and Leo Gilbert.

An Easy Way to Get Fat and Be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This master-stroke of modern chemistry is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through its regenerative, reconstructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every starved, broken-down cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Boyce Drug Store and other leading druggists of Duluth and vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

Caution: While Sargol has given excellent results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles it should not be taken by those who do not wish to gain ten pounds or more.

SAMARITANS TO MEET HERE

Imperial Council Will Hold Biennial Convention Early This Month.

Duluth Councils Will Hold Joint Meeting Next Monday Night.

Duluth will be the meeting place of delegates from Modern Samaritan councils June 8, 9, and 10, when the biennial convention of the imperial council of the order will be held here.

Supreme officers will be elected for the coming two-year term and other important business of the order will be transacted. Delegates from the Duluth lodges to the meeting are L. A. Barnes of West Duluth and L. U. Young.

Duluth is well represented on the supreme council of the Samaritan order, being the home of many past and present high officials. Included in this list are: C. E. Lovett, imperial good Samaritan; Thomas A. Gall, vice imperial good samaritan; H. J. Achenbach, imperial scribe; Dr. W. H. Salter, imperial medical director; A. E. McManus, general counsel; George H. Crosby, past imperial grand samaritan; John Christie, past imperial grand samaritan, and O. F. Collier, member of the executive board.

Eight candidates will be initiated jointly by the Duluth councils Monday night at the old Masonic temple, and delegates to the convention who reach Duluth in time, will be present. Following the initiation a short entertainment will be given. The committee in charge of the affair includes A. S. McDonald, chairman; Simon Clark, John Christie, Murdock McGregor and L. U. Young.

Memorial services were held at the old Masonic temple last night by Duluth council, No. 3. Edwin T. Harris, editor of the Labor World, gave a short address. Musical numbers and recitations were given by Miss Maude Leonard, Mrs. P. Schultz and the Samaritan Mandolin trio.

"EVERYTHING BEATEN ON AMERICAN CONTINENT"

The Duluth Commercial club receives many communications that are full of praise for Duluth and its surrounding country, but, in the opinion of officials of the club, few contain the sincere spontaneity of one received this morning from a man in Hartford, Ind., in which some printed material concerning this part of the state was asked. In conclusion the writer said:

"I am no total stranger in the Zenith City, having spent one year there, and after having traveled in every state in the Union, can say that Duluth, as a city, and Northern Minnesota, as a country, have everything beaten on the American continent. I am trying to induce my father to dispose of his holdings here and either engage in business or purchase an improved farm in Northern Minnesota."

WILL ADDRESS MERCHANTS.

C. P. Craig Will Speak on "Intelligent Co-operation With Farmers."

Charles P. Craig will deliver an address on "Intelligent Co-operation With the Farmers" at the regular monthly meeting of the Retail Merchants' association to be held this evening at the Spalding hotel.

The meeting will be preceded by a dinner at 6:30 o'clock. Bentley P. Neff, president of the organization, announced yesterday that in addition to the address by Mr. Craig reports will be made by the chairmen of all the important committees of the body.

ORDINANCE ON HEADLIGHTS.

Safety Head Opposed to Glaring Lamps on Automobiles.

Headlight regulations for automobiles as now enforced in Chicago will be embodied in an ordinance proposed by Commissioner Silberstein of the public safety division.

The commissioner is opposed to glaring headlights, and he is now having an ordinance prepared, regulating their use in Duluth.

Mr. Silberstein also plans to take the matter up with local automobile men and drivers before the measure is finally presented to the city commission.

Four More of Crew Arrive.

New York, June 1.—Four of the crew of the American steamer Greenbrier, sunk April 3 by a mine in the North sea, were brought today to New York by the American steamship Brynhilda from Bremen. The officers and other members of the Greenbrier's crew reached New York some time ago aboard other vessels.

BURIED UNDER GOLDEN FLOOD

Treasurer Receives $2,000,000 in Gold, Silver, Currency and Checks.

Money of all kinds and denominations—gold, silver, currency and checks, some of which represented fortunes in themselves—poured into the office of County Treasurer George H. Vivian yesterday the last day allowed by the law for the payment of the first half of the current real estate taxes.

According to Joseph T. Nelson, chief deputy in the treasurer's office, approximately $2,000,000 will be deposited in the local banks today. The deposit will be made up of an accumulation of checks which have been received during Monday and Saturday.

Although yesterday was generally observed as a holiday by the banks, business places and in most of the public offices, the office of the county treasurer was open as usual and there was no break in the steady stream of people who have swarmed the place for the last two weeks.

The Oliver Iron Mining company, a subsidiary of the Steel corporation, and the largest taxpayer not only in St. Louis county, but also in the state, late yesterday afternoon paid $1,575,512.47 into the county coffers as the first half of all of its 1914 real estate taxes except upon its holdings in Hibbing, which it refused to pay. Other mining companies also refused to pay on Hibbing property. The Oliver company will pay the other half of its taxes in October.

A year ago the Oliver company paid $2,050,061.87 as the first half of its 1913 taxes in this county. The tax this year would have been fully as large, if not larger, had the Hibbing figure been included.

Others who contributed more than $1,000 in taxes since Saturday afternoon were:

GOOD RECORD IN BUILDING

Activities in Duluth Make Fine Showing for Five Months.

Permits for May Foot Up to $278,200, Says Report.

Building activities for the first five months of this year have almost reached the $1,000,000 mark.

According to the monthly report of Building Inspector Kielley, which will be submitted to Mayor Prince tomorrow, 192 permits were taken out during May for the construction of buildings valued at $278,200.

From Jan. 1 to June 1, 705 permits were issued calling for buildings valued at $957,305. This is considered a record by Mr. Kielley, who was of the opinion that the $1,000,000 mark would not have been reached before July 1.

A feature of the large number of permits issued is the number of dwellings being erected this year by men of moderate means.

Among the large permits issued were those to the Rust-Parker company for the erection of a warehouse on Lake avenue for $20,000, the F. A. Cokefair residence, estimated at $22,000, and the John Wahl Candy factory for $30,000.

MAY UTILIZE POSTS FOR RED CROSS WORK

Washington, June 1.—President Wilson will confer with Miss Mabel Boardman of the American Red Cross tomorrow on a Red Cross plan to utilize Mexican border army posts as depots for the collection and distribution of food to starving Mexicans. The president will confer later with Secretary Garrison on the subject.

LECTURE POSTPONED.

J. F. Rutherford Will Not Come to Duluth Until June 22.

Duluthians who intended to hear J. F. Rutherford of New York at the Auditorium, Third avenue east and First street, tonight, will not have an opportunity of so doing until June 22.

Members of the committee in charge of arrangements for the New York lawyer's address received notice from him this morning that he would not be able to reach Duluth until that date.

About a year ago, Mr. Rutherford addressed a large audience here on the subject "Where Are the Dead From a Lawyer's Viewpoint." His talk attracted considerable attention.

His talk this year will be "The Destiny of Men and Nations."

CROOKSTON BOY KILLED BY AUTO

Clifford Godbout, Age 13, Dies From Injuries Received.

Crookston, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Clifford Godbout, age 13, who was run over by an automobile driven by George O'Brien of Halstad when returning from the cemetery following memorial services yesterday afternoon, died during the night. An inquest will be held this afternoon. O'Brien is not blamed by eye-witnesses, as the boy ran in front of the car on his bicycle.

CHICAGO POLICE GRAFT CASE IS ON

Former Officers Charged With Having Protected Burglars.

Chicago, June 1.—Hearing of evidence in the so-called police graft case was begun in Judge Dever's branch of the criminal court today. James O'Dea Storen, former captain at the Maxwell street station, and Michael Weisbaum and Frederick Roth, former detectives under him, are alleged to have protected members of a ring of burglars on a percentage basis of the loot.

Twenty-five witnesses, the majority of them self-confessed criminals, who were said to have been protected from arrest by the defendants, were present to testify for the state. An even larger number, it is said, will testify for the accused, who claim that they are the victims of a plot on the part of criminals against whom they did their full duty.

Stephan A. Malato, an assistant state's attorney, appeared for the prosecution and Charles E. Erbstein and Patrick H. O'Donnell for the defense. Mr. Malato in his opening statement said that the evidence would show that the defendants entered into a conspiracy to aid protected members of the ring in perpetrating a series of burglaries, thereby becoming actual principals in the crimes.

The most important of the state's witnesses are Isadore Wexler and Nathan Steinberg, who, it is said, have confessed that they were leaders of the ring. Another witness present was Max Goldstein, otherwise known as "Cockeye" Goldstein, said by Mr. Malato in addressing the jury to have been the most notorious receiver of stolen property in the country.

ANTI-FRAT LAW UPHELD

Mississippi Statute Is Held Constitutional By Supreme Court.

Washington, June 1.—Constitutionality of the Mississippi anti-fraternity law was upheld today by the supreme court without dissent.

The first case to come before the supreme court involving the constitutionality of a state anti-fraternity law was that of J. P. Waugh, who sought admission to the University of Mississippi.

Waugh was a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity at Millsaps College, Miss. In 1912 he applied for admission to the law school of the University of Mississippi, but was denied admittance because he refused to sign an "anti-fraternity pledge" not to aid the organization or perpetuation of any fraternity while a member of the university. He filed a suit to compel the university authorities to admit him, contending that the anti-fraternity law enacted by the state of Mississippi in 1912 was unconstitutional.

One of the grounds on which the law was attacked originally was that it barred Greek letter fraternities, in themselves harmless institutions, from the state university. This point was not urged before the supreme court. The law was attacked on the ground that it worked discriminations as to honors, diplomas and distinctions as between students in the university at the time the law was passed and those fraternity members who later became students at the university.

Appointed Receiver.

Soloist Is Added.

Marie Sundelius With Orchestra---Explanation of Programs.

An added attraction to the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra programs of Friday and Saturday will be the solo numbers of Marie Sundelius, the famous Swedish singer who is making her first tour with the orchestra. The announcement that she would sing in Duluth was received yesterday from Emil Oberhoffer, the director of the orchestra.

Miss Sundelius was born in Sweden, in the province of Warmland, the home of many sagas and some of the foremost Swedish poets, artists and writers. She made her first public appearance at the age of 7, three years before she came to America. She received all her musical education in Boston with the exception of some coaching with the Swedish composer, Petter-son-Berger, and with Edmond Clement in Paris.

Will Explain Themes.

Tonight at 8 o'clock at Glen Avon Presbyterian church, R. Buchanan Morton will play and explain some of the themes that will be given by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, and will play representative compositions of several composers on the program in order to make clear their styles. This explanation is intended to increase the enjoyment of those who will attend and will be open to those who hold orchestra tickets and all other persons who are interested. It will be free.

Mr. Morton's organ numbers will be the overture to Wagner's "Tannhauser" that is on the Friday night program, Sibellius' "Findlandia" that is on the Saturday night program, Tschaikowsky's Sixth symphony and Caesar Franck's "Piece Heroique." The Tschaikowsky and Franck numbers are not on the programs, but are typical of those composers who are represented by other compositions. A number of other themes will be played on the piano by Mr. Morton who will explain them.

Boufford-Gravelle.

Wedding Is Held at St. Jean Baptiste Church.

Miss Lydia Boufford and Frank D. Gravelle were married this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Jean Baptiste church by Rev. Omer Robillard. Miss Blanche Boufford, sister of the bride, and David Gravelle, brother of the bridegroom, were the attendants.

The bride wore a white crepe de chine gown and tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. The bridesmaid wore white chiffon over pale blue taffeta and carried pink sweet peas.

The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Boufford, 322 Vernon street. The tables was decorated with white roses and red hearts and ribbons.

Hoffman of the First Methodist church at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Nellie Eugenie Older was the bridesmaid and Jesse Rogers was the best man.

The bride's gown was of creme filet lace over cream chiffon finished with a girdle of lace. Her veil was caught with lilies of the valley and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was gowned in white net over white chiffon and carried pink roses.

The ceremony was followed by a bridal dinner of ten covers. Snowballs and palms carried out a white and green color scheme in all the rooms.

The bride wore a tan traveling suit with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Reich left for a trip to Chicago, Milwaukee and other Eastern points. They will be at home after July 1 at the Phillips apartments at Brainerd.

Matrons' Tennis Class.

The matrons' tennis class of the Y. W. C. A. played the opening sets this morning at their grounds on Fourth street and Third avenue east.

Instructions will be given during June, but playing will continue until October. As soon as a fair degree of efficiency is attained sides will probably be chosen and regular games played for the honors of the season.

Three sets were played this morning under the instruction of Miss Parmelee, physical director of the Y. W. C. A. The class will continue regularly on Tuesday and Friday mornings. Those playing this morning were: Mrs. Harry Merritt, Dr. Mae Parsons, Mrs. N. F. Russell, Mrs. Whitmore, Miss Parmelee and Mrs. Harry Cheadle.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

College Girls Are Sought.

The statement that the college girl is less likely to marry than her inferiorally educated sister, is one that has been given wide circulation. One authority claims that only about 50 per cent of college women marry. Others interested in the question have rated the college graduate's chances of marrying on varying percentages, while some have been content to say that college women are not as apt to marry as the woman who finished her education in the high school or at some finishing school.

If it could be proven that a college education detracted anything from the desirability of a wife from a man's standpoint, there would not be enough women college attendants to fill one classroom. There is scarcely a girl out of the high school who does not have marriage in mind as the culmination of all her plans and dreams. The average young woman would sooner eschew a college education than her hope of marying and becoming the head of a household and the loved and loving helpmate of a good husband, all in good time.

Not yet do women go to college as do a certain proportion of young men. I refer to those who go for fun and the advantage the name gives to a man. Most girls go to college with a definite object in view, although it does not as a usual thing overshadow their domestic anticipations.

As college women proceed and the possibilities of supporting themselves are opened to them, and as they get a clearer insight into social questions, they become less inclined to "step in where angels fear to tread." This is a very natural result of a knowledge and understanding of matters that men are endeavoring to simplify and solve if possible for humanity's benefit.

Men are influenced by the same principles. Women who can take care of themselves are content to wait until the right man comes along and to remain single if they do not happen to find him.

If you are one of those who will not be content with any less than the right one, you will not gain anything by remaining away from college for fear it will jeopardize your matrimonial chances. If you would marry almost anyone at this stage in your development, a college course is just the thing that you need. It may imbue your mind with loftier and truer ideals of the most sacred thing in the world.

Theater Gossip.

Memorial day attracted two big audiences to the Lyceum yesterday. A special matinee of "LENA RIVERS" POPULAR. "Lena Rivers" was given by the Baldwin Players in addition to the usual evening performance. There will also be matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

Rehearsals began this morning for "Bought and Paid For," the George Broadhurst drama, which will be next week's attraction.

Miss Emily Stevens, niece of Mrs. Fiske, who played for many years with that famous MRS. FISKE'S NIECE AT REX. actress, is the star feature at the Rex theater today in the film play, "Cora." This play is an emotional drama portraying the world of make-believe. This feature opened yesterday and was well received by the large audiences.

Tomorrow and Thursday the star attraction will be "Little Sunset," with Gordon Griffith, the "peppery kid baseball bug." The story was written by Charles E. Van Loan, sporting expert and writer.

GRAND SHOW ORIGINAL.

Emily Smiley Players Score Success in Clever Playlet.

It is doubtful if the New Grand theater has had a better show since it opened last fall than the one which opened at that popular playhouse yesterday. Originality marked the vaudeville numbers from beginning to end and the feature film, a Civil war drama, was one of the best seen in a long time in this city. The house was crowded at all performances, and large numbers were turned away.

The Emily Smiley Players in a playlet entitled "One Woman's Way," is the best sketch ever played at the Grand. The plot is something new and is worked out cleverly with many lines of real brilliancy. The idea of the playlet is to show how much more clever a woman is than a man when it comes to finesse and quick thinking along diplomatic lines. Whether the idea is correct or not does not detract from the entertaining qualities of the plot. Miss Emily Smiley shows genuine merit as an actress in her portrayal of the part of the wife suspected of infidelity to her husband. She is ably assisted by three other players.

George Dixon does an original musical act with various instruments. Hawley and Hawley have an act full of good comedy with some very entertaining features. Frish, Howard and Toolan are a trio of good melodists with a lot of late popular songs.

The Civil war feature film in three parts tells a love story, the scene of which is lain in the Sunny South, and the adventures of a Northern spy are thrillingly depicted. Several other good films add to the entertainment.

In honor of Memorial day the theater was decorated with national colors and the stage was banked with roses and other flowers.

Beginning today and continuing tomorrow the prize feature film, "A Diamond From the Sky," will be presented. This film will be presented serially for the remainder of the summer.

ITALY AND THE WAR.

Nor must war partisanship succeed in confirming an impression that Italy has no admirable motives in her tragic step.

We can leave to history the settlement of such questions as whether or not Austria first violated the terms of the Triple Alliance by making war on Servia without consulting her ally, Italy. So many of the terms of this treaty were secret, and are now the subject of bitter controversy, that history must decide how binding these terms were upon Italy.

The common—too common—idea is that Italy's step was dictated wholly by coldblooded greed and opportunism.

There is some of that, perhaps too much of it.

But besides that there is the unchallengeable ideal of union and freedom for all Italians.

Many Italians live in and serve another country. The initial progress of the Italian troops was through Austrian villages that covered themselves with Italian flags and welcomed the invading hosts with open arms because, though long under Austrian rule, they are Italians.

Whatever the nature of the Triple Alliance, and whatever there may be to the bitter epithets the Teuton allies are hurling at Italy for turning against them, this ideal of Italian unity and freedom must be set down as a credit in her account with civilization.

It is evident that the kaiser's government isn't accustomed to getting notes like that sent by President Wilson; it simply doesn't know how to answer.

THEY FORFEIT AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP.

Some of them are natives of the countries under whose colors they have enlisted. Some of them are native-born Americans moved by sympathy or the spirit of adventure—perhaps both.

What they have not stopped to reckon on, and what very few even in this country seem to know, is that by so doing they have forfeited their American citizenship.

Those who have enlisted under foreign flags and have taken the oath required of enlisted soldiers, whether they know it or not, are no longer legally citizens of the United States, even though their forebears came over in the Mayflower.

By the law of March 2, 1907, congress decreed that "any American citizen shall be deemed to have expatriated himself when he has been naturalized in any foreign state in conformity with its laws, or when he has taken an oath of allegiance to any foreign state." All countries require the oath of allegiance from those who join its armies. This does not necessarily involve naturalization, and where it does not those Americans who have taken this oath are now "men without a country."

It is possible that in some of the "foreign legions" that have been formed, particularly in France, no oath has been required. In that case fighting does not affect citizenship. Those who have enlisted regularly in the armies of Europe, however, must have been required to take an oath of allegiance which, under this law of 1907, forfeits their American citizenship.

Many Americans of native birth and descent are fighting with the French and British. Many Americans went across the line and joined the Canadian forces that are now engaged in the fighting. Many natives of the other nations involved, naturalized Americans, have responded to the call of need and have returned to Europe to fight the battles of the motherland. None of these, sad to say, are any longer American citizens.

Having taken the oath of allegiance as a preliminary to enlistment, they are now either citizens of the land for which they are fighting, or they are men without a country.

Should these men survive the war and return to this country, they will return as aliens. Either congress will have to pass a curative act to restore their lost citizenship, or they will have to go through the process of naturalization just as though they were newly arrived immigrants.

Who would have thought it possible for all this storm to break around Kitchener and yet draw nothing from Kipling?

SAME OLD SONG.

The Duluth Herald wants to know what the G. O. P. will do if it comes back. The Herald might as well eliminate the "if," because it is coming back and one thing it will do will bring along with it a great wave of prosperity. The idle mills will be started, and employment given to hundreds of thousands of workmen who have been seeking work under the Democratic administration.—St. Cloud Journal-Press.

That's the tune the old cow died on!

Where there's a mill there's a waterway.

WILSON AND THE PROGRESSIVES.

Now, after three years of Wilson—and likewise three more years of Roosevelt—it says:

> It cannot be denied that it is President Wilson who is attracting to his aid those thinking, forward-looking, idealistic men who in 1912 voted not so much for Colonel Roosevelt as for the movement which he represented.

He is a "progressive" in the broadest and finest spirit of the term. His mind is broader than his party, as broad as his country. He is being the president of the whole United States. He is studying the best interests of all classes and all sections, and is serving them to the utmost of his great ability.

President Wilson meets the desires of every progressive who can think in other terms than those of partisanship.

You can judge something of a man's character by the degree of eagerness he shows as to betting against there being another frost.

THE VAGARIES OF THE LEGISLATIVE MIND.

The Brooklyn Times, in a pessimistic frame of mind regarding the quality of legislative service New York gets, turns to the country at large and finds some relief in what it discovers in other states.

It presents a list of "fool laws" that were passed in Western states last winter, and lo and behold, Minnesota leads the list, and repeats further down. Here is the Times's list:

Minnesota—Law to prohibit the catching of frogs.

Kansas—Law to prohibit the use of face powder, hair dye or bleach, the piercing of ears and the wearing of earrings.

Colorado—Law to compel chickens to go to roost before seven p. m. daily. Providing that bulls driven along the roads at night shall wear lights.

Massachusetts—Prohibiting the wearing of whiskers by doctors and dentists.

Nebraska—Law compelling the National Guard to do ninety days' work each year on the roads and bridges of the state.

Texas—Compelling churchgoers to leave their artillery on the outside of church buildings.

Illinois—Forbidding the giving of tips to barbers, porters, etc.

Minnesota—Law providing that lumberjacks shall be furnished with individual bathtubs.

Now this list is impressive indeed, but we notice one thing: that in at least a part of the cases cited, either it isn't so, or there is some fairly sound basis for what appears to be "fool legislation."

Take even the famous Minnesota "frog bill." The author of this bill made a case that convinced the legislature on the ground that as frogs destroy the larvae of crop-infesting insects, frogs should be preserved as an aid to agriculture. There is something to it, too, even if Governor Hammond did veto the bill.

The other Minnesota instance comes in the "ain't so" class. The bill referred to, which was by Senator Dick Jones of Duluth, didn't exactly require individual bathtubs for every lumberjack. It did authorize the state board of health to prescribe sanitary regulations for railroad, lumber and other permanent labor camps, and the understanding was that these regulations should include bathing facilities. There is a sound sanitary basis to this requirement which ought to need no explanation. Besides, it did not pass.

Any farmer and automobile owner could tell the Brooklyn Times that the North Dakota law for uniform width of sleigh runners is in the interest of breaking wheel paths in the snow that all vehicles can use.

And if Texas needs such a law, surely no exception can be taken to its requirement that church-goers shall leave their guns outside. Christian nations make war, and that's anomalous enough; but even they do not do their fighting in churches.

There are fool laws enough, and there are more fool bills. There always will be fool bills and fool laws so long as almost anybody can get elected to the legislature, so long as there are so many lawmakers who think they are in the legislature to win publicity by introducing startling measures, and so long as there is no limit on the number and character of the bills that may be introduced.

The German Note

More Comments by the Press of the Country.

Situation Precarious.

Omaha World Herald: The situation resulting from the exchange of notes is delicate, indeed precarious. Germany, by taking extraordinary precautions not to destroy additional American lives, might well be able to continue its submarine warfare without involving a rupture with the government of the United States. But it is difficult to see how such a rupture is to be avoided if the demand for reparation is not complied with.

Kaiser Seeks Help of Law He Flouts.

Louisville Post: After violating every principle of international intercourse the kaiser has the audacity to suggest that compensation for loss of life on the Lusitania be left to The Hague tribunal, thus seeking salvation by the very laws he flouts. America has the right now to speak in tones that can be heard around the world. The list of outrages grows too long.

Notable for Its Silences.

St. Louis Republic: The most remarkable thing about this document is the area and extent of its silences. Its chief significance is not in the things put in, but in the things left out. It ignores the whole fabric of international law and the rights under it of Americans on the high seas. The people of the United States stand behind the president.

Not Satisfactory.

St. Louis Globe Democrat: No more unyielding a reply could have been written with proper regard for diplomatic amenities. That the answer will not be satisfactory to the United States goes without saying, nor is it at all probable that this government will consent to a prolonged discussion of more or less irrelevant details while the submarines pursue their bloody way undeterred.

Long on Words, Short on Specific Statements.

Des Moines Capital: The German government's reply is long on diplomatic verbiage, but short in specific statement as to that government's purpose in the way of a settlement. In an hour when this nation has turned aside from its daily routine to honor the memory of its heroic band, and with many stirred by the sacrifices which its own sons and daughters have made upon the battlefields of the past, there will be no impetous demand for immediate action at Washington.

No Assurance for the Future.

Charleston News and Courier: The German note not only leaves us without assurance for the future, but its whole trend and tenor is to defend the indefensible past and to place the responsibility upon ourselves and upon Germany's enemies.

Evades the Real Issue.

Philadelphia Evening Telegraph: Germany's reply evades the real issue and constructs a basis for long parleys and arbitration of disputed facts under the principle of Bryan's peace treaties. The reply is not only unsatisfactory but it is embarrassing. The situation is such as to call for the exercise of all the firmness and discretion which the president can command.

No Fear of War.

Baltimore News: There is no more occasion for regarding ourselves as perilously near war now that we have Germany's answer than there has been at any time since our note went to Berlin.

No Sign of Yielding.

Hartford News: In the American note to Germany, demand was made in substance that Germany abandon her program of blockade by the only instrument and the only method it is possible for her to employ with success. In the German reply there is little to give hope that Germany will consent to such an abandonment.

A Palpable Evasion.

Sioux City Tribune: Germany is short of diplomats. The full text of her reply to the representations of this government over the sinking of the Lusitania is not only a palpable evasion of the issues presented in the Washington letter, but the general tone is flippant and unnecessarily, if not intentionally, offensive. The president's next move should be in the form of a demand, with the alternative of a severance of diplomatic relations and such other action as the plan of this government may have in contemplation

No Answer.

Jacksonville Metropolis: The German answer is so weak, shifting and evasive, compared with the clear pointed and ringing American note that it is no answer. The German reply makes us more certain of our ground.

On the Brink of a Crisis.

Macon News: There is no doubt that the United States is on the brink of a diplomatic crisis with Germany. It does not seem probable for the broad differences between the two countries to be reconciled.

Must Be Held Accountable.

Atlanta Journal: Germany's reply evades the vital principles at issue and leaves the United States no alternative but positive action unless perchance Berlin at the eleventh hour reconsiders and accedes to our original demands. Germany must be and will be held to strict accounting.

Calls for More Patience.

Seattle Times: Since we have been patient to an incredible degree, nothing will be lost through a concession whereby the diplomatic representatives of the two governments will find out exactly what are the facts.

A Palpable Quibble.

Galveston Tribune: The German note is such a palpable quibble that it is difficult to consider it with any degree of patience. The country can, however, trust President Wilson to handle the new development with proper vigor and firmness.

No Answer.

Baltimore Sun: Germany's reply to President Wilson's note on the sinking of the Lusitania is, so far as the main issues are concerned, no answer at all.

Disappointing Rather Than Offensive.

Houston Chronicle: The German reply is disappointing, rather than offensive. It adds to the gravity of an already grave situation because of its obvious intent to evade a definite decision and cloud the controversy with quibbling.

Can We Deny Germany's Request.

Pittsburgh Dispatch: The points raised may seem trifling, compared to the main issue set forth in the president's note, but can we, as consistent advocates of the arbitration of international questions, deny the further consideration which Germany asks?

A Splendid Result

New York Evening Post: If an American were asked to name, say, half a dozen of the most remarkable spots in his country, the chances are very small that he would include Rochester, Minn., in the list. And yet that little town might make out a very good claim to the distinction, if either uniqueness or beneficence of achievement were taken as the test. The surgical work of th brothers Mayo has been of amazing quality, and the great institution which they have built up without the aid of any endowment has, we believe, not another like it anywhere in the world.

And now comes the statement that these brilliant but unostentatious workers, who have combined in so rare a way the genius for surgery and the genius for organization, are about to devote the large sum of $2,000,000, fruit of their life-long labors and extraordinary success, to the endowment of a great institute of medicine which is to form part of the University of Minnesota.

To have made the name of an obscure little Northwestern town a familiar word among the great lights of medicine and surgery in London and Paris and Berlin, to have been the means of saving thousands of lives and of averting an untold amount of pain and anguish by their own labors and that of their assistants—this was ground for satisfaction such as is granted to few men; and now to all this is added the knowledge that, through a wise and generous disposition of the pecuniary reward that has come to them, similar benefits will be conferred on their fellow-men in generation after generation.

Is it not worth while to dwell for a moment on so splendid a result of human effort?

Cheating By Habit?

New York World: Those American manufacturers who have been cheating the French government on army contracts for shoes, which by sample were good and on delivery proved to be rotten, and for stockings which were to be 70 per cent wool and 30 per cent cotton and proved to be the other way round, are taken severely to task by the Dry Goods Economist. They are denounced as "traitors in our own camp." They have "besmirched the honor of 'Made in U. S. A.' merchandise" at a time when every effort is being made to give the label a prestige which will weigh in all outside markets.

There is justice in this indignation. There is also an element of injustice, doing to the French army they have been doing to the American people time out of mind. It has become an ingrained habit. They have been encouraged in this by their own government and commonly by a majority of voters. The national power of taxation has been used to stimulate them in the hidden substitution of cotton for wool, pasteboard for leather, shoddies for honest material.

This national policy in cultivation of manufacturing helplessness and false pretension has now been reversed; yet old habits are hard to shake off. The Dry Goods Economist is rightly appalled by this noisy international adv ertisement of the tariff-fostered shoddy habit at so inopportune a time. But does anybody suppose American industry is to be rid of it through the restoration of a public policy which has been responsible?

"Bad Little Boy."

—New York Globe.

Mr. Bryan't Great Service.

Chicago Tribune: It is Mr. Bryan's misfortune to cause us to forget occasionally the greatest service he did his country. It is his good fortune that Mr. Champ Clark occasionally recalls it. Thus is a fair and equitable balance maintained. Whenever Mr. Clark reminds the country that he has not forgiven Mr. Bryan for what happened at Baltimore in 1912 he also reminds it that he might have been president of the United States.

The bitter enmity which Mr. Clark holds constantly and cherishes towards our amiably parochial secretary of state is evidence of the service done in preventing the nomination, and thereby most likely the election, of a gentleman who in the White House in these days of wrath might have been a national catastrophe.

Our fate, embodied in this instance in Mr. Bryan, averted the disaster, and every time Mr. Clark makes his abiding resentment known he revives the recollection of Mr. Bryan's most valuable and patriotic work.

Farming at the South

By Savoyard.

Washington, June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The war in Europe was a cruel blow to the cotton states, for it put thousands of cotton spinners in the Old World to cutting throats. The price of the staple declined frightfully and a demagogue governor of the Empire state of the South, now happily an ex-governor, threw a batch of fits over the situation, going so far as to invoke the American navy to sweep the seas of belligerent craft, so that vessels laden with cotton might reach countries too eager in the fierce conflicts of war to engage in spinning and weaving.

Maybe out of the nettle of this situation the South will be able to pluck the flower of beneficence. Cotton at 5 cents, a quarter of a century ago, set the South to building factories. Had cotton remained at 10 cents and upwards, the South today would not possess one-tenth the spindles she has, and vast areas would have been added to the fertile lands exhausted by the improvidence that ever waits on a single crop. I recall a pathetic speech made by my old friend "Lon" Livingston, in the Fifty-second congress — rather clumsy pathos, 'tis true, but it sufficed —in which he advocated cheap money as an antidote for cheap cotton. At that very moment his constituents were setting on foot a real remedy—the factory next the field.

And if this cruel war in Europe shall serve to set a thinking cap on the head of the Southern planter, and his cogitations shall result in favor of a diversity of crops and an intensity of cultivation, the South will prosper as never before. Texas has more cattle than any other two states, and Texas imports butter from Illinois and cheese from New York, while wearing out thousands of square miles of lands devoted to a single crop. Yet there are observant and shrewd farmers in Texas who look on the boll-weevil as a not unmixed evil in that it tended to force a diversity of crops.

Nature designed Kentucky and Tennessee to be the leading dairy states of our Union. There soil, climate and water are assembled for the business, and yet both states import butter and cheese. Tennessee ought to export enormous quantities of mutton; but Tennessee has more mongrel curs than sheep, and about all the lamb consumed by her urban population is the product of the slaughter pens of Chicago, Omaha and Kansas City. Nearly 2,000 years ago a monster was emperor of Rome, and here is what he said: "It is the part of a good shepherd to shear, not flay, his flock." Tennessee, Kentucky, both Virginias and both Carolinas would make a pretty penny if they would hearken to and practice that wholesome preachment of the tyrant Tiberius. They don't now, but a day will come when they will.

Every farmer at the South ought to raise all the meat and bread consumed on his place. He ought to grow many sorts of fruits. He can have nuts for the gathering. His honey crop should meet his bills for sugar, coffee and tea. His egg crop should discharge his store account. He should grow a surplus of vegetables, and the cotton and tobacco he cultivates should be grown on lands specially nursed for that purpose and they should be surplus crops. A day will come when the Southern farmer who gets less than a bale of cotton, or a hogshead of tobacco, from an acre will feel ashamed of himself.

The farm has made a great advance since I was a boy. I remember distinctly when a Barren county, Ky., farmer was ridiculed for hauling wood ashes from a steam mill to employ as a fertilizer on his wheat field. But they are bravely over that. The last time I was out there, now ten years ago, I was astonished and delighted to see the great improvement. Old abandoned fields that had lain fallow for two score years had been cleared of shrubs and briars and vines, put under fence, and rotation of crops had restored their original fertility, and lands that sold for $2 the acre when I was a boy are now held at $50 an acre, and they are cheap at that.

Farming is like all other human economies. It requires intelligence and diligence. If you set out an orchard and leave the trees to take care of themselves you will have no fruit, though you may lay it on the climate and cuss your luck. It is the same with a flock of sheep. If you turn them loose to wander hither and thither and give them no attention, you will have no wool and no mutton unless you go to the market for them. The same is true of chickens and turkeys—they require constant, intelligent care.

I know an old gentleman who had a store at a hamlet in Barren county when I was a boy, and he authorized his clerk to give credit to any farmer who had on his place a stock of hay in the month of February. Such a farmer he held to be provident, and he argued that grass in that tobacco country was the shield and staff of the husbandman. Good fences and plenty of hay were infallible evidence of prosperity in the philosophy of this fine old gentleman.

It was my observation in the Kentucky Pennyrile that the farmer who made tobacco his surplus crop and grew it on his most fertile field, rigidly rotating his crops, never lacked for credit at the store, whereas the farmer who made tobacco a specialty "overcropped" himself in the growing of the weed, was always hard run and ever in financial straits. And it is the same way down South where they grow cotton, I make no doubt.

Some day the South will learn the lesson. When that time comes the South will produce enormous surpluses of dairy products, fruits, provisions and grain, poultry and eggs. There's millions in it.

German Toy Ship Arrives.

Philadelphia North American: From Germany, with its millions fighting east and west, came to this port recently a cargo to gladden the hearts of American children celebrating the birth of the Prince of Peace.

Upward of 400 cases of Christmas toys, made by the famous toyhouses of Germany, comprised the bulk of the cargo. They were made months ago, then shipped by rail to Rotterdam and loaded into the Dutch steamship Sommelsdyk, which brought them here.

It is the first cargo of toys to reach this port from Germany this year. Various other German manufactured articles were carried by the Sommelsdyk.

One on the Lawyers.

Chicago News: An old colored man, charged with stealing chickens, was arraigned in court and was incriminating himself when the judge said:

"You ought to have a lawyer. Where's your lawyer?"

"Ah ain't got no lawyer, jedge," said the old man.

"Very well, then," said his honor. "I'll assign a lawyer to defend you."

"Oh, no, suh; no, suh! Please don't do dat!" the darky begged.

"Why not?" asked the judge. "It won't cost you anything. Why don't you want a lawyer?"

"Well, jedge, Ah'll tell you, suh," said the old man, waving his tattered old hat confidentially. "Hit's dis way. Ah wan' tuh enjoy dem chickens, mah-se'f."

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Scattered comments taken from Minnesota papers.

Some Bulwark, Too.

Red Wing Eagle: A thoughtless calf, ward of the United States, strayed or was stolen. It was found in the herd of Elmer Norgard of Mendocino, who was indicted for stealing the calf from the Round Valley Indian reservation. For two years the case dragged its slow length along in the Federal courts and cost the government about 1,000 times the value of the calf. The jury deliberated twenty-two seconds and returned a verdict of "not guilty." Our American system of jurisprudence is the bulwark of our liberties—or one of the bulwarks.

Maxim Exemplified.

Stillwater Gazette: Advertising pays. An Austin man recently made the statement that he wouldn't go home until he "got licked or was put in jail." He got both with a $10 fine plastered to him in the morning by the municipal judge.

Here's Hoping!

Elk River Star-News: Former Governor S. R. Van Sant breezed into the Star-News sanctum Monday, en route to Zimmerman to look over a land transaction. Capt. Van Sant and the writer used to climb the political pole together back in the '90s and it is always a pleasure to meet the big-hearted ex-governor. He seems to be as young as he was twenty years ago and still possesses all the old-time enthusiasms. May he live long and prosper.

Test Yourself.

Hinckley Herald: A man nowadays who can tell off-hand all the different kinds of taxes he pays is certainly some expert mathematician and expert on governments.

Justified Pride.

Albert Lea Tribune: Why shouldn't we be proud of the United States? At the present time it is the very greatest country in the world. Not only that, but its opportunities and possibilities are unlimited on account of its wealth and resources. The United States has produced the greatest statesmen, orators and generals; it has shown the superiority in sciences, art, inventions and learning besides the best system of schools and colleges. Last, but not least, a country peopled with a big majority who believe in peace.

Watch Brainerd Grow.

Brainerd Dispatch: The other day the home of W. A. M. Johnston received a telephone call and the party at the other end said excitedly: "Hoist the flag! We have a baby at the house." A brand new little baby had arrived on the North side at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Wilcox and baby's friends had telephoned in the news, and obedient to the custom now regularly established, the big American flag was taken from its depository and hoisted in the spanking breeze, thus signalizing the birth of another baby on the North side, and for good measure the flag flew two days.

The emblem of the North side, some seriously think, will soon be a stork triumphant carrying a baby in a basket.

Why Make It Harder?

Olivia Times: Why wouldn't it be a fair proposition to measure a man's Christianity by the returns he makes to the assessor?

He Might Get a Yellow Streak.

Stillwater Gazette: The man who says he knows gives the following sure remedy for eliminating the dandelions: Stake out a goat in the field. He'll remove the dandelions or die in the attempt.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

God seeks to mold us by circumstances, and you must believe that God has put you down just where you are because your present position is the very best place in the universe to make you what He wants you to become. He could have made you a king or a bishop, a millionaire or a statesman; but He passed all these by and has put you just where you are. You may be a stableman, a cook, or a housemaid; but God had the whole universe to choose from and He wanted to do his best for you, and He put your soul just where it is because He knew that there you would be surrounded by the best conditions to make you what He wanted you to become.—F. B. Meyer.

Jesus Christ is a very, very peculiar Savior to me: the very, very peculiar need of very, very peculiar sinners, in all our very, very peculiar circumstances, and to bring victory to our very, very peculiar souls, under all the very, very peculiar difficulties under which we, in our very, very peculiar circumstances, may be called to pass throughout our lives.—H. W. Webb-Peploe.

When a young man is converted he is almost always inclined at first to say, "I know I could do far more good if I was a preacher, so I'll leave my business and become a preacher of the Gospel." But very often mistakes are made just in this way. God may have given you some work to do for Him in the position in which He has placed you which no one else could do if you were to leave it undone. We should be very careful how we wish to change from whatever position in life into which God has seen fit to put us.—Andrew A. Bonar.

Joseph Anstice, professor of classical literature at King's college, London, who died in 1836, at the age of 28, wrote the following hymn, with others, during his last illness:

O Lord, how happy should we be,
If we could cast our care on Thee;
If we from self could rest,
And feel, at heart, that One above,
In perfect wisdom, perfect love,
Is working for the best.

Could we but kneel and cast our load,
E'en while we pray, upon our God;
Then rise with lightened cheer,
Sure that the Father, who is nigh
To still the famished raven's cry,
Will hear in that we fear.

How far from this, our daily life!
Ever disturbed by anxious strife,
By sudden, wild alarms;
O could we but relinquish all
Our earthly props, and simply fall
On Thine almighty arms!

Tune—"Innsbruck."

F. B. Pillsbury of Muskegon, Mich., in company with the Stevens brothers of Grand Rapids, Minn., has purchased the George W. Moore sawmill at Cohasset, with the entire plant, consisting of houses, lands, logs, horses, etc. The mill will probably be enlarged soon.

Dan Flynn of West Duluth has started running a carry-all between Bay View Heights and Proctorknott.

F. C. Davis of Duluth has been appointed village engineer of Proctorknott.

Samuel Wells, who left West Duluth with the intention of locating in Milwaukee, has gone to Fond du Lac, Wis., to take a position with Degrode, Giddings & Co. William Grider, formerly of West Duluth, is employed by the same firm.

Rev. Frank R. Millapaugh, formerly of the diocese of Minnesota, has been elected Episcopal bishop of Kansas.

There is some indication that the project of building the Duluth, Huron & Denver railroad will be revived. Work has been suspended since the paymaster skipped out with money entrusted to him to redeem time checks and settle other obligations against the road.

The annual ten-mile road race of the Duluth Bicycle club, which had twenty-two entrants, was won by C. C. Evans in 31 minutes and 10 seconds. He was followed in twenty-eight seconds by Chris E. Tweed. Burnett, Murphy and Smith were bunched until near the finish, when Burnett forged ahead, securing third place. A. C. Mertens of St. Paul, one of the scratch men, made the run in 27 minutes and 32 seconds, winning first time prize, and J. Dugan, the other scratch man, won the second time prize. H. B. Purdy of Superior came in last, winning the ham easily.

E. Mooers has succeeded D. H. Abell as bookkeeper in the city engineer's office.

Ex-Governor Roswell P. Rev. William A. Sunday.

Joseph H. Odell in the Atlantic: Billy Sunday himself is known formally as the Rev. William A. Sunday, D. D., a member of the presbytery of Chicago, in good and regular standing. He presents no psychological problem. We may concede at once that he is absolutely sincere. Even in his postures and his gestures there is nothing artificial or studied. He preaches with the physical freedom of a natural athlete, and quite often, in the self-oblivion of delivering his message, he strikes the familiar attitudes of the diamond. His nature is very elemental and direct. There is not the shadow of doubt that he believes all he teaches. He accepts the verbal inspiration and inerrancy of the entire Bible; he believes in a hell that is as materially real and consuming as the flames of a burning house; he cannot conceive of a Unitarian being saved unless the error is repented of and the Trinity of the historical creeds is accepted; he holds it to be very sinful to play cards, to see plays, to dance. There is no duplicity in him; he does not preach these things for their effect and yet cherish personal reservations. Heartily, unfeignedly, and with his whole nature he believes them.

Too Much for Her.

Philadelphia Public Ledger: Unobserved and unannounced, the president of a church society entered the composing room of a newspaper just in time to hear these words issue from the mouth of the boss printer:

"Billy, go to the devil and tell him to finish that 'murder' he began this morning. Then 'kill' William J. Bryan's Youngest Grandchild, and dump the 'Sweet Angel of Mercy' into the hell-box. Then make up that 'Naughty Parisian Actress' and lock up 'The Lady in Her Boudoir'."

Horrified, the good woman fled, and now her children wonder why they are not allowed to play with the printer's youngsters.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

NORTH AND SOUTH ROADS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Regarding your article of May 22, about that Florida and Northern wagon road's going to Superior instead of Mackinaw, Mich., it should continue from Twin Cities straight through this splendid Roseau county to Winnipeg and thence to that great transcontinental railroad the Canadian British company is putting through north of that city. I having traveled all Canada and know that is to be a great road through an excellent region. Some three years ago the promoters of the double-track air-line railroad from the Gulf via Twin Cities to Winnipeg wrote me thrice concerning it. These two roads should for cheapness of construction and general public service, be put through on the same right-of-way and should have a joint branch to both Superior and Duluth. Nowhere else in the United States can so long a traffic highway be built on such an easy right-of-way and through such good territory. The business of the country already need them. They have no land competition. They would increase Mississippi transportation, the Panama canal and the increased South American business needs them, Canada needs them and the United States war department needs them. Let the people of the United States and Canada demand them.

NEEDS NO EXPLANATION.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In your issue of the 27 inst. I notice a paragraph in your editorial to which I take a particular dislike. In its reply to the St. Cloud Times regarding the Frank case in Atlanta, the editorial says that "the evidence upon which the jury found its verdict of guilty would not convict a hobo in Minnesota." Does The Herald mean that Leo Frank was a hobo or that it takes practically no evidence to convict a hobo in Minnesota? Will you kindly make yourself clear upon this point, yours truly.

J. H. THOMPSON.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 28.

The sentence seems clear enough without explanation. The Herald certainly did not mean that Frank is a "hobo," nor that "hobos" are convicted without evidence in Minnesota—The Editor.

MOTION PICTURES THAT CORRUPT

To the Editor of The Herald:

One theater advertises "Children under 16 not admitted," as an advertising scheme to appeal to the risque and lewd; the other does not take the trouble, but caters to all. The police are raised in both instances and an unsuspecting public falls, is disgusted and then makes a clamor for censorship. You pass one theater which reads, "Children under 16 not admitted." Just a block away is a popular theater and a sign in front which reads, "Entertainment for the entire family." What a difference.

In every community, there are always individuals of a warped nature, poisoned mentally and of seared moral force who not only delight in foulness and filthiness themselves but who also will for the sake of gain pander to the depraved tastes and base passions of others, even when it involves the corruption of innocence and the destruction of all that is pure and noble and holy. In the guise of moral preacher the drug and vice picture raised its sneaky head. During the past few days we have had parading the streets a wagon advertising a famous story, "Three Weeks." That in itself is absolutely disgusting and scandalous in its open advocacy of adultery and debauchery.

To write a story in which a queen commits adultery simply because she wants an heir to her throne and her debauched husband cannot give her one, is the most damnably, devilish kind of immorality that one can conceive of.

There is absolutely no excuse possible for this kind of a picture, but it may be argued with some apparent plausibility that the vice and drug and other pictures that are "exposes with a moral lesson" are very different and should not be classed with it. These latter claim to be produced to give us warning of the grave and serious dangers to the moral life with which they are surrounded and are intended to help us to be able to recognize and escape these dangers.

They do not do this but on the contrary give us an exaggerated knowledge of disgusting diseases and that destroy the lives of some persons. Not one of them teaches us how to get cured if we become a victim. You cannot teach a child how to keep clean by showing him how he can get dirty, but you can put ideas into his head and make him want to see how dirty he can get without getting into trouble. Is there any goodness or common sense in showing a man, woman or child how many different ways in which they can become vicious? Therefore, I say that the "exposes with a moral lesson" are not one bit better than the frankly immoral pictures which we have thrust upon us and paraded before our eyes on the main street of the city which we have all tried to help be beautiful and grow to be the pride of the Northwest.

There is no doubt in my mind that the exploitation of pictures of this sort is but the hysterical efforts of certain conscienceless managers willing to resort to anything that has a commercial value. And it will be but for the time being for pictures of this kind will in time do immeasurable injury to the picture business and incalculable harm to thousands of innocent persons who might have become otherwise respected citizens and happy individuals. Their dissemination in the past has brought the evils of legal censorship and their continuation in the future will cause the forfeiture of the great respect due the picture business. I appeal to you in the Open Court. Cannot something be done to remove this blot from our midst? Respectfully yours.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I note that a current film release of a widely read novel, which has just completed a run in one of our prominent photoplay houses has aroused some of our good citizens to protest. It has developed, after investigation by competent judges, that these protests were without reasonable cause which only proves that many people often voice their opinions without first becoming fully informed on the subject in question. Being an ex-exhibitor, this matter was of special interest to me for more reasons than one. It has been my experience that the manager is many times responsible for occurrences of this nature. In this particular instance, the nature of the advertising would naturally cause many to question the nature of the film being shown in whether or not it was the proper thing. There is no question but that the implied meaning was intentional. This is not the proper manner to conduct any advertising campaign. Catering to the morbidly inclined never did and never will gain for any exhibitor a lasting or paying patronage. Clean amusement is always sought and most to be desired, and the man who builds along these lines is the one who will survive. In the future, it would be well for the public to remember that all film releases are passed upon by the national board of censorship, which body is composed of doctors, lawyers, clergymen and professional men of high standing. Men who have the best interests of the photoplay industry and the general public at heart, and who would under no circumstances allow their stamp of approval to be placed upon any subject that was not fit and proper for the general public to see. The manufacturers are constantly striving for a higher standard of excellence, and in justice to them, and to his patrons, every manager should guard against misleading advertising for it is far better to build for a permanent future than for a possible today. Very truly,

AN EX-EXHIBITOR.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I sincerely thank you for troubling with my requests.

"The Battleship Maine" was in print, but it is not the one for which I am in quest. The poem begins as follows:

Dark, dark was the night,
Not a star in the sky;
The "Maine" rides serenely,
What danger is nigh?
Our nations at peace with the kingdom of Spain,
So calmly she rests in the battleship "Maine."

Thanking you again, I am, yours truly,

MISS EDITH HENDERSON.

Westboro, Wis.

A request has also been received from W. L. Seaton of Duluth for the poem "Two Wounded."

A Little Boy in Blue.

A mother sits in sadness,
Thinking of her only son,
As she looks up at two pictures on the wall.
They're all that's left to cheer her,
And she says "Thy will be done."
As she mourns for him who's gone beyond recall,
One shows him as a little boy in soldier clothes at play with his army lying scattered on the floor.
The other in his uniform the day he marched away as he said, good-by, alas, forevermore.
Chorus.
Is it strange when the band starts playing
That her eyes fill up with tears
As the soldiers pass her window
And the streets ring out with cheers?
It is then her heart is saddest,
And it seems it can't be true
As she looks up at two pictures Of her little boy in blue.

The war that took him from her
Has been over many years,
And the troops that pass are only on parade
But as she watches them go by
She's thinking through her tears
Of her own boy marching while the music played.
The pictures hanging on the wall
They seem to blend in one,
And she seems to hear a voice, I miss you, too.
That's why she's heavy-heated
For when all is said and done,
He was just her little boy in blue.

Little Bessie.

Hug me closer, mother, closer:
Put your arms around me tight;
For I'm cold and tired mother:
And I feel so strange tonight.
Something hurts me here, dear mother,
Like a stone upon by breast,
And I wonder, wonder, mother,
Why it is I can not rest.

All the day while you were working,
As I lay upon my bed,
I was trying to be patient.
And to think of what you said.
Then before the lamps are lighted,
Just before the children came,
When my room was very quiet,
I heard someone call my name.

"Come up here, my little Bessie,
Come up here and live with me
Where no children ever suffer
Through a long eternity"
Oh, I wondered, wondered, mother,
Who so bright upon me smiled;
But knew it must be Jesus
When he whispered, "come, my child."

Oh, at first I felt so sorry,
He had called and I must go,
Go to sleep, no more to suffer
Mother, don't be crying so!
All at once the window opened,
In the fields were lambs and sheep,
Some from out the brook were drinking,
Others lying fast asleep.

There were little children singing,
Sweeter songs I never heard;
They were sweeter, mother, sweeter,
Than the sweetest singing bird.
Hug me closer, closer, mother;
Put your arms around me tight,
Oh, how much I love you mother,
And I feel so strange tonight.
Then her mother hugged her closer,
To her ever burning breast;
On her heart that near was breaking
Lay the head so near at rest.
In the solemn hour of midnight,
In the silence calm and deep,
Lying on her mother's bosom,
Little Bessie fell asleep.

In the quiet little churchyard.
There is now a new-made mound,
And the form that was so cherished
Has been laid beneath the ground.
But up yonder in the portals
That are shining very fair,
Little Bessie now is sheltered
By the Savior's loving care.

Do You Read Labels?

Domestic science teachers and food authorities are urging the housewife to carefully read the labels on all food articles.

The National Pure Food Law compels food manufacturers to print the ingredients of their products on the label, and in this way enables consumers to distinguish healthful foods from those which may be deleterious.

High-grade baking powders are made of pure cream of tartar, derived from grapes. Royal Baking Powder is a type of the highest grade. It is healthful beyond a doubt and the safest and best to use.

The low-grade baking powders are made from alum, a mineral acid salt. Most physicians condemn their use in food.

Consumers can learn the character of the baking powder by referring to the label, which must state whether the contents include cream of tartar, alum or phosphate.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person sending it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

Reader—Will you, or some one of your readers, kindly give me the names of the different countries of the world.—United States and colonies, Abyssinia, Afghanistan, Albania, Andona, Argentine, Austro-Hungarian empire, Belgium, Bhutan, Bolivia, Brazil, British empire, Bulgaria, Chile, China, Colombia, Costa Rica, Crete, Cuba, Denmark, Dominican republic, Ecuador, Egypt, France, German empire, Greece, Guatemala, Hayti, Honduras, Italy, Japan, Khiva, Liberia, Lichtenstein, Luxemburg, Mexico, Monaco, Mongolia, Montenegro, Morocco, Nepaul, Netherlands, Nicaragua, Norway, Oman, Panama, Paraguay, Persia, Peru, Portugal, Roumania, Russian empire, Salvador, San Marino, Servia, Siam, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Thibet, Turkish empire, Union of South Africa, Uruguay, Venezuela.

Emil Krich, Crosby—Please answer my question in the Open Court column. What kind of an understanding have the world's nations in regards to currency? If a nation made more money than its worth, what would be the result?—There is no understanding among the nations, but each nation establishes its own standard, generally the gold standard. Currency would depreciate in value if the standard is lowered as is the case with Mexico, and other nations would refuse to accept its money at its face value.

SEGAL STILL ELIGIBLE.

City Attorney Gives Opinion in Health Inspector Case.

City Attorney Greene has ruled that M. J. Segal is still eligible to work in the health department.

"The commission submitted facts in the Segal case to me and asked for a ruling on his status," said Mr. Greene. "The facts show that he was retired under the former health administration for the purpose of reducing staff and cutting expenses. He is therefore in good standing under civil service requirements, and is eligible to work as inspector."

The city attorney will submit his ruling to the civil service commission, which will shortly hear an appeal of Mr. Segal to retain his position as an inspector in the health department.

ADDRESS BY PRESIDENT

Executive Talks at Memorial Day Exercises at Arlington.

Washington, June 1.—Eulogies of America's soldier and sailor dead were voiced here yesterday by President Wilson, Secretary Bryan, Secretary Daniels and Governor Willis of Ohio, at an impressive Memorial day exercise at Arlington National cemetery. Large crowds seized upon an opportunity to show that the present international situation was uppermost in their minds.

President Wilson, cheered on his arrival and departure and during his address, carefully avoided any direct reference to problems now facing the United States. He was enthusiastically applauded when he declared that "greater days lies before this nation than it has ever yet seen, and the solemn consciousness of those who bear office in this time is that they make their best endeavor to embody in what they do and say the best things in the United States."

Governor Willis evoked applause when he said "the president of the United States is making a successful effort to keep us out of the broils of Europe," and added, "now is the time to keep cool, think carefully, and stand by the president. He and his cabinet know vastly more of our delicate relations with European belligerents than the rest of us can possibly know; let us hold up his hands in the patriotic effort he is making in this crisis."

The president sat in the midst of veterans of two wars during the exercises, and uttered an audible "amen" at the conclusion of an evocation by Bishop Earl Cranston of Washington, who prayed that the United States might be led aright in the present crisis.

President's Speech.

"I have not come here today to deliver an address, but merely reverently to take part in expressing the sentiment of this impressive day. It is necessarily a day of reminiscences. Reminiscence is not always a profitable exercise. It generally belongs to those, appropriately to those only, who have left the active stage of life and have nothing to think about except the things that are gone and dead. It does not behoove a nation to walk with its eyes over its shoulder. Its business is constantly in the eyes that lie ahead of it, and in the present that challenges it to display its power. But there are reminiscences which are stimulating and wholesome, and among those reminiscences are chiefly to be ranked the recollections of days of heroism, days when great nations found it possible to express the best that was in them by ardent exercise of every power that was in them.

"That is what gives dignity to a day like this. It is not a day of regret; it is not a day of weakening memory. It is a day of stimulation. But, my friends, these stimulating memories we are sometimes apt to minimize because we do not see the full significance of them. We are constantly speaking of the great war of which we think today as a war which saved the Union, and it did indeed save the Union, but it was a war that did a great deal more than that. It created in this country—that which never existed before—a national consciousness. It was not the salvation of the Union; it was the re-birth of the Union. It was the time when America for the first time realized its unity, and saw the vision of its united destiny.

"The solemness of these memories for us, is not that we must be ready to save the Union again, for there are none among us who threaten its life, but that we must see to it, that the unity then realized, the vision then seen, is exemplified in us and the things that we do. Because there is no stimulation in any lesson unless it be the stimulation to duty. There is no stimulation in any occasion if it be merely the pleasure of recollection; it must also be the ardor and courage of hope. Greater days lie before this nation than it has ever seen yet, and the solemn consciousness of those who bear office in this time is that they must make their best endeavor to embody in what they do and say, the best things in the United States.

"It does not do to talk too much about one's self, and I do not think that it is wholesome for the United States to talk too much about itself. I do not want to know what you are today so much as I want to know what you are going to do tomorrow. The only test I know of that is competent to determine what you are is the test of what you do. Let us not think of our characters; let us think of our duties and of the actions that lie before us. I have always maintained that the man who lives to cultivate his own character will result only in cultivating an intolerable prig, because his object will be himself. Character, my friends, is a by-product. It is produced in the great manufacture of daily duty. But it is not easy to determine. Duty for a nation is made up of so many complicated elements, that no man can determine it. No group of men without wide common counsel can determine what the duty of the day is. That is the strength of a democracy, because there daily arises in the great body of a democracy the expression of an untrammeled opinion, which seems to fill the air with its suggestions of duty; and those who stand at the head of affairs have it as their bounden duty to endeavor to express in their own actions those things that seem to rise out of the conscience and hope and purpose of the great body of the people themselves.

America Reborn.

"America, I have said, was reborn by the struggle of the Civil war, but America is reborn every day of her life by the purposes we form, the conceptions we entertain, the hopes that we cherish. We live in our visions. We live in the things that we see. We live and hope abounds in us as we live in things that we purpose. Let us go away from this place renewed in our devotion to daily duty and those ideals which keep a nation young, keep it noble, keep it rich in enterprise and achievements; make it to lead the nations of the world in those things that make for hope and for the benefit of mankind."

At the conclusion of the exercises in the amphitheater at the cemetery, President Wilson was escorted by a regiment of marines to the Maine memorial monument, which was unveiled and dedicated in honor of the 264 men who lost their lives when the battleship was sunk seventeen years ago in Havana harbor. The monument is the mainmast and fighting top of the Maine, set in a granite and marble base chiseled in the form of a gun turret.

Secretary Daniels, the principal speaker at this ceremony, voiced a tribute to "sacrifice" saying it was the one attribute to which everybody paid homage.

Lead Poisoning

CHRONIC lead poisoning is by no means limited to painters, as many suppose. It is very common in persons who have absorbed the lead from unsuspected sources. Also it may produce the most varied symptoms, so unlike the typical textbook description of plumbism or chronic lead poisoning, that even the doctor may be puzzled. A noted medical teacher said to his students: "When you cannot explain a curious train of nervous symptoms, suspect syphilis, hysteria or lead as the cause."

Lead poisoning through water from lead pipes is rarely or never observed today. Hair dyes have accounted for many cases, and so have complexion beautifiers.

Cases have occurred among tobacco workers or smokers who chewed the foil; among persons who ate flour ground by a miller who filled holes in the grindstone with lead; among people who ate cheap cakes colored with lead; among dressmakers who chewed silk threads weighted with lead; and in innumerable other ways.

The Signs of Lead Poisoning.

Colic, obstinate constipation, paleness, high blood pressure, severe headache, a characteristic blue line on the gums at the edge of the teeth, and in most cases paralysis or marked weakness of one or more extremities, notably the paralysis known as "wrist drop."

The diagnosis is made certain by microscopical examination of the blood, the testing for lead in the urine and the tracing of exposure to lead poisoning. Strange and baffling symptoms of the nervous type may develop.

The disease is chronic, but if taken in time, curable. Elimination of the lead and the administration of antidotal medicines to render the deposited lead more soluble. Then, of course, the nerve lesions—neuritis or paralysis, must be properly managed to restore function.

ANYBODY who doubts that folks appreciate a favor ought to listen to men thanking the friends who started them using the Real Tobacco Chew.

Another thing, your new users of the Real Tobacco Chew go ahead and do the same favor to their friends and neighbors.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

"Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste."

TAKES TWO DAYS TO DIE

High Tribute Paid to Behavior of Canadians at Front.

New York, June 1.—A letter from Maj.-Gen. Edward Stuart-Wortley, commander of a British army corps in France, is made public here by his brother, Ralph Stuart-Wortley of New York, giving this distinguished officer's tribute to the behavior of a Canadian division in France, and describing the horrors which resulted from the use of asphyxiating gases by the Germans.

The effect of these gases upon the men who inhale them, he says, has been to turn all the tissues of the lungs into liquid, and during the two days that it takes for the men to die, the victims are "the most hopeless, helpless, sickening sight imaginable."

The letter follows:

"You will, of course, have read of the fighting that has been going on round Ypres just lately, and of the magnificent behavior of the Canadian division. • • • In their attack on the Ypres salient the Germans made use of asphyxiating gases. This gas is desseminated both in shells and bombs and also from cylinders, which are buried in the trenches with their nozzles pushed through the parapets. The taps of the cylinders are then turned on, and the gas, which is, as far as we know, chlorine, is pumped out. The gas, which is heavier than air, and which is blown by the wind across our lines, sinks into our trenches and kills or incapacitates any men who happen to be in them. The effect of the gas can also be felt as far back as five or six miles and produces headache and a smarting of the eyes.

Falsely Accused.

"The German papers, as well as falsely accusing us of making use of poisonous fumes, apparently defend their conduct by stating that the dissemination of this gas results in a swift and painless death for those with whom it comes in contact, and consequently is less barbarous than subjecting men to an inferno of shell fire from which great physical and mental torture must necessarily be endured.

"I am sure the public cannot have as yet the slightest idea of this last damnable effort on the part of the Germans to disregard all laws of humanity and civilization.

"I have seen our men in hospital after having been brought back from the trenches. There is no need to ask for the ward in which they are, as their groaning is quite sufficient a direction of itself. In one ward there are eighteen cases. They are all sitting bolt upright, or swaying back and forwards, gasping for breath; their faces, hands and necks a shiny gray color, their eyes glazed, and unable absolutely to speak or feed.

Two Days to Die.

"It takes two days for these men to die. During these two days they are in the most acute agony, and if by the slightest chance they recover from the poison, they will in all probability be rendered useless for life, as the effect of the gas is to turn all the tissues of the lungs into liquid. The doctors and nurses are working day and night in the attempt to give some relief. But there is nothing to be done. It is the most hopeless, helpless, sickening sight imaginable. Our medical officer, who has had a very large experience of the habits of African and Asiatic natives, tells us that in all his life he has never had to deal with such an example of scientific torture.

"At first I was inclined to disbelieve the accounts of the ill-treatment of our prisoners at the hands of the enemy, and to put them down to the inevitable exaggerations of warfare, but now that I have come face to face with German methods in the field, my opinions have undergone gradual but permanent change."

Gen. Stuart-Wortley was formerly on terms of considerable intimacy with Emperor William of Germany. A few summers ago, when the emperor was ordered by his physicians to spend some weeks at the English seashore, the general placed his country seat on the Hampshire coast at the emperor's disposal.

PRESTON MAN IS CONVICTED OF ARSON

F. B. Wolf Was First to Be Arrested By Duluth Official.

F. B. Wolf of Preston, Minn., who was arrested recently by M. J. Murray, deputy state fire marshal, on a charge of arson, has been convicted and he will be sentenced on June 16, according to word received here today from R. W. Hargadine, state fire marshal.

The arrest of Wolf early last month was the first made by Mr. Murray of this city, the latter having been appointed to his office only a few weeks previous. Wolf's barn and his mill were burned in a midnight fire and shortly after Mr. Murray started an investigation that ended in Wolf's arrest.

Following the arrest Wolf was taken to Spring Valley, where he waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury, which met last week. A true bill was turned in against him, and he was found guilty at the ensuing trial.

EBERHART PRESIDENT.

Chosen Head of Newly Organized River Terminal Organization.

St. Louis, June 1.—The construction of river terminals will be undertaken in at least fifteen towns in the Mississippi valley during the present year. This was indicated in reports received here yesterday by A. O. Eberhart, former governor of Minnesota, who was chosen president of the newly organized river terminal association.

Other officers elected were: Secretary, C. E. Perry, Quincy, Ill., and vice presidents, Irving Norwood, Davenport, Iowa; J. E. Smith, St. Louis; J. W. Fall, Memphis, Tenn., Walter S. Dickey, Kansas City, and J. H. Rosenberger, Evansville, Ind.

The program for the ensuing year, agreed upon by the organizers of the permanent association includes a canvass of the river terminal possibilities of every river town of the Mississippi valley.

ATROCITIES BY RUSSIANS

German Government Tells of Barbaric Nature of Warfare.

Revolting Cases of Cruelty and Deeds of Violence Reported.

Washington, June 1.—The German ambassador, Count von Bernstorff, has given out for publication the "memorial record" and accompanying affidavits, issued by the German government as a White book of March 25 last, relating to "atrocities committed by Russian troops on German civilians and German prisoners of war." The ambassador alos announced that copies of the document had been delivered to all the neutral governments, including the government of the United States, and that other copies would be open to inspection at the German consulates of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and San Francisco.

The "memorial record" summarizes the acts set forth in the eighty affidavits attached as exhibits, each accusation being accompanied by a reference to the numbered affidavit giving details of the charge. The "memorial record" says:

Utter Barbarism.

"The Russian troops have committed atrocities during the present war, which are incompatible with the laws of humanity and the customs of civilized nations, and which evidence the utter barbarism of their warfare. These atrocities were directed against the peaceful inhabitants of the occupied German territory, as well as against those German soldiers, who opposed them in lawful combat and who had the misfortune of being taken prisoner by them.

"The adjoining documentary material shows that these are not isolated cases of cruelty and deeds of violence, for atrocities of the most bestial sort have been committed in so many places and by so many different divisions of troops that undoubtedly a very great part of the Russian army is permeated by a spirit of inhuman savagery. A large number of cases is already well known, but in the supplements only such cases will be found as have been incontrovertibly established by official testimony, particularly testimony on oath, or by official report. These cases must, however, be regarded as being only a selection of the innumerable atrocities actually committed.

Hopeless Devastation.

"The whole world knows that, owing to the barbaric methods of warfare employed by the Russians, East Prussia, once a flourishing country, in parts now presents a picture of hopeless devastation, and that the peaceful inhabitants were forced to flee and leave all their belongings in order to save themselves from assault and murder. It has been officially ascertained that at the time of the first as well as of the second invasion of East Prussia by the Russians, thousands of men, women and children were carried off, thousands were murdered, about 20,000 buildings were demolished or burned down, and that during the second invasion alone, about 80,000 homes were plundered and destroyed. The last Russian expedition against Memel likewise was nothing more than a savage raid, accompanied by atrocities of every description. The depositions contained in the supplements give an eloquent but ghastly proof of the acts of violence and cruelty, which individual inhabitants suffered at the hands of the Russians.

"The movable goods of the poor as well as of the wealthy were stolen, looted, or wantonly destroyed by the Russian troops in every conceivable way. Cattle and provisions were taken without payment or promissory certificates. Men and women had to give the covetous soldiers their last coppers. The dwellings were searched often by one division of troops after the other, each soldier taking whatever took his fancy. Finally, homes, farm buildings and provisions were, without reason or purpose, destroyed by fire. The population, including women and children, were illtreated on empty pretexts or without any reason whatsoever, although they did everything to satisfy the desires of the Russian soldiers as to lodgings and food. This illtreatment was partially characterized by exquisite cruelty; for instance the male population of an entire community, the judge not excepted, were beaten with whips and threatened with death. Fugitives were shot down without further ado.

Torture and Murder.

"Above all, however, numerous citizens were murdered without any cause, often under terrible tortures or in presence of their relatives. Young men were shot, not because they had committed something, but because they were liable to military service. A transport of fugitives was suddenly attacked; the men were separated from the women and killed without procedure of any kind. A chief forester, escorting a troop of German convicts, was taken prisoner by Russian troops, brought before Gen. Rennenkampf and—probably in accordance with that general's infamous order to kill all German foresters, deliberately shot. The brutal lust of the Russian soldiers for murder did not stop even at old men, women and children. The murder of a little girl, about 2 or 3 years old, is a particularly horrible instance. Revolting also in the case of an entire family, which fell victim to the lust of murder of Russian soldiers. The man was spiked to the table, the child to the door, the breasts of the wife were cut off and her body eviscerated. In another instance, a man and his wife were nailed by the tongue to a table, in which position they perished of hunger and loss of blood.

Outrageous Attacks.

"Innumerable are the cases of bestial attacks upon women and girls. Very often these pitiable victims were violated by several soldiers in succession, even in cases infected them with venereal diseases, women in advanced stages of pregnancy were also abused by the bestial soldiers, even women over 70 years of age were not spared. A little girl, 8 years old, was violated by two Russian soldiers in succession. Officers also gave themselves up to such misdeeds.

"Other supplements disclose the atrocities perpetrated on German prisoners-of-war by Russian troops. Frequently those German soldiers taken prisoner were robbed, spat upon or otherwise mistreated. A Russian officer threatened German soldiers who refused to betray their comrades with death, and actually ordered one of them shot. Russian troops placed German prisoners in narrow pits before their artillery positions with the evident intention of allowing them to be killed by German fire. Cossacks in riding past German prisoners-of-war, cut off their heads, or wounded them, or—by chopping off their limbs—mutilated them. A German prisoner was cruelly bound to a sort of treadmill and left to starve. Three hussars were found hanged in a barn with their heads down and their noses and ears chopped off, so that they must have died in a frightful agony.

"Neither did the Russian hordes hesitate at the mutilation and murder of wounded German soldiers. Thus they tore the bandages off the wounded so that they would bleed to death; pierced out their eyes, cut off their tongues, ears, fingers and feet of others, or smashed their skulls. In many instances the atrocities took on the very character of fiendish torture. Thus a prisoner, slightly wounded, who was pinned to the wooden floor of a verandah by a sword, which went through his mouth, had the flesh stripped off his entire forearms from the elbows down, while his fingers were cloven to the wrists; another, who had a fracture of the skull, was bound to a calf in a stable in such a way that the animal would have to touch the uncovered brain with its mouth at every least movement.

"The most terrible thing of all, though, is an order from the Russian general staff, found on a Russian officer of high rank, which commanded that all the male inhabitants able to work, from boys of 10 years upward, be driven before the storming columns; this atrocious order, whereby the Russian commander-in-chief has placed his name on the pillory for all time, was evidently made with the intention that the German soldiers, in order to meet the attack of the Russians, should have to shoot down their own compatriots.

"The Imperial German government believes it should stigmatize before all the world this barbarous behaviour of the Russian troops, defying as it does every law of warfare and humanity, and it hereby most vigorously and solemnly issues protest against these atrocities, which are indeed the disgrace of the Twentieth century."

Item Welcomed By Many Men

This will prove a welcome bit of information for all those who are overworked, gloomy, despondent, nervous and have trembling limbs, heart palpitation, dizziness, cold extremities, insomnia, fear without cause, timidity in venturing and general inability to act naturally and rationally as others do, because the treatment consisting of grain tablets can be obtained and taken without the knowledge of any one. If the reader has any of the symptoms, and decides to try it just go to any large well stocked drug store and ask for three-grain Cadomene Tablets, and then take according to the directions which accompany each sealed tube. The tonic invigorating power is soon felt and the joy of a healthy body experienced. These tablets, originally dispensed by prominent physicians and pharmacists, now are packed with full directions for self administration, so that it is wholly unnecessary to pay a physician for prescribing them.—Advertisement.

HEAR FRANK'S PLEA FOR COMMUTATION

Georgia Prison Commission Listens to Arguments in Prisoner's Behalf.

Atlanta, Ga., June 1.—Hearing of Leo M. Frank's application for commutation of his death sentence to life imprisonment, was completed here late yesterday before the state prison commission. The commission's recommendation probably will be transmitted within the next ten days to the governor, who will take final action on the appeal. No opposition to the application was presented.

Principal features of the proceedings which began yesterday morning consisted of a letter written a few months before his death by Judge L. S. Roan, who presided at Frank's trial, in which he sought clemency for the prisoner, and a statement by Mrs. Frank describing her husband's actions on the night after Mary Phagan's murder, and denying rumors of an estrangement between herself and Frank.

Judge Roan in his letter stated that at the proper time he would ask the government to commute Frank's sentence to life imprisonment, that after many months of deliberation he still was uncertain of the prisoner's guilt, and that "it is possible I showed undue influence to the opinion of the jury when I allowed their verdict to stand."

Frank did not attend the proceedings, but his wife was present throughout.

CUYUNA IRON RANGE BEGINS BUSY SEASON

Five Mines Shipping and Several Others Will Enter the List Soon.

Development Work Is Being Pushed on Both North and South Ranges.

First Concrete Shaft Sunk Without the Use of Compressed Air.

BY GEORGE REID.

The Cuyuna iron range, as I pointed out in these columns last January, can ship 5,000,000 tons of ore this season, if there is a market for it. The railroads figured on shipping not less than 3,750,000 tons last year, but the dullness of the ore market in 1915 upset all their calculations. Just what this season's shipments will be no one can estimate, as buyers are holding off and using the stockpiles at the furnaces. However, as the steel plants of the country are operating on the average of 80 per cent of their capacity, 75 per cent being normal, they must come into the market for ore in great quantities by midsummer and then shipments from the Cuyuna range will double and treble.

The mines now shipping are the Kennedy, Iron Mountain, Thompson, Armour No. 2 and Wilcox. Mines which are ready to ship at any time are the Pennington and Rowe, open pits, and the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs, Cuyuna-Duluth, Meacham and Adams, underground mines.

The Kennedy mine at Cuyuna, is, as usual, the heaviest shipper. Armour No. 2 at Ironton, is loading both from the shaft and the stockpile. Armour No. 1, also at Ironton, formerly operated as an underground mine, is being stripped, the equipment of the Pennington pit mine being used for the purpose. The Pennington, also at Ironton, is a vast open pit mine, which can ship 1,000,000 tons if operations are resumed as late as July 1. The Rowe open pit, at Riverton, has great possibilities as a shipper. At this time, however, the Pittsburgh Steel Ore company is confining its activity to the erection of a $1,000,000-concentrating mill, or washing plant, for the reduction of low grade ores. Work is being pushed on the steel superstructure of this plant.

Innovation in Shaft Sinking.

The Thompson mine, Ironton, was opened as an underground property, but was stripped last year and its output is now being loaded by steam shovels. A small concentrating mill is being erected at this mine. The Iron Mountain mine, near Ironton, is loading from the shaft and has contracted for 25,000 tons of its output at the highest price being paid this season for ore from any part of the Lake Superior district. This high price is due to the uniform manganese contents of its ores. The Wilcox mine at Woodrow, six miles northeast of Brainerd, is loading direct from the shaft. Its first cargo of 4,000 tons was shipped recently from Duluth to a Canadian steel plant. The Wilcox, an underground property, was worked all winter.

The Cuyuna-Mille Lacs, not far from Ironton, which is a producer of high-grade iron and manganese ores, and the Ironton mine, in the heart of Ironton, which, with the Dunbar furnaces in Pennsylvania, are operated by the American Manganese Manufacturing company of Philadelphia, are expected to resume shipments at any time and are awaiting word to go ahead from the Philadelphia office.

The Croft mine, in Crosby, was sunk by John A. Savage & Co. of Duluth, Mr. Savage personally is in charge of the work. The shaft is down to ledge, 105 feet, and is a perfectly vertical shaft of concrete, reinforced with steel. A very fair rate of progress has been made in sinking the shaft, on which work was begun last October. The Croft is the first concrete shaft sunk by a mining company in Minnesota without the use of compressed air. A simple method of digging was employed, with a clam shell operated from the surface throughout the greater part of the depth. Very few men were engaged in the shaft itself, most of the labor being performed from the surface. The Croft mine will be in shape to ship toward the end of this season.

The Hill Crest, an open pit mine on the Thomas Feigh property, adjoining Ironton, is being stripped. One-half of the overburden has been removed from a considerable part of the mine by the hydraulic method, first used in iron mining at the Rowe mine by P. H. Nelson. Hill Crest can go into the shipping list in September. Another property which is being stripped near Ironton is that of the Mahnomen Iron company, leased from the Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore company. Equipment was being installed when I was on the range last week, and the superintendent of Guthrie & Co., the stripping contractors, told me that the work of stripping would begin today. A third great property, a part of the Ironton stripping group, is the Cuyuna-Sultana, where more than 20,000,000 tons of high grade and manganiferus ores have been shown up. Plans for stripping this property are being completed and work is expected to begin soon.

In the City of Brainerd, the Brainerd-Cuyuna shaft is at ledge and the miners are drifting into the ore body. Officers of the company assert their belief that they can begin loading ore by Aug. 1. A spur of the Northern Pacific railway is already in to the property.

Development Work Being Pushed.

Much drilling is being prosecuted on both the north and south ranges, which together, roughly speaking, have a length of forty miles and a width of twenty miles. Drilling is going on in the neighborhood of Barrows, five miles southwest of Brainerd and at intermediate points clear over to and in Aitkin county, which is already in the iron belt.

The busiest spot on the range is Ironton, with its open pit and underground mines, and with not enough houses to shelter all of the workers who want to live there. All of the new range towns, however, are doing well and counting on the developments going on all about them to bring continued prosperity.

Investors have never known a more propitious time for the acquisition of real estate in the new range towns, iron lands and shares in good mining companies. Everything is at rock bottom. Now is the time to buy.

IRON MOUNTAIN NOW SHIPPING

Its Ore Commands Highest Price of Any in Lake Superior District.

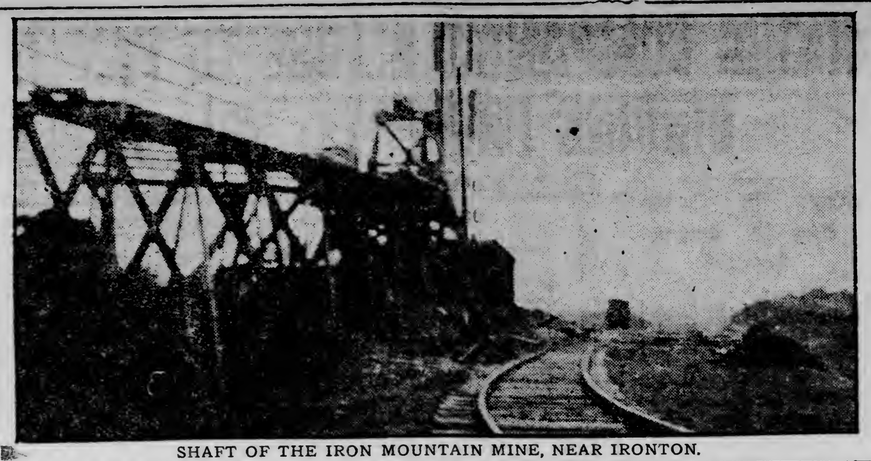

The Iron Mountain mine, in section 33, 47-29, in the town of Manganese, on the Soo line, shipped its stockpile last season. In December last contracts were let for foundations, for new machinery, boilers, hoist, air compressors and a new boiler house.

A complete new equipment, consisting of two 150-horse power boilers, furnished by the Gogebic Steam Boiler Works of Duluth and a four-ton hoist and skip, air compressor and accompanying equipment, by the Imperial Iron Works of Duluth, was installed, and the mine again began shipping on May 1, loading direct from the shaft. The mine is working three shifts and employing fifty men.

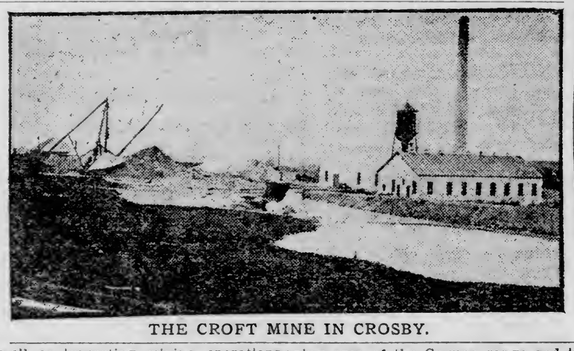

More than 25,000 tons will be shipped by the Iron Mountain mine this season. Its contract calls for the highest price being paid for ore in the Lake Superior district this season, f. o. b. at the mine. This high price is because of the high and uniform grade of the manganese ore which is characteristic of the Iron Mountain mine.

This splendid property has been developed by Duluth people and largely by Duluth capital. Much credit for financing and the successful outcome is due to L. D. Goldberg of Duluth, president of the Iron Mountain Mining company and his associated officers, who have made possible the development of the mine to the shipping stage. Before closing its books shortly, the company will dispose of 5,000 shares of treasury stock for additional working capital at the present selling price of $1.50 per share. The company has a low capitalization of 300,000 shares, par value $1 per share, non-assessable, which adds materially to its strength as an investment. The public is cordially invited by the management to inspect the mine which can be done conveniently by taking the new and splendidly equipped Soo train leaving Duluth daily at 8:45 a. m. and returning at 9 p. m., same day, giving any parties interested a splendid opportunity of seeing Minnesota's new and greatest iron and manganese range and noting the marvelous progress and developments on all sides, as well as inspecting mining operations and great ore values being mined and shipped from the Iron Mountain mine, which is being closely watched by the furnace men of this country.

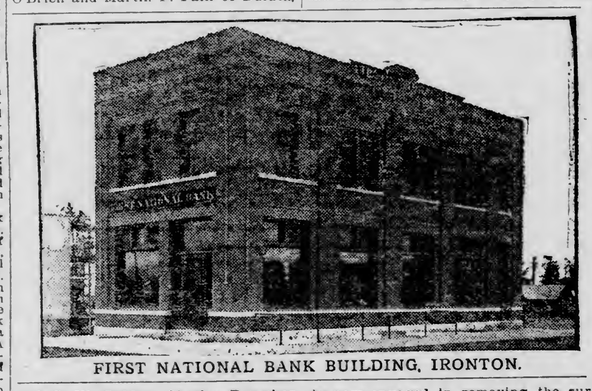

In addition to Mr. Goldberg, president, the officers of the corporation are as follows: B. F. Forrestal, Duluth, vice president; Chris. Sanders, Duluth, treasurer; T. J. St. Germain, Duluth, secretary, with the following associated directors; James Gray, David O'Brien and Martin F. Falk of Duluth, and C. W. Seddon, Charles Bouschor, Thomas Grimes of Proctor, and Louis McCollough, Cloquet, Minn. All of these are men who have been successful in the business world. The stock of the corporation is well distributed, being largely controlled by men actively associated in mining operations on the Cuyuna and Mesaba ranges, who appreciate the soundness of Iron Mountain stock as a sound investment.

GREAT NORTHERN A FINE PROPERTY

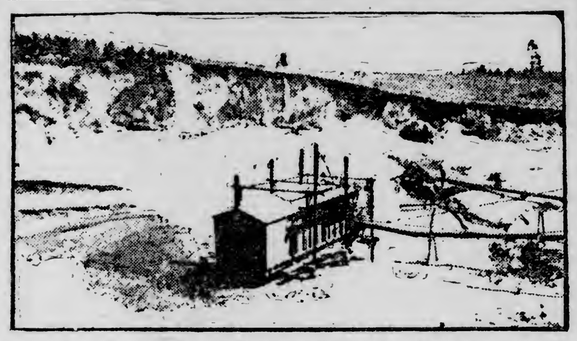

In the Big Stripping Area and Surrounded By Large Ore Bodies.

The Great Northern Exploration company, which controls the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 3, township 46, range 29, Crow Wing county, is showing up some of the finest iron ore that has been found on the range in a long time. Drilling is being done under the management of a competent mining engineer and many of the holes put down have shown up excellent ore to a good depth.

The property lays in the big stripping area of the Cuyuna range and it is understood that the surface over the ore body is only about sixty feet, making the ore easy of access by the open pit method. The property is surrounded by large and rich ore bodies, and extensions of some of these large bodies are being found on the property of the Great Northern company. To the southwest is the big property of the Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore company, which has been leased by the Mahnoman Mining company, which is now engaged in removing the surface. This big pit mine will extend right up to the west line of the Great Northern property.

To the west is the big ore body of the Cuyuna-Sultana Iron company, which controls a very large deposit of manganese ore, and it is understood this property will be stripped this summer.

The men interested in the Great Northern company are those who were primarily interested in proving up the large ore body on the property of the Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore company to the southwest. This property was leased last fall, a large advance royalty was received and a dividend of 10 per cent cash on the outstanding stock was paid. This is of particular interest as it is the first big stock company on the Cuyuna that has yet paid a dividend. The Great Northern company has just as good a property. It is getting good ore by careful drilling, and interesting developments are anticipated when more work has been done.

Eight holes have so far been drilled on the Bessemer company's property in lots 8, 9, 10 and 11, section 4, 46-29. The deepest hole is 705 feet and assays from it run as high as 27 per cent manganese and 39 per cent iron. One portion of the property is manganese and the other hematite ore, low in phosporus and running as high as 54 per cent iron.

The Bessemer company is under the management of G. A. Rydberg of Duluth, who, with others, has already developed two great mining properties on the Cuyuna range to the shipping stage. Mr. Rydberg was the first president of the Iron Mountain Mining company, which is shipping ore this season for which it is receiving the highest price paid for ore from the Lake Superior district. He was also one of the promoters of the Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore company, whose property is now being stripped. Mr. Rydberg has every reason for his belief that the Bessemer company will be as successful as the companies named.

The Bessemer company is paying a low royalty, with a small minimum tonnage, and everything is in its favor. It will stand the closest of investigation by investors. Its affairs are in the hands of ambitious, careful, conscientious men who have had experience in iron mining. For the purpose of further developments of its property the Bessemer company is offering a limited number of treasury shares to the public at par, $1 per share. The company's offices are 216-217 Torrey building, Duluth.

Bessemer Iron Mining Company Showing Up a Splendid Ore Body.

The Bessemer Iron Mining company of Duluth is adding another mine to the large Ironton group on the A. F. Gross property, which is surrounded by mines and proven ore bodies. As will be seen by the map on this page the ore body which the Bessemer is developing adjoins the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine, which is rich in manganese; the big ore body of the Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore company, which is being stripped and which will be operated by the Mahnomen Iron company; the Hill Crest pit mine, which is being stripped, and is close to the great Pennington open pit mine. Nearby are the Armour mines Nos. 1 and 2, Ironton mine of the Cuyuna-Duluth company and the Thompson open pit.

MINING COMPANIES REFUSE TO PAY TAXES ON HIBBING PROPERTY; WILL APPEAL TO COURTS

"Richest Village in World" Has Its Income Shut Off.

More Than $1,500,000 Held Up—Village Will Get But $23,128.

Companies Allege Exorbitant and Wasteful Expenditures of Tax Funds.

All mining companies owning interests at Hibbing have refused to pay the current real estate tax levied against the mineral-bearing lands within the corporate limits of that village.

As a result, more than $1,500,000 in taxes will be withheld from the public treasury.

The refusal of these corporations to pay their taxes on Hibbing property comes as a consequence of the failure of representatives of the mining companies to reach a satisfactory agreement with the Hibbing officials with respect to the village levy for 1916.

Expenditures for 1915.

Efforts to curb or check what has been characterized as "extravagant and wasteful" expenditures of money by the village of Hibbing having failed, the mining companies have refused to pay a cent of taxes on Hibbing mineral property.

Penalty Is Attached.

Yesterday was the last day allowed by law for the payment of the first half of the current real estate taxes. Today the taxes on the Hibbing mines become delinquent and according to law are subject to a 10-per-cent penalty for non-payment. This means more than $150,000, which the companies are willing to risk to test their claims in court.

As a result of the drastic stand taken by the mining companies against the village of Hibbing and its so-called program of extravagance, only 1.72 per cent of the taxes levied against Hibbing real estate will be subject to collection at this time.

This will mean that instead of $1,556,400.82, which would have been collected from the mining companies had they reached an understanding with the Hibbing village officials, the total taxes subject to collection will be $27,163.70.

Richest Village in World.

Hibbing has the distinction of being the richest village in the world. Its immense assessed valuation, $84,696,681, is greater than many of the larger cities of the United States. It has within its limits many valuable ore-producing bodies which pay the bulk of the taxes raised there.

The taxes levied against personal property at Hibbing have already been paid. The personal property taxes, however, are small in comparison to the real estate taxes. Hibbing has a real estate valuation of $84,232,155, of which all but $1,444,878 is mineral land.

As a result of the action of the mining companies refusing to pay their taxes on Hibbing property, the village of Hibbing will collect only $12,859.41 instead of $749,666.18. The Hibbing levy for 1915 made last year was $768,866. A portion of this was paid in on the personal property collection last March. The refusal of the companies to pay their tax will also deny the county, school district and state several hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The following table shows the amounts which were levied and the amounts which will and will not be paid:

The Total Amount Levied.

State tax	$408,525.95
School taxes	134,771.45
County taxes	290,600.93
Village taxes	749,666.18

Total Amounts Withheld.

State taxes	$395,922.13
School taxes	130,613.49
County taxes	281,635.33
Village taxes	726,537.52

Amounts Subject to Collection.

State taxes	$ 12,603.82
School taxes	4,157.96
County taxes	8,965.60
Village taxes	23,128.66

The taxes held up are those levied last year for use this year. The levy authorized by the council of the village of Hibbing last March of $1,533,933 is intended for next year and would not be due until Janry., 1916.

Aftermath of Legislature.

The decision of the mining companies to withhold taxes on Hibbing property comes as an aftermath of an attempt to secure some measure of relief from the alleged extravagance of Hibbing officials at the hands of the last state legislature. A bill to limit municipal levies to $25 per capita passed the state senate but was defeated in the house by a filibuster.

Since the legislature adjourned, the representatives of the mining companies have conferred with the officials of the various range municipalities with the view of securing assurance that the levies for municipal purposes would be kept within a reasonable amount. All of the villages and cities on the range, except Hibbing, it is said, have decided on reasonable budgets for the coming year.

The mining companies refusing to pay their taxes are: Oliver Iron Mining company, Mahoning Ore & Steel company, Sargent Land company, Northwestern Improvement company, Arthur Mining company, Great Northern Ore Properties, Pickands-Mather & Co., the Rogers-Brown Ore company, the Shenango Furnace company, Interstate Iron company, and the Jones & Laughlin company.

Olcott's View of It.

W. J. Olcott, president of the Oliver Iron Mining company, this morning gave out the following interview with reference to the tax situation at Hibbing:

"The extravagant and wasteful expenditures of money by the village of Hibbing has forced the Oliver Iron Mining company to resort to legal defenses against the taxes upon its properties in the village, and in order that it may be in a position to contest the validity of such taxes it will refuse to pay the same June 1 of this year.

"Hibbing, for the last two years, has levied approximately $750,000 annually for village purposes. In spite of these enormous levies, which were ostensibly to be devoted in part to the discharge of indebtedness unpaid, orders outstanding have increased in amount from $284,792 on Jan. 31, 1913, to $1,252,597 on Jan. 31, 1915. Hibbing spent a total of $1,264,742 for village purposes in the year ending Jan. 31, 1915.

"An attempt to secure some measure of relief from the state legislature at its last session by an act limiting levies for municipal purposes to $25 per capita (about five times the average in municipalities covered by the bill outside the range) was defeated by a filibuster, the motive back of which was well understood. The bill passed the senate by a vote of 41 to 7 and was favored by a large majority of the members of the house of representatives.

This Year's Levy.

"The village council has this year authorized a levy of $1,693,393. The average levy of the 140 villages and cities in the state outside the range for 1914 was $5.35 per capita. In Hibbing it was $85.35 per capita in 1914, with a threatened levy for this year of $191.79 per capita. Of the proposed levy approximately $500,000 will be required to pay for a waterworks plant under construction, an expenditure which the mining companies do not object to, in addition to a reasonable sum for current expenses.

"In spite of the manifest intention to continue the policy of extravagance and waste on an even larger scale, the company still endeavored to secure reasonable moderation by the village of Hibbing in levying taxes, and asked the officers of the village to give reasonable assurance that they would keep the current expenditure of the village for the ensuing year within even a generously liberal limit; but the village authorities declined to give any such assurance. Mayor Victor L. Power was not willing to conduct the affairs of the village for less than $40,000 per month, or $400,000 for the ten remaining months of his term of office, in addition to the expenditures of the waterworks plant. There has already been spent for April and May approximately $100,000, which would make a total expenditure for village expenses, exclusive of waterworks, of approximately $500,000 for this village of 10,000 or 12,000 inhabitants for the year.

Mostly Waste.

"These enormous expenditures are for the most part waste and do not benefit the public. The taxpayers are willing that reasonable and liberal appropriations shall be made for all legitimate needs. This company is, therefore, not responsible for any embarrassment that may ensue to the village because of the non-payment of these taxes. This is the only way the company has of raising its legal defenses to these taxes and the responsibility is with the officials of the village who have forced this action.

> "It is not the intention of this company to embarrass the administration of the schools, and it is even willing to help finance them them during the time there is no available tax money.

"The company, after a full investigation, is satisfied that it has a good defense and expects that its taxes will be greatly reduced by this proceeding, but it was reluctant to resort to litigation and did not take this step until all other means had failed."

Pleaded For Relief.

Francis J. Webb, president of the Lake Superior Taxpayers' association, and general manager Republic Iron and Steel company, made the following statement:

"As president of the Lake Superior Taxpayers' association and as the representative here of the interests of one of the larger independent mining companies, I have been in close touch with the situation in St. Louis county, and I know of the extravagance that has grown up in some of the mining communities on the Mesaba range.

"Time and time again we have urged the officials of these communities to use reasonable restraint in their levies and expenditures. We have asked them—even pleaded with them—to keep their levies within reasonable limitations. Sometimes they have promised to do better, but always it has ended in the same way.

"It was this failure of negotiations that compelled the mining companies to go before the legislature at its recent session to ask for a law, putting a reasonable limitation on village expenditures, and the limitation sought there was reasonable indeed when it is remembered that it was four or five times the average municipal levy throughout the state. Owing to a filibuster that blocked business in the house during the last three weeks of the session, this bill failed to become a law, though it had passed the senate by an overwhelming vote.

"Even then the mining companies renewed their attempt to bring the extravagant communities down to a sane basis by negotiation. This attempt succeeded in every instance except at Hibbing, where the village officials refused to meet the companies half way.

"This made necessary the last resort of refusing to pay taxes until the justice of these enormous levies can be determined in court. Much as the companies regret this step, it has been forced upon them, and it had to be taken."

Only Step Possible.

E. J. Maney, general manager of the mining department of the Shenango Furnace company, made the following statement this morning:

"The matter of large expenditures of money in the range towns is just as serious for the so-called independent mining companies as for the Oliver Iron Mining company. While the latter company suffers most on account of the holdings being greater, the independent company suffers in the same proportion and it is to the interest of all taxpayers to endeavor to see that the expenditures are held to a basis consistent with the requirements of the people of the different localities. I cannot of course talk for the other so-called independent mining companies, but know that we want to see the outlay of public funds judiciously handled. The Shenango Furnace company officials have felt that the withholding of taxes was the only step that could be taken with the view to gaining relief."

Mr. Munger's Views.

When interviewed C. H. Munger, general manager of Pickands, Mather & company, who operate the Scranton and Albany mines in Hibbing, said:

"My people feel as much concerned as anyone over the tax situation, and have been for a long time insisting that some way be found to bring about a radical change in conditions as to expenditures and over-taxation and conditions have become so bad that they felt this year that the matter must be brought to a head and decided to not pay the taxes levied. They are pleased that others take the same view and hope that the course will result in a great improvement in conditions and a living basis of taxation for the Pickands-Mather companies."

WHAT THE ACTION MEANS

Because of alleged extravagance in the conduct of municipal affairs at Hibbing, all mining companies have refused to pay their 1914 taxes on their Hibbing property.

Taxable real estate within the corporate limits of this village has a total assessed valuation of $84,323,155.

The mineral land valuation on which taxes will not be paid is $81,633,429, or 96.91 per cent of the total. Other real estate is assessed at $2,598,726, or 3.09 per cent.

Current taxes will not be forthcoming from the Hibbing mines and the validity of the tax will be contested in the courts.

This means:

That $1,534,708.47 in taxes on Hibbing property will be withheld from the village, school district, county and state pending the litigation.

That the only taxes collected on Hibbing real estate this year will come from the residents and owners of non-mineral property. If all pay, the total taxes raised will be $48,856.05.

That instead of $749,666.18, the village of Hibbing will receive by apportionment only $23,128.66 for its running expenses this year.

That the county will get $8,965.60 instead of $290,600.93.

That the school district in which the village is located will derive $4,157.96 instead of $134,771.45 in taxes on Hibbing property.

That instead of receiving $408,525.96, the state will receive as its share of tax revenue from Hibbing but $12,603.82.

Mining companies have agreed to finance the schools until the litigation is ended.

UNIFORMITY OF LAWS

Washington, June 1.—A report on state laws for taxation of foreign corporations, submitted to President Wilson after many months of work by the old bureau of corporations, declares that lack of uniformity of those laws has often seriously restricted and hampered business and that large sums of money have been lost by corporations for unwitting violations.

It emphasizes the importance of uniformity of state laws. The report presents the latest draft of a uniform corporation law made by the commissioners on uniform state laws in national conference, and presents a collation and comparison of laws now existing, which it expects will be of value to those engaged in commerce between the states.

DULUTH ENJOYS IDEAL WEATHER FOR TWO DAYS' VACATION

The "tired business man" did not frown when he opened his desk this morning.

Duluth resumed its wonted activity today after enjoying two holidays—Sunday and Memorial day. There was a cheerful air about the business district of the city, for virtually everybody had an outing of some sort, and felt the better for a sun-bath yesterday and Sunday—two of the ideal days of the season.

Few persons stayed at home yesterday. Either the Memorial day exercises and parade or the attractions of outdoor life drew them from their homes. After the memorial exercises, the crowds hiked to all parts of the city and the suburbs. The theaters were crowded and the parks were well filled with gay outing parties. Many fishermen hied to the streams while others went to Fond du Lac, took a trip around the horn, played baseball or went to see the Northern league games.

The sky was clear all day long, and the sun kept the air warm despite a rather cool breeze off Lake Superior. Sunshine and breeze were so proportioned that the air was cheering and refreshing.

With two days of rest and ideal weather, and today adding a third day, with the weather man smiling, it is no wonder that Duluth was in a cheerful mood this morning.

PEACE PLEA BY PETERSON

Son of Slave Also Speaks at Bemidji Memorial Day Exercises.

Bemidji, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The feature of Memorial day exercises here was a plea for perpetual, international peace by James A. Peterson of Minneapolis, who said that the United States must not engage in war, merely to satisfy greed, but that the United States should be an example to the powers of the world.

"I believe that the United States was destined by the Almighty to bring in perpetual peace," he said. "We are the only country that can do it, but in order to do it we must be just in everything we do."

He then referred to the American flag as being made spotless with the abolition of slavery and thanked the old soldiers for the part they had in bringing it about. The European war he said was their war, and the United States should not interfere in any way, also that no munitions of war should be shipped from this country to Europe. In order that this practice be stopped he suggested that a law be passed that would prohibit the manufacture of war munitions, other than by the government.

CHARLES W. SCRUTCHIN,
Son of Slave, Who Spoke at Bemidji.

Slave's Son Talks.

Charles W. Scrutchin, Bemidji's colored attorney, in an entertaining manner recalled instances of the Civil war and praised the old soldiers for their brave deeds. He also made an appeal for the black man of today. Mr. Scrutchin is the son of a slave and probably the only colored speaker at Memorial day exercises in Minnesota.

The program began at 10 a. m. when a procession headed by Mayor William McCuaig, followed by 250 school children, the Bemidji band, the Bemidji fire department and twenty-two automobiles bearing the old soldiers and members of the circle went to the cemetery where the morning program was held.

At the roll call the names of twenty-eight veterans, who are buried in the Greenwood cemetery in this city were called. Twenty-four veterans were present at the ceremony also thirty members of the circle.

After the ceremony at the cemetery the old soldiers were taken around Lake Bemidji in automobiles and at noon were the guests of Frank S. Lycan, president of the city council, at dinner at the Markham hotel.

In the afternoon the program was completed at the city hall by the addresses of Messrs. Peterson and Scrutchin; songs by the Methodist church choir and songs and drills by children of the Nymore and Bemidji schools.

The program was arranged by a committee of the Bemidji city council, consisting of Alderman Moberg, Bailey and Miller and during the entire day the old soldiers were the guests of the city.

CASS LAKE PAVILION TO BE OPENED FRIDAY

Cass Lake, Minn., June 1.—Elaborate preparations are being made for the opening of the new pavilion dance hall next Friday evening. The pavilion has just been completed and is one of the many improvements the Commercial club has been working on. The dancing floor occupies the upper story and overlooks the lake. An excellent floor has been installed, all screened in and comfortable seats built around the entire floor.

CASS LAKE WAR VETERAN SPEAKS ON MEMORIAL DAY

JUDGE L. M. LANGE.

Cass Lake, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Memorial day was observed here in a memorable way. A procession consisting of a band, the veterans, soldiers, the fire department, and the school children marched to the cemetery where an excellent program was rendered.

Senator O'Neil and Judge L. M. Lange, both Civil war veterans, in very eloquent words, paid tributes to the dead heroes.

GOING TO SERBIA TO COLLECT SMALL BILL

Calumet Man to Visit Scene of War's Origin on Odd Mission.

Calumet, Mich., June 1.—Matt Drazich of Calumet has made application to County Clerk Kaiser for a passport permitting him to travel in Austria, Bosnia and Turkey, and he intends to leave as soon as the passport is received from Washington.

His objective point is Sarajevo, Bosnia, the birthplace of the present European war, the scene of the murder of the Austro-Hungarian crown prince, and he is going there to collect a bill of $48.30 owing him by a present resident of Sarajevo, who formerly lived here.

Was Big Litigant.

Drazich is one of the picturesque characters of the Copper country. He conducted a saloon for many years in Calumet and established a reputation as one of the banner litigants of the district. He thrived on trouble apparently, and when the village of Red Jacket, in which section of Calumet he makes his home, refused to continue his liquor license, he, it was charged, continued to get along without a license. As far as is now recalled he never was convicted of this charge, which probably is another tribute to his fighting ability.

There is every reason to believe that Drazich will collect that $48.30.

Incidentally, Drazich says that he has business in Constantinople on his intended trip. He will not disclose the nature of the business, but says that he expects to enter that present beleaguered city without difficulty.

FOUGHT IN REVOLUTION.

Winona, Minn., June 1.—An interesting feature of Memorial day here yesterday, was the decoration in Woodlawn cemetery by the Daughters of the Revolution of the grave of the only Revolutionary hero buried in Minnesota.

He was born in 1757 and died in 1857 in Winona. He was a member of the New York state militia.

SOME LIVELY THEMES

Will Be Discussed By Salvationist at Crookston.

Crookston, Minn., June 1.—Captain F. P. Buyer, an evangelist who claims Fargo as his home, will conduct revival meetings in the Salvation Army hall beginning tonight and lasting until June 7.

Some of the subjects that he will talk on will be of a local and sensational nature.

Tonight his subject will be "Why I Never Saw a Bible Until Eight Years Ago, and Why I Became a Christian."

Wednesday night, "Forty-eight Hours in Hell."

Thursday night, "Caught at Midnight, Found Guilty and Hanged."

Saturday night, "What Crookston Needs."

Sunday, June 6, at 11 a. m., "Have You Been Born Again?"

Monday, June 7, a lecture: "Buy Your Own Cherries."

NEW PRESIDENT OF FARGO, N. D., COLLEGE

JOHN M. HANSEL.

BEACH, N. D., KILLING.

Intruder Into Home Slain and Slayer Exonerated.

Beach, N. D., June 1.—Theodore Schweitzer, hearing a noise in the basement of his home early in the morning, investigated and was greeted by a fusillade of bullets from the gun of Leroy Pate. Schweitzer fired at the intruder twice, each bullet taking effect and Pate fell to the floor with the remark, "You've got me, kid," and died instantly.

Pate was enamored of Schweitzer's sister-in-law, and from letters found on his person after his death, he is thought to have been temporarily insane. He had written in a notebook that he intended to kill the entire household of Schweitzers.

A jury has exonerated Schweitzer on the grounds of self defense.

SIGNERS BEING SOUGHT.

Those Back of North Dakota Referendum Working Faithfully.

Bismarck, N. D., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—With but three more days in which to conclude the work of securing a sufficient number of signers to hold up the fourteen bills passed by the last legislature attacked through the referendum, the sponsors for the movement are making determined efforts to qualify.

Petitions were circulated in all portions of the state. They have until June 4 in which to file the petitions. If the proper number of signatures is then obtained, the laws will become inoperative, pending the outcome of the vote at the next general election. If they are not held up by referendum, they become effective immediately.

NORTHERN PACIFIC EXTENSION GUARANTEED

Beach, N. D., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Northern Pacific will now complete the south branch line started out here last season. Guarantees totalling $21,200 have been filed by local business men and farmers along the route. This exceeds the sum asked by the company. A part of the route was graded last fall and construction crews are expected here soon to begin work on the line and have the road ready to haul the 1915 crop.

AITKIN COMMENCEMENT.

Class Exercises on Wednesday and Diplomas Given on Friday.

Aitkin, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Commencement week for the Aitkin high school began Sunday evening with the baccalaureate sermon preached by Rev. A. Turblaux, in the auditorium. A large audience was present and the music was given by the Girls' Glee club, and the male quartet. The senior class appeared for the first time in their caps and gowns.

Class exercises will be held Wednesday evening and the graduates will receive their diplomas Friday evening, when Rev. W. E. Hammond will deliver the address.

The class flower is the yellow rose, the class motto, "Not evening, but Dawn," and the class colors, orange and black.

MEDICS HAVE CADAVER.

Startling Information Given Milwaukeean Seeking Brother.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 1. — To find that, instead of being alive and convalescent, his brother had been dead three days and his body already given to a medical school for dissection, was the experience of Anton Siedlieckl of this city, when he inquired at the county hospital as to the condition of his brother Wladislaus.

Then, according to a story he told, authorities at both the county hospital and the Marquette university medical school told him that he could not recover the body and bury it, as he wishes to do.

Buried at Marquette.

Marquette, Mich., June 1.—The body of George P. Shiras, aged 26, who died in Washington, D. C., last Thursday was brought here and Sunday buried from the home of his father, George Shiras. Mr. Shiras was born in Marquette, and much of his life was spent in this city, though he had lived in Pittsburg and Washington, D. C., and had spent several winters at Ormond, Fla.

Milwaukee — Supt. Milton C. Potter of the public schools will have the degree of master of literature conferred upon him by the University of Denver Saturday in recognition of services rendered in advancing education in Colorado by Supt. Potter while a member of the Colorado state board of education.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Wolford, N. D.—Local people are intensely excited over a threatened dam-age suit of a man against a woman for alleged gossip. Sensational features are alleged and the people are taking sides in the matter. If the case comes to trial, some exposures are threatened.

Kensal, N. D.—Kensal may soon have electric lights. A representative of a St. Paul concern was here to investigate local conditions and to learn how many people would take electricity. As a result of the canvass he assured the people he thought his company would establish a plant here.

McClusky, N. D.—Fire destroyed the Farmers' elevator and two Northern Pacific boxcars at Hurdsfield, a station twenty-five miles east of here. The place was managed by J. A. Axtell. Loss about $5,000.

Devils Lake, N. D.—An inspection tour of Chautauqua is to be made in a short time, in which the state and county health officer, in company with Chautauqua officials will look over the resort with the idea of making it absolutely sanitary.

Dickey, N. D.—The Farmers' elevator will hold its annual stockholders meeting and election of officers Tuesday June 8. A nice dividend will be paid again.

Grand Forks, N. D.—At the district meeting held in Niagara last week, Rev. W. H. Elfring, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church of this city, was elected moderator of the Grand Forks district of the Congregational churches of North Dakota. Mr. Elfring was also elected a delegate to the national convention of the church at New Haven, Conn., in October.

Bismarck, N. D.—The jury in the case of State vs. Isham Hill, charged with keeping and maintaining a common nuisance, after eight hours deliberation, brought in a verdict of acquittal.

Devils Lake, N. D.—Dr. Thor Moeller, just discharged from the state penitentiary, was here in an optimistic mood. The indeterminate term with a minimum of six years, expired this week, by the decision the time started when sentenced was pronounced, leaving but two and a half years in the institution.

Mandan, N. D.—When George Zachmeier, a farmer near Mandan, backed his car out of the barn and a child screamed. He stopped the car and found it had stopped with a rear wheel resting on the chest of his little son. The child was brought to the city unconscious, but three hours later had recovered. Not a bone was broken.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Fergus Falls—United States government agents Saturday ordered the closing on June 1 of the saloons at Bluffton, in the eastern part of Otter county. The village is on the border of the "Indian country." The village of Elizabeth, which has one saloon, will be the only wet spot in this county, which has a population of 50,000.

Bemidji—Jeanette Stechman, a member of the junior class, was awarded first prize in the high school bread baking contest. The judges, Mesdames W. Z. Robinson, G. M. Palmer and A. P. White, spending the entire day in judging the fifty-three loaves which had been entered.

Argyle—Argyle will have a new Great Northern depot and probably this year. Final arrangements have been made to construct the building one block north of where the former structure was located.

Badger—The vote on school consolidation by Districts 8 and 33 resulted in a defeat for consolidation by a little better than 2 to 1. There were forty-nine against and but twenty-four in favor of the proposition.

Rochester — Sixty-seven boys and girls received their diplomas from the hands of Supt. H. A. Johnson of the city schools at exercises held at the Metropolitan theater.

Crookston — William Buelow, sentenced to the county jail for a period of thirty days on the charge of borrowing Paul Koeppe's automobile, inviting a number of friends to take a ride, smashing a large plate glass window in the Ruettell clothing store building and damaging the machine to a great extent, has been released from the county jail.

Albany—Word has been received of the death recently of Mrs. Anna Schulte, wife of Math Schulte of Allerston, of pneumonia and the bursting of a blood vessel. She was born in Albany on Aug. 16, 1872, and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Math Schiffler, Sr., of Albany.

St. Cloud—Mr. and Mrs. Loren Collins of St. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Collins of Duluth and child, arrived Saturday to spend Decoration day here according to their annual custom. Louis Collins arrived also from Minneapolis.

Little Falls—Morrison county is not compelled to pay for sprinkling the city streets abutting on its property, according to the ruling of Judge J. L. Parsons. The bill had been presented regularly to the board of county commissioners by the city and had been laid over each time for several years. Finally last winter the commissioners flatly turned it down and the city took the case to the district court.

Stillwater—The funeral of Albert G. Triebel was held from the family home Sunday afternoon. Rev. Francis L. Pamer, rector of Ascension Episcopal church officiating. Stillwater lodge No. 179, B. P. O. Elks, conducted the ritualistic services of the lodge at St. Michael's cemetery at South Stillwater, where the interment was made.

Detroit—Local business men have raised $7,500 for the immediate erection of a new pavilion in the city park, facing Lake Detroit, and have employed Architect Ashelman of Fargo to draw the preliminary plans. The building as proposed will be 150 feet long on the lake side and 90 feet wide.

America's Most Famous Brewers

MAKERS OF AMERICAN HISTORY ALSO MAKERS OF BEER

William Penn, Quaker, founder of the State of Pennsylvania, and of the city of "Brotherly Love," had a brew house at his home, Pennbury Manor, and was also interested in brewing as an industry.

Samuel Adams, the acknowledged Father of the American Revolution, who threw overboard the first chest of tea in Boston Harbor, was a Boston Brewer.

Major General Putnam, U. S. A., the hero of Bunker Hill, was a brewer. His tavern, the "General Wolfe", was the favorite headquarters for the patriot soldiers and statesmen during our War of Independence.

Six signers of the Declaration of Independence were brewers or indirectly interested in the brewing industry.

WILLIAM PENN
In 1666

Pennsylvania was ceeded to Penn in return for money his father had lent King Charles. Under his government his domain enjoyed extraordinary prosperity.

WHY FITGER NATURAL BEER IS A "DRAUGHT BEER IN BOTTLES"

The Kieselguhr filter is a new invention which "keeps" beer in bottles and gives to bottled beer the same, full natural character, taste and aroma of the finest of draught beer drawn fresh from the wood.

Our finest, natural draught beer is filtered through Kieselguhr or diatomacions earth, the diatomes of which are so small (20,000,000 to the cubic inch), that no yeast germs can pass through. Fitger Natural Beer is thus not only a "draught beer in bottles," but a draught beer brilliantly clear of every bit of impurity.

It has always been recognized that pasteurization, the process in common use for keeping bottled beer, changes the character and ruins the flavor of the natural beer. The artificial heat kills the troubleous yeast germs but it does not rid the beer of them, consequently pasteurized beer cannot be as clear or brilliant as Fitger Natural Beer.

A. Fitger

FITGER Natural Beer

"A Draught Beer in Bottles"

Fitger Natural Beer is made regardless of cost. In substance and in brewing, it is the equal of any beer in the world, imported or domestic. In purity, clarity and brilliancy there is no beer in the world that equals

FORT WILLIAM TAKES TWO GAMES FROM DOOKS

The Morning Contest a Slaughter Lost By 15 to 3 Score—Afternoon Game Lost By Score of 8 to 7—Cadreau Pitches Nice Ball, But Errors Throw Game Away.

BY BRUCE.

Denny Sullivan and his Fort Bill oriflamme chasers debuted yesterday to the extent of two victories. In the matitutinal contest the Canucks cantered away with the game by the sickening count of 15 to 3. Sounds more like an echo from the silver campaign of 1896 than a baseball score, doesn't it? The matinee offering was won by the visitors, 8 to 7.

Hoffman started slabbing in the a. m. contest and was frantically yanked in the second round. "Sticks" Bryant was wig wagged from the dog house and was humbly led forth to the slaughter. Details are quite unnecessary. It was a carnage, a bludgeon slaughter. Let's forget it.

There was a real battle on in the afternoon. Cadreau was in the box for the locals and if ever a pitcher deserved to win a ball game, it was the Chief in the one of yesterday.

Trueman did some punk fielding in right field to start the ceremonies. The first two runs of the visitors were gathered off this corner lot exhibition. This was only the starter. Wolfe and Croake kicked in with some more bubbles and the big chance to even up on the day's efforts was gone.

Fort William scored in the first on a hit that went for a home run because of Trueman's poor fielding. In the second round the visitors counted again when Trueman permitted another to get away from him. In the second round Trueman singled, was advanced by Wolfe and scored when O'Brien singled.

In the third it looked as if the Dooks had sewed up the game. Croake singled, Williams strolled and Collins was safe on an infield error. Trueman tripled to the flag pole and then Paw Paw Sweeley doubled to left and the fourth score of the round was over. Southpaw Hawkins was yanked and Southpaw Hewett, who won the morning contest was reinstalled on the mound. From that point on we had hard going.

Duluth counted another in the fifth and then came the awful seventh when the visitors counted four runs. Wertz walked. Durham lofted to Williams. Fortier was safe on Wolfe's buffle. De Rose doubled and two came scampering home. Wolfe and Croake contributed two errors and a single counted two more runs. A single, a sacrifice, an infield out and an error on an outfield fly gave Duluth its final run in the eight.

Wines singled in the ninth and advanced on a passed ball. Dancy was passed. Weidell sacrificed both runners along. Fusner singled and Wines came home. Hewitt lofted a Texas leaguer that Wolfe went out in Williams' territory for. The shortstop caught the ball with his back to the diamond and was unable to turn and make the throw to the plate before Dancy raced home.

In the home half of the ninth Bud Croake whiffed with the bases full and the last chance to win the game was gone.

Shut Out Twice.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 1.—Chicago lost both games to Pittsburgh yesterday by the same score, 1 to 0, through the wildness of its pitchers. In the morning game Lavender passed three men in the third inning and hit a fourth man, forcing the only run. Cooper had the visitors at his mercy.

The afternoon contest was a duel between Cheney and Mamaux. Cheney allowed the Pirates only two hits, both made by Carey. He lost his own game in the second inning when he passed Hinchman, who went to second on Wagner's out and scored on a wild pitch by Cheney that went to the stand. Scores:

Pittsburgh .....0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 x—1 4 1

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Beat Rivals for Lead.

Chicago, June 1.—Two passed balls by Baker, coupled with J. Collins' triple and daring base running by Blackburn and J. Collins, gave Chicago a 3-to-1 victory over Detroit and enabled them to retain their position at the head of the league in yesterday afternoon's game. Detroit won the morning game 4 to 3 and would have moved ahead of the locals if they had won the second contest. Russell had the distinction of losing and winning a game in one day. He started the morning game, but was unsteady, while in the afternoon contest he pitched in great form, holding his opponents to five scattered hits. Roth's error following Crawford's double and a fielder's choice, gave Detroit its one run. He was spiked by Crawford, and was replaced by Brenton.

In the morning game Cobb's daring base running and Kavanaugh's heavy hitting gave Detroit a 4-to-3 victory over Chicago. Cavet pitched and fielded in great form in the pinches. Weaver was ordered out of the game by Umpire Hildebrand for arguing a decision. Scores:

First game— R. H. E.
Detroit .....0 1 0 0 2 0 0 0 1—4 11 1

Chicago .....0 0 0 0 0 0 1 2 x—3 7 2

Batteries—Boland and Baker; Russell and Schalk.

Yankees Brace Up.

Washington, June 1.—New York broke its losing streak here yesterday by winning both games of the Memorial day program with Washington, 11 to 4 and 4 to 1. Bunched hits, errors and bases on balls, gave the visitors the morning game. In the afternoon each team scored in the first inning, after which Boehling and Fischer battled on even terms until the sixth. Then Boehling hit Cree, Pipp beat out a bunt, both advanced on Foster's wild throw and scored on a single by Hartsell. The latter tallied on Maisel's infield hit. Maisel, up five times, got four hits, including a triple and walked once. Scores:

First game— R. H. E.
New York .....6 0 1 3 0 0 0 1 0—11 10 1
Washington .....0 0 0 3 0 0 0 0 1— 4 8 4

Batteries—Fisher and Nunamaker; Boehling and Henry.

Red Sox Take Both.

Philadelphia, June 1.—Boston won both games from Philadelphia yesterday, the scores being 2 to 1 and 9 to 2. In the afternoon contest the visitors made a seventh inning rally and won by scoring seven unearned runs on six hits, two sacrifices, two errors, a pass and a wild pitch by Shawkey. The home team could not solve the delivery of Mays after the first inning. Mays was taken out for a pinch hitter in the seventh and Collins finished the game in splendid style. Scores:

First game— R. H. E.
Philadelphia ...0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—1 9 0

Spiders Take Two Straight.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 1.—Cleveland made it two straight from St. Louis yesterday, winning 9 to 6 in the afternoon, batting James out of the box and hitting Perryman hard also. Walker and Morton, the Cleveland pitchers were wild but effective. Home runs by Pratt and Smith were features. Scores:

First game— R. H. E.
St. Louis .....0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—1 5 3

Batteries—Whitehouse, Mozeley and Rariden; Lafitte, Upham and Land, Pratt.

Newark, N. J., June 1.—Newark won yesterday morning's game here from Brooklyn by a score of 5 to 3. Until the ninth only two scratch hits had been made off Moran's delivery. Score:

Cut It Up for Honors.

Chicago, June 1.—Kansas City and Chicago divided honors in two hard-fought extra-inning pitchers' battles yesterday afternoon. Main's clever pitching and some timely hitting gave him the verdict over McConnell in the opener, 3 to 2, in ten innings, after Zwilling's home run had tied the score for Chicago in the eighth. Heading also followed only one hit in the first nine innings of the second game, but two errors permitted Chicago to tie in the ninth and after Wilson had doubled in the eleventh, the Kansas City pitcher walked three, passing in the winning run, 2 to 1. In the fourth two hits and that's the time to chew PEERLESS. When you can smoke — that's the time to choose PEERLESS.

This pure Southern Kentucky tobacco is the great favorite with men of vigor. It is full-bodied and satisfying. It gets its pleasant richness from the natural aging we give it for three to five years. And that is what keeps its quality up, always the same, no matter what the year's crop may be.

PEERLESS

Long Cut Tobacco

has given prime pleasure to manly men for over half a century. A PEERLESS man never switches to another brand; he knows he's just losing time and pleasure on a needless experiment. Many brands come and go into the discard—but old PEERLESS is still in the lead.

There's a snappy taste to PEERLESS that policemen and other big fellows like. It's got that man-size quality about it; not one of those insipid, next-to-nothing tobaccos—but the big king-brand for the he-men on the force.

A week's trial will make you a permanent user of PEERLESS — go to it today.

CATHEDRAL FIELD MEET

Creditable Records Are Hung Up By Catholic Athletes.

Athletes of the Cathedral high school held an interclass track and field meet yesterday, in addition to the baseball game that was played between the school team and members of the alumni class.

The Cathedral team won the baseball game by the score of 9 to 5. Doherty was on the knoll for the school team and was opposed by Nicholson. Both flingers were in good-form, but Doherty had better control and also received better support from his team.

Donalds was one of the stars of the track and field games. He entered a number of events and made a very good showing.

Following the athletic events a banquet was held. Brother Leopold presented the championship basket ball team their new sweaters and the winners of the afternoon were also presented with prizes.

It was decided that the Cathedral will enter a track and field team in the interscholastic meet that will be held during the present week.

Following is the score of the baseball game and the winners of the various track and field events:

Cathedral .....2 0 0 5 2 0 0 0 0—9	7	0
Alumni .....3 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—5	4	3

880 yards—First, Hart; second, Greusen; third, Donalds.

440 yards—First, Hart; second, John Donalds; third, McKinnon.

Broad jump—First, Donalds; second, Murphy; third, McKinnon.

220 yards—First, Nicholson; second, Donalds; third, McKinnon.

100 yards—First, Nicholson; second, Donalds; third, Hart.

Pole vault—First, Nicholson; second, Hart; third, R. Murphy.

NEW SHELLS ARE AT BOAT CLUB

Yesterday brought the new shells to the city and yesterday evening the new racing boats were installed in the shell house of the boat club. Today the light racing boats will be given the first trial spin of the season. With the arrival of the shells, some new oars and fine weather it is expected that the boys will get down to the hardest work of the season.

There will be a big regatta on June 12. On that date it is planned to hold a race between three eights that should be a dandy. The arrival of the new boats will enable Ten Eyck to put three eights on the water every evening.

WINS RACE; NEW RECORD

Resta Contests Every Foot of Way—Loses By Four Minutes.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 1.—Ralph De Palma, in a Mercedes, won the fifth annual 500-mile international sweepstakes on the Indianapolis motor speedway here yesterday in the remarkable time of 5 hours 33 minutes and 55½ seconds. The victor traveled at an average speed of 89.94 miles an hour and broke the record established in 1914 by Rene Thomas, who finished in 6:03:45.9.

Resta Fights Hard.

Dario Resta, in a Peugeot, who finished second, contested every mile of the way with the winner, and the battle of these two pilots was the feature of the contest. Resta never quit trying to head off De Palma, and he finished only four minutes after the winner crossed the tape. Resta's time was 5 hours 37 minutes and 34.94 seconds. Gil Anderson, in a Stutz, was third and completed the race in 5 hours 42 minutes and 27.57 seconds. Out of twenty-three cars that started, eleven finished, of which ten received prize money.

De Palma Popular.

That De Palma's victory was a popular one was shown by the demonstration by the thousands of spectators who rose and cheered wildly as the winner finished his last lap. De Palma drove into his garage immediately after he received the checkered flag which announced his victory, and locked the door. His first words were praise for his mechanician, who rode by his side during the long grind. Enthusiastic friends burst open the doors of the garage, and De Palma became the center of attraction for hundreds of people who fought for a chance to shake his hand.

Consistent Race.

De Palma drove a consistent race. He never was back of fourth place. He wrested the lead from Resta in the 175th mile. He lost the lead in the 315th mile, when he stopped at the pits, but regained it in the 335th, when Resta skidded into the retaining wall and was forced to make a tire change as the result. After that De Palma never was headed, although Resta pushed his car to the limit.

Nearly Out at Finish.

De Palma's machine ran perfectly until the beginning of the 498th mile, when there were signs of faltering. Spectators feared that the car would fail him and he would be robbed of victory as he was in 1912 when, with but two miles to go, his machine broke down and he lost the prizes he had thought as good as won a few minutes before.

"The jinx is broken," he exclaimed when he was hailed as victor.

Nobody Injured.

This year's race was the first held here in which no persons were injured. Although the weather was threatening and the race had been postponed from Saturday, a large crowd was on hand to witness the event.

The track was ideal for high speed, as it was chilly and tires lasted much longer than is usual on a brick course. The winner made two stops for tires and fuel. Speedway officials said last night that the record probably will stand for years.

Ten drivers divide the $50,000 prize money, of which De Palma's share is $20,000. They finished as follows:

Ralph De Palma, Dario Resta, Gil Anderson, Earl Cooper, Tom O'Donnell, Bob Burman, Howard Wilcox, Tom Alley, Hughie Hughes (driving for Billy Carlson) and Noel Van Raalte.

Successful Regatta.

New York, June 1.—Perfect weather and water conditions prevailed yesterday during the second annual regatta of the New York Rowing association, held on the mile and a quarter course on the Harlem river here. This city carried away most of the junior races, Philadelphia won the three classic features, and Baltimore oarsmen took the association single prize. The junior eights race was won by Columbia university in 5:50 3-5. Fordham university crew gave them a good race.

GIBBONS TIED BY SOLDIER

St. Paul Phantom and Spectators Given Surprise; Bout Is Draw.

Jim Coffey Beats Jim Flynn; Bombardier Wells Wins a Fight.

New York, June 1.—Soldier Bartfield of the United States army surprised fight followers during a series of outdoor bouts at Ebbets field, Brooklyn, yesterday, when he held Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul middleweight, to even terms in a ten-round bout. Gibbons weighed 155 pounds and Bartfield 148.

Gibbons exhibited his usual cleverness, but he was never able to solve the soldier's defense, while at times Bartfield outfought Gibbons at his own game. At the end, the honors were equally divided.

Dutch Brandt and Battling Lahn, a pair of bantams, fought ten hard and clever rounds. Brandt was the better of the two.

Al McCoy of Brooklyn outfought Silent Martin of New York. McCoy weighed 157½ and Martin 155 pounds.

New York, June 1.—Jim Coffey, the Dublin giant, stopped Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, in the ninth round of their ten-round match in the opener at Brighton Beach racetrack last night.

Flynn was badly beaten and bleeding from the nose and mouth, but was still on his feet when his seconds threw the sponge into the ring in the middle of the ninth round.

London, June 1.—Bombardier Wells last night knocked out Dick Smith, the lightweight champion of England, in the ninth round of a twenty-round match.

SHAKEUP IN DARBY'S TEAM

Hoffman Released and Others Are Threatened With the Sack.

Something has happened and other things may happen to or with our baseball team. Hoffman drew the slip immediately following the playing of the game with Fort William yesterday morning. "Sticks" Bryant is still on probation. There threatens to be a general shakeup.

Darby O'Brien is mad—yea, after the game yesterday afternoon the Dook was almost passionate with angry heat. Magnate Blume is also on the firing line—firing line is used advisedly.

"Hoffman has gone," said Blume today, "and others are going. I can't tell yet just who will go. We are busy on the wires at the present time. I won't tolerate that kind of ball playing any longer. I refuse to keep ball players that play ball one day and horse the next. There will be a lot of changes on the team."

Thus does most every member of the Dookal tribe tremble in the turn of the balance. They are here now—tomorrow some of them may be hence.

All Because of Yesterday.

The erratic playing of yesterday caused Owner Blume and Manager O'Brien to tear off to the telgraph office. At first it was reported that "Sticks" Bryant was to follow in the departing wake of Hoffman. But it looks now as if "Sticks" will receive another trial.

Cadreau looks good as yet—and he is about the only pitcher who is sure today that he may be working tomorrow. Also there are several of the infielders and at least one outfielder not sure that they may linger in our midst so very long.

As the unshaved poet said—It's a great life, but we must be brave."

GRAVEL ON BOULEVARD INTERFERES WITH RACE.

The motorcycle race that was scheduled for yesterday over the boulevard course was postponed because of the fact that the roadway had been freshly graveled. The scheduled race was to have been for a distance of fifty miles and the majority of the fastest riders in the city were entered. It is planned to run off the contest at a later date.

SEMI-FINALS OF KID TEAMS

Play will begin in the semi-final round of the grade school league tomorrow. The winners of the games in the semi-finals will meet for the city grade school baseball championship at Athletic park. This is the big series that the school children of the city have been waiting for all of the present season.

There is intense rivalry in both divisions as to which team will get into the final championship series. This promises to be a large week for grade school baseball.

COLLEGE BASEBALL

New Haven, Conn., June 1.—Yale's baseball team hammered three Cornell pitchers all over the field yesterday for twenty-five hits and scored an easy victory 22 to 5. Cornell fielded poorly. Score:

Batteries — Pumpelly and Hunter; Castles, Bryant, Russell, Sutterly and Clary.

Providence, R. I., June 1.—Although Brown had a spirited ninth inning rally, making five hits in succession, the game was lost to Harvard, 11to 10, yesterday. With the bases full in the fifth, Charlie Brickley of Harvard made a home run. Score:

Harvard 11	11	2
Brown 10	17	2

Batteries—Mahan and Harte; Crowell, Graham and Donovan.

Worcester, Mass., June 1.—Dartmouth beat Holy Cross, 1 to 0, yesterday in a twelve-inning pitchers' battle. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Dartmouth 1	5	0
Holy Cross 0	6	6

Batteries—Parrott and Wanamaker; McCarthy, J. Murphy and Carroll.

R. S. PATRICK IS WINNER

State Golf Champion Turns in Low Card at Northland Club.

R. S. Patrick yesterday won the silver cup at the Northland club for the winner of the first flight in the short-stop tournament, the state golf champion turning in a card of 72 for the eighteen holes, which was the low card score last summer in the initial round of the state tourney. J. Q. A. Crosby was winner of the second flight, Senator E. B. Hawkins of the third, and Rev. R. E. Sayles of the fourth.

Mr. Crosby was presented with a golf club, Senator Hawkins with a dozen golf balls, and the Rev. Sayles with half a dozen golf balls.

The players qualified in flights of sixteen, high scores determining the first, second, third and fourth flights. The contests were played from scratch. The weather was ideal and with the course in nearly mid-season form some very creditable scores were hung up. The showing of Mr. Patrick thus early in the season is encouraging to Duluth followers of the champion.

Wins Chicago Cycle Race.

Chicago, June 1.—The fifteenth annual Memorial day bicycle race of the Chicago Cycling club, with eighty-three starters, was won by Paul Anderson. He made the fifteen miles over the boulevard in 43-19.

GOLF TITLES ARE AT STAKE IN MISSOURI

St. Louis, Mo., June 1.—The fight for the 1915 Missouri state golf championship was begun here today, Alden B. Swift of St. Joseph, Mo., present champion, defending the title against thirty-two aspirants. This number, out of 173 entrants, qualified for the championship flight yesterday.

Among the losers was Governor Major of Missouri, who rounded the 18-hole course in 112. The scores of those who qualified ranged from 76 to 92, Swift having made the lowest score. Swift is scheduled to open today's playing with Morris Gordon.

St. Louis, Mo., June 1.—Of three out-of-town entrants in the first women's state championship golf tournament which opened here yesterday, only one, Mrs. E. R. Morrison of Kansas City, qualified for the championship contest which began in earnest today.

AUTO SOMERSAULTS; NOBODY BADLY HURT

Occupants of Machine Escape With Cuts and Bruises.

An automobile driven by Dr. Lenna E. Clark somersaulted over an embankment on the Snively road yesterday afternoon, and three passengers escaped injuries in a miraculous way. The car was not badly damaged.

Dr. Clark was badly shaken by the fall and will be confined to her home for several days by painful but not serious cuts and bruises. Mrs. William T. Stewart, 4717 Gladstone street, and her son Albert, age 11, the other two occupants of the car, also were slightly injured.

Mrs. Stewart was pinned under the car when it stopped, but Dr. Clark succeeded in prying up the machine with a log and freed her. She sustained a bad cut on the head. The boy was merely bruised.

The accident occurred between Lester Park and Exeter Farms on the Snively road, when the driver reversed the engine instead of putting on the brakes.

Dr. Clark was reported as improved this morning by relatives at her home, 4301 East Superior street.

FORMER DULUTHIAN IN ANTI-FLY CRUSADE

Chicago Will Boycott Foods Not Adequately Protected Against Flies.

Arnold Joerns, son of W. G. Joerns of this city, is taking a prominent part in the anti-fly crusade now being conducted in Chicago.

A Boycott-the-fly league was organized in Chicago last Friday and Mr. Joerns is one of the charter members of the body, which includes Carter H. Harrison, former mayor, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, Dr. Emil Hirsch, Henry Lytton, Rev. John Timothy Stone and John Robertson, health commissioner of Chicago. Dr. Ferdinand Herb, formerly of Superior, is president of the league.

The Boycott-the-fly league proposes to induce Chicagoans to pledge abstinence from purchasing any food not adequately protected against flies.

The present anti-fly crusade now on in Chicago will culminate in "Fly week" from June 7 to June 12.

FOUR MORE GOPHER COUNTIES VOTE DRY

Jackson County Decides to Retain Its Five Saloons.

St. Paul, Minn., June 1.—Four counties in which county option elections were held Monday were added to the "dry" lists, about thirty saloons being abolished as a result. Jackson county voted to retain its five saloons.

The counties that voted "dry" are Doulas, Rock, Nobles and Fillmore.

ON THE IRON RANGES

CONSPIRACY, SAYS POWER

Hibbing Official Indignant at Mining Companies Refusing to Pay Taxes.

Says His Offer to Have Them Check Expenses Was Ignored.

Hibbing, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor Victor Power today in discussing the refusal of the mining companies to pay their Hibbing taxes styled the action as a "conspiracy to get hold of the affairs of Hibbing, the only town on the range they do not control." He said he anticipated the action taken from overtures made to him.

He said that last Friday he was approached by representatives of the mining companies who said if the council would agree to limit monthly expenditures to $20,000, including all improvements, but not including the waterworks now under construction, the companies would pay their taxes. The offer is ignored.

He says he told them that if they would put an expert in the village hall to watch all expenditures and show where expenses could be kept down to $10,000, $20,000 or $30,000 per month, he would abide by their decision, but claimed such offer was refused.

The mayor did not state what steps would be taken to attempt to collect the taxes.

The local payroll and monthly expenses have been running anywhere from $40,000 to $60,000

DISTRICT COURT ON AT HIBBING

Busy Court Session Begins in the Range Village.

Hibbing, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—What promises to be a busy session of district court opened here today. Grand and petit jurors have been called and a long term is anticipated.

The grand jury will probably be charged and set to work some time this afternoon. It is reported that among matters to be investigated will be Chisholm affairs, sixteen witnesses from that village having been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury.

Today will be largely devoted by Judge Hughes to hearing motions and calling the calendar. The petit jurors will report for a busy session.

HAVE SPELLING BEE.

Graduate of Coleraine High School Spells Down All.

Coleraine, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The old-fashioned spelling bee just held at the Greenway high school was voted a success. In the seventh grade contest Myrtle Clines of Coleraine was the winner over the other schools. In the all-grade contest Natalia Swanson of the sixth grade of the Greenway school spelled down all competitors of all grades below the high school. May Seeley, daughter of C. E. Seeley and editor of the Optic, proved herself the best high school speller. In the free-for-all contest between the schools and the outsiders, Mrs. H. C. Holmes, a graduate of the Greenway high school, class 1908, spelled down all comers.

LINE BEING PUSHED.

Good Progress Being Made on Bear River-Hibbing System.

Hibbing, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mr. Mika of this city, who is building the telephone line between here, Bear River and Chisholm, is making good progress. Difficulties were encountered at the outset due to low, swampy land, but several miles of poles are already set and the line is expected to reach Blueberry Hill or beyond by the end of the week, if weather conditions are favorable.

Lars Brude has offered the use of his store and clerks for the telephone switchboard temporarily until the company can make permanent arrangements and his offer was accepted by the directors. There is always someone in the store throughout the day and a clerk sleeps in the building nights, so that emergency calls could be taken care off. As soon as the growth and volume of business warrants a telephone operator will be secured.

The auto truck operated by Ole Brude is hauling supplies for the line. The wire and other supplies will be distributed at convenient points along the route, so that everything will be in readiness to string the wires just as soon as the poles are set. It is hoped to open the line for business by July 1.

MEMORIAL DAY ON WESTERN MESABA

Patriotic Coleraine and Bovey People Join in Exercises.

Coleraine, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Memorial day was fittingly celebrated here and at Bovey yesterday.

At 9 o'clock the Bovey school auditorium was well filled with school children and citizens, where an excellent patriotic program was given under the direction of Mrs. E. H. Bither, C. C. McCarthy of Grand Rapids was the speaker. At the conclusion of the program the children, laden with flowers, were taken in automobiles to the Lake View cemetery, whither they had been preceded by a delegation of citizens and flower girls from Coleraine. There appropriate songs and addresses were given and the graves of the soldiers decorated.

In the evening Coleraine held a formal program at the village hall auditorium, which was filled with people. There was first an open air patriotic band concert. The program consisted of songs, readings and an address by Rupert Swinerton of Hibbing.

BY FALL LAKE SCHOOL.

Eighth Grade Graduating Exercises to Be Held Wednesday.

Ely, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The eighth grade commencement exercises of the Fall Lake school will be held Wednesday when the classes of Misses Alice Brown and Anna Sundholm will render the following program:

Drill, primary pupils; song and tableau, "June," entire school; salutatory address, Martin Lindahl; class poem, Ida Jackson; class prophecy, Irvin Dibble; commencement song, eighth grade pupils; class oration, "America, a World of Power," Harry McTaggart; class history, Merlyn Lindahl; valedictory, Martha Kievi; remarks, J. C. Russell, member of the school board; song, "Leaving the West," eighth grade pupils.

The graduates are: Meryln Lindahl, Martin Lindahl, Irvin Dibble, Harry McTaggart, Martha Kievi and Ida Jackson.

TO GRADUATE THURSDAY.

This Will Be Busy Week Among Ely Students.

Ely, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Beginning with the baccalaureate exercises held Sunday evening when Rev. J. C. Mapson addressed the high schol graduating class, this is a busy week in local high school circles. The examinations began today while the commencement exercises will be held Thursday evening at the Washington school when the program previously printed in The Herald will be given.

The Winton eighth grade exercises will be held at the St. Croix hall this evening, the Ely and White Iron eighth grade exercises will be held here Thursday evening, and Section 30 Thursday evening at the school house.

The annual school picnic at Sandy Point will be held at Sandy Point, Friday, June 4.

CANNOT SECURE SPUR.

So Owners of Grand Rapids Mill Will Ship Logs Elsewhere.

Grand Rapids, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Spang & Hoolihan experienced such difficulty in security a spur track to their mill from the Great Northern that they have practically given up hope of getting it and are selling the logs which it is not convenient to handle on the river adjacent to their mill, and the logs are being shipped to mills which are located near railway tracks. Spang & Hoolihan estimate that they will have between 150 and 200 cars of logs which they would saw here if they had the facilities for getting the logs to their mill and the lumber out again without hauling the lumber in to the freight yards to load it. In the past their experience has been, when starting to load a car with lumber, to have a switch engine come and shunt their car to the other end of the yard, go up and start loading there only to have the car taken away again and moved to some other place. They offered to put in the grade, the ties and lay the steel if the railroad company would give them a connection, but their efforts have been without avail.

ELY FAMILY MOTORS TO MENOMONIE, WIS.

Ely, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. Charles Trezona and family left Saturday in their auto for Menomonie, Wis., for the graduation exercises at Stout. Miss Martha Trezona will graduate from the domestic science department, next Thursday. They will also visit Chicago.

DEER RIVER MAN ACCUSED OF ARSON

Deer River, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter Miel of Deer River was arrested here charged with setting his house on fire. Miel is reported to have been demented from the effect of too much drink. The fire was put out before much damage was done.

Is Improving Ditch.

Grand Rapids, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Louis Romans has commenced widening and cleaning out County Ditch No. 3, which drains Hale lake, Loon lake, Mud lake and the little lake near the Bausselot place into the Mississippi river. It is expected that the ditch, when widened and deepened, will lower these lakes from two to four feet and add large areas to the natural meadows along the route of the ditch. The job entails an expenditure of something over $2,000.

Coleraine Beats Rapids.

Coleraine, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yesterday the Coleraine high school baseball team defeated the Grand Rapids baseball team on the home grounds with a score of 4 to 0. This adds one more victory to the series for the season.

Gophers Beat Camels.

Two Harbors, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Gophers of this city defeated the Camels of Superior Sunday in a well played game, 6 to 4.

ENGINEER MYERS MAKES LAST RUN

Veteran Received at Virginia By Friends and Given Testimonial.

Virginia, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. A. Myers, veteran engineer of the Missabe railroad, made his last run last evening when he pulled in the Iron Junction local, let go the throttle and stepped out of the cab thereby ending at the age of 75, forty-eight years of railroading, the record for Northern Minnesota. He retires on a pension.

Mr. Myers was not allowed to leave his cab in old No. 1, the pioneer locomotive of the Missabe road, brought to this range years ago by the Merritt brothers, "unwept, unhonored and unsung." On the contrary his farewell to railroading was made an event the like of which was never seen on the Mesabe range before. To begin with he traveled on the most unique order ever issued out of Proctor. It was signed by Chief Train Dispatcher J. A. Dennl and read:

Operator clear on signel box No. 31. Engineer Myers, (Engine No. 1) and No. 31 run, Iron Junction to Virginia. Engineer Myers then to pass from service and continue to run on time till scheduled out by our Grand Superintendent.

Seized by Friends.

As the veteran engineer left the cab here about 11 last night he was seized by a delegation of forty or so Masons and a lot of other friends who presented him with a big bouquet, put him into an automobile and headed by a band, escorted him to Masonic hall where a fine testimonial was given him in the way of greetings from old friends, speeches being made by W. H. Eaton, Edward C. A. Johnson, L. Osborne and others. Mr. Myers was visibly affected, his eyes being moist as he thanked every one. Later in the evening he was entertained at Elks' hall. Mr. Myers received a letter from Supt. Kreitter of the Missabe thanking him for his long, faithful service and wishing him much joy for the balance of his days. Mr. Myers will continue to reside here.

TWO HARBORS HAS VERY FINE PARADE

J. A. Wharton of Duluth Principal Speaker at Exercises.

Two Harbors, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The spirit of patriotism was plainly shown in the observance of Memorial day here yesterday. Thousands turned out to either join or watch the parade to the fair buildings, where the exercises were held. Thirty-five automobiles were in the parade, each decorated with the stars and stripes. The parade was headed by the Duluth drum corps, then came the firing squad, the Two Harbors Marine band, the automobiles and people.

John Dwan Presides.

John Dwan was chairman of the meeting, making a few fitting remarks. James A. Wharton of Duluth, the speaker of the day, gave an address interesting and especially suitable to the occasion. Mayor William Towl also spoke. Music was rendered by the Two Harbors Marine band, Duluth drum corps, the male quartet, consisting of Robert McKee, Robert McCurdy, Henry H. Hammill and Glen S. Locker, and Mrs. D. A. Burke sang a solo. Rev. A. H. McKee gave the benediction. Another line of march was formed to the cemetery, where a short ceremony was held over the graves of the dead soldiers.

AURORA BEATS BUHL.

Aurora Captures Well-Played Game on Home Grounds.

Aurora, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Five home runs, four for Aurora and one for Buhl, and fifteen strikeouts for Hill of Aurora featured the baseball game here yesterday afternoon between Buhl and Aurora. Aurora won 8 to 3. Peterson's home run did not count in the score as he was sent back to first for not touching the base, although he never left the baselines in making the round of the sacks. The visitors were well represented with eight automobile loads of players and rooters.

The Aurora team won a victory over Winton at Winton Sunday 10 to 6 in a well played game.

TWO HARBORS CLASS HAS ITS EXERCISES

Two Harbors, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The class of 1915 of the local high school last night held class night exercises and a banquet. A one-act comedy farce was put on by the seniors. Dr. Gray of Michigan was the speaker.

A musical program was also rendered by the students of the high school. Following the program the banquet was served on the second floor.

COLLISION VICTIMS ARE NOT BADLY HURT

Virginia, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Russell Rose, aged 20, and A. C. Filiatrault, aged 21, both of Two Harbors, were brought to the Lenont hospital here last night to receive treatment for injuries sustained when their motorcycle collided with the automobile of William Haenke of Wolf about a mile and a half from Buhl on the Buhl-Mountain Iron road. Rose has a fractured leg while his companion has some body bruises but neither injury is considered serious. Filiatrault was caught under the Haenke automobile but Rose was hurled into the ditch. Some gasoline leaked onto the ground near Filiatrault before he was pulled out and when a match was lighted to help remove him it ignited and the machine was partly burned. Filiatrault was not burned being pulled out of the way. There were two women in the machine with Haenke when the collision occurred. They were picked up by another machine and taken to Virginia.

BOSTON FIRE LEADER TALKS

Was Cured of Heavy Cold by Father John's Medicine

Thomas P. Lally, a pensioned lieutenant in the Boston fire department, says, "I had a heavy bronchial cold and cough which had hung on for two months. Father John's Medicine gave prompt relief and soon cured me completely. I was badly run down and it built me up." (Signed) Thomas P. Lally, 73 Fletcher Street, Roslindale, Mass.

MAYOR BOYLAN HAS VETOED APPOINTMENT

Virginia, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor Boylan has vetoed the resolution of the city council appointing Milton Butler inspector on the construction of the new septic tank on the ground that as Butler's father was an unsuccessful bidder on the work the mayor did not consider the appointment right. He thinks he should have the filling of the position.

FORMER POLICE CHIEF LEFT SMALL ESTATE

Archibald McFayden, chief of police at Hibbing, who died May 8 last, left an estate consisting of $285, according to a petition for administration filed in probate court today by John C. McIntyre of Minneapolis, a cousin. Mr. McIntyre asks that D. D. McEachin, former village treasurer, be appointed administrator of the estate. Mr. McFayden was 47 years old at the time of his death.

SAVED BY PULMOTOR.

Virginia, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Drasovich was overcome by gas in a forty-two test pit at the Higgins mine today. A pulmotor was rushed there from Eveleth and his life saved.

Aurora Church Dedicated.

Aurora, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Aurora Finnish M. E. church was dedicated with appropriate services Sunday and Monday. Dr. M. P. Burns, district superintendent, and a number of well known ministers were present and assisted in the services.

Ely Train Change.

Ely, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—A change in the time of the departure and arrival of the Iron Range trains took effect Sunday. The train which arrived here at 12:25 now arrive at 12:10. The train which has left here at 1 p. m., departs at 12:45.

Alderman Arrested.

Ely, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alderman Olof Knutson and one or two others were arrested Sunday by Game Warden Woods on the charge of illegal fishing.

Ely Cemetery Fire.

Ely, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Brush fires crept into the cemetery here yesterday and before being extinguished some of the monuments were damaged.

Horse Backs—Five Drown.

Tacoma, Wash., June 1.—Five persons were drowned in the Cowlitz river, forty miles south of Tacoma, when a horse attached to a vehicle in which they were going to mass, backed off the ferry. The dead are: Mrs. Henselman, Miss Anna Bergen, and three children, all of whom were under 10 years of age.

GOV. HAMMOND SPEAKS.

Taylors Falls, Minn., June 1.—Farmers and their families numbering at least 1,500 and coming from a radius of fifty miles up and down the St. Croix valley, gathered here yesterday at the Interstate park, at the dalles of the St. Croix, in a novel auditorium to hear Gov. W. S. Hammond deliver the principal address at the Memorial day exercises.

The big crowd overflowed the capacity of the big pavilion and George H. Hazzard, superintendent of the park, found seats among the curious rocks and strange formations that give the park the title of the "geological glacial gardens of America."

J. P. Nord of the First Iowa regiment, John Arig and Nels Tuxy, both of the Eleventh Minnesota; Dave Bowser of the One Hundred and Twenty-Third Ohio; Capt. Ered Winslow, Lake Snell, Thomas Peck and Capt. Wyman X. Folsom, all of the Seventh Minnesoto, were an honorary guard to the governor. A consolidated high school band from the schools of the twin towns furnished music.

SHRINERS AT GRAND FORKS.

"Buffalo Bill" Promises to Take Part In Parade of Nobles.

Grand Forks, N. D., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Col. Bill Cody, "Buffalo Bill," will head the Shriner parade here on June 11 at the first ceremonial session in the new Masonic temple.

Cody will then be en route to the Pacific coast, and has assured the Kem Nobles that he will be here for the big event.

A special train will bring Fargo Shriners here in time to attend the ball game between the Grand Forks and Fargo teams.

Woman Burns to Death.

Albert Lea, Minn., June 1.—Mrs. J. R. Walker of Glenville was burned fatally Sunday while attempting to start a fire with gasoline which she supposed was kerosene.

F. A. Day to Speak for "Drys."

Albert Lea, Minn., June 1.—"Drys" of Freeborn county will fire their opening gun in this city on Friday, June 4, when Frank A. Day of Fairmount and Senator Putman of Blue Earth will speak.

Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature. ○ clear; ◒ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. Shaded areas show precipitation of .01 inch or more in past 24 hours.

PARTLY CLOUDY

If Weather Forecaster Richardson is going to keep up this gait in the way of weather, Duluthians are likely to rise up and call him blessed. Most people thought it served up only especially for Memorial day, but today starts out the same, only more so. It would be hard to improve upon yesterday for a celebration day. The cool, yet warm, weather was just the thing for marching and was not cool enough to be uncomfortable to those who stood on the curb and watched the parade; and in the afternoon the warmth was delightful for those who wished to spend the rest of the day picnicking.

A year ago today was fine. The sun rose this morning at 4:16 and will set this evening at 7:55, giving fifteen hours and thirty-nine minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Showers fell during the last twenty-four to forty-eight hours over the eastern slopes of the Rocky mountains, Southeastern states and Far West. In the meantime heavy rain occurred at Tampa, Fla. Temperature changes were generally slight, inclining towards a little warmer in Central and Eastern states."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, June 1.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m., Wednesday:

Minnesota and Wisconsin—Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

Iowa—Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

North Dakota—Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday; warmer in south portion tonight.

Montana—Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday; cooler tonight.

Upper and Lower Michigan—Fair tonight and Wednesday.

WEST END

NOTED SPEAKERS FOR MIDSUMMER DAY

Gov. Hammond and Dr. Hertzman of Ashland Asked to Speak.

Dr. C. O. Hertzman of Ashland, one of the leading Swedish physicians of Northern Wisconsin, will be one of the principal speakers at the annual midsummer's day celebration to be held by the Swedish American National league at Lincoln park on June 24. Dr. Hertzman will speak in Swedish.

Governor W. S. Hammond has also been invited to speak at the celebration. It is expected before the next meeting of the committee to have his reply as to whether he can be here or not.

The plans for the celebration were discussed at the meeting of the league held last night at Bachelor's hall, Nineteenth avenue west and First street. One of the features that appear to be assured is a parade through the city. This parade, according to details now being perfected, will form uptown near the courthouse, march east on First street to Second avenue east, then to Superior street and west on Superior street to Twenty-fifth avenue and thence to the park.

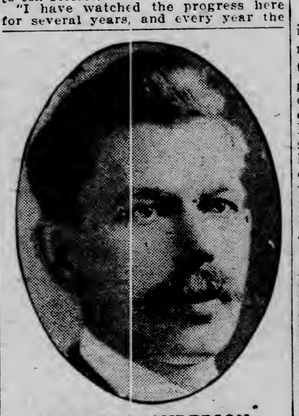

The program for the day will be fully outlined, it is expected, at a special meeting of the program committee to be held Thursday evening at the office of the Gateley Supply company on East Superior street.

WEST END BUILDERS

That the West end will not only be the center of the city in name but in business activities is the opinion of Alfred O. Anderson. Business interests are looking toward this section as the best part of the city from which to reach every other part, and he predicts that within a few years, instead of the street being lined with two and three-story buildings, there will be structures ranging from five to ten stories.

"I have watched the progress here for several years, and every year the outlook for this district becomes better," he said this morning. "The future of this end of the city is assured."

ALFRED O. ANDERSON.

Mr. Anderson is one of the active boosters of the district. He takes considerable interest in the activities of the Business Men's association as well as the West End Commercial club. He is in business at 2032 West Superior street.

Zion Notes.

The board of deacons and board of trustees of the Zion Norwegian Lutheran church, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street will meet in the church this evening. The choir will also hold its rehearsal tonight.

The confirmation class will meet tomorrow afternoon, Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.

The ladies' aid society will meet tomorrow afternoon in the church. Mrs. E. Tweed and Mrs. Fred Olson will be hostesses.

The monthly business meeting of the congregation will be held tomorrow evening.

Rev. J. M. Nervig will conduct the midweek service Thursday evening.

CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY.

Parthenoe Society Gives Program Before Big Audience.

The Parthenoe Society of the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, entertained last evening with an excellent program in honor of its twentieth anniversary. A feature of the program was the music by a chorus of seventy-five girls and an address given by Mrs. J. J. Daniels, who spoke on "True Patriotism."

The church was decorated with national colors. The altar was banked with ground pine and cedar. Easter lilies and lilacs were also used in the decorations. In the background were the words "Twentieth Anniversary" in green lettering on a white background.

The entertainment was attended by an audience that filled the church. Refreshments were served.

WOMEN WILL ENTERTAIN.

Trinity Aid Society Will Give Program Thursday Night.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Trinity English Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, will entertain Thursday evening at a social program in the church parlors. The program has been arranged under the direction of Mrs. J. L. Murphy, the new organist and choir leader of the church. A recital by some of Miss Mary Shesgren's pupils will be a feature. The program follows:

Solo—Selected .....
Mrs. E. W. Lund.
Reading—"Uncle Alec's Bad Folks".
..... Annie Donnell
Irene Long.
Reading—"Nine Little Goblins"..Riley
Rose Spellmann.
Music—Selected .....
Mrs. J. L. Murphy.
Selected readings .....
Mildred Works.
Reading—"Mandy's Organ"..Higginson
Lucille Shook.
Solo—Selected .....
Mrs. E. W. Lund.

The hostesses are Mrs. O. Hanson, Mrs. E. G. Pash, Mrs. T. W. Brightfelt, Mrs. C. R. Magney, Mrs. J. W. Ekblad and Mrs. Lura Wheeler.

West End Briefs.

Rev. F. O. Hanson, pastor of the Trinity English Lutheran church, is in Minneapolis, where he is taking an active part in the organizing of a new English Lutheran church.

The Luther League of the Trinity Lutheran church will meet this evening in the church parlors. A social session will follow at which the members will be entertained by a committee consisting of William Hedeen and William Eranson.

The Bryant school alumni will hold a business meeting in the Bryant school this evening. Plans will be made for the annual party to be held in the Bryant school shortly before the close of school.

The Sunshine circle of the Trinity English Lutheran church will be entertained Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Mildred Nelson, 2101 West Sixth street.

To Celebrate Fourth.

East Grand Forks, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Loyal Liberty league of East Grand Forks, an organization of saloon keepers, announced they will hold a big Fourth of July celebration here. Celebrations have been conducted annually in the city for several years under the direction of the league.

WOMEN HAVE TO SMILE

in a great many cases and try to make those around them happy, while they are racked with the pain of organic trouble. Few men realize how common such heroism is. The remedy for this condition is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound — a simple remedy made from roots and herbs, which for forty years has been overcoming the most obstinate ills of women. Every woman suffering from female ills owes it to herself and family to give it a fair trial.

A MOTHER'S NERVES

You find yourself scolding them when you should be reasoning with them and if you are wise you will realize that your nervous system needs attention.

You observe, doubtless, that you wake up in the morning unrefreshed by your night's sleep, that you often feel better at night than you do in the morning. You realize that you are getting irritable, things worry you that didn't formerly and you have headaches more frequently than you used to.

Let this condition go on uncorrected and you invite a nervous breakdown. The proper treatment is to take more rest, stop worrying and build up your blood and nerves with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You will soon find that you sleep better and are more refreshed by it, that your appetite and digestion improve, headaches are less frequent and that little things do not annoy you as they did. You can begin the treatment today for your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., will send free on request two helpful books, "Nervous Disorders, A Method of Home Treatment," and "What to Eat and How to Eat."

LONG WAIT FOR TAXES

Hibbing Case Will Not Be Heard Before Next March.

Hibbing will have a long wait for its 1914 tax money even if it prevails in a legal fight to enforce the collection of taxes due from mining companies which have refused to pay because of the alleged policy of extravagance and wastefulness charged to the present village administration.

If the law takes its usual course,—and there is no reason to believe that it will not—the tax cannot be collected within a year. On the first Monday of next January, the county treasurer will turn the list of delinquent taxes to the county auditor. On Feb. 1 in each year, the auditor files with the clerk of the district court a list of such taxes. The clerk within five days after the filing of such list is required to prepare a summons and complaint in delinquent tax proceedings. After the same has been published, the delinquents may file an answer embracing objections.

If this procedure is followed, the proceeding to collect the tax will not become an issue until the March, 1916, term of court. If the cases are tried then, it will probably be a matter of several months before a judgment is finally rendered in the matter, as such orders and judgments of the district court are subject to review by the supreme court as in other civil actions.

FORMER DULUTHIAN DIES AT SAN DIEGO

Edward L. Tobin Called After Long Attack of Diabetes.

Edward L. Toben, former Duluth resident, died at his home in San Diego, Cal., yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, according to an announcement received by relatives last night. He had been ill for some time, diabetes being given as the cause of death.

Mr. Toben left Duluth about twelve years ago for the West, but previous to that time, lived here for several years. He has a sister, Louise, and two brothers, Bernard and Theodore, living in Duluth. He also leaves a wife, two sons, Gregory and Bernard; a sister living at Escanaba, Mich., and a brother and sister at Wabasha, Minn.

LIMIT THREE YEARS

For Prosecutions for Conspiracy to Conceal Goods of Bankrupt.

Washington, June 1.—Prosecutions for conspiracy to conceal goods of a bankrupt may be brought within three years after the offense. The supreme court so decided today in the case of William Rabinowich of New York. The New York district court, holding that prosecutions were barred after one year, was reversed.

PLEDGE SUPPORT TO THE PRESIDENT

United Confederate Veterans Begin Twenty-Fifth Annual Reunion.

Richmond, Va., June 1.—Pledges of support to President Wilson "in these perilous times" and prayers for righteous peace of the world marked the opening here today of the twenty-fifth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans.

To the strains of "Dixie," "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" and "Stonewall Jackson's Way," thousands of wearers of the gray from all parts of the South marched through the gay streets of the old capital of the Confederacy to the city auditorium, where they were welcomed by Governor Stuart.

BAGGAGE MUST BE "DECLARED"

New Cummins Law, in Effect Next Thursday, Concerns Travelers.

Roads No Longer Assume Value of Trunk and Contents.

Hereafter—that is, beginning on Thursday, when the Cummins "no liability limit" law takes effect on all of the railroads of the country—everybody taking a trip will have to declare the value of baggage checked. The time-honored custom under the old order of things was to simply check one's trunk and no excess was charged if the trunk and its contents did not weigh more than 150 pounds; and the road receiving the baggage assumed, unless the shipper otherwise declared, that the trunk and contents were valued at not more than $100.

The traveler who has a full fare ticket retains the right to check baggage to the extent of 150 pounds without excess charge, but beginning Thursday, each traveler will have to go through the form of "declaring" the value of the baggage; the roads will no longer assume anything about it except the weight, and they will weigh it or trust to the judgment of the baggage "smasher" as they see fit. The process will be the same as when an express package is shipped, so far as the declaring of value is concerned.

Any one who signs a declaration dishonestly under the new law, it is claimed, will be guilty of a misdemeanor. For instance, if a trunk is sent as baggage and declared to be worth $100 and the trunk goes astray, but turns up later, it is found that a $500 diamond ring is in the trunk, the owner is liable to go to jail. It is equally an offense to overestimate the value on baggage.

DELAY PURCHASE OF WATER METERS

The city will not acquire the water meters from customers for at least ten days or two weeks, according to Manager Reed.

Blank statements, on which each owner will give a detailed account of the age of the meter, its use and cost, are now being printed and will not be ready for several days, he said. As soon as these are printed they will be mailed to all water consumers, and when properly filled out, the department will then allow a credit on each month's bill until the meter is paid for.

There are about 8,000 meters now owned by the consumers, which the department plans to purchase.

CHARGED INTO SPECTATORS

Outfielder Chased Fly Ball, Wouldn't Apologize, Arrested.

Charging into sideline spectators at a ball game, in an attempt to catch a high foul tip, brought grief to Fred de Santo, catcher of the West End Moose team, May 23, for today he was arrested on a warrant sworn to by Attorney Louis R. Taylor of West Duluth, a spectator.

"It was the only hit I made during the game," De Santo is alleged to have said after the contest, referring to the collision, and Taylor, who is said to have been badly stunned by his fall, asked for an apology. This was not forthcoming.

De Santo was arrested by Sergt. Hunter and arraigned before Municipal Judge F. H. Cutting on a charge of third degree assault. He pleaded not guilty and will be given a hearing June 8.

"It looked like a case of spite," said the attorney. "De Santo was not trying to hurt anyone in particular, but he knew that he would injure someone, and he knew that there was no chance of catching the ball."

De Santo's shoulder struck Mr. Taylor, knocking him down and wrenching his back.

WANTS REPORTS ON FOURTH CELEBRATION

Mayor Prince wants reports from the important civic organizations of the city on the proposed all-day celebration on the Fourth of July.

If the large bodies favor such a program, the mayor said this morning that he will appoint a committee of about fifty members to raise funds for the celebration and to make arrangements for the day.

"I would like to hear from some of the large civic and improvement clubs," said Mayor Prince, "before going ahead with such a plan."

NEW BERTH FOR J. F. FINKLESON

Former Postal Manager Becomes Member of Board of Trade.

Jay F. Finkleson, for years manager of the board of trade office of the Postal Telegraph company, has severed his connection with the company and will become manager of the Duluth office of the Keusch & Schwartz company, grain dealers. Mr. Finkleson will be succeeded as manager of the board office of the telegraph company by Edward Keuhel of Minneapolis, who arrived here this morning.

The Keusch & Schwartz company will have offices at 311 Board of Trade building, and will also have a board office in the lobby of the trading room. Mr. Finkleson's appointment as manager of the Duluth office is regarded by traders as one of excellent judgment on the part of the company, for Mr. Finkleson has had years of experience in work on the board and is one of the most popular of the younger men connected with the grain trade here.

WILL RESUME OPERATIONS.

Head of Greene-Cananea Company Issues Favorable Statement.

All the mines controlled by the company are reported to be in good condition and in a position to resume production as soon as conditions in Mexico will admit it.

"Throughout the year 1914 the political disturbance and civil war in Mexico continued. During the first half of the year we were obliged to close down our mines and works for short periods, once because of local disorder, and once because of landing of troops at Vera Cruz. Finally, on Aug. 15, we were again obliged to close the works, and have been unable to resume operations since on account of continued warfare in Northern Sonora.

"Throughout these serious times our property has not suffered any irreparable damage, and our losses have been comparatively light. We have studiously avoided mixing in any way in politics, and we believe that our company stands high in the regard of all factions involved in the present war. We believe and hope that during the first half of the present year conditions will be such that production may be resumed."

The annual meeting of the company will be held in Duluth on Monday, June 21.

ON ANNUAL INSPECTION

Directors of Pittsburgh Steel Company Will Arrive From East.

Joined By Others Here for Trip to Cuyuna Country.

President Wallace H. Rowe of the Pittsburgh Steel company, and the members of the board of directors will arrive in Duluth tomorrow morning on their way to Riverton, Minn., where the Rowe iron ore mine, a property of the Pittsburgh company is situated. This is the annual inspection that the president and directors make.

Ten constitute the party that is on its way here, and which is in Chicago today, but the number will be augmented by others who will join it for the trip to Riverton from Duluth. This trip will be taken in a special train over the Soo line.

The party left New York yesterday morning, going via Pittsburgh to Chicago, which was reached this morning, and the day is being spent there. They will leave Chicago at 7 o'clock tonight over the Soo and will reach here tomorrow morning at 9:30. They will take the Soo special out of Duluth at 11 o'clock for Riverton and will remain in that vicinity, looking over the Rowe and other mining properties until Saturday afternoon, when the party will return to Duluth, and will leave immediately for Chicago, going east from there.

Party's Personnel.

Wallace H. Rowe, president-director, Pittsburgh; John H. Bindley, vice president-director, Pittsburgh; D. P. Bennett, vice president-director, Pittsburgh; C. E. Beeson, secretary, Pittsburgh; Edward H. Bindley, Willis F. Cook and Emil Winter, directors, Pittsburgh; and Directors William A. Nash, Dr. William H. Nichols and Henry Ruhlender, New York.

Those joining the party here and going to Riverton are:

Edmund Pennington, president of the Soo line, Minneapolis; W. L. Martin, vice president and traffic manager, Soo line, Minneapolis; J. R. Michael, general superintendent, Soo line, Minneapolis; O. W. Johnstone, assistant to the president, Soo line, Duluth; David Williams, vice president of the First National bank, and president of the Williams-Carlson Ore company, Duluth; P. H. Nelson and Gust Nelson of the Williams-Carlson Ore company, Duluth; and George H. Crosby, Duluth.

CRUSADE ON THE FLY BEGUN HERE

Health Director Gives Instructions as to Best Methods.

Health Director Fahey this morning began the war on the fly.

With warm weather here the last few days, the house fly has made its appearance again, and the director of public health urges all the people of the city to "swat the fly."

Several methods of exterminating this insect are suggested by Dr. Fahey in a statement, which follows:

"When, despite all precautions, flies enter the house, there is but one thing for the man to do who would protect himself and his family. He must declare war on the invaders and prosecute it with all possible zeal. He must kill the raiders. There are several ways in which this may be done. If the flies are few in number and unused to warfare, he may use one of the 'fly-swatters' devised in recent years. This is a simple arrangement of wire threads attached to a handle, and it will generally kill the fly without crushing him.

"Poison also works well. An excellent agent of death can be prepared by filling a soup-plate or saucer with water and adding a spoonful of formalin and a little milk or molasses. Another good poison is one dram of bichromate of potash dissolved in two ounces of water and sweetened with sugar. Neither of these poisons should be used, however, where there are young children who might drink the contents of the dishes.

"Insect powder has its advantages as a weapon of war. It can be purchased at all stores and can be blown about the room with a simple palm-leaf fan. It will stun the flies, which can be swept up from the floor and killed in great numbers. Pyrethrum powder is one of the best that can be used for this purpose.

"Another homely way of ridding a room of flies is to darken it except for a single ray of light at a window. The flies will come to the light and may be driven out or killed.

"Fly paper, however, is one of the cheapest and best means of trapping the enemy. The commercial fly-paper serves the purpose well, but a cheap substitute can be made that will be found equally good. This can be prepared by boiling two pounds of resin in a pint of castor oil until the resin is dissolved. The preparation may be put away until needed and can be applied with a brush to sheets of heavy paper. This is very inexpensive and has been found satisfactory."

OBITUARY

John W. Alexander, artist, recently retired from the presidency of the National Academy of Design, died at New York June 1. Mr. Alexander was trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Art and a member of many fine arts societies. He was born in Allegheny City, Pa., in 1856, and is represented in the Luxembourg, Paris, and in many American and European collections.

Members of the Lester Park Improvement club will hold their regular meeting at the Lester schoolhouse Wednesday, June 2. The meeting will commence at 8 p. m., following the usual custom, and officers are endeavoring to have as large an attendance as possible.

Held for Assault.

Iver Johnson was brought to trial in Judge Ensign's division of the district court this morning charged with the crime of assault in the second degree. Johnson is charged with having assaulted Oscar Sjernstrom with a rock on April 8, 1915.

Orr License Not Legal.

Although the county board at its meeting on April 6 last granted William Orr a renewal of his saloon license at Orr, County Attorney Greene, in response to a request made by County Auditor Halden, has given an opinion in which he holds that the new license is not legal. The old license had not expired at the time the new one was granted, and would not expire until May 7. About April 15 the legislature passed a law taking from county boards the right to grant liquor licenses. The constitutionality of this law, however, has been attacked, and a case is now pending before the supreme court.

Dressmaker Becomes Bankrupt.

M. Eleanor McCoy, Duluth dressmaker, filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy in the Federal court today. She places her liabilities at $4,097.48 and her assets at $5,805.

Safety Head Warns Bicyclists.

Commissioner Silberstein this morning issued a warning to all bicyclists who ride on the sidewalks. Several complaints have been made to the commissioner, and the safety head has instructed the police to watch for violators.

Heavy Sand Drifts.

Residents along the lake side of Park Point are complaining about the unusually heavy drifting of sand on their property this year. They claim that the sand dumped in the lake by the dredges is carried ashore when there is a breeze. Trees and small outbuildings have been buried under the sand in many instances.

MARKSMANSHIP OF CUPID IMPROVING

New Record for Marriage Licenses in May Is Made.

Although Dan Cupid's record for the first five months of 1915 falls short of his mark for the corresponding five months of the previous year, he broke his May record last month by piercing the hearts of 103 couples with his arrows. In May, 1914, an even hundred fell victims and in May, 1913, his score was only seventy-three.

Since the first of the year, 405 marriage licenses have been taken out at the office of J. P. Johnson, clerk of the district court, as compared with 427 for the first five months of 1914.

June, the month of brides and trousseaus, started off with a fair average. Before the day was half over, four applications for wedding permits had been made to the clerk.

HEAVY SELLING BREAKS ALL THE GRAIN MARKETS

Wheat Prices Slump on War Situation—No Exporters' Support.

Flaxseed Off in Big Breaks on Excited Trading Through Session.

Duluth Board of Trade, June 1.—The market was weak up to the close. July wheat closed 75c off at $1.38⅝ bid, and September, 3¼c off at $1.18¼ bid. July durum closed 11½c off at $1.37 bid, and September, 2¾c off at $1.18.

Oats closed 1¾c off at 48¾c for on the track; rye 2c off at $1.13@1.14, and barley, 2c off at from 61c to 73c.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at $1.32, and calls at $1.40⅛.

A chain of bearish conditions led to sharp breaks in the wheat markets today, the chief of which was fear over the outcome of the dispute with Germany. There was also a continued readjustment of values between the old and new crop futures and, furthermore, crop advices from both the Northwest and Southwest were on the bearish order. Snow estimated a winter wheat crop yield of 669,000,000 bu, against 685,000,000 bu last year, its condition being placed at 85.6 per cent as against 90.1 on May 1. This was considerably more reassuring than recent reports in which losses from Hessian fly and chinch bugs have been placed at as high as 75,000,000 bu.

July wheat opened 1¼c off and it sagged steadily 7¾c to $1.38½. September opened 2¼c off at $1.19¼ and eased off 1⅝c more to $1.17⅞.

Complete demoralization was shown in the durum market. The grain did not appear to be wanted in any quarter, and on comparatively limited trading the July future broke 13½c to $1.35. Even No. 1 cash durum offering on the tables was unsalable, for the time being.

The cash market at Duluth was weak with some of the operators out of the market. It was traded in on a basis of 3c over July. Dealers at that are bullish on the old wheat situation in view of the light supplies being held. Stocks in Duluth elevators are now down to 2,371,000 bu, against 6,075,000 bu last year. At Minneapolis, stocks are 9,000,000 bu less than a year ago at 4,023,000 bu.

The American visible supply report was about as expected, wheat stocks showing a decrease of 2,245,000 bu in the week. Corn stocks decreased 2,081,000 bu and oats 1,602,000 bu.

All the outside cash markets were weak in line with the break set by Winnipeg yesterday. At Kansas City, cash wheat was off 5@7c. St. Louis cash wheat was down to about the same extent, and Buenos Aires scored a drop of 9c in June wheat.

No Bottom in Flaxseed.

There was a dearth of demand for flaxseed, and there appeared to be no bottom to the market in it. While the volume of trading was light its quotations ran off in alarming fashion. Weak cables helped the decline along. Lowest prices of the day were made around the close.

July flax opened 2c off at $1.91, and closed 15c off at $1.86. September opened 1c off at $1.86, and closed 15½c off at $1.80¾ asked. October opened 6c off at $1.90, and closed 16c off at $1.80 asked.

At Winnipeg, July flax closed 14¼c off at $1.58 asked, and October 16c off at $1.61 asked.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Market was weak with free realizing owing to weakness in Winnipeg and Buenos Aires and free Indian offers. Spot market was weak, 2½d lower, with cargo market weak. Plates were 6 to 7d lower; Indians 1s 3d lower and Manitobas easy, 4½ to 6d lower. Indian old wheat was pressed for sale while new was offered at @7½d decline. Shipments to the United Kingdom were liberal and arrivals are expected to be liberal."

European visible wheat, 87,704,000 bu, decrease 5,248,000 bu.

Chicago & Northwestern railroad's crop report says: "There was very little progress this week in the growth of grain and in corn planting, but conditions remain satisfactory. We have a few reports of danger of early planted corn rotting in the ground necessitating replanting. These reports are from a small area in Minnesota. From present indications we believe that but very little of this work will be necessary and as yet it is not too late when compared with previous seasons. This condition also existed in Minnesota at this time in 1913 when we had one of the best crops we ever raised."

Foreign Crop Summary.

United Kingdom weather continues unfavorable.

France—Weather is unfavorable and backward in parts.

Russia—Weather and crop advices are generally favorable.

Italy—Crop condition is officially reported as medium to good.

Spain—Weather is seasonable and the general outlook is favorable.

North America—Harvest expectations are excellent.

India—Wheat offerings are larger and prices lower. Weather is favorable for the movement, but too dry for agricultural purposes.

Australia—Scattered showers are reported and recent rains were good.

C. E. Lewis & Co. had the following closing letter from Chicago: "Prices have again suffered a sharp decline with the Northwestern markets leading. Readjustment of values to a new crop basis has been under way, while there was also considerable hedging of old crop and more liberal offerings of new wheat to arrive, the latter resulting in sacrificed price hedging sales from the Southwest. Cash prices were easier in all centers with the No. 2 hard in this market quoted at 16c over July and No. 2 red, 8 to 9c over. Crop news was generally favorable. Northwestern points reporting conditions ideal with an increased acreage. We advise sales of July and September wheat on hard spots."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, June 1.—Favorable weather and lower cables tended to bring about weakness today in the wheat market here. The conditions were such that harvesting was reported to be general throughout North Texas with prospects that cutting would reach Central Oklahoma within a week. There were also advices that wheat from India was being pressed for sale at Liverpool. Prices here, after opening 1c to 2⅜c lower, steadied at a moderate rally.

Pronounced heaviness developed later, owing to estimates of 50,000,000 bushels greater yield than indicated at this time a year ago. The close was steady at 3¼c to 4⅝c under Saturday night's level.

Corn sagged with wheat. Improved crop reports counted also against the bulls. The opening which ranged from ⅛@⅜c to ½@⅝c lower, was followed by an additional downturn.

Traders in oats showed a disposition to be guided by the action of other grain. Business was of fair volume.

Lack of demand resulted in a downward slant for provisions. Pork led the decline.

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, June 1.—Hog prices weakened today as a result of generous arrivals at other Western centers. Cattle proved relatively scarce. Receipts of sheep and lambs turned out to be less numerous than expected.

Hogs—Receipts, 13,000; slow at yesterday's average; bulk, $7.65@7.80; light, $7.55@7.85; mixed, $7.50@7.80; heavy, $7.20@7.75; rough, $7.20@7.35; pigs, $6.00@7.40.

Cattle—Receipts, 3,000; firm; native beef steers, $7.10@9.30; western steers, $6.85@8.20; cows and heifers, $3.30@8.75; calves, $7.00@9.50.

Sheep—Receipts, 7,000; strong; sheep, $6.50@7.55; lambs, $7.50@10.35.

Midway Horse Market.

Minnesota Transfer, St. Paul, Minn., June 1.—Barrett & Zimmerman report: Very little doing in the horse market outside of cavalry and artillery classes, the British inspection still being on in full blast. A few deliveries locally and shipments to three nearby Minnesota points were made today. Receipts about eighty head of cavalry and artillery stuff.

London Stocks.

London, June 1.—Only a small amount of business was transacted in the American section and prices declined. The close was dull.

LIMITED TRADE IN MINING STOCKS

Butte & Superior and American Zinc Strong on Good Demand.

Business in mining stocks was the quietest in some time back at Boston today. Trading was confined to a few issues, and price changes in the day were moderate. After showing weakness at the opening, the market moved up towards the close.

American Zinc and Butte & Superior were the features. Zinc opened 63 cents off at $47, and closed 63 cents up at $48.25. After selling down $1.50 to $69.25, Butte & Superior closed 62 cents up at $71.38.

Calumet & Arizona closed 50c up at $62; Copper Range $1 off at $50; North Butte 37c off at $30.38; and Osceola $1.50 up at $19.50.

In the Boston curb list, as reported to Paine, Webber & Co., United Verde Extension sold at $4.12@4.18; West End at 85c; Davis-Daly at 99c; New Baltic at $2.87@3.00; Southwestern Miami at $1.25; Calaveras at $1.93@2.00; Consolidated Coppermines at $1.75; First National Copper at $2; Alex-Scott at $7.75; Jumbo Extension at $1.56.

At London spot copper sold at £78 17s 6d, off 5s; futures at £79 15s, off 7s 6d, and electrolytic at £90, up 10s.

American Smelting & Refining company has advanced prices of lead 25 points to $4.75.

TRADING IS VERY LIGHT

Stocks Dull and Heavy in Morning But Harden Later.

Rise in Bethlehem Steel and General Electric Are Features.

New York, June 1.—Wall Street's point of view regarding Germany's reply to this government was reflected in a number of sharp recessions on the resumption of operations today. Losses ran from 1 to 3 points, war specialties naturally scoring greater declines, but standard railways fell 1 to 1½ points. All the trading was in moderate amounts, with no indication of urgent liquidation. There were fractional rallies after the first decline, but these were succeeded by another setback, after which trading became dull.

Trading in the first hour on Wall Street barely totaled 100,000 shares and in the second hour the market came to a complete standstill. Some of the war shares like Westinghouse and Crucible Steel recovered ½ of their early losses, but the movement as a whole was entirely without significance, except in the case of Missouri Pacific, which steadied further in expectation of the success of the extension plan. So indifferent was the list to routine news that New Haven, on a single sale, failed to show any change from last week's final quotation, despite action adverse to the company by the governor of Massachusetts.

Bonds were steady.

Missouri Pacific yielded most of its rise in the early afternoon, while the balance of the list manifested irregular tendencies. Guggenheim Exploration rose 2½ points on the increased dividend.

Stocks were dull and heavy in today's early trading, but hardened later.

Sudden rises of 7 points in Bethlehem Steel and 4 points in General Electric were the only features of the final dealings. The closing was firm.

UNITED STATES WILL LEND MORAL SUPPORT TO ANY LEADER OR FACTION THAT CAN SAVE MEXICO

POSITION OF UNITED STATES IS PLAINLY STATED TO THE GERMAN AMBASSADOR

COUNT BERNSTORFF CALLS ON PRESIDENT

Understood That Visit of Diplomat Was to Gain From Chief Executive an Idea of German Situation First Hand.

President, It Is Said, Willingly Explained Position of United States and Reason for Second Inquiry Being Made.

Washington, June 2.—Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador, had an audience with President Wilson today at noon. The president received the ambassador in the historic Blue Room of the White House.

The ambassador motored to the White House through a downpour of rain. The president, wearing a cut-away suit, appeared in the Blue Room promptly at 12 o'clock. The ambassador was in a formal frock attire.

The president and the ambassador sat down on the davenport in the historic parlor overlooking the Potomac and began a half-hour talk. Inasmuch as the conference was of an informal character, no announcement concerning it was expected to be made.

To Get Points.

It was understood, however, that the object of the ambassador's call was to gain from the president an idea of the points in the last American note which the United States is determined to insist upon and to give the president an idea of the German viewpoint.

Immediately after his visit to the White House Count Bernstorff returned to the embassy and went into conference with the head of the chancellery. It appeared that he was about to communicate with Berlin.

The president, it was said, showed willingness to explain the position of the United States and to make it clear that it has been decided only after careful consideration by the cabinet yesterday, when it was decided to send a note of inquiry asking whether the imperial government would abide by the principle of international law.

To Enlighten Berlin.

The president, it also was understood, gave his views expecting the ambassador to enlighten the Berlin government on the earnest intentions of the United States to obtain a strict accountability for the loss of Americans on the Lusitania. The visit was friendly and cordial.

While Count Bernstorff was in the Blue Room with the president, the Italian ambassador, Count Macchi di Cellere, arrived, but the two diplomatists, whose nations are on opposite sides in the war, did not meet.

White House officials declined to make any statement regarding Count Bernstorff's visit, saying the engagement was made at the ambassador's request and that it would be improper for the president to say anything concerning it.

Reports that the ambassador had made any definite proposals were generally discounted.

Rate Discrimination.

Washington, June 2.—The interstate commerce commission today pronounced discriminatory freight rates on cedar shingles from points in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana to points in Iowa.

Thanked President.

Washington, June 2.—Count Macchi di Cellere, the Italian ambassador, called at the White House today and thanked President Wilson for the action of the United States in taking over the diplomatic affairs of Italy in Vienna following the declaration of war with Austria.

Roumania Will Begin War Against Austria, Bulgaria Against Turkey.

Paris, June 2.—Bulgaria and Roumania have arrived at a complete understanding, according to a Bucharest dispatch to the Petit Parisien, Roumania, having agreed to cede territory in Dobrudja. The two countries will enter the war simultaneously, the dispatches say, Roumania against Austria and Bulgaria against Turkey.

Dobrudja is a part of Roumania, bounded on the east by the Black sea and on the north and west by the Danube river. As a consequence of the second Balkan war between Bulgaria and Serbia and Greece, Roumania took from Bulgaria a large slice of territory and added it to Dobrudja province on the south.

Much bitter feeling existed in Bulgaria for some time against Roumania on this account, but more recently a change in the relations between these Balkan states was observed. Last December the Bulgarian minister at Petrograd was quoted as saying that Roumania had arranged to restore to Bulgaria that portion of Dobrudja which had been annexed by the former country after the second Balkan war.

The Pruth river forms the boundary line between the Russian territory of Bessarabia and Moldavia part of Roumania.

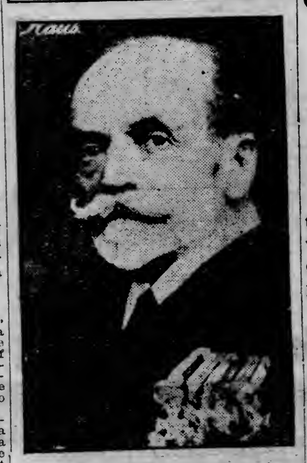

Banat is a region in Southern Hungary bordering on the east on Roumania and on the south on Serbia. It is one of the most fertile regions in Europe. The chief town is Temesvar.

IF MEXICO APPEARS U. S. WILL EMPLOY MEANS TO PACIFY COUNTRY

President Wilson Issues Warning to All Warring Factions That Present Conditions in Republic Cannot Continue.

Statement Is Not a Diplomatic Note But Declaration of Government's Attitude Toward Long-Suffering Country.

Washington, June 2.—President Wilson's warning to Mexico, that the United States cannot permit present conditions to continue, went forward by telegraph today to American agents, who will deliver it to the factional leaders, and was at the same time made public at the White House.

The statement, which goes to Carranza, Villa, Zapata and Garza, the principal leaders, not as a diplomatic note from the United States, but as a declaration of President Wilson's attitude, expressed in a statement to the American people, is as follows:

"For more than two years revolutionary conditions have existed in Mexico. The purpose of the revolution was to rid Mexico of men who ignored the constitution of the republic and used their power in contempt of the right of its people, and with these purposes the people of the United States instinctively and generously sympathized. But the leaders of the revolution, in the very hour of their success, have disagreed and turned their arms against one another.

PROFESS SAME OBJECT.

"All professing the same objects, they are, nevertheless, unable or unwilling to co-operate. A central authority at Mexico City is no sooner set up than it is undermined and its authority denied by those who were expected to support it.

"Mexico is apparently no nearer a solution of her tragical troubles than she was when the revolution was first kindled. And she has been swept by civil war as if by fire. Her crops are destroyed, her fields lie unseeded, her work cattle are confiscated for the use of the armed factions, her people flee to the mountains to escape being drawn into unavailing bloodshed, and no man seems to see or lead the way to peace and settled order. There is no proper protection either for her own citizens or for the citizens of other nations resident and at work within her territory. Mexico is starving and without a government.

WANT NOTHING OURSELVES.

"In these circumstances the people and government of the United States cannot stand indifferently by and do nothing to serve their neighbor. They want nothing for themselves in Mexico. Least of all do they desire to settle her affairs for her, or claim any right to do so. But neither do they wish to see utter ruin come upon her, and they deem it their duty as friends and neighbors to lend any aid they properly can to any instrumentality which promises to be effective in bringing about a settlement which will embody the real objects of the revolution—constitutional government and the rights of the people. Patriotic Mexicans are sick at heart and cry out for peace and for every self-sacrifice that may be necessary to procure it. Their people cry out for food and will presently hate as much as they fear every man in their country or out of it, who stands between them and their daily bread.

LEND MORAL AID.

"It is time, therefore, that the government of the United States should frankly state the policy which, in these extraordinary circumstances, it becomes its duty to adopt. It must presently do what it has not hitherto done or felt at liberty to do, lend its active moral support to some man or group of men, if such may be found, who can

NOTEBOOK OF DEAD GERMAN OFFICER REVEALS SERIOUS CONDITIONS AT THE FRONT

Capt. Sievert Wrote That Lack of Projectiles Prevented All Chance of Success; Orders Badly Confused.

Paris, June 2.—An account of the fighting in the vicinity of Notre Dame de Lorette as written down by a German officer named Capt. Sievert in his notebook is given out today in the recital of the "eye witness at the front." The purpose is to serve as a comparison with the French official statements concerning combats in this vicinity.

Capt. Sievert, the author, was killed. His body was one of 4,000 found on the slopes of Rette and his notebook covers the fighting from May 10, the day after the French attack, up to May 20, the day the captain was killed.

An order issued on the evening of May 9 provided for the holding of the positions on the plateau of Lorette and along the Ablain-Carency line. To carry out these instructions Capt. Sievert was able to dispose of one battalion of only 272 men, or one-third of its normal fighting strength, before going into battle. His notebook contains repeated demands for help.

Grenades Needed.

"We absolutely need a supply of hand grenades," is an entry in the diary under date of May 11. The number which Capt. Sievert had was insufficient, and he could not carry out his attack. Furthermore the lack of projectiles prevented all chance of success.

Later there was more trouble for the captain. Orders were badly given and confusion of sectors made necessary marches and counter-marches under French artillery fire. "The way from Souchez to Ablain is impracticable," the captain wrote, "exposing us to incessant artillery fire. Ablain, like Souchez, is nothing but a heap of ruins. Our guide is unable to lead us further, and wet with sweat we grope along. The situation is desperate. Our men decamp at each shell which falls, and it is necessary to threaten them with court-martial."

Reinforcements Fail.

Reinforcements failed to arrive, further difficulties arose and Capt. Sievert wrote that the situation was hopeless. The last page of his diary was written at 10 p. m. of May 20. In it the captain said:

"The bombardment today completely destroyed what remained of our trenches. The men have been without support for three days. It is impos-

WHY IS IT?

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

The Austro-German grip on Przemysl is tightening. The official announcement from the Berlin war office today states that further entrenchments to the north of the city have been captured, although the Russian military authorities assert that attacks on these outlying fortifications have been repulsed. The German office also announced that during the month of May more than 300,000 Russians were taken prisoners.

Severe fighting occurred yesterday on the western end of the Franco-Belgian front, north of Arras. The French war office claims that the allies penetrated Neuville and captured several houses as well as trenches near the town. The Berlin announcement, however, asserts this attack was repulsed.

The British steamer Saidieh, from Alexandria, Egypt for Hull, was torpedoed yesterday in the North sea. Seven persons, including a woman, were drowned and forty-one survivors were landed at Chatham.

The attitude of Roumania is said at London to be causing concern in Berlin. The feeling is expressed in some quarters there that Austria-Hungary should make territorial concessions to ensure Roumania's neutrality.. A Bucharest dispatch to Paris says Bulgaria has obtained territorial grants from Roumania and that Roumania is engaged in similar negotiations with Russia. Under this plan, it is said, Roumania will go to war against Austria and Bulgaria against Turkey.

Roumania aspires to the possession of Transylvania and the Austrian government is reported to have decided against granting her demands. Turkey already has made preparations at Adrianople and elsewhere south of the Bulgarian border for her invasion.

The Belgian army is once more in the thick of the battle. A statement from the Belgian war ministry indicates that the Germans are assaulting their portion of the front. It is said, however, that the Germans were unable to advance and that they suffered from a heavy fire of guns massed by the Belgians.

"MUZZLES" FAIL TO SAVE TOMMY ATKINS

Respirators Fail to Ward Off Deadly Gases Used By Germans.

Toronto, Ont., June 2.—That the respirators or "muzzles," as the British "Tommy Atkins" call them, fail to save the men in the trenches from gas poisoning, is the assertion of a non-commissioned officer in the British army who writes to his uncle, the Rev. A. Logan Geggie of Toronto. He says in a letter given out last night:

"The wind being favorable, and the gallant Wurtemburgers being in a domestic frame of mind, they 'turned the gas on.' All donned the 'efficacious antidote' (a chemically treated pad of cotton wool four inches square), eyes began to water and smart uncomfortably, and the fog rolled on. In case any writing is not sufficiently descriptive, just ask your wife to throw a handful of chloride of lime in your face. That should give you a fair idea of the preliminary stages of the gas trouble.

"And the fog rolled on. Breathing became difficult. Blood-shot eyes shot rapid pathetic questions. Why does Corporal Jones turn blue in the face? Why does Tom Brown suddenly snatch the pad from his lips and, screaming, throw himself down on the trench? Alas, it is all too soon apparent that the 'muzzle' is not antidoting a penny-'orth. And then the debacle."

SHIP IS TORPEDOED; SEVEN ARE DROWNED

London, June 2.—The British steamer Saidieh, from Alexandria, Egypt, for Liverpool, was torpedoed yesterday in the North sea. Seven members of the crew, including a stewardess, were drowned. Forty-one survivors were landed today at Chatham.

The Saidieh was owned by the Khedival Mail Steamship company of London. She was formerly the steamship Pretoria. She was built in Dumbarton, Scotland in 1878, was 350 feet long and of 1,984 tons net.

SOLDIERS MUST NOT VISIT BERLIN CAFES

Military Authorities Issue Strict Orders to Men on Furlough.

Berlin, June 2, via London.—The military authorities have issued an order applicable to Berlin forbidding both officers of all rank and private soldiers from visiting any of the large number of "luxus restaurants and cafes" in Berlin, as well as all bars and wine rooms.

The order points out that the purpose of furlough granted officers and men, physical recovery from the rigors of life at the front and the recuperation of nerves and body, is seriously endangered by visits to these restaurants and wine rooms.

A number of West end resorts catering especially to the military will be hard hit by this regulation.

BELGIANS DOING EFFECTIVE WORK

Havre, France, June 2.—The following official statement was issued last night regarding the operations of the Belgian army:

"A fierce artillery duel marked the day of May 31 along the Belgian front. Belgian guns of all calibers massed their fire, blowing up the enemy's trenches and accessory defenses at a number of points.

"All the roads beyond the German front are commanded by the Belgians' fire, making it very difficult for the enemy to bring up fresh supplies. The first line of Belgian troops, by a continuous fire, prevented German troops from advancing."

SUGAR BEET SEED FROM GERMANY

Great Britain Willing It Should Be Exported to United States.

Washington, June 2.—Great Britain has announced its willingness to permit exportation of sugar beet seed from Germany to the United States under certain conditions. The following was issued today at the state department:

"The British foreign office has announced that the British government would consider each case of the exportation of beet seed from Germany to the United States upon its merits and would be willing to give assurances of non-interference with particular shipments; (a) if it is shown that the seeds cannot be secured except in Germany; (b) if there is no question of exchange of commodities with Germany involved and (c) if the seeds are shipped from a neutral port as Rotterdam."

American beet sugar interests some time ago arranged for the shipment of enough seed for the American crop through Rotterdam.

OPPOSITION TO JAP CABINET

Resolution Expressing Lack of Confidence Introduced in House.

Tokio, June 2.—The opposition today introduced in the house of representatives a resolution expressing lack of confidence in the present cabinet.

This resolution charged the cabinet with having failed in the negotiations with China from beginning to the end; with having interfered with the friendly relations with China; with having aroused the suspicions of foreign powers, thereby harming the prestige of the empire instead of laying the foundations of peace in the Orient and with having created a situation likely to be followed by further complications.

rally the suffering people of Mexico to their support in an effort to ignore, if they cannot unite, the warring factions of the country, return to the constitution of the republic so long in abeyance and set up a government at Mexico City which the great powers of the world can recognize and deal with, a government with whom the program of the revolution will be a business and not merely a platform.

UNITED STATES WILL ACT.

"I, therefore, publicly and very solemnly call upon the leaders of factions in Mexico to act, to act together, and to act promptly for the relief and redemption of their prostrate country. I feel it to be my duty to tell them that if they cannot accommodate their differences and unite for this great purpose within a very short time, this government will be constrained to decide what means should be employed by the United States in order to help Mexico save herself and serve her people."

The statement prepared after yesterday's cabinet meeting was intended for issuance early today but was delayed by some minor changes, made in conference between the president and Secretary Bryan. It was to have been made public at 10 a. m. but was delayed until shortly after noon. While it was being given out at the White House it was being flashed on its way to Consul Silliman at Vera Cruz, the Brazilian minister at Mexico City, and Consular Agent Carothers, who will deliver it to the leaders of factions with which they deal.

sible to hold this position with such a feeble force. I ask that an officer be sent here to report on the situation. I ask again that the fourth company of the 111th regiment be placed at my disposition. The artillery fire of the enemy is frightful, especially that of the heavy guns. We can hear the projectiles of this artillery coming slowly through the air. Every man is watchful and tense; he wonders where this particular shell is going to fall. The parapet trembles, and a cloud of earth and pieces of shell rain down on us. I believe now that my nerves are gone. The fire of the enemy has attained its greatest violence. Indescribable—"

Tragic Notes End.

"This diary," says the eye witness, "indicates the great success of the French artillery and infantry.

"At the same time it shows the superhuman efforts Germany is obliged to demand of its army and this even before the participation of Italy, which, on a new front, will hereafter take part in the siege of German and Austrian fortresses."

Germans Race to Surrender.

Paris, June 2.—The official eye witness gives supplementary details of the capture by French forces of the town of Ablain St. Nazaire, to the northwest of Arras.

"French troops," the writer says, "on May 12 occupied most of the position and on May 28 and 29 succeeded in completing its capture. In the first attack, we occupied many houses and important vantage points, but the Germans clung tenaciously to the church and cemetery. It was through the center of the village and in and around the cemetery, therefore, that the hottest fighting took place.

"On May 28, the same division which had distinguished itself by the capture of Carency, taking 2,700 prisoners in four days, began this attack. The commander of the French forces knew exactly the enemy's strength—five quick-firers in the cemetery, and four quick-firers stationed in a priest's house—as well as many other details, including knowledge of the low morale of the troops to which the German prisoners had attested.

Quickly Dispersed Germans.

"Before the attack was begun, a heavy fire was directed on the ground behind the cemetery, thus effectively preventing the enemy from advancing any reinforcements. Bravely charging over the broken ground, our troops were not long in attaining their objective, dispersing the Germans before them and quickly attaining the low rise on which the cemetery is situated. Other officers executed a flank movement and attacked and routed the Germans.

Race to Surrender.

"The position was being quickly organized, when a strange apparition appeared. It was a thick column of the enemy running toward us. We believed at first that it was a counter-attack, and we prepared to resist it, but the men, all unarmed and with hands raised above their heads (they were giving themselves up), were racing at full speed across the cemetery in fear of their own guns, whose fire was more deadly than that of the enemy. Four hundred Germans, including seven officers, arrived breathless in our trenches. The whole action lasted but fifteen minutes.

"During the night and the following morning the whole village was captured from several hundred soldiers holding the position. After the attack on May 29, twenty alone remained living, most of the others having been killed by their own artillery for wishing to give themselves up to the French."

French Statement.

Paris, June 2.—The French war office this afternoon gave out an official report on the progress of hostilities, reading:

"In the sector to the north of Arras the fighting continued last night. In the Labyrinth, to the southwest of Neuville, we occupied several trenches and made further prisoners. The total number of prisoners made at this point since Monday night is over 450. At Neuville itself we took possession of a group of houses where we maintained ourselves in spite of several counter attacks.

"On the other parts of this sector, particularly at Lorette, there was artillery fighting yesterday.

"Along the remainder of the front there is nothing to report with the exception of two bombardments of Reims, and particularly of the cathedral in that city."

German Statement.

Berlin, June 2, via London, 3:26 p. m.—The German army headquarters announced today that more than 300,000 Russians had been captured during the month of May. Announcement also was made that further Russian entrenchments near Przemysl had been captured.

The war office today gave out the following statement: "We shot down a British flying machine at Bixschoote. The occupants, one Belgian and one British officer, were taken prisoners.

"The sugar refinery east of Souchez, into which the French penetrated yesterday afternoon, was recaptured by us. An attack begun by the French against our position at and south of Neuville during the evening was repulsed. Only a small section of a trench on the other side of the high road from Neuville to Ecurie was occupied by the enemy.

"Fighting at close quarters in the forest at La Petre for the possession of certain portions of the trenches continues.

"Eastern theater of war: Successful engagements occurred against minor Russian divisions at Neuhausen, fifty kilometers (about thirty miles) northeast of Libau, and at Shidlki, sixty-nine kilometers (about forty miles) southeast of Libau. The same thing happened further south in the district of Shavli, and on the Dubysa, southeast of Kielmy and between Ugimai and Ejargolae.

"At Shavli we took 500 prisoners.

"Southeastern theater of war: Further Russian entrenchments situated around Dunkowezki (near Przemysl) were taken by storm yesterday. After the victory at Stry the allied troops advanced yesterday in the direction of Medenice.

"In the month of May, 863 officers and 268,869 men were taken prisoners in the southeastern theater of war while 251 cannon and 576 machine guns were captured. Of these numbers the capturing of 400 officers, including two generals, 153,254 men, 160 cannon, 28 heavy ones and 402 machine guns is to the credit of the troops under General Mackensen. Including prisoners taken in the eastern theater of war, as well as those announced yesterday the total number of Russians who have fallen into the hands of the Germanic troops during the month amounts to about 1,000 officers and more than 300,000 men."

ROUMANIA AND BULGARIA WILL SHORTLY ENTER WAR

Daily Mail from Rome says that all the Italian newspapers hail as an accomplished fact the approaching entry of Roumania and Bulgaria into the war.

"According to news from the Austrian frontier," says the Morning Post's Berne correspondent, "the Austrian ministry met Monday—representatives from Berlin being present—to discuss the Roumanian note. It is understood that Roumania's demands will be refused. The relations between the two countries are already strained.

"Prof. Basilesco, a Roumanian deputy, in an article in the Geneva Journal, estimates that the Roumanian army has now 1,000,000 men perfectly equipped, which will present a problem on a new 600-mile front to the Austrian strategists."

A Copenhagen dispatch on April 22 quoted the Roumanian minister to Italy as having said that Roumania had demanded cessions of territory from Austria in return for remaining neutral in the war, but that Austria had refused to acquiesce. Just what these alleged demands were was not stated, but the minister was reported to have said there existed a defensive alliance between Roumania and Italy and that Italy would not accept any offer from Austria without having received the sanction of Roumania.

While there have been several rumors recently concerning Roumania and the war—that she would remain neutral, and that she was negotiating with the allies and was believed to be on the brink of war—nothing has come through of any demands made on Austria.

On Seat of Uneasy Neutrality.

London, June 2.—Roumania is now occupying the "seat of uneasy neutrality," lately held by Italy. The diplomats of the Near East evidently are working hard to bring about an understanding between Bulgaria and Roumania. Rumors are rife that Roumania is mobilizing an army of 1,000,000 men which is said to be in splendid condition for active service.

The German press is showing some indications of anxiety over this situation and the Frankfort Zeitung has called for concessions to prevent Roumanian intervention. Vienna has been informed that Germany, pouring out blood and treasure in the struggle, must be listened to and that Austria-Hungary must be prepared to make certain sacrifices to meet the Roumanian demand.

It is significant in the opinion of British observers that three of the opposition leaders in the Hungarian parliament have demanded and have been granted a conference with Emperor Francis Joseph for the statement of opinions which cannot be uttered in parliament itself.

The Russians are reported as being heavily reinforced along the river San, but the official accounts on operations at this point continue to be contradictory; the only fact emerging clearly is that no decisive results yet have been gained by either side.

In the western arena of hostilities nothing of importance has been recorded.

IS EPILEPSY CONQUERED?

New Jersey Physician Said to Have Many Cures to His Credit.

Red Bank, N. J., June 2.—Advices from every direction fully confirm previous reports that the remarkable treatment for epilepsy being administered by the consulting physician of the Kline Laboratories of this city is achieving wonderful results. Old and stubborn cases have been greatly benefited and many patients claim to have been entirely cured.

Persons suffering from epilepsy should write at once to Kline Laboratories, Branch 180, Red Bank, N. J., for a supply of the remedy, which is being distributed gratuitously.—Advertisement.

PAN-AMERICANS CONTINUE TOUR

Philadelphia, Pa., June 2.—The delegates to the recent Pan-American financial conference in Washington, now touring a part of the United States, today ended their visit to this city by inspecting a number of large industrial plants. Later the Latin-Americans left for Pittsburgh where they are due before midnight tonight.

Dr. Leo S. Rowe, secretary-general of the Washington conference, said today that he doubted whether the country fully appreciated that the conference meant far more than mere verbal or written expressions of good will. "Every member of each delegation will return to his country with definite, concrete information as to the attitude of the financiers and investing public of the United States," said Dr. Rowe.

Binghamton, N. Y., June 2.—An order for half a million pairs of war shoes has been placed with a shoe manufacturing company of this city by the Roumanian government. It is to be a rush order and the shoes are to be constructed in accordance with special specifications.

SUBMARINE TO BE RAISED IN PARTS

F-4 Will Probably Break in Two Due to Lifting Strain.

Washington, June 2.—Rear Admiral Moore at Honolulu reported today that the sunken submarine F-4 probably would break under the present methods of lifting, but he will be able to lift the parts.

Bad swells with only short intervals of smooth weather are delaying the work. The boat now lies on its starboard side nearly upside down.

ROAD INCOME IS CURTAILED

President Pennington of Soo Says Improvements Are Impossible.

Fifty-Six Passengers Is Average for Trains in This Country.

The directors of the Pittsburgh Steel company, due in Duluth this morning on their way to Riverton, Minn., to make their annual inspection of the Rowe mine, on the Cuyuna range, were unable to arrive on this side of the bay owing to unavoidable delay and were met on the Superior side by the Soo Line special train, which was to take them to Riverton. A burned bridge south of Superior delayed the regular Chicago train on which the Easterners were coming and to make time they were met in Superior by the special. On the Soo special out of Duluth were:

Poor Railroad Earnings.

Mr. Pennington, discussing business, declared that until the railroads are granted a better income there will be no extensions and no work other than maintenance on the roads.

"It may be," said he this morning, "that the interstate commerce commission will decide to grant the 5 per cent advance in freight rates to Western territory, which was granted some time ago to C. F. A. territory. Arguments in this case will be made in a few weeks. That would, of course, alleviate conditions to some extent, but the great loss is in the passenger business. Since July 1, last year, the Soo has lost 6 per cent gross on a capital of $29,000,000, and the chief loss is in passenger traffic.

"There is a very great difference between passenger and freight traffic. Freight trains, except the way-freighters, are run only as business demands; we can regulate our outlay in that business. But passenger trains must run at regular times and according to schedule, no matter if there is not a dollar's worth of business in sight. Some man at a wayside station might be waiting for it, you know. With business as it has been and with the 2-cent rate in force, passenger trains are run at a loss right along.

"Some people may say that they were on such-and-such a train and it was crowded. That may be, but there are other trains with scarcely a soul on board except the crew. The books give the deadly average, and we cannot get by that. That average is fifty-six persons per train. Not much in that at 2 cents a mile, is there?

"Well that's the condition, and before roads can do anything in the way of improvements or extensions there certainly must be an improvement in conditions."

Concerning Duluth Weather.

Vice President Martin remarked on the beauty of today, and asked a newspaper man if it has been this way all spring in Duluth.

"Careful!" admonished Mr. Williams of the First National, who was standing in the group at the Soo station. "Keep your mind on Duluth."

"Always," said the newspaper man, thus prompted. "We have been basking in weather just like this all the time you folks in Minneapolis have been freezing. We did not wear our straws until yesterday merely because we are sticklers for style in Duluth."

Mr. Martin puffed his cigar while his gaze shifted from Mr. Williams to the other and back again in admiration of the team work.

"Knowing," said he, finally, "your reputations for unwavering veracity, I can easily picture your balmy spring season."

Then the train pulled out.

SHIP LESS GRAIN AT FORT WILLIAM

Small Chance for American Bottoms—Coal Outlook Improves.

Shipping conditions, in coal, ore and grain, at Fort William on Saturday, according to the weekly letter of F. & W. Jones, transportation agents of that port, were as follows:

"Although the cargoes shipped east this week are four fewer than last week, viz. twelve, the total amount of grain shipped from these ports in the last quarter of May was practically the same as during the previous quarter. The reason for this probably is that five of these loads were carried in large capacity steamers of 250,000 bushels or more. One cargo of 280,000 went to Buffalo in an American vessel, the balance being consigned to Canadian ports. Car receipts this week show an increase over last week of nearly 550,000 bushels, but when compared with this week's shipments it will be seen that the shipments exceed the receipts by nearly 1,000,000 bushels. Should this condition continue it will easily be understood that within a short time all the grain will be shipped.

"It is not likely that the American tonnage will figure largely in the movement of the balance of Canadian grain as the available Canadian tonnage can more than take care of the shippers' requirements. The large vessels loading here have to collect their loads from several elevators as stocks are badly scattered and take considerable time to load. Some smaller boats have waited orders for some time and then had to call at four or five elevators. Reports from the West tell of several frosts, but no great harm has been done and conditions still appear to be favorable.

"The outlook for coal arrivals has improved a little. One steamer is under the rigs with anthracite coal and three more are enroute, two with anthracite and one with bituminous. Four cargoes have been unloaded this week, three of bituminous and one of anthracite, two carried in Canadian steamers and two in American. Stocks on docks are decreasing only very slowly. Western rail shipments, although as good as can be expected under the strained financial conditions, are very small. There has, as yet, been no coal unloaded at Jack Fish. Stocks there are being rapidly depleted, and will have to be replenished by fresh arrivals within a short time.

"One cargo of ore was shipped this week in the steamer W. S. Mack. She had aboard about 5,000 tons and was billed to Buffalo. No further charters are recorded at present to carry any more of this ore.

"Grain stocks in store, and receipts and shipments during the week are as follows:

	Stocks.	Receipts.	Shipments.
Wheat	2,739,493	1,264,774	1,962,544
Oats	1,382,178	82,416	322,943
Barley	353,884	9,678	25,070

Governor Hammond Takes Action in Apprehending Murderers.

St. Paul, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Hammond today offered a reward of $250 for the apprehension and conviction of the person or persons who murdered Swen, John and Armond Mitmoen, brothers, on or about May 6. The three brothers, who were farmers, resided in Pope county.

Though every effort has been made to run down the parties responsible for the murder of the three brothers, the efforts of the Pope county authorities have been unsuccessful. The three brothers were regarded as misers and were supposed to have considerable money hid in their home.

ASSESSMENT ROLL FOR COMMONWEALTH AVENUE

The assessment roll for the paving of Commonwealth avenue, from Crestline court to the south line of Gary, was completed this noon and it will be presented to the city council this evening.

On the engineer's estimate, there will be an 80 per cent advance assessment of $39,368 against the property benefited, of which the city will pay $5,285.60 for street intersections, leaving $34,082.40 to be paid by the property owners.

Commonwealth avenue will be paved with brick on both sides of the street.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 2.—Charles E. Sebastian, chief of police, is today mayor-elect of Los Angeles, according to indications of the nearly completed count of votes at yesterday's election. His estimated plurality over Frederick J. Whiffen, president of the city council, was 5,000 votes.

BRITISH BUYING MONTANA HORSES

Fargo, N. D., June 2.—J. P. Finch of this city, has just returned from Miles City, Mont., where he attended one of Miles City's horse sales, when over 4,000 horses changed hands. The British government alone took 1,038 head at fancy prices. The same inspector will return to Miles City in a week's time and hopes to be able to secure another 10,000 head. The French inspectors have just arrived and are running their inspection this week.

USE ARMORY FOR GARAGE

Farrell Would House All City Automobiles Under One Roof.

Save One Floor for Market; Would Cut Rent Bills.

A municipal garage in the present armory, after the state militia moves into its new structure on London road, is proposed by Commissioner Farrell, head of the public works division.

The plan is favored by the other commissioners and it is probable that the matter will be taken up by the council within a short time. Commissioner Farrell would have all the automobiles and motor vehicles used by the city, outside of the police and fire departments, housed in the municipal garage.

Mayor Prince, who is custodian of the armory, by virtue of his office, believes that such a plan could be worked out and said this morning that the garage could be placed either in the present store room on the First street side, or on the first floor, with an entrance built on the alley side of the building.

At present the water and light department and the public works division house their automobiles in separate buildings and repairs are either made by the fire department in the repair shop at the No. 3 station or in local garages. By establishing a municipal garage, Mr. Farrell points out, the city would save the additional rent for space in other buildings and also the costs for repairs. Material and accessories could also be purchased in wholesale quantities, thus saving a large amount annually for each division.

The new armory will probably be ready for occupation next fall and when the militia moves out of the present structure, it will be turned over to the city for its own use. Mr. Farrell would like to have the public market place on one floor and the garage on the other.

The commissioners plan to hold the armory building until the realty market improves, when it will be sold. The money is to be turned into a fund for the purchase of a city hall site in the courthouse square.

You'll Do Better at Kelly's

You Should Have One

Here's a range in which you can burn either coal, wood or gas and get exactly as good results as you could from a separate coal range or gas range. In the winter when you want your kitchen and adjoining rooms warm and cozy, burn coal in it; in summer cook in comfort with gas. In spring and fall use whichever you please —changing the fuel to meet the weather's varying moods —use both gas and coal at the same time, if you wish.

Stewart

Combination Coal and Gas Range

In the Combination Stewart you get both a coal range and a gas range for but a few dollars more than the price of a single-fuel range. It takes up no more space in your kitchen than a one-fuel range. It gives you a quick fire in case of emergency and a warm fire whenever you want it. It is the one two-fuel range that hasn't a single drawback, but gives you absolutely satisfactory service at all seasons and under all conditions.

HOME RULE BILL FOR CITIES IS DEFEATED

Resolution for Constitutional Amendment for Wisconsin Lost.

Madison, Wis., June 2.—Home rule for cities as proposed in a senate resolution for a constitutional amendment was defeated in the assembly today by 41 to 31.

A bill applying to all Wisconsin cities the non-partisan election law by which party designations for local offices are wiped out also failed in that house.

For the second and probably the last time the assembly killed the Hoffman bill to repeal the $100,000 appropriation for a women's dormitory at the Stevens Point normal school. It engrossed the bill repealing the Nye law, allowing the railway commission to review freight and express bills of Wisconsin shippers when complaint is made, and concurred in the Ackley bill allowing a sheriff to succeed himself.

A Socialist bill, introduced by Assemblyman Tews, prohibiting the commitment of children to private institutions without public inspection, was killed, and the Cunningham bill appropriating $10,000 for a site for a hospital for crippled children was nonconcurred in.

Governor Philipp vetoed the Stemper bill to permit electric railways to operate along boulevards if authorized by a vote of the common council.

The senate concurred in bills requiring telegraph companies to send the filing time on messages and prohibiting posted persons from entering saloons.

State Fire Marshal Starts Crusade Against Overcrowding Houses.

St. Paul, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—State Fire Marshal Hargadine today started a crusade against the overcrowding of motion picture theaters in the big cities and throughout the state. The activity of the department is the result of numerous complaints.

Today Mr. Hargadine sent out warning notices to every theater manager and owner in the state and this week he will supplement the warnings with personal visits by his inspection force. Complaints have been numerous of late that standing room, especially in the cities, is being sold in the moving picture houses.

THOUSANDS OF ITALIANS IN NORTHERN MINNESOTA ARE CALLED TO THE COLORS

Thousands of Italians in Minnesota and Northern Michigan will be required to return to Italy at once under the provisions of a sweeping mobilization order received by the royal Italian consular agent this morning.

This edict, addressed to the Duluth Italian agency and posted there today, calls for all men ranked under twelve military classes and includes virtually all of the able bodied men between the ages of 20 and 40 years. For the first mobilization order, it is the most severe of any issued by European countries in the present war.

The order reads:

"Italians residing in the state of Minnesota and in the upper peninsula of Michigan (counties of Keweenaw, Houghton, Ontonagon, Baraga, Gogebic, Iron, Marquette, Dickinson, Menominee, Schoolcraft, Delta, Alger, Luce, Mackinac and Chippewa), and who are under military obligations and belong to the first, second and third category of the classes hereinafter indicated, are hereby informed that, the mobilization having been ordered in the kingdom, they are required to present themselves to this consular agency (325 West First street, Duluth, Minn.,) in the shortest possible time. If unable to present themselves, they are required to notify the undersigned of their correct address and their exact position in relation with the following calling list:

Those Called.

The men called for service are:

"1. All the officers and sub-officers out on leave of absence.

"2. All parties under military obligations now out on unlimited leave of absence of whatever class or category, if enrolled with the Royal Carbiniers or if they served in the Custom House Guards.

"3. All parties under military obligations belonging to the first and second category of the permanent army and belonging to the classes running from 1888 to 1895 inclusive of every corps or division.

"4. All parties under military obligations belonging to the first and second category and belonging to the class of 1886 and 1887 and enrolled with the bersaglieri (sharp shooters), artillery, engineers, train men, hospital corps, chauffeurs, and commissary department.

"5. All parties under military obligations belonging to the first and second category of the militzia mobile (first reserve) and belonging to the class of 1882, 1883, 1884, 1885, enrolled with the mountain artillery, chauffeurs, train men, hospital corps and commissary department.

"6. All parties under military obligations belonging to the first and second category and belonging to the class of 1885, if enrolled as artillery men.

"7. All parties under military obligations belonging to the first and second category of the militzia territorial (second reserve) and in the classes running from 1876 to 1881 inclusive, enrolled as chauffeurs, engineers, train men, or belonging to the hospital and commissary departments.

"8. All parties under military obligations belonging to the first and second category, and belonging to the classes of 1877 to 1881 included, enrolled in the infantry corps.

"9. All parties under military obligations belonging to the first and second category, and belonging to the classes of 1878 to 1881, if enrolled with the Alpinists or with the Fortress Artillery.

"10. All parties under military obligations belonging to the third category who have received military training because originally belonging to other categories and belonging to the classes running from 1876 to 1895 inclusive.

"11. All parties undtr military obligations belonging to the third category who have received no military training and who belong to the classes running from 1888 to 1895 inclusive.

"All the parties coming under said call will be submitted to a free medical examination and if qualified will be sent to Italy with free transportation and at the end of the war, the expenses for their return to this country will be paid to them."

In the above list the years given to identify the various army classes are the years of birth of the men included in the class.

FARM TRADE WORTH EFFORT

C. P. Craig Urges Retail Merchants to Try for It.

Senator Vibert of Carlton County Points Out Road Laxity.

"Bid for the farmers' trade," was the advice given members of the Duluth Retail Merchants' association at their annual dinner at the Spalding hotel last night by Charles P. Craig, who was chief speaker. His subject was "Intelligent Co-operation With the Farmer."

"Learn what the farmer needs," said he. "Learn his trade demands and help him get what he wants. Get him to helping you and in that way establish a confidence between you.

"By doing this you can bring fifty farmers to Duluth where one comes now. Co-operation must be the keynote of your campaign to get the people to patronize your stores. The typical farmer is honest, his credit is good, and he is appreciative and sensitive to good and bad treatment.

"Also he is self-reliant and independent to an extraordinary degree and for that reason, though Duluth merchants have the goods at reasonable prices and give good service they are not getting the rural trade they should and they will not until they determinedly and in an intelligent way, go after it.

Court the Farmer.

"It takes time to win the average farmer. He is suspicious and cautious, but not more so than the average buyer. He is prone to consider longer before making a purchase. You must advertise what you have to sell, act in concert, and not expect to get results in a day."

The speaker also advocated the adoption of a credit system that would enable the farmer to get goods on time before crops are moved. He suggested that a market place be established in West Duluth, where teams and goods might be left safely.

President Bentley P. Neff presided and about seventy-five members attended the dinner, which was the first session since the merchants had been formed into sub-organizations.

Chairmen of Divisions.

Under the plan of operation this year the Retal Merchants' association has been divided into several units, which, while separate organizations in themselves, are members of the association proper. The chairman of each unit is a member of the board of directors of the general association, thereby assuring direct representation in all lines of trade. The results of the various meetings held by the individual units during the past month showed the following men elected as permanent chairmen and members of the board of directors: Clothiers, William Billstein; hardware, R. D. Annis; department stores, I. Freimuth; furniture stores, E. H. Whelan; drug stores, William Abbett; jewelers, R. C. Kruschke; and shoe stores, Gustav A. Wieland. The secretary announced a large increase in membership under this new arrangement, and it is expected by July 1 over 100 firms will hold membership in the association.

The Jackson Farmers' club extended the association an invitation to attend an all-day picnic at the Jackson school on the Pike lake road, June 22. Arrangements will be made whereby a large number of the members of the association, with their wives, will attend.

A letter was read from the Retail Merchants' association of Columbus, Ohio, seeking information relative to the style show which was held by the merchants this spring. The fame of this exhibition has spread all over the country and other associations are looking to Duluth for information relative to style show exhibits.

Chester Creek Bridge.

The proposition presented to the association asking its support for the building of a bridge across Chester creek on Ninth street, did not receive the indorsement of the merchants. During the discussion it was brought out that there are many leading thoroughfares in the city, especially between Duluth proper and West Duluth, that are in such sad need of attention that if there were any funds available they should be spent in doing work of this character rather than in building a bridge, the absolute necessity of which had not been fully determined.

Cloquet Seeks Co-operation.

A communication was received from Senator Fred D. Vibert of Cloquet, calling attention to the fact that some eight years ago the county commissioners of St. Louis county were petitioned by the farmers living around Saginaw and Grand Lake, asking them to build a road from Saginaw to the Carlton county line, a distance of six miles, thereby allowing them to drive to Cloquet, about ten miles, instead of from eighteen to twenty miles to reach Duluth.

Senator Vibert stated that for the past three years Carlton county has been spending half of its road money on what is known as the Duluth-Twin City road through Carlton county, also that $5,000 was expended on the Thomson road leading from the westerly St. Louis county line to Thomson and Carlton, and about $4,500 on what is called the North road leading from Cloquet to Duluth direct. This year the appropriation was $5,000 on the North road and some $1,500 on the Thomson road. Carlton county is also expending some $60,000 in the construction of what is known as the Duluth-Moorhead road extending west across the state to connect with the road now being built by Aitkin county, which when completed will make a fine highway to the state on the west.

Concluding his letter, Senator Vibert stated:

"If it is a good policy for St. Louis county and Duluth to refuse to build any road that does not lead to some city or village within their own county, then why should not Carlton county and Cloquet follow the policy of their big neighbors? Cloquet is distinctly within Duluth's trade zone and whatever helps us helps you, therefore we trust you will do what you can in urging the building of this road."

This whole matter was left to the committee on good roads for investigation.

PATROLMAN WILL TAKE UP NEW WORK

Stanley Krawczyk Quits Job After One Year of Excellent Service.

Patrolman Stanley Krawczyk, on the first anniversary of his appointment as a police officer, tendered his resignation to Chief R. D. McKercher last night. He will leave Duluth to take up a new line of work in Galveston, Tex., he announced.

Since his appointment June 1, 1914, Officer Krawczyk has made an exceptionally good record, according to his superior officers, and with his retirement the force will lose an able man.

"I am very sorry to see him go," said Capt. A. G. Fiskett, today. "He was one of the best of the younger men."

Chief McKercher appointed Jacob Nystrom, 428½ West Fourth street, to fill the vacancy. The new officer started work at once. Officer Nystrom was at the head of the eligible list.

G. A. Henry, appointed Tuesday to succeed Victor Fagerberg, suspended for intoxication, was assigned for duty last night for the first time.

LOSS THROUGH DEBTS FOR TWINE IS SMALL

St. Paul, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Though the state of Minnesota has been manufacturing and selling binding twine since 1892 and in that time has disposed of nearly $18,000,000 worth of the finished material, bad debts have only caused a loss of $1,503. This loss was on notes which the state was unable to collect.

The manufacture of binding twine was started in 1892. Since 1908 when the manufacture began the state has disposed of a total of $1,204,626.

BACK FROM HONDURAS

Is the Mecca for Fugitives From Justice, Says Duluthian.

Natives Primitive; Use Mahogany for Firewood and Outbuildings.

"Good morning, what country is looking for you?" might well be the greeting in Honduras, but it isn't, according to Victor Anneke, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Anneke of 1801 East Second street, who has just returned from a trip to Honduras.

Mr. Anneke went to Honduras to visit the property of the Ulaewas Mining company, in which a number of Duluthians, among them P. S. Anneke, are interested. It is a placer gold enterprise far in the interior of Honduras, and is under the management of L. A. Perl of Duluth, who has spent the greater part of his time for the last seventeen years prospecting in that country.

"Honduras is a wonderful rich country but it would take an immense sum of money to develop it," said Mr. Anneke. "More than half of the country is just a wilderness, even unsurveyed, and there are not even accurate maps of it. Mr. Perl was the first white man in this part of the country where the mine is, so far as is known, and I was the second.

Natives Primitive.

"The natives in that region are absolutely primitive, and indescribably dirty. They have no clothes worthy of the name, no morals, and live in much greater filth than animals would. They haven't even learned to steal yet. I had $50 in gold which I carelessly left on my bed at the mine, and a native ran a mile after me to give it back. On the coast he would probably have run the other way.

"We used mahogany for firewood at the mine, and have mahogany sheds and outbuildings. The canoes are built of huge mahogany logs, hollowed out.

"There is nothing to eat in the country but fruit and hogs. Any white man gets rather tired of pork and bananas as a steady diet, and he can't even cook the pork the way he wants it for fear of offending the natives.

"The forests are filled with many kinds of wild animals. A jaguar followed us one whole day. There are many monkeys, wild hogs and deer.

"The snakes and bugs are almost endless in variety. One kind of insect burrows under the skin and lays millions of eggs. If you don't cut out the insect and the eggs, the young bury themselves in your body. There are mosquitoes of huge size, and also some so small you can't see them, but they bite as viciously as ours. The country is flea-ridden, and you can't escape them. Everybody carries a few fleas in Honduras.

No Wagon Roads.

"There are scarcely any railroads in Honduras, which is a country about the size of the state of Mississippi, and no wagon roads except from the Pacific coast to the capital. You travel on the old Indian trails. When an Indian made a trail he went from the top of one mountain peak to the next, so traveling in Honduras has its ups and downs. Only the most traveled trails are kept brushed out. If a trail is not traveled for a week or ten days, you can hardly find it, but the natives carry machetes, and as they go along they cut off the branches and the underbrush. The natives all travel on foot, and only the white men use mules.

"Honduras never gives up fugitives from justice, and if the police over there were able to round up the white men in Honduras they would find a surprising number of fugitives from justice. It is the Mecca for all the uncaught criminals of the world, and if you meet a white man he has probably figured in some famous criminal enterprise in America, England, Germany or some other part of Europe."

BIG OPENING IN THE SOUTH

America Should Make Great Progress With Neighbors, Says Snyder.

Former Professor of Mining Talks of South American Opportunities.

George W. Snyder, formerly professor of mining in the Colorado School of Mines, and at present representing a number of Duluthians in a mining proposition in South America, is here today consulting with his associates.

The property of the Duluthians is situated on the Torpauni river, which is a branch of the Amazon. The property is in Bolivia, and, according to the estimate of Mr. Snyder, is a property of great present value and wonderful prospects.

Placer mining is done there for the most part. The shipment of gold will be made to Lima. Recently the mining has been done by hydraulic machinery, the modern machinery being shipped from San Francisco. The new machinery enables the work to continue below the water level, and Mr. Snyder says very rapid progress is being made.

"Made in Germany" Started War.

"The words, 'made in Germany' caused the European war," said Mr. Snyder. "You get this idea in South America as well as other sections of the globe. My wife is English and, therefore, my sympathies should lie with the English, but really you know I am convinced that commercial jealousy brought on the war. England is intensely jealous of the progress of Germany in South America—and also very jealous of the progress that is being made by the United States.

"England through her great interests in South America has great prestige. I should say that there is a great deal of sympathy for England. The war has made much difference in some of the countries where England's interests are large. In Chile, for instance, where the nitrate interests pay 88 per cent of the cost of operating the government, some idea may be gained of what the shutting off of this trade means. Some 9,000 mules were taken off the job."

Mr. Snyder declared that the South Americans have a genuine friendship for the United States and like the goods we sell. He also declared that the principal reason why Germany and England were leading us in the South American trade was because both of these countries had gone after the business more systematically.

English mining companies use nothing but English machinery, and German interests promote the trade with Germany. In the matter of mining, Mr. Snyder declared that the United States was leading all other countries. "The Guggenheims are getting down there, and other American operators are following in their wake," he said. "Some big American commercial houses have also established branch agencies in South America and are making remarkable progress in the way of trade expansion.

Fine Prospects for America.

"During the next three years America should make some very great progress in South America. We are getting the start and as American enterprises establish themselves right in the country, the trade between South America and this country will take on a big increase."

Mr. Snyder will remain here for several days. His passage is booked back to Bolivia, and he will sail from New Orleans in the early part of July.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE GERMAN GENERAL

Commandant of Teuton Forces at Libau and Other Officers Taken.

Petrograd, June 2, via London—Newspapers published in the Baltic provinces are authority for the statement that a Russian patrol captured Gen. Von Pritvitz, commandant of the German forces at Libau, together with several other German officers. The patrol had an encounter with the general's escort. Some of them were killed and the remainder taken prisoners. Gen. Von Pritvitz was slightly wounded on the head.

OVER 100 MEN BATTLE WITH TWO ROBBERS

Erie, Pa., June 2.—Surrounded in a heavily wooded district near Waterford, Pa., two men, who early today shot and perhaps fatally wounded Richard Mack, a wealthy farmer, battled against a pose of more than a hundred men. Shots were exchanged during the morning and the men were driven further into the forest, but so far as known neither was hit. Mack was assaulted and robbed while going from his house to the barn.

DELEGATE QUINONES HAS PNEUMONIA

Philadelphia, June 2.—Don Alfonso Quinones, former president of Salvador and now vice president of the republic, was stricken with pneumonia today while visiting here with the delegates to the recent Pan-American conference in Washington. Dr. Quinones is head of the Salvador delegation which attended the conference.

Coming--Annual Wash Goods Sale

Beginning Saturday morning, June 5th, the Glass Block will put on the greatest Wash Goods Sale in its history,—an event of greater importance, even, than last year's sale, because of a fortunate purchase by our buyer during the "biggest event in the history of the dry goods trade,"—the $2,500,000 sale of combined stocks from the Ely & Walker Co. and the Hargadine-McKittrick Co., both of St. Louis.

What the Ely & Walker, Hargardine-McKittrick Sale Was!

This event, which attracted attention all over the United States, involved $2,500,000 worth of the choicest, most seasonable articles. The Ely & Walker Co. offered the entire stock of the Hargadine-McKittrick Co., amounting to $1,500,000, to which was added $1,000,000 worth of merchandise of their own,—probably the largest offering of the kind ever made in this country.

Always alive to such big merchandise opportunities, the Glass Block sent its buyer, Mr. H. A. Bentson, to St. Louis to attend this sale. The accompanying telegram tells the story:

BODY OF MISSING GIRL IS FOUND IN THE LAKE

Chicago, June 2.—The body of a girl taken from Lake Michigan yesterday was identified as Grace Bond Coney, 23, a worker at the Northwestern university settlement, who disappeared May 1. She was the daughter of E. A. Coney, manager of the New York offices of the Postal Telegraph company.

Miss Coney disappeared after writing a sister in New York that she was despondent because a young settlement worker she had met here did not reciprocate her love.

CO-OPERATION IN BOOSTING DULUTH URGED BY REALTY MEN AT BANQUET

As the toastmaster, R. B. Knox, put it, only death or illness had come to be accepted as a valid excuse for absence from the affair, under penalty of a heavy fine. He had the authority of the secretary for it that only one realty operator was not on hand on that occasion, and he was reported to be away in the East interesting a group of capitalists in an important manufacturing enterprise to be located here.

Many Interesting Features.

Be that as it may, there was an attendance of seventy-five exchange members at last night's gathering, and the affair was pronounced the best yet. There was a get-together and co-operation spirit in the air and the entertainment committee, headed by Whitney Wall and John A. Stephenson, was conceded to have done itself proud in the original features introduced in the program. At every guest's place at the tables was a souvenir in the form of fantistic headgear such as graced admirals and generals back in the Revolutionary days, and these worn during the evening, imparted a quaint effect to the banquet hall from a spectator's point of view. To fit in with it all, there were typical songs and other asides, all serving to maintain the interest from first to last.

Mayor Prince, who was fittingly attired in an imposing "stovepipe," said that he was pleased to accord the freedom of the city to a crowd such as he saw before him. "The commodity in which you deal is the real thing," he said. "You have attained the measure of success you have through co-operation." Duluth has made substantial, material progress during the last year, he pointed out. In April, for example, the number of permits issued was the largest in any single month in the history of the building inspector's office, and a satisfactory feature about it was that nearly all the work authorized was in connection with home building.

Co-operation of Twin Ports.

John M. McCabe, president of the Superior Real Estate exchange, commented upon the fact that he had done business with Commissioner Silberstein, Henry Nolte, R. B. Knox and others for a number of years, and had not found them half bad fellows, though they did live in Duluth. He emphasized the advantages to be gained through co-operation between the business interests of the two cities at the Head of the Lakes.

Commissioner Farrell took for his theme the standardization of roadways and he imparted some professional secrets touching upon the program of improvements he has in view during his incumbency of office. He hopes, he said, to put through the building of roads over the hills in three or four districts, and also some new highways in West Duluth and out the steel plant way. The building of the Getchell road from West Duluth to Proctor is now under way and will afford a very useful outlet. It is planned now, he averred, to build an outlet to connect with the poor farm road that will afford a 2½-per-cent grade in place of the 17-per-cent gradient as at present exists. The maximum grade upon it for just a short distance will be 5 per cent. The carrying through of these road projects will permit of street railway extensions over the hills and afford space for a large additional population within easy distance of the city's business districts.

Mr. Farrell concluded in asking the co-operation of citizens in helping to keep the streets clean by picking up pieces of paper and refraining from throwing waste and rubbish upon them. He promised to do his share in that respect and as evidence of that intention he mentioned that he had his men out at 4 o'clock on the morning of Decoration day cleaning the streets for the parade.

Bargains in Property Here.

Henry Nolte, as chairman of the Commercial club's public affairs committee, expressed regret that Joseph B. Cotton, president of the club, was not present, owing to his having been called away from the city. It afforded him pleasure to know that fifty-five of the fifty-eight members of the Real Estate exchange were members of the Commercial club and took an active interest in its affairs. One of their number, R. B. Knox, was president of the club two years ago.

"It is regrettable," he said, "that Duluth people shall send money away for investment when there are better opportunities right at home. It is just a question of discovering where they are. For instance, the lots upon which the Spalding hotel stands were bought back in 1883 at only $1,500 apiece. This city promises to attain pre-eminence in the near future as a manufacturing center. Its prospects in that respect are in fact to be compared with Erie, Youngstown and Buffalo."

He urged co-operation with Superior in anything that would conduce to the prosperity of the two cities, such as the deepening of the harbor, etc. He strongly urged the removal of the Point of Rocks to enable the straightening out of its encroachment upon Superior street, and even in time, cutting it back 150 feet. A part of the rock derived might be deposited in the lake, and utilized in building the breakwater that is so much to be desired.

Julius Barnes Lauded.

G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner of the Commercial club, referred to the chairman of its committee, Julius H. Barnes, as a most consistent booster for Duluth. He touched upon Mr. Barnes' stand in the fight to secure for Duluth its just transportation rights, and he reviewed the concessions that had thus far been forced from the railroads in the course of the hard contest.

"As a result of recent decisions, we have become so independent of the railroads that they have been compelled to make through rates from the Pacific coast to Duluth in order to compete with the Panama canal," he said.

"Our water transportation is our excuse for living and the cheap rates afforded from here to the East upon grain and iron ore have enabled the development of our iron ranges and the agricultural districts of the West, which would otherwise have lain dormant had they been dependent upon all-rail transportation."

Erie Canal Project.

Mr. Hall referred to the importance to Duluth of the completion of the Erie canal in enabling the cheap transport of grain to the seaboard. He touched upon the building of the new Welland canal by the Canadian government and he expressed the hope that the whole St. Lawrence canal system would eventually be deepened so as to admit of the arrival at Duluth of ocean-going steamers and the shipping of products directly across the Atlantic.

"The transportation problem is like a big moving picture reel with a great many scenes and the operator must always be on the job. It is a continuous performance, slow and laborious," he said in conclusion.

N. J. Upham, retiring president of the exchange, gave an interesting resume of its activities and accomplishments during its ten years existence, in the course of a comprehensive report.

"In 1905 the Duluth Real Estate exchange was organized. Up to that time every man was for himself and not too particular in his ethical relations with his fellows," said the report. "He played a lone hand. Efforts were made by many to take away property of clients from other agents. Knocking the other fellow was frequent. Each agent looked upon the other with suspicion, if not animosity, and in turn were so looked upon by the public. We viewed our occupation and services lightly, accepting often nominal commissions—did business without any standard and without respect for ourselves or each other, and with little respect from any one. There was no co-operation to protect ourselves from adverse measures, or to benefit our business conditions or to aid the city development. We were without influence.

"Proper business ethics were then adopted. Good fellowship between members took the place of suspicion. Unfair methods were done away with. Standard compensations for services were established and recognized as reasonable and proper by the public, instead of the uncertain amounts, grudgingly paid before. We found by joint effort we greatly improved conditions, increased the volume of business under pleasanter conditions and with greater profit. As an organization we had an influence in the building up of the city and were a recognized factor in its life and growth, commanding by our acts and high standards the confidence and respect of all."

Moved for Steel Plant.

Perhaps the most important of its moves was the initiation by the exchange of steps that led the United States Steel corporation to reach a decision to locate a plant in Duluth.

"A plan of campaign was carefully mapped out and in June, 1906," the report went on, "the exchange requested the Commercial club and board of trade to appoint committees of three to cooperate with the exchange committee and take up the matter wih T. F. Cole, then president of the Oliver Mining company. In August at Mr. Cole's suggestion a letter was prepared by a sub-committee, of which two members were from the exchange. This letter was drafted, setting forth Duluth's claims for the establishment of a plant, and was turned over to Mr. Cole to present to the United States Steel officials. As a result, early in 1907 a committee of United States Steel officials visited the city to investigate the project, and the plant was located. The exchange does not take to itself undue credit for the result. It had the hearty co-operation of the Commercial club and board of trade, and the successful termination of the matter was due to the combined efforts of all, and particularly to the help and efforts of Mr. Cole, Mr. Cotton and other local officials of the United States Steel corporation. The movement, however, was started by the exchange and the preliminary work done by it.

"In 1906 the Wisconsin Central purchased its right-of-way into the city. This route took a great deal of property between Michigan and Superior streets in the West end, which would take it off the market and prevent the improvement of Michigan and Superior streets along the right-of-way, unless the railroad was made to pay the assessments. The exchange first tried to induce the road to go below Michigan street and failed. When the matter of a franchise came up the exchange, by resolution, urged the council to insist upon including a provision requiring the railroad company to pay all street assessments on property owned by it. A committee urged this on the council. Many excellent citizens opposed the movement, feeling the Wisconsin Central would not enter Duluth if this condition was imposed, and a considerable controversy developed. After a hard fight the exchange succeeded in having that provision put in the franchise, together with one giving the right to other railroads to use the tunnel on reasonable basis into the business center. The terms were finally accepted by the road, thus establishing a precedent that meant thousands of dollars saved the general taxpayers, and made possible the improvement of streets by assessing railroad property of new railroads entering the city, as well as any property affected by new privileges granted existing roads.

"In 1909 the exchange investigated and approved the route of the Canadian Northern with the understanding that the road should pay assessments on all streets improved on abutting property. Thus this principle has been finally established, and it is safe to say that no further franchise will be given any road without similar provision.

Plans for Future.

"The past and the present are important, but after all, the future is what we must strive for. This exchange's present plans at Lester park will create a substantial sum which with 100 per cent efficiency of its members, can easily be increased to $50,000 in five years. In view of the Waverly park success, who can say this is impossible?

"Such a fund would make our participating membership worth $1,000 each. It would enable us to get a favorable lease on business property and erect our own buildings, with space to be rented to our own members, which would become the center of real estate activity in the city. It would give the exchange a solid financial standing. We could enforce the highest business ethics, refusing membership to those not standing for the best standards.

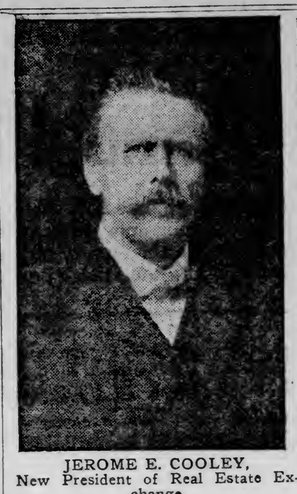

Members Passed Away.

"We should have in remembrance those who have answered the roll call of the great beyond. Twelve members have passed away in the ten years of our organization. They are: C. A. Field, W. L. McLennan, A. R. McFarlane, O. H. Simonds, E. C. Little, J. C. Mishler, R. P. Dowse, W. B. Silvey, H. W. Coffin, F. B. Rossom, James Cromwell and D. W. Scott. They were men esteemed by us, and held in high regard. Their work is finished. Some were very active among us for the welfare of the exchange, but all have been missed. With the sorrow that their loss causes us, comes the thought that ten years hence some of us will have finished our work also. Such thoughts are solemn, yet we must face the inevitable. Let us in running our course maintain such standards and contribute by our efforts to the welfare of our fellows, so that we too will be missed."

Officers Elected.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year at the business meeting that preceded the banquet: President, J. E. Cooley; vice presidents, John A. Stephenson and A. H. Brown of Stryker, Manley & Buck; secretary, A. J. Frey; treasurer, Eby G. Gridley; directors, H. W. Cheadle and Thomas Olafson.

The putting on by the exchange of a plat at Lester park and the introduction of some important improvements there, were outlined.

"REAL ESTATE."

Among the topical songs introduced during the evening was the following rendered by C. O. Applehagen. A. F. M. Custance played the evening's piano accompaniments.

In Proctor Knott's immortal speech he only told the truth,
When he, in hum'rous vein, foretold the greatness of Duluth.
One great mistake friend Proctor made, because he failed to state
The city's growth depended on a Boom in Real Estate.

CHORUS.

Oh, Real Estate, Boys, Real Estate's the thing!
Oh! Real Estate, Boys, Real Estate is King!
Some folks may fuss and fume and fret, and rail at adverse fate,
But we don't care, we're all right there with a Bunch of Real Estate.

When Nature, in prophetic mood, built up the "Point of Rocks"
She figured there the stony stare of fugged Rennick Knox.
And if from Henry Nolte you would make a little "touch"
Shout "Hoch der Kaiser" and say that you're in sympathy with the "Dutch."

Of those who with a moderate profit always are content,
We mention William Prindle and his modest 10 per cent.
In California Andy Volk is revelling in the thoughts
Of how Al Kuehnow's peddling off his far famed Gary lots.

And Upham, who has made his pile by boosting Waverly Park.
There's Stephenson, the Dainty Dude, carnation in his coat;
And C. P. Craig, on friendly terms with cow, pig, sheep, and goat.

There's Harry George, who business-bombs from Massachusetts hurls;
And Alfie Taussig, who's "Ace High" with all the pretty girls!
There's Billy Sargent whose loud roar a genial temper masks;
And Frank I. Salter always known to do all a tenant asks!

And if at selling Real Estate you'd find the best of luck
Just follow the old Established Firm of Stryker, Manley & Buck.
So get a piece of Real Estate, and help the town along
By putting up a house or two, and marching with the throng.

JOHN A. STEPHENSON,
Active Member of Banquet Committee.

POOR MONTH FOR MAY POLE DANCES

Frosts, Cloudiness and Cool Winds Characterized "Festive" Period.

The "merry month of May" was a poor month for picnics and May-pole dances. Unseasonably low temperatures, cloudiness and chilly northeast winds were the chief features of this "festive" period. The month was a marked contrast to the one preceding it. The mean temperature for the month was 44 degrees. Its lowest since 1907, when the record was 39.

There were, however, seven clear days, but only twice did fair skies prevail for two days in succession. The remainder were cloudy or partly cloudy, and these dark periods were "punched."

Killing frosts occurred three nights, May 9, 18 and 19. The severe freeze on the eighteenth did a lot of damage to early gardens and fruit trees and shrubs. Ice one-quarter of an inch thick was reported for the eighteenth.

The precipitation was below normal, and the dry weather since the twenty-first is beginning to show its effects on grass, making the pastures rather poor for early in the season. An inch of snow fell on the sixteenth and seventeenth, but most of it melted as it fell. Merchants were hit rather hard by the unseasonably low temperatures and cloudiness. Gardening and farming, too, was somewhat delayed.

COCOANUT OIL FINE FOR WASHING HAIR

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oils. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Advertisement.

KILLED WOMAN WITH AUTO; GETS TWO YEARS

Baltimore, Md., June 2.—James Walsh, wealthy clubman and president of an automobile company, was sentenced here yesterday to two years in the penitentiary for causing the death of Mrs. Annie McL. Seymour, whom he struck with his automobile last March. Mrs. Seymour was killed instantly.

Several witnesses testified in court that Walsh was under the influence of liquor when the homicide occurred.

JAMES EUGENE FARMER FOUND DEAD IN BAY

New York, June 2.—The body of a man, found floating off New Dorp, Staten Island, Sunday, was identified yesterday as that of James Eugene Farmer, an author and historian. The identification was made by his uncle, Colgate Hoyt, Sr., a Wall street broker. Friends said that Farmer had been despondent because he was unsuccessful in inducing producers to accept a play he had written.

Farmer wrote books of fiction and was the author of "Essays on French History," "The Grenadier," "The Grand Mademoiselle," "Brinton Elliott" and "Versailles and the Court Under Louis XVI."

PROMINENT MEN ARE NAMED FOR CONFERENCE

New York, June 2.—The national foreign trade council, according to a statement issued last night, has appointed John D. Ryan, president of the Amalgamated Copper company, James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, and James J. Hill, chairman of the Great Northern railway, as a committee to confer with the Federal trade commission when that body begins its hearings here this week on matters which confront American exporters.

Fireman Shot in Cab.

Winona, Minn., June 2.—Shot in the breast while sitting in the cab of a locomotive on the Burlington road at East Winona, Wis., early Monday, J. C. Stephan, fireman, of La Crosse, suffered serious, although not mortal, injuries from a bullet fired by a gun in the hands of boy hunters.

A COLUMBIA SALE

OF LAST YEAR'S $15 TO $25 SUITS STARTS TOMORROW

$8.50 A SUIT

EXPLANATION: It has always been the custom of this store to start out each year with a clean slate, that is with entirely new merchandise. We have always succeeded in doing this by having a sale at the end of every season. Each time until the last, we practically cleared our racks of the season's suits. Last year, however, conditions were such that we now have about 150 of last spring's suits on hand. These run at our regular prices from $15 up to $25, and in order to dispose of them right now, they will be put on sale tomorrow morning bearing red tickets, marked $8.50.

All sizes, from young men's size 31 to stout men's 46.

Society - Women's Clubs - Music - Drama

AMONG the council members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs who are meeting in Portland, Or., are Mrs. F. S. Wardwell of Stamford, Conn., formerly of Duluth, chairman of the music department; Mrs. Thomas G. Winter of Minneapolis, chairman of the literature and library extension department, and Miss Lutie E. Stearns of Milwaukee, a director, who will attend the Minnesota convention which will be held in Duluth in September.

Mrs. Wardwell, who was a prominent member of the Cecilian society during her residence here, paid a short visit to Mrs. S. P. Stocker of 1014 East Second street last month while on her way from the East to Portland. Mrs. Wardwell, who is a lecturer of distinction, gave an address yesterday morning on "The Speaking Voice." She is interested in municipal music and included in her talk an account of the community Christmas tree and carol singing at Stamford.

Mrs. Winter, the author of "Jewel Weed," was the first and only president of the woman's club of Minneapolis until this year when she retired from office and was succeeded by Mrs. C. M. Ferguson, who also is attending the Portland meeting. Mrs. Winter spoke this afternoon on "Literature and Life."

Miss Stearns, who has done a wonderful work in extending libraries into remote districts of Wisconsin, and whose talk doubtless will be one of the most interesting at the Duluth meeting, was in charge of the Question Box that concluded this morning's session. Miss Stearns does not approve of women's clubs. "My hobby is clubs of both men and women," she said. However, Miss Stearn's idea of joint meetings of men and women seems far from realized as was shown by the reply to the question asked by Mrs. D. L. Murray of Cincinnati, "What is the official hymn of the federation?" Like a flash came the reply of Mrs. Eugene Reilley of North Carolina. "There aren't any 'hims' in the General Federation of Women's Clubs."

Linnaea Club to Meet
At Homes of Members

At the meeting of the Linnaea club held yesterday afternoon at Foresters' hall it was decided to hold meetings during the summer at the homes of the members. The first of these meetings which will be a social affair, will be held Tuesday afternoon, July 6, at the home of Mrs. William Carlson, 6005 London road, with Mrs. Harold Fegraeus as the assisting hostess.

At the meeting yesterday Mrs. Fegraeus and Mrs. Israel Bergstrom, who were delegates to the Eighth district convention at Chisholm, gave reports of the meeting. It was announced that $532.74 was realized from the Linnaeu tag day which was in charge of Mrs. George Brown.

A social hour followed the business meeting. Mrs. Albert Nelson and Mrs. Henry Nelson presided at the tea table which was decorated with ferns and red carnations.

Pupils of N. E. Ericson
Will Give Recital

Piano and voice pupils of N. E. Ericson will give the following program tonight at 8:15 o'clock at the First Swedish Baptist church:

Piano duet, overture, "Zampa," by Herold, Allwin Harrison and Zella Harrison; piano solo, "Heather Rose," by Lange, Mildred Johnson; piano solo, "Melodies from Faust," op. 114, by King, Violet Alson; piano solo, "Dance on the Green," op. 280, by Bohm, Eva Cohen; vocal solo, "Flowers Lullaby," Miss Hulda Lannstrom; piano solo, "La Fontaine," op. 221, by Bohm, Annie Kane; piano solo, "Scenes of Gayety," by Martin, Florence Nelson; piano solo, "Murmuring Brook" (characteristic sketch), op. 327, by Bohm, Francis Carlson; piano solo, "Papillon," by Merkel, Alice Wilson; piano solo, "By Moonlight," op. 139, by Bendel, Alice Danciko; vocal solo, "In the Garden of My Heart," by Ernest R. Ball, Edward Fahlin; piano solo, "Last Hope," by Gottschalk, Amy Armstrong; piano solo, "Rondo Capriccioso," op. 14, by Mendelssohn, Ione Fenstead.

Pupils Will Appear in Recital

HELEN NORMAN.

FOREST HARDY.

The Flaaten Conservatory of Music and Expression will present some of the piano pupils of Miss Le Carda Eliason in a recital at the conservatory tonight at 8:15 o'clock. Students from other departments of the conservatory will assist. Those who will be on the program are Misses Eliason, Carlotta Lofgren, Katherine Morin, Helen Norman, Rose Spellman, Elizabeth Saksonoff, Madeline Palmer, Gladys Peterson, Madeline Carroll, Sarah Lipstein, Olga Peterson and Doris Gadboice, Carroll Wahl, Karl Palmer, Marshall Knapp, Edward Skinner, Forest Hardy and Carl Lofgren.

Havron-Peterson.

Wedding Takes Place at St. Clement's Church This Morning.

Miss Cecelia Havron, daughter of John Havron, and C. H. A. Peterson were married this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Clement's church by Rev. Raymond Basil. Miss Esther Havron and William Havron, sister and brother of the bride, were the attendants. The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast of twenty-four covers at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. William Harvie, 216 South Sixty-first avenue west.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson will make their home at 4607 Gladstone street.

Explains Orchestra Music

R. Buchanan Morton Gives Characteristics of Different Musical Forms.

R. Buchanan Morton, who gave an illustrated lecture last night at Glen Avon Presbyterian church on the programs of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, explained the function of the conductor, the instruments that make up an orchestra, the structure of the symphony and characteristics of composers, illustrating his points on the organ and piano.

He explained that the lecture was not intended for musicians but for those knowing little or nothing of music, in order that they might know how to listen to the programs that will be given at the curling club Friday night and Saturday afternoon and night.

"An orchestra conductor is often considered more ornamental than useful," he said, "and there are some conductors who are not even ornamental. A well trained orchestra no doubt could play without a conductor, but the conductor is the heart and soul of the orchestra and brings out the best that is in it. The orchestra is an instrument that he plays just as Paderewski and Kreisler play their instruments."

In the description of the various instruments in the orchestra Mr. Morton gave their appearance, in order that those who knew nothing of them might recognize them by sight, told of their tone qualities, and gave illustrations on the piano to show the important parts taken by them in the numbers that will be given by the symphony orchestra.

To illustrate the structure of the symphony, he played passages from Beethoven's Fifth symphony that is on the Friday night program, explaining that the structure is built upon four notes, and the greater a composer, the less profligate he is with his material.

He played Caesar Franck's well-known organ composition, "Piece Heroique," in order to give his audience an iden of the style of that great Belgian composer, who is considered by some critics one of the greatest musicians. He pointed out that beauty is suggested rather than portrayed by Franck, whose symphony in D minor is on the Saturday afternoon program.

Other compositions played on the organ by Mr. Morton were Sebelius' "Finlandia" as illustrative of tone poems and the overture to Wagner's "Tannhauser" as illustrative of overtures in general which generally are composed rather carelessly as they are intended to be played while the audience is being seated.

The lecturer touched upon the work of Tschaikowsky and Brahms, both of whom will be represented on the symphony orchestra programs. He quoted MacDowell who said, "Tschaikowsky sounds better than he is and Brahms is better than he sounds." Tschaikowsky's style was illustrated by the allegro from his sixth symphony which Mr. Morton played on the organ.

A brief sketch was given of the principal composers who are represented on the three programs of the orchestra.

Welsh Society Will Meet in Superior

The Duluth-Superior Welsh society will meet tomorrow night at the home of Mrs. W. J. Morgan, 484 West Sixth street, Superior. A program of Welsh music will follow the business session. Members are asked to communicate with O. J. Williams, Melrose 97 or Grand 269.

Tuesday Club Meets at Ye English Inn

The Tuesday bridge club met yesterday at Ye English Inn, where a luncheon on the gallery preceded the game that was played at four tables. Daisies and buttercups were the decorations used. The club held its winter and spring meetings at the Kitchi Gammi club.

Dixon-Maynard Wedding.

Miss Minnie E. Dixon and Russell G. Maynard were married last night by Rev. Charles N. Thorp of Pilgrim Congregational church at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Maynard, 1131 Lake avenue south. Miss Pearl Mathews was the bridesmaid and Walter Mathews was the best man. The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Harvey Mathews of St. Paul. Miss Marion McLennan played the Lohengrin wedding march as the bridal party advanced to a bower of ground pine and cherry blossoms in the living room where the ceremony was performed.

The bride's gown was of white crepe de meteor trimmed with silk shadow lace. Her veil was caught in cap effect with lilies of the valley and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride roses. The bridesmaid wore a white organdie gown trimmed with lace and finished with a pink satin girdle. She carried an arm bouquet of pink Killarney roses. Mrs. Maynard, mother of the bridegroom, wore flowered crepe volle trimmed with lace and black velvet ribbon.

The wedding reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Maynard, 1127 Lake avenue south. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Murdock McLennan, Mrs. R. T. Bennett, Miss Margaret Murray, Miss Marion Murray and Miss Marion McLennan. A basket of pink potted plants formed the centerpiece of the table on which burned pink shaded candles. White chiffon was draped from the chandelier to the table. The parlor was decorated in ground pine and cherry blossoms and the library with red carnations. Fifty guests attended the reception. Miss Olga Carlson caught the bridal bouquet.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Herman Dixon of Drummond, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Maynard of Superior and Harvey Mathews of St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard left for a trip to the Twin Cities. They will make their home at 2709 Minnesota avenue after June 15.

Little Suffrage Annie.

Suffrage edition, Des Moines Register and Leader:

By Jennie R. Cosson.

Oh, little Suffrage Annie's come to our house to stay
To talk about the cause and drive the prejudices away.
And every argument Pa makes she wipes out with one sweep,
She shows how women all along have earned their board and keep.
And as they ought to vote as well when other tasks are done,
An' we listen to the arguments and have the mostest fun,
And tell Pa when he votes again to mind what he's about
Else the Suffragists 'll get him if he don't watch out.

An' Annie said at once there was a woman anti-suff,
Who shook her head, an' frowned at all this 'mancipation stuff,
She said that votes and ballots were very unrefined
And all us when there's company sh'd be the clinging vine;
But the procession went clean past her and left her in the rear
The world had little use for her and laughed about her sphere;
So you'd better watch your p's and q's and mind what you're about
Or the Suffragists 'll get you if you don't watch out.

Oncet there was a politician who wouldn't say his prayers
And scoffed at women's influence and said he didn't care
A woman's place was in the home, or playing auction bridge,
She didn't know about waterworks and garbage, plants and sich;
So the public heard him holler and the women heard him squall,
But the next day after election he wasn't there at all.

They seeked him in the council room and legislative desk
And in the county office and everywhere, I guess,
But all they ever found of him was his campaign noise about
And the Suffragists 'ill get you if you don't watch out.

Plans of the association for this year's fair are being laid on the basis of making the fair the best ever.

"ANYTHING GOES" IN THE STRAW HAT LINE THIS YEAR

SOME NEW STYLES IN STRAWS.

Duluth is blossoming forth in straw hats.

Warm weather during the last three or four days has made the male a little daring and the hilarious headgear is here. His mate has been wearing summer hats these last five weeks, but not he. Even the proclamation of Mayor Prince declaring May 1 as straw hat day had no effect on the male of the species, who waits until it is warm or at least until June 1.

Heads that have been encased in stiff derbies these many cold months are at last free and they are now topped by lightsome lids.

Those of the male sex, who pine for the bizarre, will have plenty of choice among the styles this season. They can pick out and wear anything they please or have set their heart on to buy. Nothing has been left out. Absolutely nothing.

For instance:

There is the rough flexible straw with a sagging brim, that makes the hat look as if it had gone through a week-end rain storm.

There is the rounded panama, with a globular crown, that makes it look like a bowl.

There is the square crown, the diamond-shaped crown and just the plain, ordinary round crown, with narrow rims and wide rims, high rims and low rims, plain rims and fancy rims and no end of rims.

And lastly, there are hats with colored bands, suggestive of the college campus. They are even more resplendant than some of the socks seen walking around the streets—just about this time when low shoes are worn.

Be stylish or not, as you will, but whatever you do, don't attempt to wear last year's "li'le o'le straw." It just won't get by, that's all.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

When Are We Old?

"I suppose I ought to begin to feel old," said a man who may be 33 years of age at the most. He continued, "I wonder when you do begin to feel old. I feel as young as I did when I started in business a dozen years ago and yet in the nature of things I should think that I would begin to notice a slight retrogression the other way."

When this man asked me when does one begin to feel old, or when ought one to take some stock of his years and his aches and pains and disappointments, I surely was unable to answer, and I know people many times my years who seem not to have arrived at any satisfactory conclusion as to when they ought to act old, and talk old, and capitulate generally to Father Time.

I fancy that the question when to feel old is not one that gives any of us much concern. Undoubtedly though, people stop sometimes and ask themselves if it is possible that they have lived thirty, forty, fifty or sixty years in such a breath, as it were. The longer we live the less able we are to understand that we may have lived to what men call an old age and not been longer at the living. Age is something that you can see steal slowly upon others, but it is something that we are slow to feel ourselves.

Almost any age that you may select, starting from the cradle, is old age until you have attained it, and then there is not even momentary surprise that you do not feel any older than you did five, ten, twenty, forty and fifty years ago. We all look forward to the day when we shall be grown up. Ten, 12 and 14 years represented wisdom and years of which one might be proud, commencing with one's first ambitions.

After this comes the step toward the goal of manhood and womanhood. When we are 21 we shall be grown up indeed. With 21 passed we begin to feel that we shall really be getting on when we arrive at the fortieth milestone.

However, when we have safely attached that birthday, though we may remember that we once considered it very old, we laugh at ourselves and wonder how we could have thought the prime of life was old age. Old age at 40 stretches itself out to 80 years and beyond. I imagine that when one reaches the age of four score he still thinks that there are several things worth living for. We are as old as we feel.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "Lena Rivers."
NEW GRAND—Vaudeville and motion pictures.

Theater Gossip.

That Miss Anne Bronaugh and George Fox would make an excellent vaudeville

WOULD BE SUCCESS IN "TWO-A-DAY"

team, is the opinion of patrons of the Baldwin company who have witnessed the performance of "Lena Rivers" at the Lyceum this week. In the first act of the play they are called upon to sing a topical song, as they heard it sung "in the city." The song and the "business" they interpolate provide much of the comedy of the play, and their admirers claim that Miss Bronaugh and Mr. Fox would prove a success on "big time" if they ever chose to desert the dramatic field. "Lena Rivers" is proving a popular bill and the patrons of the company evidently appreciate an old fashioned love story as a change occasionally. It will continue for the remainder of the week with the usual Saturday matinee.

Opening next Sunday afternoon, "Bought and Paid For" will be the vehicle chosen by Mr. Baldwin. It is by George Broadhurst, author of "The Man of the Hour," "What Happened to Jones" and other successful comedies and dramas. It had a two years' run in New York.

The popular bill, headed by the Emily Smiley Players in "One Woman's Way," now current at the New Grand, will be seen for the last time today. This company of excellent players has made quite an impression during the short run.

FAMOUS MONKEY COMING TO GRAND.

The musical jack-in-the-box, George Dixon; Frish, Howard and Toolan, versatile entertainers, and Hawley and Hawley in their novelty song and talk skeeddalle, are other acts on the bill that go to make the program an entertaining one.

The great $800,000 prize serial, "The Diamond From the Sky;" a three-reel feature, "Sally Castleton Southerner," with Mark McDermott and Merriam Nesbit, and two comedies complete the bill.

Tomorrow the new bill will be headed by Alexander the Great, the man monkey or rather the monkey who made a man of himself. Wayne Marshall and Roberts in musical tid-bits; Bicknell, comedy clay modeler, and Pearce and Roslyn in a whirl of melody are other vaudeville offerings.

Charlie Chaplin will be seen in two reels of side-splitting comedy, "The Tramp," as the photoplay feature; a comedy, a drama and the Hearst Selig news of events complete the bill.

FREE TRIP TO THE EXPOSITION

Carnival Company Will Conduct "Queen Contest" in Duluth.

The Tom W. Allen shows, which will furnish the attractions for the Knights of Pythias big spring carnival to be held during the week of June 14 will hold a queen contest for the most popular young woman of Duluth.

The young woman receiving the largest number of votes will be crowned queen of the carnival and given a free round trip ticket to San Francisco exposition and all expenses paid including berths, meals on train, hotel expenses in San Francisco and spending money to enjoy the sights and many wonderful attractions at the exposition.

This contest is open to any young woman of this city who desires to enter. All that is necessary is to call the contest manager on the telephone, Melrose 66, or Grand 345. He will call at once and explain the rules and conditions of the contest. The standing of the contestants will appear in the newspaper daily until the contest closes. This will be a short contest opening June 4 and closing June 18.

SEEDS OF DISSENSION.

The United States is divided into two camps of hyphenates: The Anglo-Saxons and the German-Americans.—The Fatherland.

If this is true, then it is a very bad thing. Those who have contributed to this unhappy result, if there is such a result, belong in another class of "hyphenates:" un-American. This without regard to where they or their fathers were born.

The Kansas City Star used a very significant phrase in a recent editorial when it spoke of the war in Europe as a "test of the melting-pot."

America is the melting pot of races. Here have come and are coming people from every land. They have been received with open arms. They have been admitted to American citizenship and the privileges and opportunities it involved on equal terms with those who came before them. Mainly they have entered into this solemn engagement with hearts and souls splendidly attuned to the spirit of America. They have made good citizens, most of them. They are not only with us but of us, America is not what it was before they came, but the sum of what it was before with what they brought added to it.

The test of the melting pot is that it shall melt the ingredients put into it, and fuse them into a common mass. Insofar as the war in Europe has developed any such result as the Fatherland declares has come upon us, it is a menacing indication that the melting pot has to some extent failed of its purpose.

In saying this we have no reference to any particular race or class.

Nor do we believe that the Fatherland is right. If the war has developed an unexpected, unwonted seeming of a lack of solidarity in American citizenship, we predict that the ultimate effect of it all will be more solidarity, not less—less hyphenization, not more.

Nobody, no matter where his sympathies may run in this world war, should forget that before all, if he is indeed an American, he is an American. Nobody should forget that some time this war is to end. Nobody should forget that when the war is over, Americans must continue to live side by side as Americans, whether they or their fathers came from England, Germany, France or Russia.

Repeatedly, ever since the war began, The Herald has had to refuse to publish a certain class of matter brought to it for publication by both sides. Some with German sympathies have brought matter calculated to irritate those with English sympathies, and some with English sympathies have brought matter designed to anger those with German sympathies. All of this matter has been refused because its effect simply would be to widen the breach between American citizens, between whom there should be no breach at all, and to increase the difficulty of friendly association under the common tie of American citizenship.

For the same reason The Herald's Open Court has not been open to controversies over war issues.

We do not believe that America is divided into hostile camps. We do not believe that the melting pot has failed to meet the test. We do not believe that there is any considerable element in any class of foreign-born Americans that will fail, at the pinch, to put its Americanism first.

But those who foster race hatreds and who widen and deepen dissension among American citizens are abusing the hospitality that makes it possible for them to believe and think and say and do pretty much what they like.

The Balkan states have really done remarkably well to hold out so long.

ARMING FOR PEACE.

The argument for huge armament as a "guaranty of peace" fell with a crash when the war in Europe broke out. The spectacle that has confronted the eyes of the world since the first of last August has proved over and over again that huge armament, instead of being a guaranty of peace, is a provocative of war.

To those who still hold the belief that the way to prevent war is to arm to the teeth—which is equivalent to saying that the way to prevent indigestion is to over-eat—the following brief and pointed argument from the World's Work is commended:

> The present war proves that great armaments are likely to beget enemies even faster than they develop strength. Great armaments need not necessarily beget enemies, but if they encourage a people to believe in force alone, as they are very likely to do, they become a source of weakness rather than of strength, for they raise up enough enemies to nullify all preparations.
> This is what has happened to Germany. No people could be better organized for war. Germany had the greatest army in the world. It was bigger than the French army, more powerful than the Russian army, superior to any other army. The rulers of Germany knew this, and they seemed to believe also that their rights were as wide as their army was efficient. When France realized the German position the Republic began reorganizing its army. When Russia realized it it began reorganizing its army. When England realized it it prepared its fleet to meet the situation. Nothing that Germany could do could enable her to keep her forces or those of Austria and Turkey increasing as fast as the combined forces of her neighbors.

Maybe the European nations could be induced to make peace on the condition that they be permitted to divide up Mexico.

THE TRAGIC SPECTACLE AT OUR DOORSTEP.

Patience and long-suffering are virtues, but they have ceased to be virtues in the case of Mexico.

It is plain that this unfortunate neighbor has drifted into a mess from which she cannot extricate herself. A fruitless, endless warfare continues, her people are starving in the midst of plenty, and misery reigns where peace and plenty and contentment should prevail.

So President Wilson has decided to tell Mexico that if she can't straighten out her affairs alone, she will have to have help, and that this country will provide it.

The means to be taken is less important than the fact that action has been decided upon. It is suggested that if the quarreling factions cannot agree, the administration will select the likeliest crowd and help it get the power needed to restore order. An embargo on arms except those shipped to the preferred element would be a practical step in that direction.

Manifestly the president considers intervention as a last resort, and he is wise and right, as usual. Certainly until we know where we are going to land in the German entanglement we shall be in no position to intervene in Mexico. Moreover, having intervened in Mexico and with that job on our hands, we should be in a poor position to talk turkey to Germany. Intervention will come when it is necessary, when it is clear that nothing else will do; but not until then.

And by this time nobody who has given the president's make-up the most casual consideration will make any mistake about this: that if we do intervene in Mexico, when we leave, the task done, Mexico will be as whole as she is today. Intervention will not mean conquest of territory with Woodrow Wilson in the White House.

June can get famous by repeating May's weather performances, but it doesn't seem possible anybody like June would want that kind of fame.

IN SUPERIOR.

The Wisconsin railroad commission, which is the state public utility commission, ordered six street car tickets for a quarter in Superior, and the supreme court of Wisconsin has upheld the order. There is talk of appeal to the Federal courts, but the order is likely to stick.

So while Duluth rides at five for a quarter, Superior will ride at six for a quarter.

Why?

One reason is this: That while Wisconsin has wisely adopted the plan of state regulation of public utilities, Minnesota has rejected it; thanks to our "progressives."

Nothing short of the most radical kind of deduction processes will be able to convince the public of the existence of June bridegrooms.

TO PREVENT BLINDNESS.

The Illinois legislature has been considering a measure which would, it is said, be made effective to avert a large proportion of the cases of blindness so pathetically prevalent.

The measure requires that all cases of inflammation of the eyes of infants under two weeks old shall be reported to the health authorities within six hours. It would also require the state board of health to notify physicians, midwives and hospitals of the dangers of infection to the eyes of new-born infants. It would, furthermore, authorize the board to supply, free of charge, a one per cent solution of nitrate of silver to be used as a prophylactic.

It is in these cases of inflammation in the eyes of new-born infants that the vast majority of cases of blindness arise. Properly attended to at that time, they can be cured. Neglected, they lead to lifelong blindness.

It is tragic to think that there are thousands in darkness today, condemned to remain in darkness so long as they live, denied the glory of color, deprived of the beauties of nature and the faces of their dear ones, who might have had sight if the simplest precautions had been taken.

To enact legislation compelling the taking of such precautions seems a simple thing to do, yet if it will accomplish one-tenth of what is claimed for it, every state should do it.

The way the weather leaked during May may have indicated that it had been torpedoed.

FOR THOSE WHO WON'T.

When Duluth has a spring clean-up week three classes of citizens develop.

First, most numerous and, we like to think, including the great majority, are those who put their premises in order because they are themselves orderly and decent. These would clean up whether anybody else did or not.

Second, and much less numerous, is the class that needs to be inspired by example, that needs to be urged, but when it catches the idea swings into the movement with good spirit.

Third, and smallest of all, is the class that does not care, that is well content to dwell in squalor and disorder, and that neither example nor urging has any effect upon. Only compulsion will serve here.

For this smallest class Commissioner Silberstein has an ordinance, which will be given its first reading tonight, empowering the authorities to clean up the premises of such people and charge the cost to them. That sounds like an effective implement, and the council should supply the authorities with it. Then clean-up week will be a very real thing.

Col. Roosevelt is going south. Will he visit that town where they offered to give him a rifle and ammunition if he'd go to Europe?

An Ancient Protest Against War

Kansas City Star: The first great expression in European literature of grief and indignation over an unjust war was in the drama of Euripides, "The Trojan Women," first produced in Athens twenty-three hundred years ago. It was the poet's protest against the action of the Athenian war party in forcing war on the neutral island of Melos. The misery thus unjustly inflicted is shadowed forth in the tragedy of the conquest of Troy. A remarkable translation of the drama into English verse has recently been made by Prof. Gilbert Murray of Oxford.

The tragedy is the more remarkable because of its modern spirit. There are passages that might have been written with the present war in mind, Poseidon, mourning over Troy, exclaims in language that might have come from a prophet of today:

> How are ye blind,
> Ye leaders down of cities, ye that cast
> Temples to desolation and lay waste
> Tombs, the untrodden sanctuaries where lie
> The ancient dead; yourselves so soon to die!

The impression of the wretchedness that comes even to the conqueror is given in the entrance of the conquering King Menelaus, who is shown as "a prey to violent and conflicting emotions." Cassandra warns the cities to "fly from war," and at the end, before the ruins of the fallen Troy, Queen Hecuba cries out against the divine Providence that could have permitted such woe, as many a European woman must have cried out in the last few months:

> God: O God of mercy: • • • Nay:
> Why call I on the gods? They know, they know,
> My prayers, and would not hear them long ago.

As the translater puts it, the tragedy is "only the crying of one of the great wrongs of the world wrought into music." The wrongs continue even to this day, under different guises, but essentially the same.

Copper and Zinc.

Indianapolis News: Copper and zinc, in the proportion of two-thirds of the former to one-third of the latter, make brass, and brass is indispensable in the manufacture of cartridges from revolver size to those for siege guns. The world has heard much of the demand for copper, but little concerning that for zinc, or spelter. As the United States has benefited by the demand for copper, so with spelter, and the Odd Lot Review informs its readers that raw spelter in this country has, within the last eight months, risen from a little more than 5 cents to almost 20 cents a pound. At present zinc producers are making large profits.

A review of the copper and zinc market shows how rich the United States is in natural resources. In 1913 the world produced 2,198,732,130 pounds of copper. Of this quantity, the United States supplied more than half. The value of the 1913 supply of copper in this country was close to $200,000,000. Abroad, Japan led with 161,376,720 pounds. Austria and Germany together produced something under 70,000,000 pounds. England's supply was only 600,000 pounds, but with the help of the colonies this was increased to 118,000,000 or more pounds. Italy's yield was 3,500,000 pounds. Germany at one time got some copper ore from Southwest Africa, but bought a great deal more in the open market, much of this supply coming since the general war began, by way of Italy. Now that Italy has joined the allies, the copper situation in Austria and Germany will be rendered more complicated.

In 1913 the world production of zinc amounted to 1,093,635 short tons. The output of mines in this country, including Alaska, reached 346,676 short tons. Germany was next with 312,075, and Belgium a close third with 217,928. England produced little, depending on her colonies. Zinc is not so valuable as copper, the United States output in 1913 being valued under $40,000,000. Profits continue to increase. Copper has a sounder market than zinc, and it is for this reason that the Odd Lot Review warns investors who are inclining to try the metal market.

Very Much More.

South Bend News-Times: It is claimed there is plenty of good presidential timber, but much of it looks more like lumber.

Sufficient Reason.

Judge: Bilton (sternly)—What's the reason that young man stays so late when he calls?

Miss Bilton (demurely)—I am, papa.

The Glory of War

From the Fairmont Sentinel.

In the course of her study of war conditions in Flanders for the Saturday Evening Post, Mary Roberts Rinehart, the American novelist, secured the following story from Lady Decies, who went over from England to act as a nurse:

"I went to the British consul at Dunkirk and asked him where I could be most useful. He said to go to the railroad station at once.

"I went to the station. The situation there was horrible. Three doctors and seven dressers were working on four-hour shifts.

"As the wounded came in only at night that was when we were needed. I worked all night from that time on. My first night we had 1,100 men. Some of them were dead when they were lifted out onto the stone floor of the station shed. One boy flung himself out of the door. I caught him as he fell and he died in my arms. He had diphtheria as well as being wounded.

"The station was frightfully cold, and the men had to be laid on the stone floors with just room for moving about between them. There was no heat of any sort. The dead were laid in rows, one on top of another, on cattle trucks. As fast as a man died they took his body away and brought in another wounded man.

Every now and then the electric lights would go out and leave us there in black darkness. Finally we got candles and lamps for emergencies.

"We had no surgical dressings, but we had some iodine. The odors were fearful. Some of the men had not had their clothes off for five weeks. Their garments were like boards. It was almost impossible to cut through them. And underneath they were coated with vermin. Their bodies were black with them frequently.

"In many cases the wounds were green through lack of attention. One man, I remember, had fifteen. The first two nights I was there we had no water, which made it terrible. There was a pump outside, but the water was bad. At last we had a little stove set up, and I got some kettles and jugs and boiled the water.

"We were obliged to throw the bandages in a heap on the floor, and night after night we walked about in blood. My clothing and stockings were stained with blood to my knees.

"After the first five nights I kept no record of the number of wounded; but the first night we had 1,100; the second night 900; the third night 750; the fourth night 2,000; the fifth night 1,500."

"Read Lady Decies' account again," writes Mrs. Rinehart, "and try to place your own son on that stone floor of the station platform. Think of that wounded boy, sitting for hours in a train, and choking to death with diphtheria. Read that account again, and then cry for 'war' the next time the national pride receives what it considers an affront. Cry for war—if you dare!"

Forecasts German Demands

Prof. Ernst Haeckel in the Monistische Jahrhundert: In my personal opinion the most desirable fruits of victory, both for the future of Germany and a federated Europe are:

1. The crushing of the English tyranny.
2. The invasion of Great Britain and the occupation of London.
3. The division of Belgium. The largest portion, from Ostend to Antwerp in the west, to be a confederated German state; the northern part to be given to Holland; the southeastern part to be given to Luxemburg, which, thus enlarged, becomes also a confederated German state.
4. A large number of the British colonies and the Congo Free State to go to Germany.
5. France to surrender to Germany some of her northeastern frontier provinces.
6. Russia to be rendered impotent by the reconstruction, under Austrian auspices, of the Kingdom of Poland.
7. The German provinces of the Baltic to be returned to the German empire.
8. Finland, united with Sweden, to become an independent kingdom.

Shiftlessness.

Chicago News: On a dilapidated narrow gauge railroad in a Southern state a traveler was struck with the general air of hopelessness of the entire country. Rundown farms, fences falling to pieces and houses unpainted and dismal were seen as mile after mile were reeled off. Finally a countryman got on and the two fell into conversation. "Country around here looks fearfully dilapidated," remarked the traveler. "Yaas, but jest wait an' ye'll see sumpin' wuss," replied the countryman. The train stopped. They looked out and saw a rail missing ahead. The entire train crew clambered out, crowbars in hand, proceeded leisurely to the rear of the train and in due time loosened a rail and carried it forward. It was spiked into position and the train proceeded. "Somebody stole a rail?" asked the traveler. "Yaas, about twenty years ago, I reckon. Evah since they hain't nobody bought a new one. When the train comes back they've gotter stop an' tear up a rail behind 'em. Ain't that the dilapidatedest thing ye ever see, stranger?"

A Summer Lullaby.

The sun has gone from the shining skies,
Bye, baby, bye;
The dandelions have closed their eyes,
Bye, baby, bye, bye;
And the stars are lighting their lamps to see
If the babies and squirrels and birds, all three,
Are sound asleep, as they ought to be;
Bye, baby, bye.

The squirrel is dressed in a suit of gray,
Bye, baby, bye;
He wears it by night as well as by day,
Bye, baby, bye.
The robin sleeps in his feathers and down,
With the warm, red breast and the wings of brown;
But baby wears a little white gown,
Bye, baby, bye.

The squirrel's nest is a hole in the tree,
Bye, baby, bye;
And there he sleeps as snug as can be,
Bye, baby, bye, bye.
The robin's nest is high overhead,
Where the leafy boughs of the maple spread;
But baby's nest is a little white bed;
Bye, baby, bye.
—Eudora S. Bumstead.

Following Precedents.

Richmond Times-Dispatch: He—How do you justify yourself in breaking off our engagement, in view of all the endearing letters you have written me?

She—Oh, those letters were merely scraps of paper. Besides, they are opposed to the true spirit of neutrality the president urges and in which I have come to regard you.

Literary Bulls

Arthur Foedick in The Writer.

"Newspaper English" is referred to often in a slighting way, although newspapers generally are written in good English—much of it particularly strong, bright, and brilliant English—and many of the errors which the critics note with scorn are the result of necessary haste in preparing copy, typographical errors, or oversights in the rush of proof-reading. The important newspapers are very well-written, as a rule, and such faults as they show are frequently excusable. Less leniency is due in the case of faulty English in books and magazines, which are prepared with more leisure, so that those who are guilty of lapses in expression do not have the excuse of hurry. The authors, in the first place, ought to take more pains in writing, and if they are careless or ignorant, the editors ought to give more attention to revision. For instance, the editor of the Atlantic Monthly—once meticulously edited by Mr. Aldrich—should not have allowed a writer in the Contributors' club, in the February number, to say: "I screamed in silent rage." The month before the Atlantic printed a story the heroine of which sits "partly prone in in her worm-eaten armchair." Mr. Aldrich, Mr. Howells, or Mr. Perry would not have let that pass.

One of the March magazines had a story in which one of the characters is made to say: "What, therefore, was our surprise to find Tish sitting by the fire in her bathrobe and slippers, with a cup of tea in her lap, and her feet in a tub of water." In Munsey's Magazine a story writer says: "The walk had been long and sunny. Davidson stood wiping his wet neck on the piazza," and in the same magazine another story writer tells us: "James awoke with a fine sensation of uplift in head and heart. Victoria had kissed her hand to him! He loved the world. He breakfasted on a corner of the writing table."

Frenzied fiction writers make their heroines and heroes do queer stunts. An Outlook writer says: "His straining hands tore the words from the depths of his soul and threw the secret in the cobbler's eyes." According to a Saturday Evening Post story teller, "The girl tore her eyes from the stage, but her ears still lingered," and one may read in a story in the Cosmopolitan: "He was breathing hard; his pulses were beating in his ears; he tore his eyes from her face, and they fell upon her arm flung across him."

In the Cosmopolitan again, we may read: "Kennedy nodded negatively," and, in another number: "The legless man picked up a silver dollar from among the papers in front of him, and tore it savagely into four pieces." In a story in the Ladies' Home Journal we are told: "Mrs. Galway had given up the parlor again, and was in bed with a novel and a kerosene lamp."

"The two dark eyes on each side of his protuberant nose." says G. K. Chesterton, in one of his stories, "glistened gloomily like black buns." In "The Danger Mark," Mr. Chambers' heroine writes that her "throat is full of tears." A magazine writer says: "I reached New York at night. The whole city swung like an iridescent bubble in the luminous darkness." "He look at her," says Henry C. Rowland, in the Saturday Evening Post, "for a long instant." In the Century for March, a story writer says: "Mrs. Rideout closed her lips tightly. 'It would be the death of her,' she said." Kenneth Harris, in the Saturday Evening Post, informs us that a maid "rapped softly on the door lintel." Silence in the woods is described in "The Call of the Cumberlands" with the phrase: "No sound, except at intervals the clear 'Bob White' of a nesting partridge." In a story in McClure's Magazine we are told: "And the moon fell. He saw it crash silently into the lake."

Many authors apparently do not know that the word "hiss" has a definite meaning; that one can hiss the exclamation "Serpent!" or "Sorceress!" but not "Foiled!" or "Coward!" So we find:

"Do you or do you not want to hear this proposition?" he hissed.—Wallace Irwin, in McClure's Magazine.

And seems to hiss, "Haunted!"—James Montgomery Flagg.

"I will never speak to you again so long as I live," hissed Dollie.—Saturday Evening Post.

"He rushed across to her and, taking her by the scruff of the neck, hissed: 'Go and tell them I've got the child. They can come and fetch it at my place, Rue Chateau-briand.'"—Leblanc's "The Crystal Stopper."

"You done me up, you done me up, you lobster," hissed the bookmaker.—L. B. Yates, in "Major Miles and the Hummingbird," in the Saturday Evening Post.

Even Thackeray wrote in "Henry Esmond": "'Have you ever heard me utter a word in my lord's disparagement?' she asked hastily, hissing out her words."

Authors sometimes clothe their characters in strange attire—with complaisant editors' consent. "A frock coat, a string tie, and a high hat comprised his attire," says a writer in the Saturday Evening Post, and in the same more or less carefully edited publication we have three pictures drawn by Mary Roberts Rinehart thus:

"He looked very tidy and wore the shoes we had had repaired, a pink carnation in his buttonhole, and an air of suppressed excitement."

"The center was empty save for a swarthy gentleman in a fez and his shirtsleeves, wearing a pair of green suspenders and dancing alone."

"But that was not all. In front of the machine, marching slowly and with dignity, were three bearded gentlemen, two in coats and one in a striped vest."

Plausible.

Chicago News: In Washington William Collier was once conversing with a man of much scientific attainment. The scientist narrated in detail a series of experiments he was conducting with the microphone.

"The microphone," said he, "magnifies sounds to the ear as the microscope magnifies objects to the eye. The footfalls of a spider heard through the microphone sound like the tramping of marching infantry."

"That is amazing," politely commented Mr. Collier.

"This afternoon," continued the man of science, "I heard a fly walking across the pane. The noise resembled the hoof-beats of a cavalryman's mount."

"Perhaps it was a horse fly," suggested the actor.

Duluth and The Herald

Bouquets and Brickbats from the State Press.

Come on Along.

Brainerd Dispatch: The Northern Minnesota Editorial association is planning on a splendid meeting and a royal good time at Duluth on the occasion of its annual outing, which will occur Aug. 6, 7, 8 and 9. The business session will take place and one day will be spent in the city that will entertain the editors and from Duluth the side trips will take place, one of which will be to Isle Royale and other points on a steamer chartered for that purpose. Special trains will take the party over both ranges, where committees will entertain the visitors. Invitations have been issued to the members of the other state associations and it is now expected that 150 editors and their families will take advantage of the excellent opportunity to personally inspect that part of Minnesota which adds so much wealth to the great commonwealth of the state. The people of Duluth will take special pains to give the party the best there is in the locker and the newspaper boys and girls of the state will miss it if they allow business to interfere with this pleasure trip—in reality an educational pleasure trip.

In Sweet Accord.

Stillwater Gazette: "Did you ever see anything to beat war for mussing things up?" asks the Duluth Herald. No, we never did; housecleaning isn't one, two, six.

Wow!

Grand Rapids Independent: The Duluth News Tribune advances editorially the startling statement that cricket is much like baseball. Verily it is—as much as the News Tribune is like an American newspaper.

Municipal Classification.

Park Rapids Journal: Polk county went the county option way Monday and fifty-three saloons, fourteen brewery distributing depots and two breweries will soon go out of business. The three "prize-fighting" cities of the state, Duluth, St. Paul and Minneapolis, will soon have this "extra dry" problem passed up to them.

Appointment Pleases.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: The appointment of R. D. McKercher, humane officer of Duluth, as police chief of the Zenith City was pleasing news to many of the Duluth man's friends in Hibbing, who are well acquainted with Mr. McKercher from his occasional visits made here in the interests of his office. Mr. McKercher will fill the place of Chief Troyer, who resigned to accept a position at Fargo, N. D.

Postmaster Is Wrong.

Stillwater Gazette: Duluth has a resident, Judge Ensign, who is 82 years of age and has just commenced his twenty-seventh year on the bench. Believing what Postmaster General Burleson says, he is too old for the duties, but we don't believe Burleson knows.

A Pat for Samuelson.

Grand Rapids Independent: John E. Samuelson, formerly court reporter in this judicial district, has been named first assistant to the city attorney of Duluth. Grand Rapids will be pleased to hear this good news of a semi-local man who always was a genial good fellow.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

Do not forget as you go on your way
Through this busy world, with its toil and strife,
Often a kindly word to say
To those you meet in the paths of life.
Do not forget that a smile of cheer
May comfort a heart that is sad and drear,
And brighten a day that is hard and long.
The burning words that forever live
It may not be yours to speak or give—
But there's heart and hope in a bit of a song.
Do not forget that wherever you go
Kindly deeds may be found to do.
No one so poor but can bestow
The help that will courage and faith renew!
No one so weak who can not give
The hand that may help a soul to live
And rise again from the trodden clay!
Splendid achievements may never be yours,
But the deed that for love's sake is done endures,
And will blossom forever from day to day.
—By L. M. Montgomery.

Is not the meat cut off before our eyes, yea, joy and gladness from the house of our God?—Joel 1, 16.

The prophet here chides the madness of the Jews, that they perceived not things set before their eyes. He therefore says that they were blind in the midst of light, and that their sight was such that seeing they saw nothing; they surely ought to have felt distressed, when want reached even to the temple. For since God had commanded the first fruits to be offered to him, certainly the temple ought to have been honored with its sacrifices; and though mortals perish a hundred times through famine and want, yet God ought not to be defrauded of his right. He afterwards adds that joy and gladness were taken away; for God commanded the Jews to come to the temple to give thanks and to acknowledge themselves blessed, because he had chosen his habitation among them. Hence this expression is so often repeated by Moses, "Thou shalt rejoice before thy God;" for by saying this God intended to encourage the people the more to come cheerfully to the temple; as though he said, "I certainly need not your presence, but I wish by my prescence to make you glad." But now when the worship of God ceased, the prophet says that joy had also been abolished; for the Jews could not cheerfully give thanks to God when his curse was before their eyes.—Calvin.

Compensations.

Puck: "Poor Mr. Hennypeck!" exclaimed Brownson, sympathetically. "It wasn't enough that his wife should own and operate him, body and soul, Mrs. Hennypeck has now joined the suffragettes."

"Don't breathe a word," replied Smithson, "but Hennypeck is tickled to death. His wife speaks at all the outdoor meetings and is so hoarse when she gets home that she can't raise her voice above a whisper."

A Question of Economy.

Chicago News: "Your legal department must be very expensive."

"It is," sighed the trust magnate.

"Still, I suppose you have to maintain it?"

"Well, I don't know. Sometimes I think it would be cheaper to obey the law."

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1895.

On June 4 the marriage of Miss Sophy Milford McLaren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Finlay McLaren, and Renwick Barwise Knox will be solemnized at St. Paul's Episcopal church. Bishop McLaren of Chicago, uncle of the bride, will perform the ceremony. Miss Charlotte McLaren, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Misses Maren Miller, Martha Peyton and Anna Graff of Duluth and Miss Watson of Marquette, Mich. The best man will be Herbert H. Knox of New York, brother of the groom.

The engagement of Miss Maren Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Miller, and Samuel S. Bradley was announced yesterday by card. Mr. Bradley is secretary of the New Duluth Land company and a graduate of Ann Arbor university.

A farewell bachelors' dinner was given yesterday at the Spalding by Parke W. Hewins, who will soon enter the married state. Mr. Hewins, who has made his home in Duluth for several months past, left today for Boston.

The genial Mr. Pickwick's trial for breach of promise on the complaint of Mrs. Bardwell took place at the Temple last night before a large audience. Among the high school young men and women who took part in the play were Hamilton Peyton, Ray Ober, Clarence Taylor, Herbert Abbott, Edwin Morgan, Will Coventry, Carl Driesbach, Alfred Thwing, L. French, W. Cleland, Albert Schulze, Charles Kent, Clara Bull, Rose Wickey and Phoebe Zimmerman.

The St Paul Morning Call, which was started last September by the veteran journalist, H. P. Hall, announced in yesterday's issue that it would retire from the field, having sold its subscription list and good will to the St. Paul Globe.

J. H. Sanderson and son Ollie of Grand Rapids, Mich., are spending the summer with Mrs. J. T. Condon. Mr. Sanderson is Mrs. Condon's brother.

William Thompson, who for three years has been secretary of the Terminal Elevator company, has resigned. He will go to Indianapolis to enter the clothing business with his son-in-law, Elmer French, formerly of Duluth.

Fair Enough.

Harper's Magazine: "The palm for absent mindedness," says a Princeton man, "is probably due to a learned professor on the faculty of my university.

"One day this professor noticed his wife placing a large bouquet on his desk.

"'What does this mean?' he asked.

"'Why,' she exclaimed, 'don't you know that this is the anniversary of our marriage?'

"'Ah, indeed, is it?' said the professor, politely. 'Kindly let me know when yours comes around and I will endeavor to reciprocate the favor.'"

His Hens Were Honest.

Chicago News: A dairyman and farmer personally applied to a town housekeeper for a transfer of her custom to himself.

"I hear dot you haf a lot of drouble with dot dairyman of yours," he said. "Yust you give me your custom, and dere will be no drouble."

"Fresh!" repeated the man, in an indignant tone. "Let me dell you, madam, dot my hens nefer, nefer lay anything but fresh eggs!"

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

OFFICE MEN AND HOLIDAYS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The laws of the city compel the merchants to close their places of business on Sunday and they close them on all legal holidays as well. Now what is the reason these other so-called business men can transact business in an office on Sundays and legal holidays? Or why do they? Is the almighty dollar so hard to catch that they must pursue it relentlessly seven days a week and often far into the night? Or do they call it recreation? I know positively that yesterday, Memorial day, in one office building alone thirty-eight out of forty-three offices were occupied all or part of the day. If all the people were like them there would be no use having a parade, as there would be no one to look at it. On a day like this practically all industries tie up for the day, the railroads cut their crews down to a minimum and every worker is let off for the day that can possibly be spared. Now why don't these office men get a little patriotism and Christian spirit and show some of it?

SHIRKING PUBLIC DUTY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In this era of shallow, active thinking, there is always more or less danger of mistaking cause for effect, of reasoning from insufficient data, or drawing wrong conclusions from even well established premises by a process of false or biased reasoning. It is this faulty reasoning that often helps us, or seems to help us, to so befuddle our fellow citizens and even ourselves, that our most selfish neglect of duty often passes for genuine patriotism.

In a democracy, the best citizens are always actively interested in public affairs. And these, comparatively few, patriotic citizens deserve the highest praise for furnishing this compulsory "post-graduate course" for corrupt politicians. Possibly the citizen, who is not actively interested in public affairs might, if he entered politics, rapidly develop into a fit candidate for this unattractive schooling. There are many excuses given by men for their refusal to take an active interest in public affairs; but I pity the man who attempts to defend his inactivity by asserting that there is too much corruption in politics for him to enter the arena. I believe such a man wholly unworthy of any serious consideration.

I do not say that all who are not actively interested in public affairs are potentially bad. But that they are not good citizens of a democracy is an axiom. And the man who is too good to fill the place for which his endowment and capacity best suit him, is altogether too nice for a democracy. A good soldier is not afraid of a little mud nor frightened by the weak places in the enemy's line.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I read in The Herald of May 29 a suggestion by Capt. Henry Cleveland that the city of Duluth should celebrate the Fourth with a "sham battle."

No, do not lead us into temptation! Shall the national day of United States be a day of showing our cunning in practicing how to kill?

Is there not any better way whereby we could show our intelligence than to invite men, women and children to witness such old foolish nonsense? It is savagery. I believe it is all a joke. Have we not had enough of battles? Or are those memories of 1862, '63 and '64 so sweet that we shall invite the people of Duluth to a sham battle?

Never has the world looked much darker then it does right now.

When we read about those nations today that are up in arms against one another, we must ask, "Are we civilized? Are those nations there now killing each other civilized?"

If they are, then civilization is a myth and Christianity a mockery.

We see how millions have been reduced to cannon food. We see thousands upon thousands of women and little children fleeing from their homes and made beggars and wandering slaves. We hear the cry of all those fatherless sons and daughters, who never shall see their loving father and protector again. We see the young men, the hope of home and future, strewn out over the battle fields like ashes. We see them in rivers of blood. We see them with arms cut off and eyes out.

No, the people of Duluth do not want a sham battle on the Fourth. We should be farther advanced, as I hope we are, and show our intelligence for something more useful and noble. If we shall celebrate the Fourth of July, let us have something that would be in accordance with an intelligent nation. But, don't call upon our young men to show their strength in killing! We are tired of it. TOM MYHRE.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

Requests have been received for "Ogulalla," "When You Wore That Tulip," etc., from a Biwabik reader.

Long, Long Ago.

Tell the tales that to me were so dear,
Long, long ago, long, long ago,
Sing me the songs I delighted to hear,
Long, long ago, long ago.
Now you are come, all my grief is removed,
Let me forget that so long you have roved,
Let me believe that you love as you lov'd
Long, long ago, long ago.

Do you remember the path where we met,
Long, long ago, long ago.
Ah, yes, you told me you ne'er would forget,
Long, long ago, long ago.
Then, to all others my smile you preferr'd,
Love, when you spoke, gave a charm to each word,
Still my heart treasures the praises I heard,
Long, long ago, long ago.

Tho' by your kindness my fond hopes were raised,
Long, long ago, long, long, ago.
You by more eloquent lips have been prais'd,
Long, long ago, long ago.
But by long absence your truth has been tried,
Still to your accents I listen with pride,
Blest as I was when I sat by your side,
Long, long-ago, long ago.

Chased By Submarine.

Montreal, Can., June 2.—The Allan liner Corsican, which arrived at Glasgow yesterday with about 1,000 passengers, was chased by a submarine near Queenstown, according to a special cable dispatch to the Montreal Star. The Corsican received a warning by wireless from the Megantic and was on the lookout for the underwater craft.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Has a Cancer Roots?

THE popular conception is that a cancer has roots and the popular conception is right. It has roots, but not in the sense usually conceived. That is, the irregular borderline between normal tissue and cancer tissue is one of the characteristics which distinguish malignant degenerations or cancers from mere swellings or tumors.

But the roots of a cancer are like the roots of a weed—if a portion of the root is left behind the growth will continue, even though you remove practically the whole plant. The roots rather take nourishment from the cancer, and not the cancer from the roots. The natural order is reversed. The old-time doctors believed with the people that it was useless to remove the cancer; the modern doctors believe that it is wise to remove the cancer and at the same time extirpate all its roots, to prevent renewed growth.

Skin cancers, of all kinds, seem the least excusable. On the cheek, the lip, the forehead, the eyelid, a small wart-like spot or node may be noticed for years. It doesn't seem to change much, but often bleeds when touched, or perhaps shows a tendency to scale or become irritated at times. How simple and harmless to remove that trivial thing by clean, painless surgery! But how difficult to do anything at all when the little wart assumes malignant tendencies and begins to grow.

Caustics and amateur efforts should be carefully avoided. They are likely to fail, or worse, to stimulate rapid growth; sometimes serious blood-poisoning is the penalty of such bungling. It is one of the unexplained mysteries why people should prefer to take desperate chances on a "cancer paste" or the dirty methods of an itinerant "cancer doctor" instead of submitting to the safest, least painful and least disfiguring method of surgical removal.

Perhaps it is just human nature to love mystery.

They Give Bad Advice.

I have muscular rheumatism which has caused me much suffering, but they tell me there is no cure for it, so I have not consulted a physician. Can you advise me?

ANSWER—"They" generally give bad advice—it is easy, since they have nothing to risk. Don't be the victim of your friends. Place yourself under medical care—not for the sake of your friends, but for your own sake. Certainly there is relief. It would be remarkable if you cannot recover your usual health.

Nasal Catarrh, a Symptom.

I am suffering from nasal catarrh which is pulling me down terribly. The people claim they can cure me by mail. Would you advise me to invest $5 in the cure?

ANSWER—Nasal catarrh is not a disease susceptible of treatment; it is a symptom of some local or general condition which must be determined and treated. Don't be young—keep your $5. A letter of advice—but no cures!—will be sent on receipt of stamped addressed envelope. The mere fact that there are some sixty-odd "catarrh cures" marketed, ought to make you a bit suspicious of the whole lot.

Breathless on Exertion.

My daughter, 19, in school, suffers with pounding heart action and shortness of breath on going upstairs. Kindly tell me whether this indicates anything serious.

ANSWER—Anemia, pleurisy with effusion, unrecognized heart disease or nephritis might cause such symptoms. Just to be on the sensible side, take her to your physician and have a physical examination, like a life insurance test, you know.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to Health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through these columns; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnoses. Address all letters to Dr. William Brady, care of The Herald. All questions will be answered, whether they come from people residing in Duluth or outside, provided they comply with the rules here stated.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person sending it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

C. H. Nugent, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.—Could you kindly give me some information for the benefit of these Canadians who are under the impression the United States power does not amount to much. I am unable to convince them without facts, so please furnish me the facts as near as possible.

First—How many dreadnaughts has the United States?

Second—How many first class battleships?

Third—How many officers and enlisted men has the Unitd States navy? Has she her full quota?

Fourth—How many dreadnaughts and first class ships has she under construction?

Fifth—What is her standing army?

Sixth—What number has the militia?—The United States has eighteen battleships classed as modern and twenty-two older battleships all ranked as first class, with four building or authorized. The eighteen and the four new ones might be classed as dreadnaughts. The number of men in the navy including petty officers, seamen and apprentices is about 52,000, which is not quite the full complement. The standing army numbers about 86,000 officers and men and the militia about 122,674 officers and men.

Reader, Chisholm—Will you please inform me if Trieste, Austria, has an American consul. What is his address? Where is one nearby? Is it possible for him to help parents of an American naturalized citizen to come to America when they are not subject to military duty? What is the law regarding American naturalized citizens who wish to have their parents come to this country?—The American consul at Trieste is Ralph C. Busser. No further address is needed. Whether or not he could help get your parents out of Trieste or not, depends entirely on what the conditions there are. He would undoubtedly do all in his power to help you as long as it did not interfere with the laws or the regulations of the Austrian government or military authorities. He has no right to demand permission for them to leave if they are not citizens of the United States.

BLOODY NOSE FROM SHRAPNEL ONLY INJURY.

Struck squarely on the nose by flying shrapnel, stunned for several minutes, to awaken and find a bleeding nose as the only hurt, was the odd experience of Richard Rankin, sergeant of a company in the Canadian contingent now in France. Sergeant Rankin is a nephew of Robert Rankin, a local printer. In a letter to Mr. Rankin, the young man tells about his experience on the battlefields. There are only a few survivors of his regiment, Sergeant Rankin writes.

DISPATCH BOOTH STAYS.

Conductors Will Hand Reports From Cars, Eliminating Delay.

The booth used by the Duluth Street Railway company at Third avenue west will remain, but the company has agreed to cut down the traffic delay at this point by eliminating the near stop so that conductors can hand in their reports.

This announcement was made yesterday by Commissioner Silberstein, following receipt of a communication from Herbert Warren, manager of the company. The latter stated that it would be impossible to remove the booth, but that he will arrange immediately to avoid any unnecessary delays at this point.

Mr. Warren will order all conductors to hand their reports to the Third avenue switchman without stopping the cars, thus eliminating the first stop.

ENDS TWO DECADES AS DEPUTY CLERK OF COURT

Much regret is felt among attorneys and others whose business has taken them frequently to the municipal court at the dropping of M. S. Lloyd from the deputy clerkship. Mr. Lloyd's connection with the court, ended yesterday, coincident with the close of that of John G. Ross as clerk.

That the new occupants of the office, Clerk E. A. Thompson and Deputy Ed Furni, will prove efficient is not doubted, but Mr. Lloyd's uniform courtesy in his twenty years of service, and his willingness to accommodate those having business with the court at all times, brought to him scores of close friends among the court's patrons and pleaders, and he left his desk yesterday, the recipient of many hearty wishes for his well-being in the future in whatever business he chooses to embark.

M. S. LLOYD.

Mr. Lloyd became deputy clerk of court twenty years ago under Judge W. D. Edson, and has served steadily ever since. His long service has made him a mine of information regarding court matters and his grasp of the court business has been of great aid to lawyers who had cases before that tribunal.

Mr. Lloyd will remain a Duluthian, but will go to Cleveland and other points in the East to visit relatives and rest for a time. He will leave next week for Detroit to take a trip on Lake Erie. After his vacation he will return to Duluth, but, as yet, has made no plans for the future.

"You must feel like a fish out of water," a friend said to him today, in offering best wishes for the future.

"Well, something like that," agreed Mr. Lloyd. "But science is making such strides that I am in hopes that a fish may be taught to exist out of water."

BAT THE RAT

Join the Clean-Up Club and Kill Off the Rats.

Boards of health everywhere are trying to exterminate rats, because of their menace to health and destruction of property. But without waiting for the health authorities to do the work for you, do your duty and use the only effective weapon in the war on rats, Stearns Electric Paste. Get a two-ounce box from your druggist for twenty-five cents and in one night it should kill off all the rats and mice in your home, barn or garage.

Remember above all that killing a rat now is as effective as killing a dozen a couple of months later. Use Stearns Electric Paste now and prevent further breeding. Directions in fifteen languages in every package.

CHECK ON BILLIARD AND POOL TABLES

There will be no increase in the present number of billiard and pool tables, until the population of Duluth reaches 108,500.

According to the Hicken code, the number of tables permitted to operate in Duluth must be limited to one for every 500 population, or a fraction thereof. The present population of the city allows but 157 tables, but the 217 tables now in use will be permitted to remain until the population allows another increase. There were 217 tables in use when the Hicken ordinance was passed and the council agreed at the time to allow that number to operate.

Commissioner Silberstein announced yesterday that no new pool licenses will be granted until the population warrants an increase.

BETTER RATES FROM THE COAST

Duluth Will Benefit Materially in Readjustment By Railroads.

That Duluth will profit by the struggle being made to readjust rates from the Pacific coast points, is already evident, according to reports received here by traffic men.

The railroads are slowly making changes in rates from coast points, and while no tariffs have yet been issued, and probably will not be for some time, owing to the difficulty of rapid adjustment, some freights have been agreed upon. For instance, it is learned that the rate on canned salmon from all Pacific coast territory to Duluth will be 62½ cents as against 70 cents now prevailing. It is understood also that similar advantageous reductions in favor of this point have either been practically settled upon or are likely to be soon.

Steel is a commodity which is being wrestled with and it is believed that Duluth will be given a rate that will put her on the map as a steel center and free from unjust discrimination. However that is not yet fully determined.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR MRS. M'KEON

Body of Accident Victim Brought to Duluth By Stepson.

Funeral services for Mrs. Thomas McKeon of Sioux Falls, S. D., stepmother of T. J. McKeon, 213 South Seventeenth avenue east, Duluth attorney, were held from the Sacred Heart Cathedral this morning at 9 o'clock. Interment was at Calvary cemetery. Mrs. McKeon was 70 years old.

Mr. McKeon, Sr., arrived from Long Beach, Cal., yesterday afternoon, with the body. Mrs. McKeon died May 25, several hours after she had been struck by a high-powered automobile while crossing a road near Long Beach. Her skull was fractured in the accident.

Helps Quell Mutiny.

New York, June 2.—Capt. Markeschlaeger of the steamer Dayton, which arrived yesterday from Tuxpam, Mexico, reports having boarded the American bark Normandy from Gulfport, May 4, for Liverpool, seventy miles south of Cape Hatteras, to help quell a mutiny among the crew. One man had been shot, Capt. Markeschlaeger said. After quieting the trouble, the boarding party left the bark, which proceeded for Liverpool.

PEARSON LOSES AGAIN.

Milwaukeean Denied Warrant in Anti-War Munition Move.

Milwaukee, Minn., June 2.—District Attorney W. C. Zabel yesterday refused to issue a warrant applied for by Attorney Henry Cochems on behalf of Gen. Samuel Pearson, charging officials of the Allis-Chalmers company with criminal conspiracy in connection with the alleged manufacture of war munitions for the allies.

In refusing the application the district attorney said he must obey the opinion of Judge Turner; that he could not disregard the court's judgment without being guilty of contempt. The court's ruling, he said, would stand until otherwise ruled upon by the supreme court of Wisconsin.

The new high speed, long stroke, valve-in-head motor with overhead cam shaft is what makes it "get away."

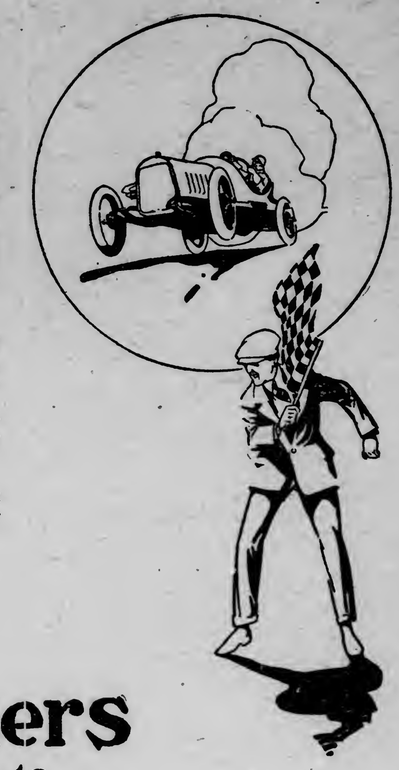

It is efficient, very flexible and unusually compact.

This new motor gives the car the power of a locomotive.

A wonderful new spring suspension, a new principle, makes it ride like a Pullman.

Come in and let us introduce you to this "new thoroughbred."

COURT DISMISSES SUIT FOR DAMAGES

Mrs. Hattie Ryckman Fails to Establish Contention in Injury Action.

In district court yesterday afternoon Judge Bert Fesler, on the motion of the defendant, dismissed the personal injury suit brought by Mrs. Hattie Ryckman against Richard C. Sloane. The motion to dismiss was granted by the court after Mrs. Ryckman had rested her case.

Mrs. Ryckman sued for $5,200 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained by her in a fall on a sidewalk on the premises she was renting from Sloane, the defendant. The accident in question occurred on the evening of May 17, last. Her injuries consisted of a broken left ankle.

The plaintiff attempted to prove that the injuries in question were due to the negligence of the landlord in not keeping the premises in repair. Both of the litigants are residents of the West end.

DULUTH WOODMEN TO RECEIVE DELEGATES

Nearly 100 Members Expected Here for School of Instruction.

Duluth camp, No. 2341, Modern Woodmen of America, will make plans Friday evening for the entertainment of delegates who will attend a school of instruction to be held at the Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street, Aug. 25. It is expected that from seventy-five to 100 members from various camps in Northeastern Minnesota will attend.

The school will be conducted during the day by Head Consul A. B. Talbot of Lincoln, Neb.; J. J. McNamara, head clerk; John Sundeen of Minneapolis, state deputy, and other prominent leaders of the order.

The session will be held during the forenoon and afternoon and in the evening a reception will be planned for the visitors. In addition it is planned to put on degree work by the Duluth camp.

VALUABLE PRIZES FOR WINNERS AT WEST END FESTIVAL PARADE

HAZEL SELSETH.

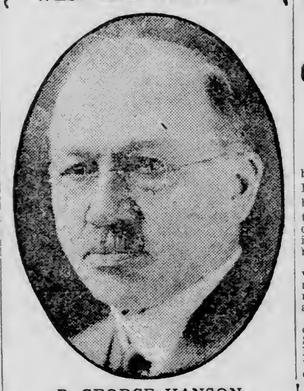

WILLIAM BOWE.

Hazel Selseth, 2413 West Seventh street, and William Rowe, son of Patrick Rowe of Rural Route No. 1, Highland Park, are the winners of two prizes offered by the John J. Moe & Sons' company on the night of the festival. The former was awarded a handsome graduation dress, while the latter will receive a new suit of clothes.

During the parade Friday evening 5,000 envelopes containing numbers, the duplicates of which were at the store, were thrown at the crowd from the J. J. Moe & Sons' float. The children who were lucky enough to get the right numbers were the two named.

The scramble for the envelopes Friday night was one of the interesting features of the parade.

P. GEORGE HANSON.

Among the pioneers of the West end who have taken an active part in the upbuilding of this section of the city is P. George Hanson. Mr. Hanson has been in the realty business in this part of the city for nearly a quarter of a century.

"My faith in the West end has never slackened," said Mr. Hanson yesterday. "This city is destined to become a great metropolis and its people will have to reside where they can purchase homes or rent at reasonable prices. Such conditions are to be found in the West end. It is also my opinion that a few years will see a great change in this end of the city, the business district probably in the next decade rivaling that of the center of town."

WILL DECIDE ON AWARD OF PRIZES

Commercial Club Will Arrange Presentaton for Beautifying Clubs.

Just what prizes and how they shall be awarded to members of the West End Beautifying clubs probably will be announced tomorrow evening at the meeting of the West End Commercial club. The meeting will be held in Simonson's hall, Twenty-first avenue west and Superior street.

The club has appropriated $25 towards these prizes and considerable more has been given by the business men. Some of the business men have also given valuable articles as prizes.

The members of the committee in charge of the campaign are L. A. Simonson, Capt. K. A. Franklin and A. B. Width. A complete list of all of the boys and girls who have charge of districts is in the hands of the committee. This list includes a plat of the districts and shows which part each boy or girl has charge of.

GIVES ADDRESS TO DIVINITY CLASS

Rev. F. O. Hanson Returns From Exercises at Augustana College.

Rev. F. O. Hanson, pastor of the Trinity English Lutheran church, returned this morning from Rock Island, Ill., where he attended the graduating exercises of the Augustana Theological college last Wednesday. Rev. Mr. Hanson gave the principal address. A class of thirty-one divinity students were given their diplomas.

This class of students will be ordained Sunday, June 13, at the Augustana Lutheran church of Minneapolis. It is probable that Rev. Mr. Hanson will attend this ceremony.

On his return, Rev. Mr. Hanson visited in Minneapolis, where he has under way the organizing the new English Lutheran churches. These congregations will be fully organized before fall, he announced this morning.

EPWORTH LEAGUE ELECTS.

First Norwegian-Danish M. E. Church Society Holds Annual Meet.

The annual election of officers for the Epworth League of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street, was held last night. The following officers were elected: Henry A. Anderson, president; N. G. Sorum, first vice president; Miss Alice Sorenson, second vice president; Miss Emma Iverson, third vice president; Farby Selseth, secretary; Roy Sorenson, treasurer, and Miss Mabel Christianson, organist.

The society raised $171.29 in a recent contest, according to reports made. Miss Emma Iverson, leader of the winning side, raised $96.69, and Miss Algot Thygeson's side raised $74.60. It was also planned to discontinue the early Sunday evening devotional services of the society during the summer months.

WILL START NEW FACTORY

L. D. Stickles Will Head Shoe Manufacturing Company at Red Wing.

A shoe manufacturing company, headed by L. D. Stickles of Duluth, will soon be started in Red Wing. The company will begin operations with a capital of $25,000, but this will be increased as the business grows.

Men's and children's summer shoes will be the chief lines manufactured.

Mr. Stickles has been in the shoe business in Duluth many years, and knows every department of it. He was formerly treasurer and general manager of the Northern Shoe company here, and is widely known among shoe men of the Northwest. In regard to the project the Red Wing Republican says:

L. D. STICKLES.

"The new industry is a very promising one and is expected to grow in a few years to the proposition of other successful Red Wing factories. The beginning, of course, will be conservative, but the foundation of the business will be such as to anticipate rapid growth. In the course of time the factory should give employment to a large force of people. Red Wing is to be congratulated upon this addition to its industries.

"Mr. Stickles will be in Red Wing again the middle part of the week, when the details for the incorporation will be considered."

EXPECT MANY FOR MEETING

Hallock Preparing to Entertain Red River Valley Developers June 16.

Many Prominent in State Affairs to Take Part in Discussions.

LESLIE WELTER,
Of Moorhead, President of M. R. V. D. A.

Hallock, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—All arrangements have ben completed for the gathering of farmers and business men here June 16-17 for the second annual convention of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association. The program for both days will be interesting, the sessions will not be long and tedious, but short and snappy with good live speakers on both days, good entertainment features and the still farm and other sights that will be of general interest.

The first day after the preliminaries of the convention have been disposed of, President Leslie Welter of Moorhead presiding, the program will be turned over to the Red River Valley Livestock Breeders association with President Thomas R. Canfield at the helm, and a splendid program has been prepared by President Canfield and Secretary Selvig. Among the speakers will be Senator L. E. Potter, C. P. Craig of Duluth, F. W. Harding, secretary of the American Shorthorn Breeders association, Chicago; and C. F. Curtiss of Ames, Iowa, Prof. W. A. McKerrow of the St. Anthony park school, Prof. William Deltrich of the Crookston school of agriculture, and one or two others will be on the breeders program the first day. The morning sessions will be held in the Alfalfa Wigwam here, and the afternoon session at the Hill farm, where splendid thoroughbred types will be available to illustrate the talks. The latter part of the afternoon of the 16th will be devoted to a joint session in the wigwam at which Governor Hammond and several other state officials, senators and representatives will talk briefly. The evening of the 16th a splendid free entertainment will be provided by the people of Hallock.

Senator Clapp to Speak.

On June 17 general development topics will be discussed by Senator Moses E. Clapp, Thomas Cooper, director of agriculture at the North Dakota Agricultural college at Fargo; A. D. Wilson, Dean Woods and probably President Vincent of the University of Minnesota, with short talks expected from President Weld of the Moorhead normal, and President Osgaard of Concordia college.

There will be plenty of good band music as well as vocal numbers and the people of Hallock and vicinity have provided for 100 automobiles which will be at the service of convention visitors free of cost. In addition to the senatorial special, the Great Northern has provided a special train on June 16 leaving Crookston at 7 o'clock and arriving at Hallock shortly after 9 o'clock in ample time for the opening session at 10 o'clock and returning will leave Hallock after the evening program is completed. A feature of the second day will also be a great gathering of farmers' clubs members at the convention and the program will be arranged with this fact in view. Several large automobile tours are also being arranged and a grand gathering is assured.

PROBE MAKI CASE.

Carlton County Grand Jury Looking Into Cromwell Killing.

Carlton, Minn., June 2.—The murder of a homesteader named Maki near Cromwell, a few months ago, presumably for robbery purposes, is being probed by the grand jury now in session here. There are other cases also to be looked into by the inquisitors.

Another case to be looked into is that of La Prairie, an Indian policeman, on the Cloquet reservation, alleged to have attacked a school teacher and her sister. There are about a score of cases on the civil docket.

ODD FELLOWS ELECT.

North Dakota Encampment Chooses Officers at Devils Lake.

Devils Lake, N. D., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—George W. Buckingham of Grand Forks was elected head of the North Dakota Odd Fellows' encampment, which is holding its annual session here.

Other officers elected are: Grand high priest, P. B. Regnile, Esmond; senior warden, G. H. Noyes, Cogswell; junior warden, George Elmslie, Devils Lake; grand scribe, H. J. Rowe, Casselton; treasurer, J. S. Cole, Lisbon; marshal, J. M. Palmer, Wolford, N. D.; inside sentinel, Frank Frazier, Walhalla; outside sentinel, C. E. Edquest, Mandan.

SAY PETITIONS ARE DEFECTIVE

Attorneys Finding Flaws in North Dakota Referendum Papers.

Fargo, N. D., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—That referendum petitions are insufficient, and, in the form circulated, are not valid, is the claim of some local attorneys who have investigated the form of the referendum petitions that have been sent broadcast over the state in an endeavor to hold up enactments by the last legislature.

This announcement is causing a great deal of speculation here and from the prominence of the attorneys making the statement is regarded that there is a possibility of knocking out the petitions, should any be filed.

The fatal defect, it is asserted, is that the petitions as circulated contained only the title of the measure against which the referendum was being invoked.

Should Bear Entire Bill.

The attorneys contend that in order to be legal the petitions should contain the entire bill in full and that the blanks for signatures should be attached at the end of the complete printed bill. They contend that a mere synopsis of the bill, or the title, does not convey to the average signer detailed information regarding the matter in controversy and the voter would be dependent on such information as given him by the circulators of the petition rather than by his own objection and actual knowledge and that such signatures might easily be obtained through misrepresentation and would not in reality express the sentiments or the desires of the signer.

Should this contention hold it will be an easy matter to nullify the efforts of those who have invoked the referendum, in case the requisite number of signatures have been obtained to any of the measures attacked.

SETTLERS PLANTING VERY MANY TUBERS

Large Yields of Potatoes in Floodwood District Expected.

Floodwood, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Garfield Blackwood is breaking ground for a frame residence across the street from Mr. Hingley's new bungalow. Blackwood & Co., having finished building their lumber yard, are now putting up coal sheds on the east side of the Great Northern tracks. They also plan to construct a potato warehouse, in readiness to handle this year's crop. Nearly every settler is planting larger acreage to potatoes than ever and if the season is favorable thousands of bushels of tubers will be shipped out of Floodwood.

REEDER, N. D., CONCERT.

Jacob Hjort, Noted Choral Leader-Farmer, Preparing Treat.

Reeder, N. D., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jacob L. Hjort of this city will give his fifth annual concert festival here next Sunday. These concerts are the big musical event of the southwestern part of North Dakota.

Mr. Hjort came here from Minneapolis several years ago, broken in health, and took a homestead near here. His health improved and he began to interest himself in the organization of a choral society as he had been prominent in musical circles in Minneapolis. His success was marked and he built up one of the best choral unions in the state.

This year the society under Mr. Hjort's direction, will put on "The Rose Maiden" for the annual festival. Mrs. Madge King-Johnston, soprano; Dr. M. C. Johnson, tenor, and Robert Welsh, baritone, all of Aberdeen, are the only outside vocalists. E. W. Christopher, violinist, of Scranton, is the only outside instrumentalist. Miss Ethel Breckenridge, soprano, and Miss Minnie Tufton, pianist, of this place, are prominent in the organization.

Vote on Postmaster.

Crosby, N. D., June 2.—At a mass meeting of Crosby Democrats to select a man for the appointment of postmaster of that city, D. W. Madden was chosen by a large majority.

HENNEPIN DRY ELECTION.

Start Movement Looking to Election Some Time in October.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 2.—Minneapolis dry workers are planning to meet on Friday to make plans to circulate petitions for an election under the county option law.

David P. Jones, chairman of the committee of business men which met last week, and Dr. George B. Safford, secretary of the Anti-Saloon league, held a conference Tuesday afternoon to complete plans for the meeting at which it is expected to institute an organization that will reach into every precinct in the county.

The committee in charge has decided to start the petitions in circulation July 1 and to complete the work of gathering signatures by the first week in September. The election will then be held the latter part of October. It is planned to get a majority of the electors in Hennepin county to sign the petitions, although only 12,488 names are needed to call an election.

MILWAUKEEANS VISIT THE COPPER COUNTRY

MAYOR G. A. BADING.

Houghton, Mich., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Headed by Mayor G. A. Bading many members of the Milwaukee Merchants' & Manufacturers' association arrived in the Copper country this morning on a trade visit to local merchants.

The special excursion train arrived over the Copper Range at 8 o'clock a. m. and the party spent the morning in Houghton, departing in the afternoon for Calumet and intermediate points and will leave at midnight over the South Shore for the Iron country and the Soo.

No special entertainment is offered the visitors, at their own request, but the members of the Copper Country Commercial club and of the Copper Country Credit bureau placed their automobiles at the service of the visitors.

New Rockford, N. D.—Mrs. Matilda Weible, aged 42 years, died at a Fargo hospital May 31. She is survived by a husband and four children to mourn her death. She was the wife of Charles Weible, prominent New Rockford resident. The funeral was held here.

Minnewaukan, N. D.—During an electric storm here lightning struck the judges' stand in Prospect park, badly damaging it. Another bolt ran along a wire fence and ignited the grass and a prairie fire was narrowly averted.

Leeds, N. D.—J. B. Peterson, president of the school board here, has been making a test of the eyes of the school children and found that 60 per cent of the pupils have some kind of eye trouble.

Dickinson, N. D.—The baccalaureate address to the graduating class will be given by Dr. J. M. Walters of Fargo at the high school on Friday evening, June 4, assisted by the pastor of the city. There are fifteen to graduate, twelve girls and three boys.

Fargo, N. D.—The annual meeting of the board of trustees of Fargo college will be held at Jones hall Tuesday morning, June 15, at 10 o'clock, and at 10:30 o'clock the same morning will be held the annual meeting of the board of incorporators of Fargo college, also in Jones' hall.

Hillsboro, N. D.—Dr. E. P. Robertson, president of Wesley college, Grand Forks, took part in the local Memorial day program. Dr. Robertson delivered the principal address. One of the speakers was Bruce Pollock of Fargo, who won the state oratorical contest. Mr. Pollock spoke on "The Opportunity of the United States to Promote World Peace."

Bismarck, N. D.—A. A. Jones, chief dispatcher of the Soo line at this point is the only candidate so far filed for the position as member of the school board.

Devils Lake, N. D.—Deputy F. E. Elliott and Sheriff Martin Olsen, arrested a couple and turned them over to Sheriff Turner of Grand Forks to answer the charge of robbing a farmer of $250 there. The pair, going under the name of Andy and May Uhler, were traced by Deputy Elliott by a trunk which they checked from Grand Forks last Tuesday.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Green Lake—C. E. Dillon, alias Dutton, was arrested here, charged with check forgeries on three Minnesota banks, State bank of Sanborn, May 5, $25; First National bank of Tyler, May 10, $30, and First National bank of Redwood Falls, May 12, $25.

Oshkosh—Damage estimated at $25,000 was caused by a fire in the Northwestern freight depot here May 31. The east half was destroyed together with eight cars loaded with merchandise. Capt. Heitz of the fire department, was overcome by gas fumes, but was rescued. Four explosions were caused by gasoline and oil barrels which helped to spread the flames.

Racine—John Christianson, a farmer, living near Norway, this county, was probably fatally injured by a horse which kicked him in the head fracturing his skull.

Oconomowoc — Mitchell Gabuske, aged 11, who has been missing from his home several days, returned Sunday, having been visiting friends in Milwaukee.

Fond du Lac—Mrs. Anna Killilia died at the home of her son, John, near Eden, Monday, aged 101. Mrs. Killilia was born in Lockrah, county Galway, Ireland, on March 25, 1814, and had been a resident of this county seventy years.

Neenah—S. B. Morgan, prominent in local banking circles, died here on Monday after a few days' illness. Hernia was the cause of death. He was 68 years old. A wife survives.

Green Bay—A hatching of chickens was taken from the incubator at the East High school. From about 115 eggs, 94 chickens were hatched. These will be raised in a brooder. In a former lot only two chickens out of seventy died.

Ashland—Andrew Farrow of Bayfield was blown to pieces by an explosion of dynamite while blasting stumps.

Appleton—Adolph Menning shot at a rat with a .22 caliber rifle. He missed the rat, but hit Miss Clara Detman. Her corset saved her from serious injury.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Moorhead—The fine new Norwegian Trinity Lutheran church, which is now under construction at an estimated cost of $87,000, will be a splendid addition to this city. The building is approximately 64 feet wide and 117 feet in length, and is being built of dark-colored variagated Hebron pressed brick with Kasota stone trimmings.

East Grand Forks—Dr. C. E. Coles, pastor of the Mendenhall Memorial Presbyterian church, Sunday night preached the baccalaureate sermon for the graduating class of the local high school. The regular commencement exercises will be held next Friday night.

Mankato—The Minnesota Live Stock Breeders' association will hold its annual meeting in this city Thursday and Friday of this week.

Grand Marais—John Fischer and Ben Bockenhauer arrived here last week from Winona, having driven all the way with a team of horses and a heavy work wagon. They have bought the Eli Vizina homestead in Colvill and will live on it.

Minneapolis—Dorothy Jennings died at the city hospital from a bullet wound sustained Saturday night when an automatic revolver belonging to Mathew McNeil was accidentally discharged in a room in the Empress hotel. Two hours before the woman's death McNeil was released by the police after he had convinced them that the shooting was accidental.

Rochester—More than 5,000 people of this city and county witnessed the unveiling of the statue of the late Dr. W. W. Mayo, father of Doctors William J. and C. H. Mayo, in Mayo park, remaining throughout the entire program during a heavy rain.

St. Cloud—John F. Scott of St. Cloud, who is a student in the college of law at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, has been honored by being elected to the membership of the Society of Barristers.

Bemidji—Mrs. Knute Haugen died here May 31. Mr. Haugen and family moved here from Montana a short time ago on account of Mrs. Haugen's poor health. She had been suffering from heart trouble for several months past. She leaves a husband and two children.

Red Wing—Prof. M. O. Wee, who for the past seven years has been instructor in the theological department at the Red Wing seminary, has accepted a call to become pastor of the Norwegian Lutheran church at Kalispell, Mont.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Negaunee — Toivo Hietamaki and Johan Ruhkala left Monday night for New York, where they will sail Thursday on the Scandinavian-American line steamer United States for Christiania, Norway. They will go by rail from Christiania to their homes in Finland.

Ishpeming—Zenith lodge, Knights of Pythias, will send first and third rank teams to the annual reunion of the Upper Peninsula Pythian league, to be held in Menominee June 22, 23, 24 and 25.

Munising—Although 700 votes were cast at the "local option" election on April 5 last, less than 200 taxpayers of Munising took the trouble to go to the polls last week to vote on the proposition to bond the city for $50,000. The total vote cast was 167. Of that number, 137 were in the affirmative and 29 in the negative.

Houghton—The annual influx of beggers is on. The Copper country annually is the objective point of a goodly number of the maimed, the halt and the blind, and latterly they have become so numerous that Sheriff Cruse has ordered a general hegira.

Hancock—Bishop Eis of Marquette Sunday confirmed large classes of children at St. Joseph's church, Hancock; St. Ignatius church, Houghton, and at the Dollar Bay church.

Ishpeming—James Blomgren, an employe of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, suffered a fracture of the left arm Saturday evening when he ran his motorcycle into a horse being driven by James Kemp of the A. W. Conradson company.

Negaunee—Jack Withell and Jack Rund had a narrow escape from serious injury Sunday night near the Cleveland location at Ishpeming, when the horse they were driving was bitten by a dog. The horse pulled the buggy into a curbing and it was upset over an embankment. The occupants were thrown out. Rund was picked up unconscious and was taken to the Ishpeming hospital, along with Withell, whose hand was badly injured.

Bessemer—In the case of Julia Morrison against the city of Ironwood, in which the plaintiff asked for $3,000 damages for an injury alleged to have been caused by a defective street, Circuit Judge Cooper directed a verdict for the defendant. Miss Morrison was injured on March 17, last, while crossing a street.

Iron River—C. S. Sullivan, manager of the Royal and Grand theaters of Escanaba, has become the owner of the Empire moving picture theater here. Edward Brazell was the seller.

Newberry—The graduating exercises of the high school will be held June 18, when a class of twenty-two graduates will receive their diplomas. This will be one of the largest classes ever graduated from the city schools.

Ironwood—Harvey Nelson of Ironwood has received a patent on a new device for an automobile fender of his invention. This is not the ordinary fender to protect the occupants of a car from mud, but one to go on the front end of a car to prevent injury to people in case the car strikes them.

To You Who Wait Your Baby's Coming

Have you stored your scented boxes with clothes of dainty charm? Have you stored your mind with the wisdom that mothers need? Have you learned about the bathing and the regular feeding — and have you learned — most of all — about the food?

Fortunate your baby if you can nurse him. Learn this now—(you will prove it after the baby comes). If you can't nurse your baby—he must have something so near your own milk he won't feel the difference. Give him

Nestlé's Food

Your grandmother and your mother believed in it. The mother of today believes in it still more. Five mothers use Nestlé's today where one used it seven years ago.

There are so many reasons why cow's milk is not best. So many dairies are dirty — so many cows are sick — so many thousands of babies get summer complaint and even consumption from cow's milk.

But in cow's milk there is something that is good for your baby — and that something is preserved in Nestlé's Food.

Nestlé's is made from the milk of healthy cows kept in sanitary dairies. All the heavy parts of milk are modified, so that the curd is soft and fleecy as in mother's milk. All that your baby needs and the calf doesn't is added. It comes to you in a tight can — you add only fresh water.

Send this coupon for a big can of Nestle's (enough for 12 feedings) and for the book about the Care of Babies by Specialists.

All Babies Destined to Great Achievement

To be born is to be great. For there are possibilities in every tiny human infant. And for this reason every one should remember that whatever is done to aid the mother, to relieve her of distresses during her trying months, will surely be of marked benefit to the child.

Among the sterling aids is a splendid external remedy known as "Mother's Friend." It is what is called an embrocation. It is applied to the abdominal muscles, gently rubbed in by your own hand guided by your own mind. It makes the muscles pliant, they expand quite naturally and the effect upon the nerves is such that they adjust themselves to the process of expansion so that pain from this source is almost eliminated. Women who use "Mother's Friend" refer to the absence of morning sickness, they are relieved of a great many minor distresses, all apprehension disappears and those peculiar nervous "fidgets" no longer disturb the nights. It is well named "Mother's Friend." Get a bottle today of any druggist. Then at once write for a most entertaining and instructive book for all prospective mothers. WHITE SOX DEFEAT THE FORT BILLS IN FAST GAME

Third Game of Series Won By the Dooks By Score of 4 to 1.

Jackson Hurls Great Game Until Injured—Turner Finishes It.

BY BRUCE.

Impelled by ravenous hunger for victory the Dooks turned yesterday like the fictitious worm and rended the Fort Bills. Our side won by the count of 4 to 1. Eddie Jackson started the knolling, giving way in the eighth after turning his ankle. By turning his ankle Jackson gave Turner a turn. Three ball combination. Lorenzen started glibly and finished for the visitors in drab fashion.

Right away in the first round Wertz was punctured by a ball, swiped second, advanced on Durham's single and came galloping home on Fortier's sacrifice loft to right. That was all for the Fort Bill aggregation.

In the second round Fusner busted a sizzling single past third. Lorenzen came to bludgeon practice and did something quite unusual for the pitching union membership lodge—that of busting a two-baser to center. Fusner hiked madly for the plate. James Collins got the ball, heaved it on a straight line to Brown, who in turn whiffed her to Paw Paw Sweeley, who tagged the sliding Fusner on the eyebrow.

After that last gasping effort the visitors subsided and turned over and played dead. Eddie Jackson had their number and big Turner, after the demise of Edward's ankle, continued the noble work of turning the visitors back to their base of supplies.

In the fifth Wolfe walked and swiped second. A passed ball sent the short fielder down to third, from whence he counted on a rousing swipe down the third base line by Shorty Sweeley.

The seventh proved the gladsome round. John Truman was hit on the ulna bone to start the festivities. Wolfe forced the right fielder at second. O'Brien was safe on Weidell's error. Sweeley singled to center and Wolfe ran the run register. O'Brien and Sweeley executed a double theft. Weidell erred on Jackson's offering and O'Brien philandered home. Fusner made a throw to catch Sweeley off third and Wines dropped the ball, Bert counting. Wines heaved to second to catch Jackson hurrying down to the middle sack, and it was in sliding by the bag that Edward put his watch-holder on the fritz.

That was about all for the afternoon. Turner went in at the start of the eighth, but seven men facing him. Not a hit was gathered off his delivery.

Today the visitors are making their last stand of the series.

BACK IN THE MINORS CHAPPELLE GLOWS AGAIN

LARRY CHAPPELLE.

Now that Larry Chappelle is back in the American association he is clouting the ball with demoniac fury and fetching effectiveness. There are some players who look like the greatest stars in the world in the minors and fail to shine in the big show. It looks as if Chappelle, rated as one of the greatest hitters ever sent out of the association, was one of these birds.

Meadows allowed Cincinnati seven scattered hits and was given good support. Score: R. H. E.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Senators 5; Athletics 3.

Philadelphia, June 2.—Battery and fielding errors gave Washington a 5-to-3 victory over Philadelphia yesterday. The visitors scored three runs off Wyckoff in the second inning on two singles, two passes, two stolen bases, a wild pitch, a passed ball and two errors by McAvoy. They got two more in the third off Bressler on an error by Kopf, a pass, an out and Morgan's single. Philadelphia hit Johnson's delivery hard in the second session, after which the Washington twirler was almost invincible. Score:

Red Sox 4; Yankees 3.

New York, June 2.—Boston won from New York here yesterday in thirteen innings 4 to 3. Wood and Keating met in a great pitchers' battle, the local pitcher losing in the thirteenth when Speaker walked, stole second, took third on Lewis' infield out, and scored on Hoblitzel's single. New York led off with a hit in the eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth innings, but failed to get a runner home. Score:

Boston	2 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1	4	10 3

Faber Going Strong.

Chicago, June 2.—Urban Faber won his eighth straight game yesterday when Chicago defeated Detroit 4 to 1. Eddie Collins made three hits and scored three of the locals' runs when his team-mates bunched hits behind him. The first run of the locals was a gift. Breton drew a base on balls and went to second on a passed ball. He took third on another passed ball and scored on a wild pitch. A base on balls to Crawford and a triple by Veach saved the visitors from a shut-out. Score: R. H. E.

Juniors	3	0	1.000
Sophomores	2	1	.667
Freshmen	1	2	.333
Seniors	0	3	.000

The juniors of Central high school won the interclass championship yesterday by defeating the seniors in the final game of the class schedule by the score of 5 to 3. The game was played on the London road grounds.

The game was by far the best played and most interesting contest of the series. Although it was generally expected that the third year men would win the game, the great fight put up by the seniors was the surprise of the affair. Both Rasmussen of the junior aggregation and Peterson of the older nine were in good form, and the fight was not decided until the game was over. A remarkable catch by Lindsay, playing left field for the juniors, was one of the features, it stopping a threatening rally by the seniors. The lineup:

HRUTFIORD IS NOW HERO OF CENTRAL

Wins Two Silver Cups and One Medal at State Track Meet.

As a result of his victories Saturday afternoon in the Northwestern Interscholastic field meet, held on Northrop field, Minneapolis, Skuli Hrutfiord, the star Central high school track man, was the most popular boy in school yesterday. He received congratulations from all sides, and everyone was loud in praise of the great feat of the local boy.

He carried off two firsts and one second in the three events in which he was entered, the result of wins in the 220-yard dash and the broad jump, and a second in the 100-yard dash. Had Hrutfiord made as good time in the latter event as he did in Duluth, he would have won it easily. Hrutfiord tied for individual state honors with Hutchinson of Faribault, each man having got 13 points. Two beautiful silver cups and a silver medal were the trophies brought home by the local boy, the cups being for firsts, and the medal for the second. Each of the cups is about eight inches high.

One more entry for the big track meet to be held on the afternoon of the coming Saturday was received yesterday by Athletic Director Glyer, when Chisholm high school announced its intention to participate. Hibbing has written to the effect that it will not be able to take part. Beside the four high schools of the Twin Ports, and possibly Cathedral high, it is the intention of Glyer to have the high schools of Virginia, Two Harbors and Cloquet send representatives to the meet.

RAILROAD FARES HAVE BEEN PAID BY OTHER CLUBS

Magnate Blume Says He Paid Railroad Transportation of Old Players From Their Homes to Duluth and That Other Clubs Did the Same—Grand Forks Club Evidently Only One to Stand By an Agreement.

BY BRUCE.

From Harry Blume comes the information that he was compelled or induced to pay the transportation of the old players to Duluth, and that Superior, Fort William and Winnipeg did the same. According to the local magnate, Ted Finch of Virginia promised to pay back the transportation expense to any player that made good.

In view of this statement of conditions in the league, it looks as if the Grand Forks management may be forced to recede from the stand taken yesterday, when the refusal of Director Kavanaugh to reimburse the players for expenses incurred in getting to Grand Forks from their homes precipitated a strike.

If the strike goes through, it will prove a serious matter for Grand Forks and the Northern league. It will be difficult for the management of the Grand Forks club to recruit a real team at this time, should the players remain firm in their resolve to refuse to play unless reimbursed for railroad fares.

The Pulford fight hurt the league, and a strike would not help matters any. President Burmeister is endeavoring to straighten out the tangle and thus avert a nasty situation. While the magnates united in the resolve to refuse to pay transportation expenses of the players before the start of the season, it looks as if the rule had been voluntarily violated. Burmeister may find some justice in the contention of the striking players and decide that their stand is right. Should the officers of the Grand Forks club remain obdurate, there may be some trouble brewed in this very latest stormy petrel of the league's affairs.

A Strike Means Trouble.

Should the Grand Forks management refuse to recede from its stand and should the players steadfastly persist in refusing to don their suits, a nasty situation will arise out of the economical craze of the Northern league magnates. Early in the winter the magnates resolved to reduce salaries, to refuse to pay the railroad fare of the players to the training camp, and to cut out all spring training trips. The strike yesterday is the direct result of the decision of one club of the league to stand by an agreement entered into by all of the clubs.

It brings up the rather paradoxical situation of both the players of the Grand Forks club and the Grand Forks club being in the right. The players cannot be blamed for refusing to stand for paying their railroad fares if the other clubs of the league are refunding the transportation charge, and the officers of the Grand Forks club can hardly be censored for standing by a rule made to refuse to pay transportation ex-last winter.

NORTHERN LEAGUE

RED SOX DEFEAT THE ORE DIGGERS

Swampers Accumulate Five Runs in One Round and Win 8 to 4.

Superior defeated Virginia yesterday by the score of 8 to 4. The home team made five runs in the sixth inning off six hits, in the fusillade being a home run clout by Bassey. Chicken allowed Virginia twelve hits, but succeeded in keeping the blows of the visitors fairly well scattered. Wright was replaced by Dorman after he was touched up in lively fashion.

ROY PATTERSON TAMES UHLANS

Former Big Leaguer Pitches Peggers to 4-to-2 Victory.

Fargo, N. D., June 2.—With Former Manager Roy Patterson in the box, Winnipeg defeated the locals here yesterday by the score of 4 to 2. Until the ninth the former big leaguer was invincible. In this inning a single, double, steal and sacrifice fly yielded two runs. Two singles and a triple spelled ruin for the Uhlans.

GOLF TOURNAMENTS IN TWO CENTERS

Men and Women Play at St. Louis and Latter Contest at Philadelphia.

St. Louis, Mo., June 2.—Harry Alden of St. Louis, one-time state and city champion, was eliminated from the 1915 championship tournament of the Missouri Golf association here yesterday, by Cy More, also a local player, 2 up. Alden B. Swift of St. Joseph, present state champion, was an easy winner over Morris Gordon of Jefferson City, taking the contest 5 up and 3 to play.

Other out-of-town men eliminated were C. A. Cruikshank, the so-called boy wonder, of Hannibal, Mo., and C. E. Woodruff of Springfield, Mo. Cruikshank was defeated by Arthur Stickney, former city champion, who won with 4 up and 3 to play. Woodruff lost to B. A. Jenkins of Kansas City 3 down and 2 to play.

A. W. Warren of St. Joseph eliminated Sterling Edmunds, a local star, winning 1 up and 2 to play.

Defaults and one-sided scores marked yesterday's play in the first match round of the women's state golf championship tournament in progress here. Mrs. E. E. Morrison of Kansas City, the only out-oftown woman to qualify for the championship play, defeated Mrs. A. H. Boeckler, 8 up and 6 to play.

Only three of the twenty-six matches were close contests. The widest margin of the day was made by Miss Grace Semple, St. Louis Country club, who won from Mrs. George Sweitzer, Normandie club, 9 up and 8 to play. The best performance yesterday was that of Mrs. C. E. Lansing Ray, who, after defeating Mrs. Fred Plant 8 up and 7 to play, turned in a medal card of 93 for the 18 holes, the lowest score of the tournament either in match or medal play.

Philadelphia, June 2.—Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow of Philadelphia with a card of 86, led the field of seventy-two players yesterday in the opening round of play for the championship of the Women's Eastern Golf association on the links at Merion. Eighteen holes of medal play were on the program and eighteen more will be played today. Miss Harriet Curtis of Boston and Mrs. C. H. Vanderbeck of this city, each with a card of 88, were the only other contestants to cover the course in less than 90 strokes.

Other low scores were Miss Margaret Curtis, Boston; and Mrs. R. H. Stockton, Plainfield, N. J., each 94; Miss Fanny C. Osgood, Brookline, 95; Mrs. E. H. Fitler and Miss Anita Phillips 97 each, and Mrs. C. F. Fox 99.

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 2.—Zack Wheat was the hero of a 5 to 4 11-inning victory by the Brooklyns over Philadelphia yesterday. After the visitors had forged ahead by a ninth inning rally, Wheat came up with two out and two strikes called and tied the score with a homer to deep left. He came up again in the eleventh with the bases full and one out, and scored O'Mara with the winning run by making an infield hit. The locals bunched hits off Alexander in the second and fourth, getting a three-run lead. He was taken out in the eighth and Demaree finished the game. Score: R. H. E.

JACK DOYLE JOINS DOOKS

Former Fargo Outfielder Is Signed to Play Rightfield.

Jack Doyle, last season and part of the present season playing the outfield with the Fargo club, has been signed by Dook O'Brien and will appear in the line-up of the Dooks today or tomorrow.

Also it was announced that there may be a shift in the infield of the White Sox. Several of the infielders are not going very well, and unless there is a change things will be doing.

Blume was turned down on a pitcher he was after. Following this refusal the local magnate got busy on the wires and sent an ultimatum to the management of the Toronto club of the International league.

The Toronto club was told to either send Blancke to Duluth post-haste or instantly make good the amount of his sale. It may be expected that Blancke will be here or Herr Blume will be enriched to the extent of $1,000.

Doyle and Kirkham were released from Fargo yesterday. Kirkham failed to show much this season and Doyle is in the throes of a batting slump. Fargo is after Otis Clymer, until a few seasons ago accounted one of the stars of the American association. They go fast when they start.

NO CHANGES WILL BE MADE IN SCHEDULE.

John Burmeister, head mogul of the Northern league, is authority for the announcement that there will be no change in the schedule of the Northern league. Winnipeg and St. Boniface will continue to play opposition games.

Several of the magnates, Harry Blume among them, protested against the second playing chart that was drawn up by Mike Cantillon. It was after the dissatisfaction shown by several of the magnates that big John refused to change the schedule.

ST. PAUL PUG CLEARED OF OPPONENT'S DEATH

St. Paul, Minn., June 2.—The coroner's jury last night returned a verdict exonerating John Neu, a local fighter, whose opponent, John Simmer, another local fighter, died, after falling unconscious to the floor of the ring at a club recently during a scheduled ten-round bout. The jury found that death resulted from the fall, and not from a blow by Neu.

GRADE TEAMS TO PLAY OFF

Series to Determine Winners in Two Divisions Begins.

Here is something the kids of Duluth have been waiting for the greater part of the present baseball season—the announcement of the date of the grade school city baseball championship games. According to the statement made today, the winning teams will begin the title series at Athletic park on Monday afternoon.

The semi-final contests to determine the two teams that will meet for the city title will begin today. Some great games are expected. In the Eastern division the Washingtons and Jeffersons will meet at the grounds on Twelfth avenue east and London road. In the Western division those great rivals, the Lincolns and Adams, will fight it out on the Thirty-second avenue west grounds.

As there is the greatest rivalry in the world between all of the teams, and as all of the players will strive desperately to get into the city championship series, the games should be corkers.

Between the Adams and Lincolns there has been a deadly rivalry all the season. Both of the teams are very evenly matched. The outcome of the best two in three games is uncertain. Should two straight games be won in either series that will decide it without the necessity of playing the third game.

Milwaukeean Wins.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 2.—Al. Taylor, Milwaukee, yesterday afternoon defeated Joseph Mayer, Philadelphia, 300 to 170, in the first block of a 2,400-point billiard match, 18.2 balk line.

Calumet Blocks League.

Green Bay, Wis., June 2.—All efforts to organize cities of Northern Michigan and Wisconsin into a baseball league have been abandoned, due to the fact that Calumet, Mich., business men could not be induced to finance a club.

Trade in Federal League..

Baltimore, Md., June 2.—It is announced that Right Fielder Benny Meyer of the Baltimore Federal league club had been traded for First Baseman Joe Agler of the Buffalo Federals.

Glover Defeats Wells.

Boston, Mass., June 2.—Mike Glover of this city won a decision over Matt Wells, the British welterweight, in a twelve-round bout last night. Wells had the advantage in only two rounds.

Intercollegiate Tennis.

Chicago, June 2.—The University of Chicago tennis players won the championship of the college conference in doubles yesterday, Gross and MacNeil defeating Maurice and Herbert James, brothers, representing Northwestern. The scores were: 6-2, 6-4, 3-6, 8-6. Curran of Ohio state defeated Bennett of the University of Chicago, 6-1, 1-6, 6-2, winning the singles championship.

BUCKNAM PASHA DIES IN TURKEY

Once Captain of Duluth Vessels and Later Turkish Admiral.

Ransford D. Bucknam, better known in recent years as Bucknam Pasha, who was formerly rear-admiral in the Turkish navy, died at Constantinople last week. Born at Hansport, N. S., in 1869, he spent several years of his early life in the little town of Emerson, Man. Soon after his birth he was brought to Mount Desert, Me., and at the age of 4 years, his father, a salt water sailor, having lost his life, young Ransford was left to the care of an uncle, living in Worcester, Mass. Soon after the family moved to Emerson. The boy did not like the new country. It was inland and he longed for the sea.

At 14 he started for New England and the coast. He got as far as Duluth and there obtained a place as cabin boy on a steamer commanded by Capt. Lewis Elliott. Two seasons he remained on fresh water, spending his winters with Capt. and Mrs. Elliott at Romeo, Mich. They were father and mother to him, but he wanted to go to sea.

Again he ran away. This time he reached Boston and got a berth on a ship bound for Australia. Two years later he returned to the lakes and became mate on the Iron Duke, a ship owned by Capt. Elliott.

Subsequently Buckman became master of a whaleback steamer at Duluth, and remained in the employ of the American Steel Barge company for some time, later going to the Pacific coast where he was connected with the Pacific Mail line. Subsequently he entered the employ of the Cramps Shipbuilding company at Philadelphia. Cramps obtained an order to build the cruiser Medjidich for the Turkish government, and when it was delivered Capt. Buckman was first officer. The sultan took a liking to him and made him a rear-admiral with a salary of $12,000. In this capacity he built up the present Turkish navy.

WAR MAKES GREAT CHANGE IN FRANCE

Great Spiritual Awakening Is Spreading Over the Country.

New York, June 2.—That war conditions have developed in the French people a new spirit of idealism is declared by Dr. E. W. Bysshe, superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal mission in France, who has just arrived in New York.

"Formerly frivolous, selfish, pleasure-loving," says the missionary, "the all-absorbing purpose of the French today is to fight this war to a finish, in the belief that lasting peace may thus be secured not only for their own nation, but for the whole world.

"It is largely the women of France who are keeping the country alive," continues Dr. Bysshe. "They show rare courage, patience and willingness to sacrifice to the very limit, taking their places in the fields, or behind the counters of little shops, while their husbands are fighting in the trenches. Society women are freely giving their full time and energy to hospital work.

"Not only has the war chastened and sobered the people of France, but it has added other new elements to their character that are well worth while. Formerly materialism and socialism prevailed. A tremendous spiritual awakening is spreading over the country which will, as I believe, produce a greater France to take her rightful place among the nations of the future.

"Soon after the beginning of hostilities, French reformers demanded that the old destroyer absinthe be banished once and for all. As a result of this agitation, the manufacture and sale of the poison has been prohibited throughout the country.

"Just before leaving Paris, May 11," says Dr. Bysshe, "I learned that Gen. Joffre had issued a decree forbidding the sale of all alcoholic liquors in the limits of the war zone. This is a splendid step in advance and will doubtless be followed by still more radical action along various other lines of reform.

"Americans will be astonished to learn that even the French theater has changed its morals. To illustrate. Not long ago a theater manager, apparently frightened over Paris' puritanical symptoms, staged a play slightly suggestive of the plays of former days. So great was the indignation of the audience that the manager was forced to withdraw this play at once.

"An anti-vice crusade is in progress, which bids fair to clear up the moral atmosphere of the whole country."

CHURCH MAY CALL PASTOR FROM WEST

Rev. Bruce Brown Favored at Meeting of First Christian Congregation.

The First Christian church, which has been without a regular pastor for some time, will probably call the Rev. Bruce Brown of California to fill that position. Rev. Mr. Brown will be in Duluth this week and open a two-weeks' series of special meetings Friday. If called to Duluth, it is not probable that the pastor could take up his duties here until next fall, as he is engaged for an extensive Chautauqua tour during the summer.

The First church has been without a pastor for nearly a year, the place having been left vacant by the resignation of Rev. Ray Hunt. Visitors have supplied the pulpit in the meantime.

Directors of the church say Rev. Mr. Brown is widely known, having been delivering lectures before fraternal bodies for several years.

At the annual meeting of the church last night trustees and deacons for the ensuing year were elected.

George Gauld and G. A. Robinson were re-elected trustees and J. G. Arthur and L. W. Clark were selected to serve another year as deacons. J. E. Welland, A. G. Tidell, R. E. Stewart and C. M. Hon were named for the deacons' board.

The church has enjoyed a fairly prosperous year, and the indebtedness has been greatly reduced.

A banquet was served under the direction of the ladies' aid. Mrs. V. A. Dash, Mrs. S. G. Sangster and Mrs. A. A. Douglas were in charge. About seventy-five attended the business meeting following the banquet.

Editors Fight Duel.

Madrid, via Paris, June 2.—Feeling between the anti-Germans and pro-Germans in Spain runs high. Two editors, Senor Blanco, whose tendencies are favorable to the allies, and Senor Borras, who is pro-German, fought a duel yesterday with sabers. Both men were wounded.

All Germs Ordered To Beat it!—Git!

Searching Influence of a Remedy That Works Wonders.

The introduction of S. S. S. is at once a command to blood impurities to find a way out.

And what are blood impurities? They may be the hypersecretions found in the mucous linings of the body; they may be acid accumulations known as rheumatism; they may be boils, pimples, eczema, acne and stubborn, indolent sores.

But examined closely, they are all germs that have gotten the upper hand and it requires the flushing influence of S. S. S. to drive them out. And out they go when S. S. S. begins to circulate in the blood. It only requires five minutes to begin this influence, for it is a fact that in this limited time S. S. S. may be traced in the urine, in the perspiration, in the efflorescence from the lungs to show that it is at work. Germs, mind you, are of various kinds, but all are foreign to health and S. S. S. is no respecter of destructive germs, it drives them all out, of whatsoever name they go by. Just get a bottle of S. S. S. of any druggist and soon you will observe a decided change. MILLS GOING FULL BLAST

Best Progress for Sheet Mills; Railway Orders Coming Faster.

A further change for the better is reported in iron and steel plant operations during the last few days, that being especially the case with the sheet mills.

In the Youngstown, Ohio, district all the sheet mills are now running in full blast. Eight mills of the Youngstown, Sheet & Tube company, which had been idle are operating at capacity. The Girard Iron company has put its puddling furnaces and mills there on full time. The Republic Iron & Steel company's plants are all going at full blast, and the Carnegie Steel company has all its plants but three in operation for the first time since the outbreak of the war.

Rail Orders Coming.

Recent rail orders afford some encouragement to the steel industry as they indicate a growing disposition on the part of the railroads to buy equipment. It is thought that these orders will expand in proportion to the betterment in railroad earnings. Several rail orders have come out simultaneously, including 25,000 tons for the Southern Pacific; 15,500 tons for the Lake Shore; 8,000 tons for the Chicago & Alton, and 4,000 tons for the Chesapeake & Ohio, all to be rolled in the Chicago district. The Pennsylvania railroad's order, which is expected to be placed within the next few months, is thought likely to be the largest in months. The Russian government is expected to place orders for 400,000 tons of rails in this country. As a starter the Colorado Fuel & Order Iron company has booked an order for 15,000 tons of rails from Russia.

Steel Prices Advancing.

The market in all iron and steel products is strong. Semi-finished steel has been advanced at Youngstown to a minimum of $19, and sheet bars have strengthened to a minimum of $19.50.

Referring to the general situation in the industry, the Iron Age, says:

"The ascent of spelter above 18 cents, or to more than twice the highest price reached in any previous year, has caused a fresh flurry in galvanized sheets. Some makers have advanced their price to 4 cents for No. 28, and while the largest interest still quotes 3.60 cents this price is only for prompt delivery and to regular customers. The soaring of spelter has set users of brass as well as of galvanized sheets on the hunt for substitutes.

"Mills which are not quoting on galvanized sheets are going more vigorously after business in black sheets and 1.70 cents, Pittsburgh, for No. 28 sheets can still be done. In special sheets for automobiles no such weakness has appeared.

"Plate mills have fared better in tonnage, due to the good car contracts of the past two weeks, but the car companies were able to buy at 1.10 cents, Pittsburgh. Recent buying for three additional vessels placed with eastern shipyards also brought out low prices. Boiler plate demand has increased in the Central West.

"Plate manufacturers are keenly interested in the inquiries from foreign countries with a view to placing merchant vessel work here. Foreign yards are full of naval work and the outlook is for full employment of American shipbuilders for the next three years."

COMMANDERY GETS FLAG

Duluth Knights Templars Win State Conclave Trophy; Wilson Is Guest.

Duluth Knights Templars last evening were formally presented with the silk flag won at the recent state conclave held at Minneapolis for making the best appearance in the parade.

The presentation was made by C. W. Wilson, past eminent commander, at a smoker given by the commandery at the Masonic temple last evening for the members of the order. Mr. Wilson was followed by W. D. Underhill, who presented the former with a gold watch in behalf of the fraternity in appreciation of his services.

During the evening the Temple band played a program of music. About seventy-five members of the commandery were present.

CHILDREN GET ESTATE.

Mrs. Salome R. Batchelder Leaves Bonds and Stocks Valued at $16,000

Mrs. Salome R. Batchelder, a resident of St. Louis county, who died last month, left an estate valued at $16,000, according to papers filed in connection with her will yesterday afternoon in probate court. A petition asks for the appointment of Samuel J. Colter, son-in-law, and Benjamin W. Batchelder, son, as executors.

The will bequeaths all of the property to the latter and his sister, Mrs. Colter, 2621 East Fifth street. The estate consists chiefly of bonds and stocks.

Lay-to for a spell and swing on this:

You'll start an old-pal-party via a pipe or a makin's cigarette quick as a flash, as soon as you realize it's a live bet to let your good money rub up against some Prince Albert tobacco. Why, it's like beating back to the bushes for old-home week, P. A.'s so friendly, so chummy-like.

You see, Prince Albert can't bite your tongue, or any other man's; nor parch throats. Because it's made by a patented process that cuts out the bite and parch and lets you hear the song of the joy'us jimmy pipe and the makin's cigarette all the day long!

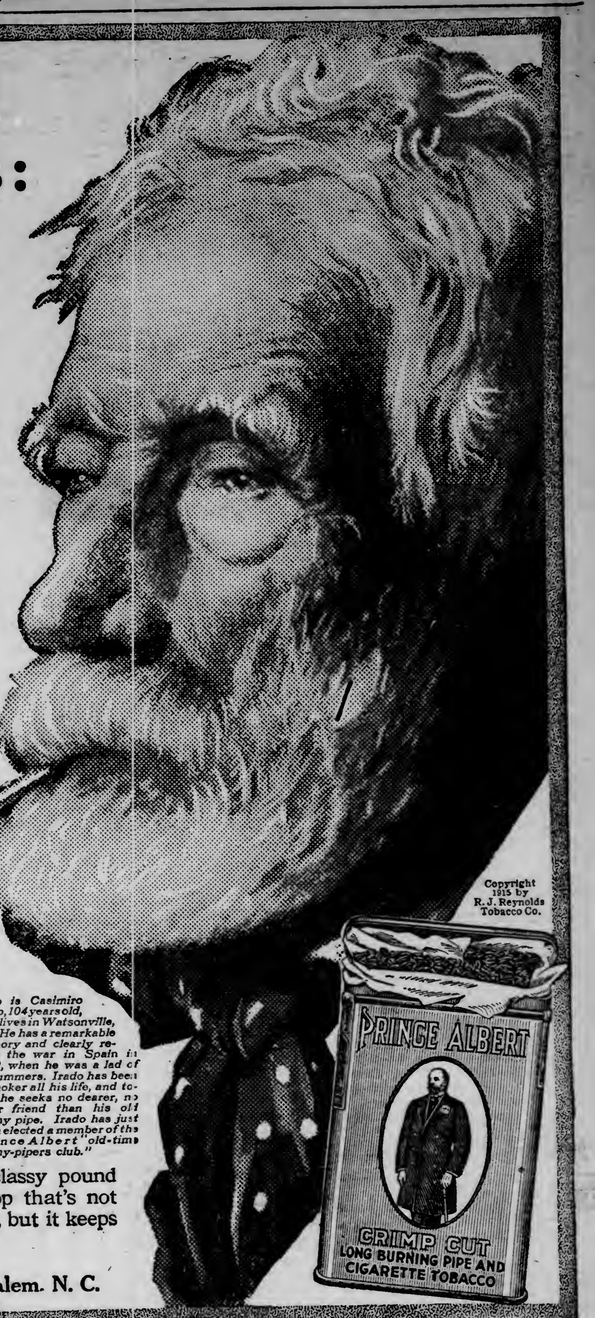

PRINCE ALBERT

just hands you home-made questions like these: Were you ever pipe-happy? Did you ever hit a brand that just pushed pleasure against your palate? The kind that sort of teased your smokeappetite for some more fire-up, then another—and so on, right to the pillow-period!

Well, that's P. A., no matter how you hook it up—pipe or cigarette. It just-jams-joy into your system! You nail that fact hot off the bat, because it's case-cards information! And handed out to you for personal and immediate attention as being about as real and true as you've heard since Hector was a pup!

P. A. is sold in the toppy red bag for the price of a jitney ride, 5c; tidy red tin, 10c; pound and half-pound tin humidors—and—the classy pound crystal-glass humidor with the sponge-moistener top that's not only a joy'us thing to have at home and at the office, but it keeps P. HIBBING COUNCIL HOLDS SESSION

Following Meeting There Is Discussion of Non-Payment of Taxes.

Hibbing, Minn., June2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Despite the cloud of no tax money hanging over their heads the mayor and village councillors met last evening and disposed of some routine matters. The refusal of the mining companies to pay their taxes was not discussed till after the meeting when there was some talk about the all important matter and plans were laid to uphold the village's end in the big fight expected in the courts.

A communication was received from Mrs. T. S. Silliman, secretary of the library board, urging that an appropriation be made for a new building. The matter was tabled.

Four orders for $600 each were allowed, this amount to be taken from an appropriation for library work for the year. Before this year $1,625 was allowed. This is all appropriated by the village council for this year. The board asked that an appropriation for $10,000 for library activities be made for the year, some time ago.

Get Sewer Petitions.

Two petitions, headed by A. P. Silliman, asking for an extension of sewers and the construction of sidewalk at Brooklyn were received and placed on file.

Several applications for liquor licenses were received. An application from G. S. Peters asking for a permit to construct a frame two-story building on lot 1, block 13, was referred to the street and alley committee. R. L. Giffin, secretary of the St. Louis County Agricultural society and E. C. Kieffman, president, asked the village council for an appropriation to conduct activities of the organization.

The water and light board held a short meeting before the council met. The pay roll was allowed.

GRAND JURY'S WORK SOON TO TERMINATE

Not Expected Hibbing Session Will Last Very Long.

Hibbing, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Four cases have been added to the district court calendar, nine have been continued, seven stricken and six dismissed. Altogether seventy cases were listed, chiefly actions over petty matters, and the indications are that the term will be an unusually short one.

The grand jury, which went to work yesterday afternoon, is expected to make its report today. According to Assistant County Attorney Boyle the criminal calendar will not be a large one.

A large number of Chisholm people have been in attendance at court since its opening yesterday and it is understood that they were summoned to give testimony before the grand jury in an investigation by the state into the alleged violation of the corrupt practices act at the March election in Chisholm.

HIBBING WEDDING.

Miss Mae Petrie Becomes Howard Stevens' Bride.

Hibbing, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The wedding of Miss Mae Petrie and Howard Stevens took place this morning at 8 o'clock at the church of the Blessed Sacrament, Rev. Father Hogan performing the ceremony before about forty guests. The bride wore a navy blue suit with hat to match and carried a shower bouquet of white bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Lillian Gerow was maid of honor. She also wore a navy blue suit with hat to match and held a bouquet of carnations and roses. F. Z. Donovan was Mr. Stevens' best man. Ephriam Lavell played Lohengrin's wedding march and Miss Myrtle Lavell sang "When You Are Mine."

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Simpson for twelve guests being the members of the bridal party. Mr. Stevens and his bride left on the noon train for a two weeks' visit with relatives and friends at Stillwater and Minneapolis and after June 15 they will be at home at 423 Washington street.

Miss Petrie is well known and popular, having resided here for the last three years. Mr. Stevens is employed as a civil engineer for the town of Stuntz and is also popular among his friends.

VIRGINIA FIELD MEET ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Virginia, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first annual field meet under the auspices of the Virginia High School Athletic association will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the Roosevelt school grounds. About forty members of the several classes will participate. Entries for the event will close Friday noon. Medals will be awarded to the winners of the events. Considerable interest is manifested in the affair and it is expected that a record crowd of students and citizens will witness the meet.

The four events will be: 100-yard dash, the high jump, the broad jump and the shot-put.

The boys that expect to participate in the events are practicing this week under the direction of Alfred Jackson, physical director, and, considering that this is the first year the boys have received any training in field work, they are showing up well. Doig and Klink are doing especially well at putting the shot. O'Rourke, Spain, Enright and Lucas show up well in the high jump; Byrnes, O'Rourke and Enright are good at the broad jump, and Bush, Doig, Lucas and Klink make good time in the 100-yard dash.

Four silver medals, one to the winner of first prize in each event, are offered by the High School Athletic association. The letters "V. H. S." and the year 1915 are engraved on the front of the medals and on the other side the event.

Because of the high school picnic, which will be held Saturday, June 5, the invitation of the Duluth High School Athletic association, to be represented at the field meet to be held there on that date will not be accepted, according to Coach Alfred Jackson.

VICTOR POWER IS STILL EXPLAINING

Mayor Claims Mining Companies Seek to "Break" Administration.

Hibbing, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—To injure the present administration and to depreciate the value of Hibbing property north of the Great Northern tracks so that mining interests can purchase it at decreased prices was the underlying reason for the refusal of mining companies to pay their taxes here, in the opinion of Mayor Power.

"Mining interests," he said today, "have been trying to obtain this property for the last year. They hold the leases for the rich deposits of ore here and naturally want to purchase the property at as low a rate as possible.

"The fact that Chisholm, a town controlled by mining interests, has nearly twice the pro rata tax levy this year as compared to Hibbing, and that mining companies are paying it without a murmur, proves to me conclusively that politics has much to do with the refusal to pay the tax here."

No action will be taken by the council, Mayor Power said, until the consequences of the refusal of the mining interests is determined.

Prepare For Contest.

Following the council meeting last night, Mayor Power and the trustees went over municipal expenditures. All declared that they were satisfied, after investigating various departmental expenditures, that they could prove without question to mining interests or any one else that there is absolutely no waste of public funds as the mining officials charged.

A compromise seems impossible. Mayor Power declared that since the state legislature failed to limit the taxes of mining interests it certainly would be unlawful for the village to do so.

"However," he said, "I am certain of this one fact and that is the mining companies will not save a cent by taking the stand they have and its only result will be to work hardship upon the people of this vicinity and their primary object is to obtain politically the control of the village."

BOVEY'S CREAMERY FORMALLY OPENED

Starting of New Western Mesaba Industry Made an Event.

Coleraine, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The neighboring village of Bovey opened its new creamery with elaborate ceremony yesterday. In the morning the new machinery was initiated by churning 366 pounds of high grade butter, the first pound of which was auctioned off in the afternoon for $5. The coupled meet of the afternoon and was opened by Mayor George E. Andrews. Otto L. Bergh, superintendent of the North Central experiment station, was the principal speaker and told how creameries would benefit the farmers. O. J. Viles of Grand Rapids and secretary of the Itasca Co-operative Creamery spoke on the advantages of co-operation, and J. A. Wasson, secretary of the Coleraine Commercial club, told the people what Commercial clubs can do for a community. A. M. Sisler of La Prairie and H. A. Randahl, both practical farmers, spoke in behalf of the patrons of the creamery.

Wind Up With Ball.

Frank Provinski, the president of the creamery association, presided. At the close of the program the Bovey ladies served the visitors with fresh bread and creamery butter and new made buttermilk and coffee. Bovey people are being congratulated for their progressie spirit in securing so valuable an asset to the community.

CARLTON SCHOOL CONTRACT AWARDED

Duluth Concern Captures Plumbing and Heating Contract.

Carlton, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The contract for the erection of the new school building in Consolidated District No. 2, to replace the one burned here last February, was let last evening. Fifteen general contractors and twelve heating, plumbing and wiring concerns submitted bids. The general contract was given to the National Construction company of Alexandria for $28,080; heating and ventilating to F. S. Spencer of Minneapolis, $5,845; plumbing to Stack Bros. company of Duluth, $3,183 and wiring to Wiley & Gorilla of Cloquet, $449.

The building will be three story brick, modern throughout and is to be ready for occupancy by Nov. 1. Total cost is estimated at $40,000. The building will be erected upon the site of the old school but will be placed near the center of the school grounds to line with courthouse buildings on the west.

VIRGINIAN WILL BE INSTALLED TUESDAY

Virginia, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. Isaac Van Domlin, grand warden of the Odd Fellows, will be installed into his new office of deputy grand master Tuesday next at St. Paul. He was elected last spring. S. M. Erickson will represent the Virginia lodge at the grand lodge meeting and James A. Sabin will go as representative to the grand encampment meeting which will be held Wednesday and Thursday, June 9 and 10. The Rebekah assembly will meet in St. Paul on the same days.

Grand Patriarch Edward C. A. Johnson, who has been elected grand representative to the sovereign grand lodge convention at San Francisco in September, will also attend the grand lodge and the grand encampment meetings.

EVELETH PAVING TENDERS OPENED

City Clerk Romer Fired for Alleged Neglect of Duty.

Eveleth, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city commissioners last night opened bids for paving six blocks. Bids were received from the Lawrence-McCann company and the Eveleth Construction company, both local concerns. They bid on several different kinds of paving and the council put over final action until Friday night. It is said that the tenders of the Lawrence-McCann company are generally the lower.

A. P. Romer, who has been city clerk since the fall of 1913 when he was appointed under the Gleason administration, was discharged and Cyril H. Williams, his assistant, chosen as his successor. It is said that Romer was relieved of the work because of his failure to promptly collect licenses about the city when they expired. There appears to be a difference of opinion between Romer and the police as to whose duty it is to send notices and see that the licenses are promptly renewed. The council voted 3 to 2 to discharge Romer, Mayor Saari and Commissioners Mesberg and Williams voting aye and Owens and Langdon nay.

To Seine St. Mary's Lake.

Health Officer Dr. C. N. Buckley has a large assignment on his hands. The head of the health department was directed to proceed with the seining of St. Mary's lake, the city's water supply, a sheet of water about a mile long and half a mile wide, and transfer the fish across a small neck of land into Ely lake. The job is expected to be a big one as St. Mary's, since no fishing is allowed , is full of the finny tribe while Ely lake which is constantly fished in is considerably depleted. The operations of the health officer and his force of netters will be watched with interest.

M. P. Linucan was given the contract for $935 to build a market barn at the city market at the south end of Third avenue for the convenience of farmers who come here to trade off their produce. The municipal market promises to be a bigger success this year than ever.

The council joined with other similar bodies in adopting a resolution directed to Governor Slaton of Georgia urging that the death sentence imposed on Leo Frank be commuted to life imprisonment. A copy will be forwarded to the Cracker state executive.

MOUNTAIN IRON NOTES.

Members of First Class to Graduate Getting Ready for Event.

Mountain Iron, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senior class is preparing for commencement exercises June 12. This will be the first class to graduate from the local high school.

Rev. Nathan Feather of St. Paul, until recently pastor of the local Presbyterian church, will preach the baccalaureate sermon in the auditorium Sunday evening, June 6. Dr. Gray, an Eastern philanthropist, will give the commencement address Saturday evening, June 12. Senior class night will be Friday evening, June 11.

The wedding of Miss Mary Stefoncich and Frank Canute will be at Eveleth on June 21.

Mr. Di Baccho, leader of the band and high school orchestra, expects his family from the East in a few days.

Mr. Norton of International Falls visited friends in the village over Sunday.

The ball game Sunday afternoon between the home team and a team from Virginia representing the Virginia & Rainy Lake Lumber company resulted in a defeat for the local team by a close score.

Marvin Burley, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Burley, who broke his arm a few days ago, is getting along nicely.

FRESHMAN STRONGEST.

A. Klink of Virginia Winner in Test of Strength.

Virginia, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. Klink, freshman, won the highest score in the strength test which has been held at the high school during the last several months and which closed yesterday, with a score of 880.9 points. R. Laird, another freshman, was on second place in the contest. His score was 819.6. H. Fleihr, senior, won third with a score of 801.9, which is 79 points lower than that made by Klink.

The score of the first three in the freshman class was 2,429.7, or 586.8 points higher than that of the senior class' three best men. According to the test, members of the senior class are physically weaker than the members of the other classes.

Douglas Nelson won first place in the lung capacity test with a score of 308. Thomas Martin and R. Whiting tied in the push-up contest, both scoring 13. E. Coughlin won first in the pull-up contest, pulling himself up seventeen times on the horizontal bar. O. Nelson lifted 200 kilos in the back-lift contest, winning first place. In the leg lift, H. E. Emmerson lifted 360 kilos. In the right forearm gripping contest A. Klink scored 72. H. Fleihr won the left forearm gripping contest with a score of 67, and L. Lucas won the chest and upper arm test with a score of 176.8 points.

VIRGINIA HAPPENINGS.

Grand Master of Trainmen's Brotherhood Leaves After Visit.

Virginia, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. G. Whitney, grand master of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, returned last evening to his home in Cleveland after having been the guest here Monday and yesterday of the local lodge of Brotherhood Railroad Trainmen. He talked before a meeting of the Virginia lodge Monday evening.

Tven Evner was fined $7.50 yesterday afternoon by Municipal Judge Carey for peddling without a license. Evner applied to the council at its last meeting for a license to peddle ice cream, but at the request of several business men was denied the privilege because he is not a taxpayer.

For Illegal Fishing.

Judge Shaffer of Ely was arrested Sunday for fishing at the headway near the Birch lake dam and will have a hearing today at Two Harbors. Game Warden George Wood of Hibbing made the arrest. He also picked up several foreigners fishing on the lakes in that neighborhood for catching undersized pike. He confiscated about 150 pounds of the fish and it has been placed on sale in Virginia markets.

About twenty-five men employed by the Missabe Railway company on its work trains were laid off the first of the week because of business conditions. It is doubtful if the crew will be put back to work again for several months. It was employed in shoveling gravel from the company pit between Buhl and Chisholm. The gravel was used in grading and repairing the roadbed for the line.

CUSSON MAN IS KILLED BY CARS

Brief Message Received at Virginia and Deputy Coroner Leaves.

Virginia, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Deputy Coroner Dr. Crowe left here this afternoon for Cusson on the Canadian Northern north of here, in response to advices that an employe there of the Virginia & Rainy Lake Lumber company had been killed by being caught between two cars while loading logs. The man's name was not stated and nothing about the tragedy is available here at 1 p. m. and may not be till the deputy coroner returns.

ALDERMEN IN TILT.

Two Virginia Lawmakers Engage in Heated Discussion.

Virginia, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Aldermen Harvey and McGhee engaged in a heated wordy tilt last night during the council meeting when the latter alleged that Harvey had a team working for the city. Harvey tried to explain how the team happened to be employed and McGhee and he exchanged several sharp messages before quiet was resumed. The matter came up during the discussion of the question of there being no mortar base under the six-foot sewer, a subject that bobs up at every meeting. As forecasted in Tuesday's Herald Mayor Boylan vetoed the appointment of M. C. Butler as inspector of the septic tank now being built. No one tried to pass it over his veto although McGhee sought to have Butler reappointed without pay but failed to get the two-thirds vote required by the charter only five supporting the proposition. The balance of the session was taken up with routine.

CHISHOLM SCHOOL HONORS.

Chisholm, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The high school scholarship list for the ninth month, which has just been issued shows fewer names on the G. plus list but more on the V. G. and V. G. plus lists. The V. G. plus list is as follows: Helen Rahja, Winifred Lewis, Mayme Bay, Sidna Lewis, John Jussila and Jennie Wall; the V. G. students are, Lillie Cohen, Anna Schweiger, Ethel Zeidler, Hilma Luota, Emma Leskinen, Edith Berg, Julia Basalek, Doris Papin, Anna Peterson, Victor Wilberg; those on the G. plus list are, Mildred Hodgins, Ella Happlo, Hilda Kangas, John Lipovetz, Florence Brown, Grace Gandsey, Leta Higbee, Mary Grizold, John Hudy, Edward Lahay, Olga Lahti, Ruth McGregor, Elmer Olson, Lottie Tingstadt, Tina Aho, John Frick, Signa Kangas, Edna Olson, Mary Printy, Francis Eldridge, Nellie Winn.

The senior class ranks first in its studentship, having over one-half its number on the above list; the sophomore and freshmen classes tied for second honors, with over one-third their number on the list.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

FAIR

Weather seems to be coming in streaks this spring. First a long spell of ideal weather came in April, then May went off at a tangent and created havoc with gardens and feelings and kept at it consistently for day after day; and now comes what seems a continuous performance of fine weather; but people are fearing at any time to learn of a reaction. Today starts off fine with clear skies and bracing air, and bids fair to be a copy of yesterday.

A year ago today was fine. The sun rose this morning at 4:16 and will set this evening at 7:56, giving fifteen hours and forty minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson make the following comment on weather conditions:

"The barometric depressions centered over Alberta, Colorado and off the South Carolina coast caused showers during Tuesday or last night over southeastern states, the Southwest and extreme Northwest. Heavy rains fell at Washington, D. C., Raleigh, N. C., Charleston, S. C., Tampa, Fla., Lander, Wyo., and Salt Lake City, Utah. Moderate temperatures prevail generally except that the weather has turned somewhat cooler over Utah and Wyoming."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, June 2.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Thursday:

Minnesota and Iowa — Unsettled weather with showers Thursday and in west portions tonight; not much change in temperature.

Wisconsin—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; not much change in temperature.

North and South Dakota—Unsettled tonight and Thursday, probably showers; cooler Thursday and in west portion tonight.

Montana—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday, probably showers in east portion; cooler in east portion tonight.

Lower Michigan—Fair tonight and Thursday, except probably rain in east portion.

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight and probably Thursday.

"FEAR NOT" IS PRESENT HIBBING BATTLE SLOGAN.

Virginia, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Fear not, all will be well" appears to be the present slogan in Hibbing with reference to the tax fiasco, according to W. J. Ryder and H. P. Reed of Hibbing, who are here today. The two seem to think Hibbing will come out of the mixup with colors flying.

PRESIDENT LIKES VIRGINIA'S ACTION

Virginia, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The action of the city council in passing a resolution recently, a copy of which was sent to the White House indorsing and upholding President Wilson's stand in the Lusitania tragedy, pleased the nation's executive, as indicated by the following letter received from the president's private secretary by President Mollan of the city council:

"My Dear Mr. Mollan:

"The president has received a copy of the resolution adopted by the city council of the city of Virginia and has asked me to assure you and all concerned of his deep appreciation of this generous expression of confidence.

OLD WOODSMAN DIES.

Virginia, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Robert Kirkpatrick, aged 46, a veteran woodsman of this section, died at a local hospital early today. None of his relatives has been located. He will be buried tomorrow afternoon from Gillespie's morgue.

HIBBING TEACHER GETS NEW YORK JOB

Hibbing, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Carolyn E. Morrison, school psychologist and child study expert at the local high school, will teach at Schnectady, N. Y., next year. Herbert Blair, who recently accepted the position of superintendent of schools at that place, formerly superintendent here, has asked her to teach there next year.

Miss Morrison is an expert in child study and wrote an article which was published in full by an educational magazine last year dealing with the teaching of children of speech articulation.

USING BRUNT DRYER.

Ore From Hanna at Mountain Iron Being Treated There.

Mountain Iron, Minn., June 2.—(Special to the Herald.)—The Hanna mine here is busy, the ore being treated in the drying plant of the Brunt mine which is idle and has been since 1913. Reports have been current of the Hanna closing, but nothing has developed. Not over 100 men will be effected. A story printed recently that the Brunt had closed was probably due to reports about the possibility of the Hanna quitting.

There is some talk that the Wacoutah mine, which has been idle for several years, will soon arrange to commence shipping.

DOCK LABORER BURIED.

Last Rites at Two Harbors for John Engsmd.

Two Harbors, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Engsmd, aged 60 years, died at his home here yesterday afternoon following an illness of over a year of tuberculosis Engsmd lived with his son, Julius, on Ninth avenue. Besides a son he leaves a wife, who is in Norway.

Engsmd lived here for the last four or five years, during which time he had been employed as an ore dock laborer for the Iron Range railway.

The funeral was held this afternoon from the undertaking parlors of R. B. Johnston. Rev. Carlson of the Norwegian church officiated and interment was made in the Two Harbors cemetery.

Infant Child Dies.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Landmark, South avenue, died yesterday. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from the residence. Rev. Nelsenius of the Swedish Lutheran church will officiate.

REYNOLDS OFFERS HELP.

Range Trolley Official to Aid Popularizing Chisholm Park.

Chisholm, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—General Superintendent R. W. Reynolds of the Mesaba Electric Street Railway company, Tuesday looked over the new park on the eastern shores of Longyear lake. Mr. Reynolds said:

"Chisholm is not taking advantage of its lake. If they had this body of water in the East so close to the city, it would be illuminated, motor boats by the hundreds upon it, row boats by the thousand, canoe and aquatic amusement devices on its shores. This park, however, is a starter and it would not surprise me to see in a year or so more, many more improvements. I will help the people who are trying to bring the lake to the front and will make a start by putting up a platform with strong electric illumination at the park gate. I will also beautify the approach to the park and put steps in so that passengers may conveniently step on and off the cars. On special days and holidays I will put on a ten-minute service between the Chisholm sub-station and the park and will begin the service next Sunday for the Eagles' picnic. At the sub-station I will have a spur built to run in at the rear of the O'Neil hotel so that the special car to the park will not interfere with the regular cars."

EVELETH FIREMEN ADOPT BEAR MASCOT

Eveleth, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local fire department has a new mascot, a 6-weeks'-old bear cub, which was brought in Monday by fishermen of the department and was at once adopted.

The cub was captured a week ago by a homesteader on Long Lake. The mother was shot and three cubs "treed." The tree was felled and in so doing two of the cubs were killed. Three firemen, Charles Klein, Sam Trengove and Matt Gomsi purchased the bear Monday. In bringing it to the city in an automobile Klein had both hands bitten by the cub which was quiet enough except when the machine hit a bump in the road.

GETS KINNEY JOB.

Kinney, Minn., June 2.—The contract for building a brick store here for Zokula & Lynch was awarded to Gust Anderson of Chisholm, who was almost $1,200 less than that of the Virginia Supply company, the highest bidders. Anderson's bid was $4,228. Architect Shand of Virginia drew the plans.

The building will be one story high and will have a basement. The figures included the cost of building a barn in the back of the store building.

Other bidders and the amounts of their bids were: Martin Bergerson, $5,095; James Sampson, $5,281; August Dahlvik, Kinney, $5,160, and the Virginia Supply & Manufacturing company, $5,475.

For Virginia Bride-Elect.

Virginia, Minn., June 2.—Mrs. C. E. Moore entertained Monday afternoon at a miscellaneous shower for Miss Marion Sullivan, who will be a June bride. The guests hemmed towels for the bride-elect. The guests were: Misses Madeline Dillon, Mayme Powers, Mae Lydon of Duluth, Nellie Mahoney, Mary Rooney, Lenora Vall, Grace Gill, Grace Bonner, Anne Bonner, Gertrude Peake, Margaret Rowen, Pearl Martin, Helen Aberg, Louise Dube, Mae Colliton and Marion Sullivan. Miss Sullivan received many pretty gifts.

Wacoutah May Resume.

Virginia, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to word received here from Mountain Iron the machinery at the Wacoutah mine, owned by the Pitt Mining company, is being overhauled and it is believed the mine is being placed in condition to operate.

PALE BEAUTY FADES

The girl who comes home from school or shop tired out every day may be beautiful but she will soon fade. She will be fortunate if she escapes a physical breakdown because the ease with which she tires is probably the first warning symptom of a thinning of the blood that cannot be disregarded.

Thin blood may give an attractive pallor for a short time but soon the patient becomes thin, flat-chested, haggard and angular. The only beauty that endures is that of rich, red blood shining through a transparent skin.

Almost any girl can build up her blood by using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are useful to growing girls, to pale girls, thin girls and those who get tired or out of breath easily. Mothers of such girls should see to it that the tendency to anemia is checked by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills before the trouble becomes chronic.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will build up the blood if anything will. They are free from opiates or harmful drugs and can be taken with perfect safety by anyone. Your own druggist sells them so you can begin the treatment at once. A helpful booklet, "Building Up the Blood" will be sent you free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

STEVEDORE AMONG THOSE DEPORTED

Name of Another of Five Sent Out of Japan Made Public.

Yokohama, June 2.—The name of another of the five Germans ordered deported from Japan was learned today. He is Wilhelm Steinwascher, a foreman stevedore of the Pacific Mail Steamship company. The charge against him is that he secretly landed at Yokohama at night by means of a launch, a group of Germans who were deported from Hong Kong April 19. The Japanese authorities were aware of the presence of these men in Yokohama harbor and had forbidden their landing.

All these men were sent away "for committing acts against the welfare of the country." They include a baker named G. Schus, who came to Japan from the United States in 1914, and Adolph Richter, owner of the Imperial hotel at Yokohama.

BAD FIRE IN PRISON CAMP IN PRUSSIA

Over 150 Yards of Officers' Barracks at Torgau Destroyed.

Amsterdam, June 2, via London.—The Cologne Gazette says a serious fire has occurred in the prison camp at Torgau, Prussia. Barracks for interned officers over a stretch of 150 yards were destroyed.

The officers' servants helped to fight the flames and saved most of their masters' effects. No lives were lost. The cause of the fire is unknown.

WOMEN FROM 45 to 55 TESTIFY

To the Merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during Change of Life.

Westbrook, Me. — "I was passing through the Change of Life and had pains in my back and side and was so weak I could hardly do my housework. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a lot of good. I will recommend your medicine to my friends and give you permission to publish my testimonial." — Mrs. LAWRENCE MARTIN, 12 King St., Westbrook, Maine.

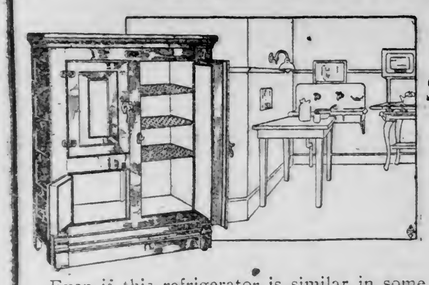

Manston, Wis. — "At the Change of Life I suffered with pains in my back and loins until I could not stand. I also had night-sweats so that the sheets would be wet. I tried other medicine but got no relief. After taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to improve and I continued its use for six months. The pains left me, the night-sweats and hot flashes grew less, and in one year I was a different woman. I know I have to thank you for my continued good health ever since." — Mrs. M. J. BROWNELL, Manston, Wis.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled in such cases.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

This Rhinelander Side Icer Should Be Your Choice!

Special $16.75

Terms of $3.00 Cash, $3.00 Per Month

Even if this refrigerator is similar in some respects to other side icing refrigerators, when you compare its many advantages with the remarkably low price and easy terms of payment on it, you can realize why it should be your choice.

A Continuous Stream of Dry, Cold Air

As long as there is ice in this refrigerator a continuous stream of dry cold air flows over the contents of the food compartment, carrying away all odors and removing all possibility of contamination and also removes any possibility of milk and butter being flavored with onions, fish or whatever other food stuff is in it at the time.

Compactness and Capaciousness

Two features of the side icing refrigerators that will attract your interest strongly are their compactness and capaciousness. They occupy very little room. You can place them underneath the kitchen window and use the top as a table on baking or preserving day. This refrigerator is 40 inches high, 32 inches wide and 18 inches deep; ice capacity of 75 pounds. Two doors to the food compartment.

All Hardwood, Eight Wall Construction

This type of refrigerator is the most popular of our line; white enamel provision, wire shelves, nickel combination closing levers and locks and one that is usually sold throughout the country for no less than $25.00 each. ONE OF OUR BIG GET-THERE SPECIALS.

URGES CIVIC CELEBRATION

O. H. Cooper Writes Mayor Appealing for Fourth of July Demonstration.

Declares "Day" Has Degenerated; Wants Whole City to Take Part.

A strong appeal for a civic celebration of the Fourth of July is made by Oliver H. Cooper in a communication received this morning by Mayor Prince.

In view of the fact that the old-fashioned, ear-splitting Fourth has been relegated to the background, Mr. Cooper declares that it is up to the officials to give the children something that will inculcate into their minds an appreciation of Independence day and what it really stands for in the history of this nation. "We must not lose sight of the importance of our national day," writes Mr. Cooper.

"America for Americans."

"To His Honor, the Mayor of Duluth:

"The slogan, 'America for Americans,' strikes the keynote of patriotism and far-sighted wisdom, without any intrusive tone of brag or selfishness, and is expressive of a growing sentiment that should be nurtured, till it attains a strength of meaning, well calculated to make foreign nations realize that 'America for Americans' stands for just what is says.

"The United States of America, which we proudly refer to as 'Our Country,' is without parallel in ancient or modern times. Within its confines, from the tropic of Cancer to the northern slopes of the Pacific, nature has stored everything that the ordinary necessities of man demand, together with many things that are elsewhere regarded as luxuries. In short, our particular portion of the Americas is the most self-contained country that has existed in any age.

"This great melting pot of humanity, with its marvelous receptive powers, that takes in millions of heterogeneous peoples and welds them into one homogeneous whole, destined to be the arbiter of the universe, today stands out in bold relief to the rest of the world.

'Independence was, and is now, the basic principle of our governing power.

"To never forget this, to inculcate into the minds of children and growing men and women, that it is, after all, worth the while to reflect for one day upon those matters, to see to it that the same spirit of independence that dominated the action of our forefathers be duly kept alive in the hearts of this busy generation.

"The day of the 'screeching of the eagle,' the ear-splitting giant cracker and its attendant danger, has been relegated to oblivion, more or less, and a flamboyant Fourth has been replaced by a very sober, ordinary holiday.

Becoming Indifferent.

"In going to this extreme we are apt to lose sight of the importance of our national day and become as coldly indifferent as we were insanely and noisely exuberant.

"What appeals to the coming generation must form the base of action. Children must be taught the meaning of the Fourth, its importance in the past and the great importance it must bear upon future events. Let there be music, plenty of it, patriotic in note, and see to it that every child shall be able to hear a band. Let them see something that every kid enjoys, equally in listening to a good band, fireworks and plenty of them, and let this music be heard and these fireworks displayed in as many parts of the city as possible. Centralize as much as possible and make the Fourth worth while, something to remember and look forward to.

"Yours sincerely,

"O. H. COOPER."

ORGANIZES CITY BAND

Duluth will have a municipal band.

Jens Flaaten has now under way the organizing of such a band and expects to have an organization of at least thirty of the best musicians at the Head of the Lakes.

The purpose of the organization will be to furnish band concerts in the various parks and at all public gatherings.

Mr. Flaaten has been in Duluth for the last twenty-eight years and has taken a leading part in musical affairs. He was the organizer of the Third Regiment band and instrumental in furnishing the first band concerts for the public in Duluth. His first organization was known as the Duluth City band.

HELD FOR SENDING BLACK HAND LETTER

Deputy United States Marshal Mallory returned from Ely, Minn., today, bringing with him Joseph Hitztaler, who is charged by the Federal authorities with sending a "black hand" letter through the mails. The prisoner was given a hearing before United States Commissioner Albert J. Thomas of Ely, and in default of a $200 bond, was ordered incarcerated in the St. Louis county jail.

Hitztaler is charged with having sent a letter to Joseph Seliskar of Ely, threatening to blow up his saloon unless he discharged one of his employes within twenty-four hours.

HONOR LISTS ANNOUNCED

Nearly One-Third of Pupils at Denfeld School Attain Place.

Scholarship During May Higher Than in April and March.

Nearly one-third of the student body of the R. E. Denfeld high school has attained membership on the honor roll according to the list of pupils read in chapel yesterday by S. A. Foster, principal of the school. There are 102 pupils on the list this month, which shows an increase of twenty-nine over that of April.

A steady gain in percentages has been made by the pupils since the close of the first semester. In March the roll contained forty-seven pupils from the four classes, and in April there were seventy-three. Practically every student on the list of those months is on the list for May.

Sixteen On "A" List.

Sixteen of the students attained the "A" honor roll mark, which requires a percentage of 90 or better in every subject. The other eighty-six students received marks of 90 or better in at least three subjects but not all subjects. Following are the "A" honor students for May:

Seniors—Esther Paulson, Leo J. Deutsch.

Juniors—Ruth Esson, Edna McLimans.

Sophomores—Richard Duffy, Werner Hansen, Russell Johnson, Asgier Larson, Clarence Toor, Lucille Armstrong, Marguerite Doyle, Gladys Gamache, Ida Gratton, Rose Harris, Marian Marshall.

Freshmen—Hervey Wallen.

Students In "B" List.

Seniors — Benjamin Amundson, Arnold Erickson, George Johnson, Russell Klitin, Clarence Mayhew, Lawrence Mayhew, Eleanora Bonneville, Bessie McKinnon, Victoria Peplinski.

Juniors—John Gillis, Clarence Jacobson, Reginald Le Faivre, Roy McConnell, Chester Rosborough, Leah Bossuet, Junnietta Brunnell, Grace Burke, Isabelle Felix, Nora Grindy, Myrtle Johnson, Alice O'Donnell, Ruth Wilson.

Sophomores—Rudolph Krantz, Anna A. Anderson, Amy Armstrong, Margaret Armstrong, Clara Dennett, Emily Erickson, Anna E. Gallagher, Mary Gottwald, Vera Gustafson, Hilma Hagglund, Caroline Hormann, Lillian Huth, Hildur Lindburg, Florence McCormack, Engretta Scanlon, Margaret Towner, Mary Walski, Elsa Westlin.

APPEAL MADE FOR "OLD-TIME" FOURTH

West Duluthians Say Foreign Citizens Show More Patriotism.

Leading citizens of West Duluth are making an appeal to all men and women who can do so, to turn out tomorrow afternoon and attend a meeting to be held at 3:30 o'clock at the West Duluth Commercial club rooms. The purpose of the meeting is to consider the holding of an old-fashioned celebration of July 4.

Those at the head of the movement say that while there has been considerable talk of holding such a celebration uptown, no action has yet been taken. It is said that it will take at least three weeks of hard work to prepare all the necessary plans for an affair that will be a credit to the community.

"What is the cause of this apparent spirit of 'I don't care whether the Fourth of July is celebrated or not'" asked W. A. Pond this morning. "Every foreign nationality in Duluth shows great patriotic spirit in' celebrating its national day. There are the Polish, Norwegian, Irish and Canadians who have so far celebrated such days this year and showed great enthusiasm in doing so. What is the matter with the Americans? We have a day on July 4 that should have a significance to us fully as great as that of the national day of the Irish, Norwegians or Polish. It was the day that brought forth a new kind of freedom to the people of the world. The people who have come here from foreign lands, show proper spirit in celebrating their independence day and will show just as great enthusiasm helping us celebrate the birthday of this country which they have adopted as their future home."

IN COURT ONCE MORE.

Another Frey-Petruschke Case Is Being Heard

Another lawsuit in which John J. Frey and Carl J. and Mary C. Petruschke are the principals was brought to trial yesterday afternoon in Judge Cant's division of the district court.

Mr. Frey, the plaintiff, is suing the Petruschkes to recover $1,567 claimed to be due on six promissory notes given Aug. 22, 1912.

At the last term of court, the Petruschkes obtained a verdict against Frey for $3,750 for the alleged malicious prosecution of other actions as a result of which they were ejected as tenants from the Grand hotel at West Duluth.

RAY W. ABBOTT.

Ray W. Abbott, 5531 Grand avenue, is one of the younger business men of West Duluth, who is beginning to take an active part in the upbuilding of the community. Mr. Abbott, like a number of others in West Duluth, just "grew up" in the community.

Like most young men, Ray has a fad. His hobby is photography. He has in his collection snapshots of about everything in this end of the city. While on recent excursions with the Minnesota Naval Militia, of which he is a member, he gathered probably the best collection of kodak pictures of scenes about the Great Lakes possessed by any Duluthian.

BANQUET FOR SENIOR CLASS

Juniors Will Entertain Graduates of Denfeld High School.

Details for the annual banquet given by the junior class of the R. E. Denfeld high school in honor of the senior class which will be held next Tuesday evening at the high school are about complete. It will be served at 6:30 o'clock, Chester Rosborough, president of the junior class, who is directing the activities and work of the various committees, announced this morning that the program will be ready before the end of this week.

Miss Irene Walker, instructor of domestic science, will have charge of preparing the banquet. The girls of the junior class will assist in the preparation of the tables. In addition to the seniors the members of the faculty will be guests of honor.

CHESTER ROSBOROUGH,

The toastmaster has not yet been selected. Among those who will take part in the program will be Gordon Huth, president of the senior class, who will speak on behalf of the graduates. A response will be given to his talk by Chester Rosborough, president of the juniors. Miss Minnie Brown will give a toast to the teachers and talks will be given by Principal S. A. Foster and Leon C. High. The program will also include musical numbers by Miss Bessie McKinnon and Chester Rosborough.

At the close of the program the young people will enjoy dancing in the gymnasium of the school.

S. S. LEAGUE OPENS SEASON'S SCHEDULE

First Two Games Played; Two More Contests for Saturday.

The first two games of the West Duluth Sunday School Baseball league schedule were played last evening. The season was officially opened with games between the We Brothers and Third Swedish Baptists and the West Duluth Baptists and Presbyterian juniors.

The We Brothers lost by a score of 5 to 4. The game was played on the grounds at Sixty-first avenue and Warden street. In the latter contest the Presbyterians were defeated 7 to 6 at Fifty-fourth avenue and Grand.

Two games are scheduled for Saturday. The West Duluth Baptists will play We Brothers at Fifty-fourth and Grand, and the Swedish Baptist team will play the Presbyterians at Sixty-first and Warden. On June 11 the Presbyterians will play We Brothers, and the two Baptist teams will lineup against each other.

Fred Deboer has offered a cup to the team having the highest percentage of games won at the end of the season. The season will close about the last of July.

Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Murray, 419 North Fifty-fourth avenue west, were pleasantly surprised last evening by many of their friends in honor of their eighteenth wedding anniversary. There were forty guests. Music, cards and dancing featured the entertainment.

WILL BE BURIED THURSDAY.

Mrs. Eliza Jensen Follows Son and Husband to Grave.

The funeral for Mrs. Eliza Jensen, age 53, widow of the late Ed Jensen, who was court officer in Duluth for many years, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, 314 South Sixty-first avenue west, and at 2:30 o'clock from Our Savior's Norweglan Lutheran church, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Wadena street. Interment will be in Oneota cemetery. Rev. B. L. Opdahl will officiate.

Since the death of her husband early last fall, which was followed the next day by the death of her son, Elmer Jensen, Mrs. Jensen has been failing rapidly in health. She died Monday evening. She is survived by two daughters, Misses Gina and Ella Jensen and one son, Arthur Jensen, of Henrickson, Minn.

Mrs. Jensen's two sisters, Mrs. George Johnson and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson, both of Henrickson, Minn., arrived last evening to attend the funeral. Her three children are also in the city.

Moose Will Initiate.

A class of twenty-one members will be initiated this evening at the meeting of the West Duluth lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, at the Moose hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street. Following the work a social session has been planned, at which refreshments will be served. The class is one of the largest that has been admitted at any one time this year.

West Duluth Briefs.

The Oneota and Hazelwood Improvement club will meet this evening at the Merritt school, Fortieth avenue west and Sixth street.

Miss Florence Drake, formerly of West Duluth, who has been visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Bertha Koski, 3731 West Sixth street, will leave this evening for New York, where she will join the Broadway Follies troupe.

Members of the Merritt school alumni association will meet at the school this evening to prepare plans for a banquet to be held this month for the graduating class.

Some one broke a window and stole three pairs of shoes from a store at 6227 Grand avenue, according to report made to the police yesterday afternoon. No clew to the thieves has been found.

DULUTH MAY SPEND $75,000

Council Will Consider Resolutions for Several Appropriations.

Ordinances Covering Many Improvements Will Be Read.

Ordinances and resolutions calling for appropriations amounting to $75,000 will be considered by the city council when it holds its regular meeting this evening. The commission meets every Monday evening, but because of Memorial day, the weekly session was postponed until tonight.

Mayor Prince will introduce an ordinance appropriating $12,500 for the purchase of coal for the year beginning July 1, the money to be paid out of the several funds in the following manner: General, $3,000; safety, $4,500; utilities, $2,600; welfare, $500; works, $600; library, $1,000 and permanent improvement revolving fund, $500. Bids on supplying the city with coal were opened yesterday morning and the lowest proposal was submitted by the Pittsburgh Coal company.

Covers Many Improvements.

Second reading will be given the ordinances appropriating $10,000 for the laying of storm sewers, $13,000 for sanitary sewers, $6,900 for the purchase of water meters, $4,900 for the purchase of gas and water boxes and hydrants, $400 for the inspection of cast iron specials at the foundry, $1,200 for the painting of the aerial bridge, and $500 for the purchase of asphaltic cement and fluxing oil.

The ordinance accepting the offer of Chester A. Congdon to pay the awards and claims for the Lake Shore boulevard will be given its final reading tonight, while second reading will be given the ordinance prohibiting the removal of poles and wires by housemovers, the new housing code, and the ordinance making the removal of garbage and rubbish from private properties compulsory.

Commissioner Farrell will introduce resolutions awarding the contract for the paving of Kenilworth avenue, from Vermilion road to Livingston street, and Sussex avenue, from Snively road to Kenilworth avenue, to Rogers & McLean on their bid of $8,982.45, and the contract for furnishing the city with sewer material to the Duluth Builders' Supply company on its bid of $18,694.89.

The proposal of F. E. House, president of the D. & I. R. road, to purchase a strip of land north of the Lakewood pumping station will be taken up.

A sanitary sewer will be ordered in Luverne street, from Fortieth to Forty-second avenueas east.

Commissioner Farrell will introduce a resolution canceling the contract with Sam Scandin for the sprinkling of District No. 14, because of his failiary to carry out its terms and authorizing him to advertise for new bids. A contract will be made with the Duluth Street Railway company to haul 300 cubic yards of crushed rock from the Point of Rocks to the Thirty-ninth avenue spur track for 30 cents a yard.

A resolution will be introduced by Commissioner Farrell amending the original resolution calling for the paving of West Sixth street, so that the thoroughfare will be graded to a width of 56 feet and paved to a width of 26 feet. The original motion called for a 30-foot pavement.

Mississippi Still Rising.

St. Louis, Mo., June 2.—The Mississippi river continued to rise here today and the stage was nearly thirty-one feet. The water now reaches the railroad tracks along the levee. Some damage has been done by flood waters to property near Alton, Ill.

DULUTHIAN WILL BE IN CHARGE OF FACTORY MAKING 1,000 POWERFUL AEROPLANES FOR ENGLISH GOVERNMENT

Fritz Ericson and Tony Jannus Begin Work at Toronto on Contract for Great Fleet of Aerial Fighting Machines of New Type.

Tony Jannus, who conducted a number of hydro-aeroplane flights in Duluth two years ago, and Fritz G. Ericson of Duluth, have been placed in charge of an aeroplane factory at Toronto, Ont., which has contracted with the British government to build 1,000 aeroplanes at a cost of $25,000 apiece. This involves a contract amounting to $25,000,000.

Word of Mr. Jannus' appointment was given out yesterday by Mr. Ericson, who was in Duluth on his way to Toronto. Mr. Ericson formerly lived in Duluth, but went to Baltimore last fall to work in the factory operated there by the Jannus brothers, Tony and Roger. The former conducted flights here two years ago and the latter last year. Roger will continue to conduct the hydroplane factory at Baltimore, while Tony is in Toronto.

FRITZ ERICSON.

Curtiss Owns Factory.

The aeroplane company at Toronto is controlled by Glenn Curtiss and is to be known as the Curtiss Aeroplanes & Motors, Ltd. Some of the wealthiest men in Canada are behind the company. The first delivery on the big contract mentioned is to be made on July 1.

Each machine will have two engines that can develop 340-horse power and will travel eighty-five miles an hour. There will be room for two men and a pilot, a rapid-fire machine gun and ammunition. It will be the most powerful type of machine ever turned out in America.

Year's Work Ahead.

The manufacture of the 1,000 machines will require a year's work, according to Mr. Ericson. About 350 men will be given employment at the factory during that time, he said.

The Jannus brothers are well known throughout the country, having made flights in many of the large cities. After leaving here two years ago, Tony went to Jacksonville, Fla., where he conducted an aerial mail route from that city to St. Petersburg, Fla. Roger was here last year, and after leaving went to the coast, where he conducted a number of exhibition flights. Last winter the brothers opened the factory at Baltimore.

Lights and Shadows of Police Court

SMASHED 'EM ALL.

Visiting Willow River Saloon Keeper Fined for Violating Traffic Code.

An automobile sped along Superior street near Second avenue west Monday night. The driver was exceeding the limit.

There was no rear light burning.

He ran by a street car gate while Sergt. Englert looked on.

Last, but not least, the driver was on the wrong side of the street.

"I'm not violating any traffic laws that I know of," said Tofal Price, Willow River saloon keeper, at headquarters a few minutes later.

"I was on the right side of the street, wasn't I?" he demanded.

"Yes," replied the sergeant, who is Duluth's most polite officer, "but you were going the wrong way."

For the four traffic violations Price paid $7 to the city of Duluth and promised to read his "Hoyle on Traffic Rules."

SHOOK YOUTHFUL THIEF.

Victim Fined for Chastisement But Young Suit Stealer Is Released.

"I'll shake it out of you," promised George Kelley, aged 39, yesterday morning, collaring Walter Spellman, a boy alleged to have stolen a suit of Kelley's.

In the midst of the shaking, Sergt. John Roberg interfered and jailed Kelley, who is a negro, on a charge of third degree assault. He also took the Spellman boy along pending an investigation of the case.

In municipal court Kelley paid a $5.50 fine for shaking Walter and the latter admitted stealing the suit. He offered to find and return it, and led a patrolman to the foot of a viaduct at Seventh avenue west and river front in the search.

No suit was forthcoming, but Walter later was released.

"HELP! PA'S KILLING MA."

"Pa's" Excuse Is He Was Given Onion Stew on Lodge Night.

"Think of feeding a man onion stew on lodge night!"

This was George Erickson's defense when Patrolman David Olson jailed him for beating his wife last night.

The officer was attracted to the Erickson home at 1425 West Superior street by George Erickson, Jr., who was screaming: "Help! Pa's killing mamma."

He found Mrs. Erickson, badly cut about the head, bathing her wounds in a pail of cold water. The fond husband was looking on, his wrath still smoldering, with a poker in one hand, it is said.

When Officer Olson gave the husband the "high" sign Erickson resisted, and was taken to headquarters only after a struggle. He was booked on an assault charge and will be given a hearing this afternoon.

Mrs. Erickson was rushed to St. Luke's hospital, but returned home as soon as her injuries were dressed.

HIS BUSY DAY.

Union Station Was Center of the War Zone Tuesday.

"Beat it," sez he;
"Gwan," sez I.

And then the trouble started.

Disorderly sailors, lumberjacks and common laborers all came to Patrolman Oscar Olson with their troubles yesterday, and it was a day of many fights.

Out of sixteen arrests for the twenty hours ended at 7 o'clock this morning Patrolman Olson was credited with eight. All but two of the eight were performed without assistance.

The trouble zone was on West Michigan street between Fifth and Seventh avenues, with the Union depot as a center of hostilities. About once an hour during the time Patrolman Olson was on duty he made a trip to headquarters.

John Widmark, age 43, and Charles Peterson, age 38, were two of the several who met the officer in a social way.

"What's the row about?" was his question.

Widmark forfeited $10 bail while his companion will be given a hearing this afternoon.

Is in Again.

Emma Star's husband telephoned headquarters last night saying: "Come up here and arrest my wife."

Accordingly Emma was arrested, and charged with twelfth offense drunkenness. Her offenses number many more than twelve, according to the police, but recently some officer began counting anew.

Emma is the most persistent offender at police headquarters, and has lived in jail so much of the time that she has lost her legal residence if she had one.

Since Jan. 1 she has been out of jail or the municipal home about fifteen days, say police. She was sentenced to sixty days on March 20.

As usual, she pleaded not guilty, and will be given a hearing this afternoon.

Forgot His Rear Lamp.

One more jitney forgot about his rear lamp last night and paid $5 as a memory jog in municipal court this morning.

He was Prescott Wyman, 124 West Superior street. Wyman was arrested by Patrolman Le Beau on West Superior street.

PAVING BIDS ARE OPENED BY CITY

Contracts Will Be Let for First Street and Other Jobs.

Bids were opened this morning by Secretary Culver of the public works division for the paving of First street from Twenty-eighth avenue east to Congdon park; Sixth street, from Fifteenth to Eighteenth avenues east; Sixteenth avenue east, from Sixth to Eighth streets, and Exeter street. The figures will not be available until tomorrow.

The bids on the various jobs follow: East First street, General Contracting Company of Minneapolis, George R. King and P. McDonnell; East Sixth street and Sixteenth avenue east, August Bodin & Son, P. McDonnell, George R. King and General Contracting company, and Exeter street, P. McDonnell, Olson & Johnson, J. D. REVISES BILL OF LADING

Railroad Committee Prepares for Cummins Law Effective Thursday.

Old Forms May Be Used, Stamped to Show Altered Conditions.

A committee named by the various freight associations of the country, which has been at work revising the uniform bill of lading used by all American railroads, so that it will conform to the provisions of the Cummins "no liability limit" law, which goes into effect tomorrow, has completed its work so far as needed for the present. To use the language of Chairman C. C. McCain of the committee, which represents the Trunk Line association, the New England roads, the Central Freight association and the Duluth Commercial club replying to a query:

"The change as outlined, is the only one made immediately necessary by the passage of the Cummins amendment. It is contemplated that certain other changes will be adopted when the interstate commerce commission announces its decision in connection with the investigation it has conducted into the general subject of bills of lading."

Use Old Bills With Stamp.

The only revision necessary was the "conditions" of the bills of lading, but the committee also provided for the use of blank bills of lading now in the hands of shippers and at the various freight offices, until the new bills, with all amendments made necessary after the mentioned decision is given out, can be printed and distributed. Provisions for these is made by requiring the stamping or writing across the "conditions" of existing forms, after today, the following, in this territory:

"Section 3 is amended by supplement No. 6 to Western classification No. 42, effective June 2, 1915, and all reissues thereof."

Under the old bill of lading there was a liability limit provided for, and in cases where the shipper specified that the limit should not apply, an additional freight rate on his goods or stock of 10 per cent was levied. Under the Cummins amendment, this liability limit was declared illegal.

The new form of bill of lading, as arranged by the committee mentioned, and a copy of the old form, are given below. The new form reads:

New Form of Bill.

"Sec. 3. No carrier is bound to transport said property by any particular train or vessel, or in time for any particular market or otherwise than with reasonable dispatch, unless by specific agreement indorsed hereon. Every carrier shall have the right in case of physical necessity to forward said property by any railroad or route between the point of shipment and the point of destination; but if such diversion shall be from a rail to a water route the liability of the carrier shall be the same as though the entire carriage were by rail.

"The amount of any loss or damage for which any carrier is liable shall be computed on the basis of the value of the property at the place and time of shipment under this bill of lading.

"Except in cases where the loss, damage, or injury complained of is due to delay or damage while being loaded or unloaded, or damaged in transit by carelessness or negligence, claims must be made in writing to the carrier at the point of delivery or at the point of origin within four months after delivery of the property, or, in case of failure to make delivery, then within four months after a reasonable time for delivery has elapsed. Suits for recovery of claims for loss or damage notice of which is not required, and which are not made in writing to the carrier within four months as above specified, shall be instituted only within two years after delivery of the property, or, in case of failure to make delivery, then within two years after a reasonable time for delivery has elapsed. No claims not in suit will be paid after the lapse of two years as above, unless made in writing to the carrier within four months as above specified.

"Any carrier or party liable on account of loss of or damage to any of said property shall have the full benefit of any insurance that may have been effected upon or on account of said property, so far as this shall not avoid the policies or contracts of insurance."

Old Form of Bill.

The old form of the bill of lading, which is superseded by the form given above, reads as follows:

"Sec. 3. No carrier is bound to transport said property by any particular train or vessel, or in time for any particular market or otherwise than with reasonable dispatch, unless by specific agreement indorsed hereon. Every carrier shall have the right in case of physical necessity to forward said property by any railroad or route between the point of shipment and the point of destination; but if such diversion shall be from a rail to a water route the liability of the carrier shall be the same as though the entire carriage were by rail.

"The amount of any loss or damage for which any carrier is liable shall be computed on the basis of the value of the property (being the bona fide invoice price, if any, to the consignee, including the freight charges if prepaid), at the place and time of shipment under this bill of lading, unless a lower value has been represented in writing by the shipper or has been agreed upon or is determined by the classification or tariffs upon which the rate is based, in any of which events such lower value shall be the maximum amount to govern such computation, whether or not such loss or damage occurs from negligence.

"Claims for loss, damage or delay must be made in writing to the carrier at the point of delivery or at the point of origin within four months after delivery of the property, or, in case of failure to make delivery, then within four months after a reasonable time for delivery has elapsed. Unless claims are so made the carrier shall not be liable.

"Any carrier or party liable on account of loss of or damage to any of said property shall have the full benefit of any insurance that may have been effected upon or on account of said property, so far as this shall not avoid the policies or contracts of insurance."

ELEVATOR MANAGER ACCUSED OF FORGERY

Williston, N. D., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter E. Cresile, manager of the Farmers Elevator company here, will be tried at the next term of the district court here on a forgery charge.

Cresile, it is alleged, is involved in a deal with E. H. Well of this city, whose hearing is fixed for today.

Grand Forks, N. D., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Y. M. C. A. campaign for the establishment of a $40,000 fund for the construction of a new addition to the present building, was concluded last evening, when the workers reported a total of $40,000.

SAYS MONEY CAN BE RAISED

Mayor Power States That Hibbing Has Purchaser for Bond Issue.

Promises More Detailed Statement of Plans in Near Future.

Although officials of the village of Hibbing realize that a serious financial problem confronts that municipality by reason of the failure of eleven mining companies operating there to pay the first half of their 1914 taxes on Hibbing property, Victor L. Power, village president, is confident that funds for the current running expenses of the village will be raised without considerable difficulty.

In a telephone conversation with a representative of The Herald yesterday afternoon Mayor Power stated that the village council would probably take steps this week in the direction of obtaining the necessary money.

Mayor Power also stated that the best way out seemed to be by raising the money by a $1,000,000 bond issue. In this connection he declared that the village had the purchasers for the bonds already in sight. Mr. Power promised that he would furnish The Herald with a more complete statement of his plans within a day or two.

Sees Personal Attack.

Mr. Power is reported in dispatches from Hibbing to have declared that the refusal of the mining companies to pay their Hibbing taxes was a blow aimed personally at him. "They have sworn to get me," he is credited with saying, "and, like other times, they think they are going to do it this time. They may fail this time, too."

"Officials of the mining companies consulted with me regarding expenditures for the year. The amount suggested by the companies was too small. I have not been officially informed as yet that the companies have not paid their taxes, hence I do not care to say much."

At the beginning of the present fiscal year, the village of Hibbing had a floating indebtedness of $1,250,000, on which the annual interest charge is $75,000. The Duluth and Hibbing banks are holding some of these warrants and it is understood that many of them would have been redeemed had the village treasury been replenished with its usual tax revenue. The warrants draw 6 per cent interest.

Before the tax fight which mining companies are waging against the officials of the village of Hibbing is concluded, several other communities on the Mesaba iron range may be involved in a multiplicity of actions to test the validity of the alleged high valuations placed on mineral-bearing lands.

It became known yesterday that all taxes assessed against various mining companies in a number of range towns other than Hibbing were paid under protest. By paying the first half of the current real estate taxes under protest, the companies do not waive any legal rights they may have to contest the payment of the last half of the taxes.

The Oliver Iron Mining company, the Steel corporation subsidiary, paid taxes under protest on its holdings in Gilbert, Chisholm, Keewatin, Virginia and the township of Stuntz. The Republic Iron & Steel company also paid taxes on its holdings in Buhl, Chisholm, Gilbert and Keewatin under protest.

Other independent mining companies which have taken the same stand are: Shenango Furnace company, Pickands-Mather company, Interstate Iron company, M. A. Hanna & Co., Northwestern Improvement company and the Great Northern Ore properties.

Form of Protest.

"Notice is hereby given that these taxes are paid under protest on the grounds that the assessed valuation on said property on which said taxes are based is excessive, unequal and out of proportion to all other property in the same taxing district and in the state; that the law under which said property was taxed is unconstitutional; that the portion of said taxes levied for municipal purposes was not levied in good faith or in the exercise of judgment or discretion, but arbitrarily and for other than public purposes, and for extravagant and illegal expenditures, and on all grounds whether herein specified or not, and such payment shall not be deemed a waiver of the right to refuse to pay or make a defense to the last half of the 1914 taxes the same as though the first half had not been paid, or pursue any other appropriate remedy."

In the form of protest used with reference to the city of Virginia and the township of Stuntz, the charge of extravagance in the conduct of municipal affairs is eliminated and the protest is based on the ground of the alleged excessive valuations of mineral property.

Just what course will be pursued by the mining companies in bringing this question into the courts, if such action is finally taken, has not been disclosed. The question of alleged excessive valuation, it is understood, will also be raised in the Hibbing tax fight as well as the charge of extravagance against the village administration.

"ALWAYS SOMETHING NEW."

Taxes Never Kept Up With the Demands, Says Agnew.

W. C. Agnew, general manager of the Mahoning Ore & Steel company and of the Susquehanna mine for the Rogers-Brown Iron company, when interviewed as to the stand that the mining companies are taking in the Hibbing tax fight, had the following to say this morning:

"I am more closely in touch with the situation about Hibbing than at other points on the range. The Susquehanna mine and a considerable part of the Mahoning lies within the village limits.

"During the past year and a half we have taken much more interest in matters pertaining to the village. This was brought about by the fact that our taxes were increasing so rapidly within the village limits that we felt it our duty to look into and see where the money was going and how it was being spent.

"We found expenditures contemplated and others being made that would run into millions of dollars. Some of the proposed improvements were susceptible of changes that would lessen their cost and others could be delayed and save hundreds of thousands of dollars to the taxpayers. We, with others of the mining companies, went to the village management and found them willing to go over matters with us, and make some changes and concessions that lessened the expense materially.

"However, in spite of these concessions, they always seemed to have some new improvements to make, so that instead of our taxes being reduced they were increased and the large amount of outstanding orders added to.

"The mining companies made a request of the village administration asking that they agree to a fixed amount for the village expenses, and that they apply the balance of their funds to the reduction of outstanding orders. This they have refused to do, thus far.

"With the new water plant completed, costing about half a million dollars, and which the mining companies have agreed to see completed, the village will be in excellent shape to go for a period of two or three years without any large special assessments for improvements.

"The companies that I represent are the next largest taxpayers to the Oliver Iron Mining company. We had hoped that conditions could be righted without resort to the courts. The situation has become serious and our people feel that the time has come to make a vigorous protest.

"We are in full accord with the other mining companies in the conclusion that a radical change of policy and conditions is necessary in the administration of municipal affairs and levying of taxes on the range."

CITY BRIEFS

Leaves Property to His Widow.

Elkum Sures, who died May 12 at his home, 27½ West Fourth street, left all of his property, valued at $10,125, to his widow, Mrs. Pearl Sures, according to his will which was filed with the probate court yesterday afternoon. Sures failed to name an executor in his will and Mrs. Sures yesterday afternoon petitioned the court for appointment as administratrix; with the will annexed.

And Patrol Drill.

Arab patrol, Aad temple, will hold a regular drill practice at 7:45 o'clock this evening at the Masonic temple. The patrol is preparing for the annual convention to be held at Seattle in July and special maneuvers and fancy marches are being taught the members by Capt. A. H. Paul.

Buys Tamping Machine.

Commissioner Farrell of the works division yesterday ordered a $550 gasoline tamping machine to be used in surfacing streets after excavations are made, for sewers or repairs. The machine packs earth so solidly that it will no longer be necessary to wait several weeks before the dirt settles.

Merritt Returns.

Commissioner Merritt of the utilities division returned yesterday from the Section 30 mine, where his nephew, Bert Merritt, has been in ill health for several weeks. The latter is improving and is expected back in Duluth the early part of next week.

Assault Case Being Tried.

The prosecution of Iver Johnson, charged with second degree assault, will probably be concluded in Judge Ensign's division of the district court this afternoon. Johnson is accused of having struck Oscar Sjernstrom with a rock. The state rested its case shortly before the noon adjournment. It is expected that the case will go to the jury this afternoon.

Protest Against Grading.

Property owners along Olney street this morning filed a petition with the city clerk, protesting against the grading of that thoroughfare, between Fifty-seventh and Fifty-ninth avenues west. They claim that the improvement is not desired this year.

INCREASE IN ORE SHIPPING

Without the figures from the Duluth & Iron Range road, whose ore figures are not yet available, the ore shipments from the Head of the Lakes for May, 1915, were 1,878,583 tons greater than in May, 1914. Up to date, since the opening of the shipping season, which was about the middle of April, there have been at least 2,087,970 tons more shipped than up to the end of May, 1914.

Comparative statements from the docks whose figures are available—all except the Duluth & Iron Range—show shipments during May this year and the corresponding month last year, as follows:

AMERICANS FIRST.

Evangelical Lutherans Will Stand for United States.

New York, June 2.—Members of the Evangelical Lutheran synod of New York and New England, though heart and soul with Germany in the European war, are, in the language of the synod's president, the Rev. William M. Horn, "Americans before we are German sympathizers; and if unhappily this nation should be drawn into the cataclysm, we would stand for our country even against the land of which we so affectionately think as the fatherland."

Mr. Horn urged the attendant delegates to abstain from anything which might embarrass President Wilson, even to the extent of keeping silent that sympathy which we entertain for Germany against her present enemies. Mr. Horn said that before adjournment tomorrow there might be some formal expression of affection for Germany and loyalty to America.

SEVERE FIGHT TO TAKE TOWN

Germans Had Much Difficulty in Capturing Stry in Galicia.

Berlin, June 2, via London—Some of the difficulties encountered by the Austro-German forces in capturing the important town of Stry, in Galicia, southeast of Przemysl, are described by correspondents of the Morgenpost and Vossische Zeitung. They say that the capture of Stry was preceded by a large number of severe fights of which the most bitterly contested was at Lisowice.

At this point the Russians had entrenched themselves strongly. Their trenches were protected by barbed wire entanglements. Once these had been taken the Teutonic forces encountered strong defenses along the railroad embankment. Finally the village itself was stormed.

The Russians fired Lisowice and other villages in the vicinity when the attacking troops approached. Among the blazing houses a night battle with bayonets and clubs took place.

Strong Resistance.

The Russians offered strong resistance on retreating, bringing up new forces for one counter-attack after another. The Austro-German troops nevertheless drove them back and pushed forward half way to the Dneister river.

German military authorities assert that this victory is of large strategic importance. The broad plain north of Stry does not afford effective opportunities for defensive operations, so that the Russians are expected to retreat to the Dneister line at Rozwadow, where they probably will make a stand in the swamp land. Should they be again forced back the only other opportunity of making a defense before Lemberg would be in the lake district south of that city.

The assertion is made in Berlin that the capture of three forts near Przemysl and the victory at Stry indicate the complete expulsion of the Russians from Galicia. The last railroad line available for the Russians out of Przemysl already is under fire.

DULUTH'S MORALS ARE IMPROVING

Duluth's morals are improving steadily, for there were sixteen fewer arrests in May than in April, according to a police report issued late today.

Fred Johnson, assistant secretary to Chief McKercher, stated that 406 persons were placed in the tolls during the thirty-one days. Of this total twenty-nine were women.

The main station contributed 315 men and twenty-seven women; West end station officers booked forty-six men and two women; West Duluth arrests numbered twelve, while New Duluth added four to the total.

There were more than 500 arrests in March and but 390 in April. Last year in April, however, there were 436.

SALAS SENTENCED.

New York, June 2.—Jacob L. Salas, a New York tobacco merchant, found guilty of conspiracy to defraud the government through the payment of money to John Burke, former manager of the commissary department of the Panama railroad, was today sentenced in Federal court to thirteen months' imprisonment in the Atlanta Federal prison and to pay a fine of $1,000. A stay of sentence pending an appeal was granted by Judge Hunt and Salas was given his liberty under $10,000 bail.

Burke and Ricardo Permudez, former governor of Colon, who were indicted with Salas, have yet to be tried.

Montana Stockman Suicide.

Helena, Mont., June 2.—Jesse I. Phelps, age 61, a well-to-do stockman who has lived here many years, took his life by shooting while grieving over the death of his wife, a blow from which he never recovered. He was a native of Detroit, Mich., and had lived in Montana many years.

June Sale of Undermuslins Cut in Accordance With the 1915 Fashions

Where Is the Woman Who Is Not Attracted to Dainty Underclothes?

What is there about lingerie that is so alluring? Is it the mystic daintiness with its webs of laces woven with threads so intricately, or is it the luxurious softness?

The answer is realized in the display of charming undermuslins we have gathered on our Second Floor.

The corset cover and the fluffy white beruffled petticoat have come into their own again. The new styles demand them. You see them here at their best.

Likewise here are charming envelope chemise and lovely gowns and dainty drawers.

Some of the garments are of Crepe de Chine of next-to-nothing texture which is as fashion ordains. A delicate flesh pink is in fashion's favor and bids fair to rival white as an unobtrusive under dressing.

Many new lines have just been added. We will not take time to tell of them today, but this hint should be sufficient to draw you here.

Our French-American Undermuslins Are Hand Embroidered in the U. S. A.

Parisian styles modified for American women. Daintily embroidered by hand just as was the Convent-made lingerie we used to get from France.

Prices range as follows:

Hand Embroidered Corset Covers—Val lace edge neck and sleeve, dainty designs hand embroidered, $1.00 and $1.50.

Hand Embroidered Envelope Chemise—Very dainty—$1.65.

Hand Embroidered Crepe Gowns—Very special at $1.25.

Hand Embroidered Gowns of Nainsooks—Neck and sleeves edged with Val, Torchon and Medici lace, $1.50, $2.25, $2.50 and $3.50.

Crepe de Chine Underdressing—Demi-sleeve corset covers of crepe de chine, in flesh, pink or white. Trimmed with lace edging, $1.50. Same without sleeves, $1.25.

Lace and Crepe Bodices—White only, $2.00.

Ten Styles $1.25 Gowns, Special 98c During the June White Sale

Muslin and crepe gowns, round or square low neck. Kimono or set-in sleeve, lace or embroidered trimmed. Ribbon draw strings, special for the June White sale.. 98c

Fifteen Styles White Petticoats for the June Sale 98c

Some of these are lace trimmed, others have flounces of embroidery. There are also some double panel skirts in this lot—this season's models—98c during White Sale.

Those who come first will find some Marcella garments included in the lot.

Salesmen's Samples of Silks on Sale Tomorrow at 49c yd.

This is a collection of salesmen's samples of one of New York's most representative silk houses. Samples vary from one-half to one yard in length. There are printed crepes, printed sheer materials, plain and fancy poplins, plain crepes, armures and various other weaves. Here is an opportunity for you who wish handsome silks for fancy bags, men's neckties, box coverings, trimmings and for Christmas work. The regular prices of these materials range from $1.50 to $3.00 a yard.

They are all in one lot at 49c a yard.

AHA! THAT $150 WILL BE PAID

Judge Smallwood Will Get His Back Salary—Unless Something Happens.

Hist!

Judge Smallwood is about to receive the $150 pay check which has eluded him since May 1.

That is, he will receive it, if the city commissioners, after due deliberation tonight, decide that the city can stand the strain of paying the $150, and if all the commissioners vote for the order.

Judge W. H. Windom already has been paid for services rendered during April, but Judge Smallwood needs the $150, which represents the judge's salary from April 13 to May 1, he says.

During that time Judge Smallwood was acting judge, while the district court jurists were ruling on the election returns.

City Attorney Henry F. Greene says Judge Smallwood is entitled to the $150.

Commissioner of Finance Voss says the city will have to pay him.

Mayor W. I. Prince says it should be taken out of the bond of clerk of court J. G. Ross, who no longer is clerk.

Friends of Former Judge Windom say that he should have it.

Others say that Judge F. H. Cutting, who did the work of both courts during the two weeks involved, should have it.

But Judge Smallwood wants the council to O. K. his order, because it will come handy to cover attorney's fees in the Windom contest case.

Therefore, he will be presented with a check for $150, unless the council votes against it, or

Unless the supreme court reverses the district court decision and declares Judge Windom the municipal judge, or Unless other unforeseen complications arise.

It is all settled.

$10 REWARD!

Ten Dollars Reward will be paid for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the thief, or thieves, who last night broke into our warehouse in the rear of the Orpheum theater and stole about 200 pounds of fish.

ELECTRIC LIGHT ENEMY TO CUPID

Secretary Ned Culver of the public works division has a big problem to solve. And he doesn't feel equal to the task.

Who can help him?

Here is the problem:

A young woman living in a corner house in the East end has been receiving attentions from a young man during the winter. Summer arrives, bringing its invitations to out of doors. The porch at the young woman's home is perfect, except for one thing. An electric light casts its baleful glare into every nook and corner of the porch.

What can be done?

The young woman, refusing to give her name, called Secretary Culver up yesterday and asked him to fix the light, so that "I can have company on the porch without having all the neighbors know just exactly who he is and what we are doing. Of course, we're not ashamed of what we do, but you know how it is, Mister Culver."

And there you are. Who can help solve the problem?

WHEAT TAKES FRESH SLUMP

Market Breaks on Crop News and Lower Liverpool Cables.

Crushers Pick Up Flax on Low Spots and Prices Recover.

Duluth, June 2.—The market was weak around the close with some fresh selling. July wheat closed 2¾c off and September 2¾c off. July durum closed 3½c up and September unchanged.

Oats closed ⅝c off at 47¼c for on the track; rye unchanged at $1.13@1.14; and barley unchanged at from 66c to 73c.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at $1.34 bid and calls at $1.37 bid.

Weakness was in evidence in the wheat market again today as a result of lower cables and a cessation of blue sun crop reports from over the Southwest. Pressure of old wheat was noted at Liverpool, and Indian and Argentine offerings were on a more liberal scale over there.

The world's visible report was bearish in that it showed supplies of 124,730,000 bu or just 6,000,000 bu less than last year. A decrease of 7,869,000 bu was estimated in the week, compared with a decrease of 8,208,000 bu last year.

Markings at points in the Southeast were on a liberal scale, the inference being that growers who had been holding for higher prices have despaired of their hopes being realized, and are now endeavoring to get rid of their stores in advance of new crop offerings. The future course of the market is thought to be largely in the information coming from the winter crop states from day to day. That developments now would lead to sharp bulges all round, operators think. Advices from the Northwest are said to be more encouraging every day, it is said. What is required now is a spell of warmer weather to force the plant ahead after the cold, damp conditions that were generally maintained during May. It is said though that no damage has been sustained in any quarter, and that the outlook is cheerful.

The market was on the nervous order at the start. July wheat opened 1⅝c off at $1.37, eased off to $1.36⅞, and then firmed up ⅛c, where it rested at the noon hour on the appearance of better support. September opened ¼c off at $1.18 and broke ⅝c more. December was quoted for the first time at $1.18 and eased off ⅛c.

Buying flurried up on light business. May opened ⅝c off at $1.36½ and later gained 1½c. September was quoted unchanged at $1.18.

Flaxseed Turns Strong.

Trading in flaxseed was erratic. After selling off 5c from yesterday's close, the market rallied sharply on the execution of crushers' buying orders, and gains extending up to 10⅝c from the low points of the day were recorded. Operators averred that yesterday's bearish conditions were brought about through an accumulation of offerings, while the market was bare of bids for the time being. Fresh weakness developed near the close, however.

July flax opened 2c off at $1.76, broke to $1.73, and closed 1¾c up at $1.79½ asked. September opened ½c off at $1.80, weakened to more, and closed 4½c up at $1.82 bid. October opened 2c off at $1.8 and closed 1½c up at $1.81½ nominal.

At Winnipeg, July flax closed 1c up at $1.69, and October 1c up at $1.62 asked.

At Buenos Aires, flax closed ¼c off at $1.26½, and at London ½c off at $1.91⅞.

MARKET GOSSIP.

Chicago grain stocks: Wheat, 2,711,000 bu; increase, 418,000 bu; corn, 5,549,000 bu; decrease, 588,000 bu; oats, 4,885,000 bu; decrease, 253,000 bu.

Contract: Wheat, 2,203,000 bu; increase, 620,000 bu; corn, 3,216,000 bu; decrease, 291,000 bu; oats, 2,976,000 bu; decrease, 13,000 bu.

Kansas City wired: "Market is well cleaned up. No one seems to want any wheat. Market is in bully condition for an advance, especially in July. Wet weather is again predicted for Southwest."

Logan & Bryan's St. Louis office wired: "Have talked with several cash handlers and receivers and all agree that while it is reasonable to have a run of corn very soon, it may be delayed on account of farmers being busy. They are behind in their work on account of rains. There are fair stocks in this section, but they are well held. All depends on the roads and the farmers are catching up with their work. On the other hand the demand for corn is of a hand-to-mouth character and the receipts are adequate to the demand."

Foreign news summary:

"France—An official report places the condition of winter wheat at 87 per cent. This compares with 71 per cent last year on May 1.

"In Russia weather continues favorable and crop promises fair.

"Italy—Weather is generally favorable for new crop.

"It is officially reckoned that imports of wheat from July 1, 1914, to date amounted to 33,000,000 bu and this is only only 150,000 bu over last year for the same period.

"Russia—Reports are circulated that shipments of wheat were made via Archangel, but this is not confirmed by Broomall's agents today.

"Argentina—Weather continues cool with frost. Arrivals of both wheat and corn are large and the quality of the corn is much improved."

Le Count wired from Anthony, Kas.: "Wheat here is badly affected with red rust, but has done no damage yet. Think wheat in this territory will average 18 bu per acre. Crop needs two weeks more favorable weather to mature. Weather is cool, threatening rain."

Iowa weather and crop report: "Week was wet and cool. Every part of the state received two inches or more rain. Much bottom land is flooded and considerable damage done by washing uplands. No field work was done, and there is yet much corn to be planted and some replanting will be necessary. Complaints of damage by Hessian fly in fall wheat in the southern counties are heard and the crop is becoming too rank in many localities."

Bradstreet's world's visible report: Wheat, decrease, 7,869,000 bu last year, decrease, 8,208,000 bu; corn, decrease, 2,346,000 bu, decrease, last year, 17,000 bu; oats, decrease, 2,467,000 bu, decrease, last year, 1,468,000 bu; totals, wheat, 124,730,000 bu, last year, 130,733,000 bu decrease; corn, 14,476,000 bu last year, 5,915,000 bu; oats, 19,266,000 bu last year, 20,476,000 bu decrease.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Market was influenced by weakness in America and Buenos Aires and pressure of old wheat. Spot market was weak, half to 3½d lower with cargo market weak; old wheat shilling three pence lower generally, and new winters 9d lower. The demand is slow. India is offering freely of both old and new wheat with plate offers slightly reserved. American crop advices are better.

"Corn—There is poor inquiry for spot corn, but Plate offers are lighter and the general undertone is steadier."

Wheat—Receipts, 707,000 bu., last year, 430,000 bu.; shipments, 569,000 bu., last year, 718,000 bu.

Corn—Receipts, 349,000 bu., last year, 1,945,000 bu.; shipments, 473,000 bu., last year, 624,000 bu.

Oats—Receipts, 522,000 bu., last year, 1,146,000 bu.; shipments, 481,000 bu., last year, 765,000 bu.

C. E. Lewis & Co. had the following closing letter: "Increased liquidation in the face of poor support led to a lower range of values, the July showing a loss of 2¾c from the opening close. Shorts with profits in sight dulshed the only buying power, while prominent elevator interests were liberal sellers of both September and July. The news was mainly against holders. Weather conditions are perfect with crop prospects ideal. Export demand is flat and reports of business from the seaboard are unconfirmed. We are rapidly approaching the period of crop movements, when hedging sales will increase in volume and unless the foreigner steps in as a buyer, lower prices are inevitable. A local crop expert estimates the total yield of spring and winter wheat at 922,000,000 bu. All upturns from this level should be met with sales of July and September wheat."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Fresh Declines in Price of Wheat Result of Various Causes.

Chicago, June 2.—Fresh declines in the price of wheat resulted today from lower cable quotations and from comparatively favorable weather. Prospects of rain over the Southwest, however, tended later to rally the market. On the other hand, a reduction in the price of flour at Minneapolis counted somewhat against the bulls. After opening ⅜@1¼c down, wheat underwent a little further setback and then scored a moderate upturn.

Afterward uncertainty in regard to foreign relations appeared to have an influence in bringing about new declines. Besides, European demand was small. The close was heavy at 2¾c to 3⅜c under last night's finish.

Demand from the seaboard gave strength to corn. Predictions of adverse weather led also to an increase of buying. The opening, which ranged from the same as last night to ⅛@¼c higher, was followed by gains all around.

The market later receded owing to the fall in wheat and because of bearish offers from Argentina. The close was weak at 1⅞c to 1⅞@1¼c net decline.

Oats went down grade with wheat. The firmness of corn was ignored.

Provisions eased off in consequence of lower prices for hogs. Another bearish influence was the piling up of lard in the local warehouse stock.

NOTE—Weekly summaries of condition in the grain region will be telegraphed from Washington, April 13, and each Tuesday thereafter during the growing season, except that this summary will be telegraphed and published on Wednesday whenever the preceding Monday is a holiday.

Summary of weather and crop conditions in the corn and wheat region for the week ending June 1, 1915:

Washington, D. C., June 2.—In the winter wheat belt the weather continued favorable for plant development and fly and other insects are somewhat less active. The crop is generally in good condition with considerable improvement noted in the more eastern and southern states. Harvest has begun in Texas, and is above average.

In the spring wheat belt the weather was generally favorable and satisfactory conditions continue, especially in North Dakota where excellent outlook is reported.

In the corn belt the week was decidedly unfavorable. Excessive moisture and cold weather caused much damage by flooding, washing and poor germination of late planted seed resulted. Much replanting is necessary and cultivation is needed in many sections where work is at a standstill on account of wet soil.

Ranges meadows and oats made satisfactory progress but wet weather caused considerable damage to cut alfalfa and delayed harvest where ready to cut. Some frost damage reported in the more northern states.

South St. Paul Livestock.

South St. Paul, Minn., June 2.—Hogs—Receipts, 6,700; 15c to 10c lower; range, $7.10@7.24; bulk, $7.20.

Cattle—Receipts, 1,500; killers, steady to 10c lower; steers, $5.00@8.50; cows and heifers, $4.50@7.50; calves, 25c higher, $8.75@8.50; stockers and feeders, steady, $4.50@7.60.

Sheep—Receipts, 100; steady; lambs, $1.00@9.00; wethers, $5.00@6.00; ewes, $8.00@5.50.

Price of Flour Reduced.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 2.—The Minneapolis millis decreased the price of flour locally today to $7.10 for fancy patents. The price yesterday was $7.45. The decrease was due to the drop in wheat and also to the easing off of cash premiums. This was attributed, the millers say, to withdrawal of foreign interests in the past May options, which purchases were made largely as an insurance feature.

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, June 2.—Hog values suffered a break today on account of receipts being too liberal for immediate requirements. Cattle arrivals proved much more numerous than expected. Notwithstanding that the supply of sheep and lambs was only moderate, trade was slow.

Hogs—Receipts, 33,000; slow, 5c to 10c under yesterday's average; bulk, $7.50@7.65; light, $7.40@7.72½; mixed, $7.35@7.70; heavy, $7.00@7.60; rough, $7.00@7.20; pigs, $5.75@7.30.

Cattle—Receipts, 18,000; weak; 10c to 15c lower; native beef steers, $6.90@9.25; western steers, $6.80@8.10; cows and heifers, $3.20@8.70; calves, $7.00@9.75.

Sheep — Receipts, 10,000; steady; sheep, $6.50@7.35; lambs, $7.50@10.50.

THE PRODUCE MARKETS.

Chicago.

Chicago, June 2.—Butter—Steady; receipts, 12,929 tubs; creamery extra, 27½c; extra firsts, 26½@27c; firsts, 25@26c; seconds, 22@24c.

Poultry—Alive, unchanged.

New York.

New York, June 2.—Butter—Receipts, 33,542; firmer; creamery extras, 93 score, 28c; creamery, higher score, 28½@29c; firsts, 27@27½c; seconds, 27¼@26½c.

No Foul Play.

Escanaba, Mich., June 2.—County officials investigating the death of James Brady and Lucius Merier in the fire Sunday at Garden Bay said today they were convinced there was no foul play. Dan Seavey, who was seriously burned, is in a hospital here.

GAINS ARE RECORDED

Stocks Open Strong and Active But Lapse Into Dullness.

Early Advances Well Maintained and the Closing Is Strong.

New York, June 2.—Greater firmness and breadth marked today's early dealings on the stock exchange, but war shares were again the dominant features. Advances of 1 to 4 points were recorded by General Electric, Bethlehem Steel, Westinghouse and Crucible Steel, while allied issues rose a point or two, and General Mining preferred 4½. United States Steel was the speculative leader to gain as much as a point, others in that group rising only fractions. Among the few declines of the first hour were New Haven and New York Airbrake, which fell 1 and 2 points, respectively.

For some undefined reason, Wall Street was disposed to place a favorable interpretation upon the conference to be held later in the day between the president and the German ambassador. This was reflected in a widening of the area of gains, which later embraced the more representative shares. Railway issues registered advances of 1 to 2 points and some of the specialties increased their early advantage. Reading in the first hour was almost double that of the corresponding period of the preceding session, but toward midday dealings dwindled perceptibly, though without impairment of quoted values.

Business came to a complete standstill during the mid-session. Bethlehem Steel reacted 4 points and Missouri Pacific gained a point on announcement that the extension plan had become operative. Elsewhere changes were trivial.

From an active and strong opening today's stock market lapsed into a dull market. Early gains were fairly well maintained.

Trading became more perfunctory in the later session, prices showing fractional recessions from their best. The closing was strong.

GOOD BULGES IN COPPER STOCKS

Butte & Superior Sets New High Point During Day.

Butte & Superior was the feature, selling up $2.37 to $74.12. It eased to $73.25 at the close.

American Zinc was active, closing $2 up at $50.38. Copper Range closed $1 up at $50.50; Granby $2.63 up at $80.63; Greene-Cananea 25c up at $30.25; Mohawk $2 up at $73; North Butte $1 up at $31.25; and Quincy $1.50 up at $88.50.

At St. Louis lead closed strong at $4.85 bid and spelter strong at 21c.

In the Boston curb list, as reported to Paine, Webber & Co., South Shore sold at $6.25, Davis-Daly at from $1.16 to $1.50, La Rose at 53@50c, New Baltic at $3, Ohio Copper at 25c, United Verde Extension at $4.12@4, Copper Mines Cons. at $1.75, First National Copper at $3, Calverans at $1.94, New Cornelia at $8.87, Atlanta at 35@37c and Houghton at $4.25.

A Boston wire said: "Local spelter officers reported a further increase today in the price of the so-called war metal to 27 cents a pound for 'prime western,' compared with 23 cents for spot sales on May 28. Bidding for the product is reported as very active."

Paine, Webber & Co. had the following from New York: "Copper metal in London sold at the highest prices yesterday since the war at the equivalent here of 19½ cents for electrolytic. Producers saw evidences yesterday of the justification for their prediction of an active June market."

What is the difference between the so-called piano factory representative and the ordinary retail piano store?

Watch this space next week for the answer to this question.

Beware of the many so-called piano sales offering something for nothing. Remember we are manufacturers of high-grade pianos—not offering you something for nothing, but assuring you a saving of at least $100 by selling direct from our factory warerooms.

Cash or Easy Terms.

FORTRESS OF PRZEMYSL CAPTURED BY AUSTRIANS

UNITED STATES STEEL CORPORATION NEED NOT BE DISSOLVED, SAYS COURT

DECIDES THE SHERMAN LAW NOT VIOLATED

Federal District Court Refuses to Issue Any Injunction.

Price-Fixing Agreements Held to Have Been Unlawful.

Suggests This May Now Be Controlled By Trade Commission.

Trenton, N. J., June 3.—The decision in the United States Steel corporation suit was filed in the United States district court this afternoon and the decision held that the corporation should not be dissolved. The principal points in the decision are:

It refuses to issue any injunction.

It holds the foreign trade of the Steel corporation is not a violation of the Sherman law.

It holds certain price fixing agreements which followed the Gary dinners, but which stopped before the bill was filed, to have been unlawful.

It allows the government to move to retain jurisdiction of the bill if such price fixing practices are renewed, but suggests matters may now be controlled by the new trade commission.

The opinions, two in number, are largely a discussion of whether the Steel corporation monopolized the steel trade or dealt unfairly with competitors or purchasers.

Case of Business Facts.

The opinion says: "This case, a proceeding under the Sherman anti-trust law, is one largely of business facts."

It says all the trust cases thus far determined settle down to this, that only such combinations are within the Sherman act as by reason of the intent of those forming them or the inherent nature of their contemplated act wrong the public by unduly restricting competition or unduly restricting competition or unduly obstructing the course of trade.

It further holds the questions of fact for the court to determine are: Whether, when the bill was filed, the Steel company was unduly restricting competition or unduly obstructing trade in the home market; whether it was restricting competition or unduly obstructing trade in the foreign market; and lastly, had the Steel corporation these objects in view when it was formed in 1901.

The court holds that the proofs show, when the bill was filed, the competitors of the Steel corporation were doing 60 per cent of the country's steel and iron business.

Competitors Also Increased.

The test of monopoly, the opinion says, is not the size of that which is acquired but the trade power of that which is not acquired. In the ten years since the Steel corporation was formed, it has increased its business about 40 per cent. Nine great competing steel companies have increased theirs more,

PRESIDENT UNSWERVED IN PURPOSE

Will Demand Germany's Intentions in Regard to Respecting Laws.

Answer Will Restate That Lusitania Was Not an Armed Vessel.

Washington, June 3.—President Wilson worked most of today on the new note to Germany.

The situation has developed to a point where, although the visit of Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador, to the president yesterday was believed likely to enlighten the Berlin foreign office on the attitude of the United States, the American government is unswerved from its intention to determine promptly whether German submarine commanders will hereafter respect the principles of international law.

The facts upon which the German government asked agreement, it is now practically certain, will be treated by the note as irrelevant with one exception. It is understood that the note will restate that the Lusitania was on a peaceful cruise, did not resist capture and was unarmed. All the other points raised by Germany are deemed irrelevant under the laws of nations.

Would Learn Future Action.

The purpose of the United States in the new note will be to discover whether Germany will

AWAIT NEWS FROM MEXICO

Washington, June 3.—News of how President Wilson's demand on the leaders of the various military factions in Mexico for prompt restoration of peace in the revolution-torn Southern republic is being received by them was awaited today with intense interest in official and diplomatic quarters.

The president's statement which was sent to Gens. Carranza, Villa, Zapata and others, publicly called upon them to settle their differences quickly and establish a government which the United States can recognize. The president warned them that failure to do so "within a very short time" would constrain the United States "to decide what means should be employed" to save the Mexican people from further devastations of internal warfare.

GERMAN ADVANCE NEAR THE SAN MUST RESULT IN QUICK VICTORY OR UTTER DISASTER

ONE MILLION SOLDIERS IN MOVEMENT

Dash Made By Gen. von Mackensen to Gain Point on Railway.

Russians Closing in on Both Flanks to Cut Off Army.

London, June 3.—The situation of the Germans across the San river is such that the only alternatives are a brilliant success or utter disaster, says the Petrograd correspondent of the Morning Post.

The correspondent explains that Gen. von Mackensen has at this point 1,000,000 men dependent on a narrow neck of territory, not seven miles wide on the San for their only communication with their base. Their front is within eight miles of Mosciska which is their immediate objective, a station on the main line of the railway to Lemberg.

Both flanks are being attacked by the Russians who are gradually closing in on the narrow neck of land running from Jaroslau to the river Lubaczowka, which alone is available for communication with the German rear.

After Railroad.

Gen. von Mackensen has dashed in to gain at any cost a point on the railway behind Przemysl and join hands with the Germans operating on the front

REPUBLIC OF SAN MARINO ENTERS WAR

Amsterdam, Holland, June 3, via London.—An agency dispatch received here from Lugano, Switzerland, says that San Marino, the little republic on the Adriatic, but entirely surrounded by Italian territory, has officially approved the Italian attitude toward Austria, and has declared itself to be in a state of war.

San Marino is on high land a few miles from Rimini. The fact that the republic has joined with Italy in the war makes it impossible for Austria-Hungary to make use of its territory as a neutral point.

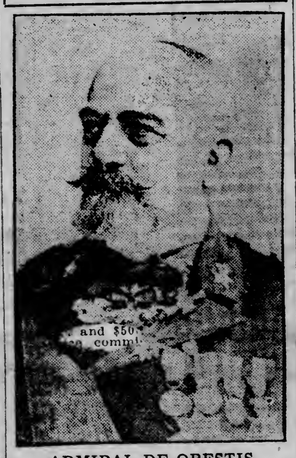

San Marino has an area of twenty-two square miles. It is situated on a high mountain nine miles from Rimini and dominates the Adriatic. It has been contended that if San Marino remained neutral Austrian aeroplanes could in time of need, take refuge there, repair, take on new supplies and then return to their own country.

500,000 WOMEN PRAY FOR THE PRESIDENT.

Chicago, June 3.—Anna A. Gordon, president of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union, today sent the following telegram to President Wilson:

BRITISH SUBMARINE SENDS GERMAN TRANSPORT DOWN

Submersible Operating in the Sea of Marmora Gets Big Prey in Panderma Bay.

London, June 3.—A British submarine operating in the Sea of Marmora torpedoed a large German transport in Panderma bay yesterday morning.

This announcement was given out officially in London today as having been received from the vice admiral in command at the Dardanelles. It is said that this submarine was one of several operating in these waters.

STRATEGIC POINT IS TAKEN BY HEAVY FIRE FROM BIG ARTILLERY

Russians Took Town After Siege of 201 Days, About 120,000 Austrians Surrendering; Held It for Seventy Days.

Austro-German Forces Made Determined Attacks, Expending Men and Ammunition Without Regard to Cost of the Victory.

London, June 3.—After a siege of three weeks the fortress of Przemysl, in Galicia, has fallen to the Austrians. The Russians were in possession a little over seventy days.

This news was received in London with a certain degree of surprise. While it had been well known that the Russian position at Przemysl was serious, and that the artillery fire of the Germanic allies was daily becoming more terrific, the announcement from Vienna of an Austrian victory was not expected so quickly, particularly in view of the official statement from Petrograd of last Monday saying the Austro-German grip before Przemysl had been broken and that the offensive in the great Galician struggle had passed to the Russians.

The Austrians entered Przemysl at 3:30 this morning after a hammering with heavy guns that lasted more than twenty days. The capitulation of Przemysl must be ascribed to the effectiveness of this artillery onslaught. The occupation of the fortress by the Austrians will remove the danger of the Russian threat against Cracow.

STARVED OUT BY RUSSIANS.

When the Russians starved out the Austrian garrison at Przemysl, an operation which brought them into the fortress March 22, they did it slowly and systematically, conserving the lives of their men as much as possible. The method which the Austro-Germans have been employing recently to accomplish the same end has been entirely different. Their expenditure in men and ammunition has perhaps outdone anything in this war, not even excepting the German rushes for Calais and the terrible struggles along the Yser river.

Remarkable Feat.

The retaking of the Przemysl fortress already has been characterized by British observers as one of the most remarkable feats of the war. Immediately after the surrender of the Austrian garrison the Russians began a westward rush through Galicia and it was predicted that they would soon overrun both Silesia and the plains of Hungary. A terrific Austro-German offensive was inaugurated, however, the result of which was to drive the Russians back to the San and to enable the Teutonic allies to encircle Przemysl and attack it from the north and the southeast.

The strength of the Russian garrison within the fortress has not been known in London.

New Attack on Warsaw.

Another feature of the fighting on the eastern front is the new attack on Warsaw. Neither the Russian nor the British newspapers are able to say whether the renewed battering of the Russian line between the Pilica and the Vistula is a serious effort to break through to the Polish capital or a move timed to prevent the Russians from Italian Torpedo Boats Do Damage in Invasion of Austrian Waters.

Geneva, Switzerland, June 3, via Paris, 2:10 p. m.—News dispatches received here declare that two Italian torpedo boats early yesterday morning entered the Gulf of Trieste, sank two merchant vessels, and damaged an Austrian auxiliary cruiser.

Train Thrown Down Bank.

Bloomington, Ill., June 3.—Chicago & Alton passenger train No. 70, running forty miles an hour, was thrown down an eight-foot embankment this morning one mile west of Minier, injuring several passengers, none seriously.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Przemysl has been reclaimed by Austria. Official announcement was made at Vienna that the great Galician fortress won by the Russians ten weeks ago after a long struggle, had been recaptured.

With Przemysl in their hands the Austrians and Germans have concluded the first phase of their new Galician campaign which was launched in the drive from Cracow. While the fall of Przemysl has not been conceded at Petrograd, so far as cable advices show, the latest official statement from the Russian war office admitted that the besiegers of the fortress had won some successes including the capture of two outlying forts to the north. Dispatches from the Austrian front to Vienna indicate that the attacking forces relied largely on their heavy guns, which they have used effectively all through their advance across Galicia. These dispatches say the Russians had removed men and supplies from Przemysl, in anticipation of its fall, and that they considered it not improbable they would lose Lemberg as well.

Roumania and Russia have been unable to compose their differences concerning an adjustment of the Roumanian boundaries. Roumania's entrance in the war is said unofficially to be conditioned on such an agreement. A Milan dispatch states that King Victor Emmanuel has offered his services as intermediary between these nations.

The Austrian war office announces that Italian offensive operations have been unsuccessful and that no material damage has been done by the Italian artillery.

Official announcement was made in London today that a British submarine had torpedoed a large German transport in the Sea of Marmora. This submarine is said to be one of several which have made their way through the Dardanelles and are now operating in the Sea of Marmora.

An exploit of two Italian torpedo boats in penetrating the Gulf of Trieste is described in a dispatch from Geneva. The torpedo boats are said to have sunk two merchant vessels and damaged an Austrian cruiser.

Further violent infantry fighting occurred yesterday in the contested region near Lorette. The French war office states that no advantage was won by either side in this engagement. Except for slight progress for the allies in the mase of trench works named "the labyrinth" the situation along the western front is unchanged.

The little republic of San Marino with an area of twenty-two square miles, which is surrounded by Italian territory, has approved Italy's attitude toward Austria and declared itself to be in a state of war. The chief importance of this decision lies in the fact that it will deprive Austria of the opportunity which might otherwise have existed of using San Marino as a place of refuge for its aeroplanes during attacks on Italy.

CITY UNABLE TO GET LOAN

Building of West Duluth Firehall May Be Delayed.

Voss Says Present Funds of City Are All Overdrawn.

Unless some public-spirited citizen or corporation loans the city commission $15,000 without any surety for the erection of a new West Duluth fire hall, the structure will not be built until next year.

Commissioner Voss has ruled that it will be impossible for the city to borrow the money, as the present funds are all overdrawn and the issuing of certificates of indebtedness on the 1916 tax levy cannot be made until the annual budget is made out in October.

Old Building Insanitary.

Last week Commissioner Silberstein declared that the present fire hall at West Duluth was insanitary and unfit for use and that, if necessary, a loan of $15,000 would be made on the 1916 budget so that the new structure could be erected this summer. It is his plan to include from $15,000 to $20,000 in next year's budget for the construction of a new fire hall.

According to the city charter, a certificate of indebtedness cannot be issued until after the commission has transmitted its annual statement to the county auditor. This is in October and that would be too late for the beginning of a new building, as it would not be finished in time for use during the winter. The charter permits the issuing of certificates not exceeding 80 per cent of the budget.

Banks Will Not Lend.

"The banks will not loan any money at this time," said Commissioner Voss this morning. "For we have no surety to offer. However, if some public-spirited citizen or corporation is willing to make the loan on our word, we will gladly take the money and go ahead with the new building. There is no doubt but what a fire hall is needed in the western end of the city."

Last winter the city purchased two lots on the corner opposite the present building for $2,000. The fire hall and station now in use were sold to the Canadian Northern road for $3,100.

According to the tentative plans already completed, the new structure will be two stories high and will accommodate the fire hall, the police station and the municipal court.

WEST DULUTH BUILDERS

MORRIS KASTRINER.

Morris Kastriner probably can conscientiously lay claim to being the pioneer of the merchants of West Duluth. It is nearly twenty-five years since he with his brother-in-law, Louis S. Neuman, purchased a branch clothing store in West Duluth. Now the establishment is one of the largest in this end of the city.

"I have always had and still have a great deal of faith in the future of West Duluth,' said Mr. Kastriner yesterday. "There have been many changes since we came here but every change has been for the better. I look forward to the time when Central avenue will be as important commercially as the center of the business district of Superior street."

Mr. Kastriner has taken an active part in boosting for the welfare of the community.

POLICE FAIL TO LOCATE THIEVES

Shoes Stolen From Olson & Kauppi's Store Found on Tracks.

West Duluth police have failed to get any trace of the thieves who broke into Olson & Kauppi's grocery store Tuesday night. A clew was picked up yesterday afternoon when two shoes, both mismates, that were taken from the store, were found on the transfer track in Polk street, near the Wallinder Sash & Door factory. The thieves were not traced beyond this point.

The burglars entered the store by breaking a window in the butcher shop. From the butcher shop they stole six hams and a box containing thirty pounds of butter. From the grocery store they took a 49-pound sack of flour and three pairs of shoes.

The police believe that a small wagon or a wheelbarrow was used in carting the stuff away, or that at least two men were implicated in the theft. A systematic search is being conducted for the men.

Two years ago the store was broken into in the same manner and a quantity of goods taken. In the loot taken at that time two cases of workingmen's shoes were carried off.

NO RIVALRY FOR GRADUATION HONORS

Miss Mary McCabe Holds Every Office in Her Class.

There will be no rivalry for honors among the members of the senior class of the Proctor high school. The commencement exercises for the class will take place Saturday evening at the Odd Fellows' hall along with graduating exercises for the eighth grade of the Proctor school.

The honor of being the valedictorian, leading pupil, president, vice president, secretary and treasurer of the class, is embodied in one person. That person will be the most prominent figure of the exercises and will be Miss Mary McCabe.

Miss McCabe is the sole graduate of the Proctor high school this year. There will be thirty-eight pupils in the graduating class of the eighth grade. The program will include an address by Prof. A. M. Royce of the Superior Normal school and a program of music and recitations by members of the class.

Following is the program: Invocation, LeGrand Pace; "Welcome Song" (Gabriel), eighth grade class; class history, Miss Opal Temple; address, "Opportunities for Growth in Life," Prof. Royce; song, "Isle of Beauty" (Bayley), eighth grade class; presentation of class memorial, Roger McDonald and Walter Long; presentation of diplomas by R. L. Ketch, superintendent.

Royal League Election.

The annual election of officers for Pocahontas council No. 319, and West Duluth council No. 255, Royal League, will be held next Tuesday evening at the West Duluth Commercial club rooms. It is expected that the greater number of the members will attend. Following the business session a social evening has been planned. The committee in charge of the latter consists of Mrs. T. W. Brain, chairman; Mrs. W. E. Judson, Mrs. Louis Bennett and Mrs. Wetterlund.

PLAN TO BUILD HANDSOME CHURCH

Hazelwood Presbyterians Would Erect Structure in Near Future.

A handsome modern building will be erected within a short time by the congregation of the Hazelwood Presbyterian church. The congregation has just completed purchasing the vacant property on the northwest corner of Fourth street and Thirty-ninth avenue, across the street from the present building.

The lot has a frontage of 75 feet on Fourth street and is 88 feet deep. On this site will be built the first unit of a church, which will ultimately cost about $30,000. It is proposed to build the basement for the church the latter part of this year. This will be used for holding services until such time as funds can be raised for building the superstructure.

While the congregation has but few members, the Sunday school has a membership that rivals many of the larger churches of the city. The enrollment of the Sunday school numbers 175 with an average attendance of 125 children. The small building now being used is found to be too small to accommodate comfortably this number during the Sunday school hour.

Rev. O. D. Slater, pastor of the church, and S. B. Carey, superintendent of the Sunday school, are working actively in bringing the building project to a successful close.

POLICE AFTER DECKHAND

George Nelles Accused of Stealing Money and Watch.

West Duluth police are scouring the city for George Nelles, 32, a deckhand on the steamer J. C. Morse, who is alleged to have stolen a sum of money and other valuables from his messmates as the boat landed at the Zenith Furnace company's docks this morning. Up to noon no trace of the man had been found.

Nelles is alleged to have stolen $48 from William Robinson, the sum being in nine $5 bills and three $1 bills. He is also alleged to have taken a Hamilton gold watch belonging to Fritz Casperson, and a pair of shoes valued at $5 from Stacey Adams.

The steamer landed at the dock just before dawn. Nelles is alleged to have left the boat just after it landed. It is believed that he is still in the city, but intended getting out of town at the earliest moment. He is said to live in Detroit, Mich.

DIES AFTER SHORT ILLNESS.

Eric Wahlberg Succumbs; Funeral Will Be on Saturday.

Eric Richard Wahlberg, age 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Wahlberg, 126 North Sixty-third avenue west, died yesterday following an illness of but four days. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Swedish Mission church, Fifty-ninth avenue west and Greene street, with interment in Oneota cemetery. Rev. C. V. S. Engstrom will officiate.

The young man is survived by four sisters and three brothers, besides his parents. They are Mrs. E. Norling of Alberta, Can.; Mrs. T. L. Highmark, Misses Mary C. Wahlberg and Linnea Wahlberg of West Duluth, and Carl, Gustaf and Ernest Wahlberg, also of West Duluth.

Alumni Plan Outing.

Members of the 1914 graduating class of the former Duluth Industrial high school held a meeting last evening at the home of Miss Elna Wicklund of South Fifty-sixth avenue west, at which plans for an outing to be held next week were made. It is proposed to get in touch with all of the former graduates of the school, that they may take part in the outing. Another meeting will be held within a few days to complete arrangements.

Killed By Explosion.

Andrew Stawney, tailor at 224 North Central avenue, has just received a telegram announcing the death of his brother, Anton Stawney, on the latter's homestead eight miles from Portland, Or. His brother was killed by a premature explosion while he was blowing up stumps on his farm. The accident occurred Saturday.

West Duluth Briefs.

Division No. 2, Auxiliary of the A. O. H., will hold a business meeting this evening at Gilley's hall, 322 North Central avenue.

The meeting of the Buds of Promise Society of the Swedish Mission church, scheduled for Saturday afternoon, has been postponed for a week.

A social has been planned for this evening by the men of the Bethany Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, Sixty-fifth avenue west and Polk street.

Rev. W. H. Farrell, pastor of the Asbury M. E. church, has returned from a short visit to Aurora, Minn.

Mrs. Hugh Bell of Eau Claire, who had been visiting at the home of her sons, J. G. Bell and H. J. Bell, left this afternoon for Minneapolis. She was accompanied by one of her sons.

ANNOUNCES BIDS ON TWO PAVING JOBS

Secretary Culver of the works division this morning announced the bids on paving Sixth street, from Fifteenth to Eighteenth avenues east, and Sixteenth avenue east, from Sixth to Eighth street, and East First street to Congdon park.

P. McDonnell submitted the lowest bid on the former job, but it is incomplete, and as a result August Bodin & Son are the lowest bidders. The bids on asphalt and bituminous cement follow: P. McDonnell, $19,418.60; August Bodin & Son, $20,423.10; George King, $21,295.18.

MANY WITNESSES IN DRIVER'S CASE

Two attorneys, a municipal court judge, the secretary to Mayor Prince and several other witnesses were occupied with the question yesterday afternoon of whether or not F. A. Noreen, 4 St. Paul avenue, drove past an open street car gate May 28.

Judge Smallwood, after a hearing which occupied considerable time, finally decided that Noreen was guilty and the automobilist paid an $8 fine.

It was one of the first cases to be dignified by a trial, as practically all of the auto drivers brought into court for traffic violations, plead guilty and none of them has retained attorneys.

J. Harris Trux, secretary to Mayor Prince, was complaining witness in the case. G. W. Ross was attorney for Noreen, while Third Assistant City Attorney Gonska represented the city.

INVENTOR OF THE KENNEDY RIFLE DEAD

Auburn, N. Y., June 3.—Samuel V. Kennedy, manager of the Eastern plants of the International Harvester company, died yesterday in the Mayo hospital at Rochester, Minn., following an operation performed upon him a week ago, according to advices received here today.

Mr. Kennedy was the inventor of the Kennedy rifle and held positions with several arms companies before he entered the harvesting machinery manufacturing business with D. M. Osborne & Co. of Auburn. When the International Harvester company acquired the Osborne plant, Mr. Kennedy was placed in charge of all the plants of the International Harvester company east of Chicago.

SMALL HOUSES IN CITY ADDITIONS

Builders' Exchange May Promote Such a Plan; Will Be Further Discussed.

Duluth needs small homes in new city additions, say members of the Builders' exchange.

At the June meeting of contractors and builders, held in the exchange's rooms in the Lyceum building last night, consideration of a plan to erect small houses and have them available for immediate purchase by newcomers who wanted to locate in the suburbs or new additions was taken up.

C. J. Burkstrom, one of the contractors present, made a suggestion incorporating this idea, and was told that the exchange had been considering the plan for some time. It will come up for an open discussion at the July meeting of contractors.

"Building up new additions heretofore has been left to the real estate men, when logically the work should be undertaken by contractors," said Mr. Burkstrom. "The time now is ripe for the start of such a plan."

"The matter will be threshed out thoroughly before any definite action is taken," said President Emil Zauft. "It is possible that the exchange will engage in the work of promotion."

Last night's meeting was an enthusiastic one, a large number of builders being present. After other business had been considered, plans for the 1915 outing of the organization were discussed. Up to this time the annual picnic of the exchange has been unique in that it was a "stag" affair, but sentiment now favors the inclusion of other members of builders' families. Action on this point also was deferred.

RIBOT ASKS FOR ANOTHER BILLION

Paris, June 3.—Alexander F. Ribot, the French minister of finance, today introduced a bill in the chamber of deputies providing for the appropriation of 5,600,000,000 francs ($1,120,000,000) provisionally for the requirements in the third quarter of the present year.

M. Ribot presented with the bill memoranda showing that the extraordinary appropriations since the war began and including the estimates for the third quarter of 1915 would amount to 22,000,000,000 francs ($4,400,000,000). If one included the appropriations already made when the war began, for the last five months of 1914, the total, the finance minister said, would rise to 24,000,000,000 francs ($4,800,000,000) for the fourteen months ending Sept. 3.

AUSTRIANS WITHDRAW NORTHEAST OF TRENT

Verona, Italy, June 3, via Paris.—The Austrian troops are withdrawing from their positons along the Fiemme valley (part of the valley of the River Avisio, to the northeast of Trent). They have virtually destroyed the health resort of San Martino de Castrozza. This village contained eight large hotels, six belonging to Germans and two to Italians.

IMPORTANT AND EXTRAORDINARY BUSINESS EVENT

Well Known Piano House Going Out of Business and Fine Stock of Pianos Thrown on the Market at Public Sale, Sacrifice Prices.

Jos. Callaway Acting for the Manufacturers Announces Immediate Sale of Entire Stock.

15 DAYS ONLY—EASY TERMS

Quick Action Is Necessary to Secure One of These Bargains—Come Early.

This announcement will come as a big surprise in the business centers here, as Kreidler Music Co. are known to handle only high-grade pianos, and to do a fine business, yet the simple facts are that the firm has decided to quit the piano business.

Short Notice and Quick Action.

The manufacturers find themselves with these pianos on their hands, and rather than reship to factory, they have appointed me to close out the entire stock.

My instructions in all cases say "sell at once." Cost and former prices will be lost sight of.

As to Prices.

Every buyer will secure a bargain of a lifetime. $75 to $95 on a piano—about one-third—is worth saving, isn't it? Cash will, of course, be a factor, but easy terms will be given everyone who so desires.

Fine $300 pianos, choice mahogany, plain or carved cases, now $198 to $235 to close.

Famous Makes.

Kreidler Music Co. were known to handle only the best pianos, and therefore several of the world's leading manufacturers are represented at this great sale. Here will be found the world-famous pianos, such as Mehlin & Sons, Hallet & Davis, Conway, Lexington, and many others. Thus every buyer is assured of sterling value and more than this, every piano is fully guaranteed by the manufacturers.

Greatest Opportunity.

How can you ever expect another chance like this? You owe it to yourself and your family to at least call and investigate.

Remember, the store is open evenings. No goods can be reserved. Absolute guarantee.

"STAR—Good For One—Better for Two"

Men Who Chew Are Men Who DO

THE farmers, on whom so much of America's success depends, are almost without exception, tobacco chewers. And more farmers use STAR tobacco than use any other brand.

It speaks pretty well for STAR that men who know tobacco, many of them being tobacco raisers, prefer mellow STAR Tobacco—in the thick, tasty plug.

Imagine a ripe orange in a thin skin. That's just like a plug of STAR—so full of ripe, good "chew" that it can't dry out—made clean and kept that way.

And don't confuse STAR with any of those 14 or 15 ounce "pound" plugs. Each plug of STAR weighs 16 ounces. Ask the dealer to let you see the revenue stamp on the box. That will tell the story of honest weight.

So great is the nation-wide demand for STAR that a year's output of sixteen ounce STAR plugs is equal in weight to 416,666 bushels of wheat.

"FIRED" AFTER LONG SERVICE

Ruben Johnson Removed; Civil Service Secretary Nine Years.

Leonard McHugh Will Take the Place Without Salary.

After nine years' service as secretary of the civil service board, Ruben Johnson will be replaced on July 1 by Leonard McHugh, law clerk for City Attorney Greene, according to an announcement made by Commissioner Silberstein at the council meeting last evening.

In a communication to the commission, Mr. Silberstein announced that Mr. McHugh will work without pay, thus saving $600 annually to the city.

Commissioner Silberstein declared this morning that the present system of the commission is a faulty one, and that he is opposed to having a secretary conduct the examinations and correct the papers himself. He said that he would insist on the members of the commission being present at the examinations and to take part in going over the papers. Mr. Johnson, he said, has been doing all the work, merely making reports to the civil service commissioners.

RUBEN JOHNSON.

Mr. Johnson is unable to account for the action of the safety commissioner, and he said this morning that he is not prepared to make any statement. He is also secretary of the health department, but declared that he would not resign from that office at the present time. He has been in the employ of the city for the last nine years, receiving $75 a month from the health department and $50 a month from the civil service commission. The latter salary is paid out of the general fund.

"This is a complete surprise to me," said Mr. Johnson this morning, "and I am unable to account for the action of Mr. Silberstein."

DULUTH HOTEL MANAGER SAYS AKOZ IS WONDERFUL MINERAL

Harmon L. Powers Checks Kidney and Stomach Trouble With California Rival of Radium.

Harmon L. Powers, a well-known Duluth hotel manager of 322 West Third street, suffered for 5 years with kidney and stomach trouble and has at last found relief by using Akoz, the new California mineral rival of radium.

"I am highly pleased with the results I obtained from Akoz," said Mr. Powers. "It is a wonderful and a remarkable mineral remedy. I suffered for a long time with kidney and stomach trouble. The pains in my back were very bad at times and I had gas and sour stomach.

"I am feeling fine now after taking Akoz only a short time and I can and will cheerfully recommend Akoz to all suffering as I was."

Akoz has also proven very effective in the treatment of rheumatism, bladder and liver trouble, eczema, catarrh, piles and other ailments, as is shown by the statements of a great number of residents in this city and vicinity.

Akoz is not a patent medicine. It is a natural mineral containing no harmful constituent and has wonderful curative properties. It is now being introduced at the Lyceum pharmacy, Duluth, and other leading drug stores, where further information may be had regarding this advertisement.

Council Disposes of Preliminaries on North Shore Boulevard.

Paving Contract Let—Appropriation for West End Library.

Chester A. Congdon's offer to pay all the awards, claims and expenses of the Lake Shore boulevard from Lester Park to Two Harbors, a distance of about twenty-nine miles, was formally accepted last night, when the city commission passed an ordinance to that effect. Work on the highway will begin shortly, it was announced this morning by Mayor Prince.

The ordinance accepting Mr. Congdon's offer was introduced three weeks ago by Mayor Prince. More than $40,000 will have to be paid by Mr. Congdon as awards to property owners and expenses in surveying the highway.

In addition the council heard the second reading of the new housing code and the ordinances making the removal of wires or poles without authority a misdemeanor.

Careless Bidders Scored.

Careless bidders and a loafing employe were scored by Commissioner Farrell and as a result several bids were rejected and the contract with Sam Scandin to sprinkle District No. 14 was canceled. Mr. Farrell was given authority to advertise for new bids on furnishing the city with sewer material, the laying of cement walks east of Twelfth avenue west and the sprinkling of District No. 14 during the summer. The commissioner declared that a special charge for extra haulage by the bidders on furnishing sewer material was unfair and that the check by the low bidder on laying walks was $2.60 short. Mr. Scandin, he said, has been loafing on the job.

Damage Claim Held Up.

Commissioner Farrell held up the resolution authorizing the payment of $500 to Edward Johnson as damages to his property by the overflow of Mission creek two years ago. He declared that the liability of the city should be reduced, because Mr. Johnson's barn encroached on the city street. The measure was laid over a week at the request of the works commissioner.

Mayor Prince introduced a resolution authorizing the appropriation of $3,000 for the maintenance of the new West end library and also authorizing him to make application to Andrew Carnegie for a $30,000 structure in that end of the city. The city recently purchased two lots at Twenty-third avenue west and Second street for $4,800. Local architects are invited to submit sketches and specifications for a new building.

A sanitary sewer was ordered in Luverne street, between Fortieth and Forty-second avenues east. The works commissioner was authorized to enter into a contract with the street car company to haul 300 cubic yards of crushed rock from the Point of Rocks to the Thirty-ninth avenue west spur track for 30 cents a yard.

Paving Contract Let.

Commissioner Farrell introduced a resolution awarding the contract for the paving of Kenilworth and Sussex avenues to Rogers & McLean on their bid of $8,982.45. It will come up for final action at the meeting next Monday.

Minor changes in the public works office and the purchase of hardwood for the construction of a long counter were authorized.

The claim of David McNutt for $37.50 as the result of damages under the workmen's compensation act was authorized. It will be paid out of the public works fund.

Commissioner Farrell introduced a resolution awarding the contract for the laying of sidewalks west of Twelfth avenue west to Kiltin & Co. on their bid of $4,998. The claim of F. E. Thompson for $150 for the services of the steamer Osborne on May 17-19 while the aerial bridge was undergoing repairs was ordered paid.

Commissioner Merritt announced that the city does not own title to the property adjacent to the Lakewood pumping station and as a result cannot consider the offer of the D. & I. R. road to purchase a strip for the erection of a new station.

Tenth avenue east, between Sixth and Seventh streets, and Twenty-first avenue east, between Jefferson street and London road, were ordered sprinkled with oil.

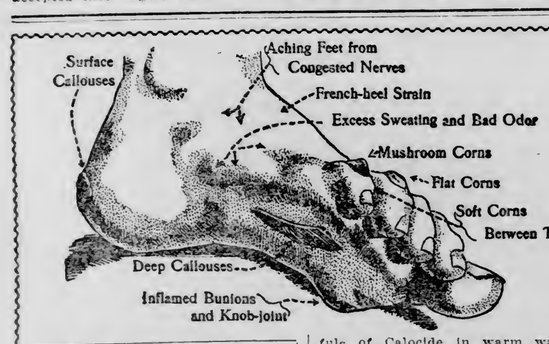

The Duluth-Edison company was directed to light the canal piers from June 15 to Sept. 15.

Second reading was given the ordinances appropriating $23,000 for storm and sanitary sewers, $6,000 for the purchase of water meters, $4,900 for the purchase of water gates and boxes, $400 for the inspection of cast iron specials and $1,200 for the painting of the aerial bridge.

No action was taken on the claim of Judge Smallwood for back salary of $150 during the last half of April.

The application of Peter Valerio for a saloon license at Gary was denied, the policy of the council being not to increase the number of saloons. Saloon license renewals were granted to Ignas Ptaszek, 2231 West Superior street; Sam Smith, 320 East Superior street; L. Dawson, 21 West Michigan street, being a transfer of G. B. Kelley, same address; Charles Bostrom and Oscar Lindquist, 1921 West Superior street, and Frank Peterson, 1817 West Superior street.

Other licenses granted were: Cigarettes—M. A. Di Santo, 1 West Fourth street; Haugsrud & Markhaven, 1832 West Michigan street. Pool—David Horwitz, 5703 Raleigh street. Plumbing—Sanitary Plumbing company, 34 West First street.

Tells Positive Cure for All Foot Troubles

Science has proven that nearly all foot troubles originate in the common cause of injured or congested tissues. The thousands of victims of daily foot torture will welcome this information of a simple home treatment (known to best foot doctors) that acts through the pores, removes the cause, and gives instant relief. "Dissolve two spoonfuls of Calocide in warm water. Soak the feet in this, gently rubbing the sore parts." The effects are marvelous. All pain goes instantly and the feet feel delightful. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off; bunions, aching feet, sweaty feet, get immediate relief. Don't waste time on questionable remedies; get the genuine Calocide from any drug store, but don't be persuaded to take something else instead. There is nothing even similar to Calocide. A twenty-five-cent package is said to be enough to cure the worst feet. Medical Formula laboratories, Dayton, O.

DENY LIABILITY FOR BOY'S DEATH

Retail Merchants File Answer in Action for Damages.

In an answer filed yesterday afternoon in district court, the Duluth Retail Merchants' association denies any liability in connection with the death of Oliver Brown, young son of Charles B. Brown, last July.

The boy died from injuries he received from explosives he picked up at Thirteenth avenue east and the lake shore the day following a fireworks exhibition in connection with a Lark o' the Lake celebration.

The boy's father, as administrator of his estate, started suit against the city of Duluth and the Retail Merchants' association, charging them with joint responsibility for the death.

The association in its separate answer disclaims any liability. It states, however, that various members of the association contributed as individuals to the expenses of the affair to George A. Smith, who had charge of the fireworks display.

BUY COAL IN OPEN MARKET

City Council Resolves to Do Away With Contract System.

Unfair Treatment By Coal Companies Claimed; No Saving on Contract.

That local companies do not live up to their contracts with the city and that inferior coal is often delivered, was the claim made by Commissioner Voss of the finance division at the council meeting last evening and, as a result, the commissioners rejected the bids submitted for furnishing the annual supply of coal beginning July 1. It was decided to buy the coal in the open market whenever it is needed.

The rejection of the bids followed the introduction of a resolution by Mayor Prince to award the contract to the Pittsburgh Coal company at approximately $12,500 for nearly 8,000 tons. An ordinance by the mayor appropriating this money from the following funds was given its first reading:

General fund, $3,000; safety, $4,500; utilities, $2,600; welfare, $500; works, $600; library, $1,000, and permanent improvement revolving fund, $500. The appropriation will have to be made under separate purchase arrangements, it was announced.

Unfair With City.

"By entering into such a contract with a coal company," declared Commissioner Voss after the introduction of the resolution by Mayor Prince, "the city has never received the best coal. Dust and inferior coal is delivered, because the city is tied down to a contract. The companies get the best end of the deal and they send the city whatever they cannot sell elsewhere. I am opposed to going into such a contract this year. We have followed this course in the past, but it is not the wisest policy."

Mayor Prince explained that the storage capacity of the various public buildings is small and that it would be impossible to stock up at any one time. He admitted, however, that inferior coal has often been delivered.

No Saving on Contract.

"We pay as much by making a contract as we would by purchasing in the open market," continued Mr. Voss. "In addition, coal dealers would strive to get our business, if we were not tied down to a contract and they would make us reasonable offers and also deliver the best grade coal they have for the price."

Commissioner Farrell declared that buying in the open market is the best plan and Commissioner Silberstein added that as long as there is no difference in price, it would be best to follow Mr. Voss' suggestion.

At this point Mayor Prince agreed to the plan and he hastily prepared a resolution rejecting all bids. The measure received a unanimous vote.

ELKS PLANNING SUMMER FROLIC

Committee Named to Make Arrangements—Place and Date Set.

Duluth Elks are already making plans for their annual summer picnic and frolic.

A committee, recently appointed at a meeting of Duluth lodge No. 133, met for its first session last evening at the Elks club and discussed plans.

Thursday, Aug. 12, was selected as a date for the picnic and Two Harbors as the place. It is proposed to engage a special train for the Elks and their families, but no details have as yet been worked out.

H. B. Knudsen is chairman of the general committee in charge of the picnic. The other members of the committee are: N. B. Morrison, Theodore Barker, George Munsey, Edward Stevens, Dave A. Cone and H. J. Gibbs.

"DRY FACTS" PUPILS' DIET

County Instruction in History Sadly Deficient, Says Hursh.

Examinations Show Few Pupils Familiar With Relation of Facts.

That the average school child acquires from the study of history as it is taught in many of the public schools of the county and state but a few dry, disconnected facts instead of a love for historical literature and the ability to see the true relation between history of the past and our everyday life of the present, is the declaration of H. B. Hursh, assistant superintendent of the St. Louis county schools.

Results of Examinations.

Mr. Hursh bases his conclusion partly upon his general observation during the course of his work and partly upon weaknesses in the subject of history as shown by the state examinations held in the rural schools throughout the county this spring. Mr. Hursh read a great many of these papers and expresses himself as being somewhat surprised at the lack of knowledge and understanding displayed in a great many cases where the students were bright in other subjects.

"For instance," said Mr. Hursh in a current issue of the Rural School Bulletin, a magazine published from the office of County Superintendent N. A. Young, "pupils as a general rule did not show a clear understanding of the conditions in Europe which led to the discovery of America.

Fail to See Connection.

"It was also true that very few pupils could give the three different forms of local government in the colonies, and give an example of each.

"Almost without exception, the pupils failed to differentiate between the remote and immediate causes of the Revolution. Very few causes were given which could be classed as remote. Most of the causes given were: Boston massacre, Navigation acts, Boston Tea party, Stamp act, Sugar and Molasses act, Writs of Assistance, Boston Port bill and the quartering of troops. Most of the pupils gave the battle of Saratoga as the turning point, but failed in giving four results of this battle.

"In a great many cases, the pupils were unable to name all of the states which were made out of the Northwest territory.

"Few could give three satisfactory factors which promoted the extension of slavery. Pupils did not seem to understand what was meant by this question. In most cases pupils failed to state that the main provision of the Emancipation proclamation was to free the slaves in the states which were in rebellion.

"Practically none of the pupils could discuss intelligently two influences that stimulated American industries from 1865 to 1915. Their selections of influences were very poor and their attempts (where they did attempt) to tell the effects of these influences were, with few exceptions, failures.

Teachers Ineficient.

"I believe that these papers show clearly the results of a failing which I have observed in the teaching of upper grade history. This fault is the teacher's and consists in the making of the history lesson into a mere memory test, when it is so easily made a study of vital human interest to children, an exposition of cause and effect, and a means of inspiring in the pupils higher ideals of civic responsibility and useful citizenship.

"It is my opinion, however, that the reason for the average instructor's making such a miserable failure of the teaching of history, is that she herself does not see the true relation between history of the past and our everyday life of the present. She fails to grasp the significance of the fact that our nation and we ourselves are living and doing things today which tomorrow will be history. And until such time as the teacher learns to look upon history in this light, and fills her pupils with a love of historical literature which should be theirs, just so long may we expect to see her pupils show by their examination papers that all they have acquired from the study of history under her supervision are a few dry, disconnected and worthless facts."

JUMP FROM MACHINE.

Two Thief River Falls Men Have Close Call at Grafton, N. D.

Grafton, N. D., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Run down by a boxcar being shunted onto a sidetrack, Herman Winer and M. H. Crossman of Thief River Falls, Minn., leaped from their automobile here just in time to avoid injury, but their car was smashed.

The autoists failed to notice the approach of the car until it was too late to prevent a crash.

TO WELCOME VISITORS.

International Falls Arranging for Coming of Governor and Senators.

International Falls, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sunday, June 13, will be a big day here. The city will be honored by a visit from Governor W. S. Hammond and many members of the state senate. On Sunday morning the governor and solons will arrive over the Canadian Northern from the iron range cities and their train, consisting of ten Pullman sleepers, besides diners and other cars, will be transferred at Ranier to the M. & I. track at that place and the party will take breakfast on the train. Arrangements for a splendid day's entertainment for the distinguished vistors is being made and it is probable that they will be taken up the lake to one of the hotels and given their dinner at that place. In the evening they will be entertained at the high school and Monday morning they will be taken through the big paper mill before leaving for Baudette.

AITKIN COUNTY MAN KILLED BY FALLING

James Johnston Is Accident Victim in Minneapolis.

Aitkin, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—James Johnston, an Aitkin county man, died Tuesday evening in a Minneapolis hospital from the effects of an injury received in a fall of thirty feet while employed by a boom company. He was 50 years old, unmarried, a brother of Kim Johnston of Bain and a nephew of I. Carmichael of Aitkin and Mrs. James Boyd of Bain. The funeral and burial were held in Minneapolis today.

Died in Duluth Hospital.

Gust Anderson, a merchant of Rossburg, died Sunday in a Duluth hospital after a two months' illness of cancer. The remains were brought home and the funeral will be held Friday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. A. Gustafson. Mr. Anderson was 53 years of age and is survived by a widow and two sons.

Marquette County Divorces.

Marquette, Mich., June 3.—Divorce cases in the Marquette county circuit court have increased in no small degree the last few years, as the records on file with County Clerk Jenks clearly show. Judge Flannigan on Tuesday dissolved six marriages. The complainant in five cases was the wife.

Total Sum on Deposit Shows Little Change for Month.

After spending their pennies rather freely during April, school children began saving again last month, and their bank balances show little change from the balance reported May 1.

In April considerable money was drawn out by the juvenile business men and women, presumably for new spring clothes. With three months' vacation nearly here, officials at the First National bank expected the school accounts to show another decrease this month, but it did not materialize.

"Duluth boys and girls evidently intend to save just as carefully, now that there is an opportunity to earn more by doing odd jobs and 'helping mother' during vacation," said one official.

About a year ago the First National bank started the plan of sending collectors to the various school buildings on stated days, and receiving deposits directly from the children.

The report issued as of June 1, and a comparison with the May 1 statement, follows:

UNDER BOARD'S OWN RULES

Former Civil Service Commissioner Says Secretary Cannot Be "Fired."

Is Himself Serving Under Regulations Which He Helps Enforce.

That Ruben Johnson cannot be discharged as secretary of the civil service commission without cause, as he was appointed under the regulations of that body, are the claims made by Arthur A. Fider, former member of the commission, in a communication to The Herald, received this afternoon.

Mr. Fider was a member of the commission that appointed Mr. Johnson nine years ago and he declares in his statement that the latter has worked faithfully and that he should be permitted to continue.

At the council meeting last evening Commissioner Silberstein announced the appointment of Leonard McHugh as secretary of the civil service commission to succeed Mr. Johnson on June 1. The appointee, Mr. Silberstein stated, will work without pay, thus saving $600 annually for the city.

Mr. Fider's communication to The Herald follows:

"In the morning paper is an article headed 'Oust Johnson as Secretary.' The safety commissioner made the announcement at the council meeting Wednesday evening that he is going to change the character of the civil service commission and appoint a new secretary. When the charter was adopted it placed the present civil service secretary under civil service and his removal can only be for cause as prescribed in the rules and that this office is out of politics entirely.

"The writer of this communication believes the civil service commission is thoroughly capable of performing its duties and he has known the secretary, Ruben Johnson, for years and was a member of the civil service commission at the time of Mr. Johnson's election and believes that he, as the secretary of the civil service commission, has always been fair and had the best interests of the commission at heart. In all commissions of the city that are serving without pay the secretary is the one who does the work. The records of the civil service commission will show that Mr. Johnson has been a painstaking and careful employe and believing that the position of secretary will be better out of politics and hoping that the civil service commission will be allowed to carry out the rules without interference of the city commissioners, so that the city will thereby get the best service, and that the commissioners who have political workers to reward will do so in some other way, I am, very truly yours,

"ARTHUR A. FIDER."

POSTMASTER IS NOT DETECTIVE

Suspicious Husbands and Wives Fail to Get Secret Information.

The postmaster is not serving in the capacity of a detective for suspicious husbands nor as an information bureau for others who wish to secure secrets concerning individuals, according to William E. McEwen, postmaster at Duluth. The rules of the postoffice department strictly regulate this matter, and for that reason the P. M. must refuse to give the "dope" in most cases.

A great many letters asking secret information are received, he said today, and whenever it is possible to help people in distress, it is done in so far as the law allows. For example, a woman may write asking for information regarding a missing son. In this case, the postmaster may use his own judgment in suggesting some means to help her, but no information regarding his mail can be given. In most cases the following circular letter is sent:

"Respectfully returned with the information that the rules of the P. O. department forbid my furnishing this information. A letter with return card addressed to this person will be delivered, if possible, or returned to sender."

Suspicious wives and husbands, mothers of missing sons, and scores of others apparently believe the postmaster has information that would help them secure the desired information in each case. For that reason the postmaster has a very discriminating task to perform. Many of the letters indicate that the writer has a worthy motive in asking information, but the rules are rigid. In such a case, all the postmaster can do is to suggest the best possible solution of the problem through some other channel, using his own stationery and postage, serving in a private capacity. Even then no rules of the office should be violated.

Michael Scanlon Seeks Damages From Mining Company.

A jury was drawn in Judge Cant's division of the district court this morning to try the action which has been instituted by Michael Scanlon of Negaunee, Mich., against the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, in which he is seeking a $3,000 balm because the company failed to disclose to him the whereabouts of the body of his 4-year-old daughter when it removed the remains from a cemetery back in 1910.

Five years ago the mining company purchased a Catholic burying ground near Negaunee and for several months was engaged in removing bodies interred there. The cemetery was later converted into an iron mine. The bodies were transferred to a new burying ground.

In his suit for damages, Scanlon charges that in removing the bodies from the cemetery the company failed to give him proper notice of the removal of the remains of his 4-year-old child, which had been buried there in June, 1906. He claims that the child's body was taken from its resting place and consigned to an unmarked grave. The company, he alleges, has failed to reveal to him its whereabouts.

Andrew Nelson appears in the case as attorney for the plaintiff and H. J. Grannis as counsel for the mining company.

BIG MOOSE PAYS VISIT TO DULUTH

Early Vegetables Eaten and Several Gardens Badly Trampled.

Frosts and insects are not the worst things when it comes to destroying gardens, according to residents of Woodland. Last night a big moose made its appearance in the district and played havoc among the gardens, eating early vegetables and trampling down what could not be eaten. The animal was again seen this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Frees, 311 Snively road, Ron McLeod, Louis McLeod and John Gibson. When last seen the animal was near the reservoir.

Although deer and moose have paid visits to Duluth many times, it is seldom that a moose ventures so far into the city limits, especially at this season of the year.

RIOTING AT JAP CAPITAL

Serious Disturbances Follow Anti-Government Meeting at Tokio.

Dissatisfaction With Aggression on China Cause of the Trouble.

Tokio, June 3.—The holding of an anti-government mass meeting in Tokio this evening resulted in serious disturbances. The situation outside the building where the meeting was being held was the most serious. Many arrests were made, and the manifestos issued by the organizers of the meeting were confiscated.

Reinforcements of police were sent everywhere throughout the city.

The resolution introduced in the house of representatives yesterday by the opposition expressing lack of confidence in the present administration was today rejected by a vote of 133 to 232.

Disorder Marks Session.

Extreme disorder marked the session today. All the members of the cabinet were in their seats. While Premier Okuma and Foreign Minister Kato defended the recent negotiations with China, K. Hara, M. Inukai and H. Ogawa attacked them. The resolution as introduced yesterday charged the cabinet with having failed in the negotiations with China from the beginning, with having aroused the suspicions of foreign powers, and with having harmed the prestige of the empire.

Hoots, jeers and wordy altercations punctuated the speeches delivered today, but the ovations for Premier Okuma and Minister Kato smothered the cries of the opposition.

K. Hara advanced the claim that Japan's aggression in China during the war in Europe had aroused misunderstandings, destroyed the friendship of the powers, and placed Japan in a position of isolation, while H. Ogawa made the declaration that concessions had been granted the Hanyehping company because China had been backed by the United States.

Denies Action of Powers.

Minister Kato denied that the powers had urged the abandonment of the fifth group of Japanese demands. "We abandoned these in the interests of peace," he said. "No power compelled us to do so. I am convinced that the intellectual classes of the world will understand and commend the course of Japan."

Great interest has attached to the announcements of Premier Okuma and Minister of War Oka in the diet that the army is to be increased by two divisions. This is the first step to the eventual creation of an army of twenty-five divisions.

Marquette Man Killed.

Marquette, Mich., June 3.—James Wiseman, age 40, who was thrown from a carriage here several days ago, died at a local hospital. GERMAN ADVANCE NEAR THE SAN MUST RESULT IN QUICK VICTORY OR UTTER DISASTER from Przemysl to the great Dneister marshes and either a remarkable temporary victory of the extremely daring maneuver, or a crushing disaster must follow within a brief period. The Germans are fighting on three fronts, north, east and south with their communications to the west seriously threatened. We do not yet know whether the German attempt to save the situation by a frontal attack on Przemysl to relieve the pressure on the main German forces across the San will be successful."

In another dispatch the correspondent says:

"The Russians are well prepared for the employment by the Germans of poisonous gas, which is now being used on all the fronts, in bombs at artillery range, and against trenches at close quarters. But the attacking Germans to their cost find their enemies quite alive and active. The Russian method is to lie low until the enemy is almost on the trenches, when a withering blast of fire annihilates the attackers entirely.

French Statement.

Paris, June 3, 2:40 p. m.—The French war office this afternoon gave out the following report on the progress of hostilities:

"In the region to the north of Arras artillery fighting was continued during last night. There also was some very violent infantry fighting to the east of Notre Dame de Lorette, but the positions here on neither side have undergone change. There was also infantry fighting in the region of 'the Labyrinth' where we made some progress.

"We have made a total of 800 prisoners since the 31st of May in 'the Labyrinth.' Of these nine are officers and about forty under-officers. Here we also captured two machine guns.

"On the rest of the front there has been nothing to report."

German Statement.

Berlin, June 3, via London, 4:10 p. m.—The army headquarters gave out today the following statement:

"Western theater of war: A battle developed in the village of Hooge, three kilometers east of Ypres, which had been strongly fortified by the British. The battle took a course favorable for us.

"Yesterday we found ourselves obliged to destroy the tower of the church of St. Martin in Ypres on which the enemy artillery observation posts had been discovered.

"In the district north of Arras fighting is again very lively. On the Souchez-Neuville front and to the south the French repeatedly began extensive attacks during the afternoon and night, leading in certain places to bitter hand to hand fighting. The French suffered heavy losses everywhere without obtaining any advantage. Fighting for possession of the sugar refinery at Souchez continued.

"The battle in the forest of Le Pretre has not yet come to a conclusion.

"In the Vosges our aviators dropped bombs on the provision center and railway junction at Remiermont and on the enemy camp at Hohnes. Minor local fights developed during the night in the region of the valley of the Fecht, at Metzeral.

"Eastern theater of war—The situation is unchanged.

"Southeastern theater of war—The fortified town of Przemysl was taken by us early this morning after the fortifications on the northern front which still held out had been stormed during the night. The amount of booty taken has not yet been ascertained.

"The army under Gen. Von Linsingen is penetrating the district of Zydaczow northeast of Stry and fighting for the Dniester section east of Mikolajow. The booty taken in the battle of Stry has been increased to 60 officers and 12,175 men."

rushing reinforcements to their hard-pressed troops in Galicia. But whatever the motive, the assault has been violent and in force along a front of about twenty-five miles, the hardest pressure being brought to bear on the Russians along the Bzura and the Rawka rivers.

Today is the fiftieth anniversary of the birth of King George, but because of the war no especial celebrations are being held.

The new government meets parliament for the first time today. Aside from the formality of passing the bill to obviate the ministers in the new cabinet from seeking re-election, chief interest centered in the promised speech of Premier Asquith in the house of commons on the new coalition government and the entry of Italy into the war.

Use Captured Guns.

London, June 3, 3:35 p. m.—When the Russians were forced to abandon some of the outer Przemsyl forts they had no time to destroy the guns which, on falling into Austro-German hands, were turned by their new owners against the inner fortifications, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Copenhagen.

It is understood, the dispatch adds, that the Austrian railway officials, the police and municipal officers and others who fled from Prezemysl when the fortress capitulated to the Russians, have now gathered at Cracow ready to return to the recaptured city.

The great Austro-Hungarian fortress of Przemysl, situated between Lemberg and Cracow in the province of Galicia, was captured by the Russians on March 22 last after one of the longest sieges of modern warfare. In the ten weeks which have elapsed since that time, however, the Austrians and Germans have made every effort to retake the fortress, large forces being diverted for this purpose from the other great fortress to the west, Cracow.

Recent dispatches from the Galician front were to the effect that the Austro-German troops had been successful in their operations to the north and the southeast of the fortress and that the forts girdling the position had been taken.

When Przemysl fell into the hands of the Russians it had undergone a siege lasting 201 days. The Austrian garrison originally consisted of 170,000 men of whom 40,000 were killed. About 120,000 Austrians surrendered when the fortress capitulated. These included 2,602 officers and officials and 117,000 men.

Border City Plant Starts.

International Falls, Minn., June 3.—The swamill and planing mill opened for the season Tuesday, and are running at full speed ahead. Both day and night shifts are working in the sawmill and day shifts alone in the planing mill. A large number of men are employed and the lumber is being turned out rapidly.

POINTS RAISED BY GERMANY IN RECENT NOTE TO BE TREATED AS IRRELEVANT

in the future, on encountering vessels of any nationality that are unarmed, transfer passengers and crews to places of safety should a vessel, carrying contraband, be certain of condemnation in a prize court and therefore subject to destruction.

It was reiterated at the state department today that while affidavits filed there by the German embassy, contending that the Lusitania was armed, had been carefully considered, the proof of the United States that the Lusitania was unarmed was beyond question.

Inspectors Searched Vessel.

None of the signers, in the opinion of officials, could have made as searching an investigation as did customs inspectors who were specifically ordered to examine decks of vessels and their holds for one thing—the presence of guns.

Had there been explosives aboard, officials say, clearance would have been refused. Before the Lusitania sailed all such facts were in possession of the American government.

Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador, conferred briefly with Secretary Bryan today and would not discuss the subject of his visit.

huahua, reported today that Villa troops in a flank movement captured Silao and put Carranza cavalry forces to rout. Obregon, the Carranza commander, he said, is surrounded at Trinidad by Villa infantry and has lost trains and large quantities of supplies.

Eliseo Arredondo, head of the Carranza agency here, today issued a comment on President Wilson's Mexican statement. He said Carranza was a victim of many false reports and added:

"Carranza has lately ordered the advance of his troops toward the City of Mexico, which he will undoubtedly take before one week is over, and I understand he will immediately establish there a provisional civil administration until he can wipe out the remnants of the reactionaries and convene the people to elections for officers of a constitutional government."

Will Say Nothing.

Galveston, Tex., June 3.—Gen. Antonio Norzagaray, a brigadier-commander under Gen. Obregon, who is returning to Mexico from a mission to New York and Washington, today declined to discuss President Wilson's Mexican note further than to say that he believed Gen. Carranza soon would be able to establish himself in a position where recognition of his government by the United States would be the logical course.

WILSON PRAISED BY CONFEDERATES

Veterans at Annual Reunion Send Greetings to the White House.

Richmond, Va., June 3.—Gen. Bennett H. Young of Louisville was re-elected commander in chief of the United States Confederate Veterans yesterday at the annual reunion here. Birmingham, Ala., was selected as the 1916 reunion.

Gen. Young's opponent was Gen. Felix Anderson of Crawford, Tex., who made a spirited contest. Gen. Young was unable to attend the reunion because of illness. The delegates sent him a message of sympathy.

A feature of the day's ceremonies was the adoption of this resolution by the veterans:

"The United Confederate veterans in reunion assembled at Richmond, Va., send greetings to Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States. As soldiers who know only too well the horrors of war, and as citizens of a reunited country, we are glad at heart that we have at Washington a president who, strictly neutral between warring nations, will with wisdom and courage, stand for all regard for the honor and respect of the American flag and a proper observance of the full rights of the humblest American citizen."

The reading of the resolution was received with tumultuous applause.

AMERICAN LINE SHIP BRINGS MORE BODIES

Eight Victims of Lusitania Aboard; Sir Edgar Speyer Passenger.

New York, June 3.—Sir Edgar Speyer, the English baronet who recently resigned his privy councillorship of Great Britain, divested himself of other offices and honors and besought the prime minister to revoke his baronetcy because of growing suggestions and charges of disloyalty to the British crown, arrived in New York today aboard the American liner Philadelphia.

With Sir Edgar came his wife and family. Before sailing from Liverpool, May 26, Sir Edgar said he expected to take the trip as a part of a short holiday.

The steamer had aboard 715 passengers and the bodies of eight victims of the Lusitania tragedy. The bodies were those of William Colbert, Mrs. Amelia McDona, Mrs. R. D. Shymer, A. L. Hopkins, Mrs. Della Conder, all of New York; Mrs. H. J. Reiser and Master W. S. Hodges, Jr., of Philadelphia and Mrs. F. A. Rogers of Toronto.

Philip Klein, son of Charles Klein, the playwright, who died when the Lusitania went down, was a passenger. Those aboard included also Louis G. Dreyfus, American vice consul at Berlin, and Raymond T. Baker of the American embassy at Petrograd.

When the Philadelphia left Liverpool she avoided the usual sailing lanes and took a southerly course, passing thirty-seven miles south of Daunts Rock.

INDIANS IN ACTUAL CONTROL OF SONORA

Have Established Republic of Their Own and Are Entirely Out of Hand.

Douglas, Ariz., June 3.—Mexican leaders of all factions at the border here, when shown President Wilson's statement, pointed out that the great state of Sonora, in Northwestern Mexico, is now under the actual government of the Yaqui Indians, who have proclaimed a republic of their own and are entirely out of hand. Under the administration of Porfirio Diaz the Yaquis were despoiled of their rich lands, and they have been rebellious ever since, joining leader after leader, and breaking away as promises of restitution were not fulfilled.

Yaqui Indians have become so bold that five of them, it was learned, raided the cavalry corral of the Carranza garrison at Agua Prieta, on the border, and captured three guards and fifty horses.

Renew Activities.

On Board U. S. S. Colorado, off San Diego, wireless via San Diego, June 3.—Yaqui Indians who have been waging independent warfare for several months in Sonora have renewed their activities.

Gen. Flores, with his force, has been compelled to retire from Navajoa, Sonora, to Fuerta, Sinaloa, seventy-five miles south.

Carranza forces have burned the Southern Pacific railroad bridge north of Guaymas, Sonora, cutting off railroad communication with Nogales, on the northern border of Sonora.

JOHN REGAN GETS DELIVERY CONTRACT

Will Carry Mail From Trains and Boats to Postoffice.

John Regan, 515 West Third street, was today awarded the contract for carrying in a screened wagon all mail between the Duluth postoffice and the railway stations and boat landings for a period of four years. He will also have charge of the delivery of parcel post parcels. His contract calls for operations to begin July 1.

"The use of a screened wagon will improve the service," said Postmaster McEwen today. "This provision with several others was made by the department at Washington some time ago, as announced at the time. The purpose was to bunch a number of small contracts and save both money and time for the Duluth office."

The contract for delivering mail along the north shore has been awarded to the United States & Dominion Transportation company. This calls for delivery of mails to Two Harbors, Beaver Bay, Little Marais, Schroeder, Tofty, Lutsen, Grand Marais, Hovland and Grand Portage. Deliveries will be made twice weekly up to July 1; thrice weekly up to Sept. 1, and then twice weekly again up to Dec. 1.

To Command Dreadnaught.

Washington, June 3.—Secretary Daniels today designated Capt. John Hood of the naval general board to command the dreadnaught Texas, to succeed Capt. A. W. Grant, recently assigned to the command of the Atlantic submarine flotilla. Capt. W. L. Rogers, at present commanding the battleship Delaware, will suceed Capt. Hood as a member of the general board.

CONFIDENCE IN WILSON

President's Foreign Policy Upheld By Episcopalians in Convention.

Judge Morris Chief Counsellor; Bishop Will Receive Delegates.

Two resolutions of marked interest featured the closing of the annual convention of the Episcopal diocese of Duluth yesterday afternoon at Trinity cathedral. The first of these was a ringing indorsement of President Wilson's foreign policy and the other expressed gratification over the state and nation-wide movement to eliminate the liquor interests from politics. Bishop Morrison believes these two resolutions to embody the sentiment of the majority of the most progressive citizens throughout the country, and was pleased that they should be passed unanimously by the delegates of the convention.

Convention Proper Closes.

The sessions of the convention proper closed yesterday afternoon. It was intended to hold a business session in the evening, but this was made unnecessary by the rapid action of the convention during the afternoon.

Complete confidence in the ability of President Wilson in handling the present international crisis between the United States and Germany was expressed. The delegates expressed their heartiest approval of the action of the president so far and pledged their loyal support. The text of the resolution follows:

Confidence Expressed.

"The diocese of Duluth, in convention assembled, bishop, clergy and laity, do hereby express our loyalty, admiration and confidence in the president in meeting the trying problems now confronting our nation, and we pray that the wisdom of God may guide our chief executive that his efforts for the promotion of peace and righteousness may be so blessed that quietness and assurances may be established within our borders and amid humanity at large."

Unanimous action was also taken to join the provincial synod. This proposition has been under discussion for the last two years. This action, it is said, will remove some of the local matters from the provinial authority, and this is said to have caused some local men to look with disfavor on the proposition.

Clergy and laymen that will represent the Duluth diocese at the provincial synodical meeting were elected as follows: Rev. E. Spencer Murphy, Rev. S. J. Hedelund, Rev. W. E. Hartmann, Rev. E. C. Kadosee, Rev. W. H. Ward, F. W. Paine, Richard Close, Nat Field, Dr. A. F. MacDonald and James A. Brown.

Judge Page Morris was announced as counsellor for the diocese. A new office, that of vice counsellor, was created yesterday, and City Attorney Henry F. Greene was named to fill this position.

Pension for Clergy.

The clergy pension fund was discussed, and a commission will be appointed by Bishop Morrison to make a thorough study of the plan and report at the 1916 convention. In the meantime each deanery will look into the matter and prepare a report.

The Sunday school of St. Stephen's church of Paynesville was awarded the banner for the largest per capita Lenten offering. The same school won the banner last year. The diocesan pennant for the largest increase in Sunday school attendance is held by St. Andrew's Sunday school of Cloquet.

Favor Anti-Liquor Movement.

Resolutions were adopted placing the convention on record as being profoundly gratified with the movement in Minnesota to keep the liquor interests out of politics.

The standing committee for the coming year was elected as follows: Venerable Archdeacon A. F. Parshall, Dr. F. C. Coolbaugh, Rev. E. S. Murphy, Rev. James G. Ward, F. W. Paine, W. E. Magner, James A. Brown and C. I. McNair.

During both morning and afternoon sessions discussions were held regarding the revision of the church canons. Several minor changes were made.

This forenoon the delegates celebrated holy communion. No business sessions were held, as the day's program was devoted largely to sightseeing.

The woman's auxiliaries of the diocese hold their annual meeting this afternoon. J. D. Morrison, president of the association, presided. Excellent progress in all parts of the diocese in women's work was reported. All of the societies are in excellent condition and the work is progressing very favorably.

MATRON TO GRADUATE.

Aitkin Married Woman Is Senior in St. Paul College.

Aitkin, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Joseph O'Hara went to St. Paul Monday to attend the graduating exercises at St. Catherine's college, where she was a senior before her marriage a few weeks ago. Mrs. O'Hara was formerly Miss Margaret Nora Casey. She has continued her studies at home and will graduate with honors with her class.

Harry Appledorn and Miss Lonely James, both of Aitkin county, were quietly married Wednesday noon at the M. E. parsonage, Rev. A. L. Richardson officiating. They will make their home at Waukenabo.

At a beautifully appointed luncheon given by Mrs. Warren Potter, the engagement of Miss Marcia Potter and Edward Ross of Venice, Cal., was announced. The wedding will take place here in June.

DROWNED YEARS AGO; NOW DECLARED DEAD

Decatur, Ill., June 3.—Mrs. George A. Keller was today declared legally dead by Judge J. H. McCoy in the Macon county court and her estate, valued at $200,000 will be turned over to her husband. Mrs. Keller lost her life almost eight years ago when she and her three daughters went down with the steamer Columbia in a storm on the Pacific coast.

George A. Keller was formerly president of the Great Western racing circuit.

Crop Reports Encouraging.

St. Paul, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Despite the heavy cold rain of the last month, crop reports from the various counties of the state are most encouraging. Reports received by Commissioner Sherman of the state immigration bureau say that crops generally are in good shape and that the yield will be heavy.

RURAL DELIVERIES THREE TIMES WEEKLY

Four New Routes Will Be Put in Operation June 16.

It has been decided by the postal authorities that deliveries of mail shall be made thrice weekly on all of the four new rural routes to be established June 16. It was decided at first to have daily deliveries on part of the routes, but after further consideration it was deemed best to have the service begun on a smaller scale as a try-out. Extensions of service will be granted if advisable.

The new routes will run out of French River, Embarrass, Lakewood and Saginaw. Competitive examinations for carrier will be held at Duluth and Virginia on June 12. Virginia only was designated for the tests at first, but Duluth was considered more centrally situated, and it was decided to give the tests in both cities.

JAYWALKING FORBIDDEN

Pedestrians Must Keep to Crossings on Superior Street.

Many Indignant Citizens Politely Told of New Order.

If you cut corners when crossing downtown streets hereafter you will be stopped by a guardian of the law and asked to walk at right angles and on the crossings.

"Jaywalkers" have caused so much trouble for traffic policemen recently that Chief of Police R. D. McKercher issued an order yesterday afternoon putting a stop to short cuts of pedestrians-in-a-hurry.

Traffic policemen at Lake avenue, Third avenue west and Fifth avenue west were busy instructing citizens in the new ruling yesterday and this morning, and many amusing incidents were reported wherein indignant citizens threatened battle, murder and sudden death because they were asked to retrace their steps and use the crossings.

"We are asking the public to co-operate with us in this matter," said Chief McKercher, "and an observance of our request will make a big improvement. Cutting corners where the traffic is heavy and congested is a dangerous practice, and almost every day there are accidents on this account.

"When pedestrians use the crossings the officer in charge knows just where they are, and can watch them while they are passing from one side to the other. This applies particularly to children. Formerly an officer would signal for wagons or automobiles to 'come ahead' and then find the path blocked by pedestrians."

The "square cut" at crossings long has been in use in larger cities throughout the United States and was needed to improve Superior street conditions, according to city officials.

"MR. AND MRS. BROWN" HAVE THEIR LICENSES

"Mr. and Mrs. Brown" have their 1915 licenses.

No, this is not a social item, but an announcement to anyone interested that "Mr. and Mrs. Brown" are properly tagged for this year.

Who are "Mr. and Mrs. Brown?" Just listen to the conversation that took place in the city treasurer's office yesterday afternoon:

"My name is Edward Miller and I live at 1609 West Michigan street. I want licenses for my two dogs."

Clerk George Anderson makes the proper entries and then goes ahead with the usual questions.

"What's the color of the female?"
"Brown."
"Name?"
"Mrs. Brown."
"What's the color of the other dog?"
"Brown."
"Name?"
"Mr. Brown."

And now "Mr. and Mrs. Brown" have their 1915 licenses.

GREAT OIL WELLS FIRED BY RUSSIANS

Estimated 80,000 Tons Destroyed on Retreat of Czar's Troops.

Berlin, June 3, via London.—News from the Galician front concerning the retreat of the Russians indicated that they fired and destroyed twenty or more great crude oil wells, as well as a number of wells from which naphtha is derived in the oil producing region between Borysiaw and Drohobycz, lying to the west of Stry. It is estimated that 80,000 tons of oil was destroyed.

Although the fires have been brought under control by the Austrian and German troops the whole territory is covered with a pall of smoke.

The Russians had been using the wells for the production of illuminating oil, benzine and grease. They are said to have spared the English and French wells, but damaged the oil carrying apparatus and railroad stations and carried away tank cars.

The naphtha blazes were extinguished by choking the wells with earth. The Austro-German forces recaptured the mineral wax mines at Borysiaw, the only ones in Europe. Their annual output is valued at 3,000,000 crowns ($600,000.)

PICNIC BEER SEIZED BY NORTH DAKOTA SHERIFF.

Grafton, N. D., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sixteen barrels of beer shipped to Latona for a big picnic in that district were seized by Sheriff N. O. Nelson of Walsh county and will be destroyed.

Nearly 2,000 people were gathered for the picnic when the sheriff made his appearance and seized the entire supply of beer. While the seizure didn't exactly bust up the picnic, it is said to have had rather a depressing effect upon festivities.

WILL RETAIN LEFKOVITS.

Congregation of Temple Emanuel Will Hold Election.

Members of Temple Emanuel will hold their annual meeting and election of officers at 10 o'clock next Sunday morning in the vestry rooms.

Dr. Maurice Lefkovits, who has served as rabbi for the last eight years, will in all probability be named for another year.

Leon J. Selig is president and Charles D. Oreckovsky is secretary of the congregation.

CONTRACTOR DIES.

Funeral of John Widding Will Be Held Saturday.

Funeral services for John Widding, age 46, Duluth contractor and decorator, who died at St. Mary's hospital yesterday after a short illness, will be held from the Bethesda Norwegian church, Sixth avenue east and Fifth street, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Interment will be at Park Hill cemetery.

Mr. Widding came to Duluth when a boy, more than thirty years ago, and made his home at 2023½ West First street until about three years ago, when he moved to Port Arthur, Can. He returned recently because of illness.

He leaves a widow, two brothers in Norway and a sister living in Tacoma, Wash. He was a member of the Moose lodge and of Maccabee Tent No. 1.

SHRINERS TO ATTEND MEET

Duluth Will Send Delegates to Ceremonial at Grand Forks.

Buffalo Bill Will Be Present —Plans for Seattle Convention.

Duluth Shriners will hold a special meeting at the Masonic temple tomorrow evening to arrange for the visit to the ceremonial at Grand Forks on June 11 and the convention at Seattle during the week of July 11.

A large number of local Shriners will attend the ceremonial at Grand Forks, according to Lyonel Ayres, potentate of Aad temple. Buffalo Bill, the famous showman, it is understood, will be among the distinguished guests at the entertainment.

The ceremonial of Kem temple at Grand Forks will take pince in the new Masonic building and will follow a street parade at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of June 11 and a banquet at 6 o'clock. Three hundred novices will walk the sands during the evening.

Arrangements for the Seattle convention will also be made tomorrow. Potentate Ayres announced today. Thirty members of the Arab patrol, in addition to twenty other Shriners, plan to take the trip this year. The local party will leave here in a special car on Thursday, July 9, arriving in Fargo the following day, when it will join El Zagal temple. The local body and the North Dakota delegation will form the official escort of Imperial Potentate Frederick B. Smith throughout the convention.

Last night Arab patrol held a special drill on the courthouse square under the direction of Capt. A. H. Paul to practice fancy drills and meneuvers in preparation for the Seattle convention.

MEETING CALLED FOR SATURDAY

Boxing Commissioners Are Scheduled to Organize During Present Week.

The initial meeting of the members of the Minnesota boxing commission will be held in St. Paul on Saturday, according to the news that comes from the Twin Cities. Henry Ribenack, the Duluth member of the commission, declared today that he has as yet received no notification of the meeting, but expects to be informed some time today.

There are several legal matters that are being cleared up pending the calling of a meeting of the commissioners. It is stated that the first meeting of the commissioners will be merely for the purpose of organizing.

Mr. Ribenack declared today that he had given the subject of the number of clubs to be allowed in each of the three cities but little thought. It is generally believed that there will be but one club granted a permit here, but on this matter Commissioner Ribenack would not commit himself.

Because of the lateness of the commission in getting started, it may be that the first legalized boxing contest in Minnesota will not be held before July.

TEAMS EXPOSED TO SMALLPOX

Columbus, Ohio, June 3.—John Shakelford, pitcher for the Milwaukee American association team, was quarantined here today when it was disclosed that he was suffering from smallpox.

Members of both the Milwaukee and the Columbus teams will be watched closely to detect possible traces of the disease, but it was stated officially that the association schedule would not be changed.

Shakelford had complained of feeling slightly ill, but is not confined to his bed.

WANTS BARGAIN IN FINE.

Shoe Repairer Dickers With Judge When Sentenced, But Weakens.

"No, I can't afford to pay $5—that's too much," said Mike Sanso, age 65, when fined $5 in municipal court.

Sanso, who has kept a shoe repair shop in West Duluth for years, insisted that he didn't have $5 and that $3 was enough fine anyway.

He had pleaded guilty to stealing some lumber from a contractor working near his place of business.

Finally Capt. A. G. Fiskett tired of the argument and turning to the jailer, he said: "Lock this fellow up and send him out to the work farm this afternoon."

Sanso exploded: "What! Send me to the workhouse! I can pay a $100 fine." He pulled out a large roll, pealed off a $5 bill and stalked out of the station in a high huff.

He was arrested yesterday by Officer Isaksen. The lumber was found near his house, carefully concealed behind a high board fence.

SOLDIER LIFE IS NO SNAP

Scores of Details Fill Hours From 5 a. m. Until 10:30 p. m.

Duluth Companies Prepare for Encampment at Lake City.

Some persons imagine that a soldier has nothing to do but dream of being a hero—silly notion, that.

All he has to do from 5 o'clock in the morning until taps is sounded at 10:30 p. m. is to drill, attend inspections, go to school, parade and about a score of other details connected with the study of the grim art of warfare.

Will Attend Encampment.

All this is in connection with the fact that the three Duluth companies of the Minnesota National Guard are about to attend the annual state encampment at Lake City. Many persons hereabouts conjure sweet visions of the boys loiling around the camp, twiddling their thumbs and occasionally dozing off into a day dream. Far be it from such. It's work; work and plenty of the labor stuff.

The boys go down there to learn the art of soldiering. Some day Uncle Sam might lose his genial poise—might decide that the grim course of war was inevitable. Perhaps this year, with trouble strewn over the horizon of the world, a greater degree of attention than has formerly been expended on the art of soldiering will be called into play. At any rate the daily routine of the camp life is one that is going to make an extremely busy day of it.

Ten Days' Field Training.

There will be ten days of field training, beginning with June 14. Rules and regulations covering the conduct of the men are as strict as those employed in regular army camps. Men will not be permitted to leave the camp without being inspected by the sergeant. All officers leaving camp must register their arrival and departure. Every detail of camp life has been provided for. A sanitary attachment will look to cleanliness of the camp, and a hospital corps will attend to all cases of sickness. No liquor will be permitted on the grounds. It is playing at war, but while it is only play, there is no detail of the real article omitted.

Routine of Daily Duties.

Here, for instance, is the daily routine of the camp life. Look it over, and after reading it, don't think that George, Frank or Jim is lolling away down at Lake City during the time he puts in becoming more proficient in the art of war.

PERSIST IN ROBBING HIM

Sam Dahl Complainant in Criminal Action Twice in Month.

Sam Dahl, 24, woodsman, is a man of many grievances.

For the second time within the last month Sam has appeared in court as complaining witness in criminal prosecutions.

On April 6, while sleeping at the Grace hotel, two men entered his room and relieved him of $5. Dahl woke just in time to see them disappearing and trailed them to their room. When arrested they gave their names as John Mack and Andrew Niemiecka. Both were convicted of burglary in the third degree and were given terms at Stillwater and St. Cloud.

On April 30, Dahl was also again set upon by two colored women, and according to the story which he told in district court this afternoon, he was again robbed of $5. In attempting to recover his V-spot, Dahl testified that he got his hands badly cut with a knife or some sharp instrument. Alice Wright and Hattie Jenkins were arrested and were later indicted for the crime of assault in the first degree.

The Wright woman was brought to trial this morning before Judge Ensign. The morning session of court was given over to the selection of a jury.

MORE TROUBLE FOR JITNEURS.

One Fined for Speeding; Second Charged With Reckless Driving.

Two more jitneurs came to grief this morning, one paying a fine of $12.50 for speeding, while the other will be given a hearing on a reckless driving charge this afternoon.

George Woods, age 27, was arrested Tuesday night by Chief R. D. McKercher on West Superior street. Walter H. Healey, member of the state chauffeurs' examining board, was in the car with the chief at the time. He was told to appear this morning and was brought in by Officer Dinkel.

"I'm going to be more severe with you fellows herafter," said the judge when he pronounced sentence, "but I'll let you go with a small fine this time."

Oscar Peterson was arrested at Lake avenue and Superior street about 11 o'clock this morning by Officer P. Barber. He was not watching the street, according to the officer, and bumped into a machine ahead of him, puncturing a new tire.

"Finger" Luncheon Is the Latest

Hostess Carries Out Saying That "Fingers Were Made Before Forks."

Even if you have been robbed of the family silver you need not give up your idea of entertaining at a luncheon for the June bride for a "finger" luncheon in one of the most novel forms of entertainment. Knives, forks or spoons do not put in appearance at this kind of party, but the food is such that water is the only cleanser necessary to offer to your guests. Anne Rittenhouse in the St. Louis Republic describes a "finger" luncheon as follows:

"When the guests sat down at table, the absence of silver was not obvious, although any careful eye would have noticed that there was none on the table. Even the salt was in shaker boxes, instead of in small dishes with which spoons are necessary.

"At each place there was a plate, in the center of which was a small mound of sugar, and around the edge of which was a line of big, ripe strawberries. There was at each place a finger bowl, partly filled with water, too, which was natural enough, in view of the strawberries which were to be eaten from the hulls.

"The next course was bouillon, served in cups, and when this was served the guests noticed that there were no spoons. But when the hostess lifted her full cup to her lips the guests, without comment, naturally did likewise, and so drank their bouillon.

"Before the next course was served the guests had discovered that they were eating a finger luncheon, and there was a good deal of speculation about what the succeeding courses would be.

French Artichokes.

"The third course was French artichokes; always, of course, eaten with the fingers. Then there were French chops with neat little paper frills about the ends of the bones, easy to pick up in the hands. The fat was carefully cut from the round portion of meat, which would otherwise have been objectionable to those who dislike fat. With the chops were latticed potatoes fried crisp in deep fat and thoroughly drained—quite as easy to eat with the fingers as a crisp wafer would be. There were, besides, buttered finger rolls, celery, olives and radishes, all eaten with the fingers.

"The salad course was difficult to plan, for it is almost impossible to prepare a salad that can be eaten without a fork. So, instead of a regular salad, was a sort of sandwich; two thin, rather large rounds of white bread, spread with a fish paste, with a leaf of crisp lettuce between them.

"For dessert there were ice cream cones filled with strawberry ice cream, and small cakes in paper cases. Sugar was passed with the coffee, but, of course, it could not be stirred, and if enough of it did not melt to sweeten the cup sufficiently, the bitterness of the coffee had to be endured.

"A good many substituted courses might be utilized instead of the ones mentioned. Any sort of cream soup that is not too thick might be served in bouillon cups without spoons. For an appetizer it is rather difficult to think of many things beside strawberries on the hulls. Cherries, sprinkled with lemon juice and sugar, might be served on the stems. For an entree asparagus might be served, or tiny patties of some sort, filled with a not too soft mixture of chicken, oysters, sweetbreads. These would have to be very carefully made, however, so that they could be eaten without danger of spilling the creamed contents.

"For the main course, French chops are decidedly the best choice at any time of year. Any sort of dry fried potato (French-fried white or sweet potatoes, latticed potatoes or potato chips) can be easily eaten with the hands, but it is better not to attempt a second vegetable with the chop. The accepted pea is quite out of the question. A tart or pastry of some sort could be substituted for ice cream cones for dessert, and certain sorts of fruit might be served for dessert; cherries, plums, thin-skinned pears and grapes.

"Types of Teaching."

Former Duluth Teacher Is Author of Book.

Miss Lida B. Earhart, formerly of Duluth, is the author of "Types of Teaching," that has just been published. It is a book of exposition and illustration that has for its object the remedying of the fault of teachers who are not clear in their own minds what they desire their pupils to do when they study and who go before their pupils day after day without having definite aims in mind and without having determined how they will teach the lessons.

Miss Earhart, who is a sister of Miss Frances Earhart, Mrs. R. M. Hunter and Mrs. Frederick H. White, was principal for a number of years of the Jackson school here, and for some time was instructor in psychology and methods of teaching at the normal school at Mankato. She is now principal of one of the New York city public schools that has 4,000 pupils, lectures every summer on methods of teaching at the Teachers' college of Columbia university, and has given many lectures at teachers' institutes in the South and East. She received her Ph. D. degree from Columbia university. In addition to "Types of Teaching," Miss Earhart is the author of "Systematic Study in the Elementary Schools" and "Teaching Children to Study."

Her new book is dedicated to Prof. and Mrs. Frank McMurray. Prof. McMurray is a member of the faculty of the Teachers' college of Columbia. The introduction was written by Henry Suzzallo, professor of the philosophy of education of Teachers' college, who says:

"The present volume is a re-interpretation of teaching procedure, stated, as far as possible, in the current and familiar phraseology of ordinary teachers, yet taking into account the recent investigations of our ablest educational thinkers. It offers a combination of scholarship and practicality rarely found in teachers' texts."

The volume includes chapters on "What School Education Should Accomplish," "Means Which Aid in Education," "The Assignment of Lessons," "The Recitation Exercise," "Training Pupils to Study," and "Making Lesson Plans."

Chosen Queen of Beauty Ball

LOIS WILSON.

All Southern girls are traditionally beautiful and Alabama girls are the first in the South. So when a beauty ball was planned for Birmingham there was a responsibility resting on the local Paris almost immeasurable. Miss Lois Watson of Birmingham was finally chosen as the most beautiful of her sex and crowned Queen of Beauty by the governor of the state. She will go to the San Francisco fair as the guest of the Birmingham News.

Swedish Soloists With Orchestra

Marie Sundelius and Albert Lindquest Will Both Be Heard Here---Curling Club Transformed By Decorators.

Swedish citizens of Duluth will be delighted to hear that when the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra appears at the curling club tomorrow night in the first of a series of three concerts, they will have the pleasure of hearing two of the greatest Swedish singers in this country, Marie Sundelius, soprano, of Boston, and Albert Lindquest, tenor, of Chicago.

At the last moment Emil Oberhoffer, conductor of the orchestra, found it possible to include the services of Mme. Sundelius who, without reference to nationality, is one of the most popular of the younger singers in the East.

In addition to six appearances with the Boston Symphony orchestra, she has appeared with most of the leading musical organizations in the East. Through a long tour with the St. Louis Symphony orchestra and her recent tour with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra she has also been heard throughout the South, Middle West and Northwest and gaining immediate favor everywhere. From Duluth she goes direct to San Francisco, where she is to appear in a series of festival concerts at the exhibition.

Everything is in readiness at the curling club for the concerts. The large hockey rink has been transformed into so attractive an auditorium that Duluth will have difficulty in recognizing the popular home of winter sports. Arrangements have even been made to heat the vast hall so that the patrons of the concerts need have no fear of having to hide their best "bib and tucker" under heavy wraps if it should be cool outside.

The capacity of the hall is 3,900 and almost every seat has been sold.

The orchestra will arrive late Friday morning. Concert-goers who heard the orchestra on its last visit, three years ago, will have difficulty in recognizing the organization, because of the vast changes in the personnel. The finest musicians in this country and Europe have been attracted to Minneapolis through the reputation of Mr. Oberhoffer as a conductor, so that the Minneapolis orchestra shares with the Boston Symphony orchestra, the reputation of being the finest orchestra in this country.

The concert tomorrow night will begin promptly at 8:15 and no late comers will be seated during the performance of a number.

Editor of Musical America Will Speak at Albert Lea

John C. Freund, editor of Musical America and known through the United States because of his efforts in behalf of American musicians, will speak on "The Independence of American Music" at the annual convention of the Minnesota Music Teachers' association, that will be held in Albert Lea, June 22, 23 and 24. J. Victor Berquist, formerly a member of the Minnesota association, but now located in Illinois, will deliver an address on "Music, Musicians and Public Opinion," which he gave recently before the Illinois association. R. Buchanan Morrison of Duluth will speak on "The Volunteer Church Choir" and Dr. Caryl B. Storrs of Minneapolis will give a talk on "Ten Years of Music in Minnesota."

A piano recital of MacDowell music will include the Sea pieces, Fire Side tales, and Woodland sketches and the New England idylls by Mrs. MacDowell. Other concerts will include solos for piano, organ and violin and a demonstration of public school music.

Allison McBean Wins Junior Auxiliary Pennant

Miss Allison McBean of the Junior Auxiliary of St. Paul's Episcopal church is the winner of the pennant which was presented by Bishop John D. Morrison yesterday afternoon for the best essay and map of missionary work in Alaska. The presentation was made at a joint meeting of the junior auxiliaries of the city and the woman's auxiliary, a part of the annual convention of the Episcopal diocese of Duluth. The purple and gold silk pennant, which was offered by Mrs. F. W. Paine, will be competed for each year. Mrs. John D. Morrison, president of the woman's auxiliary, announced that next year's contest will be an essay and map of the Duluth diocese.

Mrs. Morrison gave an address at the meeting of the auxiliary yesterday afternoon, Mrs. M. F. Jamar, Sr., reported on the missionary work at large, Venerable Archdeacon Parshall of Cass Lake outlined the work of the woman's auxiliary among the Indian women of the diocese and mentioned the interest that is being shown in lace making and other crafts, and Rev. C. C. Rollits sketched church, hospital and school phases of missionary work and gave anecdotes of hospital and school work among the Chinese.

The convention will be concluded tonight with a reception given by Bishop and Mrs. Morrison at Trinity hall from 8 to 10 o'clock. Rev. Thomas W. MacLean, the vicar, will give an illustrated lecture on missionary work in Alaska and Miss Myrtle Hobbs and Miss Grace Enockson will give vocal solos. Members of the executive board of the woman's auxiliary will assist in receiving the guests.

Alumni Day at the "U."

Special efforts are being made by the committees in charge of the celebration of Alumni day at the Minnesota state university, June 9, to secure as large attendance as possible of university graduates from outside the Twin Cities. Those who live in Minneapolis and St. Paul always turn out in good numbers for this celebration, but the other parts of the state are not so well represented.

A program will be presented that will contain interest and entertainment for every one. Of particular importance will be the conference between alumni of the university with the board of directors of the alumni association, and the meeting of the alumni of the college of agriculture at the department at St. Anthony Park.

Aside from the business features, there will be a program on the main campus of athletic and near-athletic events, a parade of the graduates by classes from the athletic field to the Minnesota Union building, a reception for the faculty, at which the alumni will have an opportunity to meet old friends and the newer members, a dinner with vaudeville features and a dance. The parade will be led by the full life and drum corps of Morgan post of the G. A. R.

Every graduate of the university who plans to attend should make reservation for the dinner by sending his name to the secretary of the alumni association, E. B. Johnson, at the university, so that places may be provided for all.

Lodge Notes.

The meeting of Duluth Council No. 3, Modern Samaritans, in the Temple building Monday evening will be for members only. The committee, of which Alex McDonald is the chairman, is preparing a luncheon for all members of the council, and the members of the imperial council which will convene in Duluth the following day.

The business meeting will be held between 8 and 9 o'clock and it is expected that a class of candidates will be initiated. A short program is also being arranged.

Duluth Homestead No. 3131, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, will hold its annual memorial exercises Wednesday night, June 9, at Maccabee hall.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. Stella P. Stocker will go to Two Harbors next Friday to give her lecture on "Indian Myths and Melodies" at the Methodist church.

Mrs. George D. McCarthy and little son, Robert, of 911 East Fifth street and Mrs. H. W. Reau returned last night from Akeley, Minn., where they visited Mrs. McCarthy's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Turrish and family, who have been occupying the J. A. Watterworth home at 2932 East Superior street, for the winter, have moved into the George Cole home at 1901 East Third street.

Mrs. Jack Hamilton and son, Blair Hamilton, of Washington, D. C., will arrive Saturday to pass the summer with Mrs. Hamilton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wall, 1721 East First street.

Dorothy Hepworth and Frances Hepworth of Minneapolis, formerly of Duluth, are the guests of Miss Helen Wall and Miss Marion Wall, 1721 East First street, for the week. They will go to Winnipeg where they will pass the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Smith of 1513 East Superior street have returned from California, where they were since October.

Mrs. W. H. Rattenbury and daughters of 2318 Roslyn avenue have returned from a three months' visit in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Mrs. Kay Bain of Minneapolis, formerly of Duluth, will arrive the latter part of the week to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Cole, who moved recently to their new country place at Meadowlands.

Mr. and Mrs. John La Vague of 1216 East First street are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Coates of St. Cloud.

H. M. Powers of Ontonagon, Mich., who has been visiting his brother, J. H. Powers, of 904 East Fourth street, left last night for his home.

Mrs. James E. Bryant of 1412 Jefferson street has returned from a three weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Meyers.

Miss Ella Powers of 904 East Fourth street spent the week-end at Hibbing and Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Nockels of 1330 East Sixth street have returned from a ten days' trip to Chicago.

Theater Gossip.

For the week of June 13 the Baldwin Players will, for the second time during their engagement in Duluth, offer a modern successful drama that has never before been seen in Duluth.

NEW PLAY FOR DULUTH.

The first modern play to be presented to Duluth audiences for the first time by the Baldwins was "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm." This was a New York success that had never been offered in Duluth by a traveling company. The second play that falls in this class will be "The Ghost Breaker," which had a long and profitable run in New York, and which was seen in Boston and Chicago, but never in the smaller cities. It will be the offering of the Baldwin Players for the week of June 13. Next week the company will be seen in another modern success, "Bought and Paid For," by George Broadhurst, author of "The Man of the Hour."

Four more performances of "Lena Rivers" will be given tonight, tomorrow night and Saturday afternoon and night, and "Bought and Paid For" will open with the Sunday matinee.

WONDERFUL MONKEY AT GRAND.

With a double headline vaudeville bill and Charlie Chaplin heading the photoplay program in his great success, "The Tramp," the New Grand has an entertainment for the week-end hard to equal. The "monkey who makes a man of himself," Alexander the Great, is a truly wonderful offering. This wonderful animal eats, drinks and acts like a human being and seems endowed with human intelligence and a perfect understanding of the French language. He is presented by Mons. and Mme. D'Osta.

A whirl of mirth and melody is the offering of Pierce and Roslyn, who come here direct from their great success in England in all the leading music halls of that country.

Wayne, Marshall and Roberts, two charming girls and a man, offer a musical cocktail and tit bits from the late popular musical comedies. All are clever artists with excellent voices.

Bicknel, the comedy novelty clay modeler, completes the vaudeville end of the program.

The always welcome and ever-popular Charlie Chaplin is seen in two reels of continuous laughs, "The Tramp." "Across the Desert," an interesting drama of Western life; "When the Tide Turned," a comedy, and the Hearst-Selig News of events complete the entertainment.

"LITTLE SUNSET" AT THE REX.

"Little Sunset," a sparkling tale of a city Huckleberry Finn, will be seen at the Rex tonight. The 6-year-old son of the big league shortstop is as lovable a character as is to be found in Charles E. Van Loan's famous Saturday Evening Post stories of professional baseball. He's all boy.

Fathers and brothers, once little 6-year-olds themselves, will spot instantly the true-to-life flashes of boyhood contained in the crabbing at the "empire" in the game "between the kids" in the vacant lot; in "Little Sunset's" swelling chest when he becomes mascot of a big league team; and a host of other crisp details.

But it will probably take mothers and sisters, with stubborn little 6-year-olds in their own families, to appreciate to the fullest the poor black bellboy's attempts to keep "Little Sunset" in bed when he has the grip, when there is a game going on in the ball park just down the street.

Japanese Guest Room Is Country House Fad

Portland Oregonian: The latest fad of the fashionable hostess is a Japanese guestroom in the country house. The tired guest just arrived from a warm and uncomfortable journey, is ushered into a dim, breezily cool room with floor covered in Japanese style with matting, Japanese straw blinds at the windows, draperies of Japanese cotton toweling in blue bamboo and white printing, or pale green, printed with white chrysanthemums. The furniture is natural or green wicker, a Japanese screen showing the remote, ice-cool peak of Fuji as a background for gray storks and floating lilies is drawn across one corner, and on a low stand is a big imitation Hawthorne jar in the wonderful Imari blue color and filled with pine branches or ferns.

To most folks the idea of a Japanese room brings a mental picture of red and yellow paper lanterns, an open Japanese umbrella swinging from the chandelier and bunches of artificial cherry blossoms stuck in vases. All these colorful decorations are omitted from the Japanese guest chamber, which is in cool, quiet shades of green and blue.

Such a room may be achieved quite inexpensively, for Japanese furnishings are usually very cheap. The Jap toweling, for instance, which comes in charming bamboo and flower printings on blue or green cotton, costs but $1 for ten yards and will make curtains, pillow covers, chair cushions and table and dresser spreads. Matting is an inexpensive floor covering; Japanese blinds are not costly, and a delightful Japanese screen five feet high and in delectable coloring may be had under $5.

The final touch of charm in such a room will be a welcoming "Banzai" stenciled on the wall opposite the door.

Free Hospitals for Animals

New York Cats and Dogs Help Collect Funds for the Work.

Last year a league of New York women opened a hospital for animals, with a free dispensary in connection, where about fifty house patients are cared for each month free of charge. This service is humane to animals whose owners are too poor to pay for a veterinary and prevents great losses to persons who depend upon their horses for their support.

Bits, bridles and individual water buckets are distributed to drivers of horses by New York women who have placed posters in shops protesting against the thoughtless practice of closing a house for the summer without making provision for the support of the family cat. It would be hard to find a family that would go for a trip before being sure that some kind neighbor would serve meals to Fido, but most cats are left to shift for themselves.

Work Horse Parade.

Last year a work horse parade was held in New York. First came the dog heroes who served as mascots, then horses from the police, fire, hospital and street cleaning departments, then single trucks, double trucks, four-in-hands and six-in-hands. Prizes were given according to age, condition and length of service.

Lectures on kindness to animals are given in schools and settlements. A 10-year-old girl was so impressed by the lectures that she produced the following lines:

"A handful of oats and water,
A little hay on the side,
But, oh my! don't I earn it,
Don't he take it out of my hide.
He runs, he trots and he beats me,
But, of course, he is the boss,
And I never have a word to say
For I'm only a poor old horse."

But women, children and the owners of the animals do not do all the humane work, for money for the free hospital is collected by a cat and dog brigade. Each dog and cat that takes out a $1 membership is given a special collection box and an official badge authorizing him to receive funds. Boxes are collected once a year and some fortunate dogs, whose services would be valuable at church bazars if they were humans, have been found to have taken in as much as $30 for the help of less pampered animals.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Common Sense, a Wifely Asset.

One woman maintains that the model wife is she who never contradicts a single opinion of her husband's and whose sole mission in life is to make herself one with his ideas. Another woman, claiming to be an authority, declares that the independent woman is the true model and that all this talk about subservience and being molded to a husband's ideals is tommyrot.

It would seem to me that the model wife is the one who recognizes when it is wise to at least assume the subservient pose, and when independence will not only be acceptable to the spirit of her liege lord, but becoming to her womanhood in his eyes as well. There is no use denying that there are no two husbands who are exactly alike any more than two wives are. Some men prefer the clinging ivy type of wife and would not countenance one who had any advanced ideas concerning her own importance.

Other men, while they may be very liberal in their attitude toward women as factors in the world's progress outside of the confines of the home, are inclined to expect that the wife will pay deference to their expressed wishes and bow to their opinions more or less on certain matters. No matter how generous a man may be toward woman's advancement and her equality with him, the more he is convinced usually that of two opinions and two ideas upon one subject, man's are bound to be the better.

Common sense is an attribute in a wife, or in anyone for that matter, which goes a long way toward making them ideal in any niche they chose to fit. Common sense will tell a wife when to yield her point and when to stand by her colors. It will also instruct her as to her capacity for the myriad duties which beset woman's path nowadays.

A wife, or any woman for that matter, will not attempt that which she cannot carry through to a successful end, without loss or bother to others, and she will not neglect duties that are particularly of the home, once she has assumed them, for those that appeal more to her ambition. The chances are that she will not have to, for a woman of common sense and ability is better at conducting two interests than is a man.

To Summer Tourists and Their Duluth Hosts!

The Street Railway Company wants to do its share toward giving summer visitors in this city a good impression of Duluth.

The street car service of any city is one of the first features to impress a visitor. We want visitors to Duluth to carry away an impression of clean, well ventilated, comfortable cars; prompt and efficient service, and courteous employes.

Here is an extract from the company's rules which may be of interest to summer visitors:

"Conductors are expected to be familiar with principal points along their route, so as to be able to give information to passengers about streets, parks, connecting or intersecting railway lines, depots, ferries, public buildings, large stores, hospitals, theaters, etc."

General information regarding the city can be obtained if you will "Ask Mr. Hanna" at 410 West Superior street. He can tell you what car to board to reach any given point in the city. After you have boarded that car the conductor will give you any further information you need.

Mr. Hanna will also run sight-seeing cars for the special benefit of tourists and their Duluth hosts during the coming summer.

A trip to the top of our Inclined Railway will give a visitor a better general idea of the topography of the Head of the Lakes than any number of maps, and a view that is equalled by few on this continent.

PRIZES FOR BEST LETTERS

Herald Offers Chance to Tell Why Certain Merchants Are Popular.

West end residents and school children are to be given an opportunity, during the next week, to earn $10, $7.50 or $5 in trade from any of the leading merchants of the district by making a little effort at letter writing. The contest will begin this evening and will end a week from tonight.

The Duluth Herald company is offering three prizes for the best letters on the subject of "Why I Like to Shop in the West End." The first prize will be an order for $10 worth of merchandise from any of the business men mentioned on another page of The Herald this evening; the second prize will be an order for $7.50 worth of goods and the third prize will be an order for $5 worth of merchandise.

There are no conditions to the contest. Every boy and girl of the West end and every man and woman of the district is eligible to enter. The letter must not be long. Customers of any of the West end merchants whose cards appear on the page mentioned may tell why they like to trade there.

All answers must be in before Thursday evening, June 10. Address all letters to "The West End Editor, Duluth Herald, City." The winners will be announced and their letters published as soon afterwards as possible.

CITY-WIDE CAMPAIGN FOR TEMPERANCE

Advocates for Referendum Will Take Advice of Anti-Saloon League.

At a meeting of temperance advocates held last night at the home of P. J. Borgstrom, 3920 West Eighth street, it was decided to act on the advice of Magnus Martinson, state legislative manager for the Anti-Saloon league. No action toward placing before the voters of St. Louis county a referendum on county option will be taken without the advice of Mr. Martinson.

Mr. Martinson attended the gathering last night. Representatives from several of the temperance organizations were present. Plans for the temperance conference to be held at the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, were also made. It is expected that at this meeting steps will be taken to form a nucleus for a city-wide temperance campaign committee.

It is planned to have this committee fully organized before any campaign for county option in St. Louis county shall be started. Mr. Martinson expressed optimism over the prospects for the future.

ALUMNI BANQUET SET FOR MONDAY

Adams Graduates Prepare Program for Their Annual Spread.

The meeting of the Adams Alumni association, scheduled for Friday evening, has been postponed until Monday evening. At that time plans for the annual party to be given in honor of the graduating class of the school on June 17, will be completed.

The graduating class will have about twenty-five members this year. These as well as members of the school faculty will be guests of honor during the evening.

Some of the committees in charge of the arrangements have already been appointed. Reports will be made by these Monday night. The members of committees are: Program, Bernard Gustafson, chairman; Hazel Gray, John Wagner; tickets, Albin Johnson, chairman; Miss Gwendolyn Cole, Miss Nomie Johnson; decorations, Miss Vinja Johnson, chairman; Miss Linda Olson, Miss Jeanne Brindamour, Ernest Swanson and Gerhart Peterson.

The program so far outlined will include: Walter Berkelman, toastmaster; vocal numbers by members of the Alpha Omega quartet; readings, by Miss Friedericksen and Miss Myra Willsen, and instrumental music for dancing by Blewett's orchestra.

The officers of the society are: Walter Berkelman, president; Miss Rhoda Gray, vice president; Miss Jennie Winer, secretary, and Albin Johnson, treasurer.

NOON-DAY LUNCHEON.

Business Men Will Hold Monthly Session Next Wednesday.

The business men of the West end will gather at their monthly noon luncheon at the Rex hotel next Wednesday. Preparations for the affair are being made by a committee consisting of Victor Juten and N. J. Setterlund.

The principal feature of the luncheon will be reports of the committee which had charge of the recent celebration held in the West end. Some other feature for the entertainment of the public to be held in the near future will also be discussed.

Mrs. Alex Kennedy, 213 Eighteenth avenue west, entertained yesterday afternoon for the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Grace M. E. church.

Hjalmer Newman of Twenty-first avenue west and Third street was pleasantly surprised by a number of his friends Saturday evening. There were seventy-five guests present. Games and music featured the affair.

BEMIDJI SCHOOL DISPLAY

Exhibit of Work of Pupils Pronounced Most Complete.

Bemidji, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—This year's display of work of the students of the high school which consisted of more than 500 articles of clothing, made by the sewing classes; twenty-eight large pieces made by the boys of the manual training department and many exhibits of cooking, drawing and fancy work is, according to members of the faculty, the most complete in the history of the school.

The articles of cooking consisted of canned goods only, on account of final examinations interfering with the students making a large exhibit of this kind and the articles displayed in this department were peach and orange conserves, ginger pears, grape and orange conserves, grape jelly, apple jelly, mustard pickles, crabapple pickles, canned peaches, pears and red plums, cranberry jelly, grape juice and pie plant juice.

BURNING PIMPLES ON ARMS AND LEGS

Would Itch, Scratched and Irritated Them, Clothing Aggravated. Could Not Sleep. Used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. In Four Months Was Well.

1324 N. Oakley Ave., Chicago, Ill.—"Little pimples began to break out on my arms and legs. The skin was red and water would run from the pimples. They would itch and burn and that made me scratch and irritate them. My clothing aggravated the breaking out. I could not sleep.

"I used a great many remedies but they failed to help me. I had the eczema for five months and then I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I washed my arms and legs with the Soap, then I applied the Ointment. They stopped the itching and burning and gave me good nights' rest. In four months I was well." (Signed) Benjamin Schedel, Oct. 15, 1914.

Although the Cuticura Soap and Ointment are most successful in the treatment of affections of the skin, scalp, hair and hands, they are also most valuable for everyday use in the toilet, bath and nursery because they promote and maintain the health of the skin and hair from infancy to age.

WEST END BUILDERS

ERNEST C. PETERSON.

Ernest C. Peterson is one of the hustling young boosters of the West end who has been taking an active part in making this section of the city a coming commercial center. Mr. Peterson and his brother, Leonard T. Peterson, are owners of the Minnesota Tea company.

"Ernie," as he is popularly called by his friends, has been one of the boosters for entertainment features for the residents of this end of the city. He assisted in making the recent celebration and parade a success.

"The best way to get acquainted with the people is to get them down to the business district to visit you," said Mr. Peterson. "In order to make fast friends with the public the business man must meet the public at least half way. One way to do that is to provide the proper amusement, as well as to convince the people that such entertainment is not always provided from a mercenary motive."

Mr. Peterson's firm is at present erecting a handsome building at 1917 West Superior street.

WILL BUILD MORE SCHOOLS

New Structures and Repairs for Unorganized Country Districts.

Rural School Near Eveleth to Be the Biggest Yet Planned By Board.

Several new school buildings will be constructed and a number of old ones repaired this season in the unorganized or so-called county district which is under the direct supervision of the county superintendent of schools.

The county board of education has already authorized the construction of a new building to take the place of School No. 79. Owing to the fact that the old school is not now located where it ought to be in order to accommodate all of the children, a new school site has also been selected.

The new site is on the north side of the Morrison road about four and one-half miles east of the junction of that road with the Miller Trunk. It is about fourteen miles southeast of Eveleth. The building when completed, will be the largest yet constructed by the county board of education. The main part of the building is sixty-two by thirty-six feet and there is an addition to the rear which is twenty-four by thirty-six feet.

The main portion of the new building will contain two class rooms, a hall, storage closets and cloak rooms. A library room, sixteen by twenty-four feet, will be located in the rear. This may also be used for a reading room. The remainder of the building will be equipped as living quarters for the teachers, there being sufficient room to accomodate four, if necessary. According to N. A. Young, county superintendent, the building is expected to be ready for occupancy by Sept. 1.

The county board of education has also authorized the reconstruction of School No. 83, which is located eight miles south of Aurora. School No. 83 at present is a one-room building which until recently belonged to old District No. 57. There will be an enrollment of between fifty and sixty children there in September, and, this will render the present quarters inadequate. When reconstructed the building will have seating capacity for about eighty children and quarters in which the teachers may live.

School No. 85, which is located about twelve miles southwest of Aurora will also be repaired during the summer. It is probable that other new buildings will be constructed during the summer.

ITALY'S ACTION WILL BOOST SUGAR PRICES

Surplus of That Country Will Be Consumed at Home.

Italy's entry into the European war is expected to bring about a still firmer market in sugar, and a higher range of quotations is predicted in the near future.

Reliable estimates place Italy's beet sugar production for the year 1913-14 at 328,000 tons. That nation normally consumes 200,000 tons and exports the 128,000 tons surplus. It is now considered probable that the surplus will be held for home consumption against any possible curtailment in this season's crop due to military operations.

It is pointed out, however, that in the event of the opening of the Dardanelles to Russian commerce, the sugar surplus of that country, variously estimated at from 500,000 to 800,000 tons, will become available for export. It is taken for granted that Russia will place her surplus of sugar and other food products at the disposal of the allies at the earliest possible moment to recoup them for the large money advances made to her.

NEGRO DENIES HE WROTE LETTERS

James Conley Has Served Time in Phagan Case and Makes Statement.

Atlanta, Ga., June 3.—James Conley, negro factory sweeper, who has completed his sentence of one year as accessory to the murder of Mary Phagan, denied yesterday that he had written the Anna Maud Carter letters which figured in Leo M. Frank's extraordinary motion for a new trial.

Conley's denial, made in the presence of Solicitor Dorsey, was the first intimation that Conley had not been the author of these letters, by which Frank's lawyers sought to show that Conley had written without asistance the famous "murder notes" found beside Mary Phagan's body. Conley testified at Frank's trial that the notes were written by him at Frank's dictation.

Frank's counsel contended that the expressions and general form of diction in the Carter letters were identical with those of the "murder notes," and that Conley had written both independent of outside suggestion.

Counsel for Mrs. J. W. Coleman, mother of Mary Phagan, announced yesterday that neither Conley nor Frank would be called upon to testify before commissioners in the suit which Mrs. Coleman has brought against the National Pencil factory, in whose building the Phagan girl was found dead.

Archangel Is Open.

London, June 3.—Archangel, the only large seaport on the north coast of the Russian empire, is officially declared open to navigation, according to a dispatch to Lloyds.

Broke Diving Records.

San Francisco, June 3.—Thirteen descents were made in search of the submarine F-4 at Honolulu and every one broke a former world's record, according to Chief Gunner George D. Stillson, who is here after completing his work as chief of the diving operations. Five of the descents were made to a depth of 306 feet, he said, and eight to 275 feet. The former world's record was 274 feet.

Dies From Fright.

Newburg, Ind., June 3.—Mrs. Eva Bethell, 72, mother of Union Bethell of New York, vice president of the American Telephone & Telegraph company, died here last night from fright, physicians stated. Mrs. Bethell said just before she died that a burglar had entered her home and threatened to shoot her if she did not give him money. The burglar has not been apprehended.

NIGHT CROWDS ARE DWINDLING

City Council May Hold Future Meetings in Afternoon.

Audiences at the council meetings have dwindled so rapidly in the last two weeks that the city commission is now considering the advisability of going back to the afternoon meetings. Night sessions were begun when the present commission took office in April, but the size of the crowds since the jitney ordinance was passed, the commissioners say, warrants a change back to the old program of meeting every Monday afternoon. About fifteen persons were present at the meeting last night.

An ordinance prohibiting the use of search lights on automobiles and motor vehicles of all kinds was introduced by Commissioner Silberstein at the council meeting last night.

Blinding headlights on automobiles have caused some accidents this year, and the introduction of the ordinance is the result of complaints made to the police and the safety division. The ordinance will require two more readings before it comes up for final passage.

Ordinary headlights, Commissioner Silberstein said, will be permitted, but strong, "blinding" lights will not be allowed. Similar measures have been adopted in other cities, the commissioner said.

The ordinance carries with it a fine not exceeding $100 or eighty-five days in the county jail.

The members of the commission are understood to favor the ordinance and it is believed that the measure will pass when it comes up for a final reading on June 14. In that event it will go into effect about the middle of July.

Norman School Superintendent.

Ada, Minn., June 3.—The county commissioners have elected Miss Ida Rud superintendent of schools of Norman county, to succeed Miss Marie Lovsnes, whose resignation takes effect Sept. 1. Miss Rud is a teacher in the Aitkin, Minn., schools.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE

by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice free may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sta., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Bessie" asks: "How may I make my hair grow long and thick? I have dandruff and my scalp itches terribly."

Answer: As long as you have dandruff you may not expect beautiful hair. Use plain yellow minyol to overcome the itching and dandruff and put the scalp in good healthful condition. Clip the ends of the hair and a vigorous growth of hair should ensue. Minyol is perfectly harmless.

• • •

"Chubby" writes: "I'm much too stout. My friends call me 'Chubby,' and I want to reduce. Have tried exercises, but they only increase my weight."

Answer: Arbolone tablets should reduce your weight as much as you would like to lose. They are harmless and extensively used by those obesely inclined to keep down excessive weight.

"Young Man" writes: "I have just reached the age of 21. Have grown up quickly and weigh 165 pounds, but I'm not strong like other fellows in my class. Seems the last two years of college life, with its studies and social duties, has shown on me. I do not seem able to apply myself or centralize my thoughts. I haven't any ambition. The boys say: 'I've lost my nerve,' and I have. Should I stop studying, or can I take something to re-establish my lost strength and buoyancy?"

Answer: If you take the proper amount of sleep and form regular habits, the use of three-grain cadomene tablets should soon bring you back to new life and energy. Avoid excesses and dissipation, and it will not be necessary for you to discontinue your studies. Take the tablets regularly and start using them now.

"Tiny" says: "I'm so very thin that my friends call me Tiny. I would like to increase my weight 20 pounds. How may I?"

Answer: The continued use of three-grain hypo-nuclane tablets taken with your meals should increase your weight in a very short time. I seldom hear of a case where the use of these tablets fails to increase weight and strength. They are highly recommended.

"Engineer" writes: "My work brings me out in all kinds of weather. I had a severe cold and it settled on my kidneys. They pain me very much and I don't urinate much. My system seems all bloated and at night my feet swell. Have some fever and often have chills. Please prescribe for me. Never had trouble like this before. It has been several months since I first noticed the pains in my back, and they keep getting worse."

Answer: Symptoms indicate your kidneys are in bad condition. There is likely some congestion and inflammation. Get a tube of balmwort tablets and take regularly according to directions. Try not to take cold and in a little while you should feel alright again.

"L. F. W." writes: "I think I need a medicine to build up my blood and make it pure. Also I have chronic constipation."

Answer: Nervousness, sleeplessness, sallow complexion, coated tongue and bad breath, with fever and headache, result from impure blood, which is the result of constipation, indigestion, etc. A real medicine is three-grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur). I have prescribed these thousands of times with great success.

THERE WILL BE NO CONQUEST OF MEXICO.

In these circumstances the people and government of the United States cannot stand indifferently by and do nothing to serve their neighbors. They want to do nothing for themselves in Mexico.—President Wilson in his Mexican paper.

The president's statement of the attitude of this country toward the state of anarchy that prevails in Mexico is disappointing to those who have been panting for armed intervention.

If the grim last resort of intervention becomes necessary those who are clamoring for it now will be still more disappointed.

Most of those who have been urging intervention in Mexico have this benevolent idea of it: that when we get through we should take and keep for our trouble a nice little slice of Mexico—say, to be modest, that part of Sonora and Chihuahua which lies above the twenty-eighth parallel.

They will need somebody besides Woodrow Wilson in the White House to get away with that. The American people, says the president, "want to do nothing for themselves in Mexico." And he is everlastingly right about that.

If the United States is compelled to intervene in Mexico, it will do its duty in a workmanlike manner, and then withdraw.

And none of Mexico, not so much as a stain of Mexican soil, will stick to its fingers.

But maybe those Americans who sold the Europeans goods that wouldn't stand wear were just doing their humble best toward discouraging the war.

THE N. M. D. A. AT COLERAINE.

The spring meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association will be held Thursday and Friday, June 10 and 11, at Coleraine.

An excellent program has been prepared, and, what is better still, with new wisdom the officers of the association have not tried to crowd a week's work into two days. While ample, the program contains no more than can be comfortably disposed of, and there ought to be plenty of time left for the discussion of matters of importance to Northern Minnesota, such as how the reclamation revolving fund amendment is to be put into the Constitution.

This meeting ought to be well attended. Coleraine has made every possible arrangement for the comfort and pleasure of its guests, and that means that a good and interesting time is assured. Coleraine, delegates will discover, is an interesting sight in itself, and its people are enterprising, warmhearted and delighted with the opportunity of entertaining their neighbors. The more there are to entertain, the greater their pleasure will be.

Besides, the N. M. D. A. is going to have company at Coleraine. A large party of Southern Minnesota senators and representatives is going to drop in and look the association over, and some of them will participate in the proceedings. These lawmakers have an idea that the Northern Minnesota Development association is a live and active and enterprising bunch, and it would be a pity if a small attendance should incline them to think otherwise.

Every county, and so far as possible every community, in the field of the Northern Minnesota Development association should be represented at Coleraine by its best hustlers.

Hennepin county couldn't find a surer way to attract statewide attention than to have a county option election.

THE NUISANCE OF STATE LINES.

The will of the Vanderbilt who was one of the Lusitania victims has been filed in Newport, Rhode Island, though it was presumed that his residence was in New York.

New York imposes an inheritance tax. Rhode Island does not.

That's why Rhode Island was chosen instead of New York.

The New York Tribune, which discloses this fact and the reason for it, adds: "On an estate the size of Mr. Vanderbilt's the saving to be effected by filing in Newport would in itself be a fortune."

No doubt. No doubt, too, Mr. Vanderbilt had a summer residence in Newport. No doubt, too, if the tax laws of Rhode Island and New York had been the same, the will would have been filed in New York, because it would be handier.

New York, thus, loses a large inheritance tax. The Vanderbilt estate saves a large sum.

There seems to be nothing that New York can do about it, and the rest of the states have no concern in this particular case.

It serves merely to illustrate again the anomaly of state boundaries setting off from each other a variety of systems of doing things that are done, or ought to be done, throughout the country.

The states have different divorce laws, different tax laws, different marriage laws, different labor laws, different pure food laws. Yet business is carried on with complete disregard of state lines, and in a large degree human associations are, too. The effect is confusion, often loss, and sometimes scandal. There are states that license corporations to do things no corporation should do. There are states that make a business of attracting divorce proceedings for the money the parties spend there.

The situation could be cured. All the states might adopt uniform laws, which they are not likely to do so long as it is profitable to some of them to be different. Control by national agencies of certain classes of affairs that are national in scope and interest would cure it; but that isn't likely to happen right away because "state's rights" sentiment foolishly survives from the time when this nation was a loosely knit collection of jarring states that had lately been jarring colonies.

It's a wonder the advocates of a big army haven't been pointing out that if we had only followed their demands we would have had a nice big force to sell or rent to one side or the other in the war.

THE EFFICIENCY BILL THAT HAMMOND VETOED.

The economy and efficiency bill was vetoed by the governor.—Heron Lake News.

That statement is going the rounds of the state press, following a very definite channel. It is confined mainly to partisan Republican newspapers.

It isn't true, of course, and if it had made only one appearance it wouldn't be worth while noticing it. But since it is making regular appearances, it may be as well to get the record straight.

Governor Hammond did not veto the efficiency and economy bill.

He did not get a chance to veto it; but if he had had the chance he would not have vetoed it, because he was for it—spoke for it on the platform, pleaded for it in his message to the legislature.

The reason it did not come before him was because it was beaten in the house—beaten, that is, in the sense that it did not pass, for it never was permitted to come to a vote.

What beat it was this: certain individual legislators playing politics. What they played politics with was a little collection of fake efficiency and economy bills fathered by Representatives Gordon and Warner. The purpose of these bills was to defeat the efficiency and economy bill—the real thing. They succeeded in this purpose, which was the only purpose that inspired them. Three of them straggled through to the governor, and one of these he vetoed because it was a fake and fraudulent efficiency measure—a palpable substitution of a pretense for the real thing. The others he allowed to become law because they were harmless. In one of them, the budget bill, there is even some slight possibility of good.

But there is no sense or honesty in saying that Governor Hammond vetoed the efficiency and economy bill. He didn't. It didn't get to him. It was beaten by a combination of officeholders and politicians who contrived a hollow mockery of reform, labelled it efficiency and economy, and succeeded in substituting it in the house for the real thing.

It took Eugene Foss to make the old phrase "turn-coat" display all its latent inadequateness.

A SUFFRAGE STORY.

The women of Chicago have been fighting for fifteen years to gain three reforms—a garbage incinerator, a boys' court and ten police matrons for public dance halls.

They fought in vain for all that time.

Then they got the ballot, and all three of these reforms were put into effect within three months.

Suffrage advocates are using this as an argument for votes for women.

It seems a perfectly good argument, too.

This proposal that somebody take the lead in Mexico and put down or ignore all the other aspirants is such a good opening that it is hard to see how a certain ex-president of the United States can fail to take the hint.

The Nation's Turning Point

Editorial in the New York Times.

In his address before the Pan-American Financial Conference, Mr. Warburg said that this country is now at a "momentous turning point in our economic history." Coming from the spokesman of the Federal reserve board those are weighty words, and worthy of a situation such as the world has never faced before. Eleven nations with approximately a billion of population are at war, and we are at peace, alone among leading commercial nations. The world's trade is disordered, to the benefit at the moment of the United States alone. The world's finances are in the worst condition ever known, and just now our own affairs are in an exceptionally liquid state, to be made or marred, as we determine. A "stupendous amount of bonds" must be issued to finance the war's expenses, there is "an extraordinary inflation "of currency in almost every part of Europe," and an "appalling loss of property has been suffered by those countries."

On the other hand, in this country the excess of banking reserves would justify the creation of two or three billions of credit. Inside the Federal reserve system there is gathered only $300,000,000 of gold, leaving $1,590,000,000 of the country's total stock to be collected for the best banking use. If the conditions abroad are "appalling" the threat of an excessive business activity at home is hardly less cautionary. The country has never had such an opportunity, and probably never will duplicate it, certainly not within the time of any now living. It is a sure prophecy that if this is not the "last" war, it is at least the last for a long time. Prostration will be so complete that a prolonged recuperation will be necessary, and generations will pass before the world will gather the courage or the resources for another Armageddon. The true course of the United States in the interval was Mr. Warburg's theme.

It is a reassurance to have the subject treated in his manner, so calm and elevated, and in such contrast to that of our frenzied legislators. Mr. Warburg offers to those who consider his counsel no delusion of quick or easy prosperity. It would be "unbecoming and disloyal" for us to seek to profit directly by the misfortunes of those who have assisted us to our own prosperity. But it is our duty to assist both them and ourselves, and we look to them for capital, and it is our privilege and duty to supply others who have been dependent upon that source of supply. There is almost a financial Monroe doctrine, American territory for Americans is paralleled by American money for Americans. The peaceful penetration of the American continent by European capital, which carried a political problem if not threat, is displaced by a cry from the South for accommodation for trade and development which can be had in the near future from the American North alone. That cannot be accomplished by fostering distrust and dissension among men of large affairs, in the name of preservation of competition. In Mr. Warburg's opinion what the case calls for is the "perfection of our organization and assembling of our idle gold."

He makes two important statements of fact not known before. It has been supposed that the Federal reserve system, specifically charged with the financing of exports and imports from and to this country, was excluded from dealings between other countries. The counsel of the Federal reserve board has advised that the law allows business in acceptances upon commerce between other nations, that is, all foreign trade. The United States is therefore in position to act as banker for all the Americas, and the acceptances which already are $120,000,000 might easily swell to a billion. It only needs better knowledge of the system's workings, and rather by ourselves than by others. The world has long been accustomed to it, except ourselves. We have prided ourselves upon our American system, and have even been disposed to defend our book accounts and cash discounts against the universal system of commercial credits.

The Federal reserve board itself is considering one difficulty in the use of dollar exchange. A buyer of a dollar acceptance is unable to calculate its worth to him unless he knows the rate of discount which he must pay when the paper is presented. Heretofore there has been no authority to quote a standard rate, even currently, to say nothing of a distant date. Mr. Warburg announces on behalf of some of the largest of the banks that they are "prepared to give the greatest possible assistance by adopting a liberal policy in quoting such forward discount rates, good for a certain date or for delivery upon the arrival of mail by a given steamer." Thus will be born an American rate for money, to be quoted locally, and no doubt to be cabled throughout the world, just as foreign rates are cabled here, and have controlled even our own markets at times. Thus in like manner we shall assist in making the world's market rate, as we never have done effectively heretofore. Already the Federal reserve system has given us almost a uniform domestic rate for money. That proposal was ridiculed as impossible when it was proposed, but yesterday the extreme range for the twelve Federal banks was 1 per cent, and ten of the twelve quoted the same figure. This was done by leveling down, not up. Resources are at the command of the highest bidder, but the bid has not been raised, and probably could not be raised forcibly, contrary to conditions. It is impossible to read of these things without admitting that America does move, and with rejoicing that the movement in its formative stage is under such competent control.

When the Hair "Turns White."

New York World: Dr. John A. Wyeth, in the Sun, disposes of the popular theory that the hair can turn white "in a single night" by reason of extreme fear or grief. It is no more possible, he says, for "such lightning-like depigmentation to take place in the human hair without chemical assistance than it would be possible for water to run uphill."

This is a professional opinion which will not lightly be challenged. But what has medical practice to do with the matter? It may be beyond the doctor's art to turn the hair white by merely emotional means, but any fiction writer can do it, and poets also, if the occasion demands. Byron knew the trick, and innumerable novelists have practiced it. There are "situations," indeed, in romantic fiction where it is absolutely essential to the development of the plot that the raven locks of the hero should instantly become white as the driven snow, and shall the author stay his pen from a stirring climax just because of medical opinion?

The doctors may allege the impossibility of "lightning-like depigmentation." But every man to his trade. With the novelist it is one of the simplest processes of his art to whiten the hair offhand "through sudden fears," as well as one of the most time-honored. Why should he abandon it and sacrifice sensationalism for mere subserviency to pathological accuracy?

A Distinction.

Boston Transcript: "Are the Newriches entertaining this season?"

"Entertaining? Well, I should rather call them amusing."

Matching Wilson

By Sargent.

Washington, June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Americus club of Philadelphia is made up of the very aristocracy of the G. O. P., and if there is any creme de la creme to the thing it is here. The Americus just now is infatuated with Boies Penrose and presents him to the American people as Pennsylvania's favorite son and first choice for president of the United States. The Hon. Penrose, however, is rather shy and seems to prefer his present boss-ship of the party in the Keystone state to the White House.

Last autumn Mr. Penrose achieved a great victory, though it was costly, the price paid being in excess of a million. If the party is willing to pay that enormous sum to retain Mr. Penrose in the United States senate, what would it not give to secure for him the presidency itself? Mr. Penrose is become the successor of the late Nelson W. Aldrich. He will be chairman of the committee on finance and leader of the senate should the Republicans sweep the country in 1916, and in that event Boies Penrose will fashion the revision "up" of the tariff that will be proposed.

It is going to take a first-class man to make even a respectable show against Woodrow Wilson in 1916. Who is he? Where is he? If all those proposed were fused into one he would not be the equal of the late Thomas B. Reed, and Thomas B. Reed himself was not nearly the statesman Woodrow Wilson is. Since the election last fall there have been many booms and boomlets on the Republican side of the hedge. First there was Whitman, but he soon pegged out. Then there was Root, but his boom has subsided. Next appeared Weeks, and his boomlet is still on deck, though puny, notwithstanding Weeks is a millionaire. Fairbanks, too, has a boomlet, and we hear that he is the choice of Boss Penrose. Just now Knox is again presented with the explanation that Roosevelt would support him. Michigan is behind a voiceful gentleman, "intoxicated with the exuberance of his own verbosity," William Alden Smith, but his boom is not likely to extend beyond the borders of its immediate bailiwick.

Burton is the best man of all those mentioned, but he has given evidence of independence now and then, and Pennsylvania, that is now at the fore in the G. O. P. councils, will never tolerate him. The boost comes from Harrisburg that Boss Penrose will appear in the national convention in 1916 at the head of a delegation numbering seventy-six, and he has marked for slaughter Cummins, Borah, and all the other gentry who have been prating about progress and things. That convention will hardly nominate a ticket that meets the frown of the Pennsylvania boss. If it should muster courage to do so it is bound to take Teddy himself.

They keep insisting that the Progressive party is extinct and that all its political goods and chattels have been taken over by the G. O. P. Methinks the lady doth protest too much. It is not quite certain that men who were as far apart as Theodore Roosevelt and William H. Taft in 1912 can get together in the same basket in 1916. It would be a marvelous gymnastic feat—the appearance of Charley Fairbanks and the Grand Young Man on the same trapeze. For half a dozen years Uncle Joe Cannon and Victor Murdock have been at daggers drawn and farther apart politically than either was from Champ Clark, and can these folks come together and mix at the call of a Penrose or a Barnes? Principles that flexible are not "worth a damn by 40 cents."

What sort of platform is it to be? A "revision" of the tariff "up" is certain to be a plank, but who is to superintend the job? Will it be fixed according to the notion of Cummins, or in compliance with the idea of Cannon? The income tax to be stricken out as Alden Smith insists, or is it to be retained to suit the views of Moses Clapp? Then there is the governor of Ohio. He would have an admixture of Know-Nothingism in the platform, and that recalls a saying of an eminent man of letters—"Political religion bears in her arms the infant Unbelief."

By 1916 all domestic questions may retire before a great paramount—our relation to the war in Europe. Indeed, by 1916 we may be a participant in that mighty struggle, which has annihilated political party lines in every nation engaged in it. In England they have suspended the Septennial act and parliament has postponed the regular election till the close of the war. The Socialists of Germany and the "Junkers" are in perfect accord as to the war. The same is true of France and Russia. The only political schism is found in Turkey, where a nation is dying and will die regardless of the issue of the war.

It may be that we will have but one question in the political campaign of 1916, and that question support of the administration in a foreign war. That war, now raging, is only ten months old. Some of the shrewdest observers of Europe believe that it will not end for years—two or three—and if they are right the chances are mighty good that our country will be involved.

I hope not. I want to see one more tariff fight—one that will be decisive of that question. If they would put an end to their horrible strife across the water we would have in our country next year one of the most beautiful struggles of our history—the final contest between Aldrichism and Wilsonism.

Then every Democrat would gird up his loins, put on the harness, and let victory incline to the just.

Pretty Soft, Being an Editor.

Kansas City Star: Just after Fred Cook finished running off the paper last week a cheerful person remarked: "Well, the paper is out. You can take it easy for a few days, can't you?" Mr. Cook replied: "Yep, nothing at all to do. Ab-so loot-ly nothing. Once the paper is printed all any editor has to do is to sit around watching the little bills come due, and gently shaking his money bush until enough dollars drop off to pay those, these, or them bills. When the editor is not running off his paper his favorite pastime is to recline on a divan, smoking a fine full-flavored Clora de Lima cigar, and watching the subscribers struggling with each other to get on his list and pay the farthest in advance. If he becomes ongwayed he puts out his cigar, slips it in his pocket, and saunters nonchalantly down the Boulevard de Main, just to hear the merchants clamor for additional space as, with tears in their eyes, they dog his footsteps. And the way the news hunts the editor is pleasant to contemplate. When the paper is out the editor goes to his desk, leans back on his chair, looks wise, and waits till the day before the next press day, when the people line up in front of the office and then file past his desk and tell him all the news of the week. He writes it up in fifteen or twenty minutes."

Appearances to the Contrary.

Judge: "I hear that they belong to the early settlers."

"Well, you wouldn't think so if you could see the bill collectors climbing their front steps."

A Real Pied Piper

Tom Bodne in the Paris, Mo., Mercury.

Some folks without either sense or imagination affect to believe that the Pied Piper is a myth, but he isn't at all. He reappears periodically in every town in the United States with a squeaky old hand organ and a dirty monkey and was in Paris last Friday morning. Joy of joys! It was a beautiful morning, a May morning, with violets fluttering at every curb and the yards velvety with grass, and he didn't miss a street. Up and down and all around, over here and far away, under the arching maples, beneath the spires, he went, and never was such music. It floated over the housetops, came stealing in at the window and quavered in the sunshine. And at its approach, as if by magic, the doors of all the houses flew open and little children, clad in garments of spring, trooped forth and followed it. Sometimes it was here and sometimes there, but ever as it went grew the chorus of childish voices. There were pale little girls with streamers on their hats, jaunty boys in jumpers, dirty boys but happy, nigger boys looking timidly on with dark and questioning eyes, rich little children, poor little children—and all followed the Piper, up the street, down the street, around the block, far away. For an hour Hamelin town awoke from its long sleep and an ancient legend was re-enacted. And the monkey—a most marvelous monkey! He tipped his red cap, rang a bell and clashed tiny cymbals. You might look the world over and not find his like. And the tow-headed boy who fed him a whole nickel's worth of caramels—the last nickel he had—and who let him look through his hair for "boogers!" Never was such a boy, dirty though he was. So the monkey tried to say, and the monkey was right, whatever fastidious people may think. After all, boogers are not so bad, and the monkey did his best. Conscious that he was rendering actual service—the children never failed to laugh—the boy submitted without shame. And all the time the Piper played, and as the music floated in the window and the spirit of spring wrapped hill and town in its glad embrace, all the wonder and mystery of childhood returned. And as ever it went, up the street, down the street, all around, and far away, the ancient longing came to bolt down the steps and out door, into the heart of May, to weave a garland and follow the Piper far away. You were sorry you were a man and wanted to be the towheaded boy with a nickel's worth of caramels, to feed them to the monkey and hear the children laugh. Or, maybe, you wished you were the pale little girl with a streamer on her hat with the length of a May morning before her instead of a woman. And all day long the music was in your ears, and you wondered about it all—how, with the violets fluttering on a thousand hills, the yellow sunshine warming the earth, the Piper playing and the children shouting, men could go forth to maim and slay.

Our Garden

Scribner's Magazine: Our garden would never do as a basis of an article in a gardening book or a lady's magazine. It is not one of those methodical, unnatural gardens where all the seeds that are sown germinate, where all blossoms turn out in expected colors, where a whole row of hollyhocks come up without gaps.

It is no placid spot of gradual growth, but a thing of wild hopes and sudden fears; of quick inspirations unknown to the careful husbandman; of unparalleled successes; of blasting defeats. It seems almost at times as if it too had fleet, imaginative glimpses of what might be, and shared our sense of triumph or mood of failure.

For Nature is by no means the orderly, inch-by-inch personage we are taught in scientific text books to think her. She also has her moments of inspirations, of rapid and luxuriant growth, and my garden makes me aware of her swift divinings, her blind hopes, her passionate impulses that wax and wane.

If it is the gardening of ignorance, at least it is full of the joy of discovery. To well instructed friends I should be ashamed to confess that, busy for many years with many books and ideas, I knew not annuals from perennials. Biennials are still a puzzle; though the theoretical meaning is clear, I find it hard to discover the moment of bloom. When that guaranteed to flower every second year does not blossom at all, what are you to think of the book? Puzzles enough to make one lose one's wits spring up in one's own garden; there is no need to tramp the Andes nor traverse the rings of Saturn for Nature's riddles to read.

"The War Baby."

Why was I called from out the voids of space
Along a starless way, without a trace
That sanctifies the coming of God's own?
For desolate I came
And find dim shame to mother me.
Paternity (like me) without a name;
An unknown grave, beside an unknown sea
Is all that fathers me.
Robbed of my birthright by a blinded Fate
To sate
The dull cupidity, the insatiate
World-greed of nations.

The red libations of the long ago
To heathen gods and elements do show
More of humanity—are shorn
Of present-day atrocity and woe;
Once and for all their sacrifice was made;
The palpitating, bleeding heart was torn
And paid the toll for Present and for Past.
All that and more we pay, with our Today,
In levying tribute from the hosts unborn.

Brought from the void by desecration's call,
To fall on desolation emptier still,
No joy, no will did Fate instill
Within the hurried fabric of my loom,
My doom
To come unloved, unwelcomed,
Branded with sorrow to the inner core
Of my life's marrow. Horror and its toll
Have seared my soul,
White hate unbridled flamed.
The burden of the slain has ruthless lain
On me, Life's derelict.
In vain, defamed,
And helpless hands they place
The torches of a race
Inflamed with passion and self-centered end.
May Heaven itself forefend
Destruction's sowing
Where no man may save
The joyless harvest of a nameless grave.

Northern Minnesota, Land of Opportunity

Chorus of Minnesota Boosters.

Praise From Farther South.

St. Peter Free Press: State Auditor Preus' suggestion that the state manufacture dynamite and sell it at cost to settlers in Northern Minnesota, to be used in clearing cut-over land, is well worth considering.

There are millions of acres of some of the best farming land in the state still awaiting settlement on account of the thickly strewn stumps, of which it must be cleared before the land can be cultivated. This can be effected with dynamite at almost nominal expense, if the dynamite could be had at cost. And the state is the party to furnish it on those terms. It would even be a good business proposition if the state were to remove the stumps at its own expense and sell the land to settlers afterward, adding the cost of clearing to the price of the land. Such a step would add immensely to the development of the state and easily double our population within the next decade; and it would open up a vast empire for a desirable class of people and convert Northern Minnesota into a veritable paradise.

It's Some Place.

Spooner News: Fred Wheaton of the Hokah Chief seems to think that the ice never melts in Northern Minnesota. We will admit that we do see a little ice now and then in a highball glass, but at that the sun shines brighter and even the grass grows greener in "the land where clover is a weed" than any other part of the North Star state, Houston county and its beautiful hills and dales included.

No Reason for Fear.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: If there is anything the matter with Northern Minnesota the hundreds of settlers now coming in will soon find it out and seek other fields. But we have no fear, because there are hundreds already making good on these lands, and they will tell you it is the very best part of the country. The Northern Minnesota farmer is successful. He studies the conditions he has to contend with and makes no mistakes, and there is greater opportunity here, in cheap land and ready markets, than can be found anywhere else. Come and see for yourself.

Demand for Land.

Warroad Pioneer: The drainage ditch is closely followed by the settler in this part of the country. It was expected to sell 10,000 acres of land, under the Volstead act at Bemidji recently, but it was discovered that most of it had been filed on by settlers under the homestead act. The balance was sold as fast as the descriptions could be read off.

No Place for Hospital.

Spooner News: With the closing of the Baudette hospital, for want of patients, comes the thought that this country is too healthy for the M. Ds. Now, Mr. Outsider, wouldn't you like to live in a good, healthy place like that, where every lungful of air is filled with the purest ozone?

Read This Twice.

Aurora News: A contract has been let for the construction of a telephone line into the Bear River farming country, which is but added proof that Northern Minnesota is fast becoming a prosperous and a progressive agricultural district. There is room for many thousands of farmers here and each and every one will be able to reap a rich harvest every season.

Come and See It.

Tower News: Just now Northern Minnesota is looking its best. The view from the top of the bluff just north of Tower is one to see. Take a pair of opera glasses with you and the view is greatly enhanced. The bluff itself is a picture today. Climb it and lose yourself in the jackpines. Follow the old trails and soak in the beautiful sights that a wonderful nature has placed there. Winter has its joys to the man raised in the North, but summer comes as a rest that we may again enjoy as the season advances once more. Summer on Lake Vermilion and in Tower fills every want of the vacationist. The air here hasn't a microbe in a mile square of it. Look at our people, rugged and healthy, and see Northern Minnesota at its best.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

An anonymous article, "Answered Prayer," is floating through the religious press:

"He asked for strength that he might achieve; he was made weak that he might obey.

"He asked for all things that he might enjoy life; he was given life that he might enjoy all things.

"He asked for riches that he might be happy; he was given poverty, that he might be wise."

So, then, God must have a place for you.

Each of us is different. No two of us are alike—look alike, talk alike, walk alike, think alike. There is something that makes each of us different from anybody else. Even twins are different. The mother can tell them apart. Here, then, is a hint from nature, that God has some peculiar work for you to do, for which he has made you a little different from every one else. So God does not call us all to do the same thing, but he calls us all to do something.

You have certain influence over people different from anyone else. You can do something different from anyone else. Your personality is needed in this meeting; in this church; in your circle of friends. "Let not the hand say to the eye, I have no need of thee." It takes hands, eyes, ears, hearts, tongues to make a human body; so it takes giftu differing to make the body of Christ.

Therefore, young man, find out what God wants you to do, and do that. Do not waste your time complaining because He didn't give you something else to do. Be glad you can do what He wants you to do, and be sure you can do what He wants you to do.—From W. W.

Long Distance Valor.

Tit-Bits: "You're a liar!" drawled the little man.

"What!" roared the big man, clenching a huge fist. "Do you dare to call me that, you poor, puny, pitiable little puppy?"

"I do," came back the defiant reply. "If you speak another word, you great lump of podgy pork, I'll soon cut you short!"

"Cut me short, you cheese-mite!" shouted the enraged giant.

"Yes, and here goes!" snapped the thin-armed dwarf, sharply; and, quick as lightning, before the burly one could utter a word, he rang off and hung up the receiver.

What It Means

Des Moines Register and Leader: Just as an indication of the sweetness that attends the business of warfare into which the heedless would urge reluctant nations and into which, by their "preparedness," the military rings of Europe have dragged unhappy millions, the following is extracted from the advertisement of a manufacturer of munitions of war:

"The combination of these two acids causes a terrific explosion, having more power than anything of its kind yet used.

"Fragments become coated with these acids in exploding and wounds caused by them mean death in terrible agony within four hours if not attended to immediately.

"From what we are able to learn of conditions in the trenches, it is not possible to get medical assistance to any one in time to prevent fatal results. It is necessary to immediately cauterize the wound if in the body or head, or to amputate if in the limbs, as there seems to be no antidote that will counteract the poison.

"It can be seen by this that this shell is more effective than the regular shrapnel, since the wounds caused by shrapnel balls and fragments in the muscles are not as dangerous, as they have no poisonous element, making prompt attention necessary."

No, that was not conceived at the time gunpowder was invented, but it has appeared in a reputable American publication over the signature of a highly respected business firm of American men in the month of May, A. D. 1915. It perfectly illustrates the influence of war on the minds of men. We sometimes hang people for conspiring in or suggesting the murder of an individual; but a proposition to supply the means for torturing thousands to death seems covered—it can never be justified—because it is in pursuance of the "rules of war," which is murder en masse.

What sort of mind is it that can tolerate thought of warfare?

THEATER MANAGER REPLIES TO CRITICS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

As there has been a great deal of your valuable space used criticizing the photoplay "Three Weeks," I will ask you to permit me a little space in behalf of the Zelda theater. It seems to me that a great deal of fuss has been started without any foundation. I admit, the book "Three Weeks" is open to criticism. I attempted to read it, but after getting about half way, it was so disgusting that I did not finish it, but I must say that the photoplay is nothing like the book, and those who have seen it, will bear me out. There is not a foot of film in the whole picture that would offend any person. Mayor Prince, Commissioners Silberstein and Voss and a few clergymen were not afraid to tell me that they could not see anything wrong in the picture. People with evil minds, see only the evil side of things. There was not a suggestive part in it. As a matter of fact, had the picture come here under another name, it would have been considered one of the finest pictures ever shown in Duluth, as to photography, acting and stage settings. As a business man, with the investment I have here, it certainly would be poor judgment for the future of the theater for the sake of a few days' business to attempt to show a picture that would in any way be a detriment to the theater. The picture came here directly from the Metropolitan theater, Minneapolis, where it was shown for ten days to capacity business and is booked for a return engagement. L. N. Scott, manager of the Minneapolis theater, is considered by all managers in the theatrical business as well as citizens of Minneapolis, one of the most honorable and most successful managers in the show business, and a picture that was shown at his Metropolitan theater in Minneapolis can be shown at the Zelda without fear of offending the most refined taste. Now the sign regarding prohibiting children under 16 years does not indicate that the picture was in any way immoral. The picture came to us at an enormous expense, and having a limited seating capacity, our experience in the past has been that children coming alone would occupy seats for two and three performances, and in order to avoid this, it was necessary to prohibit them, unless accompanied by grown persons, and I dare say that at least 2,000 children witnessed the play accompanied by parents. Respectfully,

W. M. ABRAHAMSON,
Proprietor Zelda Theater.

PAVING NEEDED?

To the Editor of The Herald:

Don't you think Fifth avenue west should be repaved? Here is a much traveled thoroughfare in the heart of the city, leading to the courthouse, the Union station and the wholesale district, and it is paved, for part of its length, with old cedar blocks which are rapidly rotting.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person sending it. This is not required for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

Charles Zimmer, Duluth—Can you tell me through the Open Court how and when the United States acquired the Hawaiian islands? Also how and when were the Philippine islands acquired by the United States? Also how and when did the United States acquire Alaska?—Following a revolution in Hawaii, the queen was deposed and a provisional government formed. They asked to be annexed to the United States and this was done in 1898. The treaty of Paris in 1898, terminating the Spanish-American war ceded the Philippine islands to the United States. Alaska was purchased for $7,200,000 from Russia in 1867.

Subscriber, Tower — Please answer the following questions through the Open Court: What are the laws regarding cattle running at large in unorganized territory? Suppose they destroy your yards, etc., what can one do? The county road runs through our yard. Suppose they swim around a fence, which extends into the river, and get into a garden? Isn't it against the law for a bull over two years old to run loose? There is one here whose owner refuses to fasten it up. It has chased my children. I have told the owner that I will shoot it the first time it bothers the children. Wouldn't the law be behind me if I do? Owner of cattle lives in another township and is two miles from my property.—If you catch any cattle on your property the law provides that you may hold them until the damage done is appraised and paid for. It is unlawful to permit a bull over 9 months old to run at large, but the enforcement is left with the town chairman. There seems to be no provision for unorganized territory. If the bull was actually chasing your children you certainly would be justified in shooting it.

2 Drops of "GETS-IT" Out Comes the Corn!

It's the World's Wonder; Never Fails.

You'll make goo-goo eyes at your feet, after you use "GETS-IT," and you'll find the places where those blankety corns used to be, just as smooth as your cheek.

"How Wide Is a 'GETS-IT' Smile? Well, a Good Deal Over 2 Feet!"

There's no corn or callus among the millions of feet in the world that "GETS-IT" will not remove—there's no escape. "GETS-IT" is the new way, the simple, common-sense, sure way. It does away with greasy ointments, salves, pads, cotton rings, harnesses, knives, scissors, razors, files, and the limping and the painful pigeon-toe walk of so many corn-pestered people. All you do is put 2 drops of "GETS-IT" on—the corn shrivels up—and good-bye. Nothing else in the world like "GETS-IT." Millions are using it. There's no pain, no trouble, no changing shoes because of corns.

"GETS-IT" is sold by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Tuberculosis and the Sun

DR. ROLLIER of Leysin, in the Swiss Alps, reports the results obtained in some 2,000 cases of bone and joint tuberculosis treated by sun baths. He declares that bone and joint cases in all stages and in patients of all ages respond to this "heliotherapy," and that the functional results are even better than the best surgeons obtain. The only drawback about heliotherapy, as compared with surgery, is that the former takes much time—months and years, as against days and weeks under surgical methods.

Rollier holds that bone and joint tuberculosis is not local, but general—that the patient requires the same general treatment ordinarily applied in pulmonary tuberculosis.

The sun baths are administered under careful supervision by trained attendants, the exposures being gradually increased, both in duration and in extent of skin surface exposed to the sun's rays, so that, from an introductory bath of ten minutes for the feet and ankles only, the patient ultimately reaches the point where a complete exposure of the body for hours each day is possible without sunburn.

The so-called "cold abscess"—the softened areas which are apt to break upon the surface and leave discharging sinuses and ugly scars—heal under heliotherapy without breaking through the skin. This is a great advantage.

But if sinuses are already present, sun bathing heals them in a wonderfully short time. This idea is applied in America, also, with excellent results, though, of course, the air in the Alps is clear and the sun stronger.

Rollier has organized a farm labor colony, where many patients, when sufficiently improved to do light labor, help in raising vegetables and basket-making, and the like, thus paying or in part paying for their care while taking the cure. This idea, too, is adapted for use in this country, and it makes an ideal disposition of the problem of the convalescent consumptive.

Fasting Is Not Starving.

My husband has gastric ulcer. His doctor took him to the hospital and starved him for eleven days, giving nothing but rectal enemas of some predigested nutriment. He improved and got along nicely for months, but now we feel the old pains are returning. Will you kindly recommend a good physician?

ANSWER—We highly recommend the doctor who first treated him. That is the best treatment known. It is not starvation. There is a great distinction between starvation and fasting. Most of us would be healthier for fasting; none of us would be helped by starving.

Bronchitis Not Heritable.

Is bronchitis inherited? Grandfather and father both had it and I have considerable throat trouble.

ANSWER—No. Modes of living which predispose to bronchitis and other troubles of the respiratory tract do prevail in families. Over-eating, overheating the home, coddling fear of cold air and drafts, unrecognition of the infectious character of all so-called "colds," and the misguided resort to cough and cold cures, instead of seeking proper medical advice.

Ain't No Such Thing.

Please inform me what would be the correct diet for one suffering from chronic rheumatism and chronic dyspepsia?

ANSWER—Both terms are meaningless—neither expresses anything but a vague guess. "Rheumatism" covers a multitude of distinct conditions; "dyspepsia" is only fit for use in an almanac or quack advertisement.

"STRONGER" FOR DULUTH

California Not in Same Class With Minnesota, Says J. M. Smith.

Golden State Thrives on "Sucker Crop;" Hot Air Chief Commodity.

"The land of sucker-crops and hot air," is the way J. M. Smith of Duluth describes California. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have just returned after spending last fall and the last winter in the much-vaunted Golden state, and Mr. Smith, at least, has had enough. Mr. Smith is in the real estate business in Duluth and was formerly receiver of the Federal land office here.

"I would not trade a forty of good old Northern Minnesota land for the best section of agricultural land I saw in California," he declared emphatically, in discussing that country.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith went to California last October and returned to Duluth this week. They visited every principal city in that state, and Mr. Smith, having heard volumes about California land and its values, looked pretty closely into that phase of the matter. His verdict is given above.

Disabused His Mind.

"I am glad that we went to California," he said. "I am glad for several reasons. It did me a lot of good to get away from business and have a complete change of scene and get a rest, but the vacation spent anywhere else would have been of as much value as in California. I am glad, also, for the reason that I got the long-wished-for chance to find out for myself how much value to place on the glowing stories we hear of that so-called marvelous state. I would not have been satisfied had I not found out, and would probably have gone on believing that California must present advantages that no place else on the footstool has, for I was told so often enough to make anybody believe it.

Stronger for Duluth.

"Now I know the truth; and I am for Duluth and Minnesota stronger than I ever was, and, heaven knows, I have always been one of the faithful in this splendid city. I can say 'splendid' now with more sincerity than I ever even thought before. Excuse the slang, but 'nuf for Duluth and the North Star state' from now on.

"In California they talk about being ahead of the times. The only things in which I found them ahead of the times was in fixing the value of property, and in peddling 'hot air.' Compared to a California city of its own size, the Duluth real estate valuations are about 40 per cent; but for actual value they do not begin to compare with our property. As to 'shooting hot air,' they are in a class by themselves; and Duluth has no comparative part in it.

As to Farm Lands.

"I looked over the California farm lands in a great many sections. I heard stories of their marvelous production and so forth. I am not speaking of the fruit ranches, but of the agricultural lands. The smallest price you hear quoted is $100 an acre, and from that up to $1,000 an acre. And, say, we have land in Northern Minnesota that is being offered for as low as $10 an acre which, when cleared off, will return to the owner so many times more produce than the California grade that I would fear to give my exact opinion, for somebody would likely accuse me of having contracted the California "hot air" habit. I don't know of a section of this state where agriculture is followed that will not far outclass the best section that California can offer."

Minnesota Climate Better.

"And as to climate," continued Mr. Smith, "for steady diet, give me Minnesota's brand, and especially Duluth's, at any time in preference."

Mr. Smith declares that if the "sucker-crop" were shut off, California would starve to death. By the "sucker-crop," he means, he explained, the people who, attracted by the wonderful tales told and printed about California's wealth, climate, lands, get-rich-quick chances, and so forth, go to the state and buy property at fabulous prices, or who, at least, visit the state and spend the money looking it over. Those who invest, he declares, after finding that they have been bitten, immediately join the "hot air cult" and endeavor to unload their holdings at still greater prices on the next crowd of "suckers." Hence the term "sucker-crop."

Describing California.

Mr. Smith said that the truest interview he has seen concerning California was recently printed in a North Dakota paper. The man interviewed was pretty strong in his handling of the subject, but the only fault that Mr. Smith finds in it is that the man was "too conservative." This man describes the growth of the "hot air" habit in California in this way:

"Long before the days of '49 there lived in California only one white man. He was without money or other means of getting out of the country. Another man as entirely destitute as himself drifted in, and the first citizen of the commonwealth greeted the stranger something like this:

"'This is the grandest, biggest country on earth, a veritable empire. The climate has anything else in the way of climate backed off the beach. The view from anywhere is the best view you ever saw. You can get all kinds climate and view without price. After the sage brush is cleaned off you can raise anything that is growable. While it is true that you cannot pay interest on your investment, if you get this land for nothing, yet you have the view and climate to console yourself. For a man who cannot eat beefsteak this is the greatest country on earth, barring none.'

Growth of Boosting.

"He kept up this line of talk-suggestion until the newcomer was just as excited as himself, and when more people strayed in the two of them started out hypnotizing them, until today nearly all who go to the coast country become hypnotized and become converts to the faith.

"If the weather is simply scandalous; if it is so cold that the shiver-bubbles raise like warts upon your manly person, there is always some booster standing close by that will remark so all will hear it, that this is the first time that it has been so cold here in twelve years. If the wind blows a gale, and the dust clouds resemble thunder clouds of good old North Dakota, the native will remark that the wind has not blown like this in fifteen years. So it goes. You cannot pierce the armor of this champion suggester. He is always on deck with a straight flush, and I for one sometimes flushed to the roots of my hair when I stopped to think of that man's chances in the other world.

Ready With Plausibility.

"If a stranger remarks that the vegetables have no taste, the flowers no smell and the people live like gophers, the answer comes mighty quick, that the climate and the view make up for all this. If the stranger happens to think that the wheat grown out on the coast is soft and liter, that it takes two kinds of alfalfa in order to feed stock and horses, that the corn is wormy and the rains only come once a year, he is informed that all these things are secondary, and that the view and climate make up for all that; and the best of it is that they get by with it in many instances. In other words, by a consistent boosting campaign they make the strangers forget the bad and think only of the good.

As to the Flea.

"There seems to be only one thing that the average Californian cannot explain so that it sounds right conclusive and that is the flea. They are a great deal in the same position as the hotel man, who, when a guest of his complained that he found a long hair in the baked apple, said that he could not explain the presence of the hair in the apple, for the reason that he raised all of his own apples and they were Baldwins. So it is with the coast flea. There does not seem to be any right explanation at hand. When I was out there it was open season for the flea, and my anatomy soon resembled a small boy with the hives. You could almost see the bumps those fleas raised, through my clothing. I have experienced the chiggers of Kansas and the mosquitoes of South Dakota, but the fleas on the coast have them all faded for real industry. They almost make a man feel like being a dog so that everyone will not pay attention to him while he scratches. I cannot account for the prevalence of the flea in California, except it is the great climate."

"RUBBERNECK" CAR PLANNED

M. M. Hanna's Scheme Will Get Try-Out Next Monday Afternoon.

City Officials and Business Men First Guests; Rupert O'Brien "Spieler."

Duluth's first sight-seeing trolley car, on its "maiden" trip around the city, will carry sixty city officials and leading business men.

M. M. Hanna of "Ask Mr. Hanna" fame, instigator of the "rubberneck" trolley, has issued invitations to prominent Duluthians for a complimentary two-hour trip, starting at 3 o'clock next Monday afternoon, from the Spalding hotel corner.

Rupert O'Brien of the University of Minnesota will be in charge of the car and act as "spieler." Mr. O'Brien has prepared a series of speeches similar to those of Cook's guides, beginning "To the left, ladies and gentlemen, you see the celebrated aerial bridge. This bridge is the only one of its kind in America and has but one duplicate in the world," and so on ad lib.

Suggestions Asked.

At the conclusion of this first trip the guests will be asked to make suggestions for future excursions about the city. The plan, as outlined originally by Mr. Hanna, was proposed as an effective medium for showing Duluth to tourists and visitors, just as they see other cities.

During the two-hour run practically all of the more prominent features of the city's industrial, manufacturing and residence sections will be visited. If this plan proves successful, it will be enlarged upon to include runs to more remote parts of the city, where large industries are located, according to Mr. Hanna's plans.

How Thin People Can Put On Flesh

A New Discovery.

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food doesn't work and stick, and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are sadly out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Omit the flesh cream rub-ons. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating now and eat with every one of those a single Sargol tablet. In two weeks note the difference. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy, "stay there" fat should be the net result. Sargol charges your weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles—gives the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food and prepares it for the blood in easily assimilated form. Thin people gain all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol, and the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a scientific combination of six of the best flesh-producing elements known to chemistry. They come 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive, and Boyce Drug store and all other druggists in Duluth and vicinity sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back.

ANTI-ROADHOUSE LAW IS HELD VOID

St. Paul Judge Rules It Was Not Properly Enacted.

St. Paul, Minn., June 3.—The anti-roadhouse law, passed by the last legislature, was declared illegally enacted by District Judge J. C. Michael, when he discharged W. L. Kohlman, Lake Gervais road house keeper, the "prisoner" in a test case.

Judge Michael holds that the manner of passage was illegal in that the bill, pased under suspension of the rules of the house on April 11 was so passed with less than the required two-thirds of the membership voting. On the following day, after Speaker Flowers had called attention to the improper procedure, a two-thirds vote approved the journal of the previous day, the bill was declared passed and it was later signed by Governor Hammond.

HONORED BY KING GEORGE

Unusually Long List of Those Receiving Favors on Monarch's Birthday.

Field Marshal Earl Kitchener Is Made Knight of Order of the Garter.

London, June 3.—The list of honors conferred on the occasion of the king's birthday, which was issued last evening was, as had been expected, in view of the war, an unusually long one. The list is headed by the names of Field Marshal Earl Kitchener, secretary of state for war, who received the Knighthood of the Garter, and Sir Francis Bertie, ambassador to France, and Sir Kenneth Muir McKenzie, clerk of the crown. The two latter are the only old servants of the crown who were raised to the peerage, each having been made a baron.

Following these names is a long list of officers of the army and navy who receive promotion in or appointment to the Order of the Bath, chiefly for services in connection with the organization of various departments, such as recruiting and training of the territorials and the new armies, naval construction, equipment and transport, which have demanded special attention since the outbreak of the war.

It is Further List Later.

It is mentioned in the communication making the list public, that a further list of honors conferred in recognition of meritorious services during the war, would be announced later, which probably means that the men in the filed who are not included in the present list will then come in for their share of honors.

The list contains very few political honors.

Half a dozen members of the house of commons, both Liberals and Unionists are appointed privy councillors, and an equal number received baronetcies. Among the latter are Sir Gilbert Parker, the novelist, and Sir Henry Norman, Liberal member of parliament; twenty persons are given knighthoods, among them E. L. Fletcher, one of the managers of the White Star line, for services in connection with the transport of troops; Charles Edward Foyer, the fisheries expert; Leo G. C. Money, Liberal member of parliament, and a number of officials in the civil service.

Diplomats Named.

Sir John Newell Jordan, minister to China, is appointed a privy councilor; Right Honorable Sir James Rennell Rodd, ambassador to Italy, is given the Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George; Charles Louis Des Graz, minister to Serbia, and Francis William Strange, minister to Chile, are made knight commanders of St. Michael and St. George, and lieutenant colonel, the Hon. John Strathearn Hendrie, lieutenant governor of Ontario, Dr. William Peterson, president of McGill university, Montreal; the Very Rev. Daniel Miner Gordon, principal of Queens university, Kingston, Ont., are made knights of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

Among the Indians who were honored by the king is Rabindranath Tagore, the poet. He was knighted. Rabindranath Tagore was awarded the Nobel prize on the literature in 1913.

BADGER ELKS ELECT.

Oshkosh, Wis., June 3.—The state convention of Elks in session here elected the following officers: President, Otto Roemius, Grand Rapids; first vice president, Chauncey Yockey, Milwaukee; second vice president, John Barren, Eau Claire; third, A. H. Wieckert, Menasha; secretary, Theodore Benfy, Sheboygan; treasurer, J. P. McDermot, Fond du Lac; trustees, William Hurtgen, La Crosse; A. J. Horlick, Racine; Samuel Dullman, Antigo; William Wedegartner, Manitowoc, and Judge Clifford Randall, Kenosha.

The next place of meeting will be at Green Bay, June 6, 1916.

WHY FAMOUS PASTRY COOKS USE KC BAKING POWDER

The patrons of our first class hotels and restaurants are exacting—they demand the best. Women go where the pastry and cakes are noted for their excellence. Men are attracted by hot bread and biscuits—when fresh and moist and light.

The pastry cook with a reputation uses K C Baking Powder because he knows that results are certain; every time everything is as good as his best.

Then, too, with K C Baking Powder he can mix the various kinds of batter before the rush of the meal begins and bake as needed so that every order goes to the table fresh and hot, yet the last he bakes are just as good as the first.

The reasons behind these reasons is that K C is really a blend of two baking powders. One commences to give off leavening gas as soon as moistened. The other requires both moisture and heat to make it active. Dough or batter will remain in a partially leavened condition for hours, and when put in the oven, will come up as light as if mixed a moment before.

For cookies, pancakes, doughnuts and the like, which cannot all be baked at once, K C is indispensable. For all baking the double raise makes doubly certain.

Follow the example of the professional cook and your baking will be equal to his.

COUNTY WILL MISS TAXES

May Have to Issue Bonds to Cover Hibbing Shortage.

Approximately One-Quarter of Entire Revenue Is Cut Off.

Failure of mining companies to pay their taxes on their Hibbing holdings will result in some embarrassment to the county funds as well as to the village administration and the school district. According to figures compiled by L. A. Marvin, deputy county auditor, the county government will collect only about 75 per cent of the total levy.

Whether county officials will endeavor to borrow money on the county's credit to tide them over the present difficulty or an attempt will be made to meet the situation by curtailing expenditures by one-fourth has not been decided upon as yet. It is considered probable, however, that the former course will be pursued. The county has a comparatively low bonded indebtedness and would have no trouble in securing the necessary funds.

The total county levy, made last year for use this year, was $1,117,679.15. Failure to receive the Hibbing taxes will, according to Mr. Marvin's figures, mean a loss of $281,643.36, or approximately one-fourth. A detailed statement of how this will affect the various county funds has also been prepared by Mr. Marvin. It follows:

Fund—	Amount Levied.	Total Loss at Hibbing.	Balance Due County.
County revenue...	$ 387,053.31	$ 82,402.31	$ 74,530.00
County poor.....	94,197.77	23,837.64	70,760.13
County roads.....	500,525.88	126,127.24	374,398.64
Interest and sinking	51,186.47	12,898.45	38,288.02
Care courthouses...	44,030.24	11,102.47	32,956.77
Sanatorium.....	44,059.23	11,102.46	32,956.77
Work farm.....	16,198.23	4,081.79	12,116.46
Total all funds.	$1,117,679.15	$281,643.36	$836,035.79

In School District.

The independent school district of Hibbing will suffer heavily as a result of the failure of the company to pay their taxes there. Although the school district embraces more territory than the village proper, approximately 67 per cent of the revenue for the support of the schools has come from the Hibbing mines.

The assessed valuation of the Hibbing school district, or District No. 27, as it is officially known, is $125,455,624. This year, however, taxes will not be collected on $81,633,129 of this valuation, owing to the refusal of the companies to pay at Hibbing.

The school rate in the Hibbing district this year is 1.6 mills. If all taxes had been paid this would raise $200,728. The failure to pay at Hibbing will mean a loss of $130,613, and will leave the school district only $70,115 to go along on this year. Mining companies, however, have agreed to finance the schools until the litigation is ended.

Excavation work was completed yesterday on County Ditch No. 2, intended to drain approximately 12,000 acres of low land north of Meadowlands. Twenty-four miles of ditches have been constructed since the work started a year ago. The C. W. Hood Construction company will probably complete its contract within the next six weeks, according to County Road Engineer E. K. Coe. The contractors are now building roadways on the waste banks.

Joseph Medwayaush was arrested by federal authorities today on a charge of introducing "ardent spirits" into Indian country. Medwayaush is said to have taken a bottle of whisky into the Indian reservation at Fond du Lac. The prisoner pleaded guilty before United States Commissioner Pressnell and in default of $200 bonds was placed in jail to await trial July 13.

Graduates From Mining School.
David N. Skillings, son of Charles D. Skillings, has returned from Plattville, Wis., where he was recently graduated from the Wisconsin state school of mines. Before taking up his course at Plattville, Mr. Skillings had considerable practical experience, having worked as a miner in a number of underground mines on the Gogebic, Mesnominee and Marquette ranges of Michigan and the Vermilion range of Minnesota, as well as in the Wisconsin lead and zinc districts.

Searching for Fugitive.
Duluth police have been asked to help in the search for James Leago, Italian, who escaped from the yard of the Fergus Falls, Minn., institution for insane, May 27, and who has been at large since that time. Leago, before being committed to the asylum, lived at Glenwood, Minn. A wife and five children now are living in Glenwood. He was sent to Fergus Falls about fifteen months ago.

Clan Has Program.
Following the regular meeting of Clan Stewart No. 50, O. S. C., the members enjoyed a smoker and a musical program. The latter was taken part in by H. H. Stone, who gave several selections on musical glasses; J. A. Anderson and Dr. J. G. Annand, who sang; and Robert Mowbray, who gave several bagpipe numbers.

Italians Approve War.
P. J. Di Santo of Duluth has received a letter from his brother, Alessandro Di Santo, an officer of infantry in the Italian army, in which the latter declares that the Italian army and the people enthusiastically approve of that nation's entrance into the European war. In the letter, which was written the day before the officer left for the front, he declared that Italy is confident of victory. He says that the interests of Italy lie with the allied nations.

Pier Lights Soon.
On June 15 the lights along the government piers at the Duluth entry will be lighted each night for the season, and will be maintained until Sept. 15. Formal orders were given the Duluth-Edison company to operate the lights between the dates mentioned at last night's meeting of the city council. A crew is already engaged in putting the lights in shape.

Poundmaster Resigns; Another Named.
Commissioner Silberstein at the council meeting last evening announced the resignation of Joseph Frankowski as poundmaster of the Sixth district, and the appointment of Joseph Bastasz as his successor. The latter will take office immediately.

Protest Against Concrete Walk.
A petition was filed with City Clerk Borgen yesterday afternoon protesting against the laying of a concrete walk on the east side of Sixth avenue west, between Third and Fourth streets. The property owners state that the grade is too steep for a concrete walk.

Conference on Paving Suit.
Commissioner Farrell and City Attorney Greene will hold a conference this afternoon for the purpose of discussing the features of the East Fourth street paving case, which will shortly come before the district court. Recently the council decided to bring suit against the street car company to determine the city's right in assessing the company for pavements laid between the tracks. Francis W. Sullivan has been appointed to assist Mr. Greene.

Jury Considering Case.
A jury is out in district court this afternoon deliberating upon the question of whether Iver Johnson is guilty or innocent of the crime of assault in the second degree. Johnson, it is claimed, heaved a rock at one Oscar Sjerstrom with intent to do him great bodily harm. The case was concluded in Judge Ensign's division of court this morning. It was given to the jury at 11 o'clock. Up to a late hour this afternoon no agreement had yet been reached.

B'nai B'rith Banquet.
Covenant lodge, Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, will hold its annual banquet and initiation this evening at the Commercial club. A class of fifteen candidates will be initiated into the order. Dr. Isaac L. Rypins of St. Paul, who will be the principal speaker at the ceremonial, arrived this afternoon and was a guest of the officers for the remainder of the day. The banquet will be served at 6:30 o'clock, Bernard Silberstein, safety commissioner, acting as toastmaster for the evening.

Bernard Attends Council Meeting.
State Representative William Bernard, former alderman, was an interested spectator at the council meeting last evening. This is the first time that he has attended a council meeting in the last two years.

Patterson Is Dropped.
After two weeks' service in the street department, Robert E. Patterson, former smoke inspector, was yesterday afternoon discharged by J. G. Lawson, superintendent of maintenance. Supt. Lawson claims that Mr. Patterson failed to prepare the various streets for sprinkling and that as a result he was compelled to drop him from the payroll.

Conferred About Mine.
Lieut. Governor W. W. McDowell of Butte, Mont., who is engaged in mining in the copper camp, spent Tuesday here conferring with local men in regard to a Butte mining proposition.

REPORTING FOR SERVICE

Italians of Northern Minnesota Respond Promptly to Call to Colors.

Northern Minnesota Italians eligible for duty in the war zone are eager to discharge their duty to King Victor Emmanuel, judging from the numbers applying at the local office of the royal Italian consul.

Following the announcement yesterday that mobilization had been ordered, and that the edict sent out affected many Italians in Minnesota and Northern Michigan who had not completed their military service, men began applying for information.

Some of the men, laborers in the mines on the Minnesota and Michigan ranges, are not familiar with the provisions of the Italian military rulings and will consult Consul Castiglano, either in person or by mail, within the next few days.

Italians in this city deny that there has been an increase in the number of their countrymen seeking to be naturalized as Americans since war was declared by Italy.

Soon after diplomatic relations between Austria and Italy were severed, it was reported that many Italians were making an effort to become naturalized at once and avoid military duty.

Estimates of the number of men from this part of the Northwest who will go to Italy and enlist in the reserves are not available as yet, but it is believed that several thousand men will return to their mother country within the near future.

Those not required to perform military duty who wish to enroll as volunteers also are applying in considerable numbers, and it is probable that this part of the Northwest will be well represented in the volunteer regiments.

BOARD SUED FOR BIG SUM

An action for $35,000 was brought against the board of education of the City of Duluth today by J. C. Hansen and H. L. Erickson, co-partners operating as the Chippewa Falls Construction company as additional pay for the construction of the R. E. Denfeld high school. The suit, filed in the Federal district court, alleges that the original plans and specifications were changed by the board of education, causing additional cost and work in putting up the building.

The petition states that the construction company entered into a contract with the board to erect the building for the sum of $135,000 with the understanding that the work was to be done within a stipulated time. Afterward the board made many changes in the plans and substituted more costly materials in several cases, entailing a much higher cost in construction.

Later the plaintiffs allege that they made an agreement with the board to build the structure according to the new plans and that they were to receive $15,000 additional. This sum has never been paid, they declare.

In a second cause for action the plaintiffs state that they did not figure on the revised plans in putting in their bid, and they were put to much additional work and expense, which could have been curtailed if they had had the revised plans when preparing their bid. The changes also caused delay in the work, making it necessary to work when the weather was unseasonable. For these causes $20,000 more is asked, making $35,000 in all.

ARBITRARY ASSESSMENTS.

City Assessor Listing Those Who Failed to Make Required Reports.

Arbitrary assessments against all those who failed to file their reports on personal property, moneys and credits are now being made by City Assessor Scott.

The city tax board, consisting of the mayor, assessor and clerk, will meet on June 28 to prepare the statement for the county auditor, who in turn will submit it to the county tax board before it is presented to the state tax commission. All figures must be ready when the city board meets, and from now on Mr. Scott will make arbitrary assessments against all those who have so far failed to file their reports.

In addition to the arbitrary assessment on moneys and credits, the assessor must include a penalty of 50 per cent for failure to report on time. This is made compulsory by the state tax laws.

ARRESTED AT FLOODWOOD ON LARCENY CHARGE

John Luoma, indicted by the March grand jury on a second degree grand larceny charge, was arrested at Floodwood by a deputy sheriff, on a bench warrant issued from the district court.

Luoma, it is claimed, assumed the role of custodian for $80 belonging to John Maki and proved unfaithful as a "safekeeper." On Jan. 14 last, Maki claims, Luoma absconded with his roll and appropriated the same to his own use. Luoma was engaged as a timekeeper in a lumber camp located in section 30, 63-20.

He will be arraigned in district court this afternoon.

SUPERIOR REDUCED FARE IS POSTPONED

Six-Tickets-for-Quarter Order to Federal Court If Necessary.

The people of Superior will have to wait before they will be able to obtain six rides for a quarter on the street car lines of that city, despite of the recent decision of the Wisconsin supreme court. An appeal is to be taken to the Federal court by the company if necessary, but officials of the company believe that it probably may not be needed. A rehearing has been asked for by the company from the state railroad and warehouse commission and this will be held within the next two weeks. Facts and figures will then be shown, claim officials, which they believe will be sufficient to cause the commission to rescind its original order to make the company give six tickets for a quarter.

The grounds on which the rehearing before the railroad commission is asked are that since the financial depression last year the company's receipts have shown a considerable decrease and also that since the jitney buses have started operation in Superior the receipts have still further dropped. By enforcing the order of six rides for a quarter, it is claimed that the company will stand a further loss, amounting to almost $25,000 annually.

Asks License Revoked.

Charges of "lifting the lid" last Sunday will be presented by Police Chief Vincent McKinnor against Anton Krupienski, a Superior saloon keeper, at the meeting of the city commissioners this afternoon. The chief will ask that the license held by Krupienski be revoked. Krupienski is the fifth saloonkeeper to come under the ban of the police department since Mayor J. S. Konkel issued his "lid clamping" order. Two of these have already been revoked, one charge dropped and another will come up for hearing tomorrow.

Hebrew Quartet at Superior.

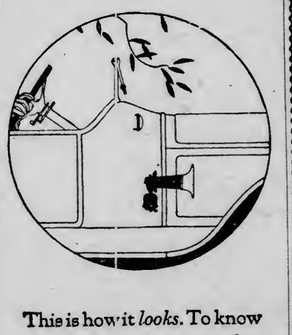

Synagogues of Superior have united in securing the well known cantor, A. Leibovitz, and his famous Hebrew quartet to conduct services Friday evening and Saturday morning and also a concert Sunday at 7:30 p. m. Solos will be heard from the Russian operatic tenor, David Lenovitz, I. Hrefsky, baritone of Denver, and Harry Leikovitz, violinist of Minneapolis. This quartet is making a tour of American cities and this is their first appearance in Superior.

Naughton Jury Out.

The jury in the Joseph Naughton case went out at 11 o'clock this morning. The entire afternoon yesterday and part of the forenoon today were taken up by the attorneys in summing up the evidence. The jury had not returned at 2 o'clock.

Superior Rotarians Elect.

The Rotary club of Superior held its annual election yesterday at the Commercial club and the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: J. C. Crowley, Jr., re-elected president; C. D. Se Cheverall, vice president; J. C. O'Connor, secretary; F. W. Gordon, treasurer; board of directors, Clarence Hartley, James Allison, R. C. Buck, J. F. Bingham and A. E. Holmes.

FREY AWARDED VERDICT.

Secures $1,828 Judgment on Six Promissory Notes.

John J. Frey was awarded a verdict for $1,828.43 against Mary C. and Carl J. Petruschke in a sealed verdict which was returned by a jury in Judge Cant's division of the district court this morning. The jury retired shortly before 5 o'clock last evening and the verdict was reached nearly six hours later.

Frey sued the Petruschkes for $1,567 and interest, claimed to be due on six promissory notes given by the defendants on Aug. 22, 1912.

At the last term of court the Petruschkes recovered a verdict for $3,750 against Frey on a cause of action for the alleged malicious prosecution of a series of civil actions against them while they were tenants of the Grand hotel property.

BOOM EQUITY HEAD FOR N. D. GOVERNOR

J. M. Anderson, Former Member of Legislature, May Run Independently.

Fargo, N. D., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. M. Anderson, president of the Equity Co-operative exchange, is the latest suggestion for a gubernatorial candidate in this state, made by enthusiastic supporters of the exchange, who assert they will be able to elect Anderson on an independent ticket. The plan is to affiliate with the Equity all those not bound by partisan ties to other political organizations. Efforts are being made to form a new industrial party in the state, composed largely of farmers and some of the labor organizations. It is hoped to affiliate this with the Equity, and it is also claimed that the Socialists might indorse Anderson.

Formerly a Democrat.

Anderson was originally from Grand Forks county. He was formerly a "supply" preacher, studied law at the state university, was a member of the state legislature from Grand Forks county, elected as a Democrat, toured the state for the Equity union, was elected secretary, then president and with the formation of the Equity Co-operative exchange he became its head and has held that position for a number of years.

NORWEGIAN LAGET MEETING AT FARGO

First of Gatherings of Norsemen Now Being Held.

Fargo, N. D., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Today Fargo began its entertainment of the different Norwegian lagets. A number of these, with attendance ranging from 200 to 1,000 for the different organizations, will hold sessions here this summer. The lagets are composed of residents and their descendants from some province in Norway. The representatives in this country come from all sections of the United States.

The programs provide for addresses by prominent Norwegians, usually from the province which is represented at the meeting.

Commencing this morning and continuing till Saturday night, the Landingslaget is meeting here. There are about 250 delegates now in the city, each decorated with a badge and all enjoying the reunion.

Senator Nelson to Speak.

The next laget that comes is the Vosselaget, of which United States Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota is a member. He will be one of the speakers when the meeting is held next Tuesday. Following that come the Numedalslaget, the Osterdalslaget, the Romsdahlaget, the Hadelanslaget, the Norlandslaget, the Mjosenlaget, the Sigsdahlslaget, the Tottingslaget, the Gudbrandslaget. The latter is the largest, as about 1,000 delegates are already assured.

LITTLEFORK CASE BEFORE HIGH COURT

Question Involving Koochiching County Saloon License Argued.

St. Paul, Minn., June 3.—On March 9, last, the village of Littlefork, Koochiching county, voted "wet." On the same day the township of Jameson, in which the village is situated, voted "dry."

Later the village granted a license to L. J. Lalonde. He was convicted of the illegal sale of liquor in the municipal court of International Falls, the claim being that the vote of the township automatically dried up the village.

The supreme court was asked yesterday to pass on this question. The matter came up on the application of Lalonde for a writ of habeas corpus, which was denied by Judge C. W. Stanton of the district court.

Is Municipal Corporation.

The defendant, through Marshall A. Spooner of Bemidji, his attorney, declared that although the village of Littlefork had never been separated "for all purposes" from the town of Jameson as provided by statute, yet in fact it is a distinct municipal corporation and has exercised all privileges as such since 1904, the date of its incorporation.

The supreme court in the recent Moose Lake case held that the vote of the town ousted saloons from that village, but in this instance the village had never been separated from the town in any degree and did not hold an option election of its own as did Littlefork.

Franz Jevne, Koochiching county attorney, argued the case for the state.

SCOTTISH RITE MEETING AT FARGO

High Degrees Being Conferred; Shrine to Gather on Friday.

Fargo, N. D., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Shriners of North Dakota and Western Minnesota will gather here tomorrow afternoon and evening. There will be a parade in the afternoon, a banquet at 6 o'clock, and following that there will be the initiation of the largest class of novices that has crossed the hot sands at El Zagal temple for years. The arrangements for the trip to the imperial council at Seattle in July will be completed. The Shrine band, the El Zagal Arab patrol and hundreds of Shriners of this state plan to make the trip on special trains.

The Scottish Rite bodies have been in session here all week conferring the degrees from the fourth to the thirty-second. There is a large class, and prominent members of the order are here from all over the state. This work concludes tonight with the presentation of the thirty-second degree in full form with spectacular effects.

FLOODWOOD ROAD WORK.

Considerable Improvement of Highways in That Section Going On.

Floodwood, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—County Commissioner Kauppi spent several days looking over the road work being done in this district. Two new roads are being built, the Moconagle and Parantella's, the first by contract and the second by day labor. The Blackwood road, which was started last year, will be finished this summer and it is expected that the Graff road will also be completed. Most of the work done here this season is in the nature of improving main highways, such as the Upper Floodwood, Savana and Halden roads. Some ditching will be done on the Robson road and fixing it over on the lower end. There was less money apportioned for road work around Floodwood this year than last, although the road appropriation for Mr. Kauppi's district is the largest for a number of years and there is some dissatisfaction among settlers.

The Van Buren township which heretofore done very little toward building town roads is exhibiting signs of new spirit and commenced the construction of several short roads and a bridge across the Floodwood river, opposite from Thomas Rajhala's farm.

The Iron Range Railway company has let a contract for a construction of ditches along the road across center of section 23, township 52, range 21, about one mile long, to John Macky and Eli Kikkula, the work to be finished July 1. The road will be graded as soon as ditching is done.

NORTH DAKOTA FARM SCENES ARE FILMED

Wahpeton, N. D., une 3.—At the Ford farm, five miles from here, farm life scenes have been filmed, the performers being students of the North Dakota School of Science. Not only were the pigs and chickens filmed, but a high-tempered young bull presented to the owner of the 3,000-acre farm by James J. Hill in recognition of prize-winning corn raised, played one of the liveliest parts.

The scenes of "Four Hands in a Washbasin" will take the company to the government Indian school here.

K. OF P. ANNIVERSARY.

Celebration at Fargo of Establishment of Order in North Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The silver anniversary of the establishment of the grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias in North Dakota will be celebrated at the state meeting of the organization here June 22-24. Supreme Chancellor Young and Supreme Keeper of the Records Wheaton will address the meeting while representatives from other states will assist in the ceremonies incident to the celebration. The Lisbon lodge of the Knights of Pythias will confer the D. O. K. K. degrees on the night of June 22.

FIND NO FOUL PLAY.

Delta County, Mich., Officers Believe Two Deaths Natural.

Escanaba, Mich., June 3.—After investigating facts surrounding the death of James Brady and Lucius Mercier at Garden Bay, Sunday, officers of Delta county are convinced there was no foul play. Mercier was drowned in pushing a boat from the burning dock and Brady lost his life in the burning building. Dan Seavey, owner of the mill, house and barge, is in an Escanaba hospital, suffering from serious burns. A woman said to be the wife of Seavey, was in the place when the fire started, but has not been seen since. The men had been celebrating the eve of Memorial day.

MICHIGAN FORESTERS TO PONTIAC IN 1917

Calumet, Mich., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Michigan Foresters of America awarded Pontiac the next biennial convention. Frank Leonard of Hubbell will be elected grand chief ranger, but there will be a stiff fight for the other offices. The convention closes today.

BADGER K. C. PLEDGE.

Members of Order to Give $1 Each to Marquette University.

The speakers will be as follows: November, Judge F. B. Saddler, Chicago; December, Frank Battenburg; January, George Aydlott; February, Ralph Parette; March, to be selected.

Houghton — In discussing recent shootings in Houghton county, Prosecuting Attorney Galbraith declared the officers of the county have been given instructions to wage a campaign calculated to exterminate the gun-toter.

Ishpeming—Dr. E. I. Lindgren and wife, formerly of this city, who now reside in Duluth, were guests of friends in Ishpeming Sunday and Monday.

Marquette—Hundreds of Knights Templars, with their wives and families, will arrive in the city next Monday morning on the steamers North American and South American on their way to Houghton for the state Knight Templar conclave. The Templars will remain in Marquette for about two hours, during which time the celebrated Detroit Commandery No. 1 will give an exhibition drill on Longyear field.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Madison—Robert La Follette, Jr., son of Senator La Follette, has suffered a relapse in the illness with which has been suffering when Senator La Follette took him to Washington several weeks ago. Young La Follette had recovered sufficiently to leave the hospital in Washington and be about and had a relapse.

Racine—George Covert, Racine's oldest letter carrier in point of service, died Tuesday morning from pneumonia aged 74 years. He was appointed as carrier in 1882 and was given a clerical position when age began to tell, and this he held until his death.

Madison—The Rural Letter Carrier's association of Wisconsin, in convention here this week, chose Eau Claire as the 1916 convention city. More than 200 delegates attended the convention.

Stoughton—A revival campaign has just closed at Stoughton under the leadership of John M. Linden of Madison. He was assisted by his chorus leader, J. Walton Strahl of New Kensington, Pa. The meetings were held in the armory. The city was thoroughly stirred.

Milwaukee—Joseph Shroka and Joseph Pawlek, charged with stealing flowers from the graves in Forest Home cemetery on Memorial day, were found guilty in District court Tuesday morning and fined $15 each.

Menasha—Henry Kuntz, a Menasha saloon keeper, was beaten into unconsciousness and robbed of $30 by unknown assailants while on his way home.

Whitewater—Relatives here have received word of the death at Buffalo, N. Y., of Mrs. A. Elizabeth Weaver Hartzell at the age of 86 years. She was the widow of the Rev. J. Hartzell. Her only brother is the Rev. Andrew Weaver of this city.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Grand Forks, N. D.—The charge of grand larceny in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Uhlen, accused of the theft of $250 from Gustav Rouse, a transient, was dismissed by Justice of the Peace Phil McLoughlin on motion of State's Attorney L. B. Burtness and the charge of robbery was preferred against the man and the charge of receiving stolen property was lodged against the woman.

Devils Lake, N. D.—Rev. A. C. Barron went to Rugby Tuesday where he delivered the address to the graduates of the nurses' training school of the Samaritan hospital. Six young ladies have completed the course and received their diplomas.

Fargo, N. D.—The local lodge of the Modern Brotherhood of America has completed arrangements for a big banquet to be held at the Powers hotel on the evening of June 16. A class of 100 new members will be adopted.

Grand Forks, N. D.—H. B. Watkins has arrived from Aberdeen, S. D., and commenced his new duties as secretary of the Grand Forks and East Grand Forks Retail Merchants' association.

Bismarck, N. D.—In an opinion just handed down by the supreme court it will be necessary for the Bismarck Water Supply company to pay into the Burleigh county treasury $5,091.63 back taxes for the years 1909 and 1910.

Mapleton, N. D.—The school in district 27, Mapleton township, closed a most successful term. Miss Gertrude Samelson of Horace officiated during the year and finished her third term as teacher.

Minot, N. D.—There are twenty-five in the high school graduating class this year. The graduation ceremonies will be held at the armory on June 10. The address to the graduating class will be delivered by Dr. A. D. Thibodeau of Chicago, a scholar with a national reputation.

Bismarck, N. D.—Funeral services for the late Frank J. Festerling were held at the First Baptist church Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. Burial took place at Fairview cemetery. Mr. Festerling died of heart failure at his home near Britton last Friday.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Little Falls—With an attendance of 200 Knights from nearly every city in central Minnesota, a Knights of Columbus council was instituted in this city. The occasion was also a district re-union of the Catholic order. Fifty candidates were initiated.

Owatonna—Owatonna has 6,646 inhabitants, according to a census taken by experts employed by the council. This is an increase of nearly 1,000 since the Federal census was taken in 1910.

Brainerd—John Mann, formerly of this city but who is now engaged in the grocery business at Duluth, is visiting in Brainerd and also the Mille Lacs lake country.

Pine River—Rev. Elof Carlson of the Swedish Lutheran church of Brainerd was here Sunday and confirmed a class of nine. He was accompanied by Mrs. Carlson and Miss Mabel Rosenburg, also of Brainerd.

Bemidji—On June 9 the next sale of state land will be conducted at the courthouse by Theodore Nelson, land sale manager of the state auditor's office.

St. Cloud—Mittie Adamson Boehm, who was born March 29, 1871, in Toronto, Canada, and was the first trained nurse graduated from the city and county hospital in St. Paul, died here May 31. Her husband, Dr. J. C. Boehm whom she married Nov. 26, 1896, survives.

Crookston—Seventy candidates were initiated in the Crookston Council No. 1216 of the Knights of Columbus Monday with marked ceremonies. The entire day was taken up with degree work.

St. Cloud—The Stearns county Old Settlers met here Tuesday. The officers elected were: President, A. W. Gordon; first vice president, John Kaufman; second vice president, J. D. Gilman; treasurer, J. H. Boylan; secretary, C. D. Grinols; obituary committee, W. B. Mitchell; executive committee, John Coates, C. F. Macdonald and D. H. Freeman.

Crookston—After being held in the county jail for the past two months, Reynard Rice pleaded guilty to the charge of furnishing liquor to a habitual drunkard before Judge Watts in the district court and was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail. Rice has begun serving his sentence.

Little Falls—Miss Ruby Griebler was a week end visitor in Detroit, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Watson. The latter will soon leave Detroit for Fargo, the theater in the Minnesota town having been sold. Friends of Mr. Watson in Little Falls will be pleased to learn that he is much improved in health.

Stillwater—Ed Blumer and family of Scranton, N. D., are here for a several weeks' visit with relatives. Mr. Blumer says that the crop prospects not only in Bowman county, but in every section of North Dakota are excellent, and the outlook for a big crop is bright.

Detroit—A beautiful monument commemorating the bravery of heroes of the Civil war was dedicated here with appropriate ceremonies. W. L. Van Horn, a member of the G. A. R., and deputy district commander of the Sons of Veterans of the Minnesota district, delivered one of the principal addresses Memorial day. In addition talks were made by Senator Clapp of Minnesota, Comrade Morton, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Payne.

Fergus Falls—T. A. Kvindlog, who spent about a week here, returned to his home at Williston, N. D., Tuesday by auto. While here Mr. Kvindlog sold his residence on Union avenue north to J. S. Ulland.

WANTED TO REMOVE BONE IN LEG

After suffering for years with a running sore on the leg a lady in Hartford, Connecticut, was informed that the only cure was to remove eight inches of bone. She refused and used Allen's Ulcerine Salve instead and it cured the sore completely. (Name and address on application).

Allen's Ulcerine Salve is one of the oldest remedies in America and since 1869 has been known as the only salve powerful enough to reach chronic ulcers and old sores of long standing. Because it is so powerful it often heals burns and scalds without a scar in a remarkably short time.

Allen's Ulcerine Salve heals from the bottom up and draws out the poisons. If applied on new cuts and sores it heals in one-third the time that common salves and liniments take. Sold by The Spencer Pharmacy Co., and other leading druggists.

DOOKS BUMP FORT BILLS IN FINAL GAME OF SERIES

With Kid Boley on Mound Our Side Won By 10-to-5 Count.

Noble Is Unsteady and Is Rendered Poor Support By His Mates.

BY BRUCE.

Darby and his company of players won the final combat of the Fort Bill series by the count of 10 to 5. Kid Boley pill hilled for our side and was pounded frequently but not sequentially. There is a difference. Large Noble slabbed for the visitors and was treated like a stepchild.

Four bubbles upon the part of the visiting troupe did not assist the tall and forlorn-looking pitcher in the dire extremities. Rabbit Weidell, sometimes the best looking shortstop in the league—and sometimes the worst, as in the previous game—contributed two boots to the pastiming.

After Kid Boley had whiffed two in the first round and set the third down on a wee infield offering, we came back in our half and gathered two. With Brown gone Croake walked, Williams was safe on Weidell's boot, Croake moving to third on the play and the chief moving to second on the throw in. Collins lofted to center and Buddy beat the throw to the pan. Truman singled the chief home.

In the second it looked like the doghouse for the kid. It was Boley's one bad round. Five hits were amassed and three runs accumulated. It was great for the hostiles and sad and dreary for the home lovers.

De Rose whiffed and Wines singled to left. Dancy singled over the onion of O'Brien, Weidell Texas leagued to short center, Wines counting. Fusner singled to center and Dancey dusted the plate. Weidell was caught between third and home on the throw in, Fusner moving to second in the mixup. Noble contributed the fifth hit of the round and his battery mate crossed the Rubicon.

Not to be outdone by this lavish outburst of scoring, the Sox came back in the next round and counted four runs. With Wolfe down O'Brien doubled to center. One old fan was taken with apoplexy. Sweeley grounded to first. Boley scored the Dook by swatting swiftly to left. Brown was safe on Wert's error, Boley counting. Croake walked and Williams doubled to center, counting Brown and Bud. Collins grounded out.

In the eighth, a triple by De Rose and an infield out scored one. In the hostile ninth a triple by Durnham and a single by Fusner counted the last of the visitors' runs.

An error by Weidell gave Sweeley a life in the fourth. Bert going to second on the bad chuck. He was wafted home by two wild pitches. In the eighth Wolfe and O'Brien singled and Sweeley doubled, resulting in two runs.

While Boley was hit hard the visitors found the former Pegger an enigma when hits would have metamorphosed into runs. Noble was unsteady and was bumped at opportune times.

Superbas Win Two.

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 3.—Brooklyn won both games of yesterday's doubleheader with Philadelphia, 7 to 2, and 4 to 3. Coombs played an important part in winning the first game, scoring two runs and figuring in a batting rally in the fourth inning. Sherrod Smith returned to the box in the second game after several weeks' layoff, holding the visitors to six hits, three of which were bunts in the first, when an error by O'Mara, with an easy double play, ahead, paved the way for two runs. The hitting of the Brooklyns in both games was hard and timely. Wheat's catches in left field featured the second game. Scores: R. H. E.

Play a Tie.

Boston, Mass., June 3.—New York and Boston played ten innings to a 5-to-5 tie in shivering weather yesterday. The game was called because of darkness. Six New York runners actually crossed the home plate, but one run was lost in an unusual manner. Burns, from third base, had raced for home when Moran caught Doyle's fly. The Boston outfielder threw the ball toward the home plate, but Capt. Doyle of the Giants, intercepted it at first base. It was his contention that the ball was too late to get Burns. The umpire ruled otherwise. Crutcher pitched well for Boston, all of New York's runs being due to errors. The Braves hit Tesreau hard, but were helpless before the pitching of Schauer.

SMOKY JOE WOOD RETURNS TO FORM

JOE WOOD.

It looks as if "Smoky" Joe Wood is the sterling pitcher of old. After the illness of the former American association star the management of the Boston Red Sox had serious doubts as to whether Wood would again prove the slab marvel of old. But the performances of recent date upon the part of "Smoky" Joe have convinced even the most skeptical of his complete recovery of form.

Tigers 4; White Sox 1.

Chicago, June 3.—Tyrus Cobb was responsible for Chicago's defeat yesterday in the final game of the series, Detroit winning over Chicago, 4 to 1. Benz pitched a good game until the seventh, when Cobb singled. He worried Benz until the latter became unsteady and Crawford, Kavanaugh and Young bunched hits, forcing Benz to retire. Cobb added another run for the visitors in the ninth when he singled, stole second and third and scored on a scratch single. Covaleskie pitched a masterly game, the locals bunching three hits off him in the seventh and saving themselves from a shutout.

Chicago .....0000001 00—1 6 2

Browns 4; Spiders 0.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 3.—With Hamilton pitching brilliantly, St. Louis defeated Cleveland 4 to 0 yesterday, the game being stopped by rain at the start of the seventh inning. As the storm continued the second game could not be played. Laven's triple was responsible for three of the St. Louis runs. Score: R. H. E.

Millers Beat Leaders.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 3.—Minneapolis won the opening game of the series from Indianapolis yesterday 4 to 1, largely because of Williams' splendid pitching. He did not allow a hit in the first five innings. Minneapolis bunched hits in the first inning for three runs, taking a safe lead, and was never in danger. Score: R. H. E.

WOLGAST TRIMMED BY LEACH CROSS

Former Champion Outfought But Shows Flashes of Old-Time Form.

New York, June 3.—Leach Cross of New York outfought Ad Wolgast, former lightweight champion in a ten-round bout here last night.

Cross had a decided advantage in every round but the fourth, when Wolgast showed a little of his old-time form and used a left to the body effectively.

In the sixth round, Wolgast floored Cross with a left hook to the jaw, and Cross took a count of eight on one knee while bantering the former champion. Cross, after getting on his feet, came back with a volley of lefts and rights that brought blood gushing from Wolgast's mouth and nose and offset his slight lead. Wolgast continued bleeding during the rest of the bout. Cross weighed 136 and Wolgast 137.

Taylor Defeats Mayer.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 3.—Al Taylor, Milwaukee, yesterday afternoon defeated Joe Mayer, Philadelphia, in the third 300-point block of a 2,400-point 18-2 balk line billiard match. Taylor's high run, 88; average, 16 12-18; Mayer, 34 and 10 8-17.

ORE DIGGERS HIT DULUTH

Virginia and the Dooks Tie Up for Four-Game Series.

O'Brien Is After Two New Pitchers; Doyle Is Here.

Virginia is here today for a four-game series. There have been few changes on the range team from the personnel of last year. Sundheim is managing the team from the shortfield position. Couture is no longer on first, Red McCullach, with Superior several years ago, being in that corner. Fortman, Greisch, Agnew, Brokaw and Wright are former players still with the rangers.

O'Brien, with Jack Doyle in right field, and possibly a change on his infield, will attempt to pull his team out of its present lowly position at the expense of the visitors. Following the present series the Dooks take a short road hike to Fort William and Virginia. The Dook is particularly anxious to get the long end of the present series and get a toe hold for the foreign invasion.

No word has been received from the Toronto management. What O'Brien is after mostly is pitchers. Ray Getty, a New York lad, has written to the Dook and may come out here for a trial. If Blancke comes a large burden of knoll worry will be lifted from the gracefully sloping shoulders of dear Darby.

Owner Blume declares he will continue experimenting until he gets the kind of a team that suits his fancy. Some of the fans are wondering why young "Mickey" McGraw, one of the most promising young ball players ever developed here, is not given a trial.

LINCOLNS UP IN ARMS

School Authorities Claim That They Have Received Unfair Treatment.

Lincoln school authorities today protested to The Herald sport department in no uncertain terms over what is charged as unfair treatment of that team at the hands of the Duluth grade school league head, Lawrence Duby.

It is claimed by the Lincoln school that the grade team representing it has won thirteen out of fourteen games in the Western division and is rightfully entitled to represent that division in the play-off against the Eastern division winner.

Another claim set forth by the Lincoln school authorities, is that the Lincolns never agreed to the playing of the extra series at the close of the pennant race in either division—that this decision upon the part of Mr. Duby was arrived at after the grade league season was nearly half over, and that no statement of this arrangement was ever received by the Lincoln school authorities.

No definite statement has been made by the Lincoln school authorities as to whether the semi-final games will be played against the Adams. One of the heads of the Lincoln school stated today that the Lincolns have defeated the Adams twice, and then asked why more games should be played when the Lincolns are rightfully entitled to the pennant in the Western division of the league.

Interest over the city is intense in regard to the grade baseball race. It is to be hoped that the misunderstanding is arbitrated and that in some manner the situation may be righted to the satisfaction of all concerned.

ILLINOIS BOXING BILL IS HOBBLED

Referendum Vote Necessary Before Clubs May Be Formed.

Springfield, Ill., June 3.—After practically all hope for the passage of a boxing bill at this session of the legislature had been given up, the state senate yesterday passed the Carroll boxing bill by a vote of 28 to 15. As it was passed, the bill contained a clause which would make its provisions inactive in any municipality until it had been adopted at a referendum vote.

The Carroll boxing bill now goes to the house, which recently killed a similar measure which did not contain the referendum clause. When the bill was defeated in the house, several members contended it would force legalized boxing bouts on every community in the state. With the adoption of the referendum feature, friends of the bill hope it will now be passed by the house.

The bill legalizes ten-round no-decision boxing bouts under the supervision of a state athletic commission, composed of three members to be appointed by the governor. It provides that 7½ per cent of the net receipts of all exhibitions be paid to the state. Members of the athletic commission would receive $2,500 a year.

The referendum clause tacked to the bill in the senate unquestionably was the big factor in its passage. Under the referendum the act does not become operative in any city or village of the state until a majority of the voters upon the proposition shall have declared in favor of adopting it.

SEIZE BASEBALL POOL TICKETS IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, Wis., June 3.—Approximately 4,000 tickets of a baseball pool were confiscated yesterday by District Attorney Zabel. The haul is the largest made so far by the district attorney in his campaign against the operating of baseball pools. The tickets were received here by express. They were marked and punched and were ready to be placed into circulation.

"From what we can learn the sale of tickets in baseball pools is a thing of the past in Milwaukee," said Mr. Zabel.

INTEREST AT WHITE HEAT OVER SCHOOL BASEBALL

Teachers Getting Excited Over the Controversy Between Adams and Lincoln Teams; Great Crowd Looked for at Championship Games; Jeffersons Win First Contest From Washingtons.

BY BRUCE.

It all took place in a boarding house—over the coffee and whatever else they have for breakfast at that boarding house. A teacher of the Lincoln school was speaking—perhaps shouting—or at least breaking the matitutinal calm in high notes. "It seems to me," said the excited lady, "that the papers are giving the Adams the best of it. I wonder if one of the sporting editors has a girl out there. The Lincolns certainly do not get a square deal—most certainly not!"

According to information relayed from the coffee and conversation directly to us, the lady made a thin straight line of her lips and looked defiantly at one side and then to the other. No one challenged her—the lads in the trenches never raised their heads.

Young Mr. Duby is also yanked into the vast vortex of enthusiasm that is engulfing the scholastic circles of our city. This grade school baseball championship stuff is growing, swelling to the outlying precincts of sport thought. It's getting good.

A teacher called on young Mr. Duby and protested vigorously against one of the rulings that was made in a recent Adams-Lincoln game. They're on fire out in the West end; rival factions of the Adams and Lincolns are standing on their toes and rooting for disputed points.

Those passing along West Superior street yesterday afternoon might, must have, in fact, been attracted by a fanfare of sounds, a diapason that cracked you on the ear drums and jerked your eyes gingerly in its swelling direction. No band of Indians, dear, nor an explosion at the factory—it was the little pupils of the Lincoln school practicing their school yell for the baseball game.

All In Eager Interest.

You can't blame that teacher for the accusation she made over the coffee. Why a lot of the teachers in a lot of the schools are all "het" up. Teachers, principals, students, fathers and mothers and sisters and brothers of students, and the staid business man are all interested in the coming grade school championship series. It will be great sport—it will drop the vail of time over the present for a mite and drag you back to the past. It will shake up your system a bit—get out and root.

Present plans call for the assembling of the students of all the schools. Sections of the grand stand and bleachers at Athletic park will be assigned to the schools. Each school will have a banner and a cheer leader. It is expected that the assemblage will present a riot of color.

Jeffersons Take Opener.

But one game was played yesterday in the semi-finals of the grade school league games. The doughty Jeffersons defeated the Washingtons by the close score of 13 to 10. There was a big crowd out to witness the contest. If the Jeffersons win the game scheduled at Twelfth avenue east and the Boulevard today, the victory will give the Jeffersons the right to represent the Eastern division of the grade school league in the city grade school championship games.

A dispute prevented the playing of the Adams-Lincoln game yesterday. If the angles of the dispute are smoothed out the game will be played this afternoon on the Thirty-second avenue west grounds. If one of the teams refuses to play off the games to determine the team that will represent the Western division of the grade school league in the title series that team will be eliminated from further consideration, according to the announcement of Lawrence Duby.

No definite date has been announced as yet for the playing of the title series at Athletic park. It is probable that the final game will be played a week from Saturday. Director Duby may decide to play it in the morning. A definite announcement will be made just as soon as possible. It is believed that something like 5,000 persons will be on hand to witness the final game of the school series, so great is the interest in the outcome of the exciting grade school pennant race.

YOUTH BEING SERVED.

Three Young Golf Players Beat Veterans in Missouri Title Play.

St. Louis, Mo., June 3.—Alden B. Swift of St. Joseph, state golf champion, was eliminated from the 1915 championship tournament here yesterday by Andrew McCreery, a local youngster, heretofore referred to as a "dark horse." McCreery, representing the Triple A., here, won 3 up and 2 to play. Equally surprising was the defeat of W. Arthur Stickney, a veteran of the local golf world, by E. R. Morrison of Kansas City, 5 up and 3 to play. A. W. Warren of St. Joseph, Mo., won from Lawson Watts of the Triple A., St. Louis, 1 up.

To make the victory of the younger generation complete, Cy Moore, a local youth, defeated E. A. Jenkins, also of St. Louis, 4 up and 2 to play.

Boston, Mass., June 3.—The sale of Michael McNally, an infielder, to the Providence club of the International league, was announced by the Boston management last night. McNally played with the St. Paul team of the American association last year.

MAPLETON MAN HAS RECOVERED STOLEN CAR

Mapleton, N. D., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Recovering his car and hearing of the arrest of the four youths held responsible for stealing it, was the pleasant news received by A. L. McKinnon of this place. McKinnon and party of friends went to Moorhead to attend a ball game and the car was stolen after being left outside during the game. Two of the boys implicated are from St. Paul. The car was driven by Barnesville, where two boys left the party and the other two went on to Breckenridge.

"BETTER late than never," may be all right for some things; but men think it a shame to let time slip along without their friends getting the comfort of the Real Tobacco Chew. Every day they are telling friends to get started right.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

"Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste."

SCHEDULES FOR JITNEYS

Amendment to Ordinance Introduced By Commissioner Silberstein.

Provides Regular Time and Routes for Public Service Autos.

Hourly schedules and routes are made compulsory in all kinds of weather in an amendment to the jitney ordinance introduced by Commissioner Silberstein at the council meeting last evening. Two more readings are required before it comes up for a final vote.

This amendment was proposed by Commissioner Silberstein at the time the jitney ordinance came up for final passage two weeks ago, but objections by local jitneurs caused the safety head to table the measure.

Schedules Demanded.

Since the passage of the ordinance, the commissioner has been beseiged by Duluthians, asking him to include the original amendment, making hourly schedules and routes compulsory. As a result he introduced it last evening, giving the measure its first reading.

Commissioner Merritt declared that he will vote against the amendment when it comes up for a final vote and he asked the safety head for a copy of the measure. The other commissioners are understood to be in favor of the amendment. It reads as follows:

Text of Amendment.

"Each auto car shall have a fixed route and shall, except when prevented by the necessity of making repairs or other cause rendering it impracticable to do so, regularly traverse said route, running from one end to the other thereof, and also in the reverse direction, making a complete circuit of said route at least once every hour, between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m. Such route shall be indicated on the auto car and also on the license of said car; but may at any time be changed by written permission of the commissioner of public safety."

YEOMEN LODGES INITIATE BIG CLASS

Superior Homestead Captures Flag in Membership Contest.

Duluth and Superior lodges of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen, in a joint meeting at the Maccabee hall last night, witnessed the initiation of sixty-one candidates. There were more than 200 lodge members present.

The meeting was the last of a series of initiations, which have taken place during a contest between lodges of the two cities. About seventy-five new members were secured for the two organizations, Superior homestead winning the contest with forty-one new members.

P. F. Harouff of Duluth presented to the Superior lodge a silk flag as the contest prize. Mrs. Ada L. Garland of Superior accepted it.

After the lodge session light refreshments were served and a short program of dances was given. Music was furnished by the Yeomen orchestra.

It was announced that the annual memorial services of the order would be held in Duluth next Wednesday night. M. E. Louisell will give the chief address.

SCHOOL HEADS WILL MEET

County School Superintendents of State Coming to Duluth June 15.

President Painter Sends Out Letter Giving Basis of Discussion.

County school superintendents of the state will hold their annual convention in Duluth this month. Their organization is known as the Association of County School Superintendents. H. R. Painter of Marshall, Minn., president of the association, yesterday announced the program for the convention which will be held in this city for three days beginning June 15.

The convention will open Tuesday evening, June 15, when the educators will hold a conference with the state superintendent. In connection with this meeting, several laws relative to school work will be discussed. The program for Wednesday is announced as follows:

MORNING.

Paper by the president ..... H. R. Painter.
"State Uniformity of Text Books" .. Supt. Ada P. Conger.
"The Large District" ..... Supt. Annie E. Shelland.
"Normal Work and Course of Study" Supt. A. J. Kittleson.
Discussions .....
All present.
Question box .....
Conducted by Secretary Lue A. Olds.

AFTERNOON.

"The One-Room School" ..... Supt. N. A. Young.
"What Should Follow the Rural School?" ..... Supt. R. E. Denfeld.
Address .....
Supt. H. L. Merrill.

Thursday will be spent on excursion and recreation trips. This may include a trip up the St. Louis river to Fond du Lac and the steel plant, a steamer trip to Two Harbors, an automobile trip over the boulevard and through the city's park system or a trip to the range in autos.

In a circular letter to the county superintendents, Mr. Painter comments upon conditions in the rural schools of the state, declaring that an important work faces the school superintendent. He urges extension work to be conducted by the superintendents.

Extension Work.

"How much extension work should be done by the county school superintendent?" Mr. Painter discusses, among other things. "Is it one extreme to teach only the common branches in the rural school and the other extreme to run a county fair as a side line?

"Some years ago it was the custom among teachers to offer prizes in school to pupils receiving the most head marks, but that was discontinued, partly on the ground that it discouraged the weaker pupils and encouraged the ones that did not need it so much. Does the same apply in county fair work?

"If thousands of our rural children, every year, take a glance at the exhibits of the few who do exhibit, and hurriedly pass on to the excitement of the race track, games of chance, fortune tellers, vulgar dancing, gambling and snake eaters, and we encourage the attendance, are we not making a mistake? If those things exist, they are wrong and we cannot afford to patronize anything wrong. It seems to me that we are not in the show business and should not boost any show at the expense of the children.

Question of Need.

"But they tell us that the people demand these things or they will not attend. The children should be led up against them, some say, that they may choose between good and evil.

"Should we close the schools once in a while and take the children to the saloons and let them taste whisky to show them that whisky is not good? Should immorality be placed on exhibition?

"At county fairs throughout Minnesota last fall, grand processions of beautiful horses, cows, bulls and sheep, all bedecked with blue ribbons, were led past grandstands full of applauding people. Men who had raised good corn, alfalfa or wheat were eulogized by speakers. Again the people applaud and they are right in so doing. Yet in any of these same counties a negro may legally secure a license to marry a white girl and we have the job of educating the offspring. Men, badly afflicted with disease, such as tuberculosis, are legally licensed every year to bring into the world children who are handicapped from the start. These also are placed in our care and we are asked to make the best out of this 'scrub stock,' to use a fair term.

Chance for Instruction.

"Would it be a good plan to ask the domestic science teacher of the local high school to spend a day or two at the fair and show the rural girls some new tricks about sewing and bread-making? Could not the agricultural departments of our schools throughout the state give much practical knowledge of great value to our farm boys, at a course during fair week? And would this not be much better than a 'pike' full of questionable amusements?

"Sentiment among a people is stronger than legislation. It may be created by an educational campaign. Is it out of place for us as educators to bring these things up at this time for consideration?

"There is another thing, connected with our work that is seldom if ever mentioned at our meetings and I will simply mention it for the benefit of the newly elected members. When making a school visit, we should not overlook a filthy outbuilding in which a child may get more poison into his mind in five minutes than a good teacher can erase in five months."

SHORT-HORNS FOR THE FRISCO SHOW

Two-Fifths of the Cattle Are Selected From Minnesota.

St. Paul, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two-fifths of the Shorthorn cattle at the Frisco exposition, selected with great care by the American Shorthorn Breeders' association from the most noted herds throughout the country, are to be from Minnesota. Such is the regard of American Shorthorn specialists for the high standard of breeding in Minnesota.

Two bulls, Bishop, a 2-year-old, and Archer Mine, a senior yearling, have been chosen from the herd of S. G. Eliason of Montevideo. Two junior yearling bulls have been picked from the herd of C. B. Grimes of Winnebago. Two females, a heifer which the American Shorthorn Breeders' association may send to Uruguay, South America, after the exposition, and a cow with calf at foot, have been selected from the herd of O. F. Henkel of Kenyon.

Of the remainder of the Frisco herd three are from Kentucky, one from Iowa, one from Wisconsin, one from Nebraska, and one from Oklahoma. Several other animals are to be chosen. The Minnesota cattle were picked out by Frank Smith of St. Cloud, part owner of the noted Shorthorn herd formerly shown by Smith & White, and representative for the American Shorthorn Breeders' association.

There are more cattle of Shorthorn breed in America than of any other breed.

"FRAMERS OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE U.S.A." NO. 5

Benjamin Franklin—"Father of American Diplomacy"

AMERICA has never produced a greater statesman than Franklin, who was revered by the people second only to Washington. He was a signer of both the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States, and his wisdom made the latter a possibility. The great Lord Chatham pronounced him not only an honor to the Anglo-Saxon people but to human nature. In every capitol of Europe he was a welcome guest, and he it was who induced France to lend us ships, men and money during the darkest days of the Revolution. Upon his death Congress ordered a general mourning of a month. In France it was decreed that all members of the national assembly should wear mourning for three days. So long as Americans treasure the Republic and Personal Liberty as the noblest of all human blessings, the fame of Franklin can never perish. Personally he was possessed of robust health; he was a well-shaped man, of a wise but merry nature; he had the head of a Greek philosopher, while his grace, his noble bearing and winning personality made him a conspicuous figure in any assemblage of great men. He was a moderate user all his lifetime of Old Madeira and barley-malt brews. It is safe to say that he toasted the New Republic with every great man of Europe and America. Franklin considered his work in building the Constitution his greatest service to posterity. Upon the self-evident declaration of the Constitution of the United States Anheuser-Busch 58 years ago launched their gigantic institution. To-day, wherever Americans go for health, or business, or pleasure, their famed brand BUDWEISER is there. Its popularity, due to its quality, purity, mildness and exquisite flavor, has daily grown in public favor until 7500 people are constantly employed to keep pace with the ever-increasing demand. When in St. Louis visit the home of BUDWEISER.

$5,450 Per Day

Spent to Fortify Goodyear Tires

Our experts say: "If Goodyear tires were built like some others, our saving would be $1,635,000 per year—$5,450 per day."

The difference would hardly be visible when the tire is complete. But it would probably cost our users a million dollars monthly.

Better Still

But, instead of skimping Goodyear tires, we are building them better still.

Goodyear Fortified tires, for many years, have embodied five costly features exclusive to these tires. We still employ them all.

We spend on experts $100,000 yearly to find new betterments to add. In the past year alone we have added improvements which cost us exceeding $500,000 per year.

Lower Prices

Yet Goodyear prices are constantly coming down. Our last big reduction—on February 1st—made three in two years, totaling 45%.

In view of those facts, don't you think it worth while to get Goodyears? Most men do. Goodyears have long outsold any other tire. They are selling now much faster than we can build them. Any dealer will supply you.

MORE COARSE GRAINS SOWN

State Immigration Bureau Crop Reports Show Encouraging Conditions.

Prosperity and Optimism Chief Characteristics of News From All Quarters.

Notwithstanding the heavy, cold rains during the month of May, crop reports which began arriving at the state board of immigration are very optimistic and nearly all the reporters say that crops are in good shape and prospects are good. The following are the reports up to date:

Murray County—Increased acreage of corn and oats; decrease in barley and flax. Berries and fruit injured some by May frost. Small grains never looked better, but need sunshine. Too much rain. Farmers are feeling good and buying automobiles. Money is easy, business is fair. Bert I. Weld, reporter.

Red Lake County—Fifty-per-cent increase in corn acreage and slight increase in all other crops. Late frost injured the small fruit. Small grain of all kinds doing nicely. Corn backward. May has been rather cold; this weather has been favorable for all small grains. V. M. Higinbotham, reporter.

Wadena County—Increase in acreage of corn, oats, wheat; balance of crops the same. Fruit injured by frost. Prospects for crops are good. Roads in fair condition considering recent rains. Asher Murray, reporter.

Lots of Hogs and Money.

Douglas County—Prospects for fruit good. Frost did but very little damage. Pastures in splendid condition. Too much rain. No farm help needed. Farmers are happy and prosperous. Large dairy interests and lots of hogs and money. E. R. Ruggles, reporter.

Houston County—A decided increase in corn acreage. Apples extra good; plums and berries about one-half crop. Small grain of all kinds doing well. Corn backward on account of cold, wet weather. C. H. Murphy, reporter.

Pipestone County—Slight increase in corn acreage; decrease in barley, balance of crop about the same as last year. Prospects for fruit fair, but was injured some by frost. Prospects for all other crops are fair. Too much rain. No farm help needed at present. I. L. Demarray, reporter.

Martin County—Twenty per cent increase in corn and potato acreage and balance of crops the same. Prospects for small fruit never better, but cannot stand much more rain. Roads in bad shape. Increase in acreage of this county is accounted for by extensive drainage operation. Frank Day, reporter.

Enough Rain.

Todd County — Increase in acreage of corn and rye; slight decrease in oats and barley; balance of crops the same. Fruit looks fair; was injured by frost. Prospects for other crops are good. No more rain, please. Raymond Lee, reporter.

Ottertail County — Increase in corn and flax acreage; slight decrease in hay. Fruit injured by frost. All other crops look very good. In general this should be a banner year, both in farming and other branches of business. C. R. Wright, reporter.

Traverse County—Increase in acreage of corn, potatoes, hay wheat and barley; balance of crops the same. Prospects for all fruits are very good. Some may have been slightly injured by cold, heavy rains. Crop prospects never were better. In the eastern portion of the county, owing to heavy spring rains, there is a slight decrease in acreage, but what is planted is good. Too much rain. No farm help needed at present. Owing to too much rain, some of the crops are a little later than ordinarily but coming along in fine shape. Corn acreage is not increased as much as it would have been if rain would not have prevented farmers from putting in same in time. Victor E. Anderson, reporter.

Hennepin County — Increase in corn and barley; decrease in potatoes and wheat. No flax raised in this county. Currants and gooseberries suffered severely from the frost. Apples and plums promise a fair crop. Prospects are good for a big crop this year. No more rain needed at present. The rainy spell delayed corn planting a week or ten days and about 30 per cent is yet to be planted. Good weather in June will pull it through. W. H. Hegerle, reporter.

Pastures Prime.

Polk County—Increase in acreage of corn, wheat and oats; slight decrease in barley; balance of crops the same as last year. Prospects for all crops are good. Pastures in splendid condition. No more rain needed. Farm help not needed just now. A. D. Stephens, reporter.

Wilkin County—Increase in acreage of corn, potatoes, rye, barley, oats and wheat; other crops the same. Prospects for fruit crop were fine, but have been unable to learn how much damage the frost did. Prospects for all crops are good. Too much rain. No farm help needed. May has been a little too cold and damp for best results for corn, but grain has rooted and started fine. George Burrows, reporter.

Brown County — Acreage about the same for all crops with a slight increase in the corn acreage. Some of the fruit trees were slightly frozen, but not much harm done. Berries will be plentiful. Weather too cold to give corn a good start. Small grain prospects are good. Everything fine, but corn is a little backward. H. C. Domeier, reporter.

Lincoln County—Increase in acreage of corn and oats; other crops about the same. Frost did some damage to the fruit. Prospects for all grain is good, excepting corn, which is a little backward. T. P. Hermanson, reporter.

GRAND JURY HAS FINISHED LABORS

Chisholm Pair Indicted for Attempting to Kill Tom Shaw.

Hibbing, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Only five indictments were returned by the grand jury, which made its report and was subsequently dismissed last night. Two of the indictments made public are against Elahi Bakhosh and Hady Aday of Chisholm, who are charged with trying to kill Tom Shaw at that place April 21. They are said to have shot him and hit him with a blunt instrument. These two are also charged with carrying concealed weapons.

The grand jury failed to fine a true bill against B. E. Culver, village recorder of Chisholm, on the charge of violating the corrupt practices act in the last election. After witnesses called by the state had testified before the grand jury, Culver was invited before the grand jury and he testified briefly, after which a no true bill was voted and the incident that has been widely discussed in Chisholm was ended.

No Petit Jury Cases.

All the petit jury cases set for today have been settled. The cases of Matt Knajis vs. Joe Roje and Jessie Grant vs. D. C. Hackett et al are set for tomorrow.

The indications are that the June term will be one of the lightest held here for several years.

CHISHOLM COUNCIL IS AGAINST BONDING

Motion to Submit Half Million Dollar Proposition Is Defeated.

Chisholm, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—A resolution introduced at the special session of the village council yesterday afternoon by Trustee Mahne to submit to the people the question of issuing $500,000 in bonds to pick up outstanding indebtedness was defeated 3 to 2, Fugere, Culver and Ulrich voting nay and Graham and Mahne yea.

Before the vote, Trustees Graham and Mahne delivered impassioned speeches intimating that mining companies controlled the council and that the wishes of the people were ignored.

Both Culver and Fugere contended the method of picking up the indebtedness would be attended to in time, but these only irritated the two minority members.

An amendment to ordinance No. 47 proposed by Culver fixing the license fee for merry-go-rounds at $10 per day or $250 per year was adopted after several sharp verbal passages, 3 to 2, by the same vote as the bonding question was defeated.

Pine City Delegates.

Appointment of delegates to the state firemen's convention at Pine City in an endeavor to retain the village as the convention city for 1916 was made as follows: George Nitch, Henry Fugere, Joe Austin, Alger Syme, R. M. Heskett, Ernest Drews, F. M. Andrews, Morris Peck, Gust Anderson and D. J. Harrington. Expense money of $40 per man was allowed to each man, excepting George Nitch and Joe Austin, who each receive $75.

The purchasing committee was instructed to procure a hand grass seeder.

Rails were ordered placed around the boulevard to keep people from falling off the road.

Attorney George Trask appeared in behalf of some Italian saloon keepers to object to the granting of a liquor license transfer from Albert Maninen to John Fane, the grounds being that to grant the transfer would cause too much competition among the Italian saloon keepers. Attorney Joseph Austin, on behalf of the applicant, said that Fane was a long resident in the village, that he was a city and property owner and of excellent reputation. A motion by Trustee Ulrich to grant the license was lost for want of support. After a lengthy discussion, the matter was laid on the table until the next regular meeting.

Postmaster Harrington asked that sidewalks be laid on certain streets as required by postal laws before mail can be delivered.

Village Attorney Syme was instructed to settle the claim of John Eidvicick for personal injuries sustained by falling into an open water main after affidavits of three competent doctors had been obtained.

A petition to have Washington addition annexed to the village was referred to the village attorney.

A petition for alleys and grading of streets in Carlin addition was received and referred to the streets and sewers committee.

EVELETHIANS TO KEEP OPEN HOUSE

Range City All Ready for Coming of Eagles of State.

Eveleth, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eveleth is ready for the Eagles' state convention next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. From the arrival of the first trainload of delegates there will be music in plenty.

Mayor Jacob Saari will welcome the Eagles when the convention is called to order Tuesday at 11 o'clock a. m. in the auditorium.

Special features of the three days will be the tour of the mines Tuesday afternoon, public session and dance at the auditorium Tuesday evening, "Mulligan" at Lake park Wednesday afternoon, parade and fireworks display Wednesday night. The sports committee has provided an excellent program which includes two ball games. The first will be played Tuesday afternoon between the Virginia and Superior Northern league teams. Wednesday afternoon the teams of Hibbing and Chisholm are scheduled to play.

City Well Decorated.

The city will be suitably decorated for the convention. The council has appropriated sufficient funds to deck the downtown streets out in gala attire. The Mesaba Railway company will assist by decorating Adams avenue where the trolley line passes. The fireworks display Wednesday evening will be the finest ever shown in the city.

Wednesday afternoon will probably be the biggest day of the convention. Mayor Jacob S. Saari has proclaimed a holiday for the afternoon and nearly all of the business houses of the city will close.

RECORDER HALEY WILL PAY ORDERS

Hibbing Official Expects to Have Substantial Balance Soon.

Hibbing, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—No alarm need be felt by those holding village orders because of the refusal of the mining interests to pay their taxes here, according to Recorder D. D. Haley, who declared today that before June 15 his department alone will have at its disposal $60,000 for a reserve fund.

A statement is now being prepared by village officials to show that the expenditures made in Alice and Brooklyn additions for civic improvements are greater than those made in Hibbing proper, where the "white way" and pavements were constructed.

Favor Water System.

Statements have been made by mining officials here to the effect that besides taking care of the schools in Hibbing the mining interests will continue to finance the new water system which is being constructed by Layne & Bowler company of Houston, Tex.

This contract was for $400,000 following the recommendations of mining companies that this be done.

VIRGINIA READY FOR ITS VISITORS

Plans About Perfected for Entertaining Governor and Solons.

Virginia, Minn., June 3.—Senator Griggs, chairman of the committee on the entertainment here of Governor Hammond, state senators and others who are to make a visit over the range the latter part of next week, has returned from Cloquet, where he has been the guest of Senator Vibert for several days, and where final arrangements were made for the entertainment of the visiting delegation.

It is already assured that the party will include about 200 people. After it has visited the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association at Coleraine and Hibbing, the party will come to Virginia, where it will spend the evening of Saturday, June 12. Senator Griggs has made a trip to Aurora, Gilbert, Biwabik and other east range towns where arrangements are being made for the people of these cities to be Virginia's guests while the state party is here.

GOOSEBERRY BUSH IS NOW CAUSING TROUBLE

Eveleth, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—A garden and row of gooseberry bushes threaten to disrupt the plans of the Eveleth street commission. John Pope is the owner of the gooseberry bushes, which, according to a line run by City Engineer O. M. Dorway are on land which extends three feet into the alley between Fayal road and Pierce street. Mr. Pope objects to having his gooseberry bushes moved at this time and his garden damaged. The street commissioner is all ready to grade the alley and put in a curb. The city will offer to move the shrubs and fence and pay Mr. Pope for the damage done.

DULUTHIANS GET FISH.

Tower, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—M. J. Murphy, Sam Gibson, Robert Johnson and John Pfeffer of Duluth, and P. H. Prize of Virginia, arrived here in the former's car Monday, and left for a few days' fishing on the lake, making headquarters at the Maynie Murphy bungalow of Emerald isle. The party returned yesterday with their full quota of fish, quite enthusiastic over the excellent fishing. Messrs. Murphy and Pfleffer spent their boyhood days here, and this is the first fishing trip they have enjoyed for some time. The party left yesterday afternoon on the return trip, planning to spend a short time in Virginia before proceeding to Duluth.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Thorpe and son, James, of Virginia, accompanied by their nephew, F. Thorpe and wife of Chicago, spent the past few days enjoying Lake Vermilion, most of the time being spent at Hunter's lodge at Vermilion Falls. They returned to Virginia yesterday.

Teachers Get Bad News.

Ely, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Misses Agnes and May Prator, local teachers, received word yesterday of the sudden death of their father at Arcadia, Wis., and left yesterday noon for home.

Don't Ever Rub Your Eyes

Use "Benetol" as an Eye Wash. Not Only Soothing and Cleansing, But Kills Every Germ That May Have Been Blown or Rubbed In.

The hands or gloves collect untold billions of germs. Some may be harmless, others dangerously poisonous when brought into contact with the eyeball or eyelids. When you come home from auto riding and your eyes burn from the dust and wind—or when they smart from any cause—don't rub them. Give them a cooling, healing bath with a mild solution of "Benetol."

Soothing, Cleansing, Antiseptic.

This is only one of hundreds of uses for this wonderful antiseptic and germicide. The sooner you learn of this most remarkable preparation, the better will be your health and general welfare.

As a gargle it cures sore throat, as a mouth wash it keeps the teeth free from tartar, cures pyorrhea and keeps the gums healthy and free from disease, as a nasal cleanser it cures catarrhal conditions, applied to cuts and burns it heals and makes infection impossible, and taken internally it keeps the bowels, kidneys and liver pure, sterilized and free from germ life.

For children and grown-ups it is alike harmless both internally and externally, yet as a destroyer of disease germs is more powerful than even pure carbolic acid.

Never before in the history of medicine has such a preparation been known. "Benetol" is sold by druggists in 25c, 50c and $1.00 packages. Send for our trial assortment of "Benetol" liquid, ointment and tooth cream.

This trial assortment is not to be had from stores and is sent direct on receipt of 10 cents (silver or stamps) only to those who have never tried "Benetol."

Made only by the Benetol Company, 130 Benetol building, Minneapolis, Minn.

Sold, recommended and guaranteed in Duluth by all druggists and leading drug stores everywhere.

UNITED STATES STEEL CORPORATION NEED NOT BE DISSOLVED

the lowest one 63 per cent, the highest 3,700 per cent.

With the completing of the Erie canal, Lake Superior ores can be brought cheaper to New York harbor than to Pittsburgh.

This means, the opinion says, blast furnaces on New York harbor waters. On the basis of the actual iron units in ore, Cuban ores can be delivered in Philadelphia at one-half the cost of Lake Superior.

No Monopoly in Lake Superior Ore.

Facts and figures show that there is no possibility of a Lake Superior ore monopoly.

The Cambria Steel company president, the opinion said, showed that the United States Steel corporation could not put it out of business.

James R. Garfield, former secretary of commerce, according to the opinion, showed the Steel corporation got no freight rebates.

There were two opinions filed in the case. Judge Buffington wrote the opinion which was concurred in by the other three judges. Judge Woolley also wrote an opinion, coinciding with the views of Judge Buffington, and this latter opinion was concurred in by Judge Hunt, now sitting in the United States court in New York City.

No Monopoly of Field.

Other points in the decision are:

"The field of business enterprise in the steel business is as open to, and being as fully filled by, the competitors of the Steel corporation as it is by that company.

"No testimony has been produced in this record that a return to the old trade war system of ruinous competition would, as a matter of fact, benefit the public interests."

"The business of both the competitors and the Steel company has increased very largely, but it is highly suggestive, indeed, conclusive proof, that the Steel company had neither monopolistic control or power to restrain trade since the proportion of trade increases was very materially greater on the part of the Steel corporation's competitors than its own.

Mere Size Not Monopoly.

"These significant figures prove that mere size or bigness of business is not necessarily a monopoly of business at the expense of all others engaged in it.

"Success and magnitude of business, the rewards of fair and honorable endeavor, were not among the evils that threatened the public welfare and attracted the attention of congress. But when they had been attained by wrongful and unlawful methods, and competition had been crippled or destroyed, the elements of monopoly are present.

"Foreign trade is not a mere general, theoretical abstraction of selling abroad, but is a concrete, definite, commercial business proposition in iron and steel.

"In considering the possible range of foreign steel markets for American iron and steel there first must be excluded from that market Germany, France, Austria, Italy and Russia. The proof is that the tariff of each of these countries prevents the sale there of American iron and steel.

"Foreign markets are pre-empted and tenaciously held by foreign manufacturers, foreign merchants and foreign bankers who refuse to finance important enterprises there unless there is a stipulation that all materials should be bought in such banks' own country.

"Thirty million dollars of the Steel corporation's $101,000,000 foreign trade is done jointly with 158 other American manufacturers.

Not Violation of Law.

"If the two-fold purpose of the Sherman act is to foster and protect trade, both foreign and interstate, and if foreign trade cannot be increased without some such mechanically varied and financially strong agency as the Steel corporation, then manifestly such agency is not a violation of a statute whose purpose was to permit—not to prevent—the normal, natural and to be desired development of unrestrained, unmonopolized trade, both foreign and domestic.

The Vital Question.

"In taking up this question we dismiss once and for all the question of mere volume of business. The question before us is not how much business was done or how large the company that did it, the vital question is how was the business, whether big or little, done; was it, in the test of the supreme court, done by prejudicial to the public interests, by unduly restricting or unduly obstructing trade? The question is one of undue restriction or obstruction and not of undue volume of trade.

"If mere size were the test of monopoly and trade restraint we have not one but a dozen unlawful monopolies in the large department stores of a single city.

"A study of these proofs satisfied us that the United States Steel corporation could not have been formed unless the minds of two men had united in a common purpose. These two men were J. Pierpont Morgan and Andrew Carnegie.

Carnegie's Sole Purpose.

"There is no proof whatever that Mr. Carnegie accepted any other relation than that of a seller of his stocks and bonds in his own company, and the statement in his answer that his sole motive in agreeing to a sale of the property of the Carnegie Steel company to the United States Steel company was his desire to retire from the hazards and responsibility of active business and since such sale he has had no connection with the business, is true."

History of Suit.

The suit against the United States Steel corporation was filed at Trenton, N. J., Oct. 26, 1911, during the Taft administration and was started by George W. Wickersham, who was attorney general at the time. Prior to the filing of the action, the corporation had been under investigation several times. The Federal bureau of corporations under different administrations delved into the operations of the concern and a congrssional committee headed by Representative A. O. Stanley of Kentucky, investigated the alleged trust. In preparing the case for action the department of justice had the benefit of all these investigations.

The testimony, exhibits, briefs and written and oral arguments were exceedingly voluminous. The examiner in the case sat 166 days in nine different cities and heard 490 witnesses. The testimony made up 56 volumes, containing 15,900 printed pages. There were more than 1,750 pages of printed arguments aside from the voluminous answers filed by the many defendants, and the oral arguments filled more than 1,800 typewritten pages.

The defendants named and the original bill of complaint were the steel corporation, its subsidiaries, and J. P. Morgan (deceased), Charles Steele, George W. Perkins, E. H. Gary, Charles M. Schwab, Andrew Carnegie, Henry C. Frick, James Gayley, William H. Moore, J. H. Moore, Edmund C. Converse, Percival Roberts, Jr., Daniel G. Reid, Norman B. Ream, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., P. A. B. Widener and William P. Palmer, past or present directors of the steel corporation, together with certain companies known as the James J. Hill interests, and Louis W. Hill, James J. Hill, Walter J. Hill, Edward T. Nichols, J. H. Gruber, who were sued as trustees of the Hill companies.

The General Charge.

In brief the general charge against the defendants was that some of the companies in themselves, were combinations in restraint of trade and that the creation of the steel corporation, which took in the steel and certain other companies named in the suit, was "an attempt to monopolize and a monopolization" in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The Hill ore companies were involved in the suit by reason of the fact that the Steel corporation leased the ore deposits held by the ore companies, the government alleging that this lease gave the corporation a monopoly of the ore supply of the United States. This lease was canceled after the suit was filed.

The government's complaint stated that the Federal Steel company, Carnegie company of New Jersey, American Steel & Wire company of New Jersey, National Tube company, National Steel company, American Tin Plate company, American Steel Hoop company, and American Steel Steel company were each a combination of companies or concerns in restraint of trade; that competition was largely eliminated in their respective lines; that at the time the United States Steel corporation was formed the Carnegie, Federal and National were in active competition with each other that several of the companies were preparing to still further increase their capacity to compete by establishing themselves along new lines of manufacture and that for these reasons and for the general purpose of suppressing competition and controlling trade and commerce the United States Steel corporation was formed by the directors named in the suit, all of whom except the Rockefellers had been variously connected with one or more of the companies.

Capitalization Excessive.

The government further stated that the Steel corporation's capitalization aggregated $1,402,846,817; that this capitalization was not less than $600,000,000 in excess of the value of the properties taken over; that the earnings were not commensurate with its actual capital, nor were they entirely the legitimate fruits of the earning capacity of the properties acquired, separately controlled, but were largely the result of power exerted over trade by such a vast combination.

It was further charged by the government that many millions of dollars were issued for mere promotion and underwriting, the petition stating that Morgan & Co. and the syndicate it represented receiving $25,000,000 in cash and their expenses, services and risks, and $129,998,768 of stock of the corporation.

The Steel corporation acquired works, the petition stated, with an annual capacity ranging from about 60 to 82 per cent of the country's production, with the exception of pigiron, spiegel and ferro, which was 43.2 per cent.

The petition also charged that subsequent to the formation of the corporation numerous companies were absorbed to suppress competition, including the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad company, which was acquired during the money panic of 1907.

Ore Ownership.

By the acquisition from the Rockefellers of the Lake Superior Consolidated Iron Mines and allied transportation companies for more than $56,000,000; the leasing of the Hill ore deposits and the absorption of the Tennessee company with its large ore holdings, the government charged the Steel corporation achieved a commanding position over its competitors in the matter of ore ownership and transportation, and that through the acquisition of the C. W. & C. Frick Coke company it controlled large areas of the best coking coal lands in Western Pennsylvania.

The petition further said:

"It controls over 180 companies. From the time of its organization down to near the time of the filing of the petition, it, by the participation of various of its subsidiaries in unlawful pools, agreements, associations, meetings, and undertakings, and from time to time, and over long periods of time, helped to control and maintain prices of various steel products artificially, thereby subjecting the public to unlawful tribute.

"Through the interlocking directorates it achieved and has maintained a power to exercise vast influence over the commercial and financial affairs of the country and thereby advance its interests to the detriment of its competitors. Thirteen of its directors were variously directors in trust companies, banks, railroad companies and other large consumers of steel products."

Asked for Division.

The government alleged that the corporation, as well as the formation of several of its subsidiaries, were in contravention of the law and urged that several of them be divided and placed under separate control, with no stockholders in common, and with the result that no person or company should control works whose production exceeds a percentage to be fixed by the court of the country's entire production. The maximum production suggested was 10 per cent.

Separation both from the corporation and from each other of its ore-carrying railroads and the divorce of the Tennessee Coal & Iron company were included in the requests.

The government asked also that Andrek Carnegie be adjudged a party to "the unlawful combination," and to rule that he "took the bonds of the corporation with all the infirmities attaching to such participation."

A receiver was also asked to take over all the dissolved properties and to recover from the syndicate subscribers and promoters "the difference between the par value of the stock received by them and the cash value of the properties or services given heretofore, in order that restitution, so far as possible be made to the other stockholders."

Only one of the three judges who were on the bench when the suit was filed figured in the decision, Judge William Lanning having died and Judge George Gray having retired from judicial life. When the case came up for final argument in Philadelphia in October, 1914, it was heard by Judges Buffington, McPherson, who succeeded Judge Lanning; Woolley, appointed in Judge Gray's place, and Hunt, who was called in to sit on the case. The argument consumed eight days.

CHRONOLOGY OF SUIT.

Oct. 2.—Steel suit filed at Trenton, N. J.

1912.

Jan. 29—Land and iron ore companies file answer at Trenton denying charges.

Feb. 1—Answers of Steel corporation and subsidiaries filed at Trenton denying charges.

Feb. 6 — Injunction proceedings started at Trenton against Steel corporation and subsidiaries to prevent the destruction of books, papers, etc., wanted by the government for evidence.

Feb. 16—Judge William M. Lanning, who figured in the preliminary proceedings, died at Trenton.

Feb. 29—Government filed replications at Trenton to answers of defendants in which it reaffirmed charges and said defendants' answers were evasive, uncertain and insufficient.

March 5—Injunction proceedings to make temporary injunction permanent in case of alleged destruction of papers was postponed on account of vacancy on bench due to Judge Lanning's death. Appointment of examiner to take testimony also postponed for the same reason.

March 7—Steel corporation files answer denying government's allegations of the destruction of certain papers.

April 22—Judge John B. McPherson having been appointed to Lanning's place, argument was heard at Philadelphia by Judges Gray, Buffington and McPherson on the injunction proceedings.

May 9—Judges Gray, Buffington and McPherson dismiss application for permanent injunction against Steel corporation and subsidiaries to restrain them from destroying papers except in the case of the American Steel & Wire company, which was restrained because it had already destroyed certain papers that had figured in an alleged wire pool prosecution in the Federal courts at New York. John A. Brown appointed special examiner by Henry P. Brown, who had the power to make the appointment.

June 21—Hearings suspended for the summer.

Oct. 1—Hearings resumed in Pittsburgh.

Nov. 19—After recess over presidential election, hearing resumed in Washington, D. C., to examine government experts.

Nov. 22—Hearing in Washington adjourned.

Dec. 17—One-day hearing held in Philadelphia.

1913.

Jan. 22—Hearings resumed in New York. Among witnesses was William E. Corey, former president of the company.

Jan. 30.—Government closed its case, reserving right to call other witnesses.

Feb. 28.—Hearing in New York with James Gayley, former vice president on the stand.

June 25.—Hearings suspended for the summer.

Oct. 1.—Hearings resumed in New York.

Dec. 5—United States circuit court of appeals refused application to limit time given defense to present evidence to Dec. 23, 1913.

1914.

Dec.-Jan.—Hearings held in Southern cities and in Middle West.

Feb. 20—Defense closed in New York, both sides reserving right to present further testimony.

March 3—Government asked United States district court in Philadelphia to fix date for final argument.

March 30—Taking of testimony closed in New York.

Oct. 20-29—Final argument heard in Philadelphia.

Don't Stay Gray

Tint your hair to the shade desired with "Brownatone." This new preparation is far superior to any mixture that contains henna, sulphur, silver, lead or similar preparations.

There is no danger of an itching or poisoned scalp when you use "Brownatone," for this simple preparation positively contains no lead, mercury, silver, sulphur, zinc, aniline, coal tar products or their derivatives. You just brush or comb it into the hair and presto!—your gray hairs instantly disappear—your hair is a beautiful and uniform color throughout—the ends are as dark as the balance and you have any shade desired from a light brown to a black. Just a moment's "touching up" once a month and no one can ever detect it.

No rubbing, or washing off—no fading.

Prepared in two shades—one to produce golden or medium brown, the other, dark brown or black. Two sizes—25 cents and $1.00.

"Complexion Secrets of An Actress"

In a recently issued volume bearing the above title, the author says: "Continuous use of grease paints, rouge and the like, had ruined my complexion. My skin was colorless, wrinkled, coarse and punctured with large pores. In England I heard of the virtues of mercolized wax; my first experience with this marvelous substance convinced me it was more valuable than all cosmetics combined. Now whenever my complexion begins to go wrong I get an ounce of mercolized wax at the nearest drug store, spread on a thin layer of it before retiring, washing it off next morning. The wax, after a few such treatments, seems literally to absorb the worn-out cuticle, when a brighter, healthier, younger-looking skin appears.

"For the wrinkles and enlarged pores I began using a solution of saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in a half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in this every day for a while soon relieved the condition most wonderfully." —Advertisement.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

PARTLY CLOUDY.

Mr. Richardson is really to be commended for the splendid weather he has been according Duluth these days, and past offenses may just as well be forgotten. What next, May, anyway — merely a passing month — and a glorious April preceded it. And now June is behaving beautifully. Every Duluthian is willing to give what assistance is possible to help Mr. Richardson make the month unanimous in the way of this kind of weather continuing.

Rain fell a year ago today. The sun rose this morning at 4:15 and will set this evening at 7:56, giving fifteen hours and forty-one minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Showers fell during Wednesday or last night over Eastern states, the middle West, Rocky mountains and extreme Northwest. Heavy rain fell at Edmonton, Alberta, Lander, Wyo., and Washington, D. C. Heavy frost occurred at Salt Lake City. Cooler weather prevails in middle Atlantic states and the Rocky mountain region, while over the Mississippi valley and the Southwest the temperature has risen somewhat."

General Forecasts.

RELIEF SUPPLIES ARE DISTRIBUTED

Carload Reaches Monterey, Mex., and Is Being Sold to People.

Washington, June 3.—Distribution of American Red Cross relief supplies has begun in Monterey, Mex. Consul General Hanna today reported that one car of corn, one car of beans, and a car of flour had arrived. The people are not allowed to buy more than two or three pounds of either at one time.

The Red Cross will push on supplies to other interior points as transportation facilities are restored.

An appeal to the Red Cross from the International relief committee in Mexico City, sent through the Brazilian minister there was made public here today, it follows:

"We appeal for starving Mexico. Government supplies nearly exhausted; no prospect of relief. Conditions of disorder, lack of seed, men and animals, and insecurity of harvest prevent planting. Situation in this city desperate on account of shortage of food and medical supplies. Regular railway service between city and border, Aguas Calientes, and the coast, suspended since February. Imperative need everywhere is corn. Also urgently require beans, flour and medicine. Only hope is from United States. We are doing all possible, but resources entirely inadequate."

FORMER PRESIDENT TALKS AT BRYN MAWR

Philadelphia, June 3.—Former President W. H. Taft was the orator today at the commencement exercises at Bryn Mawr college. The occasion was of especial interest to him as his daughter, Helen, was one of the graduates. She received the degree of bachelor of arts.

The former president in his oration spoke on international peace.

UNABLE TO IDENTIFY ALLEGED WOMAN SPY

Chicago, June 3.—Inquiry in musical circles today failed to find any one who could identify as a Chicagoan Isabelle Wade, who, according to a dispatch from Milan, Italy, yesterday, has been arrested by the Italian authorities as the accomplice of a spy.

The cablegram identified the woman as a "singer of Chicago," but the Italian officials claim to have noted that she spoke with a German accent.

PRICE OF BREAD IS TO BE REDUCED IN BERLIN.

Berlin, via London, June 3.—As an indication that Germany's flour supply is not insufficient the authorities have announced that the prices of various kinds of bread will be reduced all over greater Berlin June 7, beginning on the same date the baking of small loaves from white flour again will be permitted.

KING WOULD ACT AS INTERMEDIARY

Paris, June 3.—King Victor Emmanuel of Italy has offered his services as an intermediary in the adjustment of territorial questions which have arisen between Russia and Roumania, according to the Milan Secolo.

Roumania is believed to be exchanging notes with Russia as to what territory is to be hers if she joins the allies. She is credited with desiring Transylvania, which is the eastern part of Hungary, as well as the Austrian crownland of Bukowina. The extent of the promised grants to her has apparently not yet been arranged.

INHERITED NERVOUSNESS

The causes of nervous disorders are of two kinds, predisposing and exciting. Heredity is a predisposing cause. A nervous parent is very liable to have a nervous child. But even with this predisposition the child will not necessarily develop any form of nervous disease without an exciting cause. It may not develop during childhood at all but throughout life a person with an inherited predisposition to nervousness is an easier victim of all forms of nervous disorders than one without it.

Worry, overwork, overstudy and excesses of all kinds are exciting causes and should be avoided by those who know themselves to have inherited a nervous disposition. Thin blood and a general run-down condition of the system are also to be avoided by such people. Be moderate in everything, avoid worry, keep the blood rich and red and the general health built up with a non-alcoholic tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and avoid a nervous breakdown.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a general tonic with a special action on the nerves and relieve and correct many forms of nervous trouble. Your own druggist sells them. Write today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free booklet, "Nervous Disorders, A Method of Home Treatment."

GOOD UPTURN IN MARKETS

Wheat Advances, With Inquiry From Exporters and Short Covering.

Flaxseed Bulges on Urgent Bidding By Crushers—Offerings Limited.

Duluth Board of Trade, June 3.—The market was strong around the close, with good buying.

July wheat closed 2¼c up, September ¾c up and December ⅜c up. July durum closed 1½c up and September unchanged.

Oats closed ⅜c up at 48¼c for on the track; rye, 2c off at $1.11@1.12, and barley 1c off at from 63@72c.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at $1.35½, and calls at $1.41¾ bid.

A reaction appeared in the wheat market today as a result of short-covering and reported better millers' inquiry. Advances extending to nearly 2c were recorded in the July future. The firmer situation came in the face too of lower Liverpool cables and better crop reports from over the winter wheat territory. The market in Liverpool was off 1½c today on expectations of heavy shipments from America during July and the unexpected easier tone in the old wheat situation in this country. There is said to be now a well-grounded impression that exporters forced up the market against themselves three months ago to a greater extent that would have been necessary in obtaining requisite supplies had they traded more conservatively.

Though Winnipeg market was closed today, it being the king's birthday, fair trading was reported on the curb up there at higher prices. Exporters were said to be bidding freely for cash wheat in which remaining stocks are controlled by two or three operators, and they have thus been compelled to advance their bids materially.

Expected heavy deliveries of winter wheat early next month are proving a disturbing factor in the market, and are leading to shifting of positions on the part of some of the big operators. Armour, for example, was advised to be a heavy seller of July wheat at Chicago today, while he was in the market to about an equal extent for the September future.

Argentine shipments this week are thought to have shown a substantial falling off, being estimated at 3,200,000 bu, or over 1,000,000 bu less than in the preceding week.

July wheat opened unchanged at $1.35¾, advanced 1⅞c, and then eased off ⅜c from that point around the noon hour. September opened unchanged at $1.15½, and eased off ⅜c.

Durum was erratic. After moving up 3½c to $1.44, July durum weakened 2¾c. September opened unchanged at $1.18, and held there.

Reversal in Flaxseed.

A further sharp reversal of form was shown in flaxseed. With good bidding on the part of crushers in evidence while offerings were limited, its market was advanced over 5c. Trades, however, came only in small lots. There was no special news out to affect the market other than that cables were up.

July flax opened ⅛c up at $1.80, and closed 5c up at $1.84½ asked; September opened unchanged at $1.82, and closed 5¼c up at $1.87¼ asked; October closed 5c up at $1.86½ bid.

At Buenos Aires, flax closed 1¼c at $1.27⅞, and London unchanged at $1.91⅞.

MARKET GOSSIP.

The steamer Colonel has taken on 180,000 bu of spring wheat, of which 48,000 bu was loaded at the Capitol elevator, 60,000 bu at the Peavey, and 72,000 bu at Great Northern Elevator S. The North Star loaded 33,000 bu spring wheat at the Consolidated elevator yesterday.

Inglis wired Logan & Bryan from Wichita Falls, Tex.: "Such large wheat counties as Cook, Greyson, Denton and Johnson have a good crop, but many fields will have to be cut by hand. All are more or less tangled. Wheat down is rusting badly in spots and quality will be impaired. There has been considerable loss by scalding."

Bartlett, Frazier & Co. wired from Chicago: "The time is fast approaching when we must find a demand for early shipment for a vast quantity of new winter wheat. In this connection must be considered the damper to bullish sentiment here and elsewhere furnished by the disappointing outcome of old crop values, showing that the prices to which wheat was advanced when several foreign countries were competing wildly for our surplus were extravagant and unnecessary. With less haste they could have secured abundant supplies at considerably lower prices, as the outcome has proven. Foreign buying will likely be characterized by more moderation, which will have a corresponding effect on values as compared with those of the past season, even if the requirements prove to be as large. Our crops promise a surplus sufficient to supply large requirements, and we do not believe sufficient speculative support will be found to hold the grain at present prices till it is wanted."

Van Dusen-Harrington company says in its weekly letter: "Weather in past week was excellent for small grain which has established a strong root and has stooled well. Wheat, oats and barley are seeded. Wet weather during May delayed corn planting but the ground has dried enough to work. We received a few complaints of corn rotting in ground in a small territory in Southwest Minnesota. There is plenty of time to replant, and if the weather remains clear to finish the corn planting, the sowing of flax will be finished. Reports of our agents covering conditions in the three states are universally favorable."

Ocean charters were reported at New York yesterday for four vessels for heavy grain amounting to about 640,000 bu. Rates from the Gulf to the United Kingdom were about 27c.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "The market has sustained a break, but holders are again firm. The consumption is limited and of moderate dimensions but owing to lack of fresh supplies and the limited movement from Argentine, buyers seem willing to remain firm. The statistical position remains bullish with the continent taking most of the American shipments. Large foreign arrivals of wheat have had the effect of increasing millers' and bakers' holdings and with conservative consumption flour prices have declined somewhat sharply. The influence of the weather and crop news on the world's wheat market is steadily increasing to the exclusion of all other factors not excepting even those of supply and demand. The sharp decline recently recorded is mainly attributable to American and Canadian promise, and the fact that marketing of old wheat is being done freely, while millers and bakers are merely buying from hand to mouth."

Minneapolis cash market was steady with fair demand. No. 1 northern blue stem wheat 6@7c over July, and velvet chaff at ½c over July. There were fair flour sales with quite a little business booked for September and October shipments. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.37 to $1.43½ and No. 2 northern at from $1.33½ to $1.40½.

It is said that there have been from 13,000,000 bu to 15,000,000 bu of wheat sold abroad that have not been cleared. This will take all the wheat that is at Buffalo and the seaboard ports as well as that in transit, and leave light stocks.

There is also said to be 12,000,000 bu to 15,000,000 bu of oats sold abroad that have not been cleared. Considerable speculation in oats has been going on by seaboard exporters, outside of the large stocks at Chicago. The bulk of the oats and corn in the visible supply is held at Eastern lake and Atlantic ports.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Pressure From New Crop and Little Export Demand Bears Wheat.

Chicago, June 3.—Pressure from the new crop with virtually no export demand had a bearish effect today on the price of wheat. Besides cable quotations were lower, and the weather here fine. A rally, which resulted from active buying on the part of one large concern, proved not to be of a lasting sort. The market, after opening ⅝ to 1⅛c lower, recovered to above yesterday's final figures, but again underwent a sharp decline.

Later some improvement in milling call in the demand from the seaboard brought about decided upturns. There were also reports of excessive rains in Oklahoma. The close was strong at 1c to 1⅞c net advance.

Corn swayed with wheat. Price changes though, were comparatively narrow. The opening, which was unchanged to ⅜c down, was followed by a slight upturn and then a fresh decline.

Cheap offerings of Argentine corn at the seaboard tended afterward to depress the market here. The close was unsettled at ⅛c to ⅜c net decline.

Confirmation of large export sales at the seaboard made oats relatively firm. The market nevertheless sympathized with the course of other cereals.

Provisions reflected the steadiness of the hog market. Prices for the most part showed a little advance.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Good Gains Are Recorded on Large Volume of Business.

Steel Leads List Throughout Session and Close Is Strong.

New York, June 3.—War shares and metal stocks were again the prominent features of today's early market, advances in these issues ranging from 1 to over 2 points. United States Steel also gave promise of assuming its former leadership, opening with a sale of 2,000 shares at a substantial fractional advance which it soon increased to over a point. Standard railways, including St. Paul, Reading, Southern and Northern Pacific and Union Pacific, made similar gains, although these stocks were irregular in the London market. Trading in the first half hour was on a very active scale.

The vigorous advance of the opening was maintained throughout the first hour, which was the most active of any similar period for a fortnight. All parts of the list participated, but coppers and United States Steel contributed more than their usual quota. Improvement in metal shares was generally ascribed to latest developments in the Mexican situation, which are likely to rebound to the benefit of the many large copper companies operating in that country. Activity abated and prices shaded moderately towards noon on news that the Austro-German armies had recaptured an important position on the eastern frontier. Bonds were steady.

Prices ascended steadily to higher levels in the afternoon, trading assuming greater breadth. Gains averaged 2 points in leading issues and more in specialties, notably coppers and motors. Heavy absorption of steel was the feature.

Advances of 2 to 4 points in representative stocks and greater gains in speculative specialties were recorded today on a large volume of business.

Steel continued to lead the list, advancing to 59⅜. Other stocks showed the effects of profit-taking. The close was strong.

ATTEMPT TO CAUSE DELAY

Lake-and-Rail Lines Expected to Appeal Divorcement Proceedings.

Facts Misrepresented in Published Discussions in the East.

Eastern papers in cities on the Great Lakes continue to moan about the divorcement ordered to take place by next December, and are daily predicting all sorts of dire happenings to shippers when the lake lines are no longer controlled by the railroads. Now it is rumored that the Lehigh Valley and the Lackawanna railroads will appeal, later in the year, from the decision of the interstate commerce commission, ordering the divorcement. It is said that the appeal will be based on the fact that these roads do not operate over their own rails into Chicago, though it is not denied that they handle considerable Chicago business over connecting lines.

Hope for Delay.

This is no surprise to Duluth traffic men. That the railroads are eager to find a means of carrying the entire question of divorcement to the supreme court, has been apparent for some time. It is claimed that they have small hope of preventing it, for the decisions are all against it in Sherman anti-trust law cases, but it is hoped that by carrying the matter to the supreme court, a delay of a year or more may result.

A Buffalo paper, in a recent issue says:

"If the railroads are finally forced by the recent decision of the interstate commerce commission to get rid of their lake lines, it is probable that they will discontinue their present through rates at the same time. Independent package freighters are wondering if this will mean the cancellation of their through-rate agreements with the independent lines.

Independent Agreements.

"There are three independent package-freight lines, the Cleveland & Buffalo, the Detroit & Cleveland and the Port Huron & Duluth. They all have rate agreements with the railroads by which the shipper may send his freight by their boats at a through rate. If the railroads run independently it is only natural that they will try to divert as much freight as possible from the lakes to all-rail shipment. One of the most effective ways of doing this is to wipe out all through-rate agreements, then when a railroad freight solicitor approaches a shipper he can tell him the exact cost of an all-rail shipment, but if he sends to Buffalo and then on up the lakes by an independent boat line he can give him only the rate to the dock. In this way the shipper must make two separate contracts.

"The shipper will also be forced to pay a dock charge. Boats which formerly were railroad owned and lay at the railroad docks free of charge will be charged in the future for such dockage and this extra charge must eventually come out of the shipper. It has been suggested that the only way that the package freighters can ever be run at a profit will be to have them all controlled by one firm. There are over sixty of these boats on the lakes now."

Laughed At in Duluth.

These contentions are frankly laughed at in Duluth. Taking the article statement by statement, this morning a Duluth traffic man pointed out that it is based on ignorance of facts or is written with the direct object of fooling people who are not acquainted with the facts. Said he:

"As to through rates being discontinued, there is not the remotest danger. Under the law the roads dare not do it, and Duluth and Chicago, which places made the chief fight to bring about the divorce of the lines, will see to it that there will be no discontinuation if such is attempted, which will not take place. The shippers will not have to make two separate contracts, but will sign only one bill of lading. Neither will they have to pay a dock charge, for in this again the roads do not dare. The law says that they must provide terminals for not only themselves, but for all who have occasion to use them. A recent decision against the Pennsylvania road reaffirms that well-established law.

"Concerning the statement that the only way the package freighters can be made to pay will be to have them controlled by one firm, the facts do not bear this out. In the fight for divorcement we showed by the books of the companies that they made enormous profits when they were running thirty-five boats carrying business that could have been handled by about five."

CHANGES WILL NOT INTERFERE

Seamen's Bill Requirements Not Expected to Hinder Shipping.

Shippers have been wondering for some time as to what effect there will be on shipping when the changes required by the new seamen's bill goes into effect and whether or not shipping will be interfered with during the time the required changes are made on the lake boats. The changes go into effect on Nov. 4, and while passenger steamers will have quit for the season by that time, there will be a month more for freight carriers.

Managers of lake lines, in reply to questions concerning the matter, say that the supervising inspector of hulls has not yet issued his instructions and that, therefore, they do not know, but they express the belief that arrangements will be made to make the changes without interfering with shipping business. Capt. John Monaghan, local inspector of hulls, is of the same opinion.

Open Season Soon.

The Northern Navigation company's excursion season will begin out of Duluth on June 17, at which time the steamer Huronic will arrive here, leaving the same day for a return trip to Sarnia. The regular passenger service for the season will begin with that trip.

Celebrates Hundredth Birthday.

Eastern papers have recently published a good deal concerning a celebration held at Fergus, Ont., on May 15, in honor of the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Foote of that city, mother of Capt. Robert D. Foote of the steamer Noronic of the Northern Navigation company's line. She was born just one month before the battle of Waterloo. Mrs. Foote's children are all living and all were present at the affair, but her husband died many years ago. While physically unable to be about much, it is said that her mind is perfectly clear and all her mental faculties are unimpaired.

REJECTION UNANIMOUS

Glen-Hunt-Wood Commission Votes Down Federation Club Proposition.

Without a single vote in favor of the proposition, the idea of organizing a Federation of Civic and Community Clubs in Duluth was rejected last night at a meeting of the Glen-Hunt-Wood commission and members of the Men's Club of Glen Avon and Hunter's Park. The proposal was made in a communication from a committee appointed as a result of a recent meeting at the Commercial club rooms, at which the various social center and other organizations were represented.

Considerable discussion preceded last night's action, during which it was asserted by several members of the club that the recent action of the Duluth Commercial club in declaring the presidents of the several community organizations members ex-officio of the public affairs committee, provided sufficiently for united action among the community clubs, and at the same time avoided the danger of introducing political matters into the social centers.

At the close of the discussion a motion was made that the proposal be rejected, and was carried without a dissenting vote.

"Mayor" Hubbard of the Glen-Hunt-Wood commission appointed a committee of seven, with Henry Nolte as chairman, to take up with the city council the matter of keeping down the dust on Woodland avenue. Mr. Hubbard reported that he had already been to the city hall to inquire about the work and had been told that the wet weather of last month had retarded all street work. The committee will make further efforts to get action by the city.

Previous to the business meeting a fish dinner was served by the women of Glen Avon church.

VETERANS GRATEFUL FOR FINE OBSERVANCE OF MEMORIAL DAY

At the meeting at Memorial hall, May 31, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That the thanks and most hearty and sincere appreciation of Willis A. Gorman post No. 13, Joshua B. Culver post No. 128, Grand Army of the Republic, the Ladies of the G. A. R., the Woman's Relief Corps and the Citizens' Staff, and their friends assembled, are extended to Rev. John Hoffman, D. D., for his Memorial sermon at the First Methodist church yesterday, also to Rev. U. S. Villars for his Memorial day address at the Auditorium today, and we most earnestly request them to prepare and furnish a copy of their addresses for publication as a part of the records of the Grand Army posts and for distribution in pamphlet form.

"Resolved, That the thanks of the Grand Army are hereby given to the Ladies of the G. A. R., the Woman's Relief corps for the bounteous dinner furnished at Memorial hall; to the Citizens' Staff for the splendid arrangements made and carried out for the observance and celebration of Memorial day; also that we recognize and desire to express our appreciation to all citizens, children and societies who have in any way assisted by attendance or otherwise to make this one of the best Memorial day celebrations Duluth has ever held.

"Resolved, That we nominate and request the commanders of the two Grand Army posts in Duluth, the presidents and secretaries of the two Relief corps, and the Citizens' Staff, to act as a committee to carry out these resolutions, and make a report for the records on the Grand Army posts.

"Duluth now leads the way to properly observe this national day. Keeping yearly in mind the willing and needful help of all educational and civil centers in preparation for Memorial day cannot fail to make it more and more effective for good in this and other states."

June Weddings

stir up a lot of shopping—both before and after. And it isn't ordinary shopping either. Every article purchased must be precisely right in every little detail.

If there is one occasion in life when folks "want what they want when they want it"—it is the wedding in June. And, naturally, for the people of Duluth and the Empire of Steel, these weddings are occasions for trading trips to Duluth—both before and after.

The scores of stores in Duluth are now showing the newest and most approved things that go with weddings, from the engraved invitations to the bride's bouquet. And for the new home to be established there's a most fascinating array of furniture and housefurnishings. The pleasure of selecting the needed equipment is intensified by having here such a large variety and price-range to choose from.

AUSTRO-GERMAN ARMIES MOVING ON LEMBERG

GERMANY'S RECENT REPLY NOT TO BE CONSIDERED AS RESPONSIVE TO DEMANDS

WILL INSIST ON DEFINITE STATEMENT

Must Know Whether Germany's Actions Will Be According to Law.

If Answer Is Negative Diplomatic Relations May Be Broken.

President's Note Is Ready and Submitted to His Cabinet.

Washington, June 4.—President Wilson finished the note to Germany today and laid it before the cabinet. It probably will be dispatched to Berlin late tonight or tomorrow. No arrangements have yet been made as to the time when it will be made public.

White House officials said today that while the president had penned the note himself, he had consulted with Secretary Bryan over the principles and the details. He also had been in constant consultation with Counsellor Lansing and also Attorney General Gregory, who investigated affidavits that the Lusitania carried guns.

The government is convinced there is no ground for that contention, and the note will so inform Germany.

Lansing at Meeting.

Counsellor Lansing as the president's chief adviser on questions of international law, sat in today's cabinet meeting. Previously he has only attended in the absence of Secretary Bryan, but today Mr. Lansing had been invited by the president to accompany the secretary.

All the cabinet members uniformly refused to discuss the subject as they entered the meeting.

While the president and the cabinet were discussing the note a German agent was on his way to Berlin to present a first-hand report of the interview which Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, had with President Wilson Wednesday.

Officials at the German embassy refused to discuss that development, but it became known authoritatively that Meyer Gerhard, who sailed from New York yesterday for Copenhagen on the steamer United States with a guarantee of safe conduct obtained by the American government from the

GERMANY COMPLETES SUBMARINE WEEKLY

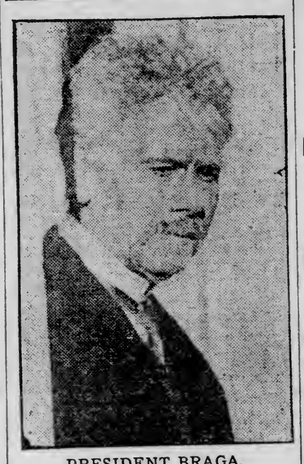

Come From Antwerp Yards and Sent to Sea Through the Scheldt.

London, June 4.—The Morning Post's naval correspondent says he has obtained authoritative confirmation of the report recently current in London that Germany is completing a new submarine every week.

"A considerable proportion of these," says the correspondent, "come from the Antwerp yards, and are being sent to sea under the neutral waters of the Scheldt.

"It is impossible to believe," continues the correspondent, "that the submarines which recently appeared in the Dardanelles were sent piecemeal by rail to the Asiatic coast and it is believed they journeyed by way of the Atlantic, a distance of 3,400 miles, equal to a trip across the Atlantic and an unprecedented feat for submarines."

PRESIDENT BRAGA.

As a result of the recent revolutionary rioting in Portugal, President Arriaga has resigned and Former President Theodore Braga has been re-elected to the office.

STEEL HAS SHARP RISE

Victory in the Dissolution Suit Causes Bullish Enthusiasm.

Expected Case Will Be Carried to the Supreme Court.

New York, June 4.—The victory of the United States Steel corporation in the dissolution suit brought by the United States government was made the occasion of an outburst of bullish enthusiasm at the opening of today's stock market.

Steel was naturally the outstanding feature, although its initial quotation was somewhat belated. The first transaction consisted of one lot of 28,000 shares at 64 to 62 compared with yesterday's close of 58⅜. The next sale was a lot of 2,000 shares at 62¼, followed by 1,200 at 62½, after which it reacted slightly. In the first fifteen minutes 55,000 shares of Steel changed hands.

United States Steel preferred rose 2¾ points, and throughout the list there were gains ranging from 2 to 4 points. International Harvester, whose affairs now are under Federal review, opened with a gain of 14 points and American Can, which is also being investigated by the Federal government, opened with a sale of 7,000 shares at 42 to 45 against yesterday's close of 39⅜.

Sensational Rise.

Distillers' Securities was another ob-

PORTUGUESE WOULD CUT OFF GERMANY

Lisbon, via Paris, June 4.—Protesting vehemently against the sinking of two Portuguese ships by German submarines the press of Portugal demands that the government immediately sever diplomatic relations with Germany.

AMBASSADOR SENDS ENVOY TO EMPEROR

Has Special Message From von Bernstorff on Diplomatic Situation.

Meyer Gerhard of New York Man Chosen for Important Mission.

Provided With Documents Guaranteeing Safe Passage Through Allies.

New York, June 4.—Meyer Gerhard, who is understood to be the agent Ambassador Von Bernstorff is sending to Berlin, sailed yesterday aboard the steamer United States for Copenhagen, it became known here today.

Mr. Gerhard's accommodations aboard the vessel were engaged by wire less than two hours before sailing time. Mr. Gerhard reached the pier about five minutes before the vessel cast off. Until the receipt of the telegram, officials of the Scandinavian-American line, owners of the steamer, knew nothing of his plans to sail.

Given Guarantee.

Official documents bearing the embassy or consular seals of Great Britain, Russia and France, giving him guarantee against molestation by officers of the allies' warships were in his possession. Otherwise it was said he would not have been permitted to take passage, as the line has been at great pains to exclude from its passenger list anyone whose name or connection might cause delays or detention of the ship by war vessels en route to her destination.

Lives in New York.

Mr. Gerhard registered under his own name, giving his home as

ALLIES AGREE TO ACT AS UNIT DURING WAR

Tokio, June 4.—Foreign Minister Kato, interpellated in the house of peers today by the budget committee, made the declaration that Great Britain, France, Russia, Italy and Japan had agreed to take no independent action of any kind in connection with the European war.

FALL OF PRZEMYSL IS WILDLY CELEBRATED IN AUSTRO-GERMAN CITIES

Thousands Fill Flag Bedecked Streets, Singing National Anthem.

Much Surprise at Quick Ending of Campaign Against Fortress.

Climax on Sunday When Forts Were Literally Sprayed With Shells.

Berlin, June 4, via London.—The jubilation throughout Germany and Austria-Hungary over the fall of Przemysl is mingled with surprise at the speed with which the campaign against this stronghold was brought to a successful end.

Vienna, Prague and Budapest all have witnessed scenes of the wildest rejoicing over this latest victory in Galicia. Like Berlin, these three cities are bedecked with flags. Thousands of persons fill the streets, alternately singing the German and Austrian national anthem.

Expected Stubborn Resistance.

Almost all the expert observers in Berlin expected a stubborn resistance on the part of the Russian forces in Przemysl. Furthermore, conditions within the stronghold show that the Russians were looking forward to a long siege and that they had endeavored to prepare for it. A correspondent of the Vossische Zeitung says the Russians had brought reinforcements into Przemysl from Lemberg and heavy artillery and ammunition from Lublin over the new strategic railroad, Ivangorod and Brest-Litovsk

ALL WAR MATERIAL REMOVED BY RUSS

Say They Remained in Przemysl as Long as It Served Their Purpose.

Petrograd, via London, June 4.—Russian troops on the fronts to the north and west of the fortress of Przemysl evacuated their positions Wednesday night after all the war materials taken from the Austrians had been removed, according to an official statement issued last night by the Russian general staff. It is explained that after the capture of Jaroslau and Radymno by the Austro-German forces they began to spread along the west bank of the San, making the defense of Przemysl a difficult task. The Russians contend they realized from the first that Przemysl was incapable of defending itself and they remained there only as long as it served their purpose.

HERO OF AFGHAN WAR WHO IS AT FRONT WITH BRITISH FORCES

GEN. P. M. CARNEGY.

One of the British generals at the front is Gen. Philip M. Carnegy. He is a graduate of Sandhurst and entered the army in 1878. He has served chiefly in India and has been decorated for bravery in several engagements there. He was decorated also for bravery in the Afghan war.

RIFLES FOR BULGARIA TAKEN BY GERMANY

Swedish Steamer Held Up While En Route and Munitions Removed.

London, June 4.—A dispatch from Stockholm to the Morning Post says:

"The Swedish steamer Pan has returned to a Swedish port without her cargo of rifles. The captain of the steamer explained that he was deceived by the Germans, who had promised him a safe passage through the Kaiser Wilhelm canal. The Swedish government regrets its inability to take steps to punish the offenders as the offense was committed within the jurisdiction of the Danish authorities."

A Copenhagen dispatch on Wednesday said that the steamer Pan, which sailed from Copenhagen with a cargo of rifles, had been seen near Falsterbo, transferring her cargo to a German torpedo boat. The shipment of arms had been held up for several months owing to a doubt as to its bona fide destination, but the steamer had been permitted to proceed on an alleged promise of captain and owners of the vessel that the arms would be taken direct to Dedeaghatch.

DARING DASH OF GEN. MACKENSEN THROUGH RUSS IS SUCCESSFUL

Plan of Austro-Germans Against Lemberg May Be Worked Out Same as Attack on Przemysl.

Expect to Throw Columns on Both Sides of City and Then Press Together Some Distance Beyond It.

Vienna, June 4, via London.—The German and Austrian forces which broke the Russian lines at Stry are moving northward rapidly. The Russians apparently are unable to make a stand in the plains, and the chances of doing so north of the river are regarded as problematical.

Now that Przemysl has fallen, rendering it possible for Gen. Mackensen to continue his movement eastward, he would naturally meet a check at the Russian fortified positions partly composed of a chain of lakes extending north and south, about eighteen miles west of Lemberg. It is thought, however, that the positions will prove untenable because Gen. Linsingen, having crossed the Dneister to the west of Mikolajow, will likely cut the communications with Lemberg. The Austro-German plan of operations against Lemberg is the same as against Przemysl. They are expected to throw columns on both sides of the city and then press together some distance beyond it. In the meantime this movement seems to threaten the Russians fighting around Nadworna with a loss of contact with the main body.

Gen. Mackensen Safe.

London, June 4.—To the north of Przemysl Gen. Mackensen is now safe, having dared to essay to drive a wedge between the Russian armies on the lower San and the fortress and made good. It was a risky move, and knowing its peril, British followers have been watching it with keen interest. For a week they have been expressing hopes that it would fail. But it did not fall, and now Gen. Mackensen has a breathing spell and can elect either to stand where he is, or to push forward from a base of great strategic advantage.

No one can predict whether the Austro-Germans will continue their terrific offensive in the east, such as preceded the taking of Przemysl. But viewing the complacency with which the Germans have accepted punishment in the past in order to achieve their aims, the belief here is that they have set their hearts upon Lemberg and that they will not for some time to come be content to assume the defensive.

Some commentators on the military situation are suggesting today that the allies in the west will now initiate an offensive movement in the hope of relieving the pressure on the Russians, but on the other hand, it is noticeable that during the Austro-German push into Galicia there was no synchronizing allied movement in the west, and it would be no surprise if

MADE MISTAKE IN TORPEDOING SHIP

Germany Will Pay Full Compensation for Loss of Norwegian Steamer.

Christiania, June 4, via London.—Germany has informed Norway that an investigation has shown that the Norwegian tank steamer Belridge was torpedoed accidentally by a German submarine. The communication says Germany deplores this fact and is willing to pay full compensation.

It proposes the appointment of a commission of Norwegian and German experts to fix the amount of compensation. Norway, it is said, has replied, agreeing to the appointment of experts.

Germany also has informed Norway that a thorough investigation has shown that the Norwegian steamer America was not sunk by a German submarine.

The steamer Belridge was torpedoed near Folkestone Feb. 19 last. She was beached at Walmer and later unloaded her cargo in the Thames.

The steamer America was sunk in the North sea, May 5. Her crew was saved. At a naval investigation, held at Christiania, witnesses testified that the steamer had been destroyed by a torpedo.

TO TAKE OUT FOREIGNERS

British Authorities in Mexico to Send Autos and Horses.

Will Bring People in Interior to Points on Railroads.

Washington, June 4.—British authorities in Mexico City are arranging to take out foreigners by horseback and automobile to points from which there is train service to Vera Cruz. The Brazilian minister, in charge of American interests reported today that a Mr. Cummins, a former British consul, would start Tuesday with a party on horseback for Pachuca. The British charge d'affaires will take a party of foreigners Wednesday to Pachuca by automobile.

President Wilson's statement was delivered yesterday in Mexico City for transmission to Gens. Garza and Zapata. Department officials believe it has by this time been delivered to Gen. Villa and therefore is in the hands of all the Mexican leaders. The executive committee of the Red Cross decided today that all Mexican relief supplies will be consigned to consular officials who will supervise their distribution. The committee approved arrangements for issuing appeals throughout the United States. Henry P. Davison, of J. P. Morgan & Co., and others are expected to form a New York local Red Cross committee today.

Tales of Riots.

Laredo, Tex., June 4.—Tales of hunger riots, wanton looting and bloodshed subsequent to the evacuation of Monterey by Villa troops were told today by passengers arriving here from that city. Five rioters were killed and twelve wounded, it is declared, by Rafael Ferrigno, an Italian subject, when a mob attempted to raid his tailoring establishment. Ferrigno is said to have been imprisoned. A police force organized by the Villa authorities prior to the evacuation, the arrivals assert, proved powerless to check the disorder, but after three days of law-

FIGHTING IN MEXICO MUST CEASE.

GERMAN SUBMARINES SINK TWO SCANDINAVIAN SHIPS

Swedish Steamer Lapland and Norwegian Steamer Cubano Latest Prey of Submersibles Off British Isles.

London, June 4.—The Evening Standard says that the Swedish steamer Lapland was sunk last night at a point fifty-five miles off Peterhead, a seaport of Eastern Scotland. No submarine was sighted, but Capt. Petersen stated he believed the vessel was torpedoed.

The crew of 19 men, together with four women were landed at Peterhead today.

The Lapland was 288 feet long and of 1,417 tons net. She was built in 1906 at Gothenburg, Sweden, and was owned in Stockholm.

Cubano Sunk.

London, June 4.—The Norwegian steamer Cubano was torpedoed and sunk yesterday off the Flannan islands. The crew was landed in the Hebrides, a group of islands off the west coast of Scotland.

The Cubano was formerly the British steamship Strathmore. She was of 2,805 tons net register and built at Greenock in 1912. She was 375 feet long, 52 feet beam and 26 feet deep.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Having captured Przemysl, the Austro-German forces are maintaining their offensive with unusual speed along the Galician front. The troops which broke through the Russian line at Stry are pushing northward rapidly. A statement from the Russian war office contains the admission that in the region beyond the Dniester river the Austro-German army has advanced along the Tlumenitza-Stry front.

A Petrograd dispatch states that the German force which captured Libau, in Russia, on the Baltic, some time ago has been isolated. Russian forces are said to have cut off the Germans from their base at Memel, East Prussia, while other Russian troops have approached from the north and south so the only communication with Libeau is by the sea.

Few details are available of the development of the Italian campaign. A statement from Gen. Cadorna, Italian chief of staff, says the preliminary movements are continuing all along the frontier, developing to the advantage of the Italians. The Vienna war office states that the Italians had bombarded Austrian fortifications at several points without success.

Conditions are virtually stationary along the western front, so far as is shown by the official communications. Slight gains in the district north of Arras are reported by the French.

The Swedish steamer Lappland (?) was sunk yesterday off the coast of Scotland. Although no submarine was sighted, the captain expressed the opinion that the vessel was torpedoed. All on board were rescued.

International Falls Getting Pointers on Proposed Structure.

International Falls, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Koochiching county has purchased three tractors and the machines are being demonstrated about the city this week. A full equipment of other road maintenance machinery has also been purchased.

D. B. Jewell and Rev. E. L. Heermance went to Emo Wednesday for the Farmers' club to look over the Potato Marketing association at that place. The organization now has a number of branches and several hundred members and is doing a marketing business of between $18,000 and $20,000 a year, besides buying many articles for the farmers in carload lots. Mr. Crawford, the manager, is very enthusiastic over the success of the first four years and expects further development. They are considering building their own warehouses in Fort Arthur and Fort William, Ont. Many valuable ideas were received for the potato warehouse, which it is expected will be built here this summer.

PREVENTING ACCIDENTS CHIEF WORK OF CLAIM DEPARTMENT OF OLIVER MINING COMPANY

That the strength of the iron country is not vested entirely in its ore deposits, but principally in its men is the assertion of The Iron Trade Review. In an article entitled "The Open Hearth" there is an interesting discussion of the claim office of the Oliver Iron Mining company and some of the men in charge of the company's offices. The article follows:

"A visit to the claim office of the Oliver Iron Mining company, of the Steel corporation's Minnesota railroads and the Minnesota Steel company, in the Wolvin building at Duluth, discloses in a very impressive manner the progress that is being made in the 'safety first' movement. Indeed, if one were to drop into that office without knowing that it is the place in which the claims for damages from companies hiring thousands of men are disposed of, he would not suspect that it is anything but the headquarters for promoting the safety of employes. All about the large office of Edward H. Windom, the general claim agent, are photographs of safety devices, safety devices themselves, and all sorts of things relating to the prevention of accidents. And this collection does not, in fact, give a misleading impression, for the days of lawsuits are over to a very large extent. Claims are speedily adjusted, and the energy of the office is devoted very largely to the prevention of accidents. Mr. Windom has conducted this work for many years with such sound common sense and such real sympathy for the unfortunate that seldom is there a case in which an appeal to the courts is necessary. Of course there are exceptions. Now and then an imposter must be dealt with. In the office are a pair of crutches which cost the Steel corporation $1,000, the amount which was paid to one of the most remarkable imposters ever known in this country. He could deceive the ablest surgeons, but finally through Mr. Windom's efforts, was convicted and sent to the penitentiary.

"Edward H. Windom is of the type of men in the Lake Superior region, who are little known beyond its confines, but are rendering service of great value, not only to their employers, but to the employes and to the public in general. Another man of this type is John H. Hearding, assistant general manager of the Oliver Iron Mining company. For years, Mr. Hearding has been a power on the iron ranges. He has not been satisfied with merely discharging the duties of his position as a mining superintendent or manager, but has entered into the life of the people, and particularly in improving the schools in the iron country has he proved himself a very valuable citizen. He does not believe in the extravagance which has been indulged in by some of the towns in erecting expensive school buildings, but he does believe in providing first-class schools for the children of the miners.

"Verily the strength of the iron country is not entirely in its ore deposits, but principally in its men."

WELCOME TO LEGISLATORS

Duluth Plans Entertainment for 100 Guests in State Party.

Governor, Senators and Noted Men Will Make Ten-Day Tour.

Plans for entertaining the members of the upper house of the state legislature, other state officials and their friends when they visit Duluth next week on their 10-day tour of Northern Minnesota were discussed yesterday afternoon at a conference held at the Commercial club. According to State Senator C. E. Adams, who attended the meeting, Duluth will be host to between ninety and one hundred people who will arrive here on a special train next Thursday, June 10.

Starting from Minneapolis June 9, the senators will hold an "adjourned session" while taking a trip over the northern section of the state, visiting a number of points of interest.

Entertainment in Duluth.

Just how the time will be spent while in Duluth has not been announced. This will be decided upon by a committee consisting of State Senator Fred D. Vibert of Cloquet, State Senator Adams of this city and H. V. Eva, secretary of the Commercial club.

Senator E. J. Westlake of Minneapolis is chairman of the committee on transportation. Northern Pacific railroad officials have announced that adequate transportation facilities will be furnished, but the trip will not be a "legislative junket," as each of the tourists will pay his own expenses. Many of the senators and state officials will be accompanied by their wives.

Rules of the Train.

Senator Westlake writes The Herald that there are only one or two accommodations left on the special, which will consist of nine cars. The train will comprise a baggage car, a business car for railroad officials, four sleepers, two dining cars and one observation car.

Senator Westlake also announced the rule to govern the senatorial party as follows:

"Ladies will be permitted to take their trunks and may have access to them at all times.

"Dress suits are absolutely taboo. Any member of the party—even the governor,—appearing in one gets 'canned.'"

One hundred and four persons have enrolled for the trip to date. They are as follows:

State and Senatorial.

State officers—Governor W. S. Hammond, Lieut. Governor J. A. A. Burnquist, I. A. Caswell, clerk of the supreme court; Secretary of State and Mrs. Julius A. Schmahl, and State Treasurer and Mrs. Walter J. Smith and daughter, all of St. Paul.

Senators—C. E. Adams, Duluth; Senator and Mrs. J. W. Andrews, Mankato; Senator and Mrs. John H. Baldwin, Frazee; Senator and Mrs. H. N. Benson, St. Peter; Senator and Mrs. R. T. Buckler, Crookston; Senator J. G. Callahan, Minneapolis; Senator J. A. Carley, Plainview; Senator W. W. Dunn, St. Paul; Senator and Mrs. F. A. Duxbury, Caledonia; Senator W. S. Dwinnell, Minneapolis; Senator G. H. Gardner, Brainerd; Senator J. W. Gillam, Windom; Senator D. Gjerset, Montevideo; Senator O. H. Griggs, Virginia; Senator and Mrs. O. S. Hegnes, Argyle; Senator and Mrs. J. A. Jackson, St. Paul; Senator Samuel Knopp, Winona; Senator and Mrs. A. O. Lende, Canby; Senator P. H. McGarry and daughter, Mrs. Rich, Walker; Senator J. M. Millett, Hastings; Senator and Mrs. S. B. Nelson, Luverne; Senator and Mrs. Leonard H. Nord, International Falls; Senator and Mrs. F. H. Peterson, Moorhead; Senator F. L. Palmer, Minneapolis; Senator and Mrs. F. E. Putnam, Blue Earth; Senator E. P. Peterson and daughter, Litchfield; Senator J. A. Rystrom, North Branch; Senator J. Steffen, Pipestone; Senator and Mrs. F. C. Vibert, Cloquet; Senator and Mrs. E. J. Westlake, Minneapolis, and Senator John A. Healy, Hibbing.

BEMIDJI STRONG BOX TAKEN BY OFFICERS

Bemidji, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Indian Officers Brandt and Thomason yesterday afternoon raided the Jo E. Maloy location on Third street, formerly a saloon. Mr. Maloy refused to open his big iron safe and the agents then dragged the safe from the building out into the street, pushing it up the street to the Northern National bank, and there waited until a horse could be secured to drag the safe by means of a rope to the courthouse, where it was placed in the county jail until a safe expert can be secured to open it.

Mr. Maloy is now located in the Larson building on Third street, which was formerly a saloon, and where he operates a cigar store.

Crowd Watches Act.

As soon as the safe was taken from the building a large crowd quickly gathered around the Indian officers, impeding traffic on Third street and Beltrami avenue. Chief Rippel attempted to keep the crowd moving as the safe was dragged along to the jail. The crowd followed and remained on the courthouse lawn until the safe was lodged in a strong cell on the jail. The Indian agents suspect that the safe may contain liquor.

Reports are being spread that the government men have gone into baggage cars and ransacked the personal belongings of passengers. A Walker woman says her grip was opened and candy taken from it.

Bear Carcass to Duluth.

Aitkin, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Metrz brought in town this week a black bear he killed near Roger lake. S. H. Hodgeden purchased the carcass, which weighed eighty-five pounds, and shipped it to a firm in Duluth.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC

D. & I. R. evening passenger train now arrives at Duluth Union Depot at 5:15 p. m. daily instead of 5:35 p. m., and passes all points between Allen Junction and Duluth 20 minutes earlier than formerly.

H. JOHNSON, G. P. A.

SEEKS GAS PIPE LEAK WITH MATCH

When E. F. Blowers, 618 Third avenue east, went looking for a leak in a gas pipe with a lighted match last night about 7:30 o'clock he found it. The flame caught wall paper which hung loosely just above the leaking joint and set fire to dust between the paper and the wall. Mr. Blowers succeeded in extinguishing the fire, he thought, but later found that the flames had penetrated to the room above.

Apparatus from Engine Companies No. 2, No. 4 and 7, with Assistant Chief Wilson, responded to the alarm. Damage was estimated at $100 and is covered by insurance.

THROWN INTO LAKE, PAIR NEARLY DROWN

Baudette, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—F. E. Rose and Peter Holm, while bringing in a net of fish were thrown into Shabiscon bay in the Lake of the Woods and narrowly escaped being drowned. They were in the water fifty-five minutes before Riley Senske arrived. Mr. Holm was able to swim and managed to support Mr. Rose by holding the capsized boat.

WEATHER—Showers tonight and Saturday; not much change in temperature; easterly winds.

CLASS OF TEN INITIATED

Rabbi Rykins of St. Paul Gives Address at Lodge Banquet.

B. Silberstein and Other Duluth Men Are on Program.

Covenant lodge, Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, entertained at its annual banquet and initiation at the Commercial club last evening.

Ten candidates, who were initiated into the order last night, were guests at the banquet at 6:30 o'clock, following which the ceremony took place, with Dr. Isaac L. Rypins of St. Paul and Bernard Silberstein, safety commissioner, representatives of the district grand lodge, assisting. Dr. Samuel Gross, president of Covenant lodge, officiated at the ceremonies. Twenty-five members of the order attended the festivities.

After the initiation Dr. Rypins delivered the address of the evening on "Character Building," in which he outlined the principles of the B'nai B'rith order and explained the many symbols and features of the initiation. He was followed by Dr. Maurice Lefkovits of Temple Emanuel.

Mr. Silberstein, who is a charter member of Covenant lodge, acted as the presiding officer of the evening. During the course of the dinner, addresses were delivered by I. Freimuth, E. A. Silberstein, Dr. Samuel Gross, A. B. Kapplin, A. Feldman and Abraham Solomon, who spoke in behalf of the newly initiated members.

The candidates admitted last evening are: J. Samuel Kohn, Morris Garrison, Abraham Solomon, Dr. M. R. Zack, N. S. Weissman, Samuel Weinstein, Israel Kenner, Albert B. Clarfield, John H. Altman and Morris Mark.

Dr. Rypins arrived in Duluth yesterday afternoon and was a guest of the officers of Covenant lodge during the day. In the afternoon he was taken on an automobile drive through the city. He left last night for St. Paul.

In charge of the banquet and the initiation last evening were Charles D. Oreckovsky, A. B. Kapplin and Ben Blumenthal.

SPECIAL TRAFFIC RULES FOR CONCERTS

Special traffic rules will be put in force by the police department for the Minneapolis Symphony concerts at the curling club tonight and tomorrow night.

Yesterday afternoon Commissioner Silberstein of the safety division drew up a traffic chart, which he submitted to Chief McKercher and also instructed the police department head to detail twelve patrolmen for special duty at the curling club during the concerts.

According to the chart, all vehicles bound for the club will pass from Superior street down Twelfth avenue east to London road and then park in the large space east of the building. Thirteenth avenue east will be closed to traffic, as will Jefferson street, to Fifteenth avenue.

Fourteenth avenue will be reserved for foot traffic between Superior street and London road, while Fifteenth avenue will be reserved for vehicles leaving the rink. No west bound vehicles will be allowed on London road between Fourteenth and Fifteenth avenues, as this course is to be reserved for vehicles leaving the rink.

JITNEURS DECIDE ON HARD FIGHT

Routes and Hourly Schedules Opposed By Association.

Capt. C. C. Teare, attorney for the Duluth Jitney association, announced yesterday that the organization will make a strong fight to defeat the amendment to the jitney ordinance introduced last Wednesday evening, making hourly schedules and routes compulsory in all kinds of weather.

The ordinance was introduced by Commissioner Silberstein and will require two more readings before it comes up for passage.

"The amendment is unreasonable," said Capt. Teare. "There are two hours every morning and afternoon, when, ordinarily, it would be most unprofitable to cover routes fully. At these hours, there is a traffic lull, and no business to justify traversing entire routes.

"The street car company runs short in lull hours. Why should the council require the jitneys to give regular service at such times?"

The association will hold a meeting tomorrow evening and official action will be taken on the proposed amendment, Capt. Teare said. He also proposes to appear before the council at the next meeting and oppose the measure.

CALUMET MOVIE EMPLOYE BURNS

Roll of Film Touches Live Wire, Causing Explosion.

Calumet, Mich., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bernard Ohman, 17 years old, was the only victim of a fire in the Savoy moving picture theater here last night.

Ohman, while working in the operating room, placed a roll of film against a live wire, and then the excited young man threw the blazing roll into the film room.

Alphonse Ruttenberg, manager, was badly burned in an attempt to save Ohman, and was himself saved by a member of the audience. The audience of 200 filed out orderly.

MLLE. ARTOIS, LATELY IN DULUTH, TURNS SEERESS ON WAR'S FINISH

"Nobody will win the great European war.

"It may mean the realization of the dream of a United States of Europe.

"It will destroy forever the power of the royalty.

"The people will come into full power, and women will be driven to all industries."

Mlle. Philippine Artois, Socialist, Belgian actress and relief fund advocate, who has visited Chicago, New York, Minneapolis, Omaha, Duluth and other cities, made these statements at Cleveland, Ohio, yesterday.

She still is lecturing and raising funds with which to return to Belgium and aid her devastated country. In her lecture tour through the United States since the German invasion of Belgium, Mlle. Artois has had many interesting experiences.

Chicago scribes called her an agent of the kaiser.

Mlle. Artois predicts many new developments after the war. She is quoted as saying:

"What will be the capital of the new United States, London or Berlin? There is no means of telling. I do not think there can be a decisive victory by either side.

"Belgium would have been stirred by an insurrection if the war had not broken out. King Leopold had betrayed his people. The Congo horrors and other features of his rule had aroused universal discontent. King Albert has been much over-estimated in this country. Belgium would have been a republic, like France, in a few years. Now it is certain never to remain a kingdom.

"English intrigue undermined Belgian diplomacy," says mademoiselle. "Some of the principal Belgian cities practically were French cities. French engineers designed the fortifications of Liege. Only the Belgian frontier toward Germany was fortified. The boundary toward France was without defenses."

THE BIG REDUCTION IN PRICE

Is Selling These Pianos Rapidly At This Going Out of Business Piano Sale

Yesterday's eager and delighted buyers show what this sale means in the quality of the pianos and the big saving.

The short time allowed me, ten days only, to wind up the business here, means the lowest prices you will probably ever have on really good pianos. Today's special is an upright piano of well-known make and thoroughly dependable for $110, stool and scarf free, and delivery free within ten miles—and this is just one of the many such lifetime chances that this event offers to have a fine piano in your house.

DON'T DELAY.

Time is absolutely limited and there is no need for you to wait. Can now buy one for cash or make a small deposit and have one delivered free to your home.

In the stock you will find famous makes, some brand new, for example, $360 and $350 pianos, $187 and $215, $6 to $8 a month if you wish. Used pianos $90 upwards, as low as $5 a month. Wonderful, reliable player pianos—newest, most improved styles—regular prices $600 and $700, now $360 to $515. With each one we give a fine bench and a library of music.

OPEN EVENINGS.

Don't fail to call and at least examine the stock. It will pay you well to act at once and save a large part of the regular price and secure a fine piano. Open this evening, so don't put it off until too late.

PINE COUNTY DITCH WILL BE CONSTRUCTED

Pine City, Minn., June 4.—Engineer Buckley presented his report to the county board on County Ditch No. 4 which is projected in Norman town, showing that it will probably cost about $13,000 and will drain about 8,000 acres of land. The ditch is upward of two miles long and drains indirectly into Kettle river. L. C. Pedersen of Askov, Louis Erickson of Danforth and Joseph Zimmerman of Willow River were appointed as viewers and will report at the next meeting of the board.

WISCONSIN SENATE FOR JOHNSON BILL

Passes Measure Cutting Down Number of Department Commissions.

Madison, Wis., June 4.—The senate yesterday passed the Johnson bill consolidating four departments and commissions into one to be known as the state board of conservation and the Woodward bill reducing the amount of state aid for highway work from $1,200,000 to $800,000 annually.

After a long debate it advanced the Monk bill increasing the age of consent from 14 to 18 years. An attempt by Assemblyman Budlong to kill the bill failed by vote of 24 to 56.

Because four substitute bills were offered to the Van Gordon measure creating a central board of education the bill was laid over until Wednesday. The bill abolishing the present tax commission of three members and creating a tax commission of one member was taken up at last night's session.

Two Bills Killed.

The Johnson bill giving a county board of supervisors power to create a county board of education from its own membership was killed, as was the bill to exempt growing timber lands from taxation.

The senate finally passed the Hanson bill repealing the election pamphlet law and adopted a resolution for a senatorial investigation of the Wisconsin efficiency bureau and its publication known as "Everybody's business." Senators Skogmo, Arnold and Everett were appointed to conduct the inquiry.

The senate killed the Hambrecht bill throwing open the entire civil service eligible list for appointment.

NOTED NIGHT RESORT IN PARIS IS CLOSED

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Paris, May 17.—The Restaurant Baratte, famous night resort of the quarter of the Central Markets, has been closed and will probably never be reopened. No resort in this world was better known to high livers and pleasure-seekers of all climes.

London, June 4.—The Daily Telegraph's Rome correspondent says Pope Benedict is preparing a white book in which he will show the steps he took in support of peace.

MUST VACATE OR PAY RENT

Tenants in Condemned Buildings Liable, Says Supreme Court.

Tenants must vacate untenantable premises if they desire to avoid paying rent, according to a decision handed down by the Minnesota supreme court at St. Paul today. The opinion affirms the judgment of the St. Louis county district court in an action brought by Anton C. Weiss and George W. Buck to collect $1,350 from the Zenith Realty company as three months rent on the old St. James hotel property.

In July, 1913, the state fire marshal condemned the building and ordered it torn down. The owners of the building appealed from this order but attempted to have the premises vacated by the tenants. The Zenith Realty company, which held a lease, refused to vacate unless a $500 bonus was paid by the owners. The company had sublet the premises to several tenants.

The owners refused to accede to the demands of the realty company and after three months succeeded in ousting the subtenants by unlawful detainer proceedings. Suit was then instituted to recover rent for the months of August, September and October, 1913. The company denied its liability on the ground that the premises were untenantable.

When the case was brought to trial in the district court, the jury found for the defendants on the question of whether the building was untenantable or not, but the trial court granted the plaintiffs judgment for the three months rent notwithstanding the verdict for the defendant. From this judgment an appeal was taken to the supreme court.

In affirming the judgment of the lower court, the higher court also holds that the realty company had actual possession of the property during the three months in question because of the possession retained by its sub-tenants. Such possesion by the subtenants, the court held, subjected the lessee to the same liability as though the company were in actual possession.

William Harrison and William P. Harrison appeared in the case as attorneys for the plaintiffs, and Thomas J. McKeon and W. B. Phelps represented the Zenith Realty company, the defendant.

CHAUNCEY KUNG IS MEMBER OF Y. M. C. A.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Pekin, May 2—A descendant of Confucius is not only an active member of the Young Men's Christian association in Pekin but has entered the service of that association, which in China deliberately undertakes the propagation of Christianity. This descendant of the sage who lived on earth in the days before Christ, is a graduate of Cornell university. He bears the Chinese surname of Confucius, that is "Kung," and has adopted the English prefix of Chauncey.

It is not considered an extraordinary matter in China that a family record should be preserved for 2,000 years, and it is considered very bad form to boast of ancestry.

EPIDEMIC OF TYPHUS IN SERBIA STOPPED

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, May 17.—A semi-official telegram from Nish, Serbia, says:

"The epidemic of typhus has ceased and there are no new cases. The army has not been affected by the epidemic.

"The Serbian army has entirely recovered from the effects of its former efforts, and is now in excellent condition, ready for anything that may be demanded of it. It is now well and completely equipped, and its spirit is higher than ever."

BIG SHORTAGE IN SHIPMENTS

Grain Figures for May Show Immense Difference From Year Ago.

During the month just ended some sharp contrasts, when compared with the corresponding month of last year, are to be noticed. There is a heavy falling off in receipts of wheat and flax but not nearly so heavy as in the shipments. In shipments there is a remarkable change, wheat, for instance, being almost 5,000,000 bushels short of the shipments of a year ago, while the receipts are only about half a million bushels shy. In flax, while the amount in bushels is not so great, the percentage is much higher, for last year 472,525 bushels were shipped, against 414 bushels this year. Shipments have fallen off in every grain, wheat and flax suffering the most, however.

BIG INCREASE IN ORE SHIPMENTS

Last Year's Movement Largely Over-Shadowed to June 1.

During May the Duluth & Iron Range ore docks at Two Harbors shipped 1,202,247 tons of ore, as compared with 636,715 tons during the same month a year ago. This makes the total shipments from the Head of the Lakes for May, 3,939,456 tons against 1,595,341 tons a year ago, or with a margin in favor of May this year of 2,334,115 tons.

Up to the end of May there has been a considerable increase in the ore tons shipped out from the Head of the Lakes. This year's shipments amount to 4,335,729, while up to the end of May, 1914, the shipments amounted to only 1,682,227 tons, or 2,653,502 tons less.

While shipping of ore has slackened up a trifle, a good deal of it is going out, and it may be that the putting in of the new ore carrying rate by the roads at the first of this month may encourage the Independents to get busy. It is estimated that, figuring the ore movement will keep up its initial proportions, the aggregate for the season should be about 43,000,000 tons. Upper lake docks, all told, including those in Ashland, Marquette, and Escanaba shipped, during May, 5,012,367 tons of iron ore as compared with 3,852,083 tons in May, 1914. To June 1 the movement aggregated 5,516,189 tons as compared with 4,121,749 tons to June 1, 1914.

The June 1 and season movements of the last four years reduce the estimate to a matter of proportion. The figures follow:

Year.	June 1.	Season.
1911	4,019,366	32,137,056
1912	6,123,116	47,474,451
1913	8,161,051	49,158,966
1914	4,121,749	32,142,121
1915	5,516,189

DELAWARE'S CHIEF DYING

A telegram from Cincinnati, Ohio, announces that John E. Jordan, an engineer of the Anchor line fleet, is dying at his home there. Mr. Jordan has been sailing into this harbor for years and is one of the best known marine engineers on the lakes.

He has been chief engineer of the package freighter Delaware for several seasons, and started in her this season, but had to lay off two trips ago owing to sickness. The Anchor line officials here have not been aware that his illness had taken a serious turn. Mr. Jordan is about 60 years of age.

Tuscarora Injured.

Chicago, June 4.—The steel freighter Tuscarora crashed into a crib two miles from shore in a fog last night. A strip of the bow was buckled and before a tug could reach the boat, there was twelve feet of water in the forward compartment. The Tuscarora was towed back to harbor.

CLEAN-UP NOW COMPULSORY

Duluth now has an ordinance that makes the removal of garbage and rubbish compulsory. It was passed at a special meeting of the city council this morning, called for the purpose of passing the May payroll. The ordinance will go into effect on July 10.

In addition to passing the payroll, the council advanced the reading of several ordinances and also waived its exemption on the assessment for a drainage ditch proposed to drain land adjacent to the county and city work farm into Rice lake. This was also done by the county commissioners, so that the cost of the ditch will not have to be paid by a few property owners. The assessment against the city and county will amount to about $200.

The new garbage ordinance was introduced by Commissioner Silberstein and after given its third reading by City Clerk Borgen, it was adopted unanimously. Mayor Prince and Commissioners Voss, Silbertstein and Farrell were present.

An assessment roll bearing the charges against property so benefited must be prepared by the city assessor and certified by the council. Each owner has the privilege of making an appeal against an assessment.

The ordinance appropriating $23,000 for storm and sanitary sewers was passed.

An appropriation of $1,200 for the painting of the aerial bridge was authorized.

Ordinances appropriating $6,000 for water meters, $4,900 for water gates and boxes and $400 for the inspection of cast iron specials were passed.

Second reading was given the Silberstein ordinance prohibiting the use of headlights on automobiles and the ordinance appropriating $12,500 for the purchase of coal during the year beginning July 1.

REAL ESTATE WILL BE SOLD AT AUCTION

Interest of investors has been aroused over the auction sale of fourteen lots located on First street between Twenty-eighth avenue east, announced to be held tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The property is located in the highest grade residence section of the city, adjoining Congdon park. It is intimated by Stryker, Manley & Buck, and the N. J. Upham company under whose auspices the sale is being held, that every lot will be sold without reserve, irrespective of the figures bid for them and, on that assurance, it is expected that numbers of prospective investors will be attracted to the sale. The auction sale is a new departure in the method of disposing of Duluth realties, so the result of the venture will therefore be awaited with deep interest.

Tomorrow We Put on Sale the Largest and Finest Assemblage of Wash Goods Ever Shown in Duluth

The Glass Block Store

"The Shopping Center of Duluth"

Greatest Wash Goods Sale We've Ever Put On!

Thousands of Yards of Beautiful Wash Fabrics!

TOMORROW morning will see the opening of the greatest Wash Goods Sale in the history of the Glass Block—an event of greater importance, even, than last year's sale, because of a fortunate purchase by our buyer during the $2,500,000 sale in May of the combined stocks from the Ely & Walker Co. and the Hargadine-McKittrick Co., both of St. Louis.

THE GLASS BLOCK Annual Wash Goods Sale is always a great event; this year it is to be greater than ever. We've been favored by an opportunity which comes but rarely in a generation, the chance to purchase large quantities of seasonable merchandise at a surprising bargain. We shall offer you during this sale, without exception, the most remarkable values we've ever offered in Wash Goods. This is your big opportunity of the year.

What the Ely & Walker, Hargadine-McKittrick Sale Was!

This event, which attracted attention all over the United States, involved $2,500,000 worth of the choicest, most seasonable articles. The Ely & Walker Co., offered in May the entire stock of the Hargadine-McKittrick Co., amounting to $1,500,000, to which was added $1,000,000 worth of merchandise of their own, probably the largest offering of the kind ever made in this country.

Always alive to such big merchandise opportunities, the Glass Block sent its buyer, Mr. H. A. Bentson, to St. Louis to attend this sale.

Mr. Bentson purchased thousands of yards of seasonable Wash fabrics at a fraction of the actual cost of manufacture. (A typical example of Glass Block merchandising methods.)

25000 Yards of White Goods

Many Get Free Legal Aid.
Free legal aid was given more poor people of Duluth during May than ever before in the city's history, it is believed. The monthly report of Frank Hicks, probation officer and manager of the legal aid bureau, issued today, shows that 315 cases were handled during the thirty-one days. This is an increase of about 25 per cent from April. Fifty-two cases of claims for wages and twenty of public welfare are included in the list. There were also eleven cases involving contracts and thirteen to do with employment. Collections amounting to $563.85 were made and disbursed free of charge to claimants.

All Children's Hats One-Half Price.
Saturday at Sibbitt's, 5 West Superior street.

Courthouse Ball Schedule.
The courthouse ball team will play its annual game with a picked nine at the work farm tomorrow afternoon. The lineup of either team has not been announced as yet. The annual game between the married men and the single men of the courthouse will take place Saturday, June 12.

Temple Services.
Dr. Maurice Lefkovits will preach on "The Waters of Strife" at the regular Temple Emanuel services at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. These services are open to the public.

Will Improve Alley.
The members of the city commission made an inspection of Sixty-ninth alley this morning and it was decided to order it improved. There was an objection made against the improvement at the council meeting last week and the trip to Lester park was made for the purpose of finally settling the matter.

Shriners Will Plan Pilgrimage.
Local Shriners will meet at the Masonic temple this evening to make arrangements for the pilgrimage to the ceremonial to be given next Friday evening by Kem temple of Grand Forks and the annual convention of the order to be held at Seattle during the week of July 11. The meeting will start at 8 o'clock.

Friss Art Shop.
Framing pictures all this month at 25 per cent off. 401 E. Superior street.

Federal Employes Take "Vacation."
Members of the custodian's staff at the Federal building are now taking an eight-day lay-off in shifts. This is due to the fact that the last congress, during the press of many important legislative matters, failed to make an appropriation sufficiently large to cover the annual expenses of the department. The lay-off affects ten helpers, three women and seven men, including janitors, firemen, night-watchmen, etc. The same thing occurred many years ago, only the lay-off at that time was for two months.

Salaries Attached.
The May salaries of Assistant Fire Chief Granzow and Gerald Black, driver, were attached this morning by the sheriff's office in application of the judgment obtained by Leander Hulbert for the death of his infant child, caused by the chief's automobile over a year ago. Commissioner Voss announced today that the money would be held until instructions are received from the district court.

Mrs. Phelps' Father Dies.
Andrew Franklin, St. Louis, father of Mrs. Frank N. Phelps of this city, died at his home last night. Mrs. Phelps has been attending her father for several days and will remain in St. Louis until after the funeral, which will be held Sunday.

Choose Bitulithic Pavement.
Property owners along First street, between Twenty-eighth avenue east and Congdon park, met in Commissioner Farrell's office last evening and selected a bitulithic pavement for that thoroughfare. This morning Commissioner Farrell announced that he will introduce a resolution at the council meeting next week awarding the contract to the General Construction company on its bid of $24,985.57.

Want Rate Points United.
The St. Paul Association of Commerce has petitioned the state railroad and warehouse commission to unite St. Paul, Minnesota Transfer and Minneapolis as one rate point, under the amendment to the Cashman distance tariff law, passed by the last legislature, giving the commission such power. Prior to the passage of the Cashman act, these three points were regarded as one rate point, but the Cashman act changed conditions.

Duluthian Gets Patent.
Reports from Washington, D. C., this morning stated that Louis P. D'Autremont of Duluth had been granted a patent on a game board.

Has Run of Bad Luck.
Ben Lurye of Superior has run into a "bunch" of hard luck. Quitting his job on a merchant boat when told that his mother was dying, he hastened home, only to find that his mother was living, and that his trip had been unnecessary. Then, without money or a job, he applied at the naval recruiting office at Duluth for enlistment in the navy. Officer Peter Coyle had to reject him because of poor eyesight.

Thorough Reports Demanded.
Brief reports by city employes were condemned yesterday by Commissioner Silberstein of the safety division, who declared that in the future officials in his department must make their statements more thorough. By cutting their reports short, the commissioner said, the officials are making them of very little value.

Dairies in Good Condition.
All the cows in Duluth dairies are in good condition, according to the May report of Ernest Hedman, city milk inspector, submitted yesterday to Health Director Pahey. Inspector Hedman reports that the second quarterly report on dairies will be issued this month.

All Trimmed Hats One-third Off for Saturday, at Sibbitt's Millinery, 5 West Superior street.

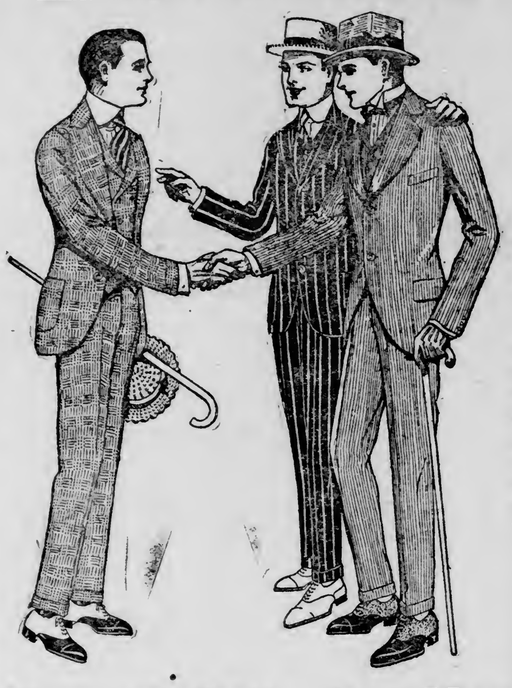

State Board Will Meet.
There will be a meeting at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 12, of the state board of electricity at the Kalamazoo hall, for the purpose of examining any applicants who may come before it.

Piano Manufacturer Here.
S. W. Raudenbush, president of the big Raudenbush & Sons Piano factory of St. Paul, arrived in Duluth yesterday. He and Mr. Gilluson, his Duluth manager, left for a week's auto tour of the ranges this morning. Mr. Raudenbush said that he expects to see considerable business activity in Duluth and on the range before winter.

Roller Towels Preferred.
Laborers in the cheaper hotels prefer roller towels to the sanitary kind, according to the May report of Joseph Pratts, city bakery inspector. For this reason, he states, hotel owners have in many instances failed to install the sanitary devices. The laborers claim that there is more wiping space on a roller towel and that it is extremely hard to wipe oneself dry on the paper kind.

JITNEY ORDINANCE WILL BE AMENDED

Commissioner Silberstein of the safety division declared this morning that the amendment to the jitney ordinance making hourly schedules and routes compulsory will be passed, despite the objections of the local jitney men.

At the special meeting of the council this morning the amendment was given its second reading, and it will come up for passage at the regular meeting next Monday evening.

"We have conceded practically everything in favor of the jitney drivers," said Commissioner Silberstein, "but this amendment must go through. Jitneys are public vehicles, and it is up to the council to see that the public gets service."

GERMAN PROFESSOR WILL LECTURE HERE

Prof. Bonn, head of the department of commerce of the University of Munich and exchange professor with the University of Wisconsin, will give an address to the Office Men's association at a luncheon to be held at the Spalding hotel tomorrow noon.

His topic will be "The Future of Our International Trade." Office men have extended invitations to the luncheon to members of the Commercial club, the Retail Merchants' association, the Rotary club and the Credit Men's association.

Those planning to attend have been asked to phone their reservations to J. Harris Trux, secretary to Mayor W. I. Prince.

LONG LIST OF NEW HOUSES

Building Inspector Says This Year's Record Has Never Been Equaled.

There are more dwellings being erected in Duluth this year than at any time in the last ten years, according to Building Inspector Kielley.

"There are very few large building jobs going on this spring," said Mr. Kielley this morning, "and yet our figures show that the permits issued for the last five months call for a total expenditure in construction work as large and even larger than in years past. This means that the money is being spent by the private citizen in building his own home.

"We issue on the average of three permits a day for new dwellings and that's a record that has never been equaled to my memory."

Three-Cornered Tragedy.

Just what disposition the authorities will make of the principals in a three-cornered tragedy in which Mrs. Anna Kostiano, age 25, and her two husbands are now involved has not yet been announced by Humane Agent John G. Ross, who is handling the case.

Mrs. Kostiano and her youngest child, a baby girl of six months, are being temporarily cared for at the municipal lodging house.

John Kostiano, the woman's first husband, who she says deserted her four years ago and refused to take her back after she had lived with another man, lives at 1021 West Michigan street. His doors, however, are closed to her.

Peter Kusteriek, who is alleged to have assumed the role of her "protector," is in the county jail awaiting trial on a serious charge preferred by a young girl at Virginia.

CARE OF WOUNDS

By DR. SAMUEL G. DIXON, Commissioner of Health for Pennsylvania.

The scratch of a poisoned ring was often sufficient to effectually dispose of an enemy during the Middle Ages. Such procedure is no longer fashionable and many people are careless in neglecting slight wounds not thinking them worthy of consideration.

It is easily possible for any cut or abrasion which is sufficient to draw blood to become infected with possible serious results. Not that one should worry over a cut finger or the like, but there are certain precautions which should be given to even the slightest wounds.

This is because through puncture, scratch or cut some of the many micro-organisms may find entrance and result in infection. As these little trouble makers are found everywhere and are apt to be on almost anything we touch it is obvious that some protection should be given any open wound.

First, however, the wound should be cleansed, preferably with water which has been boiled. After this is done some antiseptic should be applied. A 2 per cent solution of carbolic acid or tincture of iodine applied around the edge and directly in the cut will satisfactorily disinfect smaller wounds and can be easily obtained. A piece of sterile gauze or linen should then be applied.

The wound should not be hermetically sealed as many of the most dangerous infecting agents are those which only thrive when the air is shut away. Among these is the germ of the dreaded tetanus or lock-jaw.

It is wise for travelers, campers and vacationists to provide themselves with sterilized bandages before starting on a trip. These are put up in convenient and compact form and are a material aid in caring for wounds. In case sterile bandages are not at hand linen can be sterilized by pressing on both sides with a very hot iron or dipping in some antiseptic solution.

Deep cuts and wounds of a more serious nature should always be treated by a surgeon.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

TIM HURST, FAMOUS UMPIRE, IS DEAD

Pottsville, Pa., June 4.—"Tim" Hurst, the former major league baseball umpire, died suddenly at the home of a friend in Minersville today from an attack of indigestion. He was 54 years old.

Hurst was one of the best known sporting characters in the country. He entered baseball in one of the cities of the Southern league thirty-three years ago.

Hurst was known as a wit and for his ever-readiness to protect himself against attack. In his younger days Hurst was an all-around athlete and a star sprinter.

The officers of the czar's troops today are of a vastly different stamp from those who led the Russians against the Japanese. At the end of the disastrous war with Japan the Russian army was reorganized, and 32 per cent of the officers were eliminated from active service.

ALL PRODUCE PLENTIFUL

Strawberries Hold First Place; Prices Will Be Lower.

Green Vegetable Prices Going Down; Strong Demand for Butter.

Supplies of everything in the way of fruits and vegetables are considered to be the most liberal of the season so far on the local produce market today.

Strawberries still retain the premier position in the fruit list, but prices in them have been advanced slightly on account of Missouri being the only source of supply at present. Iowa berries are expected to arrive within a week and some arrivals from Washington are also looked for within the next few days. Lower berry prices will be in order as the source of supply works northward. Supplies have been affected through the spell of cold weather extending down through the South.

A big movement in oranges of late was reported by the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company, and the Culbertson Brothers' company. The extra demand is attributed to the comparatively high figures ruling in berries. The good quality of the new-season Valencia orange is also said to be stimulating its sale. Next week is likely to be the flush of the season in pineapples, with the lowest prices prevailing. Householders are advised by the trade to arrange for their preserving within the next few days. The grapefruit market is firm and higher prices are looked for. Quotations in bananas are expected to remain about on their present basis. Receipts of them are heavy and consumption is showing a seasonable increase.

Vegetables Cheaper.

Green vegetables of all kinds are more plentiful, and prices continue to work lower. Owing to the unusually wet and cold weather during May, marketings of home grown vegetables will be delayed this season, and they are not expected to cut much figure before three weeks yet. Texas tomatoes are being received in larger quantities by commission houses and their figures are lower. There has been a decline too in Texas onions, and new cabbage, also coming to hand from that state, is likely to be lower soon.

The feature in the vegetable list today is a jump in Minnesota potatoes quotations to 75 cents a bushel, and it is predicted that their figure will be marked up to $1 before supplies are cleaned up. New potatoes are now coming from Texas, and they are selling on a lower price basis.

Butter Market Firm.

A strong situation exists in the butter market, quotations in creamery appearing to be pegged at 28@30 cents a pound, at which it has ruled during the last two weeks. A strong Eastern demand on this market for butter was advised by the Bridgeman-Russell company, and the Victor Produce company, carlot shipments being made down that way upon the package freight steamers running between here and Buffalo. The call for butter to go into storage is heavy, and will continue so for the next four or five weeks. Dealers express the opinion that butter figures will remain about where they are for some time yet.

Quotations in eggs are also unchanged at 19@21 cents a dozen, and any material recessions in their market are regarded as unlikely. Consumption is reported heavy and, that with shipments being made from here to the East, is keeping supplies well cleaned up. Egg quotations are now about on a parity with a year ago.

There have been no price changes whatever in the poultry line. Receipts of live birds continue nominal, and frozen stocks are nearly cleaned up.

In meats, the market in lamb and mutton is easier to the tune of 2@3 cents a pound, but quotations in beef, veal and pork are unchanged.

CONTRACT OF FIFTY MILLIONS IS SIGNED

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Sydney, May 2.—Public works involving an expenditure of more than $50,000,000, including ten railway lines, two water conservation schemes, harbor works, and a canal project, are provided for in a single contract just signed by the New South Wales government with an Anglo-Australian contracting firm, Norton Griffiths & Co.

The contractors agree to finance the operations, which will be done in accordance with plans drawn up by the department of public works. The government will allow the firm a profit of 5 per cent on the entire cost of construction.

WOMEN CENSORS ARE FOUND INCOMPETENT

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, May 17.—Women have been found unsuitable for work as government censors in London. It is officially announced by the war office, that a number of women censors, hitherto employed, have been discharged "having been found either incompetent or unsuitable for the work."

Of the 551 censors now employed in inspecting mail from the continent, fifty-three are Belgians, seven are Russians, and four are French. The censors of British nationality number 480. Other nationalities represented are: Danes, 12; Dutch, 8; Norwegians 6; Portuguese, 3; Swedes, 3; Swiss, 2; Italians, 1; Spaniards, 1; Moroccans, 1.

DON'T USE SOAP ON YOUR HAIR

When you wash your hair, don't use soap. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

WILSON BOOM GIVEN START

Fred Lynch Says Roosevelt Will Be Choice of Republicans.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 4.—Fred B. Lynch, Democratic national committeeman from Minnesota, at a dinner in his honor attended by fifty Hennepin county Democrats at the Kaiserhof, said that at a recent meeting of prominent Democrats from all parts of the United States, it had been conceded that Theodore Roosevelt would win the Republican nomination for the presidency in 1916 and that with Woodrow Wilson as the Democratic nominee another victory was assured for Democracy.

The meeting was called primarily to "bury the hatchet" among the two Democratic factions in Hennepin county and to launch a boom for the reelection of President Wilson and Governor Hammond. A. L. Sorter, chairman of the Democratic state committee in 1914, was suggested as the Democratic candidate for mayor of Minneapolis in 1916.

Roosevelt Conceded Strong.

Mr. Lynch said that at this meeting, which had taken place in an eastern city, those present had told of the

FRED B. LYNCH.

Republican situation in their states. Mr. Lynch said that he told them Roosevelt would carry Minnesota against any man the Republicans could put up. Root, Borah or Cummins would not stand a show against the Colonel. Roger Sullivan of Chicago was at the meeting and according to Mr. Lynch predicted that Roosevelt would win in Illinois at the primary by 100,000 against any other Republican not even excepting Mann. Tom Taggart, Mr. Lynch said, asserted that not even Fairbanks could win from Roosevelt in Indiana. In Ohio it was thought Roosevelt would defeat Burton. Representatives from Michigan, Iowa, Nebraska and other states thought that Roosevelt would be the Republican choice. In New York, alone, Mr. Lynch said, it was thought Root could win.

"Mr. Wilson is not desirous of getting the Democratic nomination," Mr. Lynch said. "But if it is offered to him unanimously, he will accept, but he will not fight for the place."

G. O. P. Declared Split.

Mr. Lynch said that the Republican party was split hopelessly and that it would be years before the differences would be adjusted. He said that party is in the same position now that the Democrats were for sixteen years. There are the progressive and conservative Republicans and if a conservative should be nominated many of the Progressives would vote for Mr. Wilson, because of his progressive leanings, Mr. Lynch said.

In regard to the contest for United States senator in 1916, Mr. Lynch said that there would be a host of Republican candidates giving the Democrats a wonderful opportunity. "Unless the nationality question enters into the race too strongly," he said, "Clapp or any other Republican can be defeated as easily as Lee was last fall."

Mr. Lynch, in explaining the patronage problem, said that he regretted there were not more places to fill. He said that outside of the postmasterships in the first, second and third classes, there were only 46 positions in the state not under civil service. He said he believed 19 out of 20 voters, Democratic and Republican alike, believe in it. Mr. Lynch said that the handing out of the "plums" was the hardest thing he had ever undertaken. In every case except one or possibly two, he had abided by the wish of the Democratic organization in the various counties. Because Hennepin county was divided he had tried to split the places between the two factions, but that he often looked to Mr. Sorter for advice. Mr. Lynch said that E. A. Purdy was appointed Minneapolis postmaster on the recommendation of Chairman McCoombs of the Democratic national committee.

No Move to Start Campaign.

Although the candidacies of Wilson and Hammond were indorsed there was no move made to start campaign outside of the "patronage" matter, which was only suggested. Each one of the fifty present gave his views on the Democratic situation and promised to take a leading part in the campaign. The glories of Democracy were extolled and other principles of other parties ridiculed.

Senator John Pauly said that Democrats were a party of principles and the Republicans a party of policy and the one aim of the Republicans was to achieve the policy. "Democratic policies are so grand that other parties have had to steal some of them and label them with other names," he said.

Harmony One of Themes.

Harmony was one of the themes of the meeting. There was little mention of the famous split in the Hennepin committee last fall. All said they had forgotten the troubles and were willing to fight shoulder to shoulder. Just before the meeting adjourned A. W. Benson suggested a permanent party organization. No action was taken. The old Clark, Wilson, Hammond or Lawler Democrats were all Democrats now, he said, and it was time to get together.

A telegram was sent to President Wilson as follows:

"The Jefferson and Jackson Democrats of Hennepin county, at a peace conference, by unanimous resolution commend the noble stand you have taken in favor of human rights for all neutral countries and especially for your firm resolution to maintain neutrality in the United States with dignity and honor."

HELP IS NEEDED FOR AMERICANS

American Board's Stations in Turkey Asking Relief Funds.

Boston, Mass., June 4.—A news dispatch coming by way of Petrograd announces the occupation of the city of Van, near Lake Van in Eastern Turkey, by the Russians. If this report is true, as it quite probably is, it will bring relief to many friends of the Americans in Van and to the great numbers of Armenians in this country, whose friends or relatives have been besieged by the Turks in a portion of the city, have sought the protection of the American mission, or have been hunted from their homes and perhaps killed by their ancient enemies, the Kurdish troops in Turkey's army.

The Americans in Van are principally those on the staff of the American board's mission there. They include Miss Grisell M. McLean and Miss Gertrude Rogers, two Mt. Holyoke graduates; Miss Caroline Silliman of Connecticut, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Usher, in charge of the Van hospital, and Miss Elizabeth H. Ussher, Rev. and Mrs. Ernest A. Yarrow, Miss Grace H. Knapp and Miss S. L. Bond, the latter a nurse and superintendent of the hospital; and Mrs. Raynolds, the wife of Dr. George C. Raynolds, president of Van college, and for forty-five years a missionary physician for both bodies and souls at Van.

Dr. Raynolds, to his great grief, is held in America where he was traveling in the interests of the college when the war broke out.

The state department reported to the American board, a few days ago, a cable from Ambassador Morgenthau to the effect that the Turkish minister of the interior had just sent, in the ambassador's presence, a wire to the Turkish governor in Van ordering him to protect all Americans and American interests, so that the anxiety felt for these missionaries is not because of personal danger. They are, however, probably, in great need of money and supplies wherewith to relieve the suffering around them.

A good deal more than $100,000, mostly in small sums, has been forwarded through the American board's treasury by Armenians and members of other Turkish races in this country to their families in Turkey. A few days ago Secretary Barton received, through the state department at Washington, a cable from Ambassador Morgenthau reading, "All stations begging relief funds. Some say starvation threatens. Please help quickly." In view of the urgency of this appeal and influenced also by the appalling suffering and destitution revealed by statements in letters just in which got by the censors, the American board has decided to open a public relief fund. Subscriptions may be sent, marked "For Relief in Turkey," either to Frank H. Wiggin, 14 Beacon street, Boston; or to Brown Brothers, 59 Wall Street, New York, N. Y. Gifts will be promptly cabled to Turkey and relief will begin at once.

FRECKLES

Now Is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as the prescription othine—double strength — is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from Boyce drug store or any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

JEWELS OF GREAT VALUE ARE STOLEN

Queen of Feudal State of India Loses Gems Worth $250,000.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Calcutta, India, May 2.—A reward of $10,000 has been offered for information leading to the recovery of jewels worth $250,000 stolen from the maharani (queen) of the feudal state of Cooch Behar.

The maharani's marriage, in 1913, was a world-wide sensation for a day. The wedding was originally fixed to take place in India in May, but through racial objections by the bride's parents it was cancelled almost at the last moment and the bride was taken to England. The would-be groom followed her there, overcame the parental objections, and insisted upon being married, then and there, in a prossic government registry office in London.

Preceding the marriage the bride was received into the Brambho Samaj, the groom's religion, at the Buckingham Palace hotel. During this service incense was burned and music was produced on conch shells by Indian musicians. A marriage according to the native rites was later performed at the hotel, the bride changing her European dress for the pink and gold saree of India, and the prince wearing a native white costume and turban. The wedding cake was cut with the state sword of Cooch Behar.

A week after the wedding the reigning maharajah died suddenly and the bridegroom became ruling monarch of the state. His two sisters are married to two Englishmen and brothers, Alan and Lionel Mander.

MOVEMENT TO AID ORPHANS AFTER WAR

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Paris, May 17.—One outgrowth of the movement called "Orphans of the War," is a national French association for "Protection of Families of Those Who Have Died for Their Country." One section of this association is called "Protection of the Fireside," and in this section another association has developed under the name of "The Fraternal Union of Children of the Great War."

This association invites every child in France belonging to a family in easy circumstances to adopt as brother or sister a little boy or girl of the same age, and if possible having the same Christian name, whose father has been killed in face of the enemy. The object of this adoption is not to separate the child from its mother, but to provide means to aid the mother in the proper bringing up and education of the child, while at the same time surrounding it with all the security and comfort of family life.

This patriotic movement is under the direction of Monsieur Fleurens, former minister of foreign affairs.

AMERICAN OFFER OF SHELLS IS REFUSED

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, May 17.—That the British government recently refused an American offer to supply 5,000,000 shells at lower prices than are now being paid, was admitted by the war office in the house of commons this week. "The offer was refused for reasons unconnected with the price," said the war office representative, adding: "It would not be in the public interest to disclose the reasons."

APPEAL NOT TO THE FEET

Music Meant for the Heart and Soul, Says Oberhoffer.

OBERHOFFERISMS.

"Music must appeal more than to the feet of people; it should appeal to both the heart and soul.

"The Tired Business Man will find that a Beethoven symphony will act as a sedative to the nerves, did he but take the trouble to listen to it in the proper mood.

"We have to give something to receive anything; we cannot make love reluctantly, and we cannot listen to music in an indifferet mood and appreciate it.

"Music has endured throughout the ages because it is a necessity and not a luxury. The people of the United States are gradually growing to an understanding of the need of music in their lives.

"We should prepare for the reception of music as we prepare for other things of life. Music has a most wonderful message when we are in the proper receptive mood."

One of the first remarks made by Emil Oberhoffer this morning was that he and the members of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra were going to give the very best in themselves to the people of Duluth.

"We feel that you people here are part of us—as if we were one big family," said Mr. Oberhoffer.

Like other great musicians Herr Oberhoffer is looking for the great American composer. "With a spy glass I am searching for him," he says.

The leader of the famous Minneapolis Symphony orchestra was asked if there was a growing appreciation of the better class of music in the United States.

"Most certainly," was his unhesitating reply. "In the last decade there has been a remarkable increase in the appreciation of the best music.

"In many of the university towns of the country the program to be played by an orchestra is studied in advance. This is an encouraging sign and one that it always a delight to the leader of an orchestra. It means greater sympathy and greater appreciation upon the part of his auditors."

Wendell Heighton, manager of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, declares that Glenn Dillard Gunn, foremost Chicago musical critic, pronounced Mr. Oberhoffer in the interpretation of the Rachmaninoff symphony was the greatest illustration of interpretative art he had listened to in a lifetime.

"Also," said Mr. Heighton, "the editor of the Musical Courier declared that outside of the Boston Symphony orchestra the Minneapolis Symphony was the greatest in America.

"In New York city the musical critics told us that there was nothing like us in their city—and you know New York is always rather proud of its own institutions."

MAKES THE FIGHTERS DISCONTENTED AT WAR

The Lean-Faced Man Tries to Convince Peasant Soldiers That They Can Stop the War By Arranging a Truce With Foes.

Kansas City Times: Ernest Poole, a young New Yorker, author of the popular "Harbor," which has run through six editions in the six weeks since it appeared, has been war corresponding, too, and he has written a war story for the masses which gains added interest from being a true rather than a fiction story.

With a rush, some six or eight peasant soldiers scrambled into the compartment. They were wet and muddy and worn. In less than five minutes they sat with mouths open, fast asleep, all but one. He did not look like a peasant—he looked more like a factory hand. There was something so lean and hungry, so intensely eager in his eyes. He did not notice me watching him, for with an almost strained intensity he was studying the faces of these peasant comrades with whom he had been thrown. He seemed to study them one by one.

We stopped at a station and they all awoke. The group began to talk. There was talk of trenches, of deep mud and water, and some one told of a bayonet charge in which he had killed ten Frenchmen. Then followed some jokes about a spade. Someone in the German trenches, it seemed, held up a spade every morning and presently from the French trenches an answering spade appeared, whereupon both French and Germans climbed out of their holes, and there was a truce of ten minutes—one of the toilet arrangements of the war.

A Careful Beginning.

Finally somebody wondered how long the war was going to last. Then the lean-faced man, the watcher, began to talk to these comrades, whose faces he had studied so carefully, too. "We're a hard crowd of fellows to beat," he declared, and to this the others promptly agreed. "But so are the French and the English," he added, "and I think the war will last for years. And when it is over what will we get out of it?"

He talked about war taxes. He asked each peasant what tax he had paid on his farm before the war. Then he said the taxes would be doubled for years to come, and the longer the war lasted, the longer and the heavier would be the taxes to be paid. "But that is not our kaiser's fault," said a stout, good-natured peasant. "It is the fault of England and the French and Russians. Don't you know they started the war, the devils?"

"Their governments did," said the lean-faced man. "But I've talked with some of those fellows when we took them prisoners. The French are good fellows, like ourselves."

"Yes, they are good fellows," the good-natured peasant agreed.

"They did not start the war. In Russia, the czar, he started it off, because the workingmen up in Petersburg were making him trouble; they even had barricades in the streets. So he started the war to stop their strikes. In France it was the fat Catholic priests and all the rich people who want a king. In England, I read in the papers, they have had a hard time to get the workingmen to enlist."

Blame War on Rich.

"They are cowards," said a peasant.

"Yes, but they did not start the war. I tell you this war was started by a lot of fat rich people. We are the fellows who have to get killed. If we don't get killed, by God, we will have to pay war taxes! And think of the widows we'll have to help. All the fellows who are killed are leaving in every village widows and little brats who will have to be fed. The villages will have to feed them. That will mean more taxes. The longer all this fighting goes on, the more taxes we will have to pay."

All the faces were gloomy now. The good-natured peasant tried to joke, but got no response. "Well, we're in for it," somebody growled.

"All the same," said the lean-faced man, "I'll be glad when there's peace. I'll be glad when we all jump up out of the trenches, and all the French fellows do the same, and we will run across and shake hands with each other."

"That will be fine," said the good-natured peasant. "We'll do it as soon as the war is over."

"Some fellows have done it," the speaker replied.

"What?"

"Some fellow told me that where he was our men held up spades, and the French did the same, and then they ran out and shook hands. They did like this at the trenches." He made a face at which they all laughed. But the laugh soon stopped, and there was a tense silence.

"You can't do that to your officers," growled one man uneasily.

"It's a lie and never happened," said another peasant. "You are just making it up."

"Perhaps it is a lie," said the speaker, "but that is what the fellow said." He threw a vigilant glance along the row of faces.

Proposing a Truce.

"When you come to think of it," he continued quietly, "it is not so bad what those fellows did. You must obey your officers, because this is war, and if we fellows didn't obey, everything would be all mixed up—and the French would charge and kill us all. But if whole regiments everywhere jumped out of the trenches, as he said, and all the Frenchmen did the same, and we met in the middle of the field, then there would be no war no more, and no more need of officers."

There was a long, uneasy silence. "I don't like this talk," muttered the good-natured peasant. "It is not good to talk of this." "You are right, brother," another growled. "You will get us all into trouble," he said, turning angrily to the speaker. "Look out!"

"Oh, there's no trouble," the speaker replied. "I just told you what the fellow said. Perhaps he was wrong and perhaps he was right. Let's talk about something else instead."

* * * The lean-faced man had resumed his paper with a relieved expression as though he had put through his job for the day.

RICHEST IN THE WORLD.

Baltimore American: New York City has just completed the revaluation of her assessable properties and fixed the tax rate, or, rather the taxrates, as there is a different rate in each borough. The thing that strikes attention is the size of the taxable basis. It aggregates for this year $8,108,764,237 in real estate valuations alone. In the Manhattan borough the tax rate for this year is $1.87, in Brooklyn $1.92, in the Bronx $1.94, in Queens $1.95 and in Richmond $2.24. New York will collect over $160,000,000 from real estate taxes this year not to mention the receipts from franchise privileges and other sources, and will have a use for all the money paid into the municipal treasury. To pay the interest on her bonded debt alone will call for about $30,000,000.

New York is, beyond a reasonable doubt, the richest city in the world. It is difficult to draw comparisons between New York and London in matter of finance, because real estate valuations seem to be on a different theory of estimates in the two cities. Whittaker's almanac gives the rateable valuation of real estate in greater London under the 1914 assessment as $508,396,910. This rating must be regarded as only nominal. The gross debt of London, as stated in Whitaker, was at the end of last year £86,620,000, or, in dollars, $432,600,000. This is about $325,000,000 less than the debt being carried by New York. The city's expenditures for all purposes in the British metropolis last year seems to have been less than $57,000,000—or scarcely more than one-third the outgo indicated in the New York budget statement.

THE DOG TEAM.

Outing: Now the modus operandi of a dog team is as follows: The leader and wheel dog are the whole works on the basis of 75 to 25. The leader starts 'em, he stops 'em, he picks the trail, he turns 'em. When he walks, the rest do, when he gallops, they gallop. All the wheel dog does is to guide the nose of the sled, materially assisted by the driver. The rest of the team merely pull and yelp.

From which follows that a good leader is a very desirable thing to have and a poor leader is worse than useless. The driver, at the handlebars, is often thirty feet from the leader, the dogs being driven tandem and controlled by word of mouth and a whip.

Annual June Sale of 1915--Model Charming Underdressings

Style

Styles change in undermuslins and every whim of fashion is indicated in our showing.
Skirts are a bit wider than last season—had to be, since frocks are. Corset covers are again in favor and the "nighties," and "Betties," and "panties" also have style touches that are decidedly new—and there are quantities of them, too.
While our counters are so heaped with white garments as to look like veritable snowbanks, there are also flesh-pink undergarments which will be most unobtrusive under the sheerest bodices.

Ten Styles $1.25 Gowns, Special, 98c, During the June White Sale.

The Truth in Business

The chief attribute of genius for successful retail merchandising is Love of Truth.

Truth in buying, truth in selling, and above all, Truth in advertising induces confidence, which brings customers. Truthful advertising can only be built on truthful merchandising.

Truth in advertising, in this store, means first the absence of all exaggerated and misleading statements, and, second, complete frankness and accuracy in all descriptions and statements about merchandise.

All advertising of this store may be read with perfect confidence because of faithful adherence to the simple principles of Truth.

WILL ACCEPT CO-OPERATION

St. Louis County Board Would Join Carlton in Road Development.

Commissioner Kauppi Says Carlton Has Not Encouraged Judicial Highway.

If the county board of Carlton county shows a desire to co-operate with St. Louis county in the construction of the proposed judicial highway on the county line between Solway township and the St. Louis river north of Cloquet, the St. Louis county board will accede to the wishes of Carlton county business men by constructing the Crosby road, which will connect the Saginaw and Grand Lake districts with a direct outlet to Cloquet.

Charles Kauppi, commissioner from the Fifth district, so stated this morning when he was shown a letter received by The Herald from State Senator Fred D. Vibert of Cloquet with reference to the delay in the construction of the proposed highway from Saginaw to the county line.

Help Judicial Highway.

According to Commissioner Kauppi, the construction of the proposed judicial highway in this district has not received any encouragement or support from the Carlton county board, although it has already been officially established by the district court. Mr. Kauppi said that he is willing to see the Crosby road built, providing Carlton county will co-operate with this county in the matter of constructing the judicial highway.

The judicial highway will, if built, furnish the farmers of Industrial and Solway townships with a direct outlet to Proctor and West Duluth in this county and to Cloquet in Carlton county. As proposed, the thoroughfare will traverse the line between the two counties from the southeast corner of the town of Solway, westerly to the St. Louis river north of Cloquet. It will open up all of the southerly portion of Solway township and the easterly part of Industrial township in this county to Duluth and Cloquet.

Ordered By Court.

The judicial highway has already been ordered by the district court. It is planned to construct about two and one-quarter miles this year. It is six miles long.

The road sought by the Carlton county merchants is a north and south road from the Saginaw settlement to a point on the county line three miles east of the Cloquet river, where it will connect with a road which has been built by Carlton county. It is about six miles from Saginaw to the county line.

SUPERIOR

Will Mandamus Officials.

Citizens of Superior representing the recallers this morning made a formal demand on City Clerk McKeague to have the petitions for the recall of Mayor Konkel certified. The city clerk refused to comply with this request. It is now proposed to compel the city officials to certify to the petition through mandamus proceedings in the courts.

Building More Active.

Building in Superior is again becoming active. During the month of May there were forty-four permits issued for a total valuation of $122,440. The largest of these permits was that issued to the Standard Oil company for two new oil tanks to be built at a cost of $50,000. A year ago the amount of the permits totaled $362,261. This sum included a permit of $75,000 for the construction of the Superior normal school.

Naughton Jury Hung.

The jury in the case of Joseph Naughton, whose trial on a charge of falsifying election returns has been in court during the past week, is still out. After deliberating on the question for twenty-seven hours no decision has been reached. The jury is said to be hopelessly split. In the first trial the jury was out twenty-four hours before the members were discharged by the court.

OUR COLLEGES IN REVOLUTIONARY DAYS

From "French Memories of Eighteenth-Century America," by Charles H. Sherrill, in Scribner's magazine:

That our colleges were performing a great and a patriotic service for the rising generation, and therefore for the future of the nation, was the unanimous opinion of our observers, who realized how potent was their agency for good. Chastellux, in one of his quaint moods, even goes so far as to credit the College of William and Mary with a "miracle, that is to say, that it made me a doctor of law!" An agreeably modest way of saying that on May 1, 1872, they presented him with an honorary degree. Before further consideration of colleges and college life, there is a serious admission to make, which to some readers will prove a disheartening one, viz., that, except for Brissot's comment that Harvard's "surroundings are charming, open, and extensive, with space for the young men's exercise" there is absolutely nothing in all these memoirs to indicate that athletic sports even existed in American colleges. What a dreadful exposition of the inadequacy of early college life! How much times have changed can be seen by reflecting that in order to fill the sixty-seven thousand seats of the new stadium at Yale university (locally styled "the bowl") it would have taken more than the combined population of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, which were then respectively 20,000, according to Robin, Pontgibaud, and Mandrillon. This is not the place to set out what the French thought of our boxing, the only athletic game they deign to mention, but at the best only brief excerpts could be used, as the descriptions are far too untidy with gore for quotation in full anywhere but in a butcher's shop.

To the patriotic stand taken by all our colleges many glowing tributes are paid, and in these encomiums the students share equally with their instructors.

WELSH BOATS SENT DOWN

Two Trawlers Sunk By Submarines; Several Men Killed.

Fishermen Kept on Board Submersible and Put on Another Boat.

London, June 4.—Two Welsh trawlers have been sunk by German submarines, the Hlorld of Cardiff and the Victoria of Milford. The Hlorld was sent to the bottom about 150 miles southwest of Lundy island and the Victoria 135 miles from St. Ann's head.

Several men on board the Victoria were killed by shells from the submarine. The remainder of the ship's company and the crew of the Hlorld have landed at Milford.

Huddlestone, a member of the crew of the Victoria, who was seriously injured, said the submarine, the U-34 fired at the trawler. The men on board thought the shot came from a patrol boat which was engaged with a submarine. Then a shot smashed a small boat and the crew realized that the submarine was after the trawler. A boy of 13 was put on the bridge and the crew proceeded to lash a life raft together for use in case of necessity.

Another shot, according to Huddlestone, struck the bridge, killing the boy. Then the skipper came forward and was talking to a member of the crew, when a shell came and killed both of them. The men then scrambled upon the raft and the submarine pulled them on board. The officer of the submarine, according to Huddlestone, told the men that if they had stopped they would not have been fired on. The fishermen were kept aboard the submarine all night and the following morning were put aboard a small boat belonging to another trawler.

The submarine then sank the Victoria with a bomb.

lessness, vigilance committees, made up of Mexicans and foreigners, are reported to have brought order by drastic methods. Men, women and children participated in the riots.

According to an American passenger who reached here today, the last Villista train left Monterey May 18. With the departure of the last of the Villa forces, the starving people started out in large bodies to loot bakery, grocery and butcher shops. In some cases efforts were made to purchase food from small merchants, but the exorbitant prices demanded and the request that payment be made in gold or silver virtually fostered violence.

Begin Attack.

After satisfying their hunger and looting liquor establishments, the mobs, it is said, began to attack general mercantile establishments, usually of the smaller class, for the larger were too well guarded to warrant successful attack. Many small establishments were completely cleaned of their contents.

Prior to evacuation orders were given that looters be shot down and this was done in several instances, both by the police and the vigilance committees.

When the Constitutional forces entered the city and took control of the situation the mob is said to have requested permission to loot. This was denied and orders were issued to shoot down any one guilty of vandalism.

Trying to Pacify City.

The Constitutionalist forces at Monterey are estimated at from 3,000 to 5,000 and are endeavoring to pacify the city and bring about normal conditions.

Several carloads of food supplies have been received from the American Red Cross and have been distributed under the supervision of American Consul General Hanna, in part alleviating distressing conditions. Further food supplies are expected.

There has been a large exodus of natives, free transportation being furnished to the border by the military authorities.

Merchants of Monterey who desire to come to the border for the purpose of replenishing their exhausted stocks in trade are being favored with free transportation and remission of customs duties.

AUSTRO-GERMANS MOVING ON LEMBERG

the Germans themselves should begin a serious offensive movement in France or Belgium.

French Statement.

Paris, June 4, 2:40 p. m.—The French war office today gave out the following statement on the progress of hostilities:

"To the east of the sugar refinery of Souchez our troops, advancing in the direction of Souchez village, captured an isolated wayside tavern, where the enemy had established a position. We made about fifty men prisoners and captured three machine guns.

"Our troops furthermore made fresh progress in 'the labyrinth.'

"Along the rest of the front there have been artillery exchanges."

The text follows:

"Twenty-nine French aeroplanes between 4 and 5 o'clock this morning bombarded the headquarters of the imperial crown prince. They dropped 178 shells, many of which reached the mark, and several thousand darts.

"All the machines were subjected to a severe cannonade, but they all returned unscathed.

"There is nothing else to report except progress of our troops in the labyrinth to the southeast of Neuville-St. Vaast."

Capture of Przemysl.

Austria-Hungary Headquarters, June 4, via London.—Przemysl's recapture by Austrian and Bavarian troops, according to details received from the front, resulted from the capture of five forts in the northern sector and the simultaneous threatening of the forts on the south and west fronts.

With the forts on the north side in the possession of the besiegers, with a Bavarian corps pressing impetuously through the breach against the city and with the Austrian Tenth army corps within storming distance of the southern and western forts, which artillery fire already had reduced sufficiently for attack, the Russians decided to evacuate the town and all the forts except those on the eastern and southeastern sectors. This movment was executed by the Russians during Wednesday night.

The Bavarians resumed their attack at dawn on Thursday and entered Przemysl upon the heels of the retiring Russians.

The Austrian Tenth army corps simultaneously started toward the west and south fronts, but found the forts there had been evacuated. An attack now is in progress at the forts held by the Russians, those positions being defended apparently with the object of covering the retirement of the Russians.

DIES FOLLOWING OPERATION

Mrs. William S. Bowie, age 21 years, 324 West Third street, died this morning at 2 o'clock following an operation for goiter. The young woman has been ill for about five weeks, and the operation was performed last night. She failed to rally from the shock.

Mrs. Bowie was very well known in Duluth and was a native of the city. Her maiden name was Sadie Saxine. She was graduated from the Central high school in the class of 1913, and shortly afterwards was married to Mr. Bowie, who is connected with the Stacy-Merrill Fruit company. A 6-months-old baby is left motherless by her death, and she is survived also by her husband, her mother, Mrs. A. Saxine of 324 West Third street, and two sisters and a brother, Alice, Ruth and Frederick Saxine, all of Duluth.

Funeral arrangements will not be made until tomorrow.

MRS. WILLIAM S. BOWIE.

MACCABEES

Members of Duluth Tent, No. 1, are requested to attend the funeral of Sir Knight John Widding, Saturday, 2 p. m., Norwegian Lutheran church, Sixth avenue east and Fifth street. L. BERINI, Com.

FALL OF PRZEMYSL IS WILDLY CELEBRATED

also were called on to supply needed materials, and everything was rushed in and set up with feverish haste. The middle forts were used to this end and the Jewish population was compelled to evacuate the city. Siege operations on the part of the Austrians and German forces were necessary because the Russians, during their two months' occupation, had in a measure restored the fortification.

Climax on Sunday.

Continuing, the Vossische Zeitung's correspondent says the artillery attack reached its climax on Sunday, when the forts were literally sprayed with shells. The moment the German commanders noticed a slackening of the Russian gun fire, storming operations were begun.

The Russians defended themselves until the last moment. They had no time to rescue any guns or material. No details are as yet available as to the material captured or number of men taken prisoners.

In an editorial article the Vossische Zeitung declares that the Russian menace in Austria-Hungary has been broken forever and that Russia has been deprived of its dearest wish, the possession of Galicia, which was to have become a new Russia.

More Lines to Pass.

The Lokal Anzeiger publishes a special dispatch that the Russian lines on the eastern and southeastern sides of Przemysl, in the direction of Medyka and Siedliska, have not yet been passed. It claims that the Russians are using reserves advanced in years and youths of the 1917 class throughout all Galicia in their desperate attempts to get a breathing spell. The Russians still are fighting stubbornly south of the Dniester and along the banks of the River San.

The Morganposo says the victory shows that the strength of the Austro-Germans has not been broken and cannot be broken.

The Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung declares this victory is a deed, the glory of which will go down in history.

Other papers hail the fall of Przemysl as an indication of the end of Russian dominance in Galicia and proof of eventual victory everywhere. They are particularly gratified that the stronghold fell before the Austro-German attacks in fewer days than it took the Russians months to capture it.

New York city. Whether he is an American citizen is unknown. He carried in addition to the official documents signed by representatives of the allies' governments, official papers signed by American, German and Austrian authorities, the nature of which was not ascertained today. It was assumed, however, that the German and Austrian documents were his credentials to the German government.

At the Ritz Carlton hotel, where Count Bernstorff stays when in New York, it was said today that Mr. Gerhard had been registered there, but had left yesterday, saying that he was going to Washington. His quarters at the hotel were still being held for him today.

To Outline Situation.

The personal emissary of Count von Bernstorff will lay before Emperor William and high officials of the German government the substance of what the ambassador learned from President Wilson in his talk Wednesday, the true state of public opinion in the United States toward the German government, and the American point of view on submarine warfare. The ambassador in his interview, it became known, said he would send a man of judgment and breadth to personally outline the situation to the German government.

The ambassador is understood to have explained that he has had difficulty on account of cable censorship of making his government realize the feeling in the United States, and that erroneous reports had reached Germany. President Wilson's emphasis on the fact that the United States would omit no word or act to secure an acquiescence in its position in the Lusitania case was described by the ambassador in a memorandum which he has transmitted to his government. He saw Secretary Bryan for a few minutes and is said to have given him this memorandum, to be delivered through Ambassador Gerard to the German foreign office. At the state department the ambassador also learned that arrangements had been made for the safe conduct of his spokesman.

American Shipbuilding.

Washington, June 4.—American shipbuilding during May aggregated 173 vessels with a total of 19,494 tons, made up mostly of small wooden, steam vessels. Nine ships, with an aggregate tonnage of 27,743 were added to the merchant fleet from other sources.

STEEL HAS SHARP RISE

scure specialty to show a sensational rise, advancing 8 points over yesterday.

Trading slackened toward the end of the first hour, but the turnover in that time exceeded 400,000 shares. Profit-taking continued, with the result that some early gains were altogether lost while others were reduced to minor fractions. Steel held better than other leaders, yielding less than half its gain. Harvester, American Can and Distillers fell 11, 5 and 3½ points, respectively from their high prices.

Appeal Expected.

Washington, June 4.—The full opinion of the Federal court deciding against the government in the Steel corporation suit was laid today before Attorney General Gregory, who examined it briefly before going to the cabinet meeting.

While officials of the department of justice would not say whether an appeal would be taken, it was generally expected that it would be carried to the supreme court.

GERMANY'S REPLY NOT CONSIDERED AS RESPONSIVE

allies, is the man. He is an attache of the German colonial office and has been in the United States several months representing the German Red Cross. He goes to Berlin to present first hand the views of the American government as Count Bernstorff got them from President Wilson. Difficulties of communication through the war zones, the German embassy feels, have deprived the Berlin foreign office of a full light on the American position.

Germans Confident.

The dispatch of the envoy was the basis of much confidence in German quarters here, where it was believed an understanding on submarine warfare satisfactory to both Germany and the United States could be evolved. His task, however, is realized as a difficult one because feeling among German officials and people, according to reliable advices here, has been that the American government was seeking to deprive Germany of its chief weapon of offense—the submarine.

The day's cabinet meeting began with all members practically agreed that the United States cannot consider the German reply responsive and must insist, before the diplomatic correspondence can proceed further, upon an affirmative or negative answer to the principle that lives of non-combatants cannot lawfully be imperiled on the high seas, but must be transferred to safety before a legitimate prize is destroyed.

On Same Plane.

The purpose of the United States is to keep its rejoinder on the same plane as the note of May 13—to ascertain definitely whether Germany will be guided by the principles of law and humanity. Should a negative answer be received diplomatic relations, it generally is believed, could not be continued. An affirmative reply would be in the nature of a guarantee against further violations of American rights in the war zone and would make possible a discussion of the facts in individual cases that have occurred.

The American point of view, briefly, is not the complete abandonment of submarine warfare, but its modification to such an extent as would make submarines act as do other warships in dealing with the enemy's commerce. Some arrangement whereby merchant ships carrying passengers would be definitely known as unarmed vessels is one of the proposals which it is generally suggested might make the submarine able to exercise the right of visit and search.

Following the cabinet meeting the members were unusually reticent but there were some indications that the note had not finally been disposed of.

"We reached no final conclusion about anything," said one.

In answer to questions Secretary Bryan replied: "I cannot divulge anything that happens in cabinet meetings."

The meeting lasted for two hours.

BASIS OF FACT IS NECESSARY

Should Be Established Before Discussion, Says von Jagow.

Berlin, June 4.—The Kreuz Zeitung in its issue of today publishes the substance of the interview given to The Associated Press May 30 by Gottlieb von Jagow, imperial foreign secretary, on Germany's answer to the Washington note concerning the Lusitania case, in which the secretary said he believed it essential to establish a common basis of fact before entering upon a discussion of the issues involved.

This is done, the paper explains, on the strength of the report reaching Berlin from the Reuter Telegram company of London, that the "forthcoming American note to Germany foreshadows a severance of diplomatic relations with Germany."

Continuing the Kreuz Zeitung says: "We want to remind America once more that Great Britain bears the responsibility for the submarine war. Germany would have stopped it had Great Britain been willing to give up her war of starvation. At one time America could have exerted pressure on Great Britain to this end, but it did not do so.

Unusual Proposal.

"Now that the war of starvation has failed, America comes forward with the unusual proposal that we shall stop the submarine war. Naturally there can be no talk of this. Foreign Secretary von Jagow has pointed out what can be done for the safety of American passengers and American ships. Americans again have been shown the way to reconciliation and the protection of their real interests.

"But it appears, if one may trust the reports about the new note, that they do not wish to find this way, but rather do they desire to lend their moral support to Great Britain, in whose interests they long ago gave up real neutrality. Let them do it! The value of diplomatic relations with the United States has to us become rather imaginary."

CHARGES AGAINST SWOBODA UNFOUNDED

Paris, June 4.—Charges of espionage preferred by the military authorities against Raymond Swoboda appear to be unfounded, says the Journal. The inquiry conducted by Maj. Jullien of the Paris permanent court-martial has failed to bring out proof that Swoboda served as a German spy. It already has been established that he had nothing to do with starting the fire aboard the steamship La Touraine, a charge which led to his arrest.

GREAT ACHIEVEMENT BY ALPINE TROOPS

Rome, June 3, via Paris, June 4, 10:30 a. m.—The achievement of a detachment of Alpine mountaineers in capturing an entrenched Austrian position in a defile of Val Inferno near the head of Val Dagno has been noted by the ministry of war. The detachment was led by a lieutenant who was wounded during the assault but who continued to direct his men until the position was captured. King Victor Emmanuel himself pinned the military medal on the wounded lieutenant's breast.

RAINY LAKE MOVIES.

Plans on Foot to Film Scenes Around International Falls.

International Falls, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.))—Frank V. Peterson, manager of a local theater, received a letter from the Exhibitors' Photoplay company in regard to taking pictures on Rainy lake next fall. This company is preparing a place on the Mesaba iron range, near Virginia, to prepare pictures and Mr. Peterson wrote the firm, telling them of what an ideal spot Rainy lake would be for taking pictures. The reply from Manager D. B. Morris says that he believes that probably the company will start taking pictures on the lake next fall.

The Herald will be glad to have its attention called to any misleading or untrue statement which may appear in its news, editorial or advertising columns.

EAST, WEST, DULUTH'S BEST.

Another Duluthian, after a fair trial of one of those far pastures that always look so green and inviting, has returned home to Duluth, and in an interview in The Herald last night eloquently voiced his gladness and relief.

"I would not trade a forty of good old Northern Minnesota land," said J. M. Smith in his Herald interview, "for the best section of agricultural land I saw in California, the land of sucker-crops and hot air. * * * Now I know the truth, and I am for Duluth and Minnesota stronger than I ever was. * * * And as to climate, for steady diet give me Minnesota's brand, and especially Duluth's, any time in preference." And so on, with more of the same.

Obeying that very human instinct which ever longs for the green in the far pastures, which fails to fill its pail because it is ever moving to the berry bushes just beyond, that seem more heavily loaded, and which comes in at night with a light creel because the pool just down the stream always seemed more promising, many Duluthians have experimented with other soils, other climates and other fields of opportunity.

And most of them have come back—and have been mighty glad to get back.

Whether it is California, Florida, Canada—they have tried them all—the result is the same. No climate is flawless. No soil is miraculously fruitful. No field of opportunity is paved with gold to be had for the picking up. These far pastures, closely inspected, are found to be no greener than those at home—often nowhere near so green. The distant view hides the drawbacks, and usually these drawbacks are more unbearable than those at home. So they come back, and Duluth is glad to welcome them home again and to hear them voice their relief and gladness in getting back.

For climate, for soil, for markets, for business openings, for human associations—for livableness and opportunity—Minnesota and Duluth are the peers of any, and better than most.

The wise thing to do is to take a lesson from the experiences of those who have adventured in far pastures, to realize that though there may be drawbacks here they are slight ones compared to those hidden under the green of the far pastures, and to buckle down to the opportunities at home.

East, west, Duluth's best! Likewise north and south!

Przemysl has gone again. That place ought to have a stock named after it. Think what fun Wall Street would have then.

BIGNESS IS NO CRIME.

The prosecution of the United States Steel corporation as a monopoly in restraint of trade, one of the numerous anti-trust activities under the Sherman law of the Taft administration, ends in failure. That is, the United States district court denies the government's suit. There is talk of an appeal, and there should be one. The suit involves highly important issues, and it will be well to have these issues definitely settled by the decision of the United States supreme court.

But suppose the government had succeeded. Suppose the court had found the "steel trust" to be a monopoly in restraint of trade, and had ordered its dissolution. What then?

The prosecutions of the oil and tobacco trusts both ended successfully. Both were convicted, sentenced and executed—dissolved. It didn't help the people a penny's worth. It didn't reduce prices or set up the lost state of competition. Nor did it hurt the corporations; on the other hand it seems to have been enormously profitable to them. There is no reason to believe that a "victory" over the Steel corporation would have done less harm to that institution or achieved more good for the people.

So far as the interests of the public are concerned, it seems to make no difference whether these suits under the Sherman law succeed or fail.

The Steel corporation is on a different basis from the oil and tobacco concerns. It never has been charged with the bludgeoning of competitors, with stealthy, underhanded assault upon those who presumed to do business in its field. Indeed, its relations with its competitors seem to be cordial and businesslike. The nearest thing to overt action discovered was the "Gary dinner" system, which looked like fixing prices, and in which virtually all steel-makers participated; and that practice was stopped before the case got into court. The only serious charge ever made against the Steel corporation was that it was over-capitalized, and it was; though subsequent development of values and the shrinkage of security prices seem completely to have offset that.

The court finds that sixty per cent of the steel business is done by the Steel corporation's competitors and moreover that the business of these competitors has increased in greater ratio than that of the Steel corporation. No danger of a monopoly of ore supplies is discovered, as independent concerns have access to foreign supplies of ore which they can bring in as cheaply as the Steel corporation can get its Lake Superior supplies, or even cheaper.

The big thing in the decision is the wise ruling of the court that mere bigness is no offense under the Sherman law. There is where the minds of a great many well-meaning reformers have been sadly confused.

There has been a furious activity in prosecutions under the Sherman law, beginning with Roosevelt and carried on with renewed energy under Taft. The net results, so far as any benefits for the public are concerned, are precisely nothing at all. The Sherman law did not prevent the formation of trusts, and its subsequent enforcement has cured no economic evils whatever.

It is not size or method of organization that menaces the public interest, but business practices. In the authority given the Federal trade commission, one of the fruits of the Wilson administration, there is ample remedy for wrong business practices. It is to the trade commission law, rather than to the Sherman law, that the public will look for relief hereafter—to the law as it stands, and to the law as it will be developed as need arises and the course of the future is made clear.

Marconi may be able to make people see through a stone wall, but how about extending vision so it will penetrate political fences?

THE FOURTH OF JULY AND THE NEW CITIZEN.

From the naturalization service of the United States government comes an excellent suggestion, doubtless growing out of President Wilson's splendid talk to new citizens at Philadelphia, which The Herald is very glad indeed to pass along.

This is that in preparing for the celebration of the Fourth of July, which ought to be unusually elaborate and penetrating this year, arrangements be made for special observances, with suitable addresses, for newly naturalized citizens of the United States.

This simple addition to the usual program every community which is formally celebrating the Fourth can take very easily, and to do it is to perform a high service to these new citizens and to the country of their adoption.

These exercises might very properly take the form of a welcome to these new members of the great family of American citizenship, coupled with addresses calculated to impress upon them the high importance of the step they have taken.

This will give new dignity to the American citizenship these new members from other lands have just acquired, and if, in passing, its lessons of patriotism penetrate to those whose citizenship is of longer standing, that will be so much gain, too.

It is to be hoped that in Duluth, Virginia, Hibbing and wherever in this section formal celebrations are to be held, special arrangements may be made for active participation by those who have lately become a part of us who glory in the priceless privilege of living under the Stars and Stripes.

Why not solve the Mexican problem on the same basis we do the baseball championships, with umpires and a final world series?

JAYWALKING TO STOP.

It is going to be a little vexing for awhile to be stopped and turned in the middle of one's customary route diagonally across the busy corners of Superior street, but the vexation is one that must be borne and that will soon disappear under the influence of habit.

The traffic policemen at Lake avenue, Third avenue west and Fifth avenue west have been instructed to stop the ancient practice of cutting corners, and the public should fall in line and co-operate with the authorities in establishing the better practice of keeping to the crossings.

It should be remembered that this rule is in the interests of the pedestrians themselves, and that it is devised for the purpose of lessening the danger of crossing busy corners. It is a wholesome rule, it is needed in Duluth, it has not been established any too soon, and the quicker the public falls in line with it and gets the habit of obeying it the better it will be for everybody.

And yet nobody has ever tried the civilizing effect of baseball on the Mexicans.

THE SECOND FALL OF PRZEMYSL.

The Russians—for lack of equipment, probably for lack also of wise generalship—are being pretty badly whipped by the Germans—as badly as the Austrians were being whipped a few months ago by the Russians. And all the while the Germans are holding back England, France and Belgium, stiffening up the Turks and reviving the flagging spirits of the Austrians. It sounds like a feat of legerdemain, and that is pretty nearly what it comes to.

Przemysl was invested by the Russians September 22, and they captured it just six months later, on March 22. From this base they directed two movements, one through Cracow at Silesia, with Berlin as the ultimate objective; the other through the Carpathian passes at Hungary. Just a month ago the Germans and Austrians began their drive against the Russian invaders, and the campaign that pushed the Russians back half way across Galicia, that so menaced the right flank of the movement through the Carpathians that it was necessary to abandon it, and that has now resulted in the fall of Przemysl, constitutes one of the most striking victories of the war.

The Russians now are back about where they were last September. Indeed, being now the vanquished instead of the victors, they are worse off now than they were then. They are on the defensive, and while the rout of their forces seems to have ceased the problem now is not to invade Hungary or to threaten Berlin but to save themselves.

Not that Germany's problem is easy now, though. It must establish itself in easily defensible positions in Galicia, so that it may detach troops to hurl at Italy. It has stretched out its line of communications in Western Galicia very thinly, and it must follow up its great victory by strengthening its position there. The Russians take a lot of beating. They are so many, and their country is so vast, that the number of soldiers Germany can detach from that field is necessarily limited. Moreover, Archangel is now open, and Russia must be remedying its obvious lack of ammunition and supplies.

It's a cinch that the old Liberty Bell won't create half the excitement in its coming cross-continent journey that it did once when it only stayed in one place and swung to and fro.

A Wrong View of Police.

Columbus, Ohio, Dispatch: In a group of ministers who were, the other day, discussing social conditons, it was agreed that the attitude of the public toward the policeman is not what it ought to be. On the part of children, it is too often one of fear, while on the part of their elders it is one of indifference. Neither of these feelings fits properly into the public attitude toward the policeman, for he is not, as some parents foolishly teach their children, sent through the streets to see whom he can find to punish; nor is he, as some older folk seem to think, a necessary evil, unworthy of respect.

At least, a policeman should not be any of these things, and he will not be if he has a true estimate of his own calling. Wherever he is on duty, he is a representative of the dignity and authority of the city. He is the protector, not the punisher, of innocence and he is the preserver of the peace. His work is in every sense worthy and he is clearly entitled to the respect of every honest citizen until he has shown by his conduct that he is unfit to wear the uniform.

It is probable that some men who have been appointed to the police force look upon their employment simply as a job worth so many dollars of pay a month. They are likely to undertake their task and to help along the work of thoughtless fathers and mothers who teach their children that an officer of the law is somebody to be afraid of. In both particulars there is need of a change. The policeman should properly estimate his calling and the people whom it is his business to protect should render him proper respect. With these two influences at work every city will have a better police force and there will be, in public peace and order, a better return for the money that is spent in its maintenance.

All Husbands Will Recognize These Wifelets.

James Montgomery Flagg in the American Magazine: Most husbands will recognize these wifelets:

"He is the hardest man to cater for I ever knew!" (You might gather from this that she had catered for a different man every week or so for thirty-three years.)

"I let him think he's the boss; then I run things the way I want 'em."

"Men are just like children; they think that because we don't say anything to them we don't know all the little tricks they're up to."

"When they get the slightest thing the matter with them they think they're going to die."

"If I disagree with George once in two years about some woman's looks he says wives are always jealous."

"Well, I listen to your old stories about the summer you and your family spent up at East Ringe, New Hampshire."

"I notice that I always order everything I think you like for dinner, and you have a fit if once in six months I order strained gumbo for myself."

"I notice" (do you notice how noticing the little ladies are?) "that you didn't mind waiting hours for me before we were married and now, if I keep you waiting three minutes, you swear at me! What? Well, I call it swearing at me—"

Nevertheless, I wouldn't have missed being married. This is the life!

This Book Business Y' Understand—

From "The Competitive Nephew," by Montague Glass, Doubleday, Page & Co.

Louis Gurin, the real estater, brought his chair from the next table and joined in the conversation.

"For my part the books in a Carnegie library could be second-hand oder new like a buffalo nickel, Rashkind," he said, "and it wouldn't worry me one way or the other. The way real estate is dead nowadays, Rashkind, I got enough to do to make a decent living without I should bother my head mit books."

"Then seemingly you ain't making a decent living at all," Plotkin commented drily.

"Why not?" Gurin asked.

"Because it would be the same if you was so busy making a decent living that you couldn't bother your head mit pants, Gurin," Plotkin continued. "Books is just so necessary to a decent living as pants is, Gurin, otherwise the word 'decent' ain't in the directory at all."

Gurin was still pondering this dictum when Rashkind came to Plotkin's assistance.

"Yes, Gurin," he said, "if people was just as much ashamed of having nothing on their brains as they are about having nothing on their bodies, Gurin, they would not only be acting a whole lot more decent, y' understand, but the book business would still be a business like the pants business, instead of a side line in cigar and drug stores."

"I could keep something on my brain without books, Rashkind," Gurin said, "if you would look around and see what other people is doing and saying, Rashkind, you would find out there is lots of things to be learned outside of books * * *

"When I was a young feller I did used to read it in books, Plotkin, but I give it up in disgust. All that books tells about is the troubles the people gets themselves into, and what people do outside of that, you couldn't find out at all. I bet yet I looked at dozens of books six hundred pages long, where you read about some feller living for years already. He begins in the first chapter a young man and he dies in the last chapter over 80 years old, y' understand, and not once during the whole time does the feller change his undershirt. Is that life? I ask you: * * *

Rashkind flipped the fingers of his right hand in a gesture of impatience.

"All these things which you are kicking about, Gurin, people don't got to learn 'em," he declared. "They are known by instincy already and so authors don't waste their time printing them, Gurin. The idea is that you read in books things which you don't know at all, Gurin. * * *

"Poosh, Rashkind!" Gurin cried. "In the real estate business a feller don't got to ack like Napoleon, Rashkind, and as for this here suburban development you are talking about, I bet yer I could buy acreage nearer tne end of the subway for the same price them fellers is asking a single lot."

"What real estate development?"

"Yellowstone Park," Gurin replied, and Rashkind began to nod his head slowly as he at last plumbed the depths of Gurin's ignorance.

"And whereabouts do you think Yellowstone Park is, Gurin?" Plotkin inquired.

"I don't know and I don't care," Gurin replied, "but one thing I can tell you, Plotkin. A smart real estater could write a book about Barren island which would make Palm Beach look like a vacant lot between a soap factory and a slaughter house."

Both Plotkin and Rashkind shrugged despairingly.

"I see it is hopeless to try to interest you in books, Gurin," Plotkin said.

"I am a business man, Plotkin, not a dreamer," Gurin retorted.

"Aber couldn't a business man be interested in books, too?" Rashkind inquired.

Gurin rose from the table and jammed his hat on his head by way of ending the conversation.

"A business man who is a business man, Rashkind, is interested in only four books," he declared; "cash book, a day book, a ledger and a journal."

Dare-Devil tries

Farley A. Dare in the Walker Pilot: The reason why some men fly so high is because they were not swatted in their boyhood days.

Come on in and out of the rain. Don't stand out there with the wets.

One trouble with the average man who deals in wet goods is that he fails to lay up anything for a rainy day.

The death of Elbert Hubbard takes from Amercia one of its foremost writers. But Frank Eddy is still with us.

If some men of letters would assure us that the word "Opportunity" was feminine gender, then perhaps more men would seek to embrace it.

It stands to reason that a man who knew as much about Barnes as Col. Roosevelt evidently does would anticipate the value of a silo well filled with political fodder.

One noticeable thing since the saloons went out of Northern Minnesota is the large amount of fish being caught in the various lakes. This is probably accounted for by the fact that many sportsmen no longer carry their bait in a jug.

Not an uncommon sight in a town that has just slid into the county option column is to see a man unconsciously feel around with his foot for a rail while leaning up against the drug store counter waiting to have his prescription filled.

When we sometimes stop to think of the unwarranted amount of sausages that are linked together for life, we often wonder why a butcher shouldn't be just as much qualified as a minister when it comes to the legal performance of marriage ceremonies.

When taking into consideration the thousands of automobiles now traveling through the rural districts, it's hard to tell whether that smooth stretch of highway is due to the use of the road drag, or is just caused by the broad backs of many drivers who are often compelled to "get out and get under."

Lucky Editor.

Lippincott's: "Is the editor in?" asked the man with the unbarbered hair and the shiny coat, as he fished a roll of paper from his pocket.

"No," replied the office boy, "he has just gone out."

"This is the third time I have called to see him," growled the caller, "and each time you have told me that he has just gone out. What's the explanation?"

"I don't know," answered the office boy, "but I guess he must have been born under a lucky star."

Down With the Demon Auto

From the Bigfork, Minn., Compass.

Henry Ford, the automobile manufacturer, has launched a campaign against cigarettes and has enlisted the aid of his colleague, Thomas A. Edison. Their aim is to prohibit the manufacture and sale of cigarettes. If this mania for prohibiting one thing and another continues it may get beyond the control of even the Fords and the Edisons. Some chap, looking around for something to reform, will perhaps discover the frightful things for which the automobile, for instance, is directly to blame.

Astounded by his discoveries he will sit about to organize an Anti-Automobile association. Thousands will flock to his standard. Then they will elect a man to the legislature and that man will introduce a bill to prohibit the manufacture, sale and use of the automobile. He will have staggering arguments to back up his demand. He can present a petition signed by pastors and members of a certain religious body in Indiana praying for the passage of the bill on the broad grounds of morality.

This sect already has forbidden its members to buy or use automobiles. The legislator will make a thrilling speech, bristling with irrefutable statistics and interspersed with appealing and pathetic word pictures. He will point to the fact that ten persons a day, over 3,700 a year, including strong men, beautiful women and innocent little children, meet violent deaths on account of the demon automobile.

He will depict, graphically, the mangled bodies, the desolate homes, the weeping orphans of the poor victims of this modern Juggernaut. Turning to the divorce courts he will prove by the official report that the automobile joyride has clogged the hoppers with cases of wrecked domesticity. He will show how pure, innocent girls are daily led to their ruin by the soulless scoundrels who run automobiles.

He will point to the mortgages hanging over thousands of American homes, mortgages negotiated for the purpose of raising funds to buy and keep up these inventions of Satan. He will show how the millions spent for automobiles could be used to build Panama canals and pay national debts. He may point to the gasoline barons, the rubber magnates and the auto millionaires rolling in their ill-gotten wealth, while their poor victims are struggling through the divorce, probate, chancery and bankruptcy courts. He will call upon the manhood and womanhood of our fair land to arise in its might and crush this monster which, today, is sapping the very life blood of the nation. And perhaps he may be able to get away with it. Who knows?

Stranger things are happening every day. It will make no difference if you are a well-to-do man and can afford an automobile, if you are a careful man and never had an accident, or if you are a family man and would never think of taking a ride unless you took the wife and kiddies along. The case against the automobile has been proven. Its use must be prohibited. It is not for you to say that you can handle one without danger to yourself or others. That's what they all say. Down with it!

Popularizing Poetry

Pittsburgh Dispatch: There has been a noticeable revival of interest in poetry in the past few years. Masefield and Moyes, in England, have attracted readers who before were indifferent to poesy. Both have been widely read in this country also. The war, by its pull on the emotions, may have fostered sentiment favorable to poetic appeal. The fact is, whatever the cause, that poetry is more read today than for years.

Nevertheless, it is putting a severe test on the readers to ask them to regard as masterpieces some of the effusions of one who is proclaimed as "one of the greatest American poets" if the sample read by the author before the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania the other day is a criterion. It was entitled "The Kallyope." In cold type, says an appreciative Philadelphia critic, the poem looks like a jumble of words, but in the voice of the creator it is a moving thing of tremendous power. But judge for yourself. Here is the last stanza:

I am the Kallyope, Kallyope, Kallyope,
Tooting hope, tooting hope, tooting hope, tooting hope.
Shaking window pane and door
With a crashing cosmic tune.
With the war-cry of the spheres,
Rhythm of the roar of moon,
Rhythm of Niagara Roar,
Voicing Pisgot, star and moon,
Shrieking of the better years.
Prophet singers will arise,
Peoples coming after me,
Sing my song in softer guise,
With more delicate surprise.
I am but the Pioneer,
Voice of the Democracy;
I am the gutter dream,
Singing science, mingling steam,
I will blow the proud folk down.
(Listen to the lion roar).
I am the Kallyope, Kallyope, Kallyope,
Tooting hope, tooting hope, tooting hope, tooting hope.
Willy, willy, willy, wah hoo,
Hoot toot, hoot toot, hoot toot, hoot toot,
Whoop, Whoop, Whoop, Whoop.
Whoop, Whoop, Whoop, Whoop.
Willy, willy, willy, wah hoo.
Sizz,
Fizz.

It must have sounded like a combination of a flat wheel car going round a curve, a coal boat pushing a tow up stream on a rise and a man taking his first ride in his 1906 model. That may sound like poetry to Philadelphia, but give us the music of the spheres rather than their war cry if this is that. Poetry that is jumble of words until bellowed by a leather-lunged poet remains a jumble of words. Real poetry touches the imagination, the heart. This merely adds earache to mental dyspepsia.

Here Hate Should Die.

This is the land where hate should die—
No feuds of faith, no spleen of race,
No darkly breeding fear should try
Beneath our flag to find a place.
Lo! every people here has sent
Its sons to answer freedom's call;
Their life blood is the strong cement
That builds and binds the nation's wall.

This is the land where hate should die—
Though dear to me my faith and shrine,
I serve my country best when I
Respect the creeds that are not mine.
He little loves his land who'd cast
Upon his neighbor's faith a doubt,
Or cite the wrongs of ages past
From present rights to bar him out.

This is the land where hate should die—
This is the land where strife should cease.
Where foul, suspicious fear should fly
Before the light of love and peace.
Then let us purge from poisoned thought
That service to the state we give,
And so be worthy as we ought
Of this great land in which we live!

—Denis A. McCarthy in the Youth's Companion.

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Scattered comments taken from Minnesota papers.

Some Job Even for Billy.

Onamia Breeze: A news item in one of the Minneapolis dailies conveys the intelligence that Billy Sunday has been engaged to "chase the devil out of Minneapolis" and has promised to attempt that task in the spring of 1917. We hardly believe that Billy is aware of the task he has assumed, or he would have put off the job indefinitely.

Awful, That Stillwater Climate.

Stillwater Gazette: The May of 1915 has been a very disappointing month, as well as an expensive one. This being obliged to order coal and keep a fire going most of this alleged summer month is far from a joke. It is an outrage.

The Bright Spot.

Luverne Journal: If you don't believe there is a whole lot of grief in running a country newspaper, just try it. But it's not all grief. Now there's the exchange table. Why, it's just like sitting down to a $5 meal at the Waldorf-Astoria (taking a long chance at a guess that they serve $5 meals there). Of course you occasionally strike something in the exchange menu that's not agreeable to the taste, just as you sometimes strike a pithy radish at the table of the best regulated families. But on the whole there's nothing pleasanter to the average editor than to read the editorials and witticisms and news articles and—don't forget them—the advertisements in the other newspapers that come to his desk from all over the state.

Quite a Contrast.

Chaska Valley Herald: Quite a contrast between Governor Hammond and Former Governor A. O. Eberhart. Eberhart was governor of the state in name, but usually managed to be away from the capitol. Hammond is governor in name, but you'll agree with us that he is governor in fact as well. Hammond is "on the job" all the time and is earning every dollar of his salary, and then some. Quite a contrast.

Swear It!

Breckinridge Telegram: Our comment on the beautiful May weather has had direful results and we promise not to let it happen again.

Behold the Optimist.

Mankato Free Press: It's an ill wind that blows nobody any good. If this weather keeps up there will be very few flies to swat.

Also the Optimistress.

Rush City Post: It takes a philosopher to be bigger than the little troubles that beset us, but, after all, happiness comes from within, and he is wise who fortifies himself against external conditions by a cheerful spirit.

Careless Firemen.

Mahnomen Pioneer: The Northern Pacific railway station at Perham caught fire last week. The Bulletin, in describing the fire, says that the firemen, in making an effort to save adjoining property, accidentally got too much water on and the fire was extinguished. There was general regret over the saving of the building, which is no credit to the city of Perham.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

Did you ever think, my brother, my sister, that if it were not for missionary work you would be serving idols today? Suppose that Paul and those who labored with him had been directed to go east in place of west. How shocked you are when, in some picture, you see a mother throwing her child into the Ganges. It might have been you, my sister. Have you no pity for the fellow-beings that are dying at the rate of 100,000 a day?—W. E. Blackstone.

Out in the open a plain brown field,
Stony and rough and still;
And a common man on the worn footpath
That leads from the brow of the hill.

A common man, but his sight is keen,
And his judgment quick and wise;
And he reads a secret from those dull stones
That is hid from other eyes.

Down he goes to the marts of trade,
Down, with his soul afire;
For the barren field with its rocky soil
Has become his heart's desire.

He listens not to his friends or foes;
Nothing can change his will;
He sells his all; and he goes and buys
The field on the side of the hill.

Then lo! down deep in the hardened soil
He has found a mine of gold,
And the price he paid for the stony field
Comes back with a thousandfold.

So—listen—to many a common man
The heart of the wise is given
To know that all is a price too small
To pay for the kingdom of heaven.

And, paying all that he has to pay,
A wonderful thing comes true;
The earth is given to such a one,
And the kingdom of heaven, too!

Handing Him His.

Litchfield, Ill., News Herald: Not long ago a man came into this office and stopped his paper because he said it was always printing a lot of things about the same people and he said he was sick of it. Now when something goes wrong with the country the government appoints a committee to investigate and find out what is the matter, and the first thing a commission investigates is the man who made the holler to see if the holler was a reasonable one. So we appointed a commission consisting of ourselves to investigate this man. We just followed the man's career ever since we knew him. The first thing that happened to that man was that he was born, but he had nothing to do with it. However, we mentioned him, although his parents were entitled to the credit. When he was in his early twenties he got married. We mentioned that, including the name of the bride, the preacher, etc. In fact, we mentioned everything but the preacher's fee, which was not worth mentioning. We never mentioned the fact that he never won any premiums at the county fair, because he never exhibited anything. We never mentioned his name in the list of committees, because he never attended anything. We never mentioned his name in the list of donors, because he never donated as much as a doughnut. We certainly have been treating this man shamefully, but we will agree to run a nice obituary when the time comes.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

EFFECTS OF ALCOHOL.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Not wishing to express my personal opinion as to the effect of alcohol upon the human system without indorsement of same by those able to speak with authority, I respectfully request that the inclosed statements quoted by me may reach the people through the columns of the Open Court, since the public press, sometimes called the final educator, reaches many who are influenced by it as by no other force for the right. For every dollar that the state received last year from liquor licenses it paid out over $2 in caring for criminals, paupers and insane, brought to our institutions through drink. When you hear about revenue from liquor, think this over. This was worked out from the auditor's report, 1912, and twenty-sixth annual report of the Massachusetts bureau of labor. Who is the first man to be laid off in dull times and the last man to be taken on? The man who drinks.

From the war it has been proved by the most careful scientific experiments that alcohol or drink slows the power to see signals; confuses prompt judgment; spoils accurate shooting; hastens fatigue; lessens resistance to disease and exposure; increases shock from wounds. Men are therefore urged, for their own health and efficiency, to become, at least while the war lasts, total abstainers.

Even moderate drinking lessens efficiency. In firing tests, with thirty shots fired, men averaged twenty-three hits on abstinent days and three hits only on alcohol days.

Our prison commission reports 96 per cent of those imprisoned had intemperate habits.

Hoping these facts and figures will tell and count in the battle for temperance, very sincerely,

REBECCA E. HOLT.

DUST ON WOODLAND AVENUE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I see that at a meeting of the Woodland and Hunter's Park clubs a committee was appointed to have the city keep down the dust on Woodland avenue. Why should the city go to the expense of doing this work? Why don't the residents out there go down into their pockets and pay, as residents in other sections of the city do, for having the avenue sprinkled? Of course it takes a lot of money to make gardens in that district, but the people should not expect the whole city to pay for keeping down the dust on their streets.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

Taps.

There's a favorite refrain
Soldiers love, perhaps,
More than any other strain—
Melody of taps,
When the lights have ceased to glow,
You can hear the bugle blow,
With a cadence soft and low,
Dreamy-sounding taps;
Rising, falling, high and low—
Melody of taps.
Soldiers sleep
Through the night
Ere the bright
Morning light
Or the sun
Marks a new Day begun
Soldiers sleep.

Soft and soothing is the air—
Tranquil is the sound,
Borne on breezes everywhere,
Echoing around.
Some of those who stood the test
Of the battle, know it best,
And have heard it's call to rest—
Heard it's peaceful sound.
North and south, or east and west,
Echoing around.
Sleep and rest,
Dream that war
Will be o'er
Evermore,
And that men
Are at peace
Once again—
Sleep and rest.

Solemn is the sleep of those Whom death's mantle wraps,
Solemnly the bugle blows
Requiem of taps.
Where some fallen soldier lies,
Hidden from all mortal eyes,
Breezes wafted to the skies
Mournful tune of taps,
Last farewell to earthly ties—
Requiem of taps.
Fare thee well—
We will pray
While we lay
You away,
Peace to thee
'Till the new Reveille.
Fare thee well.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person sending it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

Edward Vincent, Hibbing—I am a reader of The Herald. I have an argument to settle and I wish you will answer in the Open Court column. "A" says Superior street runs north and south; "B" says it runs east and west. Which is right? Neither. It runs northeast and southwest.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following poems: "Taps" from Thomas O. Partridge of Texas City, Tex. Requests have been received for the following; "Maud Muller" from H. P. Hanson of Cambridge. This poem is rather lengthy to publish, but can be found in any volume of Tennyson's poems.

MAY ACCEPT CALL TO DULUTH PULPIT

DR. BRUCE BROWN.

Dr. Bruce Brown, evangelist, will arrive in the city this afternoon and will begin a two weeks' meeting at the First Christian church, corner Twelfth avenue east and Fourth street.

He is one of the prominent ministers of the Christian church and comes to Duluth at the solicitation of the members here, with a view to locating as pastor. He is a clear and forcible preacher, being at the present time engaged by one of the largest chautauqua circuits.

His subject for tonight will be "The Second Mile."

DEFER PLANS FOR INTERMEDIARY BODY

Rotarians Discuss Proposition and Hear Address By C. H. Mackintosh.

"Intermediary" council plans as drafted by the Rotary club will not be acted upon by members until the next meeting, June 10.

Action was deferred at a meeting held at the Holland hotel last night. Club members discussed a number of routine business affairs with Elmer Whyte in the chair, before listening to an address on "Rotarian Fellowship—Its Content and Extent" by C. H. Mackintosh.

Mr. Mackintosh, a member of the Duluth club and editor of a monthly trade journal, will give this address at the national Rotary convention in San Francisco July 18.

"Business men, through Rotarianism, have learned the value of fellowship during business hours, as well as after business hours," said Mr. Mackintosh. "Fellowship, kindly feeling among men in various lines of endeavor, competitors or not, has done much to make the work of the merchant, the manufacturer or the professional man more pleasant.

"Through fellowship in business, men exchange ideas and experience. They wrestle together with business problems, instead of each man fighting single-handed with conditions peculiar to his own business or to his line of business generally."

The address also dealt at length with the development of fellowship in Rotary clubs throughout the country, and told of the possibilities that its further development may achieve.

The next meeting is scheduled for noon, Thursday, June 10, at the Holland hotel.

JOHNSON NOT GUILTY.

District Court Jury Acquits Him of Charge of Assault.

A jury in Judge Ensign's division of the district court shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon found Iver Johnson not guilty of the crime of assault in the second degree, and returned a verdict which exonerated him.

Johnson was brought to trial on a charge of having heaved a rock at one Oscar Sjerstrom on April 8 last. The two men were quarreling at the time of the alleged assault.

The jury spent four hours deliberating upon the case.

THREE NOTED SPEAKERS FOR MIDSUMMER DAY CELEBRATION

DR. C. O. HERTZMAN.

Dr. C. O. Hertzman of Ashland, Wis., will be one of the principal speakers at the Midsummer day celebration to be held on June 24 at Lincoln park under the auspices of the Swedish-American National league. Dr. Hertzman is one of the leaders among the Swedish people of Northern Wisconsin and a fluent orator.

Dr. Hertzman was one of the principal speakers at the celebration held in this city in 1912. His subject for the address this year has not been announced.

Judge Harry Olson of Chicago has also been invited to speak. It is planned to have three speakers. An invitation has also been extended to Governor W. S. Hammond to give the principal address in English. It is probable that a full outline of the program will be made at the meeting of the committees next Monday evening at the Bachelors' hall, Nineteenth avenue west and First street.

CHESTER BRIDGE TO BE DISCUSSED

West End Commercial Club Calls Special Meeting on Matter.

At a special meeting, called for this evening by the West End Commercial club, the members propose to protest to the city against the proposed building of a bridge, at a cost of $32,000, over Chester creek at Fourteenth avenue east and Ninth street. The subject was brought up at the meeting last night and after a short discusston it was proposed to get as representative a gathering of West end business men as possible out for a meeting tonight at which it would be thoroughly discussed.

"From notices that have appeared in the papers, the commissioners seem to have found sums in four different departments that may be used for the purpose of building this bridge," said S. W. Hill, yesterday. "Whenever any proposition is brought up to build bridges, pave streets or make other improvements in the eastern end of the city the commissioners readily find the money. It is different when improvements are asked for the West end or the western end of the city. Then it is discovered that there is no money available, that the improvement can be put off for an indefinite period, or some other excuse is dug up.

"Who are the people who want the bridge at Chester park? As far as I am able to find out it is asked for by a few real estate men who wish to boom and sell a few lots in that vicinity. There are but a few people living there.

"If there is money that the commissioners find they can appropriate for public improvements then let them carry out their pledges to this end of the city. We need the paving extended on Superior street. We need First street paved. We need Third street improved. There are many other improvements that have been asked for, some of which have been asked for by regularly filed petitions. Let the commissioners get busy on these before they want to spend money for building unnecessary bridges."

WEST END BUILDERS

ALFRED JOHNSON.

Alfred Johnson is one of the younger business men of the West end who is taking an active interest in making this section of the city more attractive for the people to live in. He has been working hand in hand with the committees that have helped to furnish amusements and attractions that have brought the public in closer touch with the business life of the district.

Mr. Johnson is a member of the Johnson-Peterson Hardware company. He resides at 2624 West Third street.

LETTER CONTEST IN FULL SWING

Many Expected to Tell Why I Like to Shop in the West End.

The letter writing contest in the West end is in full swing. Following the announcement made in The Herald yesterday afternoon that prizes aggregating $22.50 would be given to those who gave the best reasons for "Why I Like to Shop in the West End," letters began to arrive today.

Full particulars regarding the contest are to be found on page 9 of The Herald for yesterday. Everybody living west of the Point of Rocks who trades in the West end, is invited to write a letter.

All answers must be in before Thursday evening, June 10. Address the communications to West End Editor, Duluth Herald, city.

Program at Trinity Church.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Trinity English Lutheran church, Twenty-seventh avenue west and Third street, entertained last evening at a pleasing program in the church parlors. Pupils of Miss Mary Shesgren, who contributed numbers were: Miss Rose Spellman, Miss Esther Fieldman and Miss Lucille Shook. Mrs. E. W. Lund gave a vocal solo. Following the program the women entertained at refreshments. Those in charge were: Mrs. F. O. Hanson, Mrs. E. G. Pash, Mrs. W. F. Brightfelt, Mrs. C. R. Magney, Mrs. J. W. Ekblad and Mrs. L. Wheeler.

West End Briefs.

Miss Matilda Nelson, 2225 West Fourth street, returned home yesterday from Menomonie, Wis., where she has been attending the Stout Institute of Domestic Science.

Mrs. C. W. Cutliffe, 2507 West Eleventh street has as her guest, Mrs. J. W. Bolderick of Detroit, Mich. The latter will spend the summer in the city.

Arthur B. Anderson of Minneapolis is spending a few days visiting friends in this end of the city.

The choir of the Swedish Mission church will hold no rehearsal this evening owing to the Symphony orchestra concert which many of the members plan on attending.

MARRIAGE BROKING IN EGYPT ILLEGAL

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Cairo, May 16.—Marriage broking, a remunerative trade under the old regime, has received a blow in the courts of Egypt, which threw out a claim for $125 made by a woman against a Moslem couple. In its findings, the court read a lecture to the broker. While bringing persons together with the idea of marriage is a commendable thing to do, said the court, its virtue is lost when done purely for gain.

MANY WOULD BE 'QUEEN'

Knights of Pythias Will Give Winner Trip to Exposition.

A number of Duluth girls have already entered the Knights of Pythias "queen" contest, which will begin tomorrow. Those entered at present are Misses Rose Carew, Myrtle Fisher, Helen McDonald, Louise Denning, Ada Johnson, Nellie Doig and Willow Yergan. The contest will close June 18.

The girl receiving the highest number of votes will be crowned "queen of the carnival" and will be given a free trip to the Panama exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Miller McDougall of 1005 East First street will entertain at a dinner of fourteen covers tonight for the members of the bridal party of Miss Emelyn McDougall and Lewis Gould Castle and for the out-of-town guests. A pink and white color plan will be carried out in the dining room with sweet peas and in the living room and hall with peonies.

The out-of-town guests who have arrived in Duluth are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Castle and Miss Evelyn Castle of Milwaukee, parents and sister of the bridegroom; Miss Marjorie Hardy of Adrian, Mich., and Robert Alton of Chicago.

The wedding of Miss MacDougall and Mr. Castle will take place tomorrow night at the home of the bride's father, Capt. Alexander MacDougall, 2201 East First street.

Miss Thurston Here

Will Be Honor Guest at Dinner and Concert Party

Miss Adelaide Thurston, whose engagement in "Taken on Trust" closed last week at the Fifth Avenue theater in New York, is here for a month's visit with her mother, Mrs. H. S. Sawyer of 208 South Fifty-ninth avenue west, and her sister, Mrs. F. E. Parker of 1622 Jefferson street. She will return to New York this summer to make arrangements for the production of a comedy drama, "The Defiance," which was written for her by Harry Hawler of Springfield, Mass.

In honor of Miss Thurston, Mrs. Ernest Jacobi of 1510 Jefferson street will entertain tonight at dinner, which will be followed by a party at the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra concert.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones to Entertain For Conductor Oberhoffer

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen H. Jones will be among the hosts for after-the-concert parties that will be given at the Kitchi Gammi club tonight. They will entertain in honor of Emil, Oberhoffer, conductor of the orchestra, and will have among their guests, Dr. Caryl B. Storrs and E. L. Carpenter of Minneapolis.

Senator Jones Will Be Married Tuesday

Senator Richard Jones left yesterday for Vivian, W. Va., where his wedding to Miss Grace Maurice will take place Tuesday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Maurice. Mr. Jones and his bride will take a trip to Washington, D. C., and to Brisbin, Pa., where they will visit the bridegroom's parents. They will make their home in Duluth after July 1, probably at 115 East Third street.

Both bride and bridegroom were born at Brisbin and have known each other since childhood. The bride's father is assistant postmaster at Vivian.

Will Entertain for Miss Rogers.

Mrs. W. S. Adams and Miss Marion S. Todd will entertain Monday night at the home of Mrs. Adams, 1121 East Second street, in compliment to Miss Faith Helen Rogers, who will leave soon for Los Angeles.

Linnaea Branch.

Miss Alma Dahl of 319 Twenty-first avenue west will be the hostess for the meeting of the Linnaea branch tonight.

King-Covey.

Wilkes P. Covey of Minneapolis, son of W. E. Covey, who formerly lived in Duluth, and Miss Katherine King of Minneapolis, were married Wednesday night in Minneapolis. The following account is taken from yesterday's Minneapolis Tribune:

"One of the most fashionable weddings of the season, yet one marked by extreme simplicity, was that of Miss Katherine King and Wilkes P. Covey, which was solemnized last evening at 8:30 o'clock, at the Church of the Redeemer. The Rev. Marlon D. Shutter, pastor, read the service, before a large group of socially prominent people from the Twin Cities.

"The church was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and American Beauty roses. Palms were banked about the altar and at various intervals were tall gold vases filled with American Beauties. A large gold basket, tied with tulle, was placed in the center of the altar. The pillars at the church entrances were topped with baskets of American Beauties and palms and ferns were banked to form an avenue of greenery.

"The ushers were: Messrs. Hugh Gillis, John Kenkel, Rollin Smith, Edward Haglin and Edward Burnham of Minneapolis. Miss Marguerite Cray was bridesmaid.

"Mr. Covey and his bride left for a wedding trip through the East and they will be at home for the summer in Van Hook, N. D. The bride was graduated from Smith college and was introduced to society four seasons ago. She made her debut at the same time as Mrs. John Dalrymple (Bernice Dacber), Mrs. Frederick Atkinson (Dorothy Bridgeman), Miss Mary Geesamine, Mrs. Geren Baird (Florence Moore), Miss Helen Abbott, Miss Marguerite Cray, Mrs. Ralph S. Longstaff (Elizabeth Bright), Miss Mary Hood and a group of other equally prominent girls."

Church Meetings.

The ladies of the Highland Presbyterian church, Duluth Heights, will hold a food sale, comprising choice home-made eatables, tomorrow. Windows have been procured from the Grand Union Tea company, First street, and from R. R. Forward & Co. The sale is for the benefit of the little church on the hill.

English Actress Takes American Ship Home

MAGGIE TEYTE.

Unlike most of the great opera singers, Maggie Teyte, the vest-pocket English prima donna, decided that she would not spend this summer in America and sailed on the New York Saturday for England. Like most English people now crossing, she took an American boat.

Symphony Orchestra in Duluth

Mill City Musicians Arrive in Private Cars; Arrangements Complete at Curling Rink; Marie Sundelius and Albert Lindquest Will Be Vocal Soloists; Seat Sales Break Records.

About fifty energetic looking young men emerged this morning from the two private sleeping cars parked at the Union station and utilized by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra when traveling. As each man stepped from the cars, he was carefully brushed and looked over by two tall porters, who seemed to exercise a paternal supervision of the men. These same porters have traveled with the orchestra the last three years and seem to think there is no one quite so fine as "our men."

At the curling club all was hustle and bustle, making the final preparations for the concert this evening. The skating rink has been transformed into a fine concert hall. A large platform has been erected at the south end and profusely decorated with flowers so that patrons of the hockey games, held there last winter will have some difficulty in recognizing the familiar surroundings.

Change in Soloists.

An important change in the soloists has been announced for this evening and instead of Marion Green, baritone, Mr. Oberhoffer has consented to the appearance of Marie Sundelius, soprano, of Boston, and Albert Lindquest, tenor, of Chicago. These two young artists have been rapidly coming to the front in this country, and their appearance is awaited with great interest, especially by the Swedish population of Duluth. Mme. Sundelius is a great favorite in the East where she has appeared six times with the Boston Symphony orchestra and other large Eastern organizations.

Mr. Oberhoffer has chosen three of the finest compositions for the first program, including Beethoven's fifth symphony, "Les Preludes," symphonic poem by Liszt, and Wagner's stirring "Tannhauser" overture. Each movement of the symphony is a gem of brilliancy, and collectively they constitute a work of the profoundest grandeur and deepest musical feeling —without parallel perhaps, in classic beauty and perfection of symphonic form.

The concert will begin promptly at 8:15, and the management of the concerts emphasizes again that nobody will be admitted during the performance of a number. As the symphony opens the program, it is imperative that every one should be seated before the time set for the opening of the concert.

Last night the ushers had a dress rehearsal for the handling and seating of the crowd, and the comfort of the audience has been provided for in every way possible.

Seat Sale Sets Record.

The seat sale for the three concerts has been record-breaking in extent and, as a prominent musician, who has been attracted to Duluth by the programs, remarked: "I have attended festivals all over this country and Europe, but never have I seen one better managed or with a greater attendance assured so far in advance of the first concert."

Following is the complete program for tonight:

Symphony No. 5, in C minor.....Beethoven
(In four movements.)
Aria—"Depuis le Jour," from "Louise".....Charpentier
Marie Sundelius.
Symphonic poem No. 3—"Les Preludes".....Liszt
INTERMISSION.
Fantasie Appassionata, for violin and orchestra.....Vieuxtemps
Richard Czerwonky.
Three Hungarian dances.....Brahms
Aria—"Celeste Aida," from "Aida".....Verdi
Albert Lindquest.
Overure to "Tannhauser".....Wagner

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "Lena Rivers."
NEW GRAND—Vaudeville and motion pictures.

ZELDA—Photoplay, "The Fifth Commandment."

Theater Gossip.

Two dramatic attractions of more than average interest are promised by the Baldwin Players for the next two weeks at the Lyceum. Next week the company will be seen in George Broadhurst's famous play, "Bought and Paid For." This drama is claimed to hold the record for long runs in New York, having played there for two years. It was then sent on the road, and has been seen in Duluth at the usual road scale of prices. The Baldwin company will give it its first popular priced production here. There are only six characters in the play, and these will be taken by Miss Anne Bronaugh, Harry L. Minturn, Miss Margaret Lotus, A. Romaine Callender, Miss Geraldine Blair and Mark Elliston. It will open Sunday afternoon.

For the following week H. B. Warner's starring vehicle, "The Ghost Breaker," will be the attraction. It is a melodrama of a most unusual type, and created much interest and comment during its New York run. It has never been seen in Duluth.

Three more performances of "Lena Rivers" will be given, tonight and tomorrow afternoon and night.

The new show at the Grand theater, which opened a week-end engagement yesterday, has an unusually large number of good features. Charlie Chaplin, the funniest of the "movie" stars; Alexander the Great, the famous monkey, and Pierce and Roslyn, English music hall favorites, are headliners. The crowds were unable to get seats last night, and many were turned away.

CHAPLIN AND FAMOUS "MONK."

Charlie Chaplin appears in "The Tramp," and this film comedy is considered one of his best. It is also one of his latest and put out by the Essanay company.

Alexander the Great is one of the best of the monks making the rounds of the vaudeville stages. He is directed by Mons. and Mme. d'Osta, and appears to understand French as well as English. He eats and drinks and does many other stunts just as a human being would under similar circumstances, and appears to possess remarkable intelligence.

Pierce and Roslyn were given a rousing welcome last night, and after receiving several encores, were applauded until a curtain speech was necessary. They have a clever line of comedy and have more than ordinary musical talent in the handling of several instruments.

Wayne, Marshall and Roberts, two pretty girls and a man, do a clever song and dance act, injecting many bright bits of comedy throughout the act.

Bicknell, the comedy clay modeler, makes a strong opening number. His work is fast and he molds faces in clay, including a number of well-known personages. His side-talk is clever.

Among the pictures there is a good Western film-drama and a number of good comedies.

Elsie Janis and Owen Moore—the combination is irresistible—are at the Rex today and Saturday. Miss Janis will be well remembered as the wild and reckless but lovable Kitty in "The Caprices of Kitty," which played at the Rex six weeks ago. "Can she dance? She makes Pavlowa look like a street car." Thus Maizie Follette boosts Betty to the stage manager when the masquerading little society girl applies for a place in the chorus at the famous Gaiety theater in the course of "Betty in Search of a Thrill." Betty is played by no less a celebrity than Elsie Janis and the subsequent tryout of the applicant dancer provides one of the most graceful exhibitions of stage dancing ever caught by the moving picture camera.

ELSIE JANIS AND OWEN MOORE.

Bosworth, Incorporated, have not stinted "Betty in Search of a Thrill," and the settings are of the elaborate type which paramount program patrons expect.

Here is what Bishop Potter thinks of "The Fifth Commandment," playing today and tomorrow at the Zelda theater: "As the color of the setting sun lingers in the sky long after the day has passed, so lingers in my heart the story and song of your beautiful play. I wish every man, woman and child would go and see it."

Strawberry Recipes.

Philadelphia Telegraph: Ripe, red berries of ample size are delicious served with the hulls on, grouped about a little mound of powdered sugar into which they are dipped when eaten. For breakfast they should be frequently served in this manner.

Wash the berries, pick them over, and drain thoroughly, then spread out on a dry towel for a few moments in order that all of the moisture may be absorbed.

If the weather is very warm, serve the berries on cracked ice and decorate with a few green leaves; such a dish will give zest to the breakfast no matter how poor the appetite.

When berries are too great a luxury to be served alone, small oranges may be cut in halves crosswise, and the centres partially removed. Then the berries may be piled in the cavities and sprinkled with powdered sugar. Grapefruit may be served in the same way, or the berries may be mixed with sliced bananas.

A rich strawberry shortcake is made by mixing two cups of flour, three tablespoons of sugar, three teaspoons of baking powder and a large pinch of salt together; then work in a large tablespoon of butter and one and a half tablespoons of lard. Beat an egg and add it to a cup of milk and work into the flour, handle lightly, toss out onto a floured board, and roll out into a cake one inch thick. Bake and split. Spread with a sauce made as follows: Beat the white of an egg stiff; add the beaten yolk and a cup of powdered sugar; then stir in half a cup of thick cream and one-third of a cup of milk. Spread a layer of strawberries over this, sprinkle with powdered sugar, then cover with a layer of sauce and place on the upper portion of the cake. Serve with whipped cream piled high on the cake.

Strawberry fritters are unusual and very nice; the berries are simply added whole to a good fritter batter. The fritters are cooked in boiling fat, drained, and served with powdered sugar.

Normal School Graduation

Commencement Sermon Will Be Delivered Sunday ---Class Day and Alumnae Banquet Wednesday.

The faculty and graduating class of the normal school have sent out invitations to the thirteenth annual commencement exercises which will be held Sunday, June 6, to Thursday, June 10. About sixty-five young women will receive diplomas.

The commencement sermon will be preached Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the normal school auditorium by Rev. Thomas W. MacLean, vicar of Trinity cathedral, whose subject will be "The Ethics of Education." Musical numbers will be furnished by the school choir and all the students will sing the hymns.

The gayest part of the commencement exercises will be given Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock when class day will be observed. Yells will be given, the president of each class will speak, class songs will be sung and the glee club will give selections. The seniors will take this opportunity to bequeath what they do not want to their successors or to other persons toward whom they may have generous impulses at the time.

Alumnae Banquet.

The alumnae banquet will be held Wednesday night at 6 o'clock at Torrance hall. Miss Nina Nichols, president of the Alumnae association, will be the toastmistress and toasts will be given by President E. W. Bohannon, J. L. Washburn, Miss Marjorie and Miss Elizabeth Porter of the faculty, and Miss Mabel Melin, president of the senior class.

The banquet will be followed by a reception in the parlors for the members of the faculty and their wives and the members of the senior class. Judge and Mrs. Ell Torrance of Minneapolis will be among the guests. Judge Torrance is president of the state normal board. Miss Melvia Danielson, director of music at the normal, will sing and Miss Agnes Mae Johnson will read "The Man in the Shadow," by R. W. Child.

The exercises of commencement day will be held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the auditorium. J. L. Washburn, the resident director of the school, will speak on "Some Critical Times in American History," and Judge Torrance will award the diplomas.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Masticate Your Food.

Just what percentage of the populace chew or ever begin to chew their food as they should is unknown to me. I do not know that anyone has taken either the time or the interest to compile statistics on this highly important subject, but whether or no I should not be afraid to affirm that about one person in every thousand gave the matter due consideration. The other 999 swallow their food as nearly whole as is permissible, taking the size of the food passage into account.

Before sitting down to dilate upon the error and consequences of improper mastication, I took myself to a restaurant to make some observations and notes. It was a leisurely class of restaurant where the prices for edibles were of a fair average.

As far as the appearance of those eating was concerned, they might almost to a man and woman have been dining at a lunch counter with only a brief five minutes to give to satisfying the inner man. They simply guzzled their food and seemed to shove it down their throats like a sword swallower at a circus. Some made a semblance at mastication by holding the food in the mouth for a second or two and bringing the teeth down upon it once or twice, and still others might be said to half chew the contents of their mouths.

I didn't see a soul deliberately chewing their food. But I also discovered that it was next thing to impossible for me to accomplish anything like thorough mastication. My food when about half separated had a way of slipping down my throat in a fashion for which I presume habit is accountable. I had a feeling that I must hurry, that I had no time to devote to the eating of my dinner, except that which was absolutely required in hastily consuming it.

It was borne in upon me that this was the feeling that actuated almost every man and woman present. They had no time. Those who were dining in company with a friend were the most leisurely and the most deliberate, and yet these folks, for the most part, paid strict attention to eating their food once it was set before them.

The proper mastication of food is something that the average American has to learn and something that he should learn for health's sake. A person who chews his food thoroughly needs less food to sustain perfect health.

Bishop and Mrs. Morrison Hold Reception at Trinity Hall

Delegates to the annual convention of the Episcopal diocese of Duluth and all the church members in the city were guests at a reception given last night by Bishop and Mrs. J. D. Morrison at Trinity hall.

The women in the receiving line assisting Bishop and Mrs. Morrison were the following: Mesdames W. F. Jamar, Sr., W. H. Gemmell, J. G. Ward, Thomas S. Wood, Lesbia Hill, Miss Frances Nesbitt and two from each junior auxiliary in the city.

Rev. Thomas W. MacLean, who gave a talk on missionary work in Alaska, told anecdotes of work among the Indians and showed stereopticon views of the country.

Miss Myrtle Hobbs, with Mrs. Fred Waldron as accompanist, gave a group of songs that included "The Owl," by Lehmann, and Miss Grace Enockson, with Miss Leona Grieser at the piano, sang Ronald's, "Sunbeams" and Metcalf's "Absent."

At the meeting of the woman's auxiliary that was held yesterday, Mrs. Morrison, the president, reviewed the work of the year, recommended plans for the coming year and suggested the organization of junior auxiliaries in connection with Sunday school work and plans for interesting men in the missionary work of the auxiliary.

Mrs. W. B. Gemmell of Brainerd, extension secretary, announced a series of lectures on chautauqua lines which will be given at Cass Lake this summer. Mrs. Thomas D. Wood, secretary of junior work, reported on the work of the junior societies for the year.

The following officers of the Woman's auxiliary were approved by the bishop: Mrs. J. D. Morrison, president; Mrs. W. E. Jones, president-at-large; Mrs. W. H. Gemmell of Brainerd, extension secretary; vice presidents of the three deaneries, Duluth deanery, Mrs. C. T. Fitzsimmons and Mrs. J. G. Ward of Cloquet; Mississippi Valley deanery, Mrs. H. F. Parshall of Cass Lake and Mrs. T. C. Hudson of Paynesville; Red River Valley deanery, Mrs. W. B. Windsor of Fergus Falls and Mrs. E. G. Melander of Moorhead; Mrs. W. A. Fleming of Brainerd, recording secretary; Mrs. A. H. Brocklehurst, corresponding secretary and treasurer; Mrs. W. E. A. Le Quesne, united offering treasurer; Mrs. J. E. Bardwell, junior auxiliary secretary; Mrs. W. A. McClaran, junior auxiliary extension secretary; Mrs. Thomas S. Wood, junior auxiliary treasurer; Mrs. Henry Taylor, secretary of the Little Helpers; Mrs. James Wanless, assistant secretary of the Little Helpers; Miss Frances Nesbitt, correspondent of the church periodical club; Miss Lucy Warner of Little Falls, secretary of the church League of the Baptized.

At the meeting held this morning in the library clubroom, the Woman's council indorsed a proposed amendment to the theater ordinance, providing for the censoring of motion picture films, heard the report of the poor farm committee, the report of the Housewives' league in regard to lunches for school children, and reports from seven members of the council who attended the federation meeting at Chisholm.

Mrs. A. A. Kerr, chairman of the committee on entertainment, reported that representatives from several organizations and the members of the amusement committee of the Woman's council met yesterday and drew up the following proposed amendment to the theater ordinance:

"First—By inserting after the words 'of any kind' in line 6 of section 5, the following: 'Or any play or performance of an indecent, obscene or immoral nature, or which is offensive to the moral sense or to public morality or public decency.'

"Second—By changing numbers of sections 7, 8, 9, 10 to 8, 9, 10 and 11 respectively.

Will Inspect All Films.

"Third—By inserting a new section, numbered 7, as follows: Section 7: For the purpose of enforcing this ordinance and preventing the exhibition of any plays, exhibitions or performances of an obscene, indecent or immoral nature, an advisory committee is hereby authorized whose duty it shall be to inspect all moving pictures being displayed or exhibited and all moving pictures intended for exhibition prior to their being displayed and all plays, performances, shows and exhibitions being given, or performed and about to be given or performed. It shall be the duty of said advisory committee to prosecute or cause to be prosecuted, by proper legal proceedings, all persons, firms, associations or corporations who violate any of the provisions of this ordinance. Said advisory committee and the members thereof shall have the right to freely enter any place or building wherein moving pictures are displayed or entertainments given, at any or all times, for the purpose of inspecting any picture that may be exhibited, or in the performance of any duty required to be performed by this ordinance. Said advisory committee shall be constituted and appointed as follows: One member of such committee shall be appointed respectively by the commissioner of public safety, school board, Woman's council and juvenile court."

This proposed amendment was approved by the Woman's council.

Mrs. Fred Sermon, chairman of the poor farm committee, reported that the members of the committee visited all the wards at the main house and found everything in a sanitary condition. Mrs. Sermon reported that there has been no orderly there since December, all care of the patients being upon the trained women nurses.

Mrs. Sermon reported that the committee had visited the tuberculosis pavilion, where there are forty-three patients, all men. Everything was in good condition, but although the basement kitchen is sanitary it is an undesirable place in which to prepare food.

Need Trained Nurse.

The need of a trained woman nurse to assist the nurse in charge at the tuberculosis pavilion was brought up. At present the nurse in charge has the entire care of forty-three patients, her only assistant being one of the men patients, who has had no training. It was thought a trained woman nurse should be an assistant to help the nurse in charge, especially with the women patients, to whom the pavilion is open.

Free Lunches.

In place of Mrs. J. T. Watson, president of the Housewives' league, Mrs. Mary L. Hickox of the Associated Charities gave an informal report of the free lunches for school children that have been served to children in the Irving school district. Between 35 and 40 children are served each school day at a cost of about 10 cents for each child. The cost of the food for each child amounts to 5 cents, the difference between that and the entire cost being due the cost of serving.

Dental Clinic.

Mrs. H. J. Grannis reported for Mrs. C. J. Le Sure, chairman of the dental clinic committee, that eighteen or twenty dentists are now examining the teeth of the school children and that examinations have been made of the oral cavities of the many children of various schools.

Action regarding appointing a delegate to the proposed Federation of Civic and Community clubs was deferred.

Reports of the federation meeting at Chisholm were given by Mrs. D. H. Williams, Mrs. R. H. Webster, Mrs. A. H. Brocklehurst, Dr. Sarah McClaran, Mrs. P. L. De Voist, Mrs. O. A. Oredson and Mrs. H. J. Grannis.

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

St. Paul, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following decisions were rendered today by the Minnesota supreme court:

ST. LOUIS COUNTY.
Order Affirmed.

Magnus T. Carlson, respondent, vs. Superior Terminal Elevator company et al, defendants; Superior Terminal Elevator company, appellant—

In a suit for damages for personal injury, held, on examination that the record does not show such contributory negligence on the part of the plaintiff as would require the court to instruct the jury to bring in a verdict for the defendant as a matter of law.

Order affirmed. SCHALLER, J.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY.
Order Affirmed.

Anton C. Weiss and George W. Buck, respondents, Zenith Realty company, appellant—

Under a lease which provides that in case the building on the leased premises shall be so injured by the elements or any cause as to be untenantable or unfit for occupancy, the liability of the lessee for rent, and all right of possession, shall at once cease; if the tenant would avoid payment of rent because of the untenantable condition of the building he must vacate and restore the premises to the lessor.

Possession of a lessee's sub-tenant is the possession of the lessee himself, and continued possession by sub-tenants in such a case subjects the lessee to the same liability as though he were in personal possession of the premises.

Order affirmed. HALLAM, J.

Judgment Affirmed.

State of Minnesota ex rel, People's Coal & Ice company, relator, vs. District Court of Ramsey county et al, respondents—

A driver for an ice company was required to follow a fixed route, in substantial disregard of weather conditions, though permitted to seek shelter in times of necessity. When a severe rain storm, accompanied by lightning, was in progress he left his team and went to a tall tree just within the lot line, either for protection or in the performance of his duties soliciting orders. Lightning struck the tree, and the same bolt struck him, and he was killed. It is held that the evidence sustains a finding that the death of the decedent was the result of an accident "arising out of" his employment within the meaning of the workmen's compensation act, Laws 1913, chapter 467, page 9.

Judgment affirmed. DIBELL, C.

RAMSEY COUNTY.
Charge Not Supported.

John Lindstrom, appellant, vs. Great Northern Railway Company, respondent—

In an action for damages by a section hand for injuries received in a collision between a handcar on which his crew was riding and a train, the burden is upon plaintiff to prove the negligence alleged. The mere fact of collision raises no presumption of negligence either of his foreman or the train crew.

The evidence examined and held insufficient to support a charge of negligence against defendant or any of its servants.

Order affirmed. HOLT, J.

RAMSEY COUNTY.
Judgment Reversed.

Ballard Transfer & Storage Company, respondent, vs. St. Paul City Railway Company, appellant—

Under the municipal court act of St. Paul, when a verdict is rendered in favor of a defendant in an action for damages, wherein the defendant counter-claims, such defendant is entitled to tax costs and disbursements necessarily paid or incurred in defending against plaintiff's claim, although no damages were awarded upon the counter-claim.

Judgment reversed. HOLT, J.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.
Has Right of Contest.

A beneficiary under a prior will of a testator has the right to contest the probate of a subsequent will which, if allowed, would take away or lessen the interest of such beneficiary, providing there is sufficient proof of the due execution and validity of the prior will. The burden of the proof in this respect is upon the contestant, but it is not necessary to probate the prior will or offer it for probate, or in all cases to make the formal proof necessary for the admission of a will to probate. Where the prior will, apparently executed and attested according to law, is received in evidence without objection, and the signature and mental capacity of the testator is proved, this is sufficient proof, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, to warrant a finding that the prior will was legally executed and attested, and that a beneficiary thereunder has the right to contest the subsequent will.

It is not necessary for the court, in a will contest, to make a specific finding of the facts upon which the right of the objector to contest the will depends.

It was not error in this case to deny a motion for a new trial made on the ground of newly discovered evidence.

The evidence is sufficient to sustain the finding of the trial court to the effect that the testator, at the time the subsequent will was executed, was mentally incompetent to make a will.

There was no error in the admission of certain evidence.

Affirmed. DUNN, J.

YELLOW MEDICINE COUNTY.
New Trial Granted.

1. Where a lessor by his lease contracts to keep the leased premises in repair, and he negligently fails to do so, he is liable to the lessee and to members of his family occupying the same for personal injuries received from a defective condition of the premises; but neither a stipulation in the lease that the lessee may make alterations at his own expense with the consent of the lessor, nor a provision that the lessor may enter and make repairs, will impose upon the lessor an obligation to keep the premises in repair.

2. When the lessor does not agree to repair and there is no fraud or concealment as to the safe condition of the premises, and the situation is not such as to create a nuisance, the lessee takes the risk of their safe occupancy. But if there is a concealed trap or danger on the premises at the time of the leasing and its existence is not obvious, but is known to the lessor and unknown to the lessee, the lessor is in duty bound to disclose it, and he is liable for negligent failure to do so even though he makes no contract to repair.

3. It is not important whether plaintiff injured by defective condition of leased premises used as a restaurant and dwelling, was an assignee of the lease or the wife of the lessee; her rights in either case are substantially the same.

4. An assignment contrary to the terms of the lease does not ipso facto terminate the lease, but merely gives the lessor an option to do so.

5. An assignment assented to by the lessor is not a new leasing. The rights of the parties so far as concerns liability for dangerous conditions of the premises are determined as of the time of the original leasing, and not as of the time of the assignment.

Order reversed and new trial granted. HALLAM, J.

YELLOW MEDICINE COUNTY.
Judgment Affirmed.

H. G. Odden, appellant, vs. Robert Jamison, as receiver, et al, respondents—

Where the purchaser of stock in a corporation reserves the right to rescind his purchase if, upon investigating the corporation, he should elect to do so, and obtains an undertaking, executed by sureties, that, in such event, the amount paid for the stock shall be refunded, which undertaking contains no limitation upon the time within which he shall exercise his right to rescind, he must make his investigation and rescission within a reasonable time or the sureties will be released. A delay of more than ten months held reasonable under the circumstances of this case.

Affirmed. TAYLOR, C.

STEARNS COUNTY.
Damages Not Excessive.

Anna Lawler, as administrator, respondent, vs. Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie Railway company, appellant—

1. Whether the operation of a train of cars at a high and dangerous rate of speed through a country village and over and across the streets thereof, irrespective of statute or ordinance regulating the speed of such trains, is an act of negligence, will depend upon the facts of the particular case, the presence or absence of fixed crossing signals, the population of the village, the extent of the use of the streets crossing the railroad track, and other facts throwing light upon the question, and ordinarily will present an issue for the jury.

2. The question was properly submitted to the jury in this case.

3. Evidence held to support the verdict finding negligence on the part of defendant in operating a train through the village of Watkins at a high and dangerous rate of speed, and also in not giving the usual signals of the approach of the train.

4. Decedent, who was killed by such train at a street crossing, was not guilty of contributory negligence as a matter of law. The distracting circumstances disclosed by the evidence made the issue one of fact.

5. The damages are not excessive, and the record presents no reversible error.

Judgment affirmed. BROWN, C. J.

OTTER TAIL COUNTY.
Order Affirmed.

Peter Aarnes, respondent, vs. Great Northern Railway company, appellant—

In an action for damages by an employe for personal injuries, the question arose as to whether the negligence complained of was that of the defendant or of an independent contractor. Upon examination of the contract under which the work was done, it is held that defendant had such right of control over the manner, means, time, place and results of the work that the doctrine of respondent superior applies.

Order affirmed. SCHALLER, J.

BELTRAMI COUNTY.
Evidence Sufficient.

Martin Duer, respondent, vs. Frank Gagnon, appellant—

1. The evidence is held sufficient to sustain the verdict.

2. The plaintiff, a man capable of earning $10 to $50 a month including his board, was beaten by defendant, his right leg was broken and he was confined in a hospital for about fourteen weeks; held, that a verdict for $1,200 was not excessive; nor does it appear that it was the result of passion or prejudice.

3. The conduct of plaintiff's attorney, in asking certain questions during the cross-examination of the defendant, held, not prejudicial error.

4. The court did not err in denying defendant's request to give certain instructions to the jury.

Order affirmed. SCHALLER, J.

STEELE COUNTY.
Mule Not a Horse.

In the matter of the reward for arrest and conviction of G. T. Greer, State of Minnesota, respondent, vs. C. J. Ost, et al, appellants—

A mule is not a horse within the meaning of general statute, 1913, section 5195, giving a reward for the arrest and conviction of any person charged with horse stealing.

Order affirmed. BUNN, J.

POLK COUNTY.
Order Reversed.

N. A. Rodseth, etc., appellant, vs. Northwestern Marble Works, et al., respondents—

1. One having the exclusive right to use a trade name can transfer such right to another only when coupled with a transfer of some property or business with which the name has become identified.

2. One person cannot exclude another from using a particular name as a trade name unless he has made actual prior use of such name as his own trade name.

3. If the name of a corporation has become established as the trade name of another before its use as such by the corporation, the corporation may be enjoined from using it as a trade name except in such form as will fairly distinguish it from the name already in use.

4. No one can acquire the exclusive right to use the name of the place where his business is located, nor the exclusive right to use words properly descriptive of the nature of the business, but where he establishes a trade name containing such geographical name and such descriptive words, if a competitor subsequently desires to use the same name and the same or similar descriptive words in his own trade name, he must put them in such form, or combine them with other words in such manner, that his trade name will be fairly distinguishable from the trade name first in use.

Reversed. TAYLOR, C.

BLUE EARTH COUNTY.
Judgment Affirmed.

National Citizens bank of Mankato, respondent, vs. George A. McKinley, et al., defendants, George A. McKinley, et al., appellants—

1. A mortgage to secure an existing debt which gives to the mortgagee a preference over other creditors of the mortgagor is not for that reason fraudulent. Such a mortgage may be set aside if part of a plan to defraud creditors and the mortgagee be chargeable with notice of that fact. This action is to foreclose a preferential mortgage, but if any fraud existed the mortgagee was not chargeable with notice of it, and the mortgage is valid.

2. A deed in writing and under seal made by one partner in behalf of the firm may be ratified by the other partner by parol.

3. A prior assignment by one partner of his individual interest in partnership could not prejudice the rights of a mortgagee in a partnership mortgage, since the individual partner had nothing to assign except his interest in the surplus, if any, existing after payment of all partnership debts.

4. We find no errors in the findings of the court.

Judgment affirmed. HALLAM, J.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT IN SESSION AGAIN

New Members of Cabinet Seated By Passage of Special Bill.

London, June 4.—Both houses of parliament met yesterday for the first time since the formation of the new coalition ministry. The new members of the cabinet, however, were unable to take their places on the ministerial benches in the house of commons owing to the law which made them ineligible to sit until they were re-elected by their various constituencies.

This situation, however, was speedily remedied, for the house of commons passed in all its stages a bill removing this disability for the period of the war. The house of lords passed the first reading of the same bill and will take up its further stages today.

There were some mutterings in the lower house against the bill being rushed through at one sitting, thus preventing a general discussion of Premier Asquith's decision calling upon the opposition to assist him in carrying on the war. This was silenced by Sir John M. Simon, the new secretary of state for home affairs, who led the house in the absence of the premier, promising to grant a day for the discussion of political changes.

Lawrence Ginnell, who follows the leadership of none of the parliamentary parties, but is the leader and only member of his own party, was not to be denied, however, and despite the censorship of the speaker, succeeded in saying that the members of the house who formerly were "calling each other liars and political assassins" were now aspiring to give each other jobs and were afraid to face the electors. Mr. Ginnell was attacking Premier Asquith's political character when the speaker ordered him to resume his seat.

After the passage of the suspensory bill the house of commons passed the first reading of a bill establishing a ministry of munitions, of which David Lloyd-George will have charge.

CELEBRATION NOW ASSURED

Personal Canvass Results in Subscriptions Amounting to $110.50

Further Plans Will Be Discussed at Meeting Next Monday.

Sentiment for the celebration of the Fourth of July in a fitting manner was almost unanimously expressed by residents of West Duluth in a canvass made by a committee yesterday afternoon. Out of sixty men interviewed only two refused to assist or have anything to do with such an affair.

Meeting Called.

The success of the canvass has resulted in the calling of a meeting of all those who have so far subscribed and all those who propose to give financial aid or assistance for next Monday afternoon. The meeting will be held at the West Duluth Commercial club at 3 o'clock. At that time definite plans as to the nature of the celebration as well as where it shall be held, will be taken up.

Every resident of the community is invited to attend this meeting to give suggestions and assist in the committee work. There will be work for both men and women, and both are asked to be present.

The canvass yesterday afternoon was made, following a meeting held at the club rooms, which was poorly attended. Believing that the attendance did not represent the feeling in general, the personal canvass was made. Those who made the canvass were J. A. McDonald and T. F. Olsen.

CLUB WILL HEAR FARRELL.

Works Head Will Discuss Improvements for West End.

Commissioner J. A. Farrell will speak this evening before members of the West Duluth Commercial club on proposed street improvements for this end of the city. The address will be with special reference as to what the city proposes to do this year in paving the Superior street-Oneota highway.

Members of the streets committee of the club have been investigating the feasibility of getting the improvement made this year. It is claimed that the majority of the property owners are willing to have the paving laid and that there will be no opposition to the project from corporations owning a large part of the abutting property. The Soo Line and Duluth, Missabe & Northern own a large part of the frontage.

H. J. BELL.

H. J. Bell, 425 North Central avenue, is one of the new comers in West Duluth who is beginning to show promise of being one of the community's best boosters.

Although a resident for less than three months, he has become a member of the West Duluth Commercial club and is taking a lively interest in the welfare of the district.

Mr. Bell is an enthusiastic believer in having the Fourth of July celebrated and is supporting the campaign.

ANOTHER ROBBERY ATTEMPTED.

Olson & Kauppi Believe Thieves Broke Store Window.

Members of the firm of Olson & Kauppi are of the opinion that some one attempted again last evening to break into the store. A stone had been thrown at one of the front windows of the grocery store, breaking a small hole in the glass and badly cracking it. It is the opinion of the proprietors that the marauders were scared away.

The store was entered two nights ago through a window of the butcher shop and six hams, thirty pounds of butter, sack of flour and other stuff taken. No trace of the thieves has been found by the police.

New Residence Completed.

Dr. T. J. Jensen has just completed building a handsome residence at 342 North Sixtieth avenue west. The residence is thoroughly modern and cost about $6,000. Dr. Jensen and his family moved into their new home this week.

Catches "Smoked Herring."

Three West Duluth fishermen are wondering what kind of a reception a fourth member of the party received when he got home last evening with his "catch." The four had gone in an automobile Wednesday night to one of the lakes north of the city and, although they used their best effort to coax members of the finny tribe to bite their hooks, they met with failure, not even getting a nibble.

On their return they stopped at a butcher shop at Fourth avenue east, where one member of the party purchased a few perch, another bought pike, while the third member, being a bachelor, did not care to make any showing, but the fourth said he also wanted fish. After looking at a various assortment, he decided on smoked herring.

The others are wondering what kind of an explanation he made at home regarding the "catch" of smoked herring.

Copper Wire Stolen.

Thieves have been busy the last few days stealing copper wire from supply stations along the right-of-way of the Great Northern Power company. According to a report made to the police more than 300 pounds of copper wire have been stolen. The West Duluth police are keeping a watch out for the thieves.

Infant Son Called.

Edwin, the 8-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Erickson of the town of Gnesen, died yesterday. The funeral will be held at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning from Bell Bros.' undertaking rooms, with interment in Oneota cemetery. Rev. Carl Oberg will officiate.

West Duluth Briefs.

Mrs. Milo Stark and Miss Mary Stark of Bradock, N. D., and E. Englebretson of Clear Lake, N. D., are in West Duluth visiting friends. They came here to attend the funeral of Mrs. Eliza Jensen, which took place yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. R. H. Watterson and son, Donald, of Minneapolis are guests at the home of Mrs. J. A. Webber, 5811 Wadena street.

AMENDED BOXING BILL IS PASSED

Some Cities in Wisconsin Can Regulate All Contests.

Madison, Wis., June 4.—With the adoption of a senate amendment allowing cities of the second, third and fourth class to make their own ordinances regulating the holding of boxing contests, the Hedding bill amending the state athletic commission law was concurred in by the upper house today.

The Fairchild bill exempting insurance, inheritances and gifts from income taxation passed.

The senate committee reports were adverse to the passage of the bill regulating the chiropractic and optometric profession, but the general medical bill was favored.

The 1913 bill which prohibits any judge, except a county judge, from running for any other office during his term is proposed to be repealed by a committee bill introduced today.

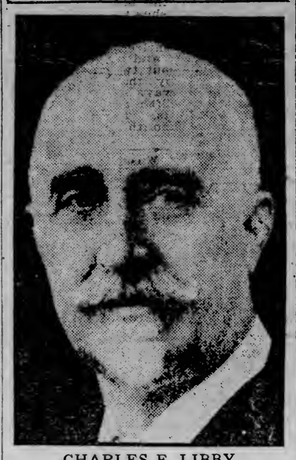

The senate finally concurred in the Minkley bill requiring all old paint and paper to be removed from walls of rooms in hotels and other public places before repapering or recalcimining.

Following a strong plea by Assemblyman C. F. Hart, the assembly voted 39 to 40 to kill the Edwards bill to permit minors to work in stone quarries. Mr. Weber said the measure would place child workers in the fourth most hazardous employment in the state.

The assembly killed the Johson bill to permit counties to buy up tax titles and laid over until next week the bill repealing the "blue sky" law and the motion to reconsider the vote by which the home rule amendment was defeated. It refused to reconsider the vote by which it advanced the Mortenson bill abolishing the department of oil inspection.

A third reading was ordered for the Jansen bill authorizing the city of Depere to construct a bridge across the Fox river.

OPEN LETTER EXPLAINING THE LOW PRICES

Jos. Callaway, Acting for the Manufacturers and Mr. F. M. Kreidler, Wishes to Give a Few Facts About the Low Prices on the Fine Stock of Pianos at Kreidler Music Company's Going-Out-of-Business Sale.

Entire stock of this well-known concern, including best makes of pianos, must be sold at once.

21 Lake Avenue North, Duluth, Minn. Open evenings.

There is so much comment on the low prices placed on the piano stock of the Kreidler Music Co., that an explanation seems necessary.

Jos. Callaway has undertaken (acting for the manufacturers) to close out the entire fine stock in 15 days, and is acting on instructions which read: "Sell entire stock at once, regardless of former prices." This leaves a leeway, of course, but Mr. Callaway has marked the prices so low that all the pianos will surely be sold within a few days.

Out of Business.

This well-known concern, Kreidler Music Co., has gone out of the piano business. Announcement of this great sale was made yesterday, and from the enthusiasm shown by the visitors certainly this sale can last but a few days.

Easy Terms.

Many music lovers prefer to buy on easy terms and these people will be accommodated at this sale, so do not hesitate on this score.

Famous Makes.

Here are the best pianos the world affords—Mehlin & Sons, Hallet & Davis, Conway, Lexington, Holland, Wheelock, Nelson, and others, in handsome woods, plain or carved cases.

Fine $300 pianos now $205 to $215. Choicest $350 to $400 pianos to close $285 to $310. Highest grade $450 pianos $345, etc.

It is not necessary to mention the entire stock here. You must see them yourself to realize this opportunity.

Used pianos $75 upwards. Organs $5 to $15. Come quickly.

About 1,000 Player Rolls, Music Cabinets, Benches, all Office Furniture and Fixtures, go at less than 50c on the dollar.

Sale Positively Limited.

Store open evenings until 10 o'clock. Remember this sale is positively limited. Lease has been given up.

FROM SILKS TO FISH.

Albert Hagen Is Arrested on Charge of Grand Larceny.

From dress silks to fish was the step claimed to have been taken by Albert J. Hagen, age 28, alleged burglar, arrested yesterday by Detectives Toewe and Bradley and held at headquarters.

S. Goldish, 208 East Second street, fish dealer, believes that Hagen stole several sacks of fish from his place Tuesday night. On June 30, 1905, Hagen was arrested and charged with stealing several hundred dollars' worth of dress silks from the Silberstein & Bondy dry goods store.

Twelve years ago, on Oct. 27, 1903, Hagen was arrested at Stillwater, Minn., and brought back to Duluth to face a grand larceny charge. He was sent to the Red Wing, Minn., reformatory. After the Silberstein & Bondy robbery he was returned to Red Wing. Under the alias of Albert Baldwin Hagen served ninety days for petit larceny in Hibbing during 1907.

The silk stealing case was one of the most unusual of its kind ever brought to the attention of Duluth police. When Hagen was arrested by Former Chief C. H. Troyer a systematic scheme of silk stealing was uncovered and eight negro women who had purchased the stolen finery also were arrested.

When arraigned in municipal court this morning Hagen pleaded not guilty to the fish stealing charge. Hearing was set for June 7 at 2 p. m. and bail was fixed at $500.

THREE MORE HELD FOR BREAKING TRAFFIC RULES

Two automobiles and a horse stood in front of the municipal court entrance this morning while their respective drivers answered charges of traffic violation.

Michael P. Doyle of Proctor, with his horse and buggy, came to town yesterday to see the sights. When he reached Third avenue west and Superior street he was arrested for traffic violation by Sergt. Englert and Officer George Wood.

Doyle left his horse standing at the curb without a weight, he resisted arrest, and was intoxicated, according to the officers. He pleaded not guilty to the traffic violation charge in court and will be given a hearing June 7. The other two counts were not considered.

Oscar Peterson, Jr., aged 19, arrested at Lake avenue and Superior street by Officer Peter Barber, yesterday noon, pleaded not guilty to a reckless driving charge in municipal court and will be given a hearing this afternoon.

Ed Carlson, aged 32, drove by open street car gates at Third avenue west and Superior street and was taken to headquarters by Officer George Wood. He pleaded guilty and sentence was suspended.

JITNEUR CAUGHT AFTER WILD CHASE

After a wild chase of half a mile early this morning police captured Theodore Johnson, aged 28, jitneur, who went joy riding when saloons closed.

When Johnson's jitney raced by police headquarters along Superior street, going west, Lieut. E. H. Barber noticed that the car was careening from side to side, and that the driver was having a hard time to keep his hand on the wheel.

Officers Stewart and Dinkel, in the emergency, caught him at Fourth avenue west.

Johnson pleaded not guilty to a drunkenness charge and will be heard June 7.

Held for Larceny.

Alleged to have stolen $43 from a room at 621 West Second street on June 1, Merritt Barry, alias "Mike" Berry, aged 25, is being held by police. A grand larceny charge probably will be placed against him today.

Barry is an old offender, having been arrested on Feb. 6, 1912, and October 6, 1914, on grand larceny charges. He was arrested yesterday by Capt. A. G. Fiskett and Sergt. John Roberg.

COUNTY TO DRAIN LARGE ACREAGE

County and City Work Farm Will Be Benefited By Action.

A project which will result in draining approximately 1,500 acres of land in the vicinity of the joint county and city work farm was given impetus this morning when the board of county commissioners took steps to officially establish county ditch No. 5.

The board appointed E. K. Coe, county road engineer, as engineer to take charge of the work of preparing plans and specifications for the construction of the ditch. N. J. Miller and Olaf O. Peterson of Duluth and Charles Pitchner of Hermantown were selected by the board as viewers to appraise the benefits that might accrue and the damages that might result by reason of the construction of the proposed ditch.

The plans will call for the construction of one main ditch and thirteen laterals, all to be located in 50 and 51-15. The project has been petitioned for by eleven property owners, including the joint county and city work farm commission. About 200 acres owned by the county and city as the work farm tract will be directly benefitted by the construction of the ditch.

The land that will be drained is now too low for successful tillage. The action taken by the board this morning simply establishes the water course of the ditches.

Today's meeting of the county board was given over entirely to a hearing on road building and ditch construction matters. About twelve new roads were legalized by the board. Most of the new highways so legalized are located in the Fifth and Sixth commissioner districts. The board will hold its regular monthly meeting next Tuesday.

Bitten by Muskellunge.

Bemidji, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—While fishing in Lake Irving, T. Anderson landed a twelve-pound muskellunge, which when his companion reached over the side of the boat to assist in pulling the fish in, jumped and caught the man's hand in its mouth, inflicting a serious wound. The fish was landed with no other difficulty and the injured man had his hand dressed.

MUCH BUSINESS FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Business incidental to the winding up of the school year will be considered by the board of education at its monthly meeting at the Central high school building tonight.

Supt. R. E. Denfeld is expected to make a report on the work of the last semester, and on the graduates of the high schools in the city.

A petition from the Kenwood club of Kenwood Park, asking that the board re-consider its decision to repair the Kenwood school, will be presented. The Kenwood residents, in a lengthy communication, repeat a statement made to the board last year, telling of the dilapidated condition of the structure and ask that a new building be substituted for the old one.

The Kenwood schoolroom, used to accommodate thirty-five pupils, contains but 14,438 cubic feet of air space, or, according to the board's own ruling, about enough for ten pupils, says the petition. It is further alleged that the building is rickety and poorly built, with poor ventilation and inadequate heating facilities.

It is probable that some action will be taken by the board in regard to the suit started against them by the Chippewa Falls Contracting company, which claims that $35,000 is due them under the terms of the Denfeld high school contract.

Mrs. T. J. Davis, who has been absent from recent meetings while in California, will be present tonight.

DOOKS GRAB FIRST GAME FROM VIRGINIA CROWD

Turner Slabs in Grand Shape and Home Team Wins 5 to 0.

Huggins Twirls for Invaders; Is Hit Hard in One Round.

BY BRUCE.

Large Mister Turner turned back the invading Virginians yesterday to the lilting tune of 5 to 0. In five out of the nine rounds the visitors went hitless. In but one round did they gather more than one hit. While our side gathered but six blows, three of these were clustered and were mingled with a bubble.

John Doyle debutted in left field. James Esmond Collins spent part of his day on the bench, part of it on the coaching line, and part of it in front of the bleachers. All Gaul was also divided into three parts. Darby says James is not hitting—therefore the bench and Jimmy are collaborating in a rest act.

In the second hostile round Turner whiffed three batsmen. Two more smote the ambient atmosphere in the succeeding round. The visitors never got a man past second. Big Turner had a hook curve and perfect control. Huggins twirled nice ball in all but the fifth round.

The initial scoring broke through to the score board in this frame. Turner lofted to McCabe and then Brown singled past second. Croake also singled past Fortman. Williams was passed and Jack Doyle lifted a little fleater over the bermuda of Sundheim. Truman hit one to Sundheim and he booted the offering, Croake counting. Williams moved to third on the boot, and scored on Wolfe's loft to Brokaw.

In the ninth, after Truman had walked and was thrown out at second on a missed hit and run combination, Wolfe singled over second, swiped second, went to third on a passed ball and counted on Paw Paw Sweeley's out at first. That ended the scoring for the day.

Two fast double plays were pulled by the home gang, and with Turner turning them back to the dog house, there was little chance for the Ore Diggers to drag the game out of the park.

FORT BILLS WIN FROM SUPERIOR

Visitors Win in Final Round; Glass and Girth Released.

Fort William won the first game of its series with Superior yesterday at Hislop park, making a spurt in the ninth round and pulling the game out by the score of 6 to 3.

After the game it was announced that Outfielder Fred Glass and Shortstop Girth had been released. Glass broke into the Northern as a pitcher, and then was reformed into an outfielder. Last spring he was hitting around .400, and it was reported that the Chicago White Sox had made a big cash offer for him. Since his hitting spurt of last spring Glass has failed to set the league on fire.

Phillies 2; Superbas 1.

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 4.—Errors by O'Mara and Miller gave Philadelphia a 2-to-1 victory over Brooklyn yesterday, robbing Appleton of a well-deserved shutout on his first appearance in some time. The Phillies fielded perfectly, two fast double plays helping Mayer to his victory. Brooklyn left last night on its first Western trip. Score:

TRACK EVENTS BEING STAGED

Duluth, Superior and Range High Schools Compete in Duluth.

Track and Field Events at Same Time; Many Stars Entered.

The largest track meet ever attempted in the northern part of the state will be held on the grounds near the Denfeld high school this afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock. Because of the long time required for the several heats, the track and field events will be held at the same time. It is expected that an enormous crowd will be in attendance to root for their favorites.

Superior Central, Nelson Dewey high, Denfeld high, Cathedral high and Duluth Central from the Twin Ports, and Chisholm and Coleraine from the range constitute the schools that will have entries in the several events. This is seven schools in all. Five points will be given for first place, three for second, two for third, and one for fourth.

At Denfeld Campus.

The field events will be held on the Denfeld campus, while the street has been roped off by Commissioner J. A. Farrell in order to facilitate the track events. The sprints and hurdle races will be held on Sixth street, between Fifty-fifth and Fifty-seventh avenues west. The longer races will be around the squares.

The list of events follows:

Track events—Trials, high hurdles; trials, 100-yard dash; mile run; 440-yard dash; trials, 220-yard dash; trials, low hurdles; half-mile run; finals, 220-yard dash; finals, low hurdles; finals, 100-yard dash; finals, high hurdles; relay race.

Field events—Discus throw; high jump; shot put; broad jump; pole vault.

When all of the schools are considered, it appears that Duluth Central has the best chance of carrying off the greatest number of points in the meet. With Hrutifiord, the star Central man, in good trim, he is expected to take several firsts. Beside him there are several other good men at Central. The list of entries for Central are: 100-yard dash, Hrutfiord, Karon; 220-yard dash, Stevens, Hrutfiord; 440-yard run, Kerr, McKay; 880-yard run, McCabe, Kerr; mile run, Boyd, Lewis; low hurdles, Hrutfiord; high hurdles, Lewis, Anderson; broad jump, Lewis, Hrutfiord; high jump, Anderson, Lewis; shot put, Peterson, Hoopes; discus throw, Craig, Hrutfiord; pole vault, Jentoft, Hrutfiord; relay team, to be picked from Hrutfiord, Karon, Stevens, McKay, Lewis and Anderson.

Interest in Cathedral Team.

Not much is known about the chances of the Cathedral men in the meet. Interest at the Fourth street school is high, and there will probably be several surprises sprung by the Purple and Gold men.

The athletes who will represent the R. E. Denfeld high school from West Duluth are confident that they will be able to make a remarkable showing. The men have been practicing diligently under the careful supervision of D. W. Hiestand, their track coach, and it is expected that they will get a good share of the points.

The two Superior schools are expected to be the big surprises of the meet. With large entries from both of them, they should make some trouble for the other schools. Patterson, Superior Central star, will be watched by everyone, and he will probably give Hrutfiord some hard fights.

Both Chisholm and Coleraine from the range will have several entries in the affair. Lipovitz from the former institution, as one of the stars of the state meet, getting two places. Several other range schools were asked to send entries to the meet, but the two named were the only ones that responded.

TONY FAETH DEFEATS BYERS

Tony Faeth, pitcher of the Virginia baseball team, last evening defeated Clayton Byers in the third block of their pocket billiard contest by the score of 175 to 150. The total stands are Byers, 450; Faeth, 396. Faeth made a high run of 35.

Friends of August Mausolf have issued a challenge to the winner. It is stated that Mausolf is the best player in the city and should have the right to meet the winner of the present series.

At the Grand, Miller defeated Peterson, 11 to 54, in the city pocket billiard championship.

Head Purdue Teams.

Lafayette, Ind., June 4.—F. F. Campbell, class of 1917, of Oklahoma City, was elected captain of the Purdue track team for 1916, and E. N. Weber of South Bend, Ind., was elected captain of the baseball team.

LINCOLN SCHOOL TEAM REFUSES TO PLAY ADAMS

Warm Controversy On in the Duluth Grade School Baseball League; Lawrence Duby Is Blamed By the Lincoln School Authorities for Scheduling Semi-Final Games.

BY BRUCE.

There is a ruction on in the Duluth Grade School Baseball league.

It's a regular ruction at that; one involving two of the school teams that were supposed to fight it out for the pennant in the Western division.

As the result of failure upon the part of the Lincoln school team to play the Adams school nine yesterday, it looks today as if the Adams school will be pitted against the winner of the Washington-Jefferson series for the grade school baseball championship of the city.

All through the present season The Herald has been heart and soul behind the little league. It has desired to make a real success out of the league, to assist the kids in every way. That its efforts to create interest have not been unavailing, is shown by the fact that today the city is held in the very throes of interest in the outcome of the race in the Eastern and Western divisions of the league.

It is unfortunate that a misunderstanding should arise. This paper wishes to remain on the fence. Differences will have to be settled between those in the league. This page is going to boost the league and boost the title games—but the fact remains that it is a real cause of regret that unpleasantness and charges should come up at a time when apparently every baseball fan in the city is intensely interested in the race and is impatiently awaiting the start of the title series at Athletic park.

Stand for the League.

Those aligned on either side of the present controversy over whether the Adams or Lincolns should play off the semi-final games to determine which team should represent the Western division, no matter in what way a decision is made, should remember that the league is bigger than any one team and should endeavor to preserve the league above all else.

The Lincoln school authorities, briefly, claim that they never agreed to the playing off of a series of the best two out of three games after the schedule had been played out in the two divisions of the league.

Several weeks ago Lawrence Duby had published in The Herald a statement that after the close of the race in the two divisions of the league there would be a series of three games played between the teams finishing first and second in each division, the winners of the series to meet for the city title.

Authorities of the Lincoln school claim they never agreed to this ruling. Lawrence Duby says that no protest was made at that time and that it believed it was tacitly understood that the series would be played out. When the Lincolns won the scheduled series there arose a protest over playing the Adams in the semi-final games, and now it is stated with no uncertainty of emphasis that the Lincolns will under no circumstances play against the Adams in the semi-final contests.

Adams to Be in Series.

Duby stated today that if the Lincolns still refuse to play the Adams school, that the Adams would meet the winner of the Washington-Jefferson school series. Also Duby stated that if the Lincolns were still willing to play, he would see that the forfeit of yesterday was wiped out and that the two teams started with a clean sheet.

However, today the Lincoln school authorities stated that they were fighting for a principle and that under no circumstances would the series with the Adams be played.

Duby declares that the Lincolns should have protested when the semi-final series was first announced, if they were opposed to playing it. The Lincoln school authorities claim that they saw it in the papers but paid little attention to it.

Also the Lincoln authorities ask why they are called upon to defeat the Adams four out of five games to win the pennant. Young Mr. Duby claims that this has no real bearing on the case. He says that the semi-final series was decided upon when the pennant race was in an unsettled condition, when most any team had a chance to finish ahead, and there were no protests against the series at that time. Duby says the fact that after that the Lincolns won the pennant in no way should cause them to set up a protest against a decision that was arrived at before any one knew that the Lincolns would pull down the Western division race.

So the argument goes, back and forth.

No matter the outcome of the argument, this paper appeals to the followers of school baseball, to the kids in all of the public schools of the city, to the fathers, mothers, sisters and brothers, and to the fans of Duluth, to support the league. The grade league should be greater than any faction. Help make the final games a wonderful success. Duluth should turn out 5,000 fans to the final game of the league championship. Don't let a squabble, coming at a most inopportune time, prevent the success of an undertaking that deserves and should have the success of every man and woman in the city.

This season the league is more or less in the nature of an experiment. Its success until the present squabble has been beyond the most sanguine expectations. Fathers, mothers, business men and the every day sort of fan have become greatly interested in the playing of the kids. On the street cars, on the streets, there has been gossip of the kid teams. A real and genuine interest has been aroused.

Don't let anyone or any one thing spoil all this. Other cities have made remarkable successes of their school leagues; have made baseball in the grades stand for manly ideals and big principles. Maybe some one has made a mistake—we are all human. There has been some misunderstanding—but

WESTERN LEAGUE MAY SUSPEND; SALARY CUT IMPERATIVE

Chicago, June 4.—Ball players of the Western league must submit to another general reduction of salary or operations will be suspended for the rest of the season, if the permission of the National Association of Minor Leagues can be gained according to a statement by Norris L. O'Neill, president of the league. O'Neill has put the question up to the players, he said:

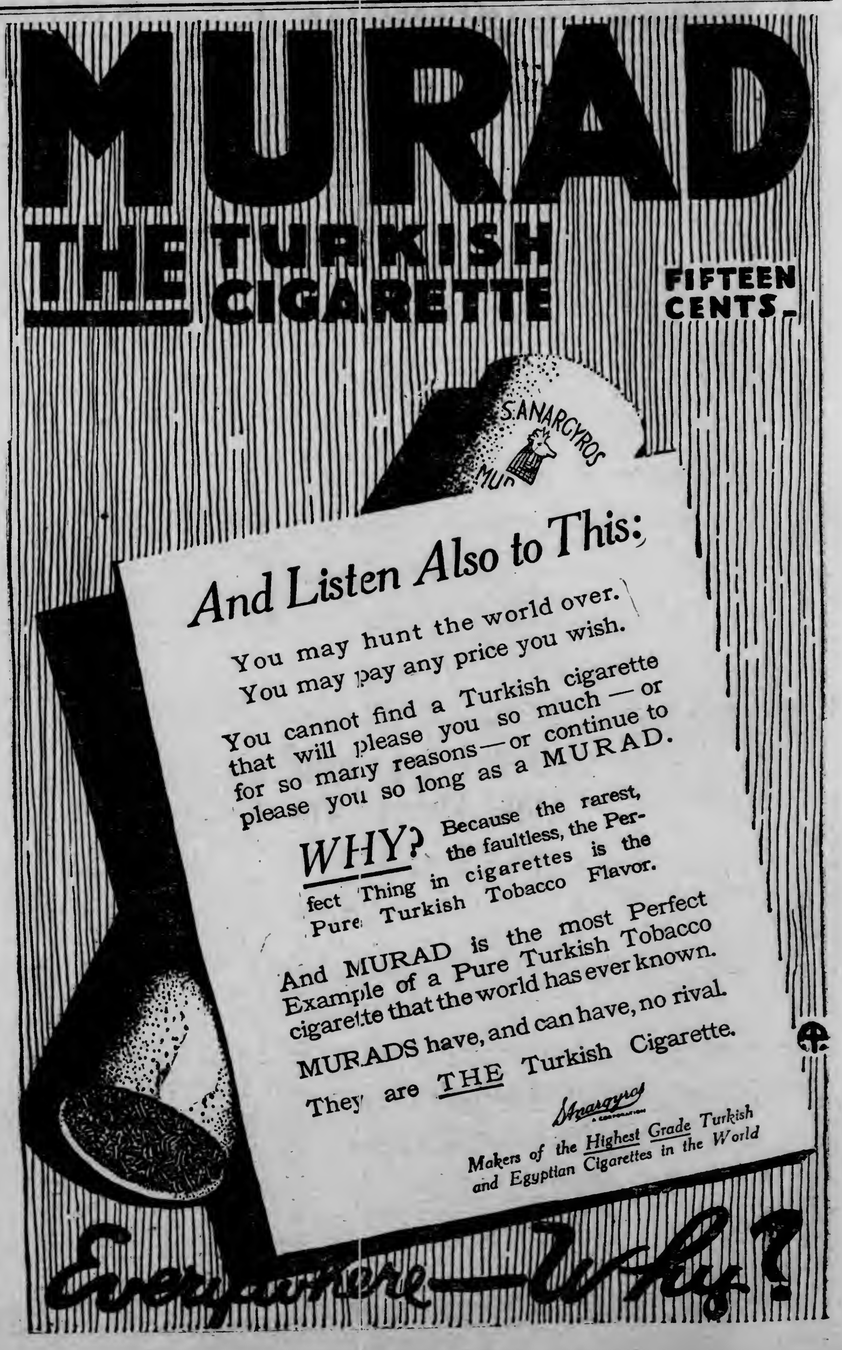

"Conditions have arisen this spring which make it inevitable that players in our league suffer cuts in their salaries," he said. "I have written each manager or captain in the circuit asking him to explain matters to the various players, and if there is a general disposition on the part of the men to take a cut enabling us to continue without further heavy financial loss to the club owners, the league will play out its schedule of games.

"If the players rebel, the Western league will suspend until 1916."

Denver, Col., June 4.—Jack Coffey, manager of the Denver Western league team, last night said that the Denver Baseball club was in receipt of a letter from President O'Neill of the Western league asking the players to consider a percentage proposition instead of a salary basis.

"From what I can tell of the feelings of the players in the matter," Coffey said, "I do not believe they will go through with the league under the conditions proposed."

The percentage named, he said, he could not disclose.

every school kid of Duluth, every father, every mother, every teacher should root all the harder for those final games. Next season the league will profit by any mistakes it has made this season. Right now the most important consideration is the success of the final games.

Let's all get together and pull for the Duluth Grade School Baseball league.

Remember the series will be played at Athletic park—be there with a smile and a banner.

WASHINGTON TEAM WINS

Jeffersons Are Beaten 18 to 8; Lincolns Forfeit to Adams.

The game little Washington team came back yesterday in the semi-final baseball games of the Eastern division of the school league and defeated the Jefferson team by the score of 18 to 8. As the Jeffersons won the game played the day previous, the two teams now have a game each. There will be no game between the Washingtons and Jeffersons today. The players of the two teams will be given a rest, the deciding game being scheduled for tomorrow morning. It is believed that one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a grade school team will be out to witness the final in the Eastern division of the league.

The winner of tomorrow morning's game will play in the big series at Athletic park for the school title.

No game was played yesterday between the Adams and Lincolns. The Lincolns refused to appear on the field and the game was forfeited to the Adams by the score of 9 to 0. If the Lincolns refuse to play again today, there being a game scheduled, it is stated that the Adams will be given the right to meet the winner of the Eastern division semi-finals.

EIGHT RIGGED ON WRONG SIDE

A port stroke on the new senior eight has compelled some delay in the plans of Coach Ten Eyck. The eights used in this section of the country have the stroke on the other side. Eastern builders followed the college habit in fitting out the boat. Jimmy and little Jack Nevell are busily engaged in putting the rigger on the other side of the boat.

The four is all right. The mistake was made in the new eight only.

All of the boys are working hard for the big regatta that is to be staged on June 12. The new coaching launch is here and is rendering yeoman service.

DERBY FAVORITE TO BE SEEN ANYWAY

London, June 4.—Although they are to be denied an opportunity of witnessing the Derby at Epsom downs, British race lovers will have a chance to see Pommern, the favorite for the abandoned classic, run in the so-called new Derby stakes, a race to be held with the New Oak stakes at the first extra Newmarket meeting which commences June 15. Eleven other horses have been entered for the new Drby.

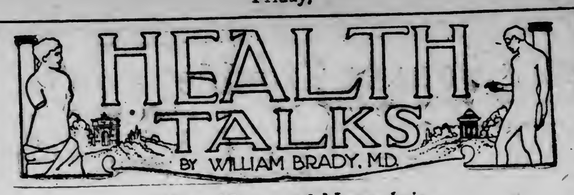

Today's racing calendar announces two other extra Newmarket meetings, one July 27, 28 and 29, and the other Aug. 24, 25 and 26.

JOHNNY EVERS BECOMES BASEBALL MAGNATE

Troy N. Y., June 4.—The franchise of the Troy team of the New York State league has been purchased outright by John J. Evers of the Boston Nationals. Leads Wachter and Andrew Sulls, all Trojans, the latter being a well-known baseball player.

Evers was elected president of the team and Wachter will retain the management.

Evers said he will remain with the Braves.

Wise Views of Neuralgia

ANY ache or pain not clearly understood may, with apology to ignorance, be termed neuralgia. But we must draw the line at "neuralgia of the stomach" and "neuralgia of the heart," for these are simply evasions or substitutes for a diagnosis. Neuralgia of the trifacial nerve, however, is sufficiently definite to deserve respect.

It is the popular idea that this is a disease in itself, and that certain pills, powders or potions will cure it. They won't. Relief they may offer, but not cure. What makes the nerve cry out? Some local condition or some general poison.

Among the local causes are neglected teeth. At least, that has been our personal experience and the experience of many physicians. Also impacted or uncrupted wisdom teeth, which can be demonstrated only by means of an X-ray photograph of the jaw.

Various general conditions of health cause facial neuralgia—excruciating pain in the course of one or more of the branches on one side of the face. One branch goes to the forehead, another to the cheek, the third to the lower jaw. The forehead branch alone may complain when the lower jaw branch is annoyed by decayed or impacted teeth.

But the nerve specialists have another opinion. One famous neurologist, Patrick, declares that auto-intoxication, Bright's arterio-sclerosis and alcoholism are not causes of neuralgia of the face. He believes local injuries or irritations have much to do with it. He advocates operative methods of treatment, including injection of the nerve ganglion with alcohol, which is comparatively free from risk and gives prolonged or permanent relief.

Moorehead, another eminent nerve specialist, has never seen a case of trifacial neuralgia that was due to any demonstrable cause. He has seen one tooth after another extracted, to no avail—and so have we all.

Perhaps the painful conditions often attending an unerupted molar do not constitute typical neuralgia, but the relief from digging out the entombed root is none the less welcome to the sufferer.

All sufferers from neuralgia should beware of these dangers: Acetanilide, phenacetin, antipyrin, acetphenetedin and morphine, drugs which enter into too many "guaranteed" remedies. There's a list of popular nostrums as long as your face containing some one of these heart-depressing or habit-forming drugs.

Acute Bright's Disease.

Is acute Bright's disease fatal? What causes it? Is there any known cause?

ANSWER—1. Rarely. 2. Usually it is the result of toxins in the blood from some illness, like scarlet fever; or poisons, like alcohol. 3. Yes, intelligent management of diet, bathing and medication—there is no particular treatment which can honestly be called a "cure" for acute or chronic kidney disease.

Show Us the Acid.

Will you please advise a diet for a person who has a great deal of acid in his system?

ANSWER—Male, female or plural? It is hard to tell from your question. How do you know there is acid in your system? What acid? You see, some portions of an average system normally should contain acid.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to Health. HANDICAP AT NORTHLAND

Play in the annual spring golf handicap is on tomorrow at the Northland club links. The finals in the event are to be completed before the Fourth of July. Qualifying rounds will be played for 18 holes and the first 16 low score players will compete in match play handicap. There is a handsome trophy that will be donated to the winner.

It is expected that a big field will be out for the handicap. The course is now in excellent shape, and with ideal weather golf should get down to mid-season form.

OLD-TIME RIVALS IN GOLF MATCH

Walter J. Travis Beats Jerome D. Travers in Metropolitan Play.

Rye, N. Y., June 4.—Walter J. Travis of Garden City, veteran golfer and former winner of the international, national and Metropolitan championships, played a splendid game yesterday in the second round of match play for the Metropolitan association's title on the Apawamis club's links. His opponent was his old-time rival, Jerome D. Travers of Upper Montclair, N. J., also a frequent winner of national and Metropolitan golf honors, but Travis won by one up.

Invariably the older player was outdriven from the tees but his remarkable work on the greens gave him the victory. His putting was uncanny at times, and on several greens he needed only a single putt. A ten-foot curling putt on the fifth and another on the sixth green gave him the holes in two and three respectively, each being one stroke under par. He was then one up and never relinquished the lead.

The gallery frequently applauded both men. Each made the round in 76, Travis winning the match on the home green with a twelve-foot putt for a half in four.

Four former winners of the Metropolitan championship—Douglas, Seeley, Herreshoff and Travers—were eliminated yesterday. The present champion, Oswald Kirkby, and Travis meet in the semi-final round today, providing each wins his match in the third round this morning.

KILLED IN FLANDERS.

Nephew of T. R. Hancock Falls; Was Promoted Twice.

T. R. Hancock, 705 West Third street, has just received news of the death of his nephew, Sergeant Frederick George Retchford, age 26. The report says the young officer was killed in Flanders.

The young man was the son of Maj. and Mrs. E. Retchford of Penryn, Cornwall, Eng. When the war broke out he was serving with a British battalion in Hong Kong. He was then detailed to France, where he was promoted to lance corporal and then to sergeant.

Information regarding his death was received in England by the young man's sister. A letter bearing the address of the sister was found in Retchford's pocket by a lieutenant in his regiment.

ARE NOW ANXIOUS TO GO TO ALASKA

Panama Canal Workers Seek Positions on Government Railroad.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Panama, May 10.—Many of the workers on the Panama canal, after several years of tropical life, are now anxious to go to Alaska where the United States government is undertaking to build a railroad. A short time ago when H. P. Warren, representing the Alaskan railway commission, arrived on the istmus to purchase machinery no longer useful on the canal work he was swamped with applications for positions in Alaska.

Manay of the canal workers are tired of the tropics, or what is the same, believe they are and are willing to risk the rigors of an Alaskan winter for the sake of change. Immediately after his arrival, however, Mr. Warren made it plain that there would not be many positions open in Alaska. He also frankly told canal workers that living conditions are far from easy and that the construction gang would not find the same treatment in Alaska that they have received at Panama for the last eleven years although working for the same government. Positions are going to be scarce for awhile, he said, because not nearly so large a force will be needed as was employed at Panama.

The government already has sent out a warning against any rush into the territory this season as the work by no means justifies one. Moreover, the great majority of the workers will have to be prepared to return to the United States each fall as the winters are so severe that little outside work can be done.

Many of the locomotives that were used in the construction of the Panama canal and were daily employed in pulling the thousands of soil trains from all along the route of the waterway eventually will do added duty on the Alaskan project. They will have to be altered from a 5-foot guage to the standard of 4 feet 8 inches and this work is now being done in the canal machine ships. Many other machines also have been purchased by Mr. Warren and already have been shipped north to begin their service.

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR "Y" BOYS' PROGRAM

Plans Now Under Way For Season at Camp Miller.

The popular Friday night program at the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. will be a game tournament, to be followed with mass games. Refreshments will be served. Saturday afternoon at 2:30 there will be a hike to Lakewood. Each boy will bring his lunch.

Regular periods are being held at the gymnasium weekly. The schedule follows: High school students, Tuesday and Friday at 3 o'clock; employed boys, Tuesday and Friday, 7 o'clock, and intermediates, Wednesday at 4:15, and Saturday at 10 o'clock. All the classes are followed by swimming periods. A special schedule goes into effect when school closes. It will include swimming every day. Any member of the boys' department, who does not know how to swim, can arrange for special swimming lessons. Camp Miller will open for its first camp Monday, June 21 when the Knights of Sir Galahad will go there for a week. The camp will be open all summer for four weeks. The boys' department will feature a special program for the entire summer. This will include weekly outings, outdoor swimming and short camps. The club will furnish an attractive program during August while the camp is on for those boys who are unable to go to camp.

LIEUTENANT SAVED BY HIS SOLDIERS

Took Turns in Holding an Artery That Was Severed.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, May 17.—Lieut. Hellyer of the Fourth East York's territorials, who is now in a hospital at Boulogne, owes his life to the devotion of his men in the ranks, who kept him from bleeding to death by takings turns in holding an artery. The officer's left arm was blown off by a shell and his right arm badly injured. The main artery of the severed arm was exposed. But one of his men pinched it with his fingers. When the man's hand tired, another took his place in holding the artery. No surgical aid was available, and for three days Lieut. Hellyer lay in the bottom of the trench, with only this primitive aid from his soldiers between him and death.

GREAT CROWDS AT ART EXPOSITION

Many Articles Saved From War Zone Shown at Paris.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Paris, May 17.—Sympathetic interest is helping to make a great success of the art exposition just opened by President Poincare in the Petit palace. Crowds of people, little acquainted with art, are drawn there because they know that the tapestries from the Reims cathedral were removed under fire and that Flemish objects of art from churches and town halls of the regions of Ypres and the Yser were snatched from under the muzzles of guns.

"Poor Soissons," one hears from those around the marvelous tapestry representing the siege of that town in the fifth century. "Just think of it. Fifteen hundred years ago they were hammering at her, and they are at her still."

There is also always a crowd around a leather panel from the mayor's palace at Furnes—a name forever more associated with the popular idol of the war, King Albert. This remarkable specimen of Flemish hears the scars of war—pierced and lacerated as it is by shells.

A figure of Christ carved in ivory, saved by an old priest from a church at Merghilynck just before its demolition, attracts great attention. There are many specimens of remarkable wood carvings in altars and reading desks and seventy showcases full of Flemish laces and embroideries, all saved from devastated regions.

The proceeds of the exhibition go to the Franco-Belgian relief.

When Glands Swell Blood Needs Attention

Even a Sweat Gland May Result in Severe Consequence.

In our intricate body the use of S. S. S. for the blood has a most remarkable influence. We little realize our glandular system. It may be a tiny bulb no bigger than a pin point, and yet if a disease germ gets into it, there is a tremendous swelling. It becomes a boil, a carbuncle, it may be a "blood rising," and it is often a source of continuous misery if not checked. Many of the most excruciating forms of torture begin with the swelling of a tiny gland, caused by a disease germ. And it is S. S. S. that spreads throughout the blood circulation to prevent just such conditions. Or if they have already started, S. S. S. will soon put the blood in such a state of health as to overcome the tendency to glandular swellings. It is a natural medicine for the blood, just as essential to health if the blood be impure, as are the meats, fats, grains and sugars of our daily food.

It contains one ingredient the active purpose of which is to stimulate the exchange of new flesh for dead or waste matter.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. today of any druggist, and if your case is stubborn, write to the Medical Adviser, The Swift Specific Co., 108 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. This department is in charge of a noted physician.

PANAMA CANAL PAYS EXPENSES

Will Probably Have Surplus for First Year of Operation.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Panama, May 10.—The Panama canal will have earned in the first year of its operation sufficient to pay all its running expenses and probably leave a small surplus, according to the figures now being compiled in the office of the canal auditor. The loss now is about 5 per cent as against 20 per cent at the end of February. The deficit of about 20 per cent incurred during the first eight months of the waterway's operation has been nearly eliminated and will be completely wiped out by June 30 when the first year of operation will end.

Nearly every month of the last nine has shown an increase in the tolls earnings. Tolls for April, however, were slightly lower than those for March, which were a record. It is declared the tolls for May will equal if not exceed those for March.

MUTUAL SOCIETY IS FLOURISHING

Co-operative Society of Carpenters in France Pays Well.

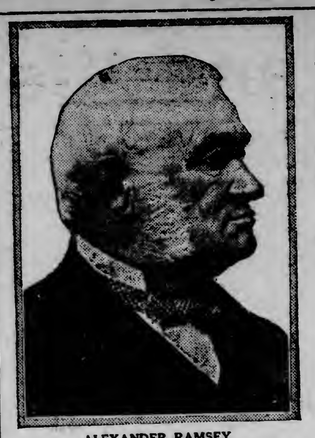

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Paris, May 17.—Reconstruction of destroyed villages in the lower part of the Argonne has commenced within hearing of the devastation that continues further north. The work is directed by a co-operative society of carpenters, "Les Charpentiers de Paris." Soldiers and peasants are doing a great deal of the work and thus learning a trade while providing shelter for returning refugees. The prefect of the department of the Meuse has arranged with the co-operative society for the construction of temporary dwellings, stores, barns and stables so as to permit the earliest possible return of the inhabitants at all points out of reach of the long range guns.

The "Charpentiers de Paris" is the most flourishing of the numerous mutual societies of France. Composed entirely of workmen, this institution began contracting for carpentry work on its own account with a capital of 135,000 francs. Last year it did 5,000,000 francs business, distributed 60 per cent dividend to its members, in addition to the highest rate of wages paid in the trade. Since the beginning of the war it has paid to wives of its mobilized members the same allowances as those paid by the state. It continued these payments to the widows of a considerable number who have been killed in battle. Since war paralyzed the building industry, the society has co-operated with the war department in building temporary barracks, storehouses, aviation sheds and portable hospitals.

Volcano in Eruption.

Seward, Alaska, June 4.—Illiamna volcano on the west shore of Cook inlet is in eruption. Its activities were plainly visible Tuesday to the passengers of the steamship Mariposa, fifty miles distant. Smoke and flames burst from the crater at two-minute intervals.

ALEXANDER RAMSEY

Minnesota Encourages the Brewing of Beer

WAR GOVERNOR IN 1860 SIGNS TEMPERANCE LAW

Governor Ramsey, the staunch old war governor of Minnesota, in 1860 joyfully signed the following temperance law—chapter 29 of the laws of 1860, approved March 8, 1860, entitled:

An act to encourage the manufacture of pure lager beer and thereby to discourage the use of alcoholic liquors. It is provided that no license shall be required for the purpose of selling lager beer manufactured in the state.

Alex Ramsey

This law did not even consider beer an alcoholic liquor and its use was recommended to discourage strong drink.

FITGER NATURAL BEER
"A DRAUGHT BEER IN BOTTLES"

The Fitger Kieselguhr filter, first of its kind in America, preserves the flavor and aroma of the natural beer, which pasteurization, commonly in use, destroys. The Fitger Kieselguhr filtration purifies better than pasteurization. It preserves the quality of the natural beer. To pasteurize beer it must be heated. That spoils the taste and quality. Good judges used to prefer draught beer. They now drink Fitger Natural Beer.

Fitger Natural Beer is a brilliant draught beer, placed on your table in bottles, absolutely pure, and with the wonderful fragrant freshness of natural beer as drawn from the wood.

RURAL CREDIT PLANS PROPOSED BY HANNA

North Dakota Executive Has Idea to Give Farmers Cheaper Money.

Fargo, N. D., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—North Dakotans are greatly interested in the rural credits proposition and in working out plans that will assist the farmers of the state to secure cheaper money. There are a number of plans being elaborated and among those receiving considerable attention is one suggested by Governor Hanna.

Governor Hanna's Plan.

His idea is that if there is a favorable crop this year as much of the state school lands as possible should be sold. The buyers in most cases would become actual farmers. Men from other states would come here and establish themselves because of the easy terms upon which this land can be bought. The total sum to be realized from this land sale would be between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000 and this would care for the bulk of the first mortgage farm loans made in North Dakota.

At present about 80 per cent of the farm loans are west of the territory known as the Red River valley and the average sum loaned on the average quarter section that is under a mortgage is between $1,100 and $1,200.

BREAD AND WATER FOR STINGY SPOUSE.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 4.—Henry Heidhart, a contractor, who admitted he had given his wife but 25 cents a day for the support of their seven children, was sentenced by Judge Page yesterday for seven days in the county jail on a diet of bread and water.

SHRINERS OWN FARGO.

Fez-Wearers Numerous in North Dakota City for Big Doings.

Fargo, N. D., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Wearers of red fezes are here from all over the Northwest for the big Shrine doings this evening. For the convenience of the visitors the Northern league ball game was advertised for 2 o'clock to permit the visitors to attend the game and get back to the temple for the parade, which starts at 5 o'clock. In this parade the officers will be at the head in carriages and dressed in their official robes. The Arab patrol, Shrine band, hundreds of members of the organization and the large class of novices in their shrouds will be in the parade, which will march through the principal business streets. The candidates will be chained two and two, and all will march hanging on to a rope. There will be some emblematic floats.

MANY NORSEMEN AT FARGO MEETING

Fargo, N. D., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Norwegian Landingslaget, which began a three-day session here yesterday, has between 300 and 400 delegates in attendance. The number is regarded as highly satisfactory, as it is one of the smallest of the group of lagets, and a majority of the members reside east of the Twin Cities. In addition to local members of the organization who are acting as committees on entertainment, there is a general reception committee from the local organization of the Sons of Norway to welcome the arriving guests and to assist in making the stay of the guests here as pleasant as posible.

NORTH DAKOTA GIRL KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

Lignite, N. D., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Becoming confused when an auto attempted to pass her in the road, Alma Blom, 13 years old, stepped directly in front of the machine driven by Jacob Dewing, was knocked down and killed. Dewing, it is said, had reduced his speed and sounded his horn before reaching the girl, and no blame is attached to him.

Grafton Entertains Medics.

Grafton, N. D., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Grafton is entertaining the members of the district medical society today in the offices of the Feeble-Minded institute, which will be inspected by the visitors. The speakers include Doctors Olson of St. Thomas, Gilbreath of Cavalier, Scott of Crystal and Wylie of Grafton. The visitors are being entertained by the local members of the medical association.

MAY INVOKE LAW.

Rivals of Amidon, N. D., May Tie Up Courthouse Construction.

Amidon, N. D., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Legal proceedings may be instituted by rival towns to prevent the construction of a courthouse here. The commissioners announce that bids will be opened July 6 for a new courthouse and jail and Amidon people are elated, as they feel that there will be less danger of losing the county seat after the county constructs a courthouse here.

On the other hand, the residents of the rival towns are indignant and intimate that legal proceedings will be instituted to prevent the erection of a courthouse until the matter of the county seat can be finally determined by a vote of the citizens of Slope county.

N. D. WELL DIGGERS ARE NOW ORGANIZED

Grand Forks, N. D., June 4.—The North Dakota Well Drillers' association was permanently organized here yesterday. The officers are: President, A. L. Brown, Grand Forks; vice president, C. J. Bone, Langdon; secretary, J. R. Chalmers, Mott; treasurer, E. F. Reese, Devils Lake; directors, Francis Jaszdzik, Bismarck; C. L. Tillquist, Dickinson; C. H. Tibbitts, Powers Lake. The next meeting is to be held at Devils Lake.

SPOPEE, FAMOUS INDIAN, IS DEAD

Great Falls, Mont., June 4.—Spopee, the Piegan Indian who gained wide notoriety by the murder trial in which he was defendant and was convicted and then pardoned, is dead. Spopee had been made the theme of a song and story because of the manner he was innocent of the crime in that he killed in self-defense.

After conviction Spopee was sent to the Federal prison at Leavenworth, but because of his peculiar conduct he was taken from there to an asylum at Washington, where he was detained until his pardon.

DR. STARR JORDAN TO SPEAK AT HAMLINE

St. Paul, Minn., June 4.—The graduating class at Hamline university will have as its commencement speaker Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford university, California. The fifty-seventh annual commencement will take place June 9 and will be preceded by four days of graduation activities. A baseball game Saturday between Hamline and Macalester will be the first event, Baccalaureate services will take place Sunday at the Hamline Methodist church. Governor W. S. Hammond will speak in the Hamline university chapel Monday morning and the class parade and play will take place Monday afternoon and evening.

AITKIN TRAINING SCHOOL.

Instructions for Sunday School Teachers Will Be Given.

Aitkin, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—A summer training school for Sunday school teachers will open here next Monday in the assembly room of the high school and continue during the month. Rev. A. L. Richardson, pastor of the M. E. church; Rev. W. E. Hammond, pastor of the Congregational church, and Supt. R. L. Mason of the public schools, will be instructors. The sessions will be held from 8:30 o'clock until noon four days in the week. At the end of the month state examinations will be given for diplomas to be awarded by the state Sunday school association.

Miss Ida Rud, teacher of the eighth grade in the Aitkin school, has received the appointment of superintendent of schools of Norman county, and will enter upon her duties Sept. 1, at a salary of $1,400 a year.

Miss Lila Gilmore of Aitkin has been re-elected teacher of the seventh grade in the local schools for next year, and John Wilson of Peoria, Ill., has been elected manual training instructor.

STILLWATER TWINE FACTORY IS BUSY

Stillwater, Minn., June 4.—The prison twine factory is being operated day and night and the output for the year will be close to 20,000,000 pounds, or 1,000,000 pounds more than was made last year. Shipments are being made principally to Minnesota districts every day.

Little Falls—Dave Emond, confessed forger, was sentenced to the St. Cloud reformatory Wednesday by Judge Roeser. Clark Skinner pleaded guilty to asault in the second degree before Judge Roeser and was fined $50 and costs amounting to $140.

Fergus Falls—Fred Maeder, a resident of St. Cloud, who was sent here some time ago following his attempt to commit suicide by hitting himself on the head with a hammer, escaped from the hospital and is now at large.

Pine City—The county school boards will meet here next Saturday, June 5.

Cambridge—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnson, Mrs. M. B. Hixson and the Misses Mildred Wilson and Edith Engberg motored to St. Francis Wednesday to visit the consolidated school at that place. Miss Engberg has been engaged to teach there the coming school year.

Ada—Active preparations are under way for the county fair to be held here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 5, 6 and 7. President Olson and Secretary Casselman, who have been selling additional stock in the association have passed the $1,200 mark and as they have nearly all of the county outside of Ada to canvass, they expect to sell at least $2,000 worth of new stock.

Sewing Circle With Much Whispering

Before the stork arrives there is much to talk about. The comfort of the expectant mother is the chief topic. And there is sure to be someone who has used or knows of that splendid external help, "Mother's Friend." It is applied to the abdominal muscles, gently rubbed in and has a most pronounced effect as a lubricant. It soothes the network of nerves, enables the muscles to expand naturally, relieves strain on the ligaments and thus sets at ease any undue strain on the organs involved. And it does this with perfect safety. Expectant mothers thus go through the ordeal with comparative ease and comfort. Knowing mothers who have used "Mother's Friend" speak in glowing terms of the absence of morning sickness, absence of strain on the ligaments and a freedom from many other distresses.

You can get "Mother's Friend" at any drug store or they will gladly get it for you. Write today to Bradfield Regulator Co., 401 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a highly instructive book of great value to all expectant mothers. It contains a valuable expectancy chart, rules on diet and is brimful of suggestions that all women will appreciate.

WOMAN COULD NOT SIT UP

Now Does Her Own Work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

Ironton, Ohio.—"I am enjoying better health now than I have for twelve years. When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could not sit up. I had female troubles and was very nervous. I used the remedies a year and I can do my work and for the last eight months I have worked for other women, too. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for I know I never would have been as well if I had not taken it and I recommend it to suffering women."

Daughter Helped Also.

"I gave it to my daughter when she was thirteen years old. She was in school and was a nervous wreck, and could not sleep nights. Now she looks so healthy that even the doctor speaks of it. You can publish this letter if you like."—Mrs. RENA BOWMAN, 161 S. 10th Street, Ironton, Ohio.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

ON THE IRON RANGES

PRESIDENT MURPHY STAYS TEMPORARILY

Head of Virginia Commercial Club Postpones Quitting Job.

Virginia, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—After the Commercial club last night passed without a dissenting vote a resolution offered by W. H. Eaton requesting President M. A. Murphy of the club, who persisted in resigning, to at least remain in that position until after the reception to the state solons, the firemen's range tournament and the Fourth of July celebration, Mr. Murphy consented to remain temporarily. Mr. Murphy insists there is a lack of interest in the club's work which promoted him to tender his resignation.

To Improve Farmers' Lands.

In order to devise means to permit farmers to borrow money to improve their lands and herds in this section a committee consisting of E. J. Larsen, D. C. Reed and Joseph Karl was appointed to wait on local bankers and request their aid.

W. J. Archer was given power to name two others to investigate with him the payment of taxes under protest by ore operators in so far as the protests relate to the city of Virginia.

Rabbi Joseph Silver appealed to the club in behalf of Leo Frank, under sentence at Atlanta. The secretary was instructed to draft a resolution directed to Governor Slaton of Georgia asking that Frank's sentence be commuted to life imprisonment.

WILL TAKE MOVIES OF HIBBING'S GUESTS

Hibbing, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Motion pictures of the state legislators will be taken during their visit here June 12.

Secretary J. E. Lawler of the Commercial club induced a film concern to send a man here to take the pictures which also will show the mines and methods of operation here.

Secretary Lawler has managed to have the itinerary of the legislators changed so they will arrive here on the evening of June 11, instead of the following morning as was previously arranged. It is probable that the lawmakers will be brought here from Coleraine in automobiles and that some entertainment be given upon their arrival here.

Dinner in Hibbing Schools.

On the following morning a visit to mines in this vicinity is planned. An auto tour will be made around the village and to the various mine locations. Dinner will be served by the domestic science students in Hibbing schools, while a program will be given by the orchestra and chorus. Menu cards will be printed by the members of the printing class while it is also planned to issue a "journal" of the adjourned session of the legislature as a memento of the visit here.

CHISHOLM MEN TO FACE JURY MONDAY

Hibbing, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Indications are that the term of district court now in session here will be the shortest in the history of the range county court.

Two cases set for today were settled. "It is the fastest action I have ever seen in my life," said Judge Hughes, "and the best thing about it is that the cases are being settled instead of continued." Elahia Baklosh and Hady Aday of Chisholm, who are accused of trying to kill Tom Shaw, a local wrestler, at Chisholm April 21, will be tried Monday. Both pleaded not guilty today. No other indictments have been made public yet.

NASHWAUK IS TO CELEBRATE FOURTH

Nashwauk, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Nashwauk will have a monster celebration on July Fourth, and the arrangement committee is already assured of plenty of funds. Nashwauk is the only town in Itasca county that will celebrate and it is expected that many people will spend the Fourth here from Grand Rapids, Coleraine, Bovey, Taconite, Marble, Calumet and Keewatin.

The committee consisting of Paul H. Tweed, Santo Sella, J. Ratama, H. Haugen and C. W. Latvalla, is making arrangements for a monster celebration.

There will be a calithumpian parade in the morning headed by the Nashwauk band and in the afternoon there will be all kinds of sports and a ball game. In the evening there will be a fine display of fireworks and then a big dance will be held under the auspices of the Nashwauk baseball team.

To Stop Refuse Dumping.

The dumping of refuse on the Buck lake and other roads will be stopped by the village council and signs will be placed showing where the village dumping grounds are located so that there will be no excuse for dumping wherever it is handiest. Those who are caught dumping refuse on any place near the village will be prosecuted, as it is the desire of the health officer to enforce the ordinance covering this nuisance.

A committee from the Nashwauk Commercial club, consisting of Paul H. Tweed, J. P. Raatoma, Oscar Johnston, J. C. Lewis and Helmer Haugen, attended the meeting of the county board at Grand Rapids on Tuesday and asked for an appropriation to be used for the purpose of making needed repairs to the stretch of road connecting with the township road at a point from the McLeod road north for a distance of two and one-half miles.

The commissioners stated that the road fund was exhausted, but that they would spend what they could to repair this piece of road. A committee of two, consisting of Andy Nelson and Morris O'Brien, was appointed by Chairman Passard to look over this piece of road to ascertain how much it would cost to repair it.

The Nashwauk committee asked for an appropriation sufficient to gravel this road, but owing to lack of funds, this work could not be done this year.

Every Man Read This

This treatment is said to have acquired a wonderful reputation throughout the East, owing to its peculiar propensity to fortify the nerve force and generate health and a consequent personal magnetism, so essential to the happiness of every normal human being. It is claimed to be a blessing to those who are physically impaired, gloomy, despondent, nervous, or who have trembling of the limbs, dizziness, heart palpitation, cold hands and feet, insomnia, fear without cause, timidity in venturing and general inability to act rationally as others do. Also of vast benefit to writers, professional men, office workers and the victims of society's late hours and overindulgence in wines, liquors, etc.

By obtaining the treatment at some well stocked pharmacy, no one need know of another's trouble, while the treatment has been widely prescribed and dispensed heretofore by physicians and pharmacists, the grain tablets are so prepared with full directions for self administration that it is wholly unnecessary to pay a physician for prescribing them. Just ask for three-grain Cadomene tablets, begin their use and soon all the joy of a healthy body, sound nerves and strength will be felt.

EXPECT POWER TO OUTLINE POLICY

Chisholm, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Everything is ready for the annual June picnic to be held next Sunday on the shores of Longyear lake by the Eagles.

The dancing pavilion has been overhauled, high class music has been engaged, and a program of swimming, boating and running races arranged. Mayor Victor L. Power of Hibbing will deliver the oration of the day. He will be accompanied by hundreds of Hibbing visitors. It is expected Mr. Power will discuss recent happenings affecting Hibbing and possibly outline the policy to be pursued in meeting the situation.

Mr. Power and party, after his speech, will be taken for a trip around Longyear lake in Mr. Hayes' fine launch, the Water Wagon. The motor boats will be running all day, leaving either side of the lake every three minutes. Interurban cars will leave every five minutes for the picnic grounds. The new municipal park is looking at its best. Refreshments will be provided. The merry-go-round will run all day and evening.

TACONITE SCHOOL PLAY.

"Land of Dolls" to Be Given By Primary and Kindergarten Pupils.

Taconite, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—This evening at the town hall the primary and kindergarten pupils will give an operetta, "The Land of Dolls," under the direction of Miss Hutchins and Miss Pierce.

On next Tuesday evening at the town hall the fifth and seventh grades will present "The Little Princess," or "Sara Cruse," under the direction of E. S. Clem. The cast of characters follows:

Miss Maloney is preparing a play, "Cinderella," to be presented at 10 o'clock Friday moring, June 18. The characters are from the third, fourth and fifth grades. The Taconite school exhibit will be made June 14.

INDUSTRIAL EXHIBIT BY HIBBING STUDENTS

Hibbing, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The high school students will give an industrial display in the Lincoln building tonight beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Domestic science students will serve a light lunch.

Exhibits will be made in manual training, mechanical drawing, stenography, shorthand, departmental and vocational work of all kinds, while ten senior girls will make chemistry experiments for the people.

The school board visited the Little Swan school yesterday and ate dinner at the school, prepared and served by students. They were served supper by domestic science students here upon their return.

CHISHOLM MAY ERECT NEW SCHOOL

Chisholm, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The school board met yesterday, discussed the decoration of the new high school with Tyrle & Chapman and the latter will draw up plans and specifications and submit them at a future meeting.

The board will look over ground near the Bungalo school and either build a new school building or put up an addition to the old school, the increasing number of children of school age making the move necessary.

The temporary school building on the high school playground was sold for $600 to T. H. Knebbone.

CHISHOLM IS TO RECEIVE DEGREE

Chisholm, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arthur J. Hayes, son of J. J. Hayes, and a graduate of the local high school in the class of 1911, will be graduated from the University of Notre Dame on June 14, receiving his degree in philosophy.

Miss Winnifred Hayes will leave Tuesday for Notre Dame to attend the university dance on June 11, and be present at the commencement exercises during the following week.

CHISHOLM EAGLES TO EVELETH GATHERING

Chisholm, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Eagles, with the Commercial band, will assemble at the Mesaba Trolley company's depot next Wednesday evening at 6:15 o'clock and proceed by special car to Eveleth for the state convention. The local baseball club will play Hibbing at Eveleth on the afternoon of Wednesday, and they will remain over until the special car leaves later in the evening.

HIBBING TO PLAY INTERNATIONAL FALLS

Hibbing, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Hibbing ball team left last night for International Falls, where it will play a series of three games with that team, beginning today.

Must Tag Nashwauk Dogs.

Nashwauk, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village council's orders to have all dogs tagged by June 1, and to date thirty-three have been issued by Village Recorder W. Ohles. The dog population is estimated at around 150, and President H. T. Reifel has notified the police force to impound every dog found without a license tag, and a three days' notice given each owner in which to secure a license. It is expected that the town will be short a large number of dogs by July 1.

FOREST RESERVE DAMAGED BY FIRE

About Two Acres Burned Over But Worst Believed Over.

Ely, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Several forest fires are raging in this district and men are fighting them in the vicinity of Dumbbell, Isabella, White Iron and Farm Lakes. The fires are believed to be under control unless a high wind rekindles them. The fire spread over two or three acres of Superior national forest reserve forests. Forty of the U. S. forest service men are combining their efforts with the homesteaders and land owners to extinguish the flames. Two fires near Two Harbors, through timber belonging to the Alger Smith Lumber company, are not yet under control. Forest Ranger Percy Vibert, for the district between Cloquet and Burntside Lake with a crew of men, is fighting the fires.

HIBBING MATTER MAY BE ADJUSTED

Hibbing, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The possibilities that the mining companies and the village officials will come to some agreement regarding the situation resulting from the former's refusal to pay taxes here, loomed up for the first time today. Announcement is made that a conference of the parties involved will be held next week. It is said that the mining companies have finally accepted the invitation of village officials to try to show where needless expenditures have been made. It is probable that if this cannot be done the mining companies will make concessions.

Hibbing Denies Wastage.

Many villages on the range have agreed to the mining companies' demands not to exceed certain expenditures, and it is said local village officials refused to promise limitations here on the grounds that there has been no wastage of public funds.

AURORA SCHOOL PLAY.

"Rip Van Winkle" to Be Presented By the Sixth Grade.

Aurora, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Rip Van Winkle" will be presented by the pupils of the sixth grade at the Hearding auditorium tonight under the direction of Miss Gladys Simpson.

The cast of characters follows: Rip Van Winkle, John Filonowicz and Joseph Kovach; Van Sunner, the schoolmaster, Carl Magnusson; Nicholas Vedder, the innkeeper, Joseph Kovach; Dame Winkle, Ingo Johnson; Dame Vedder, Annie Saari; Dame Van Argle, Rosa China; Dame Van Duesen, Mary Mishmash; farmers, Ano Kaspee, Joe Strutzle, John Matonen, Vincent Lesser and Matt Champo; little men, children, mayor and villagers.

The annual school exhibits opened today in the Johnson and Hearding buildings for a week.

BUSY SCHOOL YEAR.

Schools of District No. 18 Winding Up School Year.

Gilbert, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The students and teachers of the local schools have been unusually busy this last week of school in district No. 18. Schools close today.

Monday was class night at the high school. A very interesting program was given.

Tuesday afternoon the various grades held their closing exercises. The kindergarten children gave a very interesting program.

Wednesday evening the graduating exercises were held at the high school auditorium. The students gave a good program.

Last evening closing exercises were held at the McKinley-Elba school. The eighth grade graduating class was the largest that ever graduated from this school.

Tonight the senior reception will take place. Anhault's orchestra will furnish the music.

The closing of the schools this year ends one of the most successful terms. The largest class that has received the high school diplomas was this year's, twelve in number, as follows: Tim Shean, president; Frank Indihar, Harry Thomas, Viola Kleren, Irene Flor-Shern, Alfred Matt, John Patalo, Florence Wiggins, Leo Finn, Arthur Hill, Ophella Johnston, Mildred Stevens.

COLLISION VICTIMS ARE BROUGHT HOME

Two Harbors, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Russell Rose and Alfred Filiatrault, who were severely injured when an automobile collided with their motorcycle near Buhl last Monday evening, were brought home today.

Rose was brought home on a stretcher, but Filiatrault was able to hobble along on crutches. Rose will be laid up for a long time, as the has several fractures in his leg and is thought to be injured somewhat internally. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Rose of this city.

Rose, who was driving the motorcycle, states that when he hit he was running about forty miles an hour and the auto was going about ten miles an hour. He claims that the auto driver turned to the wrong side of the road instead of to the right, and they were too close to avoid an accident.

Brother at Wales, N. D.

Virginia, Minn., June 4.—The body of Arthur Montgomery, who was killed near Cusson at Camp 32 of the Virginia & Rainy Lake company, as told in Wednesday's Herald, was brought here for burial. He has a brother living at Wales, N. D. It is said Montgomery lost his life by violating the company's rule against employes riding on cars through the steam jammer apparatus.

USE POSLAM TO IMPROVE A BAD COMPLEXION

Poslam works quickly. An overnight application will clear a red nose or an inflamed complexion. Pimples, discolorations and blemishes are soon eradicated.

Serious and stubborn skin diseases, such as eczema, acne tetter, itch, scabies, etc., are quickly healed by Poslam, its effect being immediately soothing, allaying all irritation and stopping all itching. Improvement is seen daily.

Poslam is absolutely harmless and may be used safely under all conditions.

All druggists sell Poslam. For free sample write to Emergency Laboratories, 32 West 25th street, New York.

Poslam Soap, medicated with Poslam, for toilet and bath, 25 cents and 15 cents.

TWO HARBORS LOSES OLD-TIME RESIDENT

Two Harbors, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter Le Clair, Sr., an old and respected citizen, died Thursday at his home here, aged 73. Mr. Le Clair retired from his trade as a carpenter about a year ago.

He has been a resident of this city for the past twenty-eight years, and worked for the Iron Range railroad here for the past twenty-five years as a carpenter in their shops, retiring on a pension about a year ago.

Mr. Le Clair is survived by a wife and three sons and one daughter. Peter and Odric of this city, Thelic Le Clair of Proctor, and Mrs. Boudette of Los Angeles, Cal. The latter has been wired of her father's death and is expected here in a few days. Funeral arrangements will be made following word from her. Thelic Le Clair is here.

AURORA WILL VOTE ON BONDS JUNE 15

Aurora, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—This village will vote on a refunding bond issue of $60,000 on Tuesday, June 15. The issue will be in ten bonds of $6,000 each, which will mature one during each of the next ten years. The bond issue, if successful, will enable the village to take up most of the indebtedness and make improvements which are needed at this time.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

SHOWERS

Still that exhilarating brand of weather continues, when one wants to get out and walk miles and swallow all the ozone possible. It is the active season, for one not afflicted with chronic sitdownitis can hardly keep still.

A northeast gale was controlling the situation a year ago today. The sun rose this morning at 4:15 and will set this evening at 7:57, giving fifteen hours and forty-two minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Showers fell during Thursday or last night throughout the Rocky mountains, Eastern slopes, Missouri valley states, Eastern Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania. Heavy rain fell at Helena, Mont. Light frost occurred at Yellowstone, Wyo. The twenty-four-hour temperature temperature changes were generally unimportant."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, June 4.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Saturday:

Minnesota—Showers tonight and Saturday; not much change in temperature.

Wisconsin—Showers tonight and Saturday; slightly warmer in east portion.

Iowa—Unsettled weather with showers tonight or Saturday; warmer in southeast portion tonight.

North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana—Showers tonight and probably Saturday; not much change in temperature.

Upper Michigan and Lower Michigan—Fair tonight and Saturday.

EATING WHAT YOU WANT

Not to be limited in his diet but to eat whatever he pleases without discomfort is the dream of every dyspeptic.

Nobody can honestly promise to restore any stomach to this happy condition because all people cannot eat the same things with equally satisfactory results. It is literally true that "what is one man's food is another man's poison." But it is possible to select a pleasing diet from articles of food that cause no discomfort and it is possible to tone up the digestive organs.

When the stomach lacks tone there is no quicker way to restore it than to build up the blood. Good digestion without rich, red blood is impossible and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills offer the best way to build up the blood. They also have a direct action on the nerves and as the nerves control the processes of digestion, these pills are especially good in stomach trouble attended with thin blood and in nervous dyspepsia.

You can begin this treatment at once because your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Perhaps you are not eating the right foods. Sometimes the very things that people eat "for their health" are the things that hurt them. A postal card request to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., will bring a free diet book. Write for it today.

SMUDGES FIRE BARN; SOME CATTLE BURNED

Baudette, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Barns belonging to C. R. Crabtree and Nels Benson of Carp were burned May 29, and three head of cattle lost. The mosquitos were so bad that the men built smudges in the barns. Shortly after they had retired for the night the buildings caught fire, and before they could come to the rescue the cattle were burned.

A Substitute for Meat

ANY expert chef will tell you that a macaroni base is the ideal substitute for meat. Creamettes is more tender than ordinary macaroni and cooks in less than one-third the time.

A package of Creamettes will give you nearly twice as much food value as a pound of beefsteak at less than one-half the cost.

Creamettes is made from the creamy parts of Durum wheat and has a rich new flavor of its own.

Try it with cheese, with ham, with bacon, with tomatoes, with chicken or with nuts.

LIFE IN A SUBMARINE.

Philadelphia Press: The first requisite of the under-sea sailor seems to be physical stamina and steady nerve. "Submarine life is fearfully trying on the nerves," said the German commander at Kiel; "every man does not stand it. Running under the sea there is a deathlike silence in the boat. As the air heats it gets poor and the atmosphere becomes fearful. • • • On many it has the same effect as rolling waves and produces seasickness. • • • An overpowering sleepiness often attacks the new men and it requires the utmost will power to remain awake. I have had men who didn't eat for the first three days cut because they didn't want to lose that time from sleep."

"The average submarine has neither a kitchen nor a dining room. Rations are eaten cold for the excellent reason that electric power is too precious to be wasted in cooking while on a cruise and fire consumes oxygen. So much of the limited space in a submarine is taken up by the machinery and supply tanks that free movement on the part of the crew is greatly restricted. The German commander described how the men spend day after day in quarters so cramped that there is barely room to stretch their legs. Whether their mission be peaceful or warlike they must ever be on the alert, for on all sides of them is the ever-present menace of countless tons of water. A leak means certain death, and accident to the machinery means death scarcely less certain.

A SPENDTHRIFT.

Indianapolis News: A man and his best girl walked into a North Illinois street drug store. The man bought a 1-cent picture postcard and a 1-cent postage stamp. As he started to place the stamp on the post card the woman walked toward the front door.

"Wait a minute, Susie," said the man. "I'm not near through." The man turned to the clerk and bought a package of chewing gum. As the couple walked out of the drug store the man was heard to remark: "There's no limit to me, Susie, when I'm out with you."

OFFERED TO THE POPE BY THE KING OF SPAIN

PALACE OF THE ESCURIAL.

The report that the king of Spain has offered the palace of the Escurial near Madrid to the pope is confirmed. This palace was built by Philip II of Spain and was regarded as one of the great wonders of the world. It is of enormous size and has 14,000 doors and 11,000 windows. It contains a fine chapel and a mausoleum where only kings are buried. According to tradition it was built on a vow made by King Philip when he was going into battle on Aug. 10, 1557, which was St. Lorenzo's day. He vowed if he won the battle—known as the battle of St. Quentin—that he would build a monastery to the saint in the form of a gridiron—in memory of the martyrdom of the saint. The palace is in the form of an inverted gridiron. It was begun in 1563 and completed in 1584 at a cost of 6,000,000 ducats. It was sacked by the French in 1808 but was restored to most of its former magnificence. It was partly burned after being struck by lightning in 1872.

FIVE MONTHS IN SING SING

Warden Osborne's Self-Government of Prisoners, By Prisoners, For Prisoners, Working Well.

By DONALD LOWRIE,
Private Secretary to Thomas Mott Osborne, Author of "My Life in Prison," Etc.

(Exclusive Service the Survey Press Bureau.)

Five months is not a sufficiently long period of time to change a system of government, neither in a prison, nor elsewhere; and much of what has been done in Sing Sing since the first of last December, when Thomas Mott Osborne became warden, is still susceptible of improvement, while other plans aiming toward a greater degree of self-government are yet untried. Self-government is really the most important thing in human life, implying, as it does, efficient training, and the acquisition of qualities essential to happy and successful lives.

Prisons, so far back as we know, have weakened prisoners, mentally, physically and morally instead of giving them responsibility and strength of character which the exercise of responsibility usually brings.

Sing Sing's Aim.

The purpose of prisons should be the protection of society, and the only logical way to accomplish this in its highest degree is to make prisons reformative rather than punitive. The changes gradually being introduced at Sing Sing aim at this, and if matured and given a fair, unhampered and long enough trial, will ultimately accomplish it.

At the start, after his intimate experience as a voluntary prisoner at Auburn, Mr. Osborne realized that the old system of managing a prison with the assistance of stool-pigeons was wrong, and, aside from its moral questionability, would be fatal to success. His idea was, and still is, for the prisoners to correct abuses and overcome personal selfishness themselves, and thus learn the value of co-operation and self-government.

Under the old system the worst, or professional criminal made the best, or equally professional prisoner, willing at all times to climb upwards upon the necks of his less "wise" fellows. If this class could be given the opportunity to manifest criminal tendencies while in prison, a sound basis would be established for judging their real propensities, and the proper steps taken to prolong their imprisonment, or training, until such time as they had learned to exercise choice judiciously and in accordance with the interest of others—society, both in prison and out—as well as their legitimate self-interest.

The Prisoners' Own Court.

The prisoners' court is helping to do this. Each offender against the community interest is tried by his fellows, out in the open, where all the evidence or facts may be heard by as many as care to attend. Not long ago one of the men who had broken a rule refused to accompany his delegate, or self-elected fellow prisoner, to the office of the principal keeper, saying: "No, I want brass buttons and a club when I'm pinched."

All the "glory" of being marched across the prison yard under escort of a "screw" (guard), and the chance of a reputation as a "bad man," was gone; and there was no inconsiderable number of prisoners who revelled in that sort of maudlin "glory" in the old day.

The manner in which the men have grasped the idea of the mutual advantages inherent in co-operation has been truly gratifying. Of course, there are individuals who have not caught the new spirit, and there will be others; that is to be expected and is inevitable, for a prison is the last place on earth in which to look for angels. What prisoners need is training under humane restraint because it is a fair presumption that most of them are morally or mentally weak.

Getting the guard system changed from two to three shifts, so as to give the employes shorter hours, and coincidently admit of the prisoners being out of their cells, or rat-like holes, at night, presented some difficulties, the greatest of which was that there wouldn't be a sufficient number of guards in the shops during the day.

Guarding Themselves.

The warden had learned that the knit-shop was considered the "hardest" place in the prison, and that disturbances were of frequent occurrence there. So one morning he assembeld the 150 men employed in that shop and asked them if they thought they were "men enough" to take care of themselves, and what they would do if he took the guards away, leaving the place in their own hands, under their own prisoner delegates. This was not giving them responsibility—it was thrusting it at them, and it awakened a sense of manly self-respect and pride in many breasts which had long unknown or forgotten either.

The response was immediate and acclamative. Of course they could and would take care of themselves; and they have. The output of the shop has increased, as has been the case in the shoeshop, where the guards were next removed. In a few days the guards were taken from all the shops, from the dining hall during meal times, and from the chapel during services and motion pictures.

And, writing of motion pictures, a prominent New York journalist who recently visited the prison, came back from seeing the men assembled to witness motion pictures, and exclaimed: "It seems incredible that any one should object! The men were humanly interested, their minds working healthily, and their bodies out of your abominable cells. They were being made better men, and better men means better social order."

Guards as Policemen.

You may ask: "But what do the guards do, now that they are out of the shops and other departments?"

First, there are a number of fixed posts, on the walls and along the water front, to make escape or attempted escape difficult and hazardous. The other guards act in a capacity similar to policemen in city streets, ready to preserve order, or to quell disturbances if need arise, and to protect the interests of all the community; not as menaces of minions of force—but true servants of society in every sense. It is working, too. It was bound to work, because it appeals to the best of human qualities.

Mr. Osborne's greatest justification shines from the eyes of the prisoners. Their spirits are hopeful, and interest in life is in their eyes.

A word for those who have helped and who are helping. Many good persons of both sexes have rendered valuable service. The press in general has been tolerant, and in many quarters unqualifiedly supporting. Much must be credited to the guards and officers who have joined in the new order.

But the real and greatest credit is due to the prisoners themselves. Without their co-operation nothing could have been accomplished, and the hope of the future lies with them. The warden is proud to call them his friends and helpers, and fervently looks forward to the time when he can and shall call most of them fellow citizens. Sing Sing is no longer a menagerie.

HIS REVENGE.

Chicago News: "There is a great prejudice against fat men," sighed Bulbus. "I was in a crowd that started out on a hike to the top of a mountain this summer, and every one in the crowd thought they were taking a chance in letting me carry the lunch.

"'I don't like his looks as a lunch carrier,' one of them said. 'He doesn't look like a man to be trusted with a lunch.'

"They took me with them simply because I was fat, and they thought it would be a joke to walk me to death.

"Just as we came to the shore of a lake, where the hardest part of the climb began, we ran across two men with a boat. These men were just starting to row across the lake and thereby cut off six miles of the climb. That idea appealed to our crowd, but the two boatmen said they didn't know whether the boat would carry three or not.

"My partners immediately decided to send me across with the two men to test the boat. If it held the two boatmen and me they would consider it more safe. I could row back after the others two at a time.

"I agreed to go, but having arrived safely on the other side of the lake I didn't care to row back after the rest of them. I told the two men with the boat that it wasn't safe to be seen in the society of the bunch I had left, as they had violated the game laws and any one caught in their society was liable to be arrested. So we left them there to wait for me or to walk the six miles around the lake, just as they saw fit.

"I was the first man back in camp. The gang was sore. They had not made good at walking me to death and they wanted to know why I had not returned for them with the boat.

"I said the boat did not belong to the two men who happened to be using it. They had borrowed it from a 200-pound lady of an excitable disposition without her knowledge. The lady had met us at the other side of the lake, so there had been no chance to row back after my comrades. Their sad plight had given me great concern, but I was powerless."

"Didn't they ever find out that you had fabricated?" asked Scrump.

"Certainly not. People in camp never will confess ignorance on any subject. Half a dozen people knew the lady whom I had invented. They gave her a name, a husband and children. It got to be quite a yarn by the time it had been handed around. I could scarcely recognized it when it got back to me again. But everybody believed it. I almost believed it myself."

MARKET IS AGAIN ACTIVE

Wheat Declines After Strong Opening on Light General Inquiry.

Flaxseed Bulges, With Strength at Winnipeg and Crushers' Bidding.

Duluth Board of Trade, June 4.—The market was weak around the close on continued small interest. July wheat closed 1½c off, September 2c off and December 1¼c off. July durum closed 3c off and September ½c off. Oats closed ¾c off at 47¾c for on the track; rye 1c up at $1.11@1.12, and barley 1c off at from 63@72c. At Winnipeg, July oats closed 1¾c off at 58¼c. Puts on Minneapolis September wheat closed at $1.09⅝ bid and calls at $1.13½ bid.

Trading in the wheat market was erratic today. At the start an advance of 1½c was recorded in sympathy with reports of heavy rains in Oklohoma and other sections of the Southwest and fears of grain becoming lodged and rusted on that account. Reports were to the effect that harvesting in some parts of the winter wheat territory will be delayed on account of the long continued turn of wet, cool weather conditions.

Later the market situation turned weak as a result of limited inquiry, and an apparent disposition of millers at the leading centers to assume a waiting attitude. Foreign operators are being influenced by freer Argentine offerings and advices that reports of damage to American winter wheat had been overdrawn. Marketing of old wheat is said to be good over there, and offerings of the new crop grain are liberal.

Growers in the Southwest are advised to be arranging to rush in a large tonnage of wheat to market immediately after threshing, so that operators are counting upon a record business during July in view of the expected bountiful harvest. Receipts of wheat at Kansas City and other Southwest markets are continuing in substantial volume, and this is taken as an indication of the less bullish attitude of growers.

Minneapolis and Winnipeg receipts are running in good volume these days. At Minneapolis today, wheat inspections were reported at 265 cars against 136 cars last year. Elevator stocks there were decreased just 26,000 bu last week in consequence of the liberal amount of grain rushed to that point to cover contracts.

July wheat opened ½c off at $1.37½, advanced 2c, and then eased off to $1.37⅜ at the noon hour. September opened unchanged at $1.16¼, and later sold down 1¼c.

Durum also turned easy, the July future selling off 2c to $1.40.

Flaxseed Bulges.

Business in flaxseed was on the strong order again. The volume of trades put through bulked up to a good aggregate. Crushers were in the market and they picked up the seed throughout the session. The views of holders were bullish. The market closed off from the top on realizing sales. Strength at Winnipeg was a factor.

July flax opened ½c up at $1.85 and closed 2¾c up at $1.87 bid. September opened ¼c up, at $1.87½ and closed at 2¾c up at $1.90 bid. October opened 2½c up at $1.89 and closed 3¼c up at $1.89¾ asked.

At Winnipeg, July flax opened 6c up at $1.65 and October 7c up at $1.69 bid.

At Buenos Aires, flax closed 2¾c up at $1.30 and London ⅞c off at $1.91.

MARKET GOSSIP.

T. Hagen of the Duluth board of trade has returned from an inspection trip over North Dakota, during which he covered the ground as far west as Minot, N. D. He says that the prospects for a bumper crop are bright at present, the wheat having a good even stand in every section of the country. The weather was dry during seeding time and then they had a few days of soaking rains which gave the seed a splendid start. The subsequent cool weather with showers resulted in the plant being well stooled, and placing it in a healthy condition. There has been a big increase in the acreage sown to durum, Mr. Hagen averred, and probably the added ground sown to it and wheat will figure out at about 10 per cent. A heavy falling off will be shown in the acreage sown to flaxseed, he said. In view of the high prices prevailing for wheat, farmers were not disposed to take any interest in growing flaxseed.

The Minneapolis cash market was firm, with good demand. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 7c over July, and velvet chaff at ½c over July. Fair flour sales were reported. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.38½ to $1.45 and No. 2 northern at from $1.36 to $1.42. Stocks in Minneapolis elevators decreased 25,000 bu in the week.

Inglis' crop report from Chicasaw, Okla., says: "Southern Oklahoma general appearance indicates a large crop, but too much straw and foliage. Yields will be disappointing. Black rust is spreading from spots down. Wheat is just approaching the critical stage, only in milk to dough. Heavy fields show scales and blight on heads. Rain and lack of sunshine are delaying ripening. It is still showery."

From Mangum, Okla., he wired: "Southwestern counties are very promising, equal to last year. Cutting general crop is late. Straw is heavy and rusting in hard spots, with weather favorable for its development."

Lecount wired from Enid, Okla: "Another terrific rain visited this territory last night. Lowlands are flooded, and all heavy wheat is in very bad condition, down flat and badly tangled. I believe much of the thin wheat will remain lodged, as the heads are beginning to get heavy. Lodged wheat never fills properly and is difficult to harvest and rust is always worse in lodged grain. Unless we get sunshine soon this crop will be considerably reduced. Wheat has made slow progress during the last ten days. Weather is cool and still threatening rain."

C. E. Lewis & Co. had the following from Chicago: "Good demand was reported again today for cash wheat, but grain in store is strongly held. Shippers are also after standard oats in store, bidding 1¾c over July. Domestic and seaboard demand for cash oats reported as improved by some handlers. Offerings of new wheat and cuts from Illinois were not as heavy as yesterday, but were fair."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Market was easy, as influenced by larger Indian shipments and free arrivals from Argentina and better American crop advices. Spot market was easy, 1@3d lower, with cargo market weak, generally 9d@1s lower. Winters opened 4½d higher, but later declined freely. Marketing of old wheat is liberal, and offers of new are free."

Charles C. Lewis & Co. had the following closing letter from Chicago: "Extreme weakness has again developed in wheat with prices off 3c from last night's close. Hedging sales which have been increasing daily were large in volume today. Shorts were the early buyers, causing an upturn, but this advance was promptly met by heavy selling by elevator interests. Clearing weather in the southwest was also a factor toward aiding the decline. Cash demand was less urgent while export call was flat.

"Hard wheat premiums lost about 3c, being quoted at 11c over July, while No. 2 red was 10c over. Crop outlook is favorable and with clear weather cutting of wheat in Southern Illinois will start in a few days. We still adhere to the short side of July and September wheat and ultimately look for much lower prices."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Heavy Rains in Oklahoma Bring About Upturn in Price of Wheat.

Chicago, June 4.—Heavy, unwelcome rains in Oklahoma brought about an upturn today in the price of wheat despite a decline at the start. The early weakness was due to lower quotations from Liverpool, but the effect failed to last when word came that black rust was spreading at Chickasha, Okla., and that yields would be disappointing. Offerings soon seemed to pass readily into strong hands. After opening ¼c to 1¼c lower, the market rose to well above last night's level.

Afterward prices fell lower than before, influenced by increased offerings of new wheat from Illinois and Indiana and by forecasts of a big yield in Oklahoma, regardless of reports that conditions there were bullish. The close was weak at 2¾@2⅞c net decline.

Corn advanced with wheat and as a result of unfavorable weather. Trade was light. The opening, which varied from ¼c off to ¼c up, was followed by moderate gains all around.

The market sagged on account of a fresh break in wheat and because of a predicted increase of the movement from the country. The close was unsettled at ⅝c to ¾@⅞c net decline.

Robust demand from shippers gave independent strength to oats. The larger concerns were conspicuous on the buying side.

Provisions responded only a little to an advance in the hog market. There seemed to be no aggressive support.

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, June 4.—Prices advanced in price today owing to receipts being less than half as plentiful as on the corresponding day a week ago. Cattle were scarce, but the quality of the supply was unattractive. Buying of sheep and lambs seemed to be restricted as much as possible, but shorn lambs commanded new high record prices.

Hogs—Receipts, 13,000; strong, 5 to 10c above yesterday's average; bulk, $7.50@7.70; light, $7.40@7.75; mixed, $7.35@7.75; heavy, $7.00@7.65; rough, $7.05@7.20; pigs, $5.75@7.35.

Sheep—Receipts, 2,000; steady; sheep, $6.40@7.20; lambs, $7.50@10.60.

EARLY GAINS ARE REDUCED

Stocks Have Rise on Decision Favoring the Steel Corporation.

Advances Cut Later to Minor Proportions By Profit-Taking.

New York, June 4.—The United States Steel corporation's acquittal of illegal acts by the Federal courts was followed by a buoyant opening of the stock market today. The first transaction in Steel comprised one lot of 28,000 shares at 64 to 62, a maximum gain of 4⅝ points. United States Steel preferred rose 2¾. The next sale of Steel common showed some moderate recessions from the high opening prices. International Harvester and American Can, which are being investigated by the United States government, also recorded spectacular advances, the former gaining 14 points and Can 6⅝. Throughout the list there were advances of 1 to 4 points on enormously heavy trading. Dealings in Steel during the first half hour approximated 80,000 shares, or about 40 per cent of the total trading for that period. There were numerous material reactions before 10:30, Harvester losing 11 points and others 2 to 3 points.

Further severe reactions, resulting mainly from realizing sales, occurred in the first hour, especially among inactive specialities. Harvester, Distillers and American Can relinquished the greater part of their advance and many standard issues receded to mere fractions over yesterday's close, while stocks, like Canadian Pacific, Erie, Missouri Pacific, American Locomotive and Bethlehem Steel fell under that level. The business of the first hour exceeded 400,000 shares, but the second hour was chiefly noteworthy for its comparative dullness and declining prices. Steel preferred increased its gain to over 4 points, but the common lost the greater part of its advance. Bonds were strong.

The reaction was checked at midday, prices again hardening, but in no instance regaining their early high levels. Rock Island, one of the few stocks that failed to share in the initial advance, rose 2⅛c.

Buoyancy attended today's early dealings on the decision favoring the United States Steel corporation, but continuous profit-taking reduced most gains to minor proportions later.

Amalgamated, General Electric and Westinghouse rose to highest prices in the final hour, but elsewhere reactionary tendencies prevailed. The close was irregular.

London Stocks.

London, June 4.—The American section maintained a firm tone throughout the session. Money was in fair demand. Discount rates were harder on the larger number of bill offerings.

BULL MARKET IN COPPER STOCKS

Sharp Advances in Leading Stocks—New High Figures Set.

A wild bull market developed in mining stocks today, trading being in the largest volume in some time back. Heavy bulges were recorded and they were retained as a rule, with closing prices coming at the top in some issues.

Butte & Superior was again an active feature. After opening $2.32 up at $80, it eased off on heavy realizing sales. It closed 87 cents up in the day at $78.25. American Zinc closed $1.12 up at $55.50, Calumet & Arizona $1 up at $66 ex-dividend 50 cents; Copper Range, $2 up at $56; Granby $1 up at $84.50; Greene Cananea, 50 cents up at $33; Mchawk $2.50 up at $78; North Butte $1.12 up at $33.

By Mayor Prince:

Whereas, On account of the unusual elongated area of the city of Duluth, its population is to a considerable extent grouped and very naturally so, and

Whereas, It is necessary in order to provide our people with suitable and desirable library facilities to establish branch free public libraries, and

Whereas, the need of such a branch library at a point in the city commonly known as the West end is now declared by this council, and

Whereas, the city of Duluth has recently acquired title to lots 365 and 367 in block 89, Duluth Proper, Second division, as a site for a branch library; therefore, be it

Resolved, That $3,000 per annum is hereby segregated and set apart in the library fund of said city to cover the expenses of maintenance of such branch library, and

Resolved further, That the commissioner of public affairs in charge of the department of public libraries be and he hereby is authorized to make application to Mr. Andrew Carnegie for $20,000 to meet the cost of the erection of said proposed branch library, and

Resolved further, That the architects of the city be and hereby are invited to submit to this council through the commissioner of public affairs, suggestions and sketches as to the nature and character of the construction and equipment of such public building.

Mayor Prince moved the adoption of the resolution and it was declared adopted upon the following vote:

Yeas—Commissioners Farrell, Merritt, Silberstein, Voss, Mayor Prince—5.
Nays—None.
Passed June 2, 1915.

Ordinance No. 606.
By Mayor Prince:
AN ORDINANCE ACCEPTING THE GIFT FROM CHESTER A. CONGDON OF FUNDS TO PAY THE AWARDS, VERDICTS, JUDGMENTS AND COSTS IN THE MATTER OF THE CONDEMNATION OF LANDS BY THE CITY OF DULUTH, FOR ROAD, HIGHWAY AND BOULEVARD PURPOSES, ALONG THE NORTH SHORE OF LAKE SUPERIOR, AND CONSENTING TO THE CONDITIONS ATTACHED TO SUCH GIFT.
The City of Duluth does ordain:
Section 1. Whereas, The costs of the condemnation, by the city, of land for road, highway and boulevard purposes along the north shore of Lake Superior, condemned pursuant to ordinance passed June 2, 1913, approved June 4, 1913, have been paid by Mr. Chester A. Congdon, and Mr. Congdon has offered to pay all awards, verdicts or judgments rendered in such condemnation proceedings against the city of Duluth, upon condition, however, that the land so acquired shall be forever used by the city for the purposes for which the same was condemned, and that the city of Duluth shall never use the same for any purpose other than as a road, highway or boulevard, and shall never dispose of the same or any part thereof;
Now therefore, said city of Duluth does hereby accept the gift, by said Chester A. Congdon, of the funds offered to pay for the lands acquired in said condemnation proceedings, and does hereby consent to the condition attached to said gift, and does hereby ordain and declare that said lands, and all other lands conveyed or dedicated to the city for the purpose of forming a continuous boulevard in connection with the lands so condemned as aforesaid, shall be used in perpetuity by said city for road, highway or boulevard purposes only, and that said city shall never dispose of the same or any part thereof, and does so agree with said Congdon.
Sec. 2. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force thirty (30) days after its passage and publication.
Passed June 2, 1915.
Approved June 3, 1915.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE—
Default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Bror O. Schroeder and Christina Schroeder, his wife, mortgagors, to J. C. Howard, mortgagee, dated October 10th, 1911, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for St. Louis County, Minnesota, on October 13th, 1911, at eleven o'clock A. M., in Book 257 of Mortgages, on page 53, which said mortgage with the debt thereby secured was thereafter assigned by the said J. C. Howard to the Howard Investment Company, by intrument in writing dated November 4th, 1911, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds on November 6th, 1911, at eight o'clock A. M., in Book 303 of Mortgages on page 132.
Said default consists in the nonpayment of part of the principal sum secured by said mortgage and interest thereon, and there is claimed to be due and is actually due upon said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of Two hundred nine and 48-100 dollars ($209.48) principal and interest, and no proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover said debt or any part thereof.
Now, Therefore, Notice is hereby given, That under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage which has become operative by reason of the aforesaid default, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the property therein described, situated in St. Louis County, Minnesota, viz:
The West half (W½) of the Northeast quarter (NE¼) of Section eight (8) Township fifty-one (51), Range fifteen (15), according to the Government survey thereof, subject to whatever rights the Great Northern Power Company acquired through flowage deed dated July 3rd, 1911, and recorded in the said Register of Deeds office on August 5th, 1911, in Book 350 of Deeds, on page 60, Lot six (6) in Section one hundred eighty-two (182) West Duluth, Seventh Division, covered by said mortgage having been heretofore released from the lien of said mortgage).
Which said property with the hereditaments and appurtenances will be sold by the Sheriff of St. Louis County, at the office of the Sheriff in the Court House in the City of Duluth, in said county and state on Monday, the 19th day of July, 1915, at ten o'clock A. M., at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest and Fifty dollars ($50.00) attorney's fees stipulated for, by and in said mortgage in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption within one year from date of sale as provided by law.

VOLUNTEER REGIMENT WILL BE RAISED BY ITALIANS

Many Not Required to Do Military Duty Want to Serve.

Duluth Consul Reports Enthusiastic Response to Call to Colors.

Duluth, towns on the Minnesota range and the Michigan peninsula will be represented in a volunteer regiment of Italians who are eager to serve their mother country, although not required to do military duty.
Since the mobilization order was issued June 2 by Italian consuls in the United States, Attilio Castigliano, royal consul for the Head of the Lakes district, has been besieged with inquiries from men who want to go to war as volunteers, in addition to those who are required to go by the terms of the mobilization order.
More than a score of volunteers from Duluth and the immediate vicinity made application for entrance to the army as soon as they heard of the order, and before it had been posted in range towns, or among the Michigan mines, where the Italian colonies are large.
"There is a surprising amount of enthusiasm," said Mr. Castigliano this morning.
An hour of so after he had read a newspaper article telling of the mobilization in St. Paul Wednesday afternoon one Italian, age 19, took the first train for Duluth and offered himself as a volunteer. He insisted on being allowed to join, even after he was told that he was not tall enough to pass the physical examinations.
"I have had service in the naval reserve," he said, "and I should be all right on that account."
The consul, after investigating the case, found that he could be accepted and the youth, rejoicing, went out to prepare to leave for the war zone as soon as the order came.
Another would-be volunteer, above the age limit, threatened to kill the consul when he was informed that he could not join the volunteer corps. He finally was pacified and left, saying that "He would see about it."
With the reserves and volunteers from Minnesota and Michigan, this part of the Northwest will send many men to the front within the next two or three weeks, say prominent Duluth Italians. Just when the first draft will leave for New York is a matter of conjecture.
Consul Castigliano has announced that Italians in his consular district will raise a fund to be sent abroad for the use of the Red Cross corps in Italy. Meetings of Italian organizations will be called and subscriptions will be accepted from all those who wish to donate to such a fund.
This consular district includes the state of Minnesota, Northern Wisconsin and the Michigan peninsula.

HARD TIMES INSURANCE

Renville County Carries Such Policy, Says Freeman of Olivia.

Renville County Not Affected By War or Rumors of It.

Down in Renville county they have an insurance policy against hard times, according to J. M. Freeman, attorney of Olivia, Minn., who is in Duluth today.
Mr. Freeman might be called the "Democratic boss of Renville county" by his enemies, if he has any. But nobody is very jealous of his power, as Renville county could hardly be classed as Democratic. Mr. Freeman never got nearer to holding public office than to be a candidate for attorney general on the Democratic ticket in 1910. Nobody ever disputes his title of boss. They are content to let him do the work of keeping together the Democratic party in Renville county. But to return to the insurance policy:
"Our good soil is our insurance policy," said Mr. Freeman. "Renville county would go right along in the same way and never feel it. We are just a big farm down there. Everybody is busy, everybody contented, and everybody feels completely satisfied that President Wilson is handling our international affairs as they should be handled, and that Governor Hammond is making good as the chief executive of the state. The only persons who are finding fault with Wilson are those who want to fight—or I should say who want to see somebody else fighting, for you never see a jingo joining the army. You don't see these fellows who have been trying to force the president to intervene in Mexico getting up any militia companies.
"As a matter of fact if we could forget our worries about what is going to happen in this country, we would be enjoying the greatest prosperity. Everybody is holding back, afraid of what will happen. The men with money hesitate about undertaking any new ventures."
Mr. Freeman was chairman of the last "regular" Democratic state convention held in Minnesota, which was held in Duluth in 1912. Since then the convention system has been abolished.
"The next few years ought to have some big things in store for Duluth," said Mr. Freeman. "You have been winning some big rate victories, and you are getting a steel plant. I do not see how anything can hold this city back."

J. M. FREEMAN,

ROSS BECOMES HUMANE OFFICER

Chief McKercher Elected to Directorate of Society; Proffers Aid.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Duluth Humane society yesterday afternoon at the courthouse, the resignation of R. D. McKercher as humane agent was formally accepted and the appointment of John G. Ross, former municipal court clerk, as his successor formally ratified.
Mr. McKercher, who resigned to become chief of police, was elected to the directorate of the society. In his letter of resignation, he called attention to the big field of work that the society is expected to cover and declared that he would assist the new agent in whatever way possible.
Rev. George St. Gaber, secretary of the society, was instructed yesterday to send Chief McKercher the following letter expressing the appreciation of the society:
"Dear Mr. McKercher: Your letter of resignation and high appreciation of your co-workers in humane activities has just been read to the executive committee, and was much appreciated by the members.
"We cannot but feel that it is a recognition of your admirable work in this society, as well as the high position to which you have brought humane work in this country, which has gained for you your present appointment.
"We have always found you courteous, faithful, self-sacrificing, and many, many times you have surprised us with the sagacity with which you have settled the problems which were brought before you.
"We are grateful for your offer of assistance, and we shall make proper use of it when occasion demands."

PINCHOTS DENY QUITTING COLONEL

Still Recognize Him as Leader of Progressive Party.

New York, June 4.—In a letter to the New York Times, Amos Pinchot denies that he has renounced allegiance to "Col. Roosevelt as Bull Moose chief and to George W. Perkins as Bull Moose financial chief," and also the statement that he carried with him in his decision his brother, Gifford Pinchot, William Allen White of Kansas and others.
Gifford Pinchot also has written a letter to the Times, in which he says:
"I have not renounced T. R. Very much to the contrary, I recognize him not only as the head of my party, the Progressive party, but as representing my own precise position on public questions more nearly than any other national leader of the time. In this international crisis, I stand by him, and most heartily approve and support his position concerning the Lusitania murders and the national duty and honor.
"It is well known that I believe George W. Perkins to be entirely unfit to lead in any movement undertaken in the interest of the people.
"I believe many things which are not yet in the Progressive platform, but I do not propose to join the Socialists or anybody else in attempting to create a new party. There are parties enough now."

OLD DIVORCE STANDS.

Houghton, Mich., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annulment of divorce sought thirty years after the divorce was granted was denied today to Mrs. Louis Dober, former wife of an Iron River, Mich., millionaire, by Circuit Judge O'Brien.
Counsel for Dober contended that Mrs. Dober attempted a reconciliation only after she learned her former husband was wealthy.

Cass Lage Commencement.
Cass Lake, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The high school commencement exercises were held at the Lyric theater last night and were very impressive. WEATHER JULY 22: RAIN AND THUNDER

Grocers' Picnic Is Planned for That Date at Lincoln Park.

July 22 has been selected as the date for the annual picnic of the retail grocers of the city. It will probably be held at Lincoln park, as in former years.
The date was decided upon last evening at a meeting of the board of directors of the Duluth Retail Grocers' association at the Commercial club. At another meeting to be called by A. M. McEwen, chairman, details of the outing will be completed.
The directors of the society discussed plans for a systematic boosting of Duluth-made products. The speakers were optimistic as to the business outlook in Duluth.
George M. Peterson, state senator and secretary of the association, will address a meeting of the Range Retail Grocers' association at Virginia June 14. "Legislation and Co-operation" will be his subject.
The annual meeting of the local association will be held July 16 in Foresters' hall. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected at that time. The directors present at last evening's meeting were:
M. R. Bush, president; J. O. Johnson, vice president; George M. Peterson, secretary; John Moir, treasurer; John Logan, A. M. McEwen, Edward Strange, J. E. Roos, G. A. Hjerpe and E. W. Olson.

CAN YOU ANSWER THIS QUESTION?

What is the difference between the so-called piano factory representative and the ordinary retail piano store?

Watch this space next week for the answer to this question.

Beware of the many so-called piano sales offering something for nothing. Remember we are manufacturers of high-grade pianos—not offering you something for nothing, but assuring you a saving of at least $100 by selling direct from our factory warerooms.

Cash or Easy Terms.

HARD FIGHTING PROGRESSING ON WESTERN FRONT, NEITHER SIDE MAKING MUCH HEADWAY

FRONTIER OF BELGIUM ONCE MORE CLOSED

Cutting Off Traffic Indicates Heavy Movement of German Troops.

Believed to Be Reinforcing Their Positions Along Yser Canal.

Airship Station Near Nancy Bombarded By the Germans.

London, June 5.—British and French reports indicate hard fighting on the western front, without much progress for either side. The Belgian frontier has again been closed to traffic. This tends to confirm reports that the Germans are moving heavy reinforcements to their positions along the Yser canal.

Air Raid On England.

Another German air raid on the coasts of England last night, coupled with the usual week-end activity of German submarines, are the war developments of the last twelve hours which are today holding public attention. Discussion of the fall of Przemysl has been laid aside for matters nearer home.

Little is known yet of the extent of the aerial attack, but it does not seem to have done much damage or been costly in lives.

Germans Push Forward.

The Austro-German forces have pushed their salient as far as Tukhla, which is some distance northeast of Przemysl. Notwithstanding the evacuation of this fortress, the Russians have maintained an unbroken fighting front on both sides of the railroad to Lemberg. Thus far the Austrians and Germans apparently have made little progress since the taking of Przemysl, although an Austrian official report states that the Russians have been driven east to the vicinity of Medyka.

French Statement.

Paris, June 5, 2:35 p. m.—The French war office this afternoon issued the following statement of the progress of hostilities:

"The enemy delivered, last night, three violent counter-attacks against the sugar refinery of Souchez and the trenches to the north and to the south of this position; they were repulsed and in their first effort particularly they suffered very heavy losses.

"We remain masters of every one of the positions conquered by us.

"Last night we also took possession of a German position to the northwest

MILLERS HEARD ON FOOD STANDARDS

Say Standard of Moisture in Flour Should Not Be Fixed.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, June 5.—Representatives of the milling industry are today attending a hearing before the committee on food standards of the department of agriculture on the question of the promulgation of a definition of patent flour.

A. C. Loring of Minneapolis, representing the Pillsbury Milling company, contended in his testimony before the committee that the department ought not to fix any standard of moisture in its regulations. The moisture content of flour, he said, varied with changes in temperature and the variation of moisture in the atmosphere. He maintained that it has always been the aim of the millers to give the consumer a quality of flour with good baking qualities, and that any definition of patent flour should be based upon elimination rather than to say that certain elements should be in the product.

Former Governor John Lind appeared as counsel for the millers and conducted examinations. No decision will be announced for some time.

GERMAN SUBMARINES SINK SHIP AFTER SHIP AROUND BRITISH ISLES

Ten Vessels Attacked By Submersibles in Last Three Days.

But Five Lives Lost and Those Were on a Trawler.

Biggest Prey That of 5,000-Ton Liverpool Steamer Inkum.

London, June 5.—German submarines have been very busy during the last few days in the North sea and in the Bristol channel. Ten vessels have been attacked in the last three days without loss of life except in the case of the trawler Victoria, four members of the crew of this boat and a boy passenger having fallen victims to shells fired by the attacking submarines.

The biggest capture of the Germans was the 5,000-ton Liverpool steamer Inkum. Another important victim was the Cairn liner Iona, erroneously reported at first as the Wilson line steamer of the same name. The other ships sent to the bottom by the Germans include in addition to several trawlers, four neutral ships, two Danish, one Norwegian and one Swedish.

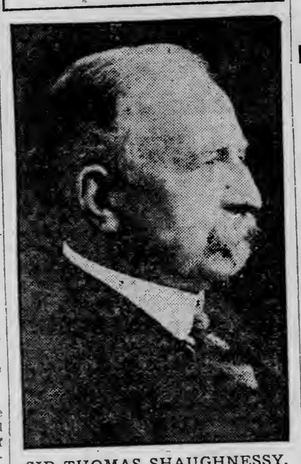

Inkum Torpedoed.

Falmouth, Eng., June 5.—The British steamer Inkum, from New York to London, was torpedoed at 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning, forty-three miles southeast of Lizard Head. The crew was landed here by the Norwegian steamer Wendla.

No submarine had been observed.

MAY BE PURCHASING AGENT FOR ENGLAND IN UNITED STATES

SIR THOMAS SHAUGHNESSY.

Vancouver, B. C., June 5.—Apparently authentic information gathered here was that Sir Thomas G. Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific railway, was summoned to London by Earl Kitchener to consider taking charge of the purchase and transportation of all war supplies from the United States and Canada. His headquarters, it was stated, would be in New York.

MANY DEAD IN FACTORY

French Capture Sugar Refinery After Desperate Fight With Germans.

Fierce Counter-Attacks By Germans Successfully Resisted.

Paris, June 5.—The capture by the French of the sugar refinery near Souchez is described in a report given out today by the official "eye witness" at the front. This is what it says:

"Violent attacks on the part of the French from both the west and the south were met by a fire of the German batteries and machine guns located on the north side of the refinery. The Germans resisted for some time but finally were demoralized by the artillery fire of the French and withdrew.

"The basement of the factory was found to be filled with German dead while the French losses were slight.

Desperate Effort by Germans.

"Furious at having lost a position which would serve as a base for counter-attacks on Ablain, virtually all of which is in the possession of the French, the Germans made a desperate effort to regain it. Amid destroyed walls and great holes in the ground made by large shells, the Germans began their attack at midnight. In this rapid and confused engagement the French were obliged to withdraw but a watchful French major prepared rapidly for a counter-attack. The French company which had momentarily yielded, later pushed forward, aided by reinforcements and an intense artillery

BOMBS DROPPED ON COAST OF ENGLAND

Little Damage Done Property and Casualties Apparently Few.

London, June 5.—Hostile airships dropped bombs on the east and southeast coasts of England last night. Little damage was done and the casualties apparently were few.

The bombs were thrown down at a number of different places which have not as yet been enumerated.

This information is contained in an official statement given out here today.

GERMANS HAVE DOUBLED THEIR FORCES OPERATING IN GALICIA

CLAIMS LIFE THREATENED

Witness in Chicago Police Graft Case Appeals to Judge.

Declares He Received Lip Warning From Gunmen in Court.

Chicago, June 5.—Extra bailiffs were on guard in the so-called police graft case today because of the expressed belief of state witnesses that their lives are threatened.

The trial was halted for a few minutes yesterday when Isadore Wexler, one of a number of burglars testifying for the prosecution, suddenly turned pale and, turning to Judge Dever, said that his life was threatened.

The warning, he said, was given him by a mere movement of the lips such as convicts learn in prison. Counsel for the defendants, James O'Dea Storen, Frederick Roth and Michael Weisbaum, said that Wexler's action was a "frame-up" designed to affect the jury. It is said, however, that prospective witnesses have secretly informed the state's attorney, Maclay Hoyne, that they feared that the police would "get" them. The bailiffs today scrutinized everyone who entered the courtroom. Wexler continued his testimony.

Tells of Arrest.

He told of his own arrest and that of other members of the ring of burglars.

"Did you have a conversation at that time with Detective Michael Weisbaum?" asked State's Attorney Stephen A. Malato.

"Yes," replied Wexler. "It was in Bennett's saloon. Nathan Steinberg,

AMERICANS WARNED TO LEAVE LONDON

Anonymous Communications Sent Over the Telephone.

London, June 5.—Several American residents of London today informed Robert P. Skinner, the American consul general here, that last night they received annonymous telephone calls warning them to get out of London with their families at once.

Among those thus notified was M. K. Shaler, a member of the American-Belgian relief commission who was told by an unknown voice over the telephone not to stir from his home during the night and furthermore to fill the bathtubs in his house with water.

For several days reports have been in circulation in London that all American women here had been warned to leave England by June 5. According to this report the American embassy had been requested by Berlin to issue a warning of this nature. Investigation brought the information that the ambassador had received no such request.

ANSWER OF GERMANY TO NEW NOTE MUST BE EITHER "YES" OR "NO"

Its Phraseology Will Admit of No Evasion By Berlin.

United States Must Know Its Policy Regarding Unarmed Ships.

President Is Putting the Document in Its Final Form.

Washington, June 5.—President Wilson was today putting the finishing touches on his latest note to Germany concerning the sinking of the Lusitania. Already it had been approved in principle by the cabinet. All that was needed today to start the communication on its way to Berlin was the making of minor changes in phraseology.

President Wilson returned to the White House toward noon after a brief outing and gave his attention to putting the note into final form.

While its main principles were approved at the cabinet session yesterday the president today had not completed its exact phraseology. Officials generally therefore did not know exactly how emphatic its terms would be, but the general impression in executive quarters was that it was phrased in such a way as to admit only of an affirmative or negative answer to the query of the United States as to Germany's intention to exercise the right of visit and search when encountering unarmed merchantmen on the high seas.

Secretary Bryan would only say that when the note actually goes forward to Berlin the fact will be made public. When the note itself would be published, he said, he did not know.

SUBMARINE'S MOTHER ARRIVES IN NEW YORK

New York, June 5.—The Kangaroo, a French tank steamer designed to mother a submarine, reached this port today from Bordeaux. The vessel is fitted with opening bows through which a submarine may enter. When the submarine is in position in the ship's interior the bows are closed and the steamer is then ready to sail and to discharge the submarine at distant points wherever desired.

Count to Be Chauffeur.

Vienna, Austria, June 5, via London.—Count Leopold von Berchtold, formerly Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, has offered his services in the Italian campaign as a volunteer automobilist. In the hope that he will be able to accompany his son to the front, the count is learning to be a chauffeur.

APPOINTED CIVIL LORD OF BRITISH ADMIRALTY

DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE.

London, June 5.—The duke of Devonshire has been appointed civil lord of the admiralty, replacing Right Hon. George Lambert, who has retired.

U. S. ATTORNEY IS REPLACED

Requested Resignation of Sherman McPherson Accepted By President.

Accepting Fees From Receiver Cause of Action By Government.

Washington, June 5.—Sherman T. McPherson, United States attorney for Southern Ohio, resigned today and President Wilson selected Stuart R. Bolin of Columbus to succeed him.

It was said at the department of justice that McPherson resigned because of criticism of his conduct in connection with the Capital City Dairy company receivership at Columbus. Attorney General Gregory disapproved McPherson's acceptance of a fee.

Resignation Asked.

It was said at the department of justice that Attorney General Gregory had asked McPherson for his resignation after he learned that while prosecuting the dairy company in a criminal proceeding McPherson had received a $20,000 fee as attorney for the receiver

KING CONSTANTINE OF GREECE WORSE

Another Operation Will Have to Be Performed on Ruler.

Athens, June 5, via London—Announcement was made today that King Constantine of Greece has had a change for the worse, and that another operation will have to be performed.

The king of Greece has been suffering from pleurisy for several weeks and his condition has been far from satisfactory. He underwent an operation the latter part of May, after which he suffered a relapse. The reports concerning him have been more or less contradicting, but recently his condition is said to have been critical. King Constantine's wife is a sister of Emperor William of Germany.

FRESH TROOPS BEING SENT IN CONTINUOUSLY

Most of Reinforcements Directed Toward Russian Flank on Dniester.

Center Said to Have Been Stopped Ten Miles From Przemysl.

Russian Forces From Fortress Effected Safe Retreat to Eastward.

Petrograd, June 5, via London.—Further discussion of the evacuation of Przemysl brought out the claim in Petrograd today that the Germans doubled their forces operating on their southeastern front during the Galician advance, and that fresh troops and artillery are still being sent in. Most of the reinforcements are being directed toward the Russian left flank in the Dniester region, this having become since the abandonment of Przemysl the chief point of the Austro-German attack.

The movement of the German center would appear to have been stopped ten miles to the east of Przemysl, and the elimination of the irregularities of the Russian alignment has, according to Russian military men, advantageously shortened their front from 50 to 15 miles.

Included Przemysl.

The front line from Gusakow to Voldava previously received its length and its irregularity because of the necessity of including the ring of the Przemysl forts. Then it was fifty miles long. Now it is a straight line between the two points and not more than fifteen miles long.

With this cetner of the Galician operations marking time the Germans are described here as being forced back on their extreme left near the Lower San and as advancing toward

LOOKING UP GERMAN WHO MADE AFFIDAVIT

Antecedents of Gustave Stahl, Who Saw Guns on Lusitania, Investigated.

New York, June 5.—Agents of the department of justice, on instructions from Washington, began an investigation here into the antecedents of Gustave Stahl, the German who made an affidavit submitted to the state department by the German ambassador, that the steamship Lusitania carried guns. The representatives of the department went to a boarding house at 20 Leroy street, the address he gave in his affidavit, but Stahl was not there, nor has he been seen there since yesterday.

The agents refused to say what they had discovered.

"We have got what we wanted," said one. At the offices here of the department of justice, it was ascertained that nothing of importance had been developed. It was explained there that the public investigation was merely to gather all information available concerning Stahl's activities for transmission to the state department.

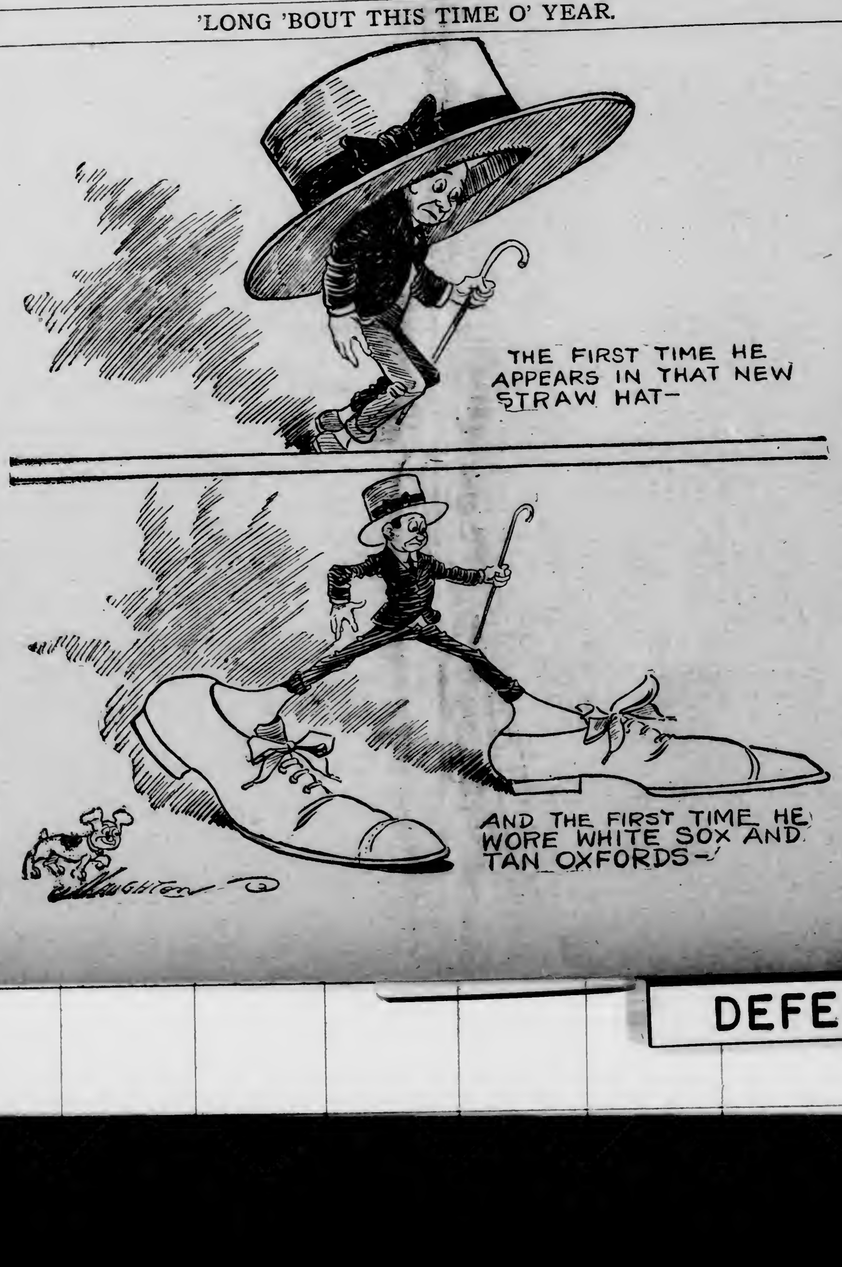

Stahl is said to have done work for the German imperial consulate in this city, and for Capt. Boy-Ed, the German naval attache. He came here before the war, it is said, from the German protectorate in Kiao-Chow, where he was attached to the office of the German commander at Tien Tsin.

JAPANESE MINISTER IS ACCUSED OF GRAFTING

Tokio, June 5.—The opposition, pushing its anti-cabinet campaign, today introduced in the house of representatives a resolution expressing lack of confidence in Viscount Kanetake Oura, minister of the interior.

The charge is made that although Viscount Oura was charged with the duty of seeing that the elections were conducted in an honest and impartial manner, he himself corruptly received a present of 1,000 yen ($500) at the March election from a candidate for membership in the house. The basis of this accusation is found in a political suit brought against Viscount Oura by the manager of the Conservative party. The matter is to be discussed Monday.

FAVORABLE RECEPTION OF NOTE TO MEXICO GIVES HOPE

Gen. Carranza Will Reply Approving Sentiments of United States.

Washington, June 5.—Unofficial advices received here from Vera Cruz saying that Gen. Carranza would reply favorably to President Wilson's statement calling upon the heads of the warring factions in Mexico to restore peace in the Southern republic, gave renewed hope to administration officials today of ultimate solution of the problem.

More than 20,000 hungry Mexicans already have been fed at Monterey from supplies arriving from the United States. More than 7,000 starving people were supplied with corn yesterday at the American hospital.

Gens. Davila, Zertuche and Santos, have expressed to Consul General Hanna thanks to President Wilson, the American Red Cross and the American people for the assistance. The consul general made another appeal today for corn, beans and rice, "to save the lives of people, most of whom are not responsible for the most awful conditions."

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

In Galicia heavy fighting continues all along the front. From the Vienna reports it would appear that the Austro-German armies were still sweeping back the Russians. The Petrograd war office, however, advances claims of success in several engagements, and apparently the Russians have been able to maintain their front to the east of Przemysl.

German airships again crossed the North sea last night and dropped bombs on the east and southeast coasts of England. While the censor has permitted no details to be cabled, it is reported from London that little damage was done and apparently the casualties were not numerous.

Five more British vessels have been sunk by German submarines. No loss of life resulted. The crews of two trawlers were permitted to embark on a third, which was spared by the Germans.

Preparations for a new German assault on the western front are reported to be under way. It is believed in London that, following the fall of Przemysl, the Germans may undertake a serious offensive movement in France or Belgium. Along the western end of the line, north of Arras, reinforcements have been brought up by the Germans and the allies have been driven from some positions gained in the recent fighting.

NEW DIVISION OF RESERVES

Bemidji Naval Militia Company Will Be Mustered in.

Eighty-Two Men Enrolled—Second Cruise By Gopher.

With Commander Guy Eaton of Duluth in charge of ceremonies, the fifth division of the Minnesota state naval militia will be mustered in at Bemidji, Minn., June 14.

After several weeks of considering the application of the Bemidji men, Adjt.-Gen. Fred B. Wood recently approved the plan. This division will be the first of four additional ones authorized by a bill passed at the last session of the state legislature.

Under the provisions of the new law the state may have two deck divisions of the naval militia. At the present time there are four two-deck divisions and one engineering division at Duluth and one deck division at Pine City.

Eighty-two men have been enrolled by Bemidji men who are interested in the establishment of the division. Lieut. Commander Clyde Kelley and Surgeon Fred Patton will accompany Commander Eaton on the trip to Bemidji and assist in the mustering in ceremony.

Divisions one, two and three of Duluth, under command of Capt. Eaton, will clear the Duluth-Superior harbor aboard the U. S. S. Gopher tonight on the second week-end cruise of the season.

About sixty men will make the trip to Bark bay and return. Boat drills and the usual ship routine work will occupy the time while on shipboard. The Gopher will return to Duluth Sunday night.

Ralph Lycan of Bemidji, one of the men active in the formation of the fifth division, will make the trip as a guest of Commander Eaton.

MORE TROUBLE IN TURKISH ARMENIA

Bands of Kurds Commit Atrocities in Various Districts.

Tiflis, Transcaucasia, Thursday, June 3, via Petrograd, June 5, and London.—After the occupation by the Russians of Van, Turkish Armenia, bands of Kurds continued to commit atrocities in the districts of Bitlis, Mush and Diarbekr. Armenian volunteers in increasing numbers are fighting desperately to protect the Christian population from the Kurds. Inhabitants of Diarbekr, following the example of the Armenians in Van, have organized armed bands.

The population Urumiah, in Persian Armenia, greeted the Russians with enthusiasm. Food for the refugees in the American missions was brought by the Russians. The consulates at Urumiah and Van have suffered little in the fighting which has been going on during the last few months.

The successes of the Russians in these districts is causing disaffection among the Persians and Arabians. Disorders are developing.

The concentration by the Turks of military efforts on the Dardanelles has caused a shortage of arms and ammunition for their troops in the Caucasus. A portion of the artillery has been removed from the Turkish forts at Erzerum, the principal city of Turkish Armenia.

ITALIANS MAKING STEADY PROGRESS

Austrians to Remove Civil Population From Southern Tyrol.

Paris, June 5.—The Havas News agency today received a dispatch from Chiasso, Switzerland, saying that the invading Italian forces are making steady but slow progress in the Southern Tyrol and that the Austrian military authorities have decided to remove the civil population from that region. The inhabitants of the town of Mori have been transferred to Innsbrueck.

The situation in the Southern Tyrol is serious on account of lack of provisions.

CARRIE NATION'S BROTHER WANTS TO TRY SINNERS.

Springfield, Mo., June 5.—Campbell H. Moore, a brother of the late Carrie Nation, declares that he has received a revelation from God and has been commissioned by Him to "try everybody on earth" for their sins.

Moore says that he once believed his sister, Carrie, was crazy, but that he has now changed his opinion.

STOCK INCREASED.

Ford Motor Company Now Capitalized at $100,000,000.

Detroit, Mich., June 5.—The Ford Motor company announced yesterday that it has increased its authorized capital stock from $2,000,000 to $100,000,000 and had declared a stock dividend of $48,000,000, payable June 1.

A cash dividend was declared on the original authorized stock of $2,000,000, but the amount was not made public. The stock dividend increased the holdings of Henry Ford, president of the company, by $27,840,000. James Couzens, vice president of the company, receives $5,000,000.

BELGIAN SOLDIER HAS RELATIVE IN ORCHESTRA

Robert Robeir, the Belgian soldier, who arrived in Duluth a few weeks ago, having been disabled by wounds, is a cousin-by-marriage of Pierre Perrier, solo clarinetist of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, who is here today with that organization. Mrs. Perrier, who is in Minneapolis, sent on to her husband, a clipping containing a story of the wounded young man, and asking Mr. Perrier to look him up while he is in Duluth. This Mr. Perrier did this morning, locating Robeir through information received at The Herald office.

Mr. Perrier is a native of Brussels, and until today had never seen his relative.

THE WAR CLOUD THAT NOW BLACKENS NEARLY ALL EUROPE

With the entrance of Italy into the war, the black cloud which has partly covered Europe is now so extended that only the least important nations are not covered by it. They are the least in population as well as in area. They are Spain, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Switzerland, Roumania, Bulgaria, Greece and Albania, which is in a turmoil. Roumania, particularly, and Bulgaria and Greece, in the minds of most diplomats, will be drawn in with Italy. The ships of Holland, Norway, Sweden and Denmark have been repeatedly attacked in violation of international law, as stated by President Wilson. So they have constant incentive to join. In fact, Spain is the single nation which seems to be without trouble. Portugal is just now in the throes of a revolution.

MARINE

MUCH COPPER IS SHIPPED TO EAST

Nearly as Much in May Through Sault as All of 1914.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—While April, 1915, showed about double the tonnage through the St. Mary's canals over last year, May showed a decrease of 139,550 tons, according to the monthly statistical report of traffic.

A remarkable feature of the report is the great increase in copper shipped east this year, 22,369 tons, an amount almost equal to the shipment of the entire year 1878 through the Soo locks. Iron ore also showed an increase of 1,171,204 tons over last year's shipments for May, 4,906,788 tons being carried through. The total amount being 5,656 tons more than was handled for the season of 1891.

Grain and wheat shipments were less than for the month of April and less than half of the amount locked down last May.

The other commodities show decreases. There were 2,361 vessel passages and 1,344 passengers. In May, 1914, there were 2,627 vessel passages and 1,988 passengers. Hard and soft coal totaling 1,496,557 tons were shipped west during May of this year as against 2,152,119 tons last May. The total amount of freight for the year was 7,848,566 tons, of which 7,030,126 tons was handled through the American locks, and 318,440 through the Canadian. The report follows:

Eastbound.

Grain, bushels	5,497,071
Flour, barrels	1,168,983
Iron ore, short tons	4,906,788
Lumber, m. ft. B. M.	51,718

Fog Delays Boats.

The steamer F. L. Robbins went to the shipyards for repairs yesterday afternoon. Early in the season the Robbins grounded on some dredging refuse in Green Bay, Wis., and was damaged to some extent. She has continued carrying cargoes until now as the damage she suffered was not so serious as to prevent her, but with the let-down in business that is prevalent on the lakes at present, the steamer will be repaired.

To Shipyard for Repairs.

The warm rain that fell last night resulted in heavy fog on the bay and this end of the lake today, and steamers had difficulty finding their way about. Tugs were used for practically all shifting of boats.

WAR PRICES HIT CITY.

Failure to Order Brushes Early Costs Duluth Schools $100.

When the European war broke out members of the board of education forgot to lay in a supply of brushes, for the janitors, at the various schools, and thereby lost about $100.

Although W. B. Getchell of the building and maintenance committee is more foresighted than the average Duluth citizen, he did not think that the Russian hog would be more wild because of the war.

The brush appropriation for 1916 is $650, a large increase over all previous years.

This is due to the fact that bristles used in making the brooms used by janitors are taken from the back of the Russian hog and imported to this country.

It is said that hog-raising, or rather bristle-raising, is "on the hog" since the German shrapnel began whistling across the Russian farms.

GERMAN GAS FUMES DEADLY

Hours Spent in Reviving Victims on the Battlefield.

Duluth Man Gets Letter Telling of Battle of Langemarck.

To be in a hospital, wounded, with all one's "pals" killed, and having nothing but "bad" news to write to his friends, is the undesirable position of "Aub" Fisher, Company E, Ninetieth Rifles, English army, who recalls many interesting experiences in a letter to a board of trade man in Duluth. The letter was written in the supper room, Red Cross hospital, Dublin, May 9, and tells of some of the terrible incidents of the battle of Langemarck. He also tells of the terrible effects of the poisonous gases used by the Germans.

"A fellow sits up (I am writing this letter in bed) with very mingled feelings these days," Mr. Fisher says at the opening of his letter. "All mine contain bad news. I have lost all my pals. I am sure it is terrible for the recipients to hear that their dear ones are either killed or missing."

Comrades Killed.

Continuing he tells how some of his comrades were killed, one while bandaging the wounds of a pal. All of them he said met their death gloriously. The most solacing thing in connection with the losing of his friends is that they were killed instantly.

Regarding one of the incidents of the battle, he says:

"In our part of the trench we were subjected to fire from the German artillery until there were only eleven of us left to man about 200 yards of trench. One poor fellow went crazy, and three other casualties reduced us to seven. We were then ordered to leave the trench and join the next platoon.

Advancing German Wall.

In speaking of a charge of the Germans on the trenches he says: "Just imagine a wall of men advancing on you and only 150 yards away. Word was given to open fire, and 200 rifles poured out their hail of lead. They fell like wheat before a reaper, and we held them off until darkness and reinforcements came. Our 200 were ordered to retire, and they just walked to the rear, although still under fire.

"You have doubtless heard of 'poisonous fumes.' Well they brought some with them on their advance, and this was the third lot I had had. Believe me, a fellow nearly caves in with a small quantity of it. I always kept a wet handkerchief over my mouth and nose, and this probably saved me. On one occasion it took four of us three-quarters of an hour to bring one fellow around. We brought him to three times, and the fourth time we managed to bring him completely around."

In closing, Mr. Fisher compliments the people on their "Irish hospitality," which he says cannot be beaten.

GET THEIR BALL GROUND

Big Petition From East End Boys Brings Quick Results.

Don't Want to "Break Father" or Land in Jail.

Sixty-nine East end boys presented a petition to the city commission this morning, asking for a ball park and playground, so "that we won't break our fathers for broken windows, and so that we can keep out of jail," and no sooner was the petition filed than Mayor Prince secured permission from Stryker, Manley & Buck to use the entire block between Seventeenth and Eighteenth avenues east and Third and Fourth streets. The ground will be leveled off the first thing next week, the mayor said, and a backstop erected so that the boys can begin playing baseball some time during the week.

The petition was circulated by Bernard Silberstein, grandson of Commissioner Silberstein, and McClelland Whitely, son of J. H. Whitely, local attorney. On Tuesday the boys arranged for a conference with Mayor Prince, and yesterday afternoon they appeared in his office and announced that a petition, signed by sixty-nine East end boys would be filed today.

The petition is also signed by William Prince, son of the mayor, and the sons of some of the most prominent residents in the East end.

The petition and the sixty-nine signers follow:

"We, the boys of the East end, want a ball park and playground established near the Endion school. We have a small playground at present, but there is constant danger of breaking windows. We are not allowed to play on the streets, and if we were, the balls roll down the sewers, and if we go on some private lot, we are trespassers, and the ladies threaten to have us arrested. We don't want much, just a place to play a scrub game and not to break our fathers paying for broken windows, and to keep out of jail for trespassing."

KENWOOD SCHOOL "RUN DOWN SOME"

Civic Club Presents List of Shortcomings to Board of Education.

As a temple of learning and a house sheltering the fount of knowledge, Duluth's Kenwood school, in Kenwood park, is a fizzle, judging from a protest presented to the board of education last night by members of the Kenwood Civic club.

When the board declared its intention of repairing the structure and "making it do" next year, the club prepared a list of the faults of the building. Here are some of them:

Absolutely no fire protection.

No ventilation in winter, when windows must be closed.

The doors open inward.

No heating plant but a stove.

Children near the stove are too warm and the others too cold.

Chimney is shaky and rests upon an inch floor liable to give way.

It takes until noon to heat the building.

No water supply but a well, which has not been cleaned for five years.

No program facilities.

Despite this, the board decided to spend $2,025 on a heating plant and repairs, in accordance with the recommendation of the committee on buildings and maintenance.

WHEN NAVY FALLS DOWN

Powerful Battleships Not Sure Protection, Says Munich Professor.

Nations of World Should Agree to Protect International Trade.

Prof. M. J. Bonn, head of the college of commerce of the University of Munich, as well as instructor in economics, and Carl Schurtz, professor of the University of Wisconsin, addressed the members of the Duluth Office club at the Spalding at luncheon today.

Prof. Bonn spoke briefly on the future of international trade and touched upon the complicated conditions and the vast upset caused in the trade not only between the belligerent nations, but also the neutrals, by the great struggle in Europe.

"There has been a vast increase in international trade during the last fifty years," said Prof. Bonn. "The present war is interfering not only with trade between the nations at war and the neutral countries, but, more grave still, between one neutral nation and another.

"Great lessons must grow out of the present situation. The present struggle is showing us that a nation that depends almost entirely upon international trade for its maintenance might be starved to death. We must come to the conclusion that if nations are allowed to attack the commerce of other nations—nations not at war—then the countries of the world must come to the decision to put a stop to international trade or build navies large enough to protect their ships on the high seas.

Navies Uncertain.

"But in the case of England it has been shown that even with the greatest navy in the world it is not entirely possible to protect its ships. The invention of the submarine has made the great navy an uncertain means of protection to the private ship. The little countries cannot hope to build large navies for the protection of their international trade. Under the methods adopted by the various nations engaged in the present war the trade balance of the world is seriously disturbed and the ships of every country menaced.

"Now, then, it comes to the question of whether countries of the future will endeavor to rely upon their own resources, as Germany is forced to do at the present time, or resort to powerful navies to insure foreign trade, or enter into an agreement not to molest private ships on the high seas, unless these ships are carrying arms.

"That is the great international trade problem that the war has raised. It is a most serious problem and one that will require great thought in its solution. A small nation, such as Denmark, could hardly compete with England in protecting its ships on the seas, and yet England has clearly shown that it is unable to give secure protection to its ships, with the greatest navy in the world at its command. This brings us down to the question of whether the nations of the world, to insure the protection of international trade, will not enter into an agreement mutually satisfactory to all."

Will Not Starve Germany.

Prof. Bonn is of the decided opinion that England will not succeed in starving Germany. He believes that the resources of that country are great, and he also says that Germany is using its inventive genius to increase its resources. For instance, the professor stated that nitrate, formerly imported from Chili, is being manufactured from ammonia by the German people.

TAKE NEW CHANCE IN MARRIAGE LOTTERY

Undaunted by previous failures, Frances C. Brown, 28 years old, and Herbert L. Brown, age 30, both of whom have figured in divorce cases tried in the district court within the last three years, have decided to cast their lot together on a new matrimonial voyage. Brown secured the necessary marriage license from the clerk of the district court this morning.

Herbert L. Brown was formerly married to Ida Brown, but secured a divorce from her on the grounds of cruelty on Nov. 28, last. Brown's first marriage occurred on April 22, 1905. When the court granted him a divorce, it also granted him the custody of his only child, a boy, age 7.

Frances Brown became the wife of Mike Brown on July 24, 1904 and lived with him until the spring of 1913. On March 31 of that year she secured a divorce on the grounds of cruelty. The court granted her the custody of a 7-year-old daughter.

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Students Prepare for Final Exams—But One More Week of School Before Tests—May Honor Lists Announced—Five Best Senior Essayists Are Announced—Basket Ball Squad Awarded Sweaters.

Very little concerned the students of Central high school during the week just closed, outside of their work in preparation for the final examinations, to be given during the week of June 14-18. The closing of school and the Head of the Lakes track meet, held yesterday, were the more important topics of discussion. There is but one more actual week of school, the examinations holding sway during the final week. The examinations in senior subjects will be given during Thursday and Friday of next week, thus letting the fourth-year students out one week earlier. The examinations in subjects under senior grades will be given during the week following. During this time the pupil is expected to be in school only when he has an examination. The reports will be given out on Friday, June 18, the last day of school, at which time the whole school assembles for the last chapel.

Reports for May.

After returning from their three-day vacation the students received their report cards for the month of May. There will be but one more issue of the reports, and that will be final. The May honor roll was announced by Principal Young and read in chapel Thursday morning.

Grades of 90 or above in at least four subjects entitles a pupil to consideration in the "A" honor roll, while grades of 90 or above in at least three subjects gains distinction for one in the "B" list. A compilation of the number of pupils from each class on each list reveals the fact that there were 174 pupils especially successful in their studies during the month of May, 67 of these being on the "A" list and 107 on the "B" roll. This mark is one of the best that has been attained this year. The number of pupils on each list from each class is as follows:

	"A"	"B"	Total.
Seniors	19	15	34
Juniors	8	30	38
Sophomores	11	23	34
Freshmen	29	39	68
Totals	67	107	174

The honor lists are as follows:

"A" Honor Roll.

One of the features of the annual senior class night commencement exercises is the reading of the five best senior essays by the author of the composition. Each student of the fourth year class is required to hand in a long essay, his topic being allowed to cover a very wide range. Out of the 200 best essays the members of the school English department select the five best and these are presented during class night.

There was great rivalry among the students of the fourth-year class this year, and the judges found it exceedingly difficult to select the winners. The general average of the essays was much better than those of former years.

From among the 200 essays the following five were chosen to be read by their authors:

George Altman, "Nationalism;" Mary McGonagle, "Alfred Noyes;" Lucile Elder, "Awakened Russia;" Dorothy Miller, "The Home Life of Mr. and Mrs. Browning;" Charles Romieux, "Modern Methods of Warfare."

During the chapel period Thursday morning, the members of the 1914-15 basket ball squad received their long looked for sweaters, given to them in memory of their services rendered on the basket ball floor during the season. The sweaters were the "V" neck type with a large Old English "D" on them.

There were seven members of the squad who received their "Ds." They were: Capt. Stanley Solheim, Edward Scrivens, Isadore Karon, Roy Farah, Earl Shaw, Locklyn Taylor and Douglas Moore. Of this number all but Karon, Farah and Shaw will be graduated this year. On behalf of the team, Capt. Solheim thanked the Athletic association for the sweaters. Solheim also commented on the fact that for some time Superior Central has not won a single basket ball or football game from Duluth Central.

In order that the hockey players might get their "Ds" also, pencils were sold in chapel Thursday morning, as was done for the senior class play some time ago. The sale of the pencils brought a considerable profit, and it is expected that the members of the hockey team that upheld the honors of Central during the last winter will have their services duly recognized, and be presented by sweaters as was the basket ball men.

The junior treasury was strengthened considerably as a result of the candy sale conducted by the girl members of the third year class in the corridors of the building following the close of school Wednesday. The doubtful appearance of the junior treasury necessitated immediate action, and the candy sale was the result. The members of the class of 1916 wish to start their last year with a substantial financial backing, so that they may be assured of success in all of their undertakings next year. The present senior class had an excellent treasurer in Ralph McCarty during the past two years, and he has kept the strong box of the fourth year class well over the $100 mark. This accounted in a large measure for the great success of the 1915 class in all of their undertakings during their stay in Central.

Some time next week the members of the 1914-15 Central debating team will receive fobs as rewards for their energies in upholding the honors of Central in this branch of activities. The members of the team who will get the fobs are: Irving Grover, Jacob Karon, Emanuel Cook, Max Goldberg and George Macfarlane.

The first annual banquet of the Lambs Dramatic club, held in the Washington building Monday evening, was a decided success. About 100 persons attended the affair, which consisted of a banquet and program of toasts and addresses, followed by an informal dancing party in the school gymnasium. This was the first important social event of the club this year and will be repeated as an annual affair in years to come. An interesting program featuring the banquet, was as follows:

Toast to the Baldwin Players, Irving Grover; recitation, A. Ramaine Callender; toast to the Lambs, Stanley Lasky; toast to Mr. Rasey, adviser of the club, Robert Zuger; response, Mr. Rasey; farewell address to the seniors, Jacob Garon; vaudeville sketch, Russell Duncan and Robert Kerr; dialogue, Emanuel Cook and Max Goldberg. Donald Alexander, president of the club, acted as toastmaster.

Former Alderman Frank Schaffer Succumbs to Paralytic Stroke.

Lived in Duluth Thirty Years; Considered Sound Business Man.

Former Alderman Frank Schaffer died this morning at his home, 2728 West Third street, as a result of a paralytic stroke which he suffered a week ago last Wednesday. Mr. Schaffer never regained consciousness since he was stricken.

Surviving him are his widow, one daughter, Miss Cora, three brothers, Charles, John and Arthur, all of Duluth; and two sisters, Mrs. Ben McLean of Olwein, Iowa, and Miss Emma Schaffer of Vancouver, B. C.

The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon from the family home and interment will be Calvary cemetery.

Mr. Schaffer, who was 54 years of age, had apparently been in his usual good health up to the time he was stricken. A week ago Wednesday morning he arose at the usual time and went to the basement to look after the furnace fire. Evidently he felt himself being overcome by a dizzy spell, for he had been subject to them for about two years whenever he would bend over. He came up without finishing his work. Shortly afterwards, another member of the family went into the kitchen and found Mr. Schaffer limp in a chair and unconscious. He never came out of the coma. Paralysis had affected the whole right side.

Frank Schaffer was a resident of Duluth for thirty years and for most of that time was active in business and civic affairs. He was engaged in the bottling business in the West end, but his acquaintance was not confined to that section of the city by any means, for he was very well known and universally popular. He was alderman from the Sixth ward for several terms and was considered one of the safest and most conservative of the members of that body, for his habit was to look at the business of the city from the same angle that he viewed his own, being a firm believer that city officials should transact the city's affairs with as much care and thought for economy as well as efficiency as they would were the business their own and they were building it up. Mr. Schaffer was a Democrat in politics and had for years been one of the most active members of that party in city, county and state affairs.

WORK IS STOPPED ON SOIL SURVEY

Due to Failure of Legislature to Make Appropriation.

St. Paul, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Soil survey work in Minnesota has been brought to a sudden standstill because of the failure of the recent legislature to make any appropriation for the purpose. The bureau of soils of the department of agriculture at Washington has notified Dr. F. J. Alway, chief of the soils division of the department of agriculture of the University of Minnesota, that the failure of the legislature to provide funds will preclude co-operation on the part of the Federal government.

A few years the government was making surveys in various states at its own expense. This plan was discontinued and assistance was rendered in only those states which met the appropriation of the government with a fund of equal amount. Where a state makes no appropriation the government now does nothing.

Under the old plan work was progressing very slowly as the funds provided were limited, but the action of the recent legislature puts a stop even to such progress.

A soil survey in a state is necessary and desirable in order for the best development of a state's agriculture. It is fundamental and furnishes the basis on which agricultural experimenters may work to the best advantage.

Some four or five counties in Minnesota had already been surveyed and it was the purpose to make a survey of Koochiching county in the very near future, as a beginning on the survey of the entire Northern belt of counties where there are large areas of state land. Hennepin county was also to undergo a survey. Both these projects will have to be abandoned.

DULUTH ITALIANS WILL DISCUSS WAR

Many Respond to Call to Colors; Meeting Will Be Held.

Italians of the city will hold a mass meeting in the near future for the purpose of discussing the European war situation and considering the question of enlisting in the army of their native land.

Announcement of such a meeting has been made by Rev. Fr. J. Zarrilli, pastor of St. Peter's Italian Catholic church of this city. He declared yesterday that details for the meeting had not been worked out, but that it was probable that one would be called within a week.

"Many of the local Italians," he said, "are eager to get together and talk over the situation."

According to Attillio Castigliano, Italian consular agent for this district, many of his countrymen are responding to the call to colors.

Local Italians will help raise funds for the Red Cross corps, says the consular agent.

PROVIDE AID FOR COMING HEBREWS

Thousands Expected After War; Fund Will Be Raised Here.

For the aid of thousands of homeless Jews in Galicia, Poland and other parts of Europe, who will be coming to this country after the war, Duluth Jews will be asked today to contribute to the fund of the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid Society of America. Rev. R. Kornblith of Philadelphia, district secretary of the organization, arrived in Duluth yesterday from the Twin Cities, where he collected $1,500. He will remain here several days.

Dr. Kornblith will begin his active campaign tomorrow evening, when he will deliver an address on "The War and Its Results" at the Adath Israel synagogue, Third avenue east and Third street. He also delivered a short talk at the regular services this morning. No subscriptions are being taken today by Dr. Kornblith, but he will begin his canvass Monday.

At the meeting tomorrow night, A. S. Karon, president of the Adath Israel synagogue, will preside, and an address will also be delivered by Rabbi I. Teplitz.

Included in the national directorate of the society are the following Duluthians: Bernard Silberstein, safety commissioner; Dr. Maurice Lefkovits, Ben Blumenthal, Nathan Kris, S. Rine, D. J. Segal and P. Sher.

During the last year the society has helped 130,000 Jewish immigrants to become good citizens by aiding them to their destinations in all parts of this country, procuring naturalization papers for them and giving them shelter, education and employment. After the war is over, it is believed that thousands of homeless Jews will come to this country and it is for this reason that a large fund is now being created.

WOULD FAVOR DULUTH WORKMEN

Sheet Metal Workers Protest Against Use of Superior Men.

Sheet metal workers protested to the board of education last night that ventilation work in the Lincoln junior high building had been awarded to Superior contractors, and asked that the award be reconsidered with a view of giving it to Duluth workmen.

"We don't belong to the Commercial club, but we believe in doing it for Duluth," said one delegate. "We feel that we should have the work."

President F. E. Brewer told the delegation that Jacobson Brothers, a Duluth contracting concern, had the general contract covering the entire building, and that outsiders who secured work did so in the sub-letting process.

"The board favors Duluth workmen and Duluth concerns," he said. "We did not know that any part of the Lincoln school work has gone outside. This contract has gone so far, however, thatwe can do nothing."

The sheet metal workers agreed to follow the suggestion that they send a protest to Jacobson Brothers, and file a written protest with the board.

STUDENTS ARE 'MAKING GOOD'

Sixty Commercial Graduates of Central Working in Duluth.

Farm and Salesmanship Pupils Make Favorable Progress.

Sixty graduates of the two-year or four-year commercial course at Central high have been placed in positions with commercial houses in Duluth during the last two years by Supt. R. E. Denfeld.

His monthly report to the board of education, read by Clerk C. A. Bronson at last night's meeting at Central high, contained this statement: "They are all making good, too."

As in previous reports, Supt. Denfeld lauded the work done by the agricultural and commercial students. Instruction in these two courses has proved very successful during the last school year, he believes, and was popular with the students.

"The two-year 'ag' course is now well established," reads the report. "Definite results are being obtained. The commercial students have done better work this year than ever before since I have been here. We are getting more calls from business men, and at times it is impossible to supply them."

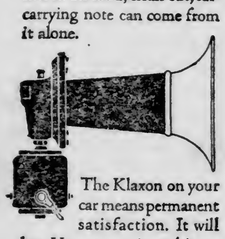

Salesmanship classes, which merchants attend and address, also are valuable, in the belief of the superintendent. The commerce course had 347 pupils this year, an increase of 100.

During May 1,524 children were examined by the schools' medical inspection staff. Seventeen were fitted with glasses and four others treated. The dentists will complete their work in the schools in the central part of the city before school closes, according to the report.

Supt. Denfeld invited members of the board to attend the manual training exhibit to be given next Tuesday.

KLAXON
Type L
$20

The Type L is the largest of the Klaxons. It is the one you see on all high-priced cars. You can always tell it. The "right-angle" construction distinguishes it from all other signals. No other signal looks like it. No other signal sounds like it. Its loud, clean-cut, far-carrying note can come from it alone.

The Klaxon on your car means permanent satisfaction. It will last. You can use it on this car and the next and the next. It is guaranteed permanently—not for one year or two years or five years—permanently. You also have the satisfaction of knowing, and of having all who see it know, that your signal is the best one possible to buy.

We will put one on ready to sound for $20.

TWO CLOQUET TOTS SMOTHER TO DEATH

Locked in Home By Mother Who Was Away at Time.

Cloquet, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—While their parents were absent about 9:30 yesterday morning, the father being employed at Moose Lake and the mother calling upon a sister living a block distant, Mildred, aged 6, and Isabelle, aged 4, children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kilby, living on the Carlton road, on the extreme limits of the city, were smothered to death by a fire which nearly destroyed the Kilby's little home, a two-story frame building. Violet Kilby, aged 15, who was in another room from the children, made an ineffectual effort to save them and was burned about the face and hands and her hair being singed nearly off her head.

Locked in House.

It is said that Mrs. Kilby, before leaving to go to her sister's, locked the house, leaving the two little girls in bed, while their sister Violet was reading in a second floor room near where the tots were asleep.

As soon as Violet was attracted by the smell of smoke she investigated and then turned her attention to save her little sisters. She was burned trying to get them out, but failed.

Joseph Lightfoot and Wilbur McClosky, two neighbor boys, ran over to the Kilby home and, getting a ladder, placed it against the second story window. They climbed up and saw the two children struggling in bed. They tried to induce the little ones to come over to the window but could not and had to leave to save themselves.

The fire department arrived about this time and soon put out the fire, but the house was almost gutted.

Assistant Fire Chief Abel Anderson got into the room before the fire was all out and found both children dead, Mildred lying across the foot of the bed and Isabella lying by the door. Anderson was burned getting into the room. Mildred's body was burned some.

The father of the children, Frank Kilby, was notified and arrived from Moose Lake last night. The loss was about $1,500, with about $500 insurance. The origin of the fire is not known, although it is presumed to have started from the kitchen stove.

GERMANS DOUBLE FORCES IN GALICIA

the Dniester fortifications on their right. This gives the situation as a whole the character of a slow pivoting movement, with Przemysl as the center.

Germans Hold Entire Town.

Berlin, June 5, via London.—Reports from the Galician front indicate that the Austro-German troops are now in complete possession of all parts of Przemysl. The Russians contested stubbornly each advance, but at length were driven from the eastern and southern forts, which were the last to fall.

It is generally admitted that the larger part of the Russian forces in Przemysl were able to effect a retreat eastward by defending the positions toward the south. This checked the attacking army of Gen. von Boehm-Ermolli and temporarily prevented the complete encircling of the city. Although the railroad line along which the retreat occurred was under the fire of field guns, they were too far away to be effective.

City Suffered Little.

Apparently the city suffered little during the Russian occupation. Huge stores of provisions were recovered and considerable amount of war material was captured.

Immediately after the occupation of Przemysl, Gen. von Mackensen's army pressed eastward. It encountered the Russian rear guards on the heights near Medyka, where fighting is still in progress. The Teutonic allies have succeeded, however, in joining their forces along a continuous front moving eastward, which has relieved the difficult position of the north wing.

The only serious opposition which is expected probably will be offered near Grodek lakes, south of Lemberg, where the Russians may be able to throw in reserves. It is expected that the army of Gen. Linsinger, moving northeastward from Stry, will be able to threaten the Russians from the rear, if they offer much resistance.

the head of our gang, was with me. I asked Weisbaum if we couldn't fix things up. He said he would see Capt. Storen about it. He went away but soon came back and said that Storen demanded $3,000 to fix the case."

Gunmen Present.

Wexler halted the trial yesterday by a declaration that the court room contained a number of gunmen and all-around crooks and that his life was in danger. When Judge Dever ordered his bailiff to summon the police, seven or eight roughly dressed men hurriedly left the room.

Wexler told Judge Dever yesterday he could identify a dozen men in the "spectators' seats as known criminals."

"My life won't be worth a cent if they aren't arrested," he said.

Wexler was on the stand most of the day. He told of raising a purse of $500 for Captain Storen. "Weisbaum told me the captain wanted to see me," he testified. "I went to the station and the captain shook hands with me and said: 'You must think I'm sleeping. I want you to get out of this district.'

"I said, 'What do you want?' He said 'I want $500. I know just who you have robbed and I know about your giving money to Weisbaum and Roth.'"

"Did you later meet Captain Storen in his office alone," the witness was asked.

"Yes."

"What was said?"

"I paid him $500."

"Was the money part of the proceeds of any burglary?"

"Yes, it was the silk job on Division street."

Finds Two Under Auto.

Wales, N. D., June 5. — (Special to The Herald.)—Coming upon an overturned automobile at the side of a road near Pilot Mound, Man., Burney Kjose of this city rescued Mr. and Mrs. James Gahoe of Pilot Mound.

Gahoe was pinned under the car, while Mrs. Gahoe had both feet very seriously crushed, and she was unable to help her husband.

when a terrific explosion shook the vessel, which began to settle. The crew took to the boats, but the steamer settled so slowly that some of them returned to the ship, hoping that they might save her. They noticed, however, the periscope of a submarine, which discharged a second torpedo, completing the work of destruction.

The Inkum left New York May 22 for London. She was 302½ feet long and of 3,074 tons net. She was built at Glasgow in 1901 and was owned by the Gulf Transportation line of Liverpool.

Thompson Liner Sunk.

Montreal, June 5.—The Thompson Liner Ionia for Montreal with freight from Middlesborough, Eng., and carrying no passengers, was torpedoed and sunk off the north coast of England at noon Thursday, according to a report received by agents of the line here tonight. The captain and crew were landed at Kirkwall, Scotland.

The Ionia sailed from Middlesborough on June 2 for Montreal. The shipping records list her as a steamer of 2,085 tons, built in Dundee in 1892.

Brings Crews of Two.

Norwich, Eng., June 5.—The trawler Little Boy of Lowestoft has arrived at that port with the crews of the trawlers Horace and Economy on board, these two ships having been sunk by the Germans.

A German submarine stopped the three trawlers in the North sea Thursday and gave the crews of the Horace and the Economy five minutes to board the Little Boy. After the transfer had been made the trawlers were sunk by bombs placed on board by the crew of the submarine.

Three Sent Down.

London, June 5.—The steam drifter Ena May of Peterhead, the trawler Strathbran and the sailing ship George and Mary, all have been sent to the bottom by German submarines. The crews of all three ships were saved.

Cyrus Torpedoed.

Stavanger, Norway, June 5, via London.—The Danish steamer Cyrus with a cargo of coal, from Burnt Island, Scotland, for Copenhagen, was torpedoed yesterday afternoon. The crew, none of whose members was injured, were landed today by a Norwegian steamer at Stavanger. The men state that the Cyrus was torpedoed without warning.

The Cyrus was built in 1910 and was owned in Copenhagen. She was 249 feet long and her net tonnage was 1,032.

U. S. ATTORNEY IS REPLACED

for the company in a civil proceeding.

Case to Be Heard.

Columbus, Ohio, June 5.—A motion to vacate the order of United States District Judge John E. Sater, allowing United States District Attorney Sherman McPherson and his assistant, Harley E. Burns, $20,000 fees for services in settlement of claims of the government in the old Capital City Dairy company receivership case, was set for hearing before Judge Sater today. The motion to vacate the order allowing the fees was filed yesterday by R. W. Childs, special counsel for the department of justice, and asserted that acceptance of the fees under the circumstances was "peculiarly improper."

May Ask Return of Fees.

The motion of the government to require Former Congressman E. L. Taylor to return a fee of $20,000 which Judge Sater allowed him for his services as receiver of the dairy company, would be considered in conjunction with the hearing on the McPherson and Burns cases, it was understood.

Date for the criminal trials of Dennis Kelley and other officials of the dairy company, prosecution of which have been in the hands of McPherson and his assistants, probably will be delayed as a consequence of the controversy over the matter of fees, it was said today.

The fees were awarded in connection with civil suits through which the government collected $575,000 in taxes alleged to have been evaded on oleomargarine.

Arrest Army Deserter.

Leonard, N. D., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.) — James Coleman, employed on a farm near Woods, was arrested by a government official on a charge of deserting from the United States army. He had been at liberty for some months and was traced by a letter he wrote from Oakes where he left a forwarding address.

of the roadside inn known as the Cabaret Rouge, one kilometer (2-3 mile) to the south of Souchez.

"There was great activity last night on the part of the artillery in the entire sector to the north of Arras.

"Along the remainder of the front there is nothing new."

German Statement.

Berlin, June 5, via London, 4:05 p. m.—German headquarters today gave out a report on the progress of hostilities which reads as follows:

"In the western theater of the war: There has been further fighting for possession of the remainder of the sugar refinery at Souchez. For the time being it is again in possession of the French.

"The enemy's attacks at Neuville have been repulsed.

"The airship station at Lommartemont, near Nancy, was bombarded yesterday.

"In the eastern theater of the war: "In connection with the Russian attacks repulsed yesterday at Rawdejany and Sawdyniki our troops have made further advances and have driven off their opponents who held the bridgehead at Sawdyniki. They made 1,970 prisoners. Further north cavalry engagements took place yesterday in the region of Fokeljanij with good results for us.

"In the southeastern arena of the war: To the east of Jarcslau the situation remains unchanged. South of Przemysl our troops are advancing in the direction of Moaziska. The army under Gen. von Linsingen has driven the enemy back in the direction of Kalusz and Zurawno, on the Dniester."

fire under which the Germans feared their retreat would be cut off.

Reorganized by French.

"When the French counter-attack had attained the refinery itself, it was found that the Germans already had withdrawn and the position was promptly organized by the French. During this work a non-commissioned officer remained for eight hours at his post directing his men, and this in spite of the fact that he had a splinter of a shell in his thigh.

"In a period of three weeks nearly 3,000 Germans have been buried and more than 3,000 have been taken prisoners by the same French regiment."

EMPEROR VISITS AUSTRIAN MARSHAL

Takes Part in Celebration of Birthday of Archduke.

Berlin, June 5, via London—Emperor William arrived at the headquarters of Field Marshal Archduke Frederick, the Austrian commander-in-chief, yesterday, to take part in the celebration of the archduke's birthday. The visit was made the occasion of rejoicing at the fall of Przemysl. Emperor William was greeted everywhere by wildly enthusiastic crowds.

The emperor is holding a series of audiences with leaders of the opposition party of Hungary, including Count Julius Andrassy, Count Albert Apponyi and Count Alader Zichy. These conferences are considered of great importance in relation to political developments in Hungary. The formation of a coalition ministry with the three counts named and Count Stephan Tisza, the present Hungarian premier, at its head, has been considered. Another proposal is for the creation of a new cabinet with Count Tisza as minister of the interior and including M. Popovich, former finance minister.

CASE AGAINST LONDON TIMES IS DISMISSED

London, June 5.—The government's case against the London Times and Maj. E. H. Richardson on the charge of revealing information useful to enemies of Great Britain, was dismissed today by Sir David Burnett in police court.

The defense contended that the information in question contained in a letter by Maj. Richardson and published in the Times was perfectly well known to Germany. It was to the effect that the last of the French reserves were in the field and that raw young recruits had been called up.

The case was heard under the Defense of the Realm act.

CLOQUET TO KEEP LEGISLATORS BUSY

Senator Vibert Announces Well Filled Program for Visitors Wednesday.

Senator Fred D. Vibert, one of the legislators in charge of the "adjourned session" of the state senate, when it makes its trip during the next two weeks through the northern part of the state, has announced the program of entertainment which the party will be tendered at Cloquet, Senator Vibert's home town, next Wednesday.

On that day the special train from St. Paul, carrying the visitors, is due to arrive at Cloquet at 1:15 p. m. and will leave one minute after midnight, coming to Duluth. On arriving at Cloquet the party will be met at the station with autos and taken directly to the state reforestry tract, about three miles from Cloquet, where luncheon will be served and the work of reforestation inspected.

The visitors will then be taken through the manufacturing plants of Cloquet, after which they will be taken to Carlton and Thomson by auto, and will inspect the newly acquired Jay Cooke park along the banks of the St. Louis river. On the return to Cloquet dinner will be served at the Hotel Cloquet and the evening will be spent in inspecting the Y. M. C. A. building and the new Masonic temple.

At the latter building an informal reception will be held in which the residents of Cloquet will take part and meet the members of the party.

WARNING TO LEAVE WAR ZONE STANDING ONE

Washington, June 5.—Ambassador Gerard, at Berlin, cabled the state department today that reports of Americans in Germany having been warned to be prepared to leave were attributable to the embassy's standing advice that the war zone in Europe is not a desirable place for Americans.

"The warning that the stories have reference to," said Secretary Bryan today, "is what has been said all the time since the war began. It has been said in other places that is, that during the war Europe is not a good place for Americans to be in."

WARREN BUSINESS MEN STUDY ALFALFA

Warren, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—An auto train of twenty cars left here Friday morning on an alfalfa tour. The cars were owned by business men and farmers and will visit the farms of about twenty-five of the most progressive agriculturists in the neighborhood. They will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Morkassel at their beautiful farm home. After the lunch, speakers from the agricultural schools at St. Anthony Park and Crookston addressed the participants on topics related to the growing of alfalfa. The tour was aranged by Prof. Neraal of the agricultural department of the Warren high school.

NORTHLAND COLLEGE PRESIDENT RESIGNS

Warren, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prof. O. E. Abrahamson, president of the North Star college, has resigned to accept a position as instructor of the Swedish language at the John A. Johnson high school in St. Paul. As yet the board of directors of the school have not elected his successor.

GRAND FORKS MASONS FACING BUSY WEEK

Grand Forks, N. D., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Next week will be a big one for the Masons of Grand Forks, the formal dedication of their new $200,000 temple being scheduled.

Monday the Scottish Rite bodies plan a ceremonial session, having a class of 300 members to be initiated. Friday the Kem temple Shriners will hold their ceremonial, and they will initiate a class of about 400 novices.

The Shrine festival is to be one of the biggest in the history of the Northwest. There will be six to eight bands and patrols in attendance, with a big parade and many other features promised.

SAYS THEY GOT LIQUOR.

State's Attorney of Foster County, N .D., Makes Charges.

Carrington, N. D., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Four cities of Foster county, Carrington, Bordulac, McHenry and Melville, have received shipments of liquor during the past six months sufficient to supply each male voter of the county with four quarts of whiskey or a case of beer.

This finding is made by State's Attorney Burnham, on the request of Attorney General H. J. Linde, who is making an active campaign against the introduction of liquor into the state.

THE TOOTH BRUSH

By DR. SAMUEL G. DIXON, Commissioner of Health for Pennsylvania.

We have been taught that the tooth brush should be as indispensable from youth to old age as a man's shadow. Indeed the latter might be dispensed with without jeopardizing one's position in polite society.

The primary purpose of the tooth brush is excellent, but it is well remembered that as it is intended to clean, the instrument itself should be beyond suspicion in this regard. The majority of disease germs find their way into the human system through the mucous membrane of the nose and mouth.

If the teeth are not frequently and properly cleansed these germs or bacteria will multiply in cavities or where particles of food have become lodged between the teeth. These minute germ breeding centers should be removed by vigorous brushing but when the desired result is accomplished care should be taken that they do not in turn lodge in the intricacies of the tooth brush. If they remain there they are later retransferred to the mouth.

To guard against this the brush should be thoroughly cleansed before and after using in scalding water if this is obtainable. If not, in some non-poisonous antiseptic wash. At least wash the brush with soap and water and rinse thoroughly.

Care should be taken not to keep a tooth brush where it is exposed to dust and dirt. If there are several members of the family the same receptacle should not be used for the brushes as the germs of disease may readily be transmitted from one brush to another in this manner.

It is well to make use of white thread or dental floss to remove particles from between the teeth which are difficult to remove with the brush. It is from fragments of food that lodge betwen the teeth that decay often starts.

When you visit the dentist you expect and demand exceptional cleanliness in the care of his instruments. See that your own dental utensils are immaculate.

"BEYOND THE POINT OF ROCKS"

CLUB SCORES BRIDGE PLAN

Proposal to Spend $32,000 for Chester Creek Project Denounced.

Declare Realty Men Back of Scheme; Favoritism Also Charged.

Members of the West End Commercial club went on record last night as being decidedly against the city spending $32,000 or any sum near that amount for the construction of a bridge over Chester creek at Ninth street and Fourteenth avenue east. Many of the leading business men of the West end spoke on the subject and denounced the commission for considering such a move which they styled as being instigated by realty men who wished to sell lots in that district but one that would not benefit residents.

Among those who spoke strongly against the proposition were Sanford W. Hill, Capt. K. A. Franklin, John J. Moe, Emil H. Olson, Edward Rudberg, Emil Gustafson, George M. Jensen and others.

The speakers charged the city administration with being always in sympathy with any proposed "wild cat" improvement asked for any part of the eastern end of the city, but, when any expenditure that often is absolutely necessary is asked for the western end of the city, the officials immediately begin telling about the impossibility of such improvements because of the lack of funds.

The members contended that a bridge over Miller's creek at Twenty-fifth avenue west and Fifth street would be far more logical and would accommodate a far greater number of people than would the bridge proposed by the commissioners over Chester creek. Hundreds of residents of the West end as well as nearly every business house using delivery wagons, they said, would be benefited by the bridge on Miller's creek.

The club also went on record as opposing any central organization or federation of clubs which would act in the form of an intermediary or advisory commission to the city officials. Such an organization would serve no good purpose, said the members.

Lodge Memorial Service.

Memorial services will be held tomorrow morning at the First Swedish Methodist church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, for the members of the Vasa order. Three lodges of the city, Sons of Sweden lodge, No. 170, Sophia lodge, No. 209, and Boistjarnan lodge will take part in the ceremony.

The members will meet at 10 o'clock at the Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street, and march in a body to the church. The sermon will be preached by Rev. C. W. R. Wermine. A special musical program will also be given. The subject of the sermon will be "The Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man."

CONTEST LETTERS IN GREAT NUMBERS

Many Are Competing for Prizes Offered By the Herald.

Letters telling "Why I Like to Shop in the West End," are beginning to arrive at The Herald office in great numbers showing that residents of this part of the city are taking interest in the contest. Evidently there will be a spirited rivalry for the prizes offered by The Herald for the best letters on the subject.

The full particulars of the contest can be found in The Herald of June 3. The prizes are: First, $10 in trade with any of the West end merchants; second, $7.50 in trade, and third, $5 in trade.

In writing the letters, it will be well to write on only one side of the paper. Address all communications to "The West End Editor, The Herald, Duluth."

WEST END BUILDERS

COL. S. D. IVES.

Probably the one man in the West end to whom might be given, more than any other in recent years, the credit for bringing a metropolitan aspect to the community is Sidney D. Ives, proprietor of the Rex hotel. After spending several years in the West end as proprietor of the Esmond hotel, he was instrumental in inducing capital to erect a modern building for a hostelry for this end of the city.

The colonel—he says he does not like the title, but everybody uses it when speaking to him—has been a booster for this end of the city, arriving here nearly ten years ago. After conducting for several years the Esmond hotel, he found the demand for a more modern hotel becoming stronger each year, and two years ago was able to induce the owners of the property on Twentieth avenue west and Superior street to build the present handsome hotel building.

"I have recently been to the coast," he said yesterday, "and there is not a spot in the country that I know of that has better possibilities and which shows greater progress than our little city of Duluth. It will not be long before Duluth will be ranked among the leading commercial and industrial cities of the entire United States."

CHOIR WILL GIVE PLAY.

Second Presbyterian Singers Now Rehearsing for Event.

"The Tale of a Hat" is the title of a play to be given Wednesday, June 16, by the choir of the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street. The play is a burlesque of choir rehearsals and singing. Miss Claudine Friederickson is directing the rehearsals.

The cast of characters follows: "Miss Styleeater," with expensive tastes, Mrs. Alexander McRae; "Miss Croakenboll," of sour disposition, Miss Helen Page; "Miss Smiler," who is lively and conversationally inclined, Mrs. Axel Johnson; "Prof. Highbrow," with a broken heart and exclusive turn of mind, Thomas McGinnis; "Leigh Z. Sleeper," with a penchant for rest, Charles Diers; "S. Low," whose vocal chords are affected, John McPhail; "Dr. A. Long Hight," of a genial turn, Alexander McRae; "Mrs. Addlepate," a lady of excitable tendencies, Miss Claudine Friederickson.

West End Briefs.

Miss Edith Lindberg of Chicago is a guest at the home of Mrs. C. W. R. Wermine, 314 North Twentieth avenue west.

Miss Mildred Nelson, 2101 West Sixth street, entertained this afternoon for the Sunshine circle of the Trinity English Lutheran church.

Rehearsals for a cantata, "The Fresh Bouquet," to be given by the Sunday school children of the First Swedish Methodist church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, on June 27, was held last evening at the church. Following the rehearsal a social time was enjoyed by the children.

The Daughter of Norway lodges of Duluth will hold memorial services tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Norwegian Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street. Rev. H. A. Ofstie will speak.

Two Aviators Killed.

Berne Switzerland, June 5, via Paris.—A Swiss biplane which was carrying Lieut. Vollenweider of Berne and Corporal Probst of Basel, fell from a great height near Zurich yesterday. Both aviators were killed.

GERMAN SPY FOUND GUILTY; WILL BE SHOT

London, June 5.—Official announcement was made here last night that a German spy named Muller had been sentenced to death. The announcement follows:

"The trial of two alleged spies, Muller and Hahn, held at Old Bailey before the lord chief justice and Justices Avory and Lush, was concluded yesterday afternoon. The jury found both prisoners guilty.

"Prisoner Muller was sentenced to death by shooting, and is to be handed over to a competent military authority for execution, subject to his right to appeal to the court of criminal appeal. Prisoner Hahn was sentenced to seven years penal servitude."

Muller and Hahn were arrested with Anton Kuepferle, who committed suicide in Brixton prison, London. All three were accused of sending military information to Germany by means of invisible ink. Kuepferle, who once lived in Brooklyn, claimed American citizenship and Muller professed to be a naturalized Englishman. Hahn admitted he was a German subject.

RECORDS OF VALUE IN PIANOS ETABLISHED

At the Great Going-Out-of-Business Piano Sale of Kreidler Music Company.

Prices Never Before Quoted on Such Reliable Pianos.

Eager Purchasers Secure Wonderful Bargains.

Fine Selection, Great Range of Prices, Easy Terms, and Positive Sacrifice of World Famous Makes.

Open Evenings—21 Lake Ave. North, Duluth, Minn.

To the family which has no piano, this going-out-of-business sale is one of the greatest importance.

A good, reliable, guaranteed piano may be bought for $167, used, of course, but a good instrument. Fine $300 pianos, to close, $175 to $189. $350 to $400 uprights, choicest styles, to go at $225 to $276. Finest $450 styles, now $298. Rare choice for those who want the best.

Will You Be One of the Lucky Ones?

A sale of this kind, made possible only through the closing out of a well-known piano house, is an event which probably will not come again; so don't overlook this chance.

Remember, this sale includes some of the finest pianos in the world—Hallet & Davis, Mehlin & Sons, Holland, Conway, Lexington, Nelson, and others. You are sure to find a piano to suit and at a wonderful saving.

Old Pianos Taken in Trade.

I have had several demands for old pianos, and as I know where I can dispose of a few, will offer good value for old pianos taken in trade.

Two organs, $10 to $20.

One $650 Player Piano $378.

Every piano is fully guaranteed. Come at once, as there is not much more time.

About 1,000 Player Rolls, Music Cabinets, Benches, all Office Furniture and Fixtures, go at less than 50c on the dollar.

School Board Will Choose Three New Directors This Year.

Provisions for the annual Duluth school district election July 17 were made last night, when the board of education authorized Clerk C. A. Bronson to make necessary arrangements.

Three directors will be chosen for three-year terms at this election, to fill the positions left vacant by the expiration of the terms of Directors F. A. Brewer, C. Francis Colman and Dr. D. E. Seashore on Aug. 1.

Preference of candidates must be expressed by voters in petitions filed with the board before 7:45 p. m. July 2. The resolution as adopted authorizes notices of election and names polling places and election officials.

The hold-over directors are: Mrs. Thomas J. Davis, 1916; W. B. Getchell, 1916; J. R. McGiffert, 1916; E. R. Cobb, 1917; L. Q. Greeley, 1917, and H. J. Grannis, 1917.

TWELVE NEW CITIZENS.

Eight Applicants Rejected Because of Insufficient Knowledge.

Twelve aliens were admitted to citizenship last evening at the monthly naturalization hearing conducted in district court before Judge Dancer. Eight applicants were turned down by the court because of their failure to show proficiency when examined on questions affecting civil government in this country. R. K. Doe, naturalization examiner, was present and assisted the court in conducting the examination.

The Herald will be glad to have its attention called to any misleading or untrue statement which may appear in its news, editorial or advertising columns.

YOUTH, OPPORTUNITY, OLD AGE AND PERSONAL FINANCES.

"I put in an evening the other day figuring out some personal experiences," said a well known Duluth young man to The Herald. "Maybe there is a lesson in them for somebody, so I am going to tell you about it all.

"The experiences are mine and those of two of my friends. They relate to personal financing, and if some of our younger folks just starting in life will think them over, I am sure it won't hurt them, and maybe it will do them some good.

"All of us are about the same age, in the later forties, and all of us are situated about the same. Each of us has a good job with a good salary attached, two of us are married, each of us has come along up the line pretty well, each of us, though young and healthy still, is approaching the time when pretty soon we will be wondering what we did with our money during the summer of our lives. The autumn of our lives is nearing, and before we know it winter will be here.

"Let's take my case first. I am the plunger of the party. What made me a plunger was a killing I made in a copper stock. Somebody induced me to buy a little Bisbee & Eldorado when it first got on the market, and I sold it at a profit of about eight hundred per cent. I had a stake, and a good one for my age. I might have tackled a business of my own. I might have bought a home. I might have invested my winnings for an income. I might have done many wise things, but I didn't.

"I returned to the game, and 'bit' on nearly every stock that offered. A list of my former and present holdings would include some of our most famous little local dead ducks. To cut a long story short, after ten years of it I have a nice little box full of waste paper, prettily decorated, and nothing else to show for it all. In that box are a few lame ducks that may—may, I say—come back. They may possibly bring me ten per cent of what I have put into it. The game has drained on my income steadily, and despite the fact that I made two or three pretty good killings, it has cost me a lot of money. I might as well have spent my substance in riotous living. I would be, financially, just as far ahead.

"I think I have pretty thoroughly demonstrated that my particular system of financing was a mistake. And there are others, friend Herald; there are others.

"Now let's take up my friend Bill. Bill is the bachelor of the bunch. His case needn't occupy much space. He spent his. Earning as much as I did, he has lived up to the handle and beyond. He owns an automobile—the fourth he has had. He has a motor boat. I happen to know that he also has—if he keeps them—a pretty formidable bunch of unpaid bills. He is not only living up to his income, but keeping past it. Bill is due for a crash some day, and it needs no moralizing to show that his system of personal financing is a bad one—worse even than mine.

"But it's Mac's case that's got me thinking. Mac is thrifty—has been thrifty, though not stingy or mean—for a long time. He had his fling, too, when we were younger, with the rest of us, but it didn't take him long to get his fill of it. Fifteen years ago Mac married a nice little freckled Scotch girl, and settled down. I tried to get Mac to try a flyer in Bisbee & Eldorado when I made my first killing. He was busy paying for a home, and wouldn't bite. When I showed him what I had done in Bisbee & Eldorado it never feazed him. 'It might have turned the other way,' he said. And later on he had the laugh on me.

"Now here is Mac's system. There's nothing new about it. He simply has lived on less than he earned, and he hasn't speculated with the surplus. When he got married he had enough money to make a payment on a lot, and he completed his payments as fast as he could. When he had another little start he built a home, and he paid for that in five or six years.

"Meanwhile, he saved a little, too. He used the savings bank religiously. When he got a few hundreds together he bought a good bond or a little gilt-edged dividend-paying stock. Two or three years ago he got onto a new scheme. Dealing through a reputable house, he pays down about thirty points per share on dividend-paying stock, the balance so much a month. He ties himself up to about as much of this as he can manage to handle. His monthly payments are a fixed charge that he has to meet, just like house rent. His dividends take care of the interest and help to reduce the balance. With this fixed charge upon his income, there is no danger that he will succumb to the temptation to spend it in some other way.

"Mac now has a nice home, and the cutest little collection of 'odd lot' stocks and bonds you ever saw, all paying tidy little sums regularly. He isn't rich, but he's comfortable. He is reaching the point where old age will have no terrors for him. He has lived well, too. He is raising three fine children, and it is a pleasure to visit his obviously happy little home.

"Mac has sacrificed some things, of course. He has no automobile, for instance. Though his family lives well, it lives simply. Yet to offset these sacrifices he has the health and well-being and contentment that go—or should go—with simple living. He has more now than I ever had at the height of the stock boom, more than I will ever have at the present rate of going, and of course more than Bill can ever hope to have.

"Looking back over the years, and comparing my experience, Bill's experience and Mac's, I think there can be no doubt that Mac's system was the right one. Looking forward through the years to come, I am certain that it is. I venture to say that Mac, with his system, has made more money on his investment proportionately than anybody who has tried my hopeless plan of trying to get rich quick. He is content with a safe five or six per cent. I was spoiled by a first gain of eight hundred per cent, and wasted ten years trying to do it again, with a large net loss. Bill—well, Bill's case speaks for itself."

One Chicago mail order house reports eight and a half million dollars worth of business done in May. Apparently the retailers in some localities are not advertising.

ROUMANIA AND BULGARIA AND THE WAR.

Because they are small states, and not conspicuous in world affairs except as figures in the "troubled Balkans," where Europe's storm clouds have been generated for decades, nobody must underestimate the importance of the step if Roumania and Bulgaria decide to enlist in the war on the side of the allies, as they now seem likely to do.

If they enter the conflict it will make thirteen states that are engaged in the war—yes, O sagacious one, as you say with great originality, thirteen is indeed a very unlucky number, for somebody—and the list will stand ten to three: all Europe except Scandinavia, the Netherlands, Switzerland, Spain, Portugal and Greece against Germany, Austria-Hungary and Turkey. And Greece may find it difficult to withstand the temptation to join the hue and cry against the Teuton-Turkish alliance.

German diplomacy doubtless is now engaged in a desperate effort to keep Roumania and Bulgaria out of the war; but German diplomacy has not shone brightly during the past year. Though its military prowess would do honor to von Moltke, its diplomacy must ere this have made von Bismarck turn in his grave.

The Balkans, perhaps above all states, are inured to war. The entrance of these two Balkan states would have an importance out of proportion to their numbers. Roumania is a country of nearly seven million people, and Bulgaria has four millions. Roumania will have no difficulty in putting a million trained men in the field, and Bulgaria can contribute half as many.

Moreover, they occupy rather strategic positions. Roumania's participation would present to Austria a new hostile front of more than four hundred miles, joining Russia on the north at the frontier of Bukowina and joining Servia on the south at the Iron Gate, and half surrounding the tongue of Hungary that thrusts itself between the Carpathians and the Transylvania mountains.

Bulgaria would strike at Turkey, and would present to the Turks three hundred miles of bristling boundary from the Black sea to the Servian boundary. Bulgaria is in a position to hasten the unlocking of the Dardanelles and, by thrusting at Constantinople from the rear while the allies are hammering at the front gate, to hurry the final downfall of Turkey in Europe.

With Roumania and Bulgaria enlisted, there will be thirteen states at war—ten states against three—313,220,000 people (counting Japan it is 365,420,000) against 138,300,000—with but eight small states in Europe with 47,400,000 people, in a fearful peace fraught with anxiety. These are the figures:

Allies—Russia, 163,000,000; Great Britain, including the United Kingdom, Canada and Australia, 55,600,000; France, 39,300,000; Italy, 33,900,000; Serbia, 2,800,000; Montenegro, 520,000; Belgium, 7,300,000; Roumania, 6,800,000; Bulgaria, 4,000,000; Japan, 52,200,000; total, 365,420,000.

Teuton-Turkish alliance—German empire, 64,900,000; Austria-Hungary, 49,400,000; Turkey, 24,000,000; total, 138,300,000.

Neutral European states—Holland, 5,900,000; Switzerland, 3,300,000; Denmark, 2,700,000; Norway, 2,400,000; Sweden, 5,400,000; Spain, 19,700,000; Portugal, 5,400,000; Greece, 2,600,000; total, 47,400,000.

The world had to wait for its highly civilized twentieth century to learn what war could mean.

It is anounced that "the moving picture film is the only unit that is standard in every country," but that fact may not keep the small boy from enjoying the movies just the same.

GERMANY IS BUSY.

The renewal of German activity in the West manifestly means no slackening of its tremendous efforts in the East. With Przemysl securely in hand, a similar movement is now directed at Lemberg, and if this should succeed the Russians will be virtually driven out of Galicia and placed on the defensive in their own territory.

The German offensive in the West is primarily an effort to recover the ground that has been lost of late, but the arrival of German recruits in Flanders and Artois has put the allies on the watch for some such heroic effort as that which has just resulted in the smashing Russian defeats in Galicia.

Too much importance should not be given to the apparent ease with which Italy is gaily marching into Austria. A strongly fortified line confronts them, and real warfare has yet to be faced. Moreover, when Germany turns its attention to the Italian invaders in the Tyrol its attack will be swift, bitter and venomous. The hate which Germany seemed early to bear toward Russia, and which was later transferred to England, seems capacious enough to embrace Italy, and its effect will be felt in the fighting.

Not since the war began, save for the first few days when German preparedness propelled itself upon its unprepared enemies, has the star of fortune shone brighter for Germany than it does at this moment.

Minnesota iron range towns are taking up municipal ownership of cow pastures and Norwegian cities are trying municipal ownership of the movies. No doubt if either one succeeds, the other will gain encouragement from that fact.

THE MAYO GIFT.

A special committee of the board of regents of the state university, after a very careful examination of the offer made to the university by the Mayo Foundation, earnestly recommends the acceptance of the proposition for a trial period of six years, to the end that the University of Minnesota may be able to expand its usefulness to include an adequate graduate medical school for the training of specialists.

Nobody, we are certain, can read thoughtfully the report made by this committee without coming to the emphatic opinion that the committee is acting wisely and for the best interest of the university and of the state.

It goes without saying that the committee recommends proper and adequate control by the university, and perhaps the strongest argument it makes is that the carrying out of this plan means that medical education in Minnesota "will remain a unit under the state university." This, as the committee well says, "is all important."

"It is believed," says the report, "that through this policy the university would fulfill a public duty by: (1) providing notable facilities for advanced medical training, (2) standardizing and controlling in the public interest the preparation of medical specialties, (3) fostering medical research not only on a state but a national basis, (4) furthering the growth of graduate work on the university campus, and (5) increasing the efficiency of undergraduate teaching at the university."

The committee points out that the body of medical knowledge has become too large for any one person to master, and that the graduate medical school must train specialists equipped with the special knowledge and skilled required for complicated cases. Nowhere on earth can this training be better provided than under the direction of the Mayo institution at Rochester.

By accepting the generous offer of the Mayos Minnesota will have the honor of establishing "the first adequate graduate school of medicine in America," the committee believes, and the combination of the facilities and resources of the university and the Mayo Foundation will offer rare opportunities for advanced medical teaching and research.

"The committee believes," the report concludes, "that the extension of graduate teaching proposed would enable the university to serve the state by insuring more expert medical service to its people, by furthering research into cause, cure and prevention of disease, by protecting the public by a system of education, examinations diplomas and degrees for specialists against incompetence and exploitation."

The gift is great, the opportunity is large, and the board of regents will be well serving the state and the university by adopting the report of its special committee with its ample safeguards against dissipating the authority of the university.

Really, now, can you imagine it by any other name than "Ford?"

SHOULDN'T BE TOO TECHNICAL.

Carlton county, and particularly Cloquet, is very anxious to have St. Louis county make good on its promise to build a six-mile road from Saginaw south to connect with a road already built from Cloquet to the county boundary.

Commissioner Kauppi, who represents that district, says that St. Louis county will gladly do this if Carlton county will assume its share of building an east and west road connecting West Duluth with the proposed Saginaw-Cloquet road at the junction between the Carlton county road already built and the section which St. Louis county is asked to build. The east and west road is a judicial highway on the county boundary line, and the cost would be shared by both counties. The distance to be built is about the same.

We do not believe St. Louis county should be too technical about its compliance with the reasonable requests of Cloquet and Carlton county.

In the first place, the interests of the Saginaw and lower Grand Lake district, which surely would be grateful for a shorter outlet to the markets, should be considered.

In the second place, Carlton county always has been broad and cheerful about co-operating with St. Louis county, and has already put in a good deal of money on roads leading direct to Duluth. It deserves as good treatment as St. Louis county can give it.

It is to be hoped that the St. Louis county board can see its way clear to an early agreement that will satisfy the Cloquet and Carlton county people, and that will at the same time give the Saginaw district a new outlet that it must be much in need of.

Must we now learn how to say "Przemysl" in Italian?

A SMALL MATTER AND A BIG MATTER.

There is talk—we do not profess to know what there is to it, nor can we manage to care much, either—that no invitation went to Mr. Bryan to attend the wedding of Champ Clark's daughter.

That's a very small matter—a very small matter indeed. Whether or not it is true is marvelously unimportant. Still, it would feel better to be able to think that it isn't so. We hate to think that an American big enough to become speaker of the national house of representatives and to be a candidate for president of the United States would stoop to so small and petty a deed.

Of course, if it is so it is because of what Mr. Bryan did at Baltimore. Nobody but the Clarks can be regretting that, now. That one thing was a public service great enough to make Mr. Bryan's career splendidly worth while to the American people, if it was the only thing he had done or if every other thing he had done had been a mistake.

If the story is true, then what Bryan did at Baltimore becomes a greater service, even, than it seemed before.

Advocates of innovations might make a hit in Europe by urging the institution of trench holidays.

BEATING THE CATALOGUE HOUSE.

One of the bugbears of the country merchant is the catalogue house. It is worse than a bugbear; it is a real menace. It is worse than a menace, even; it is a formidable competitor. Drayloads of fat catalogues reach many rural communities, and carloads of goods bought out of town follow them.

Some country merchants sit behind their counters and bewail their fate; yet all the cursing of catalogue houses in the world, and all of the appeals to local patriotism imaginable, do not turn the tide.

But other country merchants stand up and fight right back; and these are the ones that not only survive the competition, but fatten on it.

These fighting country merchants have an invaluable ally right at home, if they have the sense to use it. That is the local paper.

Down in the beautiful and thrifty city of Luverne, a community of twenty-five hundred people, the Nelsons have a department store that would be a credit to Duluth. The catalogue house has no terrors for this store, for it beats them at their own game. Pages and double-pages of up-to-date, well written and attractive advertisements in the Luverne newspapers tell how this rural store fights—and beats—the catalogues.

That's one case, and there are many others. A wise partnership between the local merchant and the local newspaper will profit both, develop the community, and beat the catalogue houses to death.

Kiene's Department Store at Frazee, Minnesota, prints catalogue prices and its own prices side by side, showing that it can meet and even beat the prices of the catalogue house.

Another interesting case just comes to hand. In the Sandstone Courier is a full-page advertisement inserted by the Webb Hardware company of that town. The company offers to meet the prices of any catalogue house and in addition to save half the freight cost. It asks its patrons to fill out a blank giving the catalogue number and description of the goods, and the catalogue price. It then offers to meet the catalogue price, duplicate the goods, and save the buyer half the freight charges. It says "Buy at Home" and "Try Your Home Merchant First," but, more to the point, it gives tangible reasons why this should be done.

People OUGHT to buy at home. It keeps the money at home and builds up the community. It is short-sighted economy to send the money away to build up some other community.

But people will continue to buy out of town so long as they believe that they can do better that way, and all the academic argument human ingenuity can conceive won't stop them.

What WILL stop them is to show them that they can do as well or better at home.

The way to do that is the way the Nelsons at Luverne and the Webb Hardware company at Sandstone and Kiene at Frazee do it—through the local newspaper in straight-from-the-shoulder advertisements.

Timid politicians will see in THE Colonel's visit to Louisiana merely the disclosure of a scheme to raise (sugar) cane.

HOW SIMPLE IT WOULD BE!

"The king of Italy has declared war on me," plaintively writes the emperor of Austria.

If it were only so simple as that!

If monarchs declared war on monarchs, then monarchs could fight monarchs. What a joy that would be!

If William of Germany had declared war on George of England, and William and George had solemnly met somewhere to settle their differences by personal combat, the saving in blood and treasure, suffering and hardship, woe and misery, would be incalculable.

Then the people of Germany and the people of England could go on about their business just as before. They could follow the plow, guide the wheels of industry, measure cloth, weigh sugar, keep books, teach school, write novels and poems, doctor the sick, paint pictures, cultivate their crops—all just as though two eminent individuals had had no quarrel.

Unfortunately it is not so simple as all that. It is not the king or the emperor or the czar who fights, but the people.

It's just a way monarchs have of talking.

And the people let them talk that way? Oh, yes, they let them—yet.

It's in this part of the season that Cupid and Hymen make their big records as a successful battery.

Why Not This Platform?

Kansas City Star: Managers of the Republican party are having a trying time these days arranging a basis on which all good men can come to the aid of the party, as the typewriter contests say. It is something of a job, and sympathetic citizens of all sorts ought to turn in and help. In a Red Cross spirit the Star submits these harmony planks to be reported at the next convention by ex-Speaker Cannon, Jim Watson and Senator Doc Gallinger:

The Republican party points with pride to the recent friendly suit between those great leaders, William Barnes of New York and Theodore Roosevelt. It regards the verdict as equally honorable to both gentlemen, and pledges both its unqualified indorsement and support.

It accepts as its fundamental principles those laid down by William Howard Taft at Kansas City, and invites all the progressive brethren to return, leaving behind what principles they can, and fetching along all that they want to.

In particular it declares for the Constitution and the courts, for the convention system, government by corporations, and no truckling to the mob, the recall of judges and judicial decisions, primaries, the initiative and referendum, the rule of the people, down with the interests, tariff revision upward and downward, give the railroads everything they want, but permit no increase in rates, intervention in Mexico, but without the use of military force, workmen's compensation that shan't cost the employes anything, and a complete program of legislation for social and industrial justice—to the extent approved at 26 Broadway.

Such a program, it is evident, would appeal equally to progressives and standpatters. It might reasonably expect a campaign fund of $10,000,000 from the big interests—contributing, as provided by law, as individuals, not as corporations—and the complete backing of the party organization and the bosses.

"And standing on every plank of such a platform, ladies and gentlemen," the campaign orator would exclaim, "wrapping itself in the starry flag of Lincoln and Garfield, and McKinley, and Roosevelt and Taft, with its eyes to the rising sun, the G. O. P. would march forth to glee-orious victory. Besides, the Boys need the jobs."

America's Challenge

Editorial in the London Observer of May 16.

President Wilson has sent his message to Germany upon the events of which the murder of the Lusitania's passengers constitutes the climax. Its character may disconcert some of those who had expunged offhand its author's name from the category of virile statesmanship. There is no sphere in which misconception may have to be rushed and borne with such prolonged patience for the sake of overruling objects as in the management of foreign policy. The impression that Dr. Wilson was a weak man has had its victims in this country and its exponents in his own. Those who, like ourselves, have held a more discriminating view are justified by a document in which firmness and address have thrown their fullest strength into combination.

It is tempting to recall what our poet has said of England, "when England grows polite." There is a deadly suavity pervading the president's note which will be more significant to the wise than if it had emptied the whole arsenal of declamation. Smoother steel never shone in the eye of an expectant duellist. Only when men know their minds—and the minds of their supporters—can they enact the full ritual of courtesy with the aplomb and tranquillity of which the president acquits himself. The punctilious avoidance of imputation, the studious ascription of a "humane and enlightened attitude" to the German government, the resolute assumption that the infamies practiced in its interest were the work of insubordinate agents whom it must disavow—all these drive the recipient with the sunrest forensic art into a position where he must either bow to the scepter of civilization or declare himself an unequivocal outlaw. President Wilson relates the features and fruits of the "submarine blockade," and says in effect to Germany: "These things are not done by governments to which the United States extends the comity of recognition; they are manifestly abhorred by all decency of human instinct; that they have been perpetrated by German commanders must be the outcome of individual criminality which the German government will desire to repudiate, and against whose repetition it will offer full guarantees; a prompt assent to these conclusions is confidently awaited."

The German answer to this interrogatory can only be a cessation of piracy or an avowal that piracy is the German game. If the German government is not prepared to avail itself (as there is no reason to think it is) of the exculpations which the president offers at the expense of its agents, and to promise a cessation of murder, it stands before the world a murderer confessed, and admits that it does not walk upon "the same plane of human action" as civilized countries. That will be an intimation that Americans, as well as other neutrals, are deliberately placed within the scope of its "frightfulness," and that it refuses respect to the rights which the American government holds it unthinkable to leave undefended. The temperate precision of Dr. Wilson's language in the latter respect admits of no misreading. It indorses the confidence of American citizens "that their own government will sustain them," and it assumes that Germany will not calculate upon the omission of "any word or act necessary" to that unalienable purpose.

The whole moral sense and honor of his countrymen have visibly rallied behind the "subdued unmistakeableness" of the president's challenge. The patience with which provocation has been endured has created a storage of national spirit that now bears with undivided intensity upon the matured issue. America will regulate her relations with Germany according to the status of that country under the civilized code. That is a fixed factor, whatever the sequel may bring.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

A great many people are afraid of enthusiasm. If a man is enthusiastic they raise the cry, "Zeal without knowledge!" I should rather have zeal without knowledge than knowledge without zeal. I know men as wise as owls without any fire in their souls. Enthusiasm means "in God;" and I can't understand how any man can realize his standing before God and not be on fire 365 days in the year. Any man who goes into business and doesn't throw his heart into it doesn't succeed. Now why not go into the Lord's work as earnestly as into athletics?"—D. L. Moody.

Blow ye the trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble; for the day of the Lord cometh, for it is nigh at hand.—Joel ii., 1.

This capter contains serious exhortations, mixed with threatenings, but the prophet threatens for the purpose of correcting the indifference of the people, who were very slow to consider God's judgments. The object of the narrative, then, is to make the people sensible that it was now no time for taking rest.

The prophet begins with an exhortation. We know indeed, that he alludes to the usual customs sanctioned by the law, for, as on festivals trumpets were sounded to call the people, as also it was done when anything extraordinary happened. Hence, the prophet addresses not each individually, but, as all had done wickedly from the least to the greatest, he bids the whole assembly to be called, that they may in common own themselves to be guilty before God, and deprecate his vengeance. This passage shows that when any judgment of God is impending, and tokens of it appear, this remedy ought to be used, namely, that all must publicly assemble and confess themselves worthy of punishment, and at the same time flee to the mercy of God. This, we know, was formerly enjoined upon the people, and this practice has not been abolished by the gospel.—From "C. E. Edwards."

If We Only Knew.

If we knew the cares and trials,
Knew the efforts all in vain,
And the bitter disappointment,
Understood the loss and gain—
Would the grim eternal roughness
Seem—I wonder—just the same?
Should we help where now we hinder,
Should we pity where we blame?

Ah! we judge each other harshly,
Knowing not life's hidden force—
Knowing not the font of action
Is less turbid at its source;
Seeing not amid the evil
All the golden grains of good.
And we love each other better
If we only understood.

Could we judge all deeds by motives
That surround each other's lives,
See the naked heart and spirit,
Know what spur the action gives,
Often we would find it better
Just to judge all actions good;
We should love each other better
If we only understood.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

Common and Uncommon Sense.

Mr. Lincoln was once asked the proper length of a man's legs. He replied: "A man's legs should be long enough to reach from his body to the ground." The common sense man is built in just that way. He has his feet planted solidly on the ground. He is of a very practical turn of mind. He deals effectively with the concerns of this material and visible world.

Let us cast no aspersions on common sense. It is a highly valuable quality of mind. The only trouble with it is that it can't go far enough. Its limitations are quickly disclosed. A sure guide about the present world, it ignores any other. There are times when we feel that it fails us quite completely.

By uncommon sense we mean the ability to grasp facts other than material ones. It is the power of insight, of vision; the ability to measure by something besides rule of thumb. In plain terms it is spiritual sense, the faculty that can perceive behind all the forces of the material order a world of spiritual force. It thus has an idea big enough to explain these human careers of ours, to interpret the joys and sorrows of the men and women who dwell upon the face of this old world. Behind the common facts of every day the living God, the Maker and Maintainer of all being.

It is only this spiritual interpretation of experience that yields help to many of us. Survey the life of this present time with its colossal evils, its cruelty and its pain. Behold half the world plunged into such a welter of bloodshed as no heathen age ever knew. Who can discover rhyme or reason in such chaos? Who can find a righteous purpose beneath things evil?

The spiritual sense in man is alone able to make any such discovery. It may be recalled that when the prophet Elisha and his young friend found themselves defenseless in the presence of the Syrian host the young man was terrified beyond measure. The prophet prayed the Lord to open his eyes that he might see. "And the Lord opened the eyes of the young man and he saw; and, behold, the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire round about Elisha." How good it is to believe that, hid from our mortal eyes, the mountainside is always full of spiritual reinforcements. Supernal powers battle for the right. The forces of righteousness are more than the forces of evil.

"Oh, blest is he to whom is given
The instinct that can tell
That God is on the field
When He is most invisible."

In the sphere of personal life I would often give more for a gleam of spiritual insight than for volumes of wise advice. When every wordly consideration is spent and exhausted it is faith alone that abides full of hope. When heart and flesh fail God becomes the strength of our life and our portion forever. Uncommon rather than common sense has an interpretation of life's mysteries. It alone conducts us from the side of the loom where nothing but a formless conglomeration of colors is to be seen to the other side where a beautiful pattern is emerging under the hand of the spinner. What reason and observation cannot discover the spirit of man may discover, even in hours when it must look out through eyes dimmed by tears or made short-sighted by studying at too close range.

THE SYRACUSE VERDICT

By SAVOYARD

Washington, June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Much speculation is indulged touching the effect on American politics of the verdict of the jury at Syracuse in favor of the colonel and adverse to the boss. One set is of opinion that it rehabilitates Roosevelt, admits him again as a member of the Republican party, and restores to him the leadership of that organization. On the other side it is claimed by Republicans, who hate the colonel for his capers and shines in 1912, that the verdict means affirmation of the decree of absolute divorce of Roosevelt from the G. O. P. That it is a victory for the colonel in both a personal and a political sense, a neutral must agree. Everybody will remember that Barnes is but a vulgar boss, and nobody will recollect that Roosevelt was as subservient to Platt as ever henchman was to chief.

Suppose Roosevelt should regain the mastery of the party in the Empire state? He will have to be reckoned with, for he will be the most powerful individual unit of the party in the Union, stronger than Penrose even. Then the chief issue in Republican councils for the next twelve months will be, "Shall Roosevelt be boss, or shall he be disciplined?" It is a great big problem. They know Roosevelt, and everybody knows that unless he is allowed to drive the hearse he will break up the funeral in a row as he did three years ago.

Boss Barnes is a grandson of Thurlow Weed, the most consummate party leader in a practical sense our country ever knew. As certainly as Mark Hanna made William McKinley president, so Thurlow Weed made William Henry Harrison and Zachary Taylor president. In an artless way he tells us about it in his book, and it is equally certain that he would have made William H. Seward president if the Republican national convention of 1860 had not been held in the state of Illinois. He would have done it anyhow, even with the convention in Chicago, but for the know-nothingism that attached to the party in Pennsylvania and Indiana, and repudiated Seward for his letter to Archbishop Hughes of the Catholic clergy.

Thurlow Weed when a boy was as poor as poverty, and it should prove an inspiration to every American youth to read the story of his early struggles for advancement. A wonderful man he must have been to grasp and hold the political power he exercised for two score years. He was a match for the entire Democratic layout in New York—Van Buren, Wright, Marcy, Tilden, Dean Richmond and Peter Cagger. He knew men and how to use them. He passionately loved Seward, and his heart was broken when Lincoln was nominated in 1860.

Weed made Seward governor and senator and through Seward, who ruled President Taylor, Thurlow Weed ruled the country from March, 1849, till June, 1850, and he would have run it to the devil had Taylor lived, for his death made possible the "Compromise of 1850," which prevented secession ten years earlier than it actually came. One of the most thrilling episodes of American history was flagrant when the editor of the New York Tribune wrote that letter dissolving the political co-partnership of "Seward, Weed and Greeley" because of the disgust of the junior member of the firm. Weed had long invoked the power of the pen of Greeley to promote the fortunes of his favorite, Seward, and when Greeley found out that he had been played upon—that he performed innumerable duties and exercised no rights—he was furious, and it was the same Greeley, who was a hand-and-a-half at Chicago in the successful movement to defeat Weed's efforts to nominate Seward.

It is rather curious to note that Thurlow Weed's son, Smith M. Weed, became a Democrat. He, too, was a powerful factor in New York politics, and one of the ablest lieutenants of Samuel J. Tilden, whom his father had antagonized so long, though they engaged on the same side in 1848 when Thurlow Weed, after dictating the Whig nomination of Taylor, forced the Free Soil nomination of Martin Van Buren, his old adversary, and whom Tilden supported that year. Millions of Democrats voted for Tilden in 1876, who never dreamed that he had bolted the nomination of Cass twenty-eight years earlier.

If the verdict at Syracuse should serve to vindicate him thoroughly and completely and hand over the party in New York to the colonel, it inevitably follows that he will drag his "principles" along and impose them on his followers. What then? Nothing clearer. As well eat the devil as to drink his broth, and of course Roosevelt becomes the leading figure in the convention of 1916.

All the little fellows—Weeks, Herrick, Burton, Knox, Fairbanks, Mann, Cummins, Borah and so forth—will fade away, and the colonel, the Coriolanus that he is, "will depopulate the city and be every man himself." He admits that he is the man to smash Wilson and that is the man his party is hunting for.

There was a terrific struggle in the Republican national convention of 1912 that resulted in a split. Those two forces will be face to face in the Republican national convention in 1916 and it's going to be a devil of a fight, too, and don't you forget it.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

The Baby Teeth

WE have ventured to confess that we don't know and do not care to learn just which teeth are cut first, and when, and how. This is superfluous knowledge; it never helps a baby. If the baby's health is wrong, then we are interested and anxious to do something; but if the health is right, then we feel that it is foolish for a doctor to bother his head about the cutting of baby's teeth. Leave it to grandma—it will give her something to keep her out of mischief.

But after the teeth erupt we consider them of the utmost importance to the child's health. We regretfully enter our opinion that our friends, the dentists, are altogether, if not individually, too negligent of children's teeth. There is still a tendency to belittle the need of dentistry for the temporary teeth, still too much of that foolish old policy of "let him outgrow it."

A small cavity in a baby tooth is ten times more injurious to health and hence much more worthy of careful dentistry than a cavity in an adult's tooth.

There is strong evidence that decayed teeth have much to do with diseased tonsils and adenoids, and all of the deplorable consequences of these conditions. Tuberculosis is a disease which gains foothold upon us during infancy, and by the way of the lymphatic glands in the neck, the infection entering perhaps through decayed teeth.

Strength of An Organ Is Determined By Its Use.

As for brushing the teeth, personally we think this measure is greatly overdone. Cleanliness of the mouth, in our opinion, is not assured by regular use of the toothbrush, for some of the worst conditions one finds are in persons who are scrupulous about brushing the teeth many times a day.

We brush ours when we feel like it—when the mouth feels like it. So do our children. And we use nobody's dentifrice, only plain soap and water.

Too much meat, too much prepared cereal food, too much refinement of the daily bread explains the bad teeth which reduce the efficiency of the race. We thoroughly believe that an undenaturized diet, and not the length of time you brush your teeth each day, determines the final result.

A decayed tooth in a child's mouth is as much an evidence of neglect as an untreated wound on the surface of the body. It invites just as serious results.

The Most Healthful Heat.

Please state which you would consider the most healthful method of heating a detached dwelling—coal stove, hot air furnace, hot water or steam?

ANSWER—Hot air furnace, because it won't work satisfactorily without good ventilation. But with this proviso—that the temperature be regulated by thermometer and not personal sensations, and that it be kept below 68 degrees at all times.

She Wears Gauze.

When I go to a dance, writes a silly woman, I always change to gauze underwear. Many people profess horror, but I have never suffered any ill effects. They say, "Wait and see!" How long will I have to wait?

ANSWER—About ninety years. If you enjoy going in gauze, and the health department and department of public safety do not object, why, you are perfectly safe.

• • •

Boric Acid Habit.

Will boric acid solution harm the eyes if applied several times a day for an indefinite period?

ANSWER—Probably not, nor will it do any particular good, other than mere cleansing.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to Health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through these columns; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnoses. Address all letters to Dr. William Brady, care of The Herald. All questions will be answered, whether they come from people residing in Duluth or outside, provided they comply with the rules here stated.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

America's Golden Age.

A FAR COUNTRY. By Winston Churchill. New York: The Macmillan company. $1.50.

This is a story of how a man made a mess of his life, though its outward seeming was of extraordinary success, as success was counted less than a generation ago; and incidentally of how this Republic almost made a mess of itself by too long and too complacently leaving its affairs in the hands of a self-seeking few.

The title is drawn from the phrase about the prodigal son, who "took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance in riotous living;" which is misleading until you realize that there is more than one kind of dissipation.

The story is about and is told by Hugh Paret, a typical American of good, staunch, plain family of moderate means; with a stern Presbyterian father and a good mother, under her husband's domination. "Wanting things" was the keynote of Hugh's character, and he frankly declares at the start that "it might have been differently built upon."

The story is also about America at its most splendid, richest, most ruthless, when the simplicity of the old time gave way to the splendor of the days when the country was rioting in new-found riches—for a few.

Hugh was an imaginative, fertile-minded boy—a liar in self-defense against his stern father and a weaver of tales by nature. His boy love episode was followed by Harvard, whence he went into the office of a shrewd, able, kindly corporation lawyer of the kind that knows no scruples and has no creed except this: "Don't be crude, don't get caught, and put it over." Watling is a striking picture of the successful implement with which predatory privilege had its will; the lawyer who lets a fee cover a multitude of sins, the kind of men who got promotion to the United States senate. In this environment Hugh acted as a "practical man," as corporation lawyers should be, and became learned not only in the law but, more important and more profitable, in the esoterics of privilege—its relationship to politics, to government and the law; law-making and law-giving. Moreover, he learned to practice them, to make them minister to the success he had made his god and worshiped. Watching his career, we see the wheels go 'round—the wheels that were grinding out an economic revolution.

Paul married a simple, sweet small-town maid, who, though he thought her plastic and subject to being molded to suit his own ideas, developed unsuspected strength of character. They grew apart, and though children came, his family is the only small figure in Hugh's life. He was "succeeding," and the story of his success is the story of the era that ended—if it is ended—with the downfall of the political Old Guard. It was characteristic of the wide difference between Paul and his wife that it should have been she who looked into the inscrutable eyes of the twelve-hour-a-day slaves of industry and shuddered at the thought of the time when they would make society pay for their serfdom, while Hugh thought they were lucky to have their jobs.

Meanwhile, though Hugh had become a money-making, government-corrupting machine, he found time to call regularly on Nancy Durrett, his boyhood sweetheart, who had married, in cold blood, a rich rake. He found there the stimulus he failed to find at home. Nancy and her husband lived under one of those convenient modern arrangements whereby husband and wife go their own ways and have no trouble about it. Nancy, nevertheless, was a splendid woman, with a large and intricate individuality.

On the floodtide of "success," with all that he coveted within his grasp, a canker, not of conscience but of vague discontent, ate at Hugh's heart. About this time, too, the storm of popular revolt swelled to a tempest, with Roosevelt riding the wind—making it, too.

Hugh's relations with Nancy strengthened as those with his family weakened, until in both cases the logical thing happened. Hugh's wife took the children to Europe, with no intention of returning, and Hugh and Nancy were swept together by the strong tides of passion, propinquity and opportunity.

Came, too, the muckraking era, and Paul had richly earned the share of it that fell to his lot. Yet it irked him, and helped to intensify that corroding sense of unsatisfaction that was eating him. The climax of his career was reached when the opportunity to succeeded Watling as a defender of privilege in the United States senate came to him, with his wife still in Europe, with his relations with Nancy at a critical stage, and with the revolt against all he stood for about to precipitate itself in the form of a political revolution.

It is, first, the best story Churchill has written. It is, moreover, a living, glowing, penetrating picture of the most critical period in American history, when the question was whether government by and for the people should endure.

There are some familiar pictures, exceedingly well done: Hugh Paret's father, grimly Presbyterian, a Republican who thought prosperity depended upon Republican success, who believed material prosperity to be the sum of governmental purpose, and who spurned public office because "that sort of thing is left to politicians;" a charming boy and girl love story—too fine a thing, alas, to be one of yours, to be libeled by calling it "puppy love;" the bosses—national, state, city, ward; the railroad attorney who runs—or ran—legislatures and councils; the "full dinner pail" campaign, predicated on the assumption that fat bank accounts must be made more fat before dinner pails were filled; the shrewd, smooth, big-hearted, able corporation attorney turned United States senator, who said and seemed really to believe that "we have a political system we have outgrown, and which, therefore, we have had to nullify—the men who control capital must have a free hand, or the structure will be destroyed—public opinion in the old democratic sense is a myth, it must be made by strong individuals who recognize and represent evolutionary needs; otherwise it is at the mercy of demagogues who play fast and loose with the prejudice and ignorance of the mob;" the Personality in New York, easily recognized as Morgan, who was the overlord of the whole system.

In Hermann Krebs, the whole-hearted reformer who voiced the people's cause, is a picture not so familiar. Through him the author develops the theory of a democracy "of acquiescence to developed leadership made responsible," which appealed to Paul; and why shouldn't it? It is the very negation of democracy, a confession of democracy's failure. It is Senator Watling's theory, too, with the exception that these supermen who are to be leaders are to be responsible to the people instead of to privilege. Given a means of keeping them responsible to the people, it might work. So might a benevolent despotism work if there were any way of keeping our despots benevolent.

An Unusual Study.

THE SALON AND ENGLISH LETTERS. Chapters on the Interrelations of Literature and Society in the Age of Johnson. By Chauncey Brewster Tinker, professor of English literature in Yale university. New York: The Macmillan company. $2.25 net.

There evidently was a time when the more serious-minded English people deplored the tendency toward small-talk and gossip that appeared in the social gatherings of the day, and decided to try to reform themselves and their companions. That they succeeded, at least for a time, is proved by the existence of such a book as this, in which is set forth the influence upon the literature of that day of a more general comprehension and appreciation of excellence of expression and carefulness of thought. To this is given the French background from which came the English idea of introducing serious discussion into the drawing-room, and the volume is illustrated with reprints of old and characteristic pictures.

Prof. Tinker's book must prove valuable to students of the social life of the Johnson period, as well as to those who study the literature of that day. Nor is it a poor medium through which to study the relations of life to literature as a general question.

Biography and Interpretation.

RABINDRANATH TAGORE. By Ernest Rhys. New York: The Macmillan company. $1 net.

When the Nobel prize for literature was awarded to Rabindranath Tagore, one of the most common questions among American readers was, "Who's he?" Through some of his writing the western world has since then become somewhat acquainted with him, but it remained for Mr. Rhys to give us a sympathetic biography of the poet and story-writer, at the same time relating the different phases of his life to the things he wrote, making this in effect an interpretative biography.

If the purpose of the author was to stir interest in the Hindu writer, he has succeeded most admirably. From the first page of his book to the last he emphasizes the breadth of mind, the greatness of vision and the sincerity of purpose of Rabindranath Tagore. Much of the purely recitative material is taken from an autobiography, but to this is added a study of certain portions of Tagore's work and a comparison of him with other Indian poets.

Mr. Rhys has given us an unusual picture of the mysticism of the Orient, framed in western language, and through a careful selection of quotations he affords some interesting studies of the Hindu's writings. Nor does he leave us to regard Tagore as an unpractical philosopher, for he gives an account of the school which the poet founded for the younger set among his people, in the hope of planting a seed that should serve to arouse the Hindus from their traditional tendency to "dream" and inspire them to action and physical accomplishment.

Not the least of the many sympathetic touches included in the book is the author's account of the shrinking from publicity with which Tagore received the news of the awarding of the Nobel prize, saying: "They have taken away my shelter."

What Belgium Was.

THE BELGIANS AT HOME. By Clive Holland. New York: The Macmillan company. 40 cents net.

One of a uniform edition of pocket-size volumes published by Methuen & Co., London. This is an abridgment of a large work with the same title, still in print and originally published in 1911. It does not take up the destruction wrought by the war, but rather gives a brief but vivid picture of Belgium and its people as they were before August, 1914. It is, to quote the author's preface to the large edition, "a record of things seen and impressions gained" by "a rambler who has at various times cycled and traveled many hundreds of miles along Belgium's highways and byways." The publishers intimate that there will be forthcoming a volume telling of what Belgium looks like after the war. The two should make invaluable companion-pieces.

John Smith.

CAPTAIN JOHN SMITH. By Rossiter Johnson. New York: The Macmillan company. 50 cents net.

Young America has been taught for years to make a hero of romance out of John Smith, all on account of the Pocahontas episode. Mr. Johnson not only admits there is ground for doubting the story of the Indian girl's action (though he declares himself a believer in it), but would convince us that there are other and better reasons for our recognition of the intrepid Englishman. He pays a repeated tribute to the captain's ability in one line and another, and gives us the following quotation from the records of Richard Pots, clerk of the council of Jamestown in 1612:

> Thus we lost him that in all his proceedings made justice his first guide and experience his second; ever hating baseness, sloth, pride and indignity more than any dangers; that never allowed more for himself than his soldiers with him; that upon no danger would send them where he would not lead them himself; that would never see us want what he either had or could by any means get us; that would rather want than borrow, or starve than not pay; that loved actions more than words, and hated falsehood and cozenage worse than death; whose adventures were our lives, and whose loss our deaths.

The book is one of the "True Stories of Great Americans" series, and gives a vivid conception of a man evidently little appreciated by those most benefited by his power and self-sacrifice.

A Story of Fidelity.

THE RIM OF THE DESERT. By Ada Woodruff Anderson. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.35 net.

After David Weatherbee died in Alaska, a victim to a search for treasure in which he engaged in order to satisfy his ambitious wife, Hollis Tisdale, a friend of David, undertook to compel this woman to do the work she had made it impossible for her husband to accomplish. There is the story in a nutshell. Add at will the frills of literary effort and details that are not absolutely necessary, and you have the main story of "The Rim of the Desert." But with all that you haven't the minor story of "Lucky" Banks and Annabel—a subplot that is developed in pure human interest and humbleness of diction, but that for strength of handling completely outranks the principal portion of the book. At the same time the story is original and the book is entitled to be classed as "entertaining."

An Expose of Marriage.

SPRAY ON THE WINDOWS. By J. E. Buckrose. New York: George H. Doran company. $1.25 net.

Many writers have undertaken to warn the young that marriage is not "all bread and cheese and kisses," and now comes another woman writer with the same intention. She portrays the awakening of "pale, slim, exquisitely virginal" Ann Middleton, who has been accustomed to regard marriage as merely a step from anticipation to a heavenly realization. Ann gets thoroughly convinced of her error, but in the end comes to realize that at least a part of her difficulties arose from a false conception of life rather than from that life itself. "Spray on the Windows" lacks conviction for the captious reader, but it carries a lesson in spite of the evident artificiality of parts of the development. It might even save some uninformed and over-romantic young persons from some of the painful experiences that Ann is portrayed as having undergone.

Optimism in Story.

MIRANDA. By Grace Livingston Lutz, author of "Marcia Schuyler," "Phoebe Deane," and "Lo Michael." Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott company. $1.25 net.

If you met Miranda in the story of "Marcia Schuyler," you need no urging to renew the acquaintance. If you didn't meet her there, it will be worth while to get acquainted with her now, in a book in which she is the central character, and in which is shown how much optimism and good cheer and sound sense can be disseminated even by a "homely, red-haired, freckle-faced servant girl."

The time of the story is in the three decades before the Civil war, and we are given some pictures of the incredulity and amazement with which the railroad and the telegraph were regarded by the people of that day. There is also a bit about the "Fifty-four-forty" question involved in the settlement and claiming of the Oregon country, and quite vivid scenes of the hardships met and conquered by the parties of emigrants who crossed prairies and mountains to reach that region.

Miranda had a peculiar philosophy of her own, but one that she seldom intruded upon the vision of others. It came as near as anything, perhaps, to pantheism, and yet it was not that. She tells gravely and beautifully the lessons she learns from the stars, and the conception she has of the pleasure God must have found in "making things," comparing this with her own pleasure in getting a big batch of good things baked up when there is company coming.

Miranda herself is delightful, and her story is interesting.

"You Know My Kid, Al."

BIB BALLADS. By Ring W. Lardner; illustrated by Fontaine Fox. Chicago: P. F. Volland & Co.

Ring Lardner's best known character is the bush league baseball player who writes the delicately humble letters to his friend, "Al." The busher doesn't appear in the Bib ballads, which, in fact is merely a collection of verses regarding "a young stranger at our house." The stanzas tell of his faults and foibles, his lovingness and his little spells of bad temper, and about the various things that every parent knows of and sees and undergoes.

As to the illustrations—it is almost enough to say they are by Fontaine Fox. Or if you've never seen any of Fox's "kid" pictures, then you've something good coming to you when you discover them.

About as foolish a thing as one could imagine would be the sending of this book to an old maid or old bachelor. But it would be hard to imagine anything more suitable as a gift to a proud parent, under any circumstances whatever.

The Wild West.

STEVE OF THE BAR-G RANCH. By Marion Reid-Girardot. New York: Hearst's International Library company. $1 net.

Not many writers of western stories have taken the trouble to give detail as this one has. He sacrifices nothing of the completeness of his pictures to the idea of hasty narration, and yet manages to give the reader the sense of rapid and intense action that is a characteristic of most narratives of cowboy life.

Then there is the woman—also an almost unknown quantity in the older sort of western stories. This is a school teacher of markedly coquettish nature, who adds herself to the many things regarding which two brothers are rivals.

The story is rather loosely hung together, but it involves plenty of incidents of a stirring sort, and the characters are many and of great variety. Also the people impress you as real people. The story of Steve of the Bar-G is almost sure to please the habitual reader of fiction, and it will at the same time give some new light on the details of life in Western America before the homesteaders and the barbedwire fence wrought their tremendous changes in that life.

Among the Magazines.

"The quack-novel is a thing which looks like a book, and which is compounded, advertised, and marketed in precisely the same fashion as Castoria, Wine of Cardui, Alcola, Mrs. Summers' free-to-you-my-sister Harmless Headache remedy, Viavi Tablettes and other patent medicines, harmless and harmful. As the patent medicine is made of perfectly well-known drugs, so the quack-novel of course contains perfectly familiar elements; and like the medicine, it comes wrapped in superlative testimonials from those who say they have swallowed it to their advantage." So Owen Wister, in the brilliant article on "Quack-Novels and Democracy," which opens the June Atlantic, describes the type of book manufactured by Harold Bell Wright and an alarming shortage in the German food-supply. L. Ames Brown discusses the status of the prohibition movement, showing the forces and arguments for and against it, and pointing out its probable future course. J. O. P. Bland reveals the tremendous changes which have quietly taken place during the last year or two in the government of China; Roland G. Usher writes of "The Cost of the War" from an entirely new standpoint; other illuminating war articles are contributed by Gilbert Murray and Henry W. Nevinson.

In the June World's Work the crisis between this country and Germany is dealt with in five timely articles as follows: "Why the World Is Against Germany," "America's Diplomacy in This Crisis," "Pan-Germanism in the United States," "How Fast Can We Make Arms and Ammunition?" and "The Toll of the Submarines." "Do We Really Owe Europe Anything?" is the title of an article by Theodore H. Price, who believes, in the light of recent events in international finance, that we do not. "A Saloonless Nation by 1920"—the slogan of the Anti-Saloon league—is the title of an article by John S. Gregory, who describes the activities of the forces that are working for national prohibition. George Marvin writes the second of his series of articles about "Controlling the Mississippi," and Burton J. Hendrick concludes his series on "Pork Barrel Pensions."

A series of articles, interesting and written with evident authority, begins in the Engineering magazine for June. Nicholas T. Ficker, thoroughly recognized as an expert in manufacturing costs and plant efficiency, undertakes an exposition of the faulty basis of present cost distribution systems as applied to the expenses commonly called "overhead." The importance of correct cost estimation to every manufacturer need not be restated. Another serial article beginning in this number is that by Harold V. Coes, who from a long practice sets forth the principles involved in rehabilitating manufacturing plants in order to keep them abreast of the rapidly changing technical methods and commercial demand, examples particularly illuminating being instanced from the automobile manufacture field. A champion armed with knowledge and experience comes forward in defence of the small consumer of electricity; Henry D. Jackson argues vigorously and conclusively to show that undue favoritism is shown by public service corporations to the large power user and that the little fellow foots the bill.

Tudor Jenks opens the June number of The Writer, the Boston magazine for literary workers, with an amusing skit entitled "Writing 'Romeo and Juliet,'" showing how Shakespeare may have been interrupted while composing, as authors are often in these modern days. Kemper Simpson writes on "Leonard Merrick and the Short Story." Other headings are: "Barry Pain on Short-story Writing," "Qualifications of a Journalist," "Shorthand and the Newspaper Reporter," "Magazine Editing from the Inside," "Moving Pictures for Periodicals," "Vegetarianism for Writers," "The Bible as Literature," and "How Cooper Wrote 'John Gilpin.'" The number has also the usual instalment of entertaining personal gossip about authors.

Two of the most striking features of the June St. Nicholas are of special interest to boys who are interested in practical mechanics: "Model Aeroplanes," in which Francis Arnold Collins tells all about the most fascinating toy there is, in an article illustrated with splendid photographs, and "A Home-Made Swimming Pool," which ought to appeal to the whole family, for it shows how, with small cost and effort, a perfectly satisfactory swimming pool can be made on anybody's lawn. "Jacopo, the Little Dyer," is a picturesque story by Catherine D. Cather of the Venetian childhood of the great painter Tintoretto, who struggled so hard to become the rival of Titian. A unique collection of quaint short tales are included in "Chinese Fun and Philosophy." They were gathered together by an army chaplain in China in order to amuse his wounded soldiers in the hospital. With the entertaining pictures which accompany them, they will now amuse a wider circle of readers.

"Fishing for Keeps" in the June Outing describes the way in which the author secured his large collection of fish trophies. An unusual sort of a fishing story. "Catching the Beaver at Work" describes the author's experiences in flashlighting beaver in Idaho and shows some excellent photographs. "The Education of Bass" is an article tending to prove that the difficulties of bass fishing in certain parts of the country at the present time are due not to scarcity of fish but to the fact that they are learning how to avoid the fisherman.

In the number and nature of its illustrations, the June Popular Mechanics magazine surpasses many previous numbers of a periodical that is always remarkable in this respect. Among the 231 pictures the magazine contains there are eleven consecutive pages of the latest views from the European conflict, besides a number of snapshots taken by an amateur photographer from the British steamship "Falaba" at the time it was torpedoed by the Germans. The work of locating the United States submarine "F-4" which sank during maneuvers in Honolulu harbor is shown in a page group of views. It was here that the world's diving record was broken by one of the men, who descended 288 feet. Other page views and groups of views show the Arrowrock dam, now almost ready for use; the construction of a highway across Storm King mountain, on the Hudson river; Blackfeet Indians preparing a pictorial history of their tribe; the dreadnaught "Wyoming" steaming on a high sea; a curious feature of a Burmese festival, etc.

Mark Tidd, the stuttering fat boy who has been such a marked success in recent juvenile fiction is back in The American Boy again. "Mark Tidd in Business" is the title of the newest story by Clarence B. Kelland, the opening instalment of which appears in the current issue. Mark is funnier than ever and just as clever as of yore. "The Igloo in the Snow" is another tale of Connie Morgan in the Alaskan gold fields. These virile stories of James B. Hendryx have proved marked successes and the latest of the series is possessed of all the vigor and interest of its predecessors. "The Horse That Did Not Go to War," by Dennis H. Stovall, is a story of the ranch; "The Big One" is a fish story by Hamilton Johnson; and "The Tortoise" is the lively tale of a boy and a boat, by Walter Kellogg Towers.

A 6-line want ad, repeated a few times, will definitely decide whether or not you can sell it—and you probably can.

DRAMA VAUDEVILLE MOTION PICTURES

COMMENT ON PLAYS AND PLAYERS — WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS PROMISE

SPECULATING on the theatrical possibilities of next season is rather fruitless when the managers and producers themselves are completely at sea. The summer season of vaudeville and light musical shows has begun in New York, and the producers are beginning to make their plans for September.

According to Walter S. Baldwin, who returned this week from New York, the outlook is far from promising for many attractions. The motion picture field has absorbed plays, stars, and producers. The death of Charles Frohman removed one of the most active of the remaining producers. Last season was marked by the greatest scarcity of road companies the country has known for a decade. Even cities of from 200,000 to 300,000 people were unable to secure regular attractions. Smaller cities like Duluth got perhaps half a dozen first class attractions during the season. The generous patronage given these few attractions showed that Duluthians were hungry for good amusement. Whether this hunger will be satisfied next season remains to be seen. If it had not been for the stock company, Duluth would have had nothing in the line of dramatic attractions for weeks at a time.

Managers of first class theaters are considering a revival of the old stock star system as their only hope. Under this plan there is a circuit of stock companies with traveling stars. Each star plays a week in each city playing only the play with which he or she is familiar. The star arrives in a city to find the company already rehearsed in the play by a stage manager who travels ahead. This plan is looked upon as the only one under which scores and even hundreds of first class theaters can be kept open next season. The situation is even more critical with the popular priced theaters it is claimed.

"BOUGHT AND PAID FOR" NEXT WEEK

Baldwin Players Will Appear in George Broadhurst's Famous Drama.

Closing this evening a week's engagement in the old-fashioned love story, "Lena Rivers," the Baldwin Stock company will open Sunday afternoon in one of the most successful of modern dramas, "Bought and Paid For."

"Bought and Paid For" is the work of George Broadhurst, the author of "The Man of the Hour" and other successful plays. It ran for two entire years without a break in New York, when it was first produced, and it has been seen once in Duluth, but never before at the popular scale of prices.

"Bought and Paid For" is the story of a successful and very wealthy New York business man who has fought his way up from poverty by the strength of his own will. He has come to feel that anything he desires may be his if he sets his mind firmly enough on it. In a hotel he meets a young telephone girl, whose beauty and youth attract him. He decides to marry her, and finally prevails upon her to accept him. She feels that she is buying comforts and luxuries at the cost, perhaps, of an unhappy marriage.

The second scene opens two years after their marriage. The husband has become an "occasional" drunkard, and in his fits of intoxication he becomes a brute. The wife is terrified and disgusted at his fits of intoxication, and when he comes home in this condition she locks herself in her room. He breaks down the door, saying that she is his and that he has bought and paid for her. This act causes her to leave him and she determines to again earn her own living. The third act shows her reduced to poverty again, and partially supporting her mother and sister. The two latter had been amply provided for by her husband, and they bitterly resent being reduced to poverty again. How husband and wife are finally reunited with some prospect of happiness ahead is told in the fourth act and the worthless scapegrace of a brother brings it about.

The comedy of the play is largely provided by the brother and when it was produced in New York this character was in a large measure responsible for the play's great success.

But six members of the company are required for the presentation of the play. Miss Bronaugh and Mr. Minturn will appear as the wife and the husband and both of them should have the best opportunity for serious work they have had since their opening week in "Pine Feathers." The part of the husband should be especially well adapted to Mr. Minturn's abilities.

A. Romaine Callender will be cast as the brother and he will provide a great part of the comedy of the play. Miss Margaret Lotus will have more of an opportunity than she has had for several weeks in the part of Fannie, the sister. Mark Elliston will appear as the Jap servant and Miss Geraldine Blair will have a comedy character part as the French maid.

For the following week "The Ghost Breaker" will be presented for the first time in Duluth.

CONSCIENCE PLAY COMING TO ZELDA

Suggestions of Edgar Allen Poe Portrayed on the Screen.

"The Avenging Conscience," which will be seen on the screen at the Zelda next week, is a drama of the mind, completely visualized throughout and with a thoroughly connected story. Though it deals with the penance inflicted upon a murderer by his own conscience, this penance is so personified that the result is a very graphic narrative. This is brought about by the use of some extraordinary photographic effects, which show the dead man returning to haunt the living murderer, who imagines, among other things, that he can hear the heart of the dead man still beating. "The Avenging Conscience" was suggested by Edgar Allen Poe's famous story, "The Telltale Heart," which contains the idea of the murderer listening to the heartbeats of the man he killed, and by Poe's famous poem of "Annabel Lee."

The plot follows: A baby boy has been left to the care of his uncle, after his mother's death. This uncle raises the boy with the greatest care, hoping that he will develop into a literary genius. The uncle's ambitions for the young man seem about to be realized, when the youth becomes infatuated with a young woman, who reciprocates his love to such an extent that they are completely wrapped up in each other. When the girl, "Annabel," comes to take the young man to a garden party, the uncle insults her by saying that she is pursuing his nephew "like a common woman of the town." As a result of the uncle's interference, the young people finally decide to separate.

Now come black and revengeful thoughts to the mind of the young man. Only that day he has been reading the "Telltale Heart" and some of Poe's poems. He thinks of the happiness that he and his sweetheart might have if only his uncle were out of the way. With all the skill of Poe's character in "The Telltale Heart," he forms his plan to slay his uncle.

It is then that the saving grace of conscience demonstrates its power. How the avenging conscience in this case operates and how its influence in a mysterious manner, is used to prevent a terrible tragedy, can best be told by the picture itself. It seems as if conscience were God's way of shielding mortals from fatal sin.

The subtle working of the inner conscience, beyond the power of mental control, finds expression in the weird visions that torture the culprit's brain. Avenging thoughts, such as Poe might have conceived, are made real to the quaking youth. Relentless fate seems to drive him to despair until • • •

But the end is the most unexpected part of all and shows that suffering may teach virtue, that even the darkest cloud may have its lining of silver, though the existence of a silver lining has ben entirely unsuspected.

SCENE FROM "BOUGHT AND PAID FOR," Which Will Be Presented By the Baldwin Players All Next Week at the Lyceum.

VARIETY IN GOOD SHOW.

Two Headline Acts Make Bill Popular; Good Program Next Week.

Variety is what makes the bill at the New Grand this week-end one of the most popular and entertaining seen at that playhouse since its opening last August. There is something a little different in every act with the result that interest never lags. The bill is a double-headliner, featuring Pierce and Roslyn in a whirl of melody and the millionaire monk, Alexander, the Great.

As entertainers Peirce and Roslyn are hard to beat. They have a personality that wins, and they show the peculiar art of vaudeville down to the last detail. The two are delightful vocalists, and their singing of character songs never fail to bring rounds of applause.

Of equal interest is Alexander, the Great, the monkey who made a man of himself. This wonderful monk appears to fill in the Darwinian missing link. He eats, drinks, smokes big black cigars, wears the clothes of civilization and conducts himself like a human being. He is being presented by Mons. and Madame d'Osta.

Bicknell, the novelty and comedy clay modeler, and the Wayne trio of slingers, dancers and comedians are other vaudeville offerings.

Charlie Chaplin headlines the photoplay bill in two reels of rip-roaring fun, "The Tramp."

The Hearst-Selig news of events, which includes some exceptionally interesting war pictures; "Across the Desert," a thrilling western story, and "When the Tide Turned," a drama, complete the program.

On Monday the new bill will be headed by J. C. Lewis, Jr., and his company of associate players in a novelty comedy playlet, "Billy's Santa Claus." Bob Evans, blackface comedian; Dean, Dorr and Dean in a singing and dancing diversion, and the Georgalis trio of champion Greek rifle and pistol shots are other vaudeville acts on the bill.

"In the Dark," a pretty story of a wife's love and devotion, is the photo-play feature in three reels. A comedy and a drama complete the bill.

Tuesday and Wednesday the second chapter of "The Diamond From the Sky" will be added to the bill.

OWEN MOORE
In "The Escape" at the Rex.

EMOTIONAL PLAY AT REX.

"The Escape" and Other Dramatic Attractions Are Scheduled.

"Don't marry until you have seen "The Escape," is a bit of advice well worth considering. New Yorkers must have thought so, for a close estimate shows that more than 250,000 people have witnessed the production to date. "The Escape" will be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Rex, and Duluth will have an opportunity to see one of the most varied photo-play productions ever manufactured either here or in Europe. Most of Lew Fields-like most plays—represent one line of thought; not so with "The Escape," for it represents all the emotional elements imaginable. There are even several humorous passages in a drama, which is otherwise serious both in its intent and execution. The photo-play is even more startling than the play, for D. W. Griffith, the master producer, has taken full advantage of the greater freedom of the screen, to bring out incidents and ideas that in the play could be only hinted at.

The cast of "The Escape" is notable. Among the all-star players are Mae Marsh, Robert Harron, Donald Crisp, Owen Moore and many other favorites.

The famous players have selected Clyde Fitch's powerful drama, "The Moth and The Flame," as their latest production to play at Rex beautiful Wednesday and Thursday. The poor little moth is blinded by the flame, until she cannot see the fatal perils threatening her.

Friday and Saturday the Jessie L. Lasky-Paramount feature, "Stolen Goods," and the Paramount travel series, combine to make the show the strongest of the week. "Stolen Goods" is the story of a nurse in Belgium and has an emotional love plot of exchanged identities. House Peters, plays the part of the red cross surgeon whose love remained true under all conditions, and some of them mighty trying for even a man as muchly in love as the honorable House.

LEADS ALL CARNIVALS.

High Praise for Allen Shows Coming Here for Pythians.

The Billboard and New York Clipper, both of them papers devoted to the amusement world, call the Tom W. Allen Shows, which are booked to play here for the Knights of Pythias, June 14 to 19, "America's representative carnival organization." When it is a fact that there are somewhere in the neighborhood of 200 of these carnivals in the country, the value of being the one singled out as the most representative, is not to be despised.

Mr. Allen is extremely jealous of the reputation of his carnival and bends every effort to the bettering of its attractions in every possible way. No expense is deemed too great, no trouble shirked that it may sustain the praise that has been heaped upon him for having the cleanest and best organization in the country.

Objectionable features, no matter how profitable, are absolutely taboo on the Allen midway. There are no gambling devices or catch-penny concessions tolerated, vulgarity in any form is conspicuous by its absence and the demeanor of every attache is the subject of much comment by visitors, so universally courteous is the treatment extended all.

It is a new kind of a carnival that Mr. Allen is promoting, a place where the people enjoy popular priced attractions and get their money's worth, where mother can come with the children after the day's work is done and feel safe even if father cannot find time to accompany her.

There are no less than sixteen attractions with the Tom W. Allen Shows, all of them of value in some particular or other. Some are educational as for instance the Panama canal, a model of which will be seen with the ships making the trip from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans. Every detail is shown and in operation, whilst a comprehensive lecture is given that elucidates every point of interest. Others are the hippodrome, the dog and pony show, London ghost show, Tipperary, Nomia show, Mamie, "The Show Beautiful," wonderland and jungleland, trip to Mars, Crystal Jangle, Miracle and others including the very latest riding devices for the amusement of young and old alike.

It is said to be a miniature world's fair on wheels, a highway of nations brought to the city's doors.

At the Sunbeam.

Headed by the inimitable Charlie Chaplin in one of his regular comedies, the Sunbeam theater offers an extra good show for Sunday. Chaplin who has grown to be the biggest drawing card in motion pictures is at the Sunbeam at every change of program. "Roselyn," a two-part vitagraph feature production with Miss Naomi Childers portraying the lead-

CAT AND MONKEY IN THRILLING RESCUE ACT

J. Edwin Pierce, of the team of Pierce and Roslyn, Alexander the Great, the millionaire monk and the insignificant stage cat, all figured in an escapade at the New Grand this morning which nearly brought disaster on Mr. Pierce.

Mr. Pierce came to the theater early to attend to the various details connected with his act and this morning his ears were greeted with the unearthly screeches of a cat augmented by the shrill screams of the monk, Alexander the Great. On investigation it developed that the monk and the cat had had a misunderstanding which resulted in the cat climbing to the highest point of the stage, the gridiron. The cat had reached a position from which it could not extract itself and the monk stood on guard to see that in case it did that he would be revenged. Pierce went to the rescue at once. Mounting a ladder he soon crawled along a narrow rafter and reached the frightened animal in safety. In retracing his steps the monk took offense at the interference and made a dive at Pierce, who in trying to get away caught his legs in the intricate net work of ropes and he came near falling to the stage fifty feet below.

He managed to swing free from the overhead left, hanging by one of his limbs, with the cat held fondly to his bosom. But he never thought of dropping the cat and as he dangled by the leg swinging to and fro by one leg, with the frightened cat clinging fearfully to his breast, hep resented no likeness to a conqueror.

Things were beginning to take on a serious aspect when Mons D'Osta, the owner of the monk, entered the theater. Pierce heard the footsteps and began calling lustily for help, which with the help of the cat and monk made no mean trio. This sudden burst of music caused Mr. D'Osta to look up and taking in the situation immediately he went to the rescue of the rescuer and the cat. He drove the monk away, pulled in the rope, extricated Mr. Pierce and all four descended to safety. Mr. Pierce says he has no desire to repeat the performance though the management offers to double his salary.

ALEXANDER THE GREAT,
Now at the New Grand.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

There are many interesting figures to prove that the season just closed has been the most disastrous in many years. But there is no proof needed. The following statistics of the activities in New York, the producing center of the country, show that a good deal was done nevertheless: In New York there are 43 producing theaters. In those houses during the season 174 productions were put on. Of these 113 were new plays, 22 were revived plays, 22 were new musical comedies, 6 were revival of busical comedies and 11 were Shakespearian. The new plays enjoyed runs totaling 841 weeks, revivals 91 weeks, new musical comedies 260 weeks, revivals 21 weeks. In the 43 producing theaters during the season there were appproximately 1,213 wteks of playgoing. Despite the European war, which drove countless English actors and playwrights to the United States, Americans had all the best of the season. On the 113 new plays native authors wrote 72 of them, while 41 were by foreigners. Fifteen native composers wrote new musical productions, against seven foreigners.

Klaw & Erlanger, in association with George C. Tyler, will present Holbrook Blinn's company in "Moloch" in New York in September. The new play, in a prologue, three acts and an epilogue, was written by Beulah M. Dix. It had its premiere in Cleveland recently, and is now being played at Power's theater, Chicago. In both cities it has aroused exceptional interest and discussion. "Moloch" deals with conditions created by the war, and requires the services of a large company.

At the conclusion of the all-star production of "Trilby" at the Shubert theater tonight Joseph Brooks has arranged for a short tour in Eastern Canada for Phyllis Neilson-Terry in "The Adventure of Lady Ursula," the play by Anthony Hope, in which she was seen earlier in the season.

William Faversham, who was acting "The Right of Way" for a moving picture concern, seriously cut his hand recently. Several scenes had already been run when one of the actors accidentally held up a knife in one of the stage fights and cut Faversham a severe gash between the first and second fingers.

According to a statement of the tax comptroller, the play "Everywoman" was appraised at $20,000. The report also showed that the earnings of the play in five seasons in royalties amounted to $90,884.

Elizabeth Brice and Charles King, who were to have been one of the features of Lew Field's new musical revue, "Hands Up," have quit the organization. It is said to have been a question of temperament. They have been replaced by Fay Compton and Lauri de Freece.

"Life," which has finished its run at the huge Chicago auditorium, will divide the next regular theatrical season between Philadelphia and Chicago. The scenic production, with its great masses of players, horses, its tally-ho and other unusual features, is entirely too big to be sent through the country.

Melville Ellis, who has been associated with the Shuberts for years, and has been active as a designer of theatrical costumes, will sever his connection with them and identify himself with another producing firm. At present he is ill, but is steadily recovering.

Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson closed his farewell American tour at the Academy of Music, Northampton, Mass., recently in "Hamlet," having to give an overflow performance of "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" in the afternoon. This is the longest tour Forbes-Robertson has ever played in America, extending over thirty-five weeks and covering some 35,000 miles. It has been one of the most successful seasons he has had in America, which, in view of prevailing conditions, speaks highly of the hold he has upon the affection and admiration of the American public. His box office returns have broken even his own previous records, and the gross receipts of his tour amount to more than $500,000. Forbes-Robertson will sail on the steamship Philadelphia today from New York, his company sailing a week previous on the steamship New York.

There will only be one "Show Shop" next season, and Helen Fulton will replace Patricia Collinge in the leading part, although Zelda Sears and George Sidney have been re-engaged.

• • •

Dr. A. M. Willner and Robert Rodanzky, who were the authors of "Count Luxemburg," are the authors of "Endlich Allein" ("Alone at Last"), which the Shuberts have just put into rehearsals. The American adaptation has been made by Edgar Smith and Joseph Herbert. The lyrics have been written by Joseph Herbert and the music is composed by Franz Lehr of "Merry Widow" fame.

• • •

The idea of sending "A Celebrated Case" on tour after its New York season, which ends next week, has been abandoned.

• • •

"The Dragon's Claw," which Henry Miller produced early in the season, and which proved to be one of the spectacular failures, is being rewritten by its author, Austin Strong, with a view of trying it again next year.

• • •

"The New Henrietta," after an extended season in Chicago and the Middle West, ended its present tour recently in South Bend, Ind. The company, with its five stars, William H. Crane, Thomas W. Ross, Maclyn Arbuckle, Amelia Bingham and Mabel Taliaferro, and supporting company kept intact, will begin its next season at the Shubert theater, New York, where it will be seen for a single week, beginning Aug. 9. It will then go directly to San Francisco, where it will fill an engagement at the Cort theater, beginning Aug. 22. Following will come a tour of the Pacific coast, the Middle West and the South, closing the season in Boston, in April.

• • •

Paul Armstrong, who has been ill at Johns Hopkins' hospital for some time, has had a relapse, which will delay his recovery, though there is every reason to believe that he will be about again before long.

• • •

American plays are not faring well these days in London. "The Argyle Case" has proved a box-office disappointment and will soon be withdrawn at the Strand. "He Didn't Want to Do It" has had a run of only fifty-seven performances at the Prince of Wales, although it was acclaimed a great hit when first produced.

• • •

Adele Blood, who married Edwards Davis some years ago and recently sued him for divorce, has just been granted the decree. Davis made a counter charge naming several people. These charges, however, were not sustained, according to judicial decree.

• • •

A story has gone the rounds that the death of Charles Frohman would hasten John Drew's desire to give up the stage. Mr. Drew's attention was called to this in San Francisco, and at the Columbia theater, he said he had no intention of quitting the work with which he has been identified the greater part of his life. Before Mr. Frohman's death, arrangements had been made for a play, and these arrangements will be carried out.

• • •

A bill amending the present law in New York so as to permit children under 16 years of age to perform on the stage has been introduced in the legislature by Senator Robert R. Lawson, and is now before the codes committee, with a good chance of being put through during this session of the legislature.

How to Get the Most For Your Money When Inserting a "Want Ad!"

HERE IS A WAY of guaranteeing satisfaction for yourself when you use "Herald Want Ads."

Write a "want ad" that makes your proposition seem attractive. Your failure to mention important features will create the impression that they are lacking.

The uninformative two-line ad is apt to be like the tack hammer used for driving nails. It costs less but fails to do the effective work of the larger tool.

Moreover, when you state your proposition thoroughly and clearly you have the assurance that those who investigate are not merely curiosity seekers, but are inquirers who are interested practically to the point of doing business with you.

In addition to writing a good ad you should insert it for long enough to insure results. Then immediately have the advertising stopped and The Duluth Herald will refund the full amount due for the unused period.

By this method you are sure of having your ad run long enough, yet do not have to pay for any unnecessary insertions. Use "Herald Want Ads" according to this plan and you can not fail to get results. Whatever it is that you require there is some one among the vast army of thrifty readers reached by this paper who has what you want or who wants what you have.

If You Live Outside Duluth You Can Mail Your Ads to This Paper or Leave Them With The Duluth Herald Agent In Your Town.

CHIEF WILLIAMS' HOMER NEARLY WINS FOR DOOKS

White Sox Make Five Runs in Ninth But Lose 9 to 8.

Virginia Twirler Gives Four Passes After Pitching Tight Game.

BY BRUCE.

Custer's last stand or Horatius standing at the bridge with bold front had little on the rah rah rally staged in the home half of the ninth yesterday, said rally producing five runs and coming within one run of tying the count. Virginia triumphed over the Dooks by the score of 9 to 8, but the domestic gang finished with heads up.

Sorenson started the ninth round by walking O'Brien and Sweeley. Ford, hitting for "Sticks" Bryant, lofted weakly to Fortman. Collins walked and then Sorenson caused a shrill yell of expectation to rise like a wreath of smoke from the bleachers by passing Croake and forcing the Dook home.

Then came one of those angles of the game that have made the well known pastime popular from the sands of the gulf to Bangor, up on the Maine coast.

Chief Williams strode to the plate and smote the second ball pitched far over the paling in deep right, a feat that has been accomplished but few times in the history of the ball park.

Sorenson was wigwagged to the dog house. Tony Faeth, the well known pocket pool expert, was summoned to the relief of the flounder-ing expedition. Honest John Doyle hit to Sundheim and was furiously thrown out at first. Truman singled and the case of victory was carted out on a silver platter and presented for the contemplation of H. Wolfe. Evidently Harry did not like the looks of the victory thing, for he promptly whiffed and the pastime was over.

Chief Cadreau Chased.

Chief Cadreau started the twirling for the locals and lasted until two runs had been made, three singles and a hit batsman contributing. Bryant was called in and during the next round three more runs were gathered. A hit batsman, a pass, a double and two singles shoving the runs over the plate. In the home half of the second Truman walked, Wolfe was smitten by the ball, Truman counting when McCullach dropped a throw on O'Brien's infield offering. Brokaw singled in the third, was sacrificed along by Red McCullach, went to third on Bryant's wild peg to catch him off second and counted on Agnew's single into short left.

In the domestic fourth Wolfe singled down the third base line with two dead. O'Brien strolled and Bert Sweeley whanged one into right and Harry busted into the scoring count. Young Mr. Greisch tripled nearly to the flag pole in the seventh. She was some bust and Freddy executed some real hustling around the tow paths. Brokaw hit to Wolfe and Greisch was safe on the heave to the platter. In the foreign eighth, McCabe singled to right with one gone and went all the way to third on Jack Doyle's error, John permitting the ball to roll between his feet. Fortman lofted to right and McCabe had no trouble in beating the return. Croake was hit in our half, went to third on an infield error and came home ahead of the thrown-in of Truman's loft to McCabe in right.

Greisch secured his third hit in the invader's half of the final frame, advanced on Brokaw's sacrifice and counted when Wolfe made a wild and abandoned heave to the plate on McCullach's hit to deep short.

That ended the scoring for the visitors. The thrilling tale of the noble stand made by our brave athletes in the home half of the round have been recounted. It was a great finish, but just fell short of real accomplishment.

It was a loose fielding game, sloppy up to the excruciating point where the excitement began to trickle in. The last frame ended in a blaze of thrills.

TODAY AND TOMORROW AT 3

Duluth vs Virginia

If today's game is postponed by rain a double-header tomorrow; first game at 2 o'clock.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Brooklyn 8; Pittsburgh 2.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 5.—Brooklyn began its first western invasion with an 8-to-2 victory over Pittsburgh yesterday. Pfeffer allowed the locals four hits. The visitors solved Cooper's delivery in the fifth and drove him from the box in the sixth. Score: R. H. E.

Brooklyn .....0000440 00—8 11 2
Pittsburgh .....0000011 00—2 4 1

Batteries — Pfeffer and McCarty; Cooper, Harmon, Conzelman and Gibson, Schang.

Cards 6; Reds 1.

St. Louis, Mo., June 5.—St. Louis scored an easy win over Cincinnati yesterday. The locals started by bunching hits in the first for two runs. In the third, Wingo threw wild to center, scoring Huggins, who was followed by Butler on a single by Miller, and by Bescher, making a total of three for the inning. Cincinnati did not score until the fifth, and was able to gather but seven scattered hits off Griner. Score: R. H. E.

Cincinnati .....0000100 00—1 7 3
St. Louis .....2030010 0x—6 10 0

Batteries—Douglas, Toney and Wingo; Griner and Snyder.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

White Sox 2; Red Sox 0.

Boston, Mass., June 5.—Two runs gained by Chicago in the first inning on E. Collins' daring base running, errors by Wagner and J. Collins' double, were the only tallies scored in yesterday's game. Speaker was struck on the head by a speedy inshoot by Scott in the first inning. By courtesy of Manager Rowland, Rodger ran for him and Speaker resumed his place in the field, only to retire from the game in the third inning. It is believed he will be able to play today. Score: R. H. E.

Chicago .....2000000 00—2 7 0
Boston .....0000000 00—0 4 2

Batteries—J. Scott and Schalk; Shore, Mays and Cady, Carrigan.

Athletics 5; Browns 3.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 5.—Philadelphia played an up-hill game yesterday and defeated St. Louis by bunching hits with opponents' errors. Oldring, Kopf and Murphy starred at the bat, each making two hits off Wellman, while Bush held his opponents down to five hits. Score: R. H. E.

St. Louis .....3000000 00—3 5 3
Philadelphia ...2000200 1x—5 9 3

Batteries—Wellman and Agnew; Bush and McAvoy.

Senators 6; Indians 1.

Washington, June 5.—Washington yesterday defeated Cleveland, the first western team to play here this season. Two errors, three singles and a wild pitch in the seventh gave the locals four runs. Shaw allowed only four hits, but one of his two passes, followed by a sacrifice, an error and a passed ball, resulted in the visitors' only run. Williams walked on everyone of his four trips to the plate. Score: R. H. E.

Cleveland .....0000010 00—1 4 5
Washington ....0000014 1x—6 7 1

Batteries—Steen and O'Neil; Shaw and Henry.

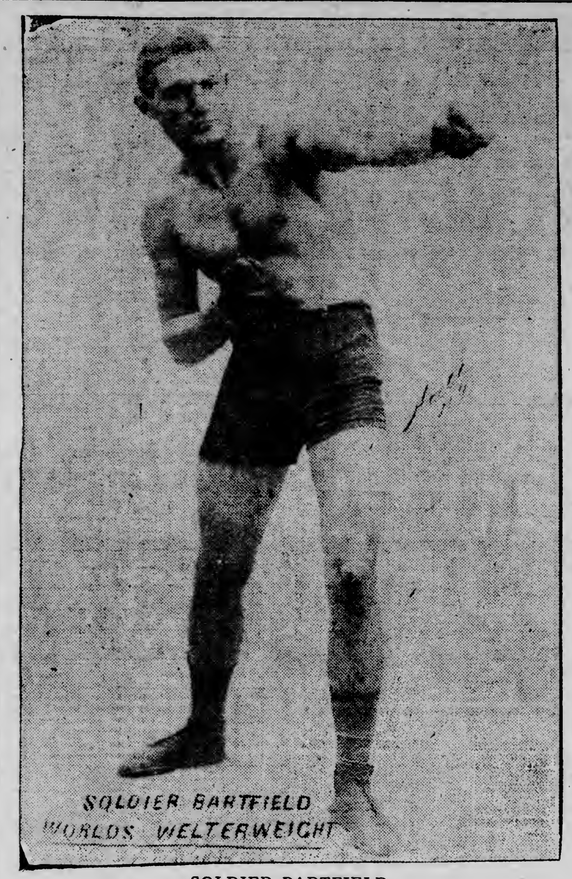

Yanks Are Shut Out.

New York, June 5.—Detroit's Cobb-Crawford combination proved too much for New York and the Yanks were shut out, 3 to 0, this being their first shut-out since Johnson turned the trick in the opening game of the season. In the first inning Cobb's triple scored Vitt and Crawford's single scored Cobb. In the ninth Cobb stole home. Caldwell in derision at the decision threw his glove in the air and O'Loughlin ordered him out of the game. Pieh was forced to finish the game without any warmup. Score: R. H. E.

Detroit .....2000000 01—3 5 1
New York .....0000000 00—0 4 1

Batteries—Lubuc and McKee; Caldwell, Pieh and Sweeney, Nunamaker.

THIS BOY WINS FAME BY HOLDING GIBBONS EVEN

SOLDIER BARTFIELD.

Little was heard of Soldier Bartfield until just the other day when he held Mike Gibbons to even terms. Gibbons can make a fighter great in a night by failing to whale the everlasting daylights out of him. Maybe Gibbons was not feeling well. If the Phantom ever hooks up with the soldier for a second trot, keep an eye on Gibbons. In the meantime the progress of Bartfield will be watched with increased interest.

FEDERAL LEAGUE

Divide Honors.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 5.—Buffalo and Brooklyn divided honors in a double-header here yesterday, the visitors winning the first game and the locals the second. Two home runs in the third inning by Louden and McDonald were the deciding factors of the second contest.

President Robertson announced that Harry Ford will manage the Buffalo team in place of Schlafly, who was released Thursday. Lord will continue to play at third base. Scores:

First game— R. H. E.
Brooklyn .....0220200 21—9 15 1
Buffalo .....2000000 10—3 8 5

Batteries—Marion and Land; Krapp and Blair.

Second game— R. H. E.
Brooklyn .....0000003 00—3 6 0
Buffalo .....0040200 0x—6 9 3

Batteries—Lafitte and Pratt; Schulz and Allen.

Kawfeds 5; Pittsburgh 3.

Kansas City, Mo., June 5.—The wildness of the visitors' pitchers enabled Kansas City to defeat Pittsburgh yesterday 5 to 3. Kansas City scored four runs in the seventh inning, when one batter was hit by the pitcher, three walked and one singled. Score: R. H. E.

Pittsburgh .....0300000 00—3 10 1
Kansas City ...0000014 0x—5 4 1

Batteries—Hogge, Barger, Dickson and Berry; Main, Henning and Brown.

St. Louis 8; Chicago 3.

Chicago, June 5.—St. Louis hammered McConnell for a berth in the first division yesterday, beating Chicago for the third straight time 8 to 3 and dropping the locals to the fifth place. Score: R. H. E.

St. Louis .....3050000 00—8 11 2
Chicago .....0200000 01—3 8 3

Batteries—Groom and Hartley; McConnell, Black, Brennan and Wilson, Fisher.

AMERICAN ASS'N.

Slugging Match.

Louisville, Ky., June 5.—Louisville won a slugging match from Kansas City here yesterday. Three pitchers allowed twenty-three hits. George Tebeau, owner of the Kansas City club, stated that the Philadelphia Americans and another major league club want Shortstop Wortman, but the player will not be disposed of until after the close of the association season. Score:

R. H. E.
Kansas City....0000400 00—4 11 3
Louisville ....0110302 0x—7 12 1

Batteries—Delhi, Lathrop and Alexander; Middleton and Clemons.

Spiders Beat Saints.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 5.—Cleveland made nine hits off Hall in the first inning of yesterday's game and scored seven runs. Dyer, who replaced him in the second, allowed but one hit and one run in the remaining eight innings. James for Cleveland, was wild, allowing eight passes, but was effective. Score: R. H. E.

Cleveland .....7100000 x—8 10 2
St. Paul .....0010100 02—4 7 1

Batteries—James and Devogt; Hall, Dyer and Glenn.

Second Straight Shut-Out.

Columbus, Ohio, June 5.—Milwaukee took a second straight shutout victory yesterday from Columbus. Each Columbus error, Miller's excepted, meant a run for the visitors. Shevlin did sensational fielding. Score: R. H. E.

Milwaukee .....0011020 00—4 4 0
Columbus .....0000000 00—0 5 5

Batteries—Young and Brannan; Davis and Coleman.

Millers 5; Hoosiers 4.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 5.—Minneapolis took yesterday's game in the eleventh inning, when Jimmy Williams, batting for Pitcher Harper, sent a sacrifice fly to Kelly, Jennings scoring. Catch Blackburn of Indianapolis was sent to the clubhouse for objecting to a third strike and Manager Hendrix followed him when he too entered a vigorous protest. Pitcher Ingersoll twisted his left ankle sliding and was compelled to retire. Score:

FIRST GAME WEDNESDAY

Date Is Set for Grade School Baseball Title Contest.

Adams Likely to Be Represented in Western Division.

It was announced today that the first game in the Duluth Grade School Baseball league championship will be played at Athletic park next Wednesday. It looks now as if the Adams school team will meet the winner of the Washington-Jefferson series.

There was a meeting of some of those interested in the league last evening. Lawrence Duby announced today that the game that was to have been played yesterday between the Adams and Lincolns was called—not forfeited—and that the playing of the game set for Monday afternoon. Should the Lincoln team fail to appear at that time, according to the announcement made today, the Adams will be declared the representative of the Western division of the grade school league, and will be called upon to meet the winner of the Eastern division semi-finals in the title games at the ball park.

The Washington and Jefferson grade teams were to have met today in the third and deciding game of their division series. The threatened rain may cause a postponement of the contest. In that event the game will be played off on Monday. This plan will give the winner an intervening day of rest for the big series.

Interest in the series between the representative teams of the Western and Eastern divisions continues to mount. Followers of the grade school teams are speculating on the outcome. The Western division team seems to carry a large amount of popular choice. That the games will be well attended seems beyond the shade of doubt.

TIM HURST WAS A RARE SPORT CHARACTER

Ruling By Might of Fists the Great Umpire Was Master in the Strenuous Days of Baseball History

Tim Hurst's passing to the vale beyond removes from the sporting world a man without that quaking thing called fear; one of the most courageous and one of the most unique figures that baseball or the sport of the squared circle ever developed.

A squatty, square-jawed, broad-shouldered Celt, Tim Hurst loved a fight. He was absolutely unbluffable. Tough players coming up from the minors to the then somewhat turbulent big leagues, often tried to get the number of Hurst. Always it was found, either in the case of a fight or a case of bluff, that the squatty Irishman won.

If a player made any insulting remark during the progress of a game it was often the habit of Hurst to invite the player behind the grandstand after the last man had been declared out, and there settle with fists the differences.

In a game in a Southern city Tim made a decision that was emphatically disapproved of by the home fans. Some one in the crowd started a yell about mobbing the umpire. There were very few fans present that afternoon. Stepping the game Hurst walked up to the grandstand and declared that if he heard much more noise he would call the game off, lock the park gates and lick the crowd.

Tim Hurst umpired in the days when the arbiter was afforded much less police protection than is the case now. In those old days it was a surly habit of the fans to rush down on the playing field and vent their wrath on the umpire. Hurst would just as soon, in fact rather, call a decision against the home team than render one in its favor. He faced mobs and infuriated players with an unflinching eye of courage and stood always fighting with his back against the wall.

As a wit Hurst will live for years in the memory of those who knew him. His witty retort was held in almost equal fear with his sturdy and willing fists.

Hurst was one of the old guard—his going removes another link between the past, with its memories of brilliant deeds and constructive baseball history, and the present. Hurst lived and labored in the days of Kelly, Gore, Anson, Ryan and those other brilliant luminaries of the golden era of baseball; in the days before the huge concrete stand and tier bleacher seats, but in a day that was filled with the illustrious deeds of great players.

Tim was a hard fighting man, living in a day that wove the fabric of strenuousity. His courage was magnificent. He faced players of the fighting type of Patsy Tebeau and Muggsy McGraw and drove them back to the trenches. The days of usefulness of Tim Hurst passed with the taming of the game, but he was a great pioneer, a steel-couraged chap who ruled by might and the look of a bold and unflinching eye. He served his time and passed on, and his memory will linger for years.

COBB STILL LEADS THEM ALL IN STICK, STEALS, SCORES AND BASES

Detroit Phenom. Leads All Leagues In His Own Department—Only 400-Hitter Left.

Chicago, June 5.—Ty Cobb is the only "four hundred hitter" left in the three big leagues, according to averages published here today which include batters who have taken part in ten or more games up to Thursday last. The percentage of the Detroit star fell away during the week from .427 to .408, but he ran his stolen base total up to 25 and his runs scored to 47 in 45 games, leading all rivals.

The three hundred hitters of the American league, following Cobb, with the number of games they have played in, are: Daly, Chicago, 16, .364; Thompson, Philadelphia, 13, .357; Fournier, Chicago, 38, .355; Jackson, Cleveland, 37, .354; Russell, Chicago, 11, .348; Kavanaugh, Detroit, 41, .326; La Jois, Philadelphia, 36, .316; Meisel, New York, 36, .316; Connolly, Washington, 10, .313; Crawford, Detroit, 45, .312; Strunk, Philadelphia, 31, .305; McInnis, Philadelphia, 25, .305; Chapman, Cleveland, 38, .303; Veach, Detroit, 43, .300.

Cobb also leads in total bases with 80, his long hits including six doubles, five triples and one home run. Chicago, with 263 and Cleveland with 260 are ahead in team hitting.

Faber Leads Pitchers.

American league pitchers who have won 70 per cent of their games or more are Faber, Chicago, won 10 and lost 1; Fisher, New York, 7 and 1; Benz, Chicago, 5 and 1; Dauss, Detroit, 8 and 3; Foster, Boston, 5 and 2; Morton, Cleveland, 7 and 3.

Fred Luderus of Philadelphia continues in front among the National league batsmen with .386 for 26 games. Then come Clarke, Cincinnati, 28, .382; Good, Chicago, 27, .364; W. Zimmerman, Brooklyn, 14, .364; Daubert, Brooklyn, 35, .352; Connolly, Boston, 30, .337; Groh, Cincinnati, 38, .336; J. Smith, Boston, 30, .328; Merkle, New York, 30, .328; Robertson, New York, 33, .325; Fletcher, New York, 35, .321; Saier, Chicago, 40, .319; Doyle, New York, 34, .313; Hinchman, Pittsburgh, 40, .304; Miller, St. Louis, 42, .302; Killifer, Cincinnati, 36, .301.

Giants' Batting Streak.

The batting streak which has brought four New York batters among the .300 men has raised the Giants to second place in club batting with .261, Cincinnati leading with .266. Saier leads in stolen bases with 12; in runs scored 32, and in total bases with 92. His long hits include 15 doubles, 3 triples and 5 home runs. In homes, however, he is behind Cravath, Philadelphia, who is credited with 9.

Pitchers in the National league's .700 division are: Pierce, Chicago, won 5 and lost 0; Meadows, St. Louis, 4 and 0; Standridge, Chicago, 2 and 0; Ritter, New York, 1 and 0; Mamaux, Pittsburgh, 6 and 1; Mayer, Philadelphia, 8 and 2; Coombs, Brooklyn, 4 and 1; Ragan, Boston, Schorr, Cincinnati, and Smith, Brooklyn, 3 and 1 each; Alexander, Philadelphia, 8 and 3; Dell, Brooklyn, 7 and 3.

Magee Still Fred. Leader.

Again Manager Lee Magee of Brooklyn leads the Federal league batters, and Bennie Kauff, one of his privates, is second. Magee's average for 33 games is .380 and Kauff's .369 for 31 games. They are tied for the stolen base honors of the league with 15 each. Other ".300 hitters" of the Federal league are: Campbell, Newark, .367; Tinker, Chicago, .356.

Paddock in Association.

Paddock, St. Paul, leads the American association with .404 for 31 games. The ten next: Hulswitt, Columbus, 14, .375; Compton, Kansas City, 38, .370; Gharrity, Minneapolis, 24, .364; Beall, Milwaukee, 40, .352; Lellvelt, Kansas City, 38, .344; Chappell, Milwaukee, 26, .341; Butcher, Indianapolis, 36, .334; Alexander, Kansas City, 17, .328; Gardner, Cleveland, 20, .325; Barbeau, Milwaukee, 40, .325. In team batting, Kansas City leads with .297, and Indianapolis is next with .272. Kelly, Indianapolis, with 14, leads in stolen bases. Compton and Beall are tied for runs scored at 35, and Compton leads in total bases with 84, his drives including 7 doubles, 5 triples and 4 home runs. Paddock, Lellvelt, Riggert of St. Paul and Titus of Kansas City are also credited with 4 homers each.

Topnotch pitchers are Tipple, Indianapolis, won 4 and lost none; Schardt, Indianapolis, 8 and 2; Ellis, Louisville, 4 and 1; R. Williams, St. Paul, 4 and 1; Delhi, Kansas City, 9 and 3; Burk, Indianapolis, 6 and 2; Dougherty, Milwaukee, 3 and 2; Hall, St. Paul, 5 and 2; Reagan, Kansas City, 7 and 3.

Other Leagues.

Manager Jack Dunn of Richmond leads the International league batters with .420, acquired in 10 games. Buffalo is the top in club hitting with .287.

Briscoe Lord, Memphis, has gained first place in the Southern association, batting .358 for 40 games. New Orleans, with .264, leads in club batting.

Lloyd, Lincoln, has wrested the Western league leadership from Lejeune, but his average of .438 has been made in only 10 games, while the Sioux City slugger is credited with .417 for 19 games. Des Moines and Omaha lead in club batting with .285 and .283.

WESTERN LEAGUE IS IN BAD SHAPE

Every Club Five Thousand Short of Meeting Payrolls.

Chicago, June 5.—Norris O'Neill, president of the Western Baseball league, who announced that the players of the league must accept a cut in wages to prevent the league from suspending, said last night that two clubs have agreed to the reduction. Two others, he said, had asked for further information. Only one team refused to consider the plan.

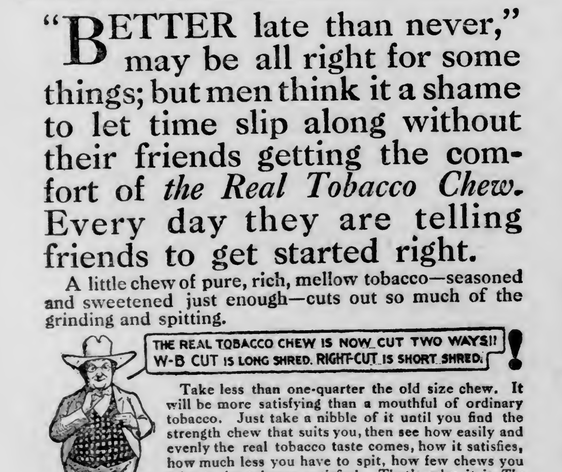

"There is no chance of cutting the league to six clubs, nor will the players work on a percentage basis," said O'Neill. "Rather than that I will apply to the national association for permission to close down. With the season only six weeks advanced, every club in the league is $5,000 short of meeting its payrolls."

CADREAU OUT; BROWN LET GO

Other Changes May Be Made in White Sox; Snow May Sign.

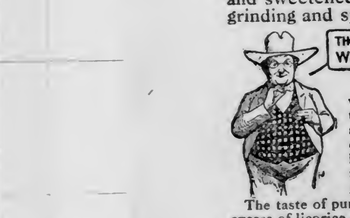

Tin ware, speaking from the standpoint of baseball, is vying with the illustrious Minneapolis Symphony orchestra in the matter of mere volume of sound. Following yesterday's game Chief Cadreau drew his walking papers from the Dooks. Brown has been let out to Superior and there are several other deals pending.

Bill Snow, who climbed telephone poles here all one winter in the employ of a local company, may come on and try his hand at pitching. William

"BETTER late than never," may be all right for some things; but men think it a shame to let time slip along without their friends getting the comfort of the Real Tobacco Chew. Every day they are telling friends to get started right.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!! W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED. RIGHT-CUT IS SHORT SHRED.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

"Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste."

THIS YOUNGSTER IS SOME PILL-BUSTER

BENNIE KAUFF.

Bennie Kauff is now leading the batters of the Federal league. He is also leading the batters of all leagues. The record of this young player is a sensational one, and had he been able to remain in organized baseball there are some followers of the pastime who believe he would have shared honors with Cobb, Speaker, Jackson and some of the great sluggers of the two major leagues.

started with the Grand Forks team this spring, but his place on the team has evidently been filled, for the pitcher has written to the local management that he is a free agent.

When he started with Winona, Snow was heralded as a wonder, and was ranked with the illustrious group of the boy phenoms. Last year Bill went bad. That form is not burning up the league with his fast ball this season is shown by the fact that Grand Forks has evidently let him go.

However, a change of vintage sometimes helps a ball player. Maybe Bill would go good here.

Darby is still busy on the wires. Pitchers are what the Dook is after. The Irish Orator insists that outside of the box he has a real ball team.

In the event of rain today a doubleheader will be staged at the park tomorrow. Virginia has but two more games to play here.

WITH THE AMATEURS

The Gordon Hats, a 17-year-old baseball team, defeated the Masonics, a 14-year-old team, by the score of 17 to 14. The Masonics had only seven men in the field, but despite this handicap played a fast game and at times outplayed their opponents. The Masonics desire a game with any 14-year-old team of the city.

If rain today prevents the playing of games in the Duluth Amateur Baseball league, the games will be played off tomorrow or some day during the coming week.

METROPOLITAN IS DOWN TO FINALS

Travis, Playing Great Golf, Matched With Experienced Amateur.

Rye, N. Y., June 5.—Walter J. Travis of Garden City, L. I., thrice a national champion, and John G. Anderson, formerly of Boston, but now of New York, were matched in the final round for the Metropolitan golf championship today on the links of the Apawamis club.

At no time in his long golfing career has the veteran appeared to better advantage than during this tournament. He was wonderfully accurate on the greens in every match and outputted all the open entrants.

Anderson, although not so well known as Travis, has had a great deal of experience at the game. He held the Massachusetts state amateur title twice and two years ago was runner-up to Jerome D. Travers in the national championship tournament.

Travis scored a decisive victory over Oswald Kirkby of Englewood, N. J., last year's Metropolitan winner, in the semi-final, which he won 6 up and 5 to play. Travis was three up at the turn, having gone out in 35, just one stroke under par, and on the next four holes, his play was so faultless that Kirkby had no chance to stall off defeat.

WESTERN TRACK STARS IN URBANA MEET

Urbana, Ill., June 5.—Athletic stars of the West competed here today in the fifteenth annual renewal of the big nine track and field championships. There were 350 athletes, the pick of twenty-two universities, entered in the events.

The University of Chicago led in the qualifying races yesterday, placing six men in the preliminaries of the quarter and half mile. Wisconsin was close with three men in those races.

Chicago and Wisconsin are conceded to have the call on first honors in the meet and Illinois and Missouri are contenders for third place.

Dismond's quarter mile in 50 1-5 was the best performance of the day. The negro won his trial easily.

Meyer of Depauw, hitherto unheralded, took second place in the half-mile trials.

AUSTRALIA IS ONE OF THE WORLD'S SPORT CENTERS

Many Wonderful Ring Fighters Have Been Developed In the Land On the Other Side of the World; Another Crop of Fighters Is Being Schooled.

By Portus Baxter.

"Australia is the greatest sporting country the sun ever shone on," said Tommy Burns, the former world's heavyweight pugilist, in a conversation with Otto Floto, sporting editor of the Denver Post, a few days ago.

Tommy should know. He has been there many times, and it was there he lost his title to Jack Johnson.

After his fight with Billy Murray, Eddie McGoorty was asked for an explanation of his wonderful improvement. He replied: "It's hard for me to say whether I've improved a lot or not, but I do know that I owe my splendid physical condition to the new system of training I learned over in Australia. I am in better shape than ever before in my life."

McGoorty explained that in Australia they made him do his boxing before he did his road work, a reversal of the customary order of things in this country.

Box While Fresh.

"They wanted me to box while I was fresh," explained McGoorty, "before exercises had dulled by mind and muscles. In this way I retained by speed when boxing in the ring."

It is McGoorty's opinion which is nothing more than a confirmation of what Floto has said in recent time, that the United States must be careful if it hopes to continue its supremacy in boxing.

"The Australians are coming fast, and won't be denied," concludes McGoorty.

Neither Floto nor McGoorty intended to convey the impression that Australia is not already one of the greatest countries in the world for sport. Critics of sport in this country often make flamboyant statements about how schoolboys and college students place athletes before studies, forgetting that a sound body contributes materially to a sound mind. They mean all right, but are so narrow in their views that they injure rather than help along the very things which are good citizenship and healthy bodies.

Any one who has an idea that we are running riot in sports in this country would be astonished if they visited Australia for first-hand information or as a substitute examined the papers published in that country.

Papers Strong on Sports.

Not only do the daily papers of Australia devote many columns to sports of all kinds, but they have large and flourishing weekly papers devoted exclusively to sports and theatrical affairs. And what is more, these exclusively sporting publications have immense circulations and are very prosperous. Once in a while the Australian papers reach the Seattle newspaper offices, and it is always a pleasure to examine them. They have experts in every line of sport, and go into details more than they do in the United States, where condensation is becoming a fad. In Seattle there is quite a colony of people who have formerly lived in Australia. They follow the course of events in their old home closely, and, believe me, have good reading, both in current affairs and gossip of things past. Not long ago Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Hittman of 1907 Fifteenth avenue handed me a bunch of Australian papers, and I could not but be impressed with something akin to the idea put in concrete form by Tommy Burns in his talk with Otto Floto.

Outside of baseball, yachting, and, possibly, power boat racing, Australia can turn out statistics both as to class of sport and attendance that would make us sit up and take notice. In horse racing they are in the lead, excepting when it comes to the harness class with them, save in our distinctive college game. We have a lot of fine swimmers, but I do not think any one would go as far as to say that we can claim superiority.

Some States Conserving.

A good many of the states are recognizing boxing as a legitimate sport, and, in so doing, throwing out safeguards that should prove a great help in preserving a sport that should be encouraged instead of placed under the ban of the law. The boxing match of the present day should not be classed with the prize fights of old, but a certain class of people insist on using ancient history to create prejudice. The people like boxing, and they should be permitted to enjoy it under sane regulations.

Australia is encouraging boxing and it is not a wild dream to picture that country again sending out men like Peter Jackson, Bob Fitzsimmons, Frank P. Slavin and George Dawson, real champions.

The present-day followers of pugilism hear little about George Dawson, but an old-timer will tell you that he was really one of the greatest fighters of his weight that ever stepped in a ring. It seems to me that he is now located in Chicago, but I may be wrong in this. He was born at Dark Corners, N. S. W., forty-eight years ago. During his active ring career, which extended from 1885 to 1893, he was never knocked out and lost only one battle. In 1891 Tom Williams was credited with a four-round decision over Dawson, but when they were rematched Williams forfeited $100 and left the country. Dawson was recognized as the lightweight champion of Australia when he landed in San Francisco Feb. 9, 1892. In the same year he won three battles by knockouts, the list comprising Billy Gallagher in forty-two rounds, Danny Needham in twenty-nine and "Doc" O'Connell in twenty.

Ryan Afraid of Dawson.

By this time Dawson had entirely outgrown the lightweight class, as evinced by the opponents just mentioned, and he was classed as a welterweight. He was matched with the famous Tommy Ryan for a $6,000 purse at New Orleans, but the fight did not take place. Pugilistic history has always had it that this was one match Tommy sidestepped. Later on they met in a six-round no-decision bout in Chicago.

There is no need of reciting the achievements of Peter Jackson and Bob Fitzsimmons. Frank P. Slavin has been better known in Alaska during recent years than in Australia or the boxing centers of the United States, yet he is entitled to be named among the greatest fighters turned out in Australia. He was born in Maitland, N. S. W., in 1862. He commenced to be prominent in his native country as a fighter about 1885, and climbed the ladder steadily for three years. Then he decided to extend his field of operation, and went to England, where he easily beat Bill Goode and Frank Young. Then came his famous fight with Jem Smith at Bruges, Belgium, It was a bare-knuckle affair, and went down in the records as a fourteen-round draw, but Slavin was given the purse, $2,500 a side, and was declared champion of England.

Slavin Better Than Smith.

Slavin proved a better man than Smith and was winning when a gang of toughs under the lead of Jem Carney, broke up the fight. They slugged Slavin, using clubs and "knuckle-dusters."

About this point in his career Slavin was at his best, as he proceeded to knock out Joe McAuliffe, the famous California heavyweight, in two rounds, in London, and handed the same medicine to Jack Ellis. Between the McAuliffe and Ellis fights Slavin so far forgot business sense as to give Charlie Mitchell, one of England's greatest pugs, a good beating in a barroom fight.

Slavin first came to New York in 1891 and his first appearance was in a sparring exhibition at Madison Square Garden. His first opponent of the evening was Charlie Mitchell, with whom he had been reconciled.

Jake Kilrain was his first opponent after the introductory stuff, and he beat Kilrain in nine rounds. His first serious setback was March 30, 1892, when he was knocked out by Peter Jackson before the National club in London. They fought for $10,000 and the championship of England and Australia. It is only fair to Slavin to point out that he weighed only 185 pounds, while Jackson tipped the scales at 202.

The next time Slavin entered the ring it was against Jim Hall. Hall knocked out Slavin in seven rounds. The last battle on record is where Slavin lost to Nick Burley (now dead) in two rounds, at Victoria, B. C., Dec. 7, 1907.

The last I heard of Slavin he was living in Vancouver, B. C.

Cleverest of Them All.

Picking one man as the greatest boxer that ever stepped into a ring is going pretty far, but many critics in past years have this distinction to Young Griffo, who was born in Sydney, Australia, in 1871. Griffo's real name was Albert Griffiths. Before he came to the United States in 1893 he had won or drawn in about forty battles, some of which were under the old bare-knuckle rules.

Griffo's first fight in this country was with Young Scotty in Chicago, and he won on points in six rounds. He fought draws with Solly Smith, Tommy White, Johnny Van Heest and George Lavigne, all prominent among the small boxers of those days. At this time the pride of Boston was Ike Weir, an unusually clever boxer, who figured as the featherweight champion about 1890, and was usually called the "Belfast Spider." Griffo outpointed Weir in eight rounds and a little later got a decision over Billy Murphy in twenty. The first losing venture for Griffo was with Jack McAuliffe, who is well known in Seattle and who is still credited with retiring from the ring undefeated. The record shows that McAuliffe was given a one-round decision over Griffo before the Seattle Athletic club, Aug. 27, 1894.

A Memorable Battle.

Old-time followers of the ring game say that the twenty-five-round draw battle at Coney Island, Jan. 19, 1895, between Griffo and George Dixon was easily one of the greatest scientific exhibitions ever seen. In the same year Griffo held "Kid" Lavigne, the lightweight champion, to a twenty-round draw and did the same with Joe Gans in ten rounds. Four years later Gans outpointed him in eight rounds. The odd thing about Griffo's record is that he was on the losing end of a three-round fight with Adam Ityan in 1897. Ryan's name is not well remembered. After Griffo had so completely wrecked himself that he was no longer a drawing card.

Seattle people always remember Joe Goddard, whose career toward the heavyweight championship was suddenly stopped by Denver Ed Smith, of Seattle. Paddy Smith, Denver Ed's brother, is still in business in Seattle.

The Barrier Champion.

Goddard was known as the Barrier Champion. His birthplace was Pyramul, N. S. W., Nov. 25, 1861. He was a six-footer and weighed close to 200 pounds. Early in his career Jim Hall, an Australian that should have been the heavyweight champion, beat him. I do not know whether the story is true, but it has been printed anyway that John L. Sullivan dodged a meeting with Goddard in Australia in 1891, substituting his sparring partner, Jack Ashton, whom Goddard beat in eight rounds.

In 1896 Goddard won from Denver Ed Smith in four rounds. The next year he was knocked out by Starkey in six. He was knocked out by Starkey in six, which made it appear that he was through as a contender for the heavyweight crown. He had the fans guessing the next year by knocking out Peter Maher in one round, but later lost to Kid McCoy in five. Then on lost to Kid McCoy in five. Then in Gus Ruhlin and Sharkey beat him in less than six rounds. All this did strengthen the opinion that he was through, but he went back to Australia and regained prestige, holding Peter Jackson to an eight-round draw and knocking out Joe Choynski twice, each time in four rounds. The last battle with Choynski referred to was for the heavyweight championship of Australia.

In Front Again.

In 1892 Goddard again visited the United States, and opened by knocking out Joe McAuliffe at San Francisco in ten rounds. Next came an eight-round draw in San Francisco with Billy Smith. Goddard and Peter Maher were then matched for a purse of $7,500 before the Coney Island club, and Goddard won by a knockout in three rounds. Once more Goddard was looked upon as the coming champion, and when he was matched with Denver Ed Smith at New Orleans he was a favorite, as he had beaten Smith before in four rounds. I well remember the surprise and joy in Seattle when the news came that Smith had knocked out Goddard in eighteen rounds. Only a short time after his victory Smith came to Seattle and was the center of attraction. It was either Frank or Johnny Clancy that introduced me to Smith, who related his exploit.

Goddard fought only twice in this country after his meeting with Smith. At Roby, Ind., he knocked out W. Kennedy in two rounds. He returned to Australia and in 1894 lost to Harry Laing in twelve rounds for the championship of his native country.

Tommy Tracey Clever.

Living in Portland is Tommy Tracey, another product of Australia. He was one of the cleverest boxers I have ever seen in the ring, and rugged enough to get a couple of draws with Joe Wolcott. From my observation in recent years, Tracey could discount his skill liberally and still be on even terms with men of his weight.

The list of great boxers turned out in Australia has not been exhausted by any means. Dan Creedon should be mentioned. He won the middleweight championship of Australia somewhere in the '90s. Paddy Gorman, George McKenzie, Tom Meadows, Hughey Napier, Abe Willis, Steve O'Donnell and Jim Barron should be added to the list.

The largest track meet ever held in the Northwest was engaged in by representatives of six schools yesterday afternoon on the grounds near the Denfeld high school. As was generally expected, the athletes from Central high carried off the greatest number of points in the affair, although they were closely pressed at all stages by the men from the several other schools. The final total of points gives Central high of Duluth first with 67 points; Superior Central, second, with 40½ points; Denfeld high of Duluth, third, with 11½ points; Cathedral high of Duluth, fourth, with 11 points, and Coleraine and Chisholm high schools tied for fifth place with 5 points each.

Several Thousand Spectators.

The meet was by far the most interesting and exciting affair of its kind that has ever been attempted in Northern Minnesota or Wisconsin. Several thousands of enthusiastic spectators thronged the campus and track of the Denfeld high school, and cheered madly for their favorites, as event after event were concluded in sensational style. There were at first seven schools entered in the meet, but no entries from the Nelson-Dewey high school of Superior made only six. A meet of this kind will probably be an annual affair in years to come, and more schools from the range will then be entered.

Hrutfiord, Star Athlete.

The star of the meet was Skull Hrutfiord, captain of the Duluth Central cinder team. He easily took the individual honors with 23 points, the result of firsts in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and the shot put, seconds in the broad jump and low hurdles, and a third in the discuss throw. The work of Hrutfiord was watched with special interest in that he recently tied for individual state honors at the state meet in Minneapolis. Hrutfiord entered in so many events that he was somewhat exhausted, and he did not make as good marks in some of them as he generally does. In the low hurdles he raced with Malcolm Patterson, the Wisconsin star. Both men cleared the last hurdle exactly even, but Hrutfiord fell just before the finish, and was forced to take second. Hrutfiord took the 100 and 220-yard dashes with ease, beating the pick of the several schools that entered. He was substituted for Hoopes at the last moment in the shot put and won the event. Due to his injury received in the low hurdles race, Hrutfiord was unable to make a good impression in the broad jump, falling far short of the mark with which he won the event at the state meet. He took second place in this event.

Patterson Is Second.

Patterson, the Superior star, took second place for the individual honors. He won both the high and low hurdles, and was also conspicuous in several other events. Lewis of Duluth Central was third with 11 points, Walde of Superior Central, fourth with 10 points; Ferguson of Superior, fifth with 7 points, and L. Mayhew, sixth, with 6 points. The other point winners were as follows: Lipovitz, 5; Kean, 5; Anderson, 5; Kerr, 5; Hart, 5; Nicholson, 5; McCabe, 5; Donald, 3; Stevens, 3; Moore, 3; Peterson, 3; McKay, 3; Sahri, 3; Boyd, 2½; Karon, 1; Plant, 1; Rosborough, ½; Cole, 6; Donalds, ½; Jentoft, ½.

Two Range Schools.

The only range schools to send representatives were Coleraine and Chisholm. Each of these schools was represented by a good man, the former by Kean, and the latter by Lipovitz, both of them taking five points.

All of the events were especially interesting and kept the spectators on edge at all times. Because of the great number of entries it was necessary in several of the events to have some remarkable running, while both Boyd and Lipovitz made some excellent sprints at the finish. The mark of 94 feet chalked up by Ferguson of Superior in the discus throw was especially good. Craig of Central and some of the Denfeld men had done better in practice, but they could not get their swing in the meet. The hurdles are a comparatively new form of track athletics at the Head of the Lakes and these races thrilled the big crowd considerably. The running of Hrutfiord was the decided feature of the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Paine, the Central high champ, who has a record of 5 feet 6 inches in the high jump, was ineligible to participate, and Lewis and Anderson, also of Duluth Central, tied for first in this event. Kerr led a large field in the 440-yard run and made a beautiful sprint at the finish. McKay, also of Central, was a close second. The feature of the half-mile run was the work of McCabe, the local Central star, who started easy, but soon led the large field, and finished with a commanding lead. The relay race proved quite a feature, the Duluth Central dashers being too much for the other contestants. The winning team was composed to Kerr, Karon, Lewis and Stevens. They finished with a lot to spare. The pole vault proved to be one of the most interesting events of the day. There was a large list of entries, but it soon settled to a fight between Nicholson of Cathedral high and Sahri of Superior. After several ties on hard marks, Nicholson emerged the winner, with Sahri a hard loser. A summary of the various events, the winners and the records is given below:

Summary of Events.

220-yard dash: Hruitford (Central), first; Stevens (Central), second; Walde (Superior), third; Patterson (Superior), fourth. Time 23 1-5 seconds.

440-yard run: Kerr (Central), first; McKay (Central), second; Hart, (Cathedral), third; Rosborough (Denfeld) and Cole (Cathedral), tie, fourth. Time 59 3-5s.

Half-mile run: McCabe (Central), first; Hart (Cathedral), second; Lipovitz, (Chisholm), third; L. Mayhew, (Denfeld), fourth. Time 2:20 3-5.

Mile run: L. Mayhew (Denfeld), first; Boyd (Central), second; Lepovitz (Chisholm), third. Time 5 minutes 7 seconds.

Relay race: Won by the Duluth Central team: Kerr, Karon, Lewis, Stevens; Superior Central, second; Denfeld, third.

120-yard high hurdles: Patterson (Superior), first; Walde (Superior), second; Lewis (Central), third; Anderson (Central), fourth. Time 19 1-5 seconds.

220-yard low hurdles: Patterson (Superior), first; Hrutfiord (Central), second; Donald (Denfeld), third. Time 28 1-5 seconds.

Shot put: Hrutfiord (Central), first; Peterson (Central), second; Ferguson (Superior), third; Moore (Superior), fourth. Distance 35 ft. 2 in.

Discus throw: Ferguson (Superior), first; Kean (Coleraine), second; Hrutfiord (Central), third; Donald (Denfeld), fourth. Distance 94 feet.

High jump: Lewis (Central), first; Anderson (Central), second; Moore (Superior), third; Plant (Superior), fourth. Height, 5 feet.

Broad jump: Lewis (Central), first; Hrutfiord (Central), second; Kean (Coleraine), third; Patterson (Superior) and Donalds (Cathedral), tied for fourth. Distance 18 ft. 2 in.

Pole vault: Nicholson (Cathedral), first; Sahri (Superior), second; Walde (Superior), third; Lipovitz (Chisholm) and Jentoft (Central), tied for fourth. Height 8 ft. 8 in.

TITLE PLAY AT FINALS.

Missouri Golf Championship Between St. Joseph and St. Louis Men.

St. Louis, Mo., June 5.—The Missouri state golf championship for 1915 lies between A. W. Warren of the St. Joseph Country club and Cy More of the Normandie Country club, St. Louis. The deciding match will be played here today. The semi-finals were played in a rainstorm.

In a 19-hole game yesterday, Warren took the semi-final honors from Dwight F. Davis, former national racquet champion and donor of the international tennis trophy. Warren won one up.

More's victory from Potter followed a match almost equally exciting as the Warren-Davis match. More won, 2 up.

BASEBALL POOL MEN ARE UNDER ARREST

Philadelphia, June 5.—Three alleged agents of a baseball pool, in which it is said 50,000 Philadelphians gamble weekly, were arrested yesterday, charged with violating the gambling laws of this state. Daniel Lucas of Morristown, Pa., who is accused of being the general agent for Pennsylvania of the Baseball News company of New York, was taken into custody at a cigar store, which the police say was the local headquarters for the syndicate. There thousands of coupons for next week's play were found in his possession, according to the detectives.

Edward Witthuhn and Barton Weaver, who live at the address where arrests were made, are the other prisoners. Lucas, according to the police, admitted that he had secured a three months' leave of absence from the railroad where he was employed to handle the pool tickets for the New York concern, which, he said, is backed by two New York state senators.

Eastern Team Chosen.

New York, June 5.—The four Eastern states tennis players who will compete for the Panama-Pacific championships at San Francisco have been named. R. Norris Williams, II, Philadelphia, will captain the team. Watson M. Washburn, New York, George M. Church, Englewood, N. J., and Dean Mathey, Cranford, N. J., are the other members of the quartet which was selected by R. D. Wrenn, George T. Adee and Henry W. Slocum, the committee of the United States Lawn Tennis association. The first two named are Harvard men and Church and Mathey are Princeton.

Ball Player Seriously Hurt.

London, Ont., June 5.—Elmer Hoch, first baseman of the London Canadian league team, was seriously injured in a motorcycle accident near here last night and may never be able to play ball again. The machine, carrying Hoch and Johnny Murphy, shortstop of the Guelph team, collided with a farmer's vehicle, one of the shafts of which penetrated Hoch's left shoulder. He is in a serious condition. Murphy was badly bruised and shaken up.

Larson Back to Forks.

Topeka, Kan., June 5.—The Omaha Western league club yesterday unconditionally released Pitcher Closman with the club for three seasons, and returned Pitcher Larson to the Grand Forks club of the Northern league, from which he had been secured under an optional agreement.

Room for Improvement.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 5.—Coach Rice finished a fifteen-mile practice row with the Columbia crews last evening. Rice indicated his belief that there was plenty of room for improvement in all three crews which are to take part in the inter-collegiate regatta three weeks hence.

FUND FOR INJURED AUTOMOBILE RACERS

Harroun Wants Percentage of Gross Receipts Set Aside.

That some definite plan should be put into effect that will provide for the care of race drivers and riding mechanics, injured in the regularly sanctioned events of the season, is the belief of Chief Engineer Ray Harroun of the Maxwell Motor company.

Mr. Harroun suggests that a direct path to such an end would be the establishment of a national insurance fund comprised of 1 per cent of the gross receipts of the various meetings, this fund to be administered by a commission, representing the drivers, mechanics and promoters, as well as the entrants in the various meetings.

The cost of accident insurance for racing men is so high as to make it virtually prohibitive. Vital statistics in this line are still based on the hazards of many years ago.

At present, participants are compelled to waive, with their entry, any right to recover damages as the result of their competition. In the absence of any organization representing their rights, drivers and mechanics conform invariably to this custom. As a result, injury has, in many cases, thrown the victim on his own resources for a long period during which he is without earning capacity.

"My former team-mate, Joe Dawson, hasn't been able to drive in a race since he was hurt at Indianapolis a year ago," declares Harroun. "Two years ago, Jack Tower went to the hospital for a long stay, in similar circumstances. Both these men are practically well again, and both were able to command good care, in which detail they were more fortunate than many other drivers and mechanics.

"Any veteran racing man can name cases where men either died or remain crippled today through their inability to pay for expert attention, after injury. In some cases, hospital expenses have been paid through a collection, taken by other drivers and mechanics."

The percentage suggested by Mr. Harroun should, in the belief of experienced racing men, be ample to care for all hospital expenses. It would undoubtedly in time create a fund large enough to serve as an endowment, from which sums could also be paid to dependent relatives of drivers or mechanics who lose their lives in the precarious sport of automobile racing.

Undoubtedly, the first racing organization to announce such a provision will provide an opening wedge for general recognition of some such movement. The organization which gets first in the matter will also be making a concession sure to win the lasting good will of all the participants in automobile racing.

NEW SALES MANAGER.

Chalmers People Add to Their Staff; Percy Owen Promoted.

Last Tuesday Paul Smith, who is perhaps as widely known to the motor car dealers as any automobile man in the country, was added to the Chalmers organization in the capacity of sales manager.

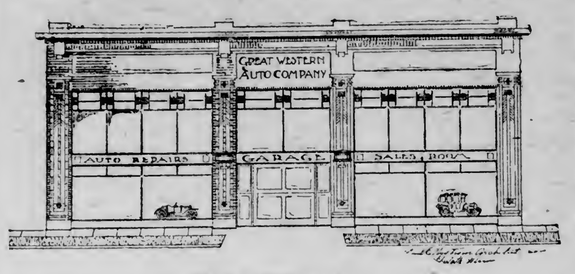

Percy Owen, who held this position for some years, was promted to the newly-created office of general sales manager. Mr. Owen will co-operate with Lee Olwell, vice president, and Paul Smith, the new sales manager, in forming the Chalmers council of war. Mr. Owen, in addition to helping direct sales policies of the company, will have sole charge of foreign sales and will supervise the Chalmers service department, directing its development in accordance with a broader policy, which has just been decided upon.

As sales manager in direct charge of the domestic field, Mr. Smith will be thoroughly at home. He has been identified with automobile activities in many capacities since 1906, during which time he not only became acquainted with over 4,000 motor car dealers, but his sales campaigns with the Studebaker corporation and the Lozier Motor Car company brought unusually good results.

In the Chalmers organization Mr. Smith will direct the energies of the sales force and will come into close personal contact with its dealers.

Another change in keeping with its general policy of expansion will be the discontinuance of the service department as a separate unit and its merging into the sales department under the direction of Mr. Owen.

NEW GARAGE AND ASSEMBLING PLANT WILL BE BUILT HERE

THE NEW GARAGE.

C. E. Kling, who has recently arrived in Duluth, has just completed plans for the erection of a $50,000 garage and assembling plant in the East end. The site has not yet been announced but it will be in the East Superior street automobile district.

The building will have a frontage of 100 feet and will extend 140 feet to the alley. It will be two stories high, of brick and concrete.

LONG TOUR IN CADILLAC.

Seattle Motorists Drove to Old Mexico and Back.

Touring from Seattle, Wash., to Old Mexico and back in a Cadillac eight, a party of residents of Washington had good opportunity to observe the behavior of the car under all sorts of driving conditions. The distance covered was 4,150 miles and the elevations ranged from 52 feet below to 2,000 feet above sea level. On a number of occasions as much as 100 miles were made without stopping the machine.

The car negotiated the mountains with marked ease, and practically the whole of the Imperial valley of California, where many miles of deep sand were encountered, was traversed on high gear.

The location of the carburetor and ignition distributor, high between the cylinder blocks, were particularly appreciated when it became necessary to ford the flooded Santa Maria river. Men with horses were on hand to take motor cars through the stream, and just before the Cadillac came up, two cars had tried to cross under their own power and stalled because the water was high enough to reach carburetor or magneto, or both. The Cadillac was driven through the stream without trouble because of the high position of the carburetor and ignition apparatus.

PURE WHITE CAR IN DULUTH.

Franklin Agent Has Auto Painted for Duluth Woman.

Sometime next week Duluth will have a pure-white automobile operating on its streets.

J. T. Peacha, Jr., of the Interstate Auto company announced yesterday that a Franklin car, especially painted white for Mrs. J. A. Todd of this city, will arrive here within a few days. The purchase was made several weeks ago, he said.

The new machine will be the only white car in operation in Duluth.

Lanigan Buys a Franklin.

John T. Lanigan purchased a Franklin car this week. Delivery will be made within a few days, it was announced yesterday by the local agents.

FACTS ABOUT THE ANNUAL OUTPUT OF FORD FACTORY

The production of the Ford factory for the fiscal year ending July 31, 1915, is expected to be 300,000 cars.

About 125,500 tons of steel will be used in the production of these 300,000 Ford cars. This is enough to furnish all the steel required to make steel ranges for every kitchen in New York city, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit, Kansas City, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

A total of 1,725,000 square feet of plate glass is used in a year in the making of Ford windshields; enough to fill 115,000 windows, or to give ample light to 5,500 average homes.

Nearly 3,000,000 pounds of aluminum are used annually for the transmission and magneto cases. If made into kitchen utensils, this would supply the culinary departments of 300,000 homes.

About 51,000,000 square feet of upholstering are required annually in Ford cars. This would make 937,500 five-piece parlor suites. 7,480,470 pounds of hair are used in the upholstering. This would make 498,698 of the regulation hair mattresses, enough to sleep 997,396 persons each night.

A total of 34,633,500 square feet of rubber cloth material is used in the making of tops. If made into raincoats it would supply one each for 1,300,000 men.

There are 1,500,000 lamps required for the annual output, and 1,200,000 each of wheels and tires. The electric headlights in a year's output of Ford cars represent a total of 9,600,000 candle power, equal to 9,600 ordinary arc street lights. This is enough to illuminate a city of thirty-one square miles area, or a population of 750,000. The city of Detroit with a population of nearly 600,000 has but 7,471 arc street lights.

Exactly 2,661,120 feet of vanadium steel shafting and axles; 1,251,360 feet of exhaust pipe, 9,028,800 feet of tubular radius rods will be used.

About 13,650,000 square feet of sheet metal are used for guards and fenders, an annual consumption equivalent to a flat surface of 313 acres.

A total of 6,000,000 pounds of brass is used annually in making Ford radiators, and considerable more for bushing and other parts.

This year 1,440 inches of copper tubes will be used in a single radiator, or a total of 36,000,000 feet of copper tubing for radiators alone.

About 4,200,000 pounds of steel are required for magnets for Ford magnetos.

Nearly 10,625 miles of wiring are used annually in Ford magnetos.

A total of 4,359 pounds of solder is used daily, a total of 1,307,700 pounds annually.

About 2,682,000 square feet of galvanized steel goes into gasoline tanks for Ford cars in one year.

It will require 56,218 freight cars to bring in the supplies and carry away the manufactured product for this year's operation of the Ford factory. 39,500 of these freight cars will be outgoing, equal to 790 trains of fifty cars each, or the departure daily of a loaded train every three hours.

The facilities for loading cars are such that two complete trains may be loaded at one time within the plant.

The total accumulated force of 300,000 Ford cars is 6,000,000-horse power. The modern railway locomotive is of 3,850-horse power. The concentrated energy of 300,000 Ford cars is sufficient to pull 6,232 trains of fifty freight cars each, at an average speed of twenty-five miles an hour.

Running in line 430 feet apart, this year's output of Ford cars would encircle the world (26,000 miles) and every driver would be within hailing distance of the car preceding him.

RECEPTIONS DELAY HIGHWAY TOURISTS

Crowds Welcome "Movie" Camera Representatives on Lincoln Thoroughfare.

The enthusiastic receptions accorded the "motorcade" of moving picture representatives of the Lincoln Highway association are making progress extremely slow for the three automobiles. Every city and town has arrayed itself in its best bib and tucker and brought forth its most prominent citizens so that the camera will record its most charming side. In several instances the back track has been taken to catch pictures of civic scenes that were impossible on the first visit.

Mayor Blankenburg welcomed the three machines, one of which is a Studebaker, to Philadelphia in a speech delivered in the court of the city hall. The camera could not record his words, but it caught him in the act of telling the tourists what a national force for good he considered the highway.

Return trips were made to Newark, Princeton and Trenton. The last word from the Studebaker press car was that the party was hard at work filming the battlefield of Gettysburg.

FACTORIES ANNOUNCE 1916 MODELS

The biggest sensation in automobile circles so far this year is the cut of $325 in the price of the Overland.

The largest four-cylinder Overland produced this year will sell for $760.

Specifications show that, better in many particulars, it is otherwise practically the famous Overland model 80, which last season sold for $1,075. It is lighter in weight, has more power, an improved starting and lighting system, one-man top, headlight dimmer and divan upholstery.

Cecil E. Gibson, formerly treasurer of the Gibson Automobile company of Indianapolis, and until recently general manager and one of the owners of the Empire Automobile company of the same city, has disposed of his interests in those concerns and formed the Madison Motors company to manufacture light four and six-cylinder cars.

A plant, with a large tract of land, has been purchased at Anderson, Ind., and already the 1916 six-cylinder models at $1,375 are being manufactured and shipped. A 112-inch wheel base four at $760 will follow in a few weeks.

A heavy production of these fours is planned and bare newspaper announcements of their advent into the market have brought a flood of inquiries from all parts of the country.

Prompted, no doubt, by the success their "42" has met with during the past year, the Olds Motor works are making still further advances in the moderate priced field, announcing for the 1916 season two lightweight cars, an eight and a four, both weighing well under 3,000 pounds, the former listing at $1,295 and the latter at $1,095.

• • •

In external appearance the new 1916 12-cylinder car retains all of the well-known Packard characteristics. It looks much like previous models, except that the hood is shorter, the radiator tapered to conform with it, and the running boards set two inches nearer to the ground. The reduced length of the hood permits of a shorter wheelbase.

The Haynes Automobile company of Kokomo, Ind., has just announced the new 1916 Haynes light six cars, which consist of two models with three different body styles. Model 34 is finished in a five-passenger touring car listing at $1,385, and a three-passenger roadster listing at $1,485. The wheelbase is 121 inches and the weight is 2,950 pounds. The model 35 is finished in a seven-passenger body and has a wheelbase of 127 inches with a weight of 3,050 pounds.

• • •

The Lozier company is preparing a big surprise, but it will be rather late in the summer before any announcements will be made, according to Samuel Frank, general manager.

HORSE "HAS BEEN" FOR DELIVERY WORK

Motor Truck Has Proven Its Economy and Efficiency.

"The constantly increasing use of motor trucks is due to the fact that business men who take the pains to study their haulage problems must invariably conclude that efficiency and economy can only be achieved by sending Dobbin 'back to the farm,'" says J. T. Peacha, Jr., local agent for the KisselKar.

"Not that the horse hasn't still his place in the world's work. He has. But, as a sole reliance in delivery service he is permanently and definitely a 'has been.' He hasn't speed, the strength or the stamina to keep up with the demands of the time. And when all the items are figured up he is also more expensive to maintain.

"Some business men do not yet see beyond the fact that a motor truck costs more than horses to start with. They do not stop to consider the greater carrying and ground-covering capacity of the truck—for instance, the fact that a truck will travel twenty-one to twenty-five miles while its horse-hauled carrying equivalent is going seven or eight miles.

"It is a common thing for a KisselKar truck to travel 15,000 to 20,000 miles a year and they could do three times that if used beyond the usual eight or nine hours. On the other hand, it is a mighty good horse, as every one knows, that will do 5,000 miles a year."

THE SONG O' THE FORD

By RICHARD N. ELLIOTT.

I have looked at the canopied coaches that ride
Like a ship of the gods on the sea,
And the swaths of their cutting are heavy and wide,
Like a bungalow out on a spree;
I have heard of their glory in story and screed,
But the more of their glory I scan
The better I know that the car that I need
Is a car that will work for a man.

I am not of the gods; I reside on the earth;
I am fond of the neighborhood, too,
And I want a machine that will render its worth
In the things that I want it to do;
And the ship of the gods may be good for the glink
With a million or so in his hoard,
But I know what I know, and I think what I think,
And I think I will get me a Ford.

I will get it, and settle, and put it to use,
And the ships of the gods may cavort;
They may run them on a gallon of juice—
But the Ford gets there first—on a quart.
They may smile at the little machine that I run,
They may laugh, if they like to, and can,
But the car that I want for myself is the one.
That is worth what it costs to a man.

Joke a Ford and you joke at the sands of seas
And the leaves when the forests are full;
When a bull rushes into a nest full of bees
Is the joke on the bees or the bull?
They are common—for everyone has 'em but me,
And I feel pretty lonesome and bored,
And I want what will be what I want it to be,
So I'm going to buy me a Ford.

CHAPLIN A MOTORIST.

Charles Chaplin, the odd comedian, so popular with movie fans, is an ardent motorist and passes the greater part of his leisure time enjoying the magnificence of nature from the seat of a KisselKar. Edna Purviance, the pretty girl, frequently seen in the Chaplin films, is likewise a "motor bug" as are most of those who make up the big California colony of "shadow actors."

SAVING CAR SPACE SHIPPING AUTOS

Ford Crew Solves Problem and Makes Fast Time, Too.

Putting six or seven automobiles into a single freight car doesn't sound like much of a trick at first, but some little ingenuity is required. And not much time is left for figuring when the freight car is to be loaded complete in twenty minutes' time. At the Ford factory, Detroit, Mich., the men in charge of the shipping of Ford cars have solved the problem, and it's mighty interesting to watch the numerous gangs filling cars. The bodies are shipped separate from the chassis, being stood on end in one-half of the car and protected from dust by coverings. In the small spaces between are placed packages containing various equipment.

The chassis are placed in the other end of the car, the first one being carried in, minus the wheels, and placed in a diagonal position. Brackets of cast iron, for holding the axle to the floor, are made in the foundry. The front axle rests on the floor, and the rear axle rests against the opposite wall near the top of the car. A block with a hole which just fits the axle holds it against the wall. The next chassis is brought in and placed with its front axle opposite the first one. In this way the chasses alternate until the car is full. The space in the center of the car contains the fenders and other removable parts of the equipment, so that when a train of fifty or more freight cars pulls out to make room for another each car is well filled with Ford automobiles. Two gangs, composed of six or eight men each, fill each car. The first group place the bodies in the freight cars, while the second remove the wheels and place the frames in position. Other men, working in groups of two and three, complete the loading and close the car.

"ALL YEAR CAR" CONTINUES POPULAR

"The all-year car continues to figure in a majority of KisselKar sales," says J. T. Peacha, Jr., local agent. "We thought that when spring came, interest in the detachable sedan top would wane, but the fact remains, surprising as it may seem, that most purchasers buy this top either for immediate or fall delivery. Of course it's good judgment, but the public does not always exhibit the same far-sightedness.

"The all-year car will, naturally, continue as one of the big arguments for the Kissel line. It is an unquestionable success with the public and has no real competition. It looks equally well in either its open or closed form. It shows a great saving over the former cost of continuous summer and winter driving. So that with handsome appearance, perfect comfort, complete appointments, mechanical efficiency, and less operating expense as well as first cost, the vogue of the all-year car will naturally thrive."

SIGHT-SEEING AUTO TOURS INCREASING

National Clearing House Getting More Inquiries Than Ever This Year.

Washington, D. C., June 5.—America is already feeling the effect of an enormous increase in automobile touring over previous years. The figures up to June 1 have reached a volume without precedent in any previous year's records. This information comes from the national clearing-house for automobile touring, the American Automobile association with headquarters here.

Just as straws show the direction of the wind, so do many of the unusual requests for touring routes demonstrate that there are many new incentives that are bringing about this increased travel.

One that has become rather prominent within the last week because of the time of the year, is the number of requests for route information between the East and the West on the part of those who have planned to make the trip with sons and daughters who are attending the various preparatory schools and colleges in the East. Heretofore the home going of the students has been by train, but this year the spirit of touring has so increased that it has brought about a desire and fulfillment to make the trip by automobile.

Another point showing the increasing interest in more general touring are the requests for data through sections that have formerly had but little attention. Many of these inquiries come from those who previously confined their summer touring to the northwest section of the country but are now looking for variants that they may become equally familiar with other sections famed in colonial and subsequent history. Some of this area is today travelable but even after the roads have become settled, during the summer, there remain many miles which must be put in better condition before touring can become a really definite proposition. Much road building has been done and it must be said for the various authorities that a great deal more is now planned and will be carried out this year. One of these embraces a circuit in Virginia that will take in most of the renowned battlefields of the Civil war that heretofore were practically isolated from the tourist.

INTERCOLLEGIATE RACE.

Newspaper Association Plans to Give Transcontinental Contest.

New York, June 5.—An intercollegiate transcontinental automobile race has been planned for next summer by the Eastern College Newspaper association, according to an announcement made at Columbia university. Cars from every college and university in the country will compete. The start is scheduled to be made about July 1 and stops will be made at the Panama-Pacific fair.

The race is planned more as an endurance test for the college drivers and their cars rather than as a speed test.

STUDEBAKER MAY RETIRE

Last of Original Founders of Company Will Resign.

John M. Studebaker, the last of the old Studebakers who founded Studebaker Brothers' Manufacturing company, soon will retire as chairman of the board of the corporation, according to an announcement made by Frederick S. Fish, president of the company, who will be chosen to take Mr. Studebaker's place. A. R. Erskine, at present first vice president and treasurer, will be made president, and the position he now holds will be abolished, it is believed.

Despite the fact that he is 83 years old, Mr. Studebaker is at his desk every morning and takes a great interest in the affairs of the corporation which was founded by himself and his four brothers. He will retain a large amount of stock. He is a resident of South Bend, Ind. For many years he has been an active leader in Indiana affairs.

DONT'S FOR MOTORISTS

Don't drive a car until you are old enough to have good, ordinary horse sense.

Don't look around when your hat blows off.

Don't try to kiss the woman in the seat beside you.

Don't go to sleep while driving.

Don't trust one hand to do the guiding.

Don't try to make up lost time by speeding down hill.

Don't run at night without lamps.

Don't delay putting on the chains when the roads get greasy.

Don't forget a "stop, look and listen" before crossing a railway track.

MOTORCYCLE NOTES

One hundred and seventeen riders will participate in the coming coast-to-coast motorcycle relay race which is to start from New York city about July 19. The cross-country course has been divided into thirty-nine relays, each covering approximately ninety miles. Every possible precaution is being taken to prevent the loss of a single instant in hurrying the message from President Wilson across the continent to San Francisco, in the shortest possible time.

Three riders are to be appointed for each relay—the first to carry the message, the second to continue with the dispatch in case of accident to the first, and the third to take up the trail should both of the others be put out of the running. Every participant is supposed to know thoroughly the portion of the course which he is to cover, so that he will be able to make the quickest time under any conditions.

The route for the dispatch will be the central New York route from New York city to Chicago, thence to Sterling, Ill., over the Lincoln highway. From Sterling, the journey to Davenport, Des Moines and Omaha will be over the Rock river route. At Omaha the riders will again follow the Lincoln highway to Ogden, Utah, where they will take up the Overland trail to Reno. The remainder of the route from Reno to San Francisco will be over the Lincoln highway, by way of Sacramento.

A 500-mile course has been selected for the two-day endurance of the Waterloo, Iowa, Motorcycle club, May 30-31. Motorcyclists of Richmond, Va., are also contemplating a two-day endurance for May 30-31, the probable destination of the tour being Lexington, Va.

HAILSTONES "AS BIG AS HENS' EGGS" FALL IN DULUTH

Shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon a little white poodle dog was ambling along First street.

A hailstone hit him, and he yipped. Another hit him, and again he yipped, dropped his tail between his legs, and increased his pace. More hailstones hit him. The yips increased in volume, and the speed of the little white canine ball was accelerated. He disappeared in a whirl of hailstones and a crescendo of yips.

The hail storm that struck Duluth at 1 o'clock this afternoon had the stories of hailstones "as large as hens' eggs" equaled at least.

One hailstone was found which measured more than an inch thick and 2½ inches long. The find was made by Weather Forecaster Richardson near the weather bureau on the hill, and is, therefore, official. Mr. Richardson reports a number of hailstones measuring an inch in length and a few measuring 2 inches.

The hail storm of today, while brief as to duration, furnished the largest hail that has fallen in the city since 1908, at which time hailstones measuring as large as 3½ inches in length were what might be called common. That hail did a tremendous amount of damage, and over a wide area. It was heavy and lasted for about fifteen minutes, subjecting the city to a veritable bombardment, which caused heavy damage to window glass, greenhouses and even light roofs, and caused scores of horses to run away, breaking vehicles and also smashing stationary objects which they ran into.

The chief damage done by hail today was to gardens where vegetables or plants had made their appearance, for these were pounded down to some degree, but only a few parts of the city report much damage. As to the smashing of glass in greenhouses, the only case of this kind reported was in that belonging to J. J. Le Borious at Woodland. There the heaviest part of the storm seemed to center and, it was reported today, that a number of the panes of glass in the structure were smashed or cracked so that they will have to be replaced. The damage to plants at the greenhouse and surrounding grounds could not be estimated. The storm was exceedingly heavy at that point. The greenhouses at Lakeside report no damages and those belonging to Mr. Le Borious at Tenth avenue east and Third street were not damaged.

The rain was excessively heavy for a few minutes, but the duration was short. The weather bureau reports .22 of an inch in five minutes.

Last night the first good thunderstorm of the season, and the first warm rain occurred; and the rain today, which accompanied the hail, was not as chilly as might be supposed. Considerable electricity and heavy thunder accompanied today's storm.

ALL-YEAR MART BEING URGED

Mayor Prince Advised That Farmers' Clubs Favor Plan.

Plans for Coming Year Call for Better Accommodations.

An all-year public market is planned by the Federation of Farmers' Clubs, according to David Jameson and T. O. Fitchner, special representatives, who held a conference this morning with Mayor Prince.

Closed During Winter.

During the last few years the public markets at the armory, the West end and in West Duluth closed down the latter part of each fall, but from now on farmers propose to keep them open all winter. The two representatives notified the mayor that all the farmers in the vicinity of Duluth have prepared for an exceptionally large crop of vegetables of all kinds, honey and other farm produce, so that the markets can keep open the year round. In the past it has been the policy of farmers to raise just enough garden truck to last through the summer and fall, and they have had little to offer in the winter months.

The conference with the mayor was arranged by James Grady, secretary of the Federation of Farmers' Clubs, for the purpose of learning just what accommodations would be given the farmers this year. The mayor informed Mr. Jameson and Mr. Fitchner that the armory will be used again this year and that in addition, stalls would be erected for the teams. The West end and West Duluth markets will continue as usual, he said.

Last Season Successful.

Mr. Jameson, who owns a farm near the Jean du Luth farm, declared that the last market season was a most successful one and that the farmers sold four times as much garden truck as they did in any previous year. He is of the opinion that this record will even be exceeded this year.

The Federation of Farmers' Clubs is composed of representatives from farmers' organizations in the vicinity of Duluth. Mr. Fitchner represented the Maple Grove farmers and Mr. Jameson those in the vicinity of the university experimental and Jean du Luth farms.

Affirms $1,500 Award.

The Minnesota supreme court yesterday handed down a decision affirming a $1,500 award made by a district court jury to Magnus T. Carlson against the Superior Terminal Elevator company for injuries sustained June 26, 1913. While walking between elevators "L" and "K" a boxcar door fell on him. He sued for $20,000. Mr. Carlson is a state grain inspector. He resides in West Duluth.

Effective in Handling Crowds.

Considerable praise is being given today for the effective manner in which the police and fire departments handled the large crowds at the opening concert of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra last night. Twelve patrolmen and six firemen were detailed to take care of the crowds at the curling rink and officials in charge of the concert said this morning that the work was done in an efficient manner.

Approve Housing Code.

Six of the largest civic organizations in Duluth have officially indorsed the new housing code and Mayor Prince announced this morning that he will present it for a final vote at the council meeting Monday evening. GRIEVANCES WILL BE AIRED Morningside Residents Will Appear Before City Council.

Improvements and Other Matters Coming Up for Action.

Every resident at Morningside Park is expected to attend the council meeting Monday evening.

This information was given to Mayor Prince this morning by one of the residents in that part o fthe city, who declared that the citizens there have a number of grievances, and that many questions affecting them should be settled at once. For this reason they will appear before the council and ask for immediate action on various subjects.

At the Monday meeting the council will take up the following matters: Final reading of the amendment to the jitney ordinance providing for hourly schedules and routes, the housing code, the ordinances forbidding the use of headlights on automobiles and the one prohibiting the removal of wires and poles without permission from the owners, and consideration of several resolutions making appropriations for improvements during this year.

The contract for the laying of cement walks west of Twelfth avenue west will be awarded to Kilfin & Co. on their bid of $4,998, and Rogers & McLean will be awarded the contract for paving Kenilworth and Sussex avenues on their bid of $8,982.45. Railroad alley, in block 7, Lester Park, First division, will be ordered graded.

Commissioner Farrell will introduce a resolution awarding the contract for the paving of First street from Twenty-eighth avenue east to Congdon park, to the General Contracting company on its bid of $4,986.67.

Twentieth avenue west will be ordered paved with brick from Superior to First streets, and sanitary sewers will be ordered in Tioga street, from Forty-third to Forty-seventh avenues east; in Eleventh alley, from Twenty-second to Twenty-third avenues west, and in several streets intersecting with Minnesota avenue on Minnesota point.

Saloon license renewals will probably be granted to O. W. Johnson, 625 West Superior street; A. A. Erickson, 214 South First avenue east, being a transfer from Andrew Peterson, same location; M. Danculovich, 524 East Superior street, and Edward Olson, 509 West Michigan street.

HAVE LEADERS OF SWINDLING GANG

Kansas City, Mo., June 5.—Through the arrest of seven persons in various parts of the country, the police of Kansas City today announced they believe they have discovered the leaders of a syndicate which has been swindling numbers of persons in the large cities of the country by means of a fraudulent racing and wire tapping scheme. Three men arrested here gave the names of Walter Harrison, Omaha, Neb.; Harry Stanhope, Philadelphia, and L. V. O'Brien, Meridian, Miss. The local police assert that two men and a woman are being held in Denver in connection with the syndicate and one man in Philadelphia.

In the pockets of the men arrested here the police say they found racing forms and tickets, rolls of imitation money and newspaper clippings telling of enormous winnings on race tracks. It is asserted the band has maintained headquarters in Excelsior Springs, Mo., with connections in the larger cities.

The arrests were made on complaint of J. W. Klinkerman of Los Animas, Col., who asserts he lost $8,000.

OPENS SAFES TO PROVE HIS SKILL

New York, June 5.—A young man who, according to the police, admitted that the name of "William F. Smith" which he gave was fictitious, was arrested here today, charged with robbing a safe in Media, Delaware county, Pa., of jewelry valued at $11,600. The police say he confessed.

According to the detectives, the prisoner said he could open any safe in New York in five minutes.

To prove his skill, "Smith" was given permission to try to open the safe in the office of the district attorney and another in detective headquarters. By listening to the tumblers drop as he twirled the dials with supple fingers, the prisoner opened each safe in less than a minute. Both are of the most modern construction.

Madison, Wis., June 5.—The estate of Richard James, earl of Clanwilbian, London, Eng., paid an inheritance tax of $4,039 to the state of Wisconsin today through the Dane county treasury. The tax is on stock held by James in the Northern Pacific Railway company.

Spy Confesses.

London, June 5.—Official announcement was made here this afternoon that another German spy, named Robert Rosenthal, had been arrested and had made a confession.

GERMAN NURSES HAVE DOGS TRAINED TO FIND WOUNDED

GERMAN NURSE AND DOG.

This is a typical German Red Cross nurse on the streets of Berlin, accompanied by a Red Cross dog. The Germans, like the Italians, have trained these "sanitary" dogs, as they call them, to seek for the wounded on the battlefield and the system has reached great perfection.

SIXTY-TWO IN DULUTH SHRINE PARTY TO SEATTLE IN JULY

There will be sixty-two persons, including the wives of several members, in the caravan that will leave Duluth on Thursday, July 8, for the annual convention of Shriners to be held at Seattle during the week of July 11, according to an announcement made last night by Lyonel Ayres, potentate of Aad temple.

The report of the proposed trip was made by Potentate Ayres at the special meeting of Aad temple held for the purpose of making the final arrangements. Mr. Ayres, Jesse Norton, A. P. Cook and Henry Nesbitt, delegates from Aad temple, will head the local pilgrims. There will be thirty members of the patrol, headed by Capt. A. H. Paul, and, in addition, the wives of several members and Shriners from Duluth, Virginia, Two Harbors and Cloquet.

Members of Party.

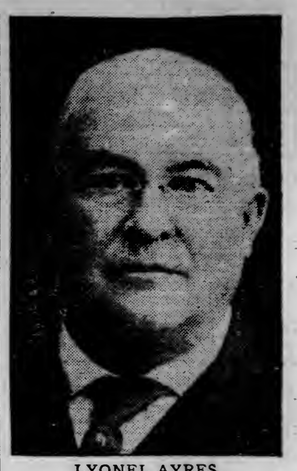

Those who will be in the party follow: Messrs. and Mesdames R. K. Abraham, Nels Hillman of Two Harbors, Philip Bayha, R. H. Rathbun, George M. Fay, C. L. Haney, James H. Cundlip of Virginia, W. J. Works, J. I. Thomas, George Sherwood, Henry Nesbitt and McWatty; Albert Cox and two daughters from Cloquet, Frank Scribner and sister; Lyonel Ayres, A. P. Cook, Jesse Norton, Henry Van Brunt, A. C. Stevens of Virginia, and the patrol, the members of which are: Capt. A. H. Paul, Lieut. Wallace P. Welbanks, Lieut. Charles C. Jones, Sergeant George Sherwood, Ralph Pond, John E. Carlson, Dr. C. L. Haney, John Cox, C. E. Evens, George M. Fay, R. K. Abraham, Hogan Lindahl, Darwin C. Gray, Harvey C. Buchanan, Theodore C. Larson, A. B. Kapplin, R. H. Rathbun, Harold N. Giertson, Fred L. Kochler, Frank G. Scribner, Edward E. Youngren, Emmet J. Carland, Joseph T. Lundquist, Frank H. Farrell, Harry Olafson, Alex S. McDonald, Richard M. Funck, Philip Bayha, Dr. W. J. Works and James C. Wanzer.

The local party will leave Duluth at 7:30 o'clock on July 8 over the Northern Pacific road. There will be a parade preceding the departure, the line of march to be led by the Temple band and continuing from the Masonic temple to the Union depot.

Form Honorary Escort.

At Fargo the party will be joined by the El Zagal caravan and the two temples will continue together to Seattle, acting as the official escort of Imperial Potentate Frederick B. Smith throughout the convention. Short stops will be made at Casselton, Valley City, Jamestown, Bismarck, Dickinson and Livingston. At Helena there will be the dedication of the Shriners' temple, Imperial Potentate Smith officiating at the ceremonies. They will reach Spokane on the morning of July 11, remaining there several hours for a special program to be given in honor of the official divan and the escorting patrols. Seattle will be reached on the morning of Monday, July 12, when a grand entry will be made by the Imperial potentate and his official escort.

The convention will continue throughout the week and the program includes an excursion to Puget Sound, a visit to Mount Rainier and parades, dances and banquets.

LYONEL AYRES,
Potentate of Aad Temple.

Lights and Shadows of Police Court

ADMIRED TOO LONG.

William Richardson Couldn't Figure How Aerial Bridge "Worked."

"Yup, that a-erial bridge is a wonderful contraption," said William J. Richardson, age 49, according to police.

At the time of his speech, he was laying on his back, looking up at the span and trying to fathom the mystery of "how the durn thing went across without anything to push it."

"Yup," he repeated, "she sure is a wonder."

When the bridge went across to the point the next time Richardson propped himself against the side of a vestibule and gazed some more, this time at the cables and pulleys.

"Yup," he finally decided, "she beats me."

Bridge Operator Maynard, usually lenient with persons who are lavish in their praise of the bridge, thought Richardson a poor judge, and took him to police headquarters, where he was lodged as a drunk.

He was sentenced to thirty days at the work farm, with a stay of thirty days this morning.

ONIONS INCITE WIFE-BEATING.

"Strong" Food Given as Excuse; Husband Given Thirty Days.

Just because a man's wife serves stewed onions as the piece de resistance on lodge night, he is not justified in venting his pardonable wrath by beating her, according to Judge F. H. Cutting.

George Erickson, 1425 West Superior street, was arrested June 1 by Officer David Olson when cries of "Help, pa's killing mama!" attracted his attention.

He found Mrs. Erickson leaning over a pail of water, bathing a long cut on her head, while her lord and master looked on and swished the air with a stove poker.

Arraigned in court, Erickson said he was not guilty of assault, and told the story of the onions as proof of his innocence. Mrs. Erickson was not able to appear in court until yesterday afternoon, when her husband was found guilty and sentenced to thirty days at the work farm.

PAY NO HEED TO PROTESTS

Silberstein Will Present Amendment to Jitney Ordinance Monday.

Announcement Made Following Conference With Jitney Delegates.

After a conference this morning with representatives of the Duluth Jitney association, Commissioner Silberstein of the safety division, declared that the amendment to the jitney ordinance, providing for hourly schedules and routes, would be presented for passage at the regular council meeting Monday evening, despite objections raised against it.

"Jitney owners are opposed to this amendment," said the commissioner, "but it is the best thing, not only for them, but for the citizens of Duluth. It will insure good service at all times and will make the jitney a vehicle of travel that can be depended on. I am sorry that there is opposition, but the amendment will go in, nevertheless. I will present it for a final vote, regardless of how the other commissioners may feel about the measure."

The amendment was introduced last Wednesday and yesterday morning was given its second reading. Last night the Duluth Jitney association held a special meeting at the Kalamazoo hall and the members declared that they will insist on the withdrawal of the amendment, or will start a campaign opposing the entire ordinance passed three weeks ago. A committee was appointed to hold a conference this morning with Commissioner Silberstein, but the latter insisted on introducing the measure. Just what will be done now, the delegates to the conference refused to say.

Those in the delegation were Edward M. Kelly, president of the Duluth Jitney association; Capt. C. C. Teare, attorney for the organization, and two representatives from the executive committee.

It is understood that a majority of the commissioners favor the amendment.

PENNY LUNCH ROOMS.

Housewives' League Asks Use of Domestic Science Rooms.

Penny lunches at the schools will not be a success unless the board of education allow the Housewives league to use domestic science rooms.

A communication to this effect, petitioning the board for the privilege of using the rooms, was presented at the monthly board meeting last night.

"If we are allowed to do this, we can carry out our plan," said Ida Josephine Watson, representing the league. "We want to serve penny lunches to the children between 12 o'clock and 1:30 p. m."

BUSY DAY FORS LAWMAKER

Excellent Entertainment Program Mapped Out for Senators.

The committee having in charge the entertainment of the legislative visitors, who will be in Duluth next Thursday, has just announced the outline of the program for the day. Details will be filled in later, and it is certain that the visitors will find their time well occupied while they are here.

The senatorial special will arrive in Duluth from Cloquet at 2 o'clock in the morning and at 8:30 that morning the visitors will be called for with autos. They will be immediately taken to the Model City and then to the steel plant. Time permitting, they will be taken also to Fond du Lac and into the newly acquired Jay Cooke park, as far as the power plant. Luncheon will be served at the Spirit lake branch of the Duluth Boat club at 1 p. m., after which they will return to the Union depot, where the special train, which will be their home during the trip, will remain during their stay. They will, at 2:30 p. m., be taken for a trip around the boulevard, the trip lasting until 4:30, at which time they will be taken by the U. S. S. Gopher, for a trip around the harbor and around the horn. At 7 o'clock an informal dinner will be tendered the visitors at the Commercial club, and a few addresses will be given. They leave for Coleraine Friday morning.

PLANS FOR INCINERATOR.

Building Costing $1,500 May Be Built This Year.

Plans for an incinerator plant to cost but $1,500 have been presented to Commissioner Silberstein of the safety division and he is now considering them.

In case it is impossible to obtain sufficient funds for the building, he said, the structure will be erected next year.

The present incinerator at Eleventh avenue west is too old for use, according to the commissioner and Health Director Fahey, who recently inspected the building.

Rev. T. J. Bresnahan Dead.

Baltimore, Md., June 5.—Rev. Timothy J. Bresnahan, president of ethics and political economy at Loyola college here, author of several books, and one of the leading philosophers of the Jesuit order, died in Washington hospital late yesterday. He was a former president of Boston college.

To Fire 800 Ovens.

Connellsville, Pa., June 5.—Orders were issued at the office of the H. C. Frick Coke company here today for the immediate firing of 800 ovens at two of the company's plants. Reports indicate that of a total of 19,224 ovens in this region, 12,895 are in blast, the record in more than a year.

SATURDAY.

Dinner-dance at the boat club.

THE week which began very quietly livened up at the last and the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra concerts were interesting social as well as musical events, the social feature including the dancing and supper parties which were given at the Kitchi Gammi club after last night's program. Similar affairs will be given there after the program tonight.

The wedding of Miss Emelyn McDougall and Lewis Gould Castle of Milwaukee will take place tonight at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's father, Capt. Alexander McDougall, 2201 East First street. Out-of-town guests at the wedding will be Curry Prescott, who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Olcott, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Castle, parents of the bridegroom, and Miss Evelyn Castle, sister of the bridegroom, all of Milwaukee, Robert Alton and Horace G. Stone of Chicago, Miss Marjorie Hardy of Adrian, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Gress of Minneapolis, Mrs. Emmett Lambert and Miss Virginia Lambert of Cedar Island, Brule, Wis.

The ceremony will be performed by Rev. George H. Bridgeman of Minneapolis, formerly president of Hamline university, who is a life-long friend of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Miller McDougall gave the McDougall-Castle bridal dinner last night.

Bishop and Mrs John D. Morrison gave a reception Thursday night at Trinity hall for the visiting clergy and delegates to the annual convention of the Episcopal diocese of Duluth and for all the church members in the city.

The dinner-dance which was to have been given at the Northland Country club Wednesday night was postponed until Wednesday night of next week. Wednesday afternoon the first bridge game of the season will be held at the club.

Next Saturday will mark the opening of the main house of the boat club. In the afternoon the rowing, sailing and canoe divisions will hold races, each race ending in front of the club house. A dinner-dance will be held that night.

The following Saturday, June 19, a special program of sports will be given at the Oatka branch and the regular Saturday night dances will begin. Miller's orchestra will play.

Wednesday, June 23, the first mid-week dancing party will be held at the Oatka. This branch is now open and an automatic piano has been placed there for the accommodation of the members.

The commencement exercises of the normal school will begin tomorrow afternoon when Rev. T. W. MacLean will preach on "The Ethics of Education" in the auditorium of the school. The class day exercises will be held Wednesday morning and the alumnae banquet, followed by a reception, will be held that night. Thursday, commencement day, J. L. Washburn will give the address and Judge Ell Torrance of Minneapolis will present the diplomas.

Children's Home Secures Much Needed Additional Space For Receiving Home and an Infirmary

THE CHILDREN'S HOME AND ADDITION.

With the $5,000 donated by an unknown friend of the Children's home more than a year ago, the officers and advisory board of the Children's Home society this week purchased the large duplex house at 516-516½ Fifteenth avenue east, north of the present structure, to be used as a receiving home and an infirmary.

The new building will be used to house newly-admitted children for a period of ten days, after which they will be taken to the home. In addition, those suffering from childish ills will also be cared for there. Children taken ill with some contagious disease are always removed to the city hospital at Thirteenth avenue west, and no contagious disease cases will be kept in the new building.

The purchase of the new building will increase the capacity of the home and will further the co-operation with the various city and county charitable institutions, according to one of the officers. Meetings were held during the last month with the advisory board, medical staff and city and county officials before the purchase was made. Enthusiastic approval was given the project by Mayor Prince, Commissioner Silberstein, Health Director Fahey, Assistant Health Director Manley, Poor Commissioner A. P. Cook and the medical staff of the Children's home, consisting of Doctors Robert Graham, Harry Klein, A. G. Schulze, O. W. Rowe and A. L. McDonald. The property was purchased with the approval of the advisory board, consisting of A. L. Ordean, C. A. Congdon, S. G. Knox, G. G. Barnum, W. G. Agnew, Luther Mendenhall and C. E. Bassett.

Officers of the Children's home announced today that the expenses of the institution have now reached $1,000 a month and that voluntary donations are constantly needed, as there is no regular income.

The officers of the home are: Mrs. G. Herbert Jones, president; Mrs. W. S. Winton, vice president; Mrs. R. M. Hunter, secretary; Miss Anna MacFarlane, assistant secretary, and Mrs. F. D. Harlow, treasurer.

The directors are: Mrs. G. Herbert Jones, Mrs. W. C. Winton, Mrs. R. M. Hunter, Miss Anna MacFarlane, Mrs. F. D. Harlow, Miss Elizabeth Boatson, Mrs. H. B. Paull, Mrs. T. W. Hoopes, Mrs. C. G. Traphagen, Mrs. T. L. Chapman, Mrs. Rene T. Hugo, Mrs. F. D. Day, Mrs. T. F. Cole, Mrs. M. L. Fay, Mrs. C. S. Wilson, Mrs. A. L. Agatin, Mrs. G. G. Hartley, Mrs. Watson S. Moore, Mrs. Ed. H. Windom, Miss L. Ella Roe and Mrs. David Williams.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Places for Clothes Brushing.

It is a common custom, followed on all Pullman cars, of having a porter brush your clothes just before you alight at your destination. It is also very noticeable that the dust and germs reposing on your garments are flecked onto the clothing of your neighbors and into their nostrils and possibly down their throats as well.

This brushing by the porter is not a real brushing in any sense. He makes a few dabs at you with his brush and you hand him the expected reward. A very foolish performance all around. This practice of brushing passengers in the car aisles is one apt to menace the health of everyone in the car, and should be stopped on that account, which, when you come to consider it from the standpoint of dirt and disease, is quite true.

Traveling up from winter resorts, all through the South, on a train on which I was riding, was a very varied assortment of invalids in several stages of decline, who had been south for the winter. A few of them were not equal to the task of standing to be whisked lightly over, just enough to scatter the dust and germs, but that made no difference to the porter. They were brushed reclining in their chairs, and the germs peculiar to their diseases wafted about for others to absorb.

I have often smiled to myself as I watched the slight cloud of dust raised by the airy touches of the porter settle back upon the shoulders of a man who just paid his toll to be made a bit more presentable. I am not worried about dust and germs in the least, but they have a dread significance for many people, and perhaps some of these will agitate the point until persons desiring a valet's attention will be forced to step to the extreme end of a car and have their hats and coats brushed in the open air, where the microbes escaping from them will not annoy fastidious passengers.

The end of the observation car would make an ideal point for the freshening up of hats and overcoats. It is reasonable to believe that the circulation of dust brushed from the clothing of several people is not altogether healthful for the individual. This is especially true on these long runs across the country on trains carrying passengers suffering from some wasting disease, to the resorts for invalids so afflicted, or back again to their homes whence they came.

NEWS OF DULUTH'S WOMEN CLUBS AND MUSICAL CIRCLES

Beethoven's Fifth Symphony Not Success as a "Seating March"

Impatience of Director and Latecomers in Audience Mar Opening of Duluth's Most Notable Musical Festival---Immense Audience Greets Orchestra---Arrangements Are Excellent.

Considered simply as music there is no greater work in musical literature than Beethoven's Fifth symphony, but as a march to be used for the seating of some 2,000 people amid 2,000 others, it is a rank failure.

Mr. Oberhoffer and his Minneapolis Symphony orchestra tried it at the curling club last evening, and those who have waited three long years to hear a symphony will find it rather hard to forgive Mr. Oberhoffer his little display of temperament or thoughtlessness, whichever it was, and also those who strolled in to the concert twenty minutes late as if it were a circus. True, the director started promptly on time, but with such an immense audience, and in an auditorium never before used for such a gathering, some leeway might well have been allowed.

Some 4,000 people, to whom a symphony concert is a rare event, missed three movements of the exquisite symphony last evening. It was not the fault of the management. The immensity of the audience was ample excuse for the delay in getting order. There was no delay in seating the people after they arrived. The arrangements were perfect in every detail, and the immense crowd was handled with amazing facility. But the crowd was barely half gathered when Mr. Oberhoffer appeared on the platform and tapped his baton. To have closed the doors then would have meant the greatest of confusion later. The ushers simply had to seat the latecomers as quietly as possible. Fully 2,000 people, or half the audience, were being seated during the first three movements of the symphony, and it was not until the beginning of the fourth movement that order was secured. Had the conductor waited for fifteen or twenty minutes the doors could have been closed and the latecomers made to wait. The lovely andante movement, one of the most beautiful passages in symphonic music, was not audible at the rear of the hall because of the scuffling of chairs.

Scuffling Accompaniment.

With the "ta-ta-ta tum" of "fate knocking at the door" as an obligato, several hundred Duluthians offered the accompaniment of clattering seats and scuffling steps on the cement floor. Instead of suggesting the "peace that passeth understanding" the calm swing of the andante movement simply served to sweep some 300 to 500 more into the auditorium. A few hundred more tripped in to the daintiest strains of the scherzo, and not until the stirring finale did Mr. Beethoven have an opportunity to be heard. To those who had eagerly looked forward to hearing the symphony, it was a bitter disappointment.

The Fifth symphony is probably the best known and the most popular of Beethoven's nine. It was composed when Beethoven felt his deafness growing on him. He himself described it as "fate knocking at the door." The first movement is stern and somber, but it melts into the beautiful second movement in which faith seems to predominate. There are two distinct themes in the second movement, both rarely beautiful. Mr. Oberhoffer played it looking over his shoulder occasionally to watch the progress of the seating.

But by the time Marie Sundelius was introduced for the first solo number, the audience was settled, and her glorious rendering of the "Michaelmas Aria" from "Carmen" did not suffer. Her clear, resonant and beautiful tones reached every corner of the immense auditorium, and she was forced to respond to a most enthusiastic encore.

The second orchestra number, Liszt's symphonic poem, "The Preludes" completed the first half of the program. This was in some ways the most satisfying of the orchestra numbers and it was splendidly played.

Violinist Popular.

Richard Czerwonky opened the second half of the program with the showy "Fantasie Appassionata" by Vieuxtemps, played with orchestra accompaniment. His two encores, both lighter numbers and the first played with harp accompaniment, were easily the most popular on the program.

The orchestra followed with three sprightly Hungarian dances by Brahms, all of them charmingly simple and marked by a peculiar rhythm.

Albert Lindquest, tenor, has been heard in Duluth once before, but by an audience of very limited size. He is wonderfully endowed with a rare tenor voice. His natural equipment as a singer is equaled by few tenors and perhaps surpassed by none, and he has been coming rapidly to the front during the last year or two.

He chose the "Celeste Aida" from "Aida" and aside from a brief temporary hoarseness, sang it faultlessly.

The closing orchestra number was the stately and stirring overture to "Tannhauser" and during it some of the audience evened the score with Mr. Oberhoffer. If he began before they arrived, they left before he finished. They evidently looked upon Wagner as an excellent exit march. It was a surprising display of discourtesy.

Solely as a spectacle the concert last evening was worth the price of admission. It was inspiring. T. W. Hugo, in a brief address, requested the audience to disperse slowly to avoid congestion. His reference to Mrs. Stephen H. Jones was loudly applauded, and the audience evidently concurred in his belief that she had successfully staged the greatest musical festival Duluth has seen. In size the audience was suggestive of a circus crowd. The huge rink was completely filled, and the total attendance must have been very close to the 4,000 mark. Never has such a crowd been handled with less confusion. Even traffic policemen, to keep the automobiles moving in their proper course, were on hand. The hall was transformed from a bare barn to a beautifully decorated auditorium. The lighting was excellent, and the lights were thoughtfully extinguished during the orchestra numbers, when they threatened to become trying to the eyes. The ushering was fully adequate, and Mrs. Jones and the curling club members who assisted her have every reason to feel proud of the well oiled machinery behind Duluth's biggest musical festival.

Two more concerts will be given this afternoon and this evening. Possibly the audience will learn from experience and be on time to the second, or the orchestra may be persuaded to wait until the audience is seated. In either of these events, there will be nothing to mar a most notable entertainment.

Woman Who Successfully Staged Duluth's Greatest Musir Festival

MRS. STEPHEN H. JONES AND HER TWO CHILDREN.

Professional Coaching for the Drama League Players

WILLARD WEBSTER.

THE Duluth center of the Drama League of America will reopen the Orpheum theater Friday, June 18, for matinee and night performances of "Her Husband's Wife." The play is staged under the direction of Willard Webster of Minneapolis who played the part of the caliph in "Kismet" with Otis Skinner.

Mr. Webster, who is teaching the fundamental principles of acting, is giving members of the league much valuable material for their future plays. "Her Husband's Wife," as it will be given by the players of the plays and players department of the Drama league, is expected to rank as a professional production.

The Cast.

"Her Husband's Wife," which was written by A. E. Thomas, is full of amusing situations and sparkling dialogue. Mrs. F. A. Patrick will take the part of Irene Randolph, who recovers from an imaginary ailment when she discovers that the unattractive woman she has picked out for her husband's wife is not so unattractive after all. Mrs. George W. Morgan will play the role of Emily Ladew, who decided it was time to spruce up when she was picked out as an ideal person to be the caretaking wife of Irene's about-to-be widowered husband, a character that will be portrayed by Paul H. Welch. Francis J. Webb will be in the role of John Belden, the uncle, the part that was played by Henry Miller in the New York production of the play.

The complete cast is as follows:
John Belden.....Francis J. Webb
Stuart Randolph.....Paul H. Welch
Richard Belden.....Robert Walker
Mathews.....Nathaniel Davis
Robbins.....Walter Dacey
Irene Randolph.....Mrs. F. A. Patrick
Emily Ladew.....Mrs. George Morgan
Baroness von Hoffman.....
..... Mrs. James E. Gardner, Jr.
Mrs. Higgins.....Miss Lucile Bradley
Nora..... Miss Amy Walker

Mrs. A. E. Walker of 2103 East First street. She has completed a course in English dancing with Cecil Sharpe of London and a year's work in Russian dancing with Madeline B. Hadlitt of Chicago.

Strawberry Recipes.

Strawberry float is a very delicate dessert. Pick over and mash a quart of berries, strain and sweeten the juice rather heavily and add to it half a pint of thick cream. Make a meringue with the whites of two eggs and two tablespoons of powdered sugar; stir the mashed berries into it, then place the juice and cream in a dish and pile the meringue on top. Chill thoroughly before serving.

Strawberry Blanc Mange—Hull and mash a quart of strawberries, and press through a sieve, place the juice on the fire to scald and add to it half a pint of rich milk or cream. Sweeten with a cup of powdered sugar and when at the boiling point stir in two tablespoons of corn starch rubbed smooth with two tablespoons of cold milk. Cook over boiling water for ten minutes, then pour into molds and chill, serve with cream or with crushed berries sweetened with powdered sugar.

Strawberry tapioca is made like any other fruit tapioca, and is delicious. A plain but very good strawberry shortcake is made of biscuit dough split and buttered while hot and spread with berries crushed and sweetened.

Strawberry cream cake will be found very delicious. The cake may be made after any good recipe and baked in layer-cake tins. The layers are spread with the following filling: One cup of heavy cream, whipped stiff and sweetened with one-fourth of a cup of sugar; then add the white of one egg, also beaten stiff, and a cup of strawberries well mashed. The top of the cake should be iced with strawberry icing, made very simply by adding strawberry juice to powdered sugar till moist enough to spread evenly.

METHODS ARE OUT OF DATE

Duluth Schools Fifteen Years Behind Times in Music Instruction.

"Duluth schools are fifteen years behind the times in music work," said Mrs. Thomas J. Davis, member of the board of education, at the monthly meeting in Central high school building last night.

"How do we compare in other respects—the commerce courses and the mathematical courses?" asked Director H. J. Grannis, and Mrs. Davis admitted that music was the exception to the rule.

"I am in favor of music, if it does any good," said Director W. B. Getchell, but Director E. R. Cobb was of the opinion that "the more that was spent the less results were noticeable."

After a discussion of the value of music work, directors approved a recommendation of the committee on schools providing for an additional instructor in music under Mrs. Ann Dixon, present head of the music department. The new teacher will be paid $1,000 a year and will begin her work in September.

Under the revised system, music instruction will be conducted at the Central high three days a week, by a teacher who also will instruct in the Washington junior high and at grade schools in the central section of the city. A teacher will hold classes two days a week at Denfeld high, with work also at the Irving high and at grade schools of the western section. There also will be a teacher for other grade work and possible instruction in orchestra music.

WOULD EXTEND INFANT CARE

Masons Would Extend Scope of Their Welfare Work.

Scottish Rite Masons of Duluth will continue the infant welfare work throughout the city during the coming summer on a larger scale than ever, according to plans which are being made and which will soon be announced.

In order that the best results may be obtained and that there may be no duplication, the Scottish Rite bodies have proposed to relieve the city health department of all of the infant welfare work and assume complete charge.

If the proposal meets the approval of Safety Commissioner Silberstein, the plan will be put into operation.

In former years, while the Scottish Rite Masons have assumed most of the work in this direction, the health department and others have participated. This system, it was found, is not satisfactory.

Would Relieve Department.

The Masons now propose to relieve the health department of both the expense and the responsibility for the work.

It is not intended, however, that the city may not take up the pre-natal work if it so desires, as this would not interfere with the infant welfare work proper.

The infant welfare work includes nurse service, little mothers' meetings and free clinics. Miss E. Heikkila is the consistory nurse in charge. Clinic and milk stations will be maintained at the West Duluth Masonic hall, the Masonic lodge rooms in Woodman hall at the West end and at the Masonic temple, Lake avenue and Second street. At the milk stations 10 per cent tested milk will be sold for 7 cents a quart.

A Dainty Toilet Article.

Every lady who desires to keep up her attractive appearance while at the theater, attending receptions, when shopping, while traveling, and on all occasions, should carry in her purse a booklet of Gouraud's Oriental Beauty Leaves. This is a dainty little booklet of exquisitely perfumed powdered leaves, which are easily removed and applied to the skin. It is invaluable when the face becomes moist and flushed, and is far superior to a powder puff, as it does not spill and soil the clothes.

It removes dirt, soot and grease from the face, imparting a cool, delicate bloom to the complexion. Sent anywhere on receipt of 5 cents in stamps or coin.

CASS LAKE NOTES.

Cass Lake, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Archdeacon and Mrs. H. F. Parshall celebrated their twenty-first wedding anniversary last Monday.

The Whist club met Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. John L. Grady on Star Island. An exceptionally pleasant time is reported.

The ladies of the Catholic church will hold their sale and supper tonight at Strawbridge hall.

Rev. H. Hulmo will preach at the pavilion at the lake Sunday afternoon.

I. P. Byhre and J. B. Spencer of Walker were visitors Thursday and Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Phelps of Chisholm will be the guests of relatives for several weeks, they having arrived Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Emberland of St. Paul have arrived and taken possession of their summer home on Norway beach.

A. S. Williams returned Thursday from a visit of several weeks with his son in Chicago and other points.

The ball given by the Commercial club in their new pavilion was a most enjoyable occasion.

CAT HAS ADOPTED FLOCK OF YOUNG CHICKENS

"TOODLES" AND HER FAMILY.

Toodles simply would be a mother. No discouragement seemed to work. The descendant of the gods of the Egyptians belongs to Mrs. Vina Williams, 319 West Third street, and is a gentle little thing, grayish in color, a great pet and still very young. Recently Toodles presented her owner with a litter of kittens. The newcomers were not appreciated, however, for they were disposed of by the chloroform or tub route, or some other way that proved handy and effective, and for a few days Toodles was disconsolate and hunted the house from cellar to garret to try to find where her off-spring had been concealed.

In the meantime a hen belonging to the family hatched out a brood of chicks but did not seem to take the responsibility of motherhood very seriously, emulating some humans by exhibiting a desire to gad about and have a good time instead of attending to her babies. When this eccentricity developed in the fowl, the cat discovered the chicks alone in a box where they had been placed, and immediately adopted them.

Toodles watches the chicks with the greatest care and rarely leaves the box where they are confined, evidently believing that their welfare depends wholly upon her attention, and, perhaps, figuring felinely that should she let them out of her sight, they will disappear as did her other family. The chicks have accepted the inevitable and seem to take to their new mother quite naturally. They climb all over her, and when ready to nestle down for the night, gather as closely into her fur as nature will permit.

The question now is: Does the cat look upon the chicks as a new brand of kittens or does she simply want to exercise care over something diminutive and lively?

WILL IMPROVE THE SCHOOLS

Building Committee's Recommendations Adopted By School Board.

Board Takes Action on Other Expenditures for School Purposes.

Large expenditures for the improvement of sanitation and of heating plants in the various school buildings were recommended by W. B. Getchell, chairman of the board of education's committee on maintenance of buildings and grounds at the monthly board meeting last night. Repairs costing $15,818, practically all of which involved new plumbing, heating or ventilating apparatus, were asked by the committee and approved by the board. The largest items in the list are: Central high—new toilets, $1,200; lunch room, $500; repairs to damage in recent fire, $1,000; total, including minor repairs, $2,825.

Jefferson—heat regulator system, $1,500; painting, varnishing, etc., $790; door openers, $125; total $2,490.

Kenwood—remodel building to make two-room school with basement; install heating plant; total $2,025.

Adams—new toilets and plumbing, $1,125; playground fixtures, storm shed repairs, windows and roof repairs; total $1,288.

Expenses Held Down.

Next to the plumbing, sanitation and heating item the largest one calling for the most expenditure was playgrounds and playground equipment. This is a contrast with the 1914 recommendations of this committee, who asked nearly $20,000, most of which was used in redecorating interiors.

Supt. R. E. Denfeld recommended to the committee that the Bay View Heights, Colbyville, Kruger and Kenwood schools be closed, but the board members did not concur in his opinion. They agreed to close the Kruger school, on Swan lake road, two miles north of Duluth Heights, but the others will be repaired and used next year. The seven pupils at the Kruger school will be transported to the Lowell building.

Playground Extension.

Director Getchell, in his report, also recommended that steps be taken to obtain prices and purchase lots adjoining the Jefferson and Franklin grounds, to enlarge playground facilities and eliminate annoyance to nearby residents caused by cramped play space. This recommendation was approved.

The committee was given authority to take advantage of the present low price of coal and purchase sufficient fuel to fill the bins at the various buildings. The board spent about $18,000 for fuel last year.

Teachers' salaries for May, amounting to $39,833.74, were approved.

The report of Treasurer E. R. Cobb showed a net balance in Duluth banks in favor of the board of $171,577.86.

Members of the committee on finance were directed to arrange for counsel to answer summons in the suit of the Chippewa Construction company against the board for amounts alleged to be due for the Denfeld high school work. The summons from the United States district court was read. The contractors, J. C. Hanson and H. L. Erickson, ask for $35,000.

MANNIX AGAIN STATE PRINTER

St. Paul, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joseph T. Mannix of Minneapolis was re-elected state printer by the state printing commission. His new term of service of two years will begin Aug. 1.

The printing commission at its meeting paid Mr. Mannix a high compliment, in styling him one of the best public printers the state ever had. According to the commission Mr. Mannix's department has been so economical that the commission will close the year with a surplus in its fund. Next Tuesday the commission will open bids for two classes of state printing. The classes include department reports and small printing.

Ghouls in Minot Cemeteries.

Minot, N. D., June 5. — (Special to The Herald.)—Ghouls have been at work in the Minot cemeteries, robbing graves of flowers, and otherwise destroying the decorative work carried on there.

BOARD SHOWS LITTLE FAITH

Not Willing to Trust in Cooking Ability of Co-eds.

Mrs. Marsh Will Conduct Lunch Room at the Central School.

School lunch rooms conducted by domestic science students as a part of the domestic science work were frowned upon by members of the board o efducation.

Showing a lack of faith in the cooking and managerial ability of the girls, the board refused to adopt the report of the committee on schools until the clause recommending that the lunch room scheme be changed was stricken out.

At a cost of $1,500, however, a lunch room will be installed in Central high school and operated by Mrs. H. E. Marsh, who now operates the Washington school lunch room.

Moving the lunch room from the Washington to Central high will cost $1,000 and repairing the store room at Central high to house the lunch counter will cost $500.

Mrs. Davis said that when moved to Central high, the lunch room could be made self supporting and a great aid in domestic science instruction. This would give pupils an idea of preparing menus and buying supplies. Menus could be arranged in advance, she thought, and the teacher in charge could do the buying.

Directors W. B. Getchell and W. A. Brewer led in objections to this plan, fearing that it would result in a deficit which would have to be paid out of school funds.

An appropriation of $9,000 for text books, the employment of Misses Clara Anderson, Winifred Corcoran and Flora Gibson as teachers and the employment of C. S. Blake as instructor at Central high school with a salary of $1,600 a year, were approved.

Included in repairs and new equipment asked are: Equipment of the wood working shop of the Denfeld high school at a cost of $1,475; equipment of a printing shop in the Denfeld building and an increase in the capacity of the manual training school shop by transferring the present press to West Duluth and substituting a small press and a larger one at a cost of $1,450.

"Go Out and Work," She Told Her Blue-Blooded Husband

COUNTESS CZAKY.

"Go out and work," said the countess. That is why Count Czaky, a Hungarian of ancient family, is living in a New York boarding house and going down town each morning to his "job." What the job is his friends say they do not know. But it keeps him well occupied. The countess was Mrs. Maude Howard Bryan who inherited a large fortune from her first husband. She met the count at a musicale at the Waldorf-Astoria in 1908 and they were married soon after and went to the countess' home in San Francisco to live. The count was married once before. His first wife is now the wife of Jan Kubelik, the violinist, and the mother of several children by him.

FARGO SCHOOL EXERCISES.

Fargo, N. D., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The graduation exercises for the Fargo high school commence with the baccalaureate sermon tomorrow by Rev. Dr. Peterson of the First Baptist church. The exercises at the different school buildings will occur Monday, the grade graduations Tuesday and the final exercises will be Wednesday. There are fifty-one in the graduating class. The diplomas will be presented by President Ladd of the board of education.

CROSBY HIGH SCHOOL HOLDS COMMENCEMENT

Crosby, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Commencement exercises were held at the Franklin school auditorium Thursday night. The following compose the second class to graduate from the Crosby high school: Romayne Latta, Ruth Johnson, Edith Frenette, William Raymond and Robert Lund. Following was the evening's program:

Invocation, Rev. C. C. Adams; song, "Santa Lucia," fifth and sixth grade pupils; salutatory, Ruth Johnson; commencement address, Prof. A. O. Krey, University of Minnesota; valedictory, Romayne Latta; presentation of diplomas, Supt. Conrad Raps; song, "Twilight Revel," Girls' Glee club; music, Rochon's orchestra.

After the exercises the graduates were given a banquet by the junior class at the Spalding cafe.

MANY WEEDS IN FIELDS.

Otherwise North Dakota Crop Conditions Are All Right.

Fargo, N. D., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—There are a lot of weeds in the grain fields in the Red river valley as a result of the excessive rainfall in some sections followed by cool weather. With the exception of the complaint from the weedy condition of many fields, crop conditions in North Dakota are as near satisfactory as they have been in many years. The rains over the entire state during the latter half of May and the more recent warm weather have produced most desirable growing conditions. The corn crop is somewhat backward as a result of the cool weather that prevailed earlier, but with a few days of warm weather it will come along rapidly.

ODD FELLOWS INITIATE.

Senator Peterson and Fred Ehling Give Short Addresses.

Lodge No. 28 of the Odd Fellows' order initiated a class of candidates last night and conducted other business in connection with the local lodge. Senator George M. Peterson and Fred Ehling of Washington, D. C., formerly of Duluth, gave short addresses.

Work was performed by the degree team consisting of J. J. Omerburg, captain; J. A. Braff, N. G.; Elof Anderson, V. G.; William Kobagen, I. G.; John Gillis, P. G.; A. A. Ulsrud, O. C.; O. L. Sherman, I. G.; August Julin, R. S. N. G.; A. E. Hamilton, L. S. N. G.; Otto Moody, R. S. V. G.; David Hyde, L. S. V. G.; Carl Dahlberg, L. S. S.; R. Deltschel, R. S. S.; Charles Ottinger, warden; and E. D. Drown, chaplain.

Officers were elected after the meeting by the committee which arranged the outing to be held Aug. 5 for the Duluth, Superior, Proctor and Cloquet lodges. Those chosen are R. E. McFarlane, president; N. L. Gill, vice president; B. L. Mitchell, treasurer and George M. Peterson, secretary.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

TOOL THIEVES ARE ARRESTED

Pair Alleged to Have Robbed Two Railroad Shops, Are in Custody.

Loot Located on Farm Near Little Falls and Near Brainerd.

Brainerd, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Good detective work on the part of special agents of the Northern Pacific railway at Little Falls and the Great Northern at St. Cloud, located the hiding place of 800 pounds of stolen railway shop tools on a farm near Little Falls, and acting on instructions received, Sheriff Claus A. Theerin arrested Frank Smith, also known as Subovick, and Mike Bryll, who, in the presence of the sheriff and agents, are said to have confessed to the robbery.

Two satchels of tools were also recovered from the woods east of Brainerd, an inventory giving their value as $135.

Stealing has been going on for the last eight months.

CONFISCATED SAFE HAS BEEN REPLEVINED

Owner of Property Taken By U. S. Officers Gets Court Writ.

Bemidji, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Replevin papers were served on Indian Agent J. P. Brandt and Sheriff Johnson of this city by T. E. Maloy, whose safe was confiscated Thursday evening from his soft drink place in the Larson building on Third street by Indian Agents Brandt and Thomason. The safe is now in the possession of Garfield Akerberg, county coroner, under a bond of $800, which was furnished by Mr. Maloy.

The safe was confiscated after the Indian agents had raided the place and Mr. Maloy refused to open the safe. It was taken from the building by the agents, who dragged it up the street to the corner of the Northern National bank and there a rope was tied around it and it was dragged to the county jail, where it was placed in a strong cell for the night. It was removed again Friday morning to the office of the coroner on account of the replevin action, which was taken by Mr. Maloy through his attorney, Carl L. Heffron.

Mr. Maloy says that if the safe contains any liquor it was not put there by him, but that it does contain a diamond ring, a watch and some money belonging to Mrs. Maloy.

FARM COLLEGE TO DEMONSTRATE WORK

CROOKSTON SCHOOL HAS COMMENCEMENT

First Class Graduated From New High Addressed By Senator Clapp.

Crookston, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The commencement exercises of the Crookston high school held at the armory last evening were the finest in the history of the school. The armory was attractively decorated in the class colors, purple and white, while the class flower, the lilac and the class motto "100 per cent" were very much in evidence. A very pleasant feature was the music by the high school orchestra and the high school chorus. The salutatory was very creditably given by Miss Clara Berg. The graduating class was presented to the board of education by Principal C. J. Borchardt and the diplomas were presented for the board of education by Supt. G. H. Sandberg.

The address was delivered by Senator Moses E. Clapp who in vigorous language impressed the students with the real purpose of education and the duties which the graduate owed to his school, his parents, and his fellowman.

The past year has been the most successful in the history of the local schools. The work in the high school as in the grade schools has been uniformly excellent.

This is the first year the new high school building was occupied and the beautification of the grounds has just been completed under the direction of landscape architects. Over $3,000 has been expended in shrubbery and ornamental plants and flowers.

Those Given Diplomas:

The graduates are—General course: Arthur Anderson, Clara V. Berg, Zenon Balanger, Florence Buckley, Roselva Caouette, Virgil Cornelius, Kathryn Lucile Cram, Clarence J. STEENERSON TO SPEAK.

Congressman Will Address Bagley Graduating Class.

Bagley, Minn., June 5.—Congressman Halvor Steenerson of Crookston will deliver the address to the graduates of the high school at the commencement exercises to be held tonight, when the seniors of 1915 will be given diplomas.

The people last Saturday, by a vote of 48 to 3, favored issuing $51,000 in bonds to pay floating indebtedness of the district and spend about $25,000 on a new high school. As soon as the board secures the money for the bonds from the state the construction of the school will commence.

FATAL HANCOCK FIRE WILL BE INVESTIGATED

Hancock, Mich., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state fire marshal's office ordered an investigation into the fire at the Savoy motion picture theater here Thursday night, in which Bernard Ohman, age 17, was burned to death and Manager Alphonse Ruttenberg and Fireman Brochmer were seriously burned. The theater has been locked and sealed by county officers until arrival of Deputy State Fire Marshal Dewey from Ishpeming.

Ruttenberg claims he, and not Ohman, who was under the legal age for operators, was running the machine when Ohman placed a film against a live wire and then threw it into a pile of other films, igniting all.

MARKET HAS FRESH BREAK

Wheat Declines on Liberal Offerings and Good Crop Reports.

Flaxseed Turns Easy, With Limited Buying By Crushers' Interests.

Duluth Board of Trade, June 5.—Acute weakness was shown in the wheat market again today, and bearish sentiment appeared to be general among operators. Final quotations showed declines extending to over 3c.

The slump was attributed to selling pressure in winter wheat with large offerings in the southwest markets. At the same time, there was an absence of either millers' or exporters' support. As a Duluth trader put it, June in the usual order of things, is a poor month in which to buy grain, and that at the present it is especially the case as the factors are all against the bulls. The crop outlook is thought too favorable for them, and consumers in view of that consideration have been only buying from hand to mouth for some time back. Loading of the first car of new crop Texas wheat was reported yesterday, and it is predicted that the movement to the Southwest markets will attain considerable proportions within the next two weeks.

Duluth operators report quiet selling of the September future on this market during the past two weeks by some of the heaviest growers. A North Dakota farmer, for example, is reported to have sold 20,000 bu of new wheat for September delivery at $1.18 here recently. With the market in it down $1.18 today, he is now ahead of the game to the extent of 6c a bu.

July wheat opened ⅝c off at $1.35¾ and closed at the low spot of the day, $1.33¼ asked, just ¾@1 off, September opened ⅛c off at $1.13½ and closed 2⅛c off at $1.12 bid. December opened ⅛c off at $1.14½ and closed 2c off at $1.13 asked.

Durum showed special weakness with an entire absence of support in it. The July future closed off 6c at $1.33 on limited trading. September closed 1⅛c off at $1.16 asked.

Flaxseed Turns Weak.

After ruling firm at the start, the market in flaxseed eased off in the late trading, and final figures showed moderate declines. It is a subject of comment that no flaxseed has been loaded out of Duluth elevators for the East so far this season, and that stocks are steadily accumulating. Quotations today were in a measure held up by strong cables. London closed 2⅝c up at $1.93⅝, and Buenos Aires, ¾c up at $1.30¾.

July flax opened ¼c up at $1.87¼, advanced ¾c and closed 2c off at $1.85 bid. September opened unchanged at $1.90, gained 1c and closed 2¼c off at $1.87¾ bid. October closed 2c off at $1.87¾ nominally.

At Winnipeg, July flax closed ⅜c off at $1.64⅝ bid, and October 1c off at $1.68 bid.

Oats closed in Duluth 1¼c off at 46½c for on the track; rye 1c off at $1.11@1.13, and barley unchanged at from 68c to 72c.

At Winnipeg, July oats closed 2⅝c off at 55½c bid.

Minneapolis cash market was steady, with good demand. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 7c over July and velvet chaff ½c over July. Moderately fair flour sales were reported.

John Inglis wired from Enid, Okla.: "North from Elreno wheat runs lighter. It has stood up well through such heavy rains. Half inch of rain fell here today and it is still sprinkling. Could not get into fields. Every rain storm is extending the damaged area by spotting and flooding."

At Paris, spot wheat closed 1½c lower, and flour unchanged to 10c up.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Weakness in American markets yesterday and continued free offers of new winters serve to cause conservatism among buyers here. U. K. arrivals this week are expected to be liberal and on passage increasing. Spot market is weak 1 to 2d lower with principal pressure in American grades. Cargo market was weak with winters and spring 9d lower, and Manitobas 7½ lower, while Plate and Indians were about 9d lower. There continues very poor inquiry in the U. K. and the continental demand shows a waiting attitude in the advent of close proximity to harvest. American crop promises large.

"Corn—Spot market was easy with a reduced consumption while the Chicago market is firm with the strength in Buenos Aires and dearer Plate offers."

Argentine weather is favorable for the movement and the planting of wheat. It is progressing rapidly in the north. Spot corn is firm with holders reserved while distant offers are large.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Free Selling By Large Houses Has Depressing Effect on Wheat.

Chicago, June 5.—Free selling by large houses had a depressing effect today on wheat. About the only support came from shorts. Bulls were discouraged by lower cables and by the prospect of clearing weather southwest, where the storm damage apparently was not as serious as reported. After opening ⅜@⅝ lower, the market underwent a further moderate setback.

Later something of a rally took place owing to week-end evening up and to renewed apprehension about continued rain in Oklahoma and Texas. The close, however, was weak at 2¼c to 2⅝c under last night.

Prospects of enlarged receipts next week eased off the corn market. Warmer weather counted also against the bulls. Opening prices which ranged from ¼@¾ to ½c lower, were followed by a slight additional decline.

No important reaction ensued. The close was heavy, 1⅝@1¾c to 1⅞c net lower.

Oats suffered from a lack of demand. Selling pressure was not unusually heavy.

Provisions seemed to have no aggressive support. Pit traders leaned to the bear side.

TRADE REVIEW

New York, June 5.—Bradstreet's says:

"Final distribution, checked in the East by unseasonable weather, has been revived in the West by sunshine and warmth; speeding up is the rule in industrial lines, and war orders, taken on close to a cash basis, tax the capacity of many plants, spread activity to other lines, make for competitive bidding for skilled labor, and hence unemployment is steadily decreasing. At the same time, crop news is favorable and the indicated yield of wheat suggests another record crop. The decision rendered Thursday, denying dissolution of the United States Steel corporation, would receive greater attention, but for international affairs. All in all, business for future delivery is growing steadily, though perhaps slowly, and at most places it is ahead of last year, when trends were downward. Collections in the major part of the country are fair; money is easy; road sales, especially in the interior, are increasing, and mail order trade is much better than a year ago.

"Bank clearings, $3,073,440,000, increased .23 per cent over last week."

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, June 5.—Hog prices showed a little firmness today as a result of the number of arrivals being far less than on the corresponding day last week. Cattle prices were only nominal. Most of the sheep and lambs went to killers direct.

Hogs—Receipts, 9,000; slow, shade above yesterday's average; bulk, $7.55@7.70; light, $7.46@7.77½; mixed, $7.35@7.75; heavy, $7.05@7.67½; rough, $7.05@7.25; pigs, $5.75@7.35.

Cattle—Receipts, 100; steady; native beef steers, $6.90@9.30; western steers, $6.80@8.10; cows and heifers, $3.20@8.70; calves, $7.50@10.00.

Sheep—Receipts, 3,000; firm; sheep, $6.40@7.20; lambs, $7.50@10.60.

Giroux Consolidated Mines Company.

To the Stockholders:

Notice is hereby given, That the annual meeting of the stockholders of Giroux Consolidated Mines Company will be held at the office of the company at room 1400 in the Alworth building, in Duluth, Minnesota, on Tuesday, the 8th day of June, A. D. 1915, at 12 o'clock noon, for the election of directors and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before said meeting. The stock transfer books will be closed from May 20, 1915, to June 8, 1915, both inclusive.

FREDERIC R. KENNEDY, Secretary.
Duluth, Minnesota, May 15, 1915.

TRADING IS VERY LIGHT

Wave of Enthusiasm Subsides and Stocks Show Declines.

Canadian Pacific Again the Weakest Feature Among the Railways.

New York, June 5.—The wave of enthusiasm which swept yesterday's stock market to a higher level as the result of the United States Steel corporation decision subsided completely today. Trading was very light and mainly represented the usual week-end settlement of professional accounts. The only notable features were the motor shares, which gained from 3 to 11 points. Steel recorded a 1 point decline in the early dealings and other leaders reflected moderate pressure. Among the railways Canadian Pacific was again the weakest feature, losing 2½. Coppers alone showed consistent strength, Amalgamated rising above yesterday's high price. The closing was irregular. Bonds were steady.

ANACONDA'S SULPHURIC ACID AND LEACHING PLANTS GOING

Mine and Mills of Butte & Superior Running to Capacity.

Duluth Men Interested in Deal Involving the Brooklyn Mine.

Butte, Mont., June 5.—The Anaconda Copper Mining company is now actively engaged in the manufacture of sulphuric acid, for its own use and for commerce, and in the manufacture of copper by the leaching process, using in the latter the waste material that has accumulated at the Washoe smelter in Anaconda. The acid plant, which is housed in one of the largest buildings ever erected in the West, has been turned over to the company by the Process Engineering company, which constructed it. The plant has been in operation a few weeks and is doing 50 per cent better than the contract guaranteed. The leaching plant has also been started up and is now turning out copper from the smelter tailings. The remodeled No. 1 section of the converter with flotation is in operation. The No. 7 remodeled coal dust-fired reverberator and the large type Great Falls converter have also been blown in. During the last few weeks men from all over the world, interested in copper making, have been visiting the Washoe smelter. The company has installed so many new processes and devices that their demonstration has attracted wide attention.

Butte & Superior.

The announcement that the Butte & Superior company and the American Zinc, Lead & Smelting company have completed a new arrangement for the handling of the Butte & Superior output, confirms previous statements in there dispatches about the pending negotiations. The gradual curtailment of the amount of concentrates that the American Metal company could handle threatened a heavy reduction for Butte & Superior, which meant a heavy loss in earnings at the present high price of spelter. Negotiations were therefore opened with the American Zinc company, and besides the original nine "blocks" that it was possible to handle at the Caney and Dearing plants in Kansas, provision has been made that brings the total up to fourteen "blocks." A "block," as it is termed, means the handling of about seventeen or eighteen tons of concentrates a day, the capacity of one furnace. This means about 500 tons per month, and the original nine blocks provided for through the American Zinc company meant 4,500 to 5,000 tons of concentrates per month. The addition of five more blocks means that the company will handle from 7,000 to 7,500 tons of Butte & Superior concentrates, which, with the 5,000 tons handled by the American Metal company, will take the entire output of the Butte & Superior on its present mill capacity. The new arrangement is a very important one to the company, as it was threatened with the necessity of curtailing production after the American Metal company gave notice that it could take only a limited portion of Butte & Superior concentrates. The mine and mill are now being run to capacity.

Big Business Predicted.

John D. Ryan, who was in Butte a few days the past week, made the statement that Butte as a copper mining community would in the next ten years see the greatest prosperity of its history and that the Anaconda company will have like experience. He declared that the next decade would witness a wonderful business era in the United States and that copper and steel would lead in its benefits. Contrary to general belief, he said, the end of the European war will only see the beginning of copper prosperity, because enormous amounts of copper will be needed in the rebuilding of what the war has destroyed.

To Electrify Road.

Official announcement is made of the fact that the balance of the electrification of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway from Deer Lodge, Mont., to Avery, Idaho, will be started by Aug. 15, and will complete the work for which an appropriation of $13,000,000 has been made by the road for the greatest electrical construction work in the world. Announcement was made of the work after a visit over the line by C. A. Goodnow, assistant to President A. J. Earling. Several crews have been put to work in the field west of Deer Lodge to survey for the transmission lines that will carry the power from the main feeder lines to the sub-stations that are to be put in. The sites for the sub-stations have already been selected, and there will be seven between Deer Lodge and Avery. A similar number are now under construction on the first section of the electrification, between Harlowtown and Deer Lodge, Mont. The first section of 238½ miles will be completed by the end of the present year, if the present rate of progress in the work is maintained. The section of the work will cover 312 miles more, making a total of 450½ miles. Alberton, a station midway between Deer Lodge and Avery, will be the pivotal point in the new district, and from there power will be supplied from the Thompson Falls plant of the Montana Power company, which is now nearing completion also.

The Brooklyn Mine.

Duluth, Butte and Eastern men are interested in a new mining deal involving the Brooklyn mine in Granite county, which has been taken over by a syndicate, with the following directorate: Henry A. Oswald, treasurer of the Minneapolis Brewing company; John Boyle, vice president of the Crocker Chair company of Minneapolis; James A. Petterson of the Schuneman-Evans company of St. Paul; W. W. Sloan, of the Mackenzie-Mann company of Toronto, Ont.; Sir William Weichel, member of the Canadian parliament, Waterloo, Ont.; T. M. Collins of the Toledo Scale company of Toronto, and C. W. Beckley of Butte. George G. Thomas, mining and metallurgical engineer of Toronto, and C. E. Jury, also a mining man of Toronto, made an examination of the Brooklyn and reported for the syndicate. The Brooklyn is a zinc, copper, lead and silver property, and the first thing planned by the new owners is the construction of a concentrating plant at the mine, and running a tunnel below the present workings. The increase in the price and the demand for spelter and copper have greatly added to the value of the Brooklyn property.

As soon as the Toronto experts had examined the mine they recommended its purchase, and the required capital to place it on a producing basis was immediately made available. The mine has large and rich deposits of zinc, in addition to its copper, silver and lead. Present plans are to begin extensive operations by June 15, and the concentrator and lower tunnel are expected to be completed by Aug. 15. For the present season the concentrates will be hauled to the railroad by teams, a distance of seven miles.

RECORD MADE AT DRILLING

Great Speed By Calumet & Hecla at Red Jacket Shaft.

Testing Use of Oil Flotation on Lake District Copper.

Houghton, Mich., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Calumet & Hecla in its conglomerate at the Red Jacket shaft has made a record of 103.3 feet in May, working one shift with two Leyner-Ingersoll drills, the pattern of single man drill most used here, under the supervision of Capt. Charles McLellan, head captain of this shaft and of the Tamarack mine. The conglomerate, on account of the hard felsite pebbles, almost wholly silica, and the copper in the matrix between them, is almost the hardest to drill of any of the lodes here. Capt. McLellan is trying an experiment by taking out all of the rock drilled and blasted down, commonly called "dirt" by the miners, whether or not it contains paying grades of copper, and setting up the drill in charge of an experienced man in one shift and their devoting the other entirely to drilling instead of drilling, getting out the "dirt," and having the drillers set up their own machines all in the same shift as they proceed. As shown by the record given above and by several others made at the same level, the seventy-eighth, and on two other levels at this shaft, the experiments are very successful, more ground by far being covered than by the old system. Besides for its remarkable speed this record is given here just as one example of what is being done in every department for accomplishing the one most important purpose, the reduction of costs.

Testing Oil Flotation.

Oil flotation for the recovery of copper, which is being employed quite extensively in the West for the sulphide ores, is being worked out at the metallurgical laboratory of the Michigan College of Mines by T. G. Chapman, assistant professor in the metallurgical department. Mr. Chapman's experiments have been made on rock furnished by Manager Close of the Porcupine Mountain Explorations and have been sufficiently successful to warrant him to continue the work and thoroughly test the adaptability of the process to the copper of the district. In the event of its success it would supersede the use of the tables and leaching process, as the cost would be much less. The details of the method used by Mr. Chapman have not been given out.

Onondaga.

Onondaga is now starting drilling in section 34, township 50 north, range 42 west, about four to five miles east of White Pine and one mile northeast of the location where the last drilling was done about a year ago. The new location is on the lowest dip of the basin formed by the Nonesuch formations, and has an inclination or dip just the reverse of that of the northern dip on which is situated the White Pine.

Calumet & Hecla.

Calumet & Hecla on May 28 passed in its daily tonnage the 11,000 mark, reaching the figure of 11,040 tons, of which about 5,200 came from the Osceola amygdaloid. The Calumet conglomerate would have exceeded the 6,000-ton mark but for a small fire at one of its shafthouses, but it came quite close, 5,940. The daily average is rising and bids fair to soon eclipse the highest previous average for a month, 11,134. The two southernmost shafts that are opening up new ground, Nos. 9 and 10, which are really one shaft with two skipways, with a ladderway between, although they have separate engines, and the latter shaft is used for mostly men and timber, hoisting only 75 tons daily, and the former hoists rock three shifts daily, as do most of the Calumet & Hecla shafts, have just reached the eighty-second level, the shaft being on the lode. There is plenty of reserve ground, as everywhere in this mine, as the stoping or removal of the good rock has not been carried below the seventy-fourth level at these shafts. The same depth was reached some time ago at Calumet No. 4, the northernmost separate shaft, Nos. 5 and 6 being side by side, at the apex of an angle that runs down into the Tamarack. This is the only sinking now being done on the conglomerate. About 12,000 to 15,000 tons monthly is being taken from the old floors left standing in the older system of mining, while at the present time almost everything good is taken out. This source will continue for many years, as its supply has so far only been scratched. It is in the old workings above the forty-fifth level and it is pretty much very high grade.

Copper Range.

Copper Range's new turbine at the Champion mill will be operated by the exhaust steam from the stamps. It will, of course, be started by high pressure steam, and live steam will be fed by an automatic valve if for any reason the exhaust steam should diminish or cease. In short, it is a duplication of the turbine now working at the Baltic. The new regrinding mills will handle about the same amount as those now in use.

Cherokee.

Cherokee was inspected by W. A. Hodgson, F. W. Nichols, D. L. Robinson and W. D. Calverly of the board of directors, and H. W. Festing, the engineer, on June 1. The ground along the horizon or strike of the Winona lode, where three out of five of the five holes bored three years ago showed copper in the cores, was thoroughly examined and several good amygdaloidal outcrops of that lode and others including some wide conglomerates, some disclosing the metal found. Although the directors have not yet met since this visit it can be safely concluded on account of the good showing of the outcrops and because the overburden is light some trenching will be done very soon. The subsequent work will depend upon the results of the trenching.

Hancock.

Hancock's agreement with Quincy, embracing the sale by the former to the latter of two parcels of land and the lease of Quincy's No. 7 shaft to Hancock, one-half of each day, will undoubtedly be ratified by the Hancock stockholders at the annual meeting on June 16. This action will complete the transaction as the sanction of the directors is all that is necessary on the part of the Quincy. It seems to those who are in a position to understand the agreement thoroughly that it is very fair and about equally advantageous to both parties. No objection has yet been heard from any quarter. There is every reason to believe that the seventy-five acres acquired for $191,000 is very good ground and it can be mined from either No. 7, the southernmost shaft of the Quincy, or No. 2, 1445 feet to the north. The bottom levels of the Quincy, as has been stated in these letters before, both because it entirely refutes the old theory that the values of the lodes of this district diminish with depth and as it is of such great importance for the future of the mine, are very much superior in grade to those for a long distance above and are as good as any in the mine. This parcel extends down along the northern side of No. 7's course for sixteen levels from the bottom of that shaft, the seventy-first level, and its upper boundary paralleled by the lower proceeds at an angle of thirty degrees from the shaft to a little distance beyond the course of No. 2, which rakes slightly north. The other parcel, whose price is $35,000, and which is 900 feet long by 160 wide, lies along a northeasterly extension of the boundary line of the larger tract, and will serve as a protection from caving of either property for the other. Hancock by means of No. 7, even if only working half time, can immediately commence drifting in good ground in as many as twenty-one levels if it should care to, and can in a short time be supplying the stamp it secures the use of at the Quincy mill, and this in territory that it would take it a long time to reach in the ordinary course of mining. It also obtains the advantage in time of easily holing by raises from the different levels the subsidiary shaft to be opened on the plane of the lode from its vertical shaft No. 2, that will be needed for the mining of its great tract below this shaft. The cost of operating the shaft, transportation, milling and smelting is seemingly very equally divided between the two companies. Hancock has made a contract with the Calumet & Hecla for the milling of the remainder of its rock at the Centennial-Allouez mill, and the smelting will be done as before at Calumet & Hecla's smelter at Hubbell.

Lake has balled about one-half of the water contained in the old workings by means of large tanks called ballers which take the place of skips. The work to be taken up after the unwatering is completed is now being planned by Supt. Walker.

Mass.

Mass is opened by drifts the third of the north lodes discovered by the shaft at South Lake nearly 100 feet, and the values are averaging as good as when the lode was entered.

BIG PREMIUM TO CALUMET & HECLA

Its Copper Commands Premium of Cent Over Electrolytic.

Calumet & Hecla, which is well sold ahead on its own account and for account of its subsidiaries, is virtually out of the copper market at the present time. It could sell at 23 cents per pound for December delivery if it was willing to contract so far ahead.

Never before in the memory of the oldest Calumet & Hecla official has lake copper for any period of time commanded a premium of as much as 1 cent a pound over the price of electrolytic. At the present time the premium is 4 cents a pound, and as stated, Calumet could sell seven months ahead at this price if it chose to.

In normal times about 40 per cent of Calumet's output is exported, but such has been the recent demand from foreign ammunition makers that during the past few months fully 50 per cent of the production has gone abroad.

Just now the big demand is from American manufacturers, who are obliged to take Calumet & Hecla copper because this is the grade specified by the foreigners in their war orders. Many of them will accept nothing but Calumet & Hecla metal, and will not listen to any "just as good" arguments by manufacturers who might prefer to use electrolytic.

SMELTER OF EAST BUTTE VERY BUSY

Product Will Be Largely in Excess of Former Output.

Butte, Mont., June 5.—While other companies have been booming in the Butte district and attracting wide attention, the East Butte company has been quietly going ahead making copper while the boom prices are on.

The smelter has been in operation now close to a month. With the improvements made during the shutdown, by which the furnace capacity was greatly increased, the Pittsmont smelter has been put into a position where it can handle a largely increased tonnage and probably will make a showing of over 1,500,000 pounds of copper per month after it gets to running at regular capacity.

At present it is handling, in addition to the ore from its own mines, the ore of the Butte-Alex Scott mine, the Bullwhacker and some other independent mines in the district that are operated by leasers.

It is reported that the East Butte company is now the owner of a large block of the Butte-Alex Scott stock and that the companies are working in harmony to the advantage of both.

At the Pittsmont property, East Butte's reserve of first-class smelting ore is rather at a minimum and the shaft is therefore being deepened in the hope of locating another ore body such as was embraced in what is known as the Rossell stopes on the 1,300-foot level. The showing on the 1,300-foot level of the property thus far is a disappointment, the ore being of a low grade and the capacity not large. A large area of ground, however, is yet to be developed on the 1,500-foot level and it is said that the Motheral and Windlass veins, two of the principal ledges in the Pittsmont property, are yet to be opened. Considerable crosscutting is yet to be done before these ledges are reached.

INSPIRATION TO START BIG MILL

Nine of Eighteen Mill Sections Are Now Nearly Ready.

The Inspiration Consolidated Copper company, after nearly five years' preparation, will start its mammoth mill at Miami and begin the actual production of copper metal on a commercial scale early this month.

Simultaneously, the new smelter just completed at Miami, and only a mile distant from the Inspiration and Miami Copper company mills, has been completed and last week made its first trial run, with very satisfactory results.

The Inspiration mill consists of eighteen sections, each of a capacity of 800 tons per day. The mill will have a total rated capacity of 14,400 tons per day, and it is expected that the actual capacity may exceed the rated capacity, in which event the actual output may be between 15,000 and 16,000 tons. The first nine of the eighteen mill sections have been completed and almost entirely equipped. Several of them will be in active operation this month, and all nine will be in full operation about August, according to the announced plans of the company.

The Inspiration Consolidated Copper company, when in full operation, will turn out about $75,000 pounds of the red metal daily.

NOT GIVING OUT FIGURES

Men on Cuyuna Range Reluctant to Estimate Production.

Soo Line Is Now Handling About Sixty Cars a Day.

Brainerd, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Men on the Cuyuna iron range are chary about giving out any figures as to the production for this season. What the range might ship does not generally stack up with what the range eventually does ship. Spreading broadcast millions of tonnage when the range may ship a million or a million and a half does not help the Cuyuna range a bit.

The only shipping done this year comes from the Armour No. 2 mine of the Inland Steel company, the Kennedy mine of the Rogers, Brown Ore company at Cuyuna, the Wilcox mine of the Canadian-Cuyuna Ore company at Woodrow. Tonnage from any other mines has been very light.

Sixty Cars a Day.

The Soo Line is now handling about sixty cars a day. The Armour No. 2 at Crosby has finished shipping its stockpile and work of shipping the Kennedy's 100,000 tons stockpile has commenced. The Thompson pit of the Inland Steel company is expected to start shipping within a few days. The Armour No. 1 pit may start shipping in August.

The Inland Steel company is erecting a blacksmith shop, warehouse and carpenter shop at Armour No. 2 mine. At the Croft underground mine the grading for the spur track has been finished and rail laying will soon be under way. This is a bessemer property of great value.

Will Not Ship Until August.

The Rowe pit mine at Riverton will not ship until August, by which time its large concentrator will be completed. The Mahnomen pit mine has just inaugurated steam shovel operations. The Hill-Trest pit will contest itself with removing 1,000,000 yards of overburden and doing no shipping this this season.

The Cuyuna-Mille Lacs and Cuyuna-Duluth mines are expected to start up soon. The electric pumps keep the mines free from water. The Pennington pit has started running its electric pump in the pit to clear the same from water.

The Iron Mountain mine is hoisting. The pump station has been cut and they are drifting in fine ore. The Iron Mountain will ship every pound it can. The manganiferous content is increasing. Some has now been found on the range, backed by assay figures, and of such high content as to surprise the conservatives. The ore which the Iron Mountain is now shipping is several per cent higher in manganese than its contract calls for.

At the Mahnomen.

At the Mahnomen pit mine a big shovel from British Columbia, with a seven-yard dipper, is removing the overburden. All the buildings of the camp have been put up and 150 men will soon be employed by Supt. W. A. Roberts. Men are working on the tracks to take the dirt to the dump. The shovel is digging on the approaches. It is expected to uncover the ore body by Aug. 15 and some shipping may be done.

The Wilcox mine at Woodrow is shipping, having sent a cargo to Canadian steel makers. The Brainerd-Cuyuna mine in Brainerd expects to hoist ore within a few days. The 1,600-gallon electric pump is being installed. The Barrows Mining company is about to start shaft work at Barrows.

New Offer Rejected.

The county commissioners of Crow Wing county have received a communication from J. R. Harrington rescinding his former offer for the ore on the poor farm property and asking for an option on a lease on the basis of 22 cents per ton, minimum 10,000 tons the first two years, 15,000 tons the third year, 20,000 tons the fourth year and 25,000 tons the fifth and every year thereafter during the life of the lease. The board rejected the offer.

The county commissioners had received an application from the Shawmut company asking for a reduction in the assessed valuation of the south half of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 10, township 46, range 29. It was denied.

NORTH BUTTE'S NEW HOIST IS WORKING

Ore Being Hoisted Steadily Through Granite Mountain Shaft.

Butte, Mont., June 5.—The new electric hoist of the Granite Mountain shaft of the North Butte company is now in full operation and the ore is being hoisted steadily through that shaft instead of the old Speculator shaft.

The hoist works like a charm and has a power and capacity that makes it the finest shaft in the West. It is good for a much larger mining capacity and a much greater depth.

Already large quantities of the rich ore opened up some months ago on the 2,800-foot level in the Edith May vein are being taken out and the prospects are that the next quarterly report of the North Butte company will show a big increase in profits and in the amount of copper secured from its mine.

The development work on the 3,000-foot level is also showing splendid results and it looks as if the rich ore body opened on the 2,800-foot level will have its counterpart on the lower level.

The width on the 3,000-foot level is greater than on the 2,800-foot level and the amount of second-class ore there is greater.

NEW SHAFT FOR BUTTE & SUPERIOR

Black Rock Shaft Also Will Be Deepened 300 Feet.

Butte, Mont., June 5.—The Butte & Superior company will sink a new shaft—to be one of the largest in the district—this shaft to be equipped with one of the most powerful engines of modern construction known. Plans for the sinking of this shaft have been worked out in general, although it is said that some minor details are yet to be decided upon.

This new shaft will afford better ventilation at the Black Rock workings and a second opening will relieve the company of the trouble of sinking and maintaining production simultaneously in one shaft. Sinking operations have begun in the Black Rock shaft, which will be put down an additional 300 feet. The shaft now is 1,600 feet deep, that depth marking the lowest level. The Butte & Superior also has a shaft 1,200 feet deep in the Butte-Milwaukee, about 1,600 feet east of the Black Rock shaft.

It is expected that this shaft, too, will be sunk to a greater depth in connection with the raising of funds by the Butte-New York through a bond issue. The Butte-New York controls the Butte-Milwaukee and the Butte & Superior in turn controls the Butte-New York, and the finding of ore 250 feet beyond the east end line of the Black Rock claim in a crosscut run to the north has heightened hopes of uncovering commercial ore in the Butte-Milwaukee ground.

The development on the 1,500-foot level of the Black Rock is improving as the workings are carried eastward, the ore showing considerably higher grade and at the same time maintaining a very good width, according to local officials of the Butte & Superior. The stopes on the 1,300-foot level are showing an immense tonnage of ore and in the western part much copper is appearing, all of which is recovered.

THE NATION VS. THE FEEBLE MINDED

Nothing Short of Drastic Action Will Save Us From Disaster.

By ALEXANDER JOHNSON,
Director Extension Department, the Training School, Vineland, N J.

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau.)

Studies of the mental defective are getting to be among the most frequent and serious of social economic efforts. Made by state boards or commissions as in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Michigan, New Hampshire, Virginia and other states, or by city departments of education as in Cleveland and elsewhere, or by voluntary agencies, like the Juvenile Protective association of Chicago, the results are painfully alike.

From everywhere comes the samo story, that feeble-mindedness is a chief, if not the chief cause of vice, misery and delinquency; that the present public provision for the defective is utterly inadequate; that nothing but drastic action for the prevention of propagation and for the care and control of the present generation can avert grave disaster from the nation.

Time to Act.

The cumulative evidence in the case of the Nation versus the Feeble-minded which these numerous studies aro piling up, must surely convince the most hesitating and doubtful of our statesmen that the time for some comprehensive action has arrived.

The Juvenile Protective association of Chicago has been at its beneficent work for seven years. Its purpose is to prevent juvenile vice and delinquency. It has accomplished untold good by its fine organization and vigorous action. Much of its work has been in connection with the juvenile court and numerous cases have been dealt within which mental defect was a main factor. Often this meant that a defective child, or a childish adult, has been the easy victim of unscrupulous people. In other cases the defect has meant a moral twist or obtuseness which has made the defective a moral menace to other children.

So great a part did mental defect play in the problems that came to the association that it seemed worth while to undertake a study of the mentally defective children in Chicago. The study was begun in January, 1914, the plan including a general inquiry covering the whole city and an intensive study of several school districts.

The association has just published a report on the subject which is a most valuable public document. It shows actually recorded cases in the city and makes the very conservative estimate of 1,500 more who have not been found.

Six Thousand Feebleminded.

Considering all the figures given and the sources of information used, the probability is that the estimate of 6,000 cases is very much below the actual number, which we should be inclined to put at not fewer than 9,000 of all ages.

The report studies the subnormal school rooms; the state school and colony; the need of institutional provision; and the segregation of feebleminded women. The study was made in much detail and the histories of many scores of illustrative cases are given.

After considering the suggestions of many experts who were called on for advice, the report summarizes the needs of the situation as follows:

1. Subnormal children in the public schools. Separate and specialized instruction for retarded children and for subnormal children. A follow-up system for the children after leaving the school rooms. Special training for teachers of subnormal children.

2. Institutional needs. A new institution to include training school, asylum for idiots, cottages and colonies for adults, etc., near Chicago. Provision for the custodial care of feebleminded women of child-bearing age. Provision for a teachable group of defective delinquents.

3. Legislative needs. Laws of commitment and discharge which will give the institutions permanent control of their inmates. Protection of feebleminded girls and women.

One of the most comprehensive, clean-cut and convincing studies of the defectives of a state comes from New Hampshire. A state children's commission was created some time ago and its chairman, Lilian C. Streeter, has just published a reprint of the commission's report on "Existing Conditions Relating to Defectives."

What New Hampshire Found.

The fact that New Hampshire is a small state with ten counties, 235 towns and less than half a million people has made possible a more intensive and complete piece of work than has so far been done in any other state of the Union.

The method of inquiry was first, over the whole state, by questionnaires, and then, by direct and intensive field work over a limited area, to check off and supplement the returns. In the various institutions, 1,395 children were tested, the Binet-Simon scale being used by a number of trained expert workers. New Hampshire, among the states, has the second largest number of children in orphans' home in proportion to population.

Several significant revelations, some expected and some unexpected, are made by the report. One is that the relative amount of feeblemindedness gradually increases from the smallest proportion in the most populous county in the state, to the largest in the two most remote and thinly populated counties, showing clearly the extent of the social needs of the rural districts.

Another is that the method of treating feebleminded women, allowing them to enter the county almshouses to give birth to their illegitimate babies and to go out to repeat their sexual experiences, as soon as they are able, leaving the children to be promptly placed in orphanages, is about as futile a plan as could be devised. This accounts, at least in part, for the awful toll of feebleminded children in the orphanages.

Another is that the 550 feebleminded women known to be at large, with the many hundred more whose existence is certainly, though mayhap vaguely, estimated, constitute a graver danger to the prosperity of the state than a foreign war or a native pestilence.

When orphanages are plentiful and admission easy, many who might be classed as delinquent are rather treated as dependent, in which case only the more serious offenders are committed to the industrial school. It may be taken as a general proposition for all such institutions that their worst cases are most frequently feebleminded.

Feeblemindedness in New Hampshire is a local problem. Of the defective children whose birthplace is known, 80 per cent were born in the town wherein they now live and 10 per cent more in another town of the state. The nativity of the parents, too, is mostly American.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN.

Philadelphia Telegraph: At a recent social affair reference was made to beautiful anticipation, when Congressman Charles B. Smith of New York, smilingly recalled the regret of little Willie.

Some time ago, little Willie spent the day in the country, and on returning home and taking his place at the table he saw that ice cream was to be served for dinner.

"Ice cream for dinner!" he joyously shouted, and then came a regretful sigh. "O mamma," he said, "why didn't you tell me that we were going to have it before I left this morning?"

"I don't know, dear," responded mamma. "What difference would it have made?"

"A whole lot!" expressively answered Willie. "I could have been expecting it all day."

PERMITS FOR FIVE MONTHS ESTIMATED AT $1,000,000

Activity in Duluth and Nearby Towns Is Gratifying.

Western Auto Company Will Construct Building Costing About $50,000.

With permits for the first five months of the year numbering 705, authorizing improvements estimated at $957,305, gratifying activity is shown in building operations in this city. In addition to that, work in towns through Duluth district in which architects and contractors here are interested, has mounted up into large proportions.

During May 192 permits were issued at the building inspector's office for work estimated to cost $278,000. In the present week forty permits were taken out, for which the improvements involved were valued at $42,446.

Duluth Automobile Enterprise.

The outstanding feature of the week in building circles was the announcement that the Western Automobile company, a concern just organized by C. E. Kiling and in which local capitalists are interested, purposes to erect a two-story fireproof structure in a central location estimated to cost $50,000. It will be 100x140 feet on its ground floor plan and besides salesrooms, it will be modernly equipped to execute repair work on all makes of cars and for rebuilding. It is the intention of the company to eventually build a factory in West Duluth and to bring out a car of its own. The plans for the garage are now being prepared by C. E. Nystrom, architect, and it is expected they will be ready to go out for figures in about ten days.

Residence Work Active.

Interesting developments in high-class residence work have materialized during the last few days. Under that category comes a handsome brick and stucco home for W. H. Kilchli to be built on the site recently purchased by him in Congdon park. Its cost is placed at $20,000. The contract has been let to Oscar Berglund, and work upon the foundation was started yesterday. The plans were prepared by Arthur N. Starin, architect.

Plans for the proposed new home for G. Herbert Spencer, in Congdon park, went out for figures today from the office of Frederick W. Perkins, architect.

A new home for G. A. Tomlinson, estimated to cost with garage $45,000, was the third Congdon Park proposition definitely settled upon this week. The general contract upon it has been awarded to Theodore Nauffts. F. G. German was the architect.

Otto Johnson is making good progress in the building of the new W. C. Agnew home, also in Congdon Park. He has the foundation completed, and will start in upon the brick work next week. The contract for the brick has been awarded to Thomson & Williams by the architect, Frederick W. Perkins.

* * *

A two-story brick and basement building is to be erected at Winona, Minn., for the Young Women's Christian association. It is estimated to cost $35,000. The plans have gone out for figures from the office of Arthur N. Starin, architect.

* * *

Vernon J. Price & Co. have plans out for figures for a two-room frame school to be built at Kelsey, Minn.

C. E. Nystrom, architect, is preparing plans for a double-brick house for Mrs. J. Leith of Bay City, Mich., to be built on Third street near Twentieth avenue east at an estimated cost of $10,000. He has also plans in hand for a brick house for Frank Carlson at Nineteenth avenue east and Ninth street.

* * *

A brick house is being built for Mrs. H. Hurdon on Third street, between Twenty-first and Twenty-second avenues east. The foundation work was carried through by A. Hedenburg, and P. A. Falstad is the general contractor. The heating and plumbing contract has been awarded to the D. R. Black company. A. W. Puck was the architect.

Arthur Hanford, architect, is preparing plans for two frame houses for P. Malburg to cost about $2,000 each, to be built on Sixth street between Lake avenue and First avenue east. He has besides plans in hand for a rooming house for the Oliver Townsite company to go up at its location near the steel plant at an estimated cost of $2,000. Both jobs will go out for figures next Monday.

* * *

Perry & Son have been awarded the general contract for the new home to be built for P. Johnson on Woodland avenue, between St. Marie and Bruce streets. The plans were prepared by E. C. Gilluson, architect.

* * *

J. F. Fredin has been awarded the contract for the building of a garage for G. G. Hartley at Jefferson street and Fourteenth avenue east, to cost $4,000. The plans were prepared by Arthur N. Starin.

* * *

Revised plans for the one-story addition to the Fargusson block at Superior street and Fourth avenue west, will go out for figures on June 9 from the office of W. P. Allred, architect.

The Benjamin F. Schweiger company sold for Gustav P. Nossum, to John E. Thompson, a five-room bungalow on a 32 by 100 foot lot at No. 1124 Seventh avenue east, at a consideration of $2,100.

It also sold a lot on Piedmont avenue, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third avenues for the National State & City bank of Richmond, Virginia, at a consideration of $200.

* * *

The Hoopes-Kohagen company reported the sale of a lot at Sixth street and Eighteenth avenue east, and of two acre tracts. A good inquiry was met with in the Park Drive addition.

* * *

The following permits were issued during the week from the office of the building inspector:

REALTY MEN'S RECORDS REVIEWED

Special Committee Traces Family Tree of Officers of Exchange—N. J. Upham "Descended From Money Changers"—Getchell Considered "Great Road-Builder"—Henry Nolte Able to Tell Where Kaiser Will Eat Christmas Dinner.

Genealogies and past records of nominees for officers and directors of the Duluth Real Estate exchange were gone into fully by a special committee appointed for that purpose. Antecedents of candidates were carefully investigated, and the committee flattered itself that it had made a complete job.

Its report, as presented by J. E. Cooley, at the annual meeting of the exchange, treated the subject in an original way and was heard with interest. It was in part as follows:

N. J. Upham.

"In considering the name of Nathaniel Janeway Upham, your committee have been harrassed by grave doubts as to his ancestors and to his fitness to be renominated. But, after days of reflection and a thorough search into both sacred, profane, ancient and modern history, they find their doubts relieved. We find that he was born in the year 1865 in the town of Reavill, N. J., and came to Duluth in 1888. His immediate ancestors seem to have been people of culture, education and good standing in the community. His father having been a Presbyterian minister. In tracing his ancestery back to the dim past, your committee has no doubt that he sprang from a race of money changers, possibly those that were driven out of the temple and accused of turning the house of prayer into a den of thieves. Your committee can hardly credit this statement, although his tendencies regarding bonding issues would seem to favor such a conclusion.

"Fully realizing the great and good work he has done in years past, both for this exchange, the national association, and our city, your committee feels that he is entitled to great credit from all.

W. B. Getchell.

"William Benton Getchell, who has served the association so faithfully as vice president during the past year, is a product of Minnesota, having sprung from the Dutch of Stearns county. He came to our city in 1889. Your committee believes him to be a direct descendent of the greatest road builders this world has ever known, no less a personage than that famous Roman whose work was performed 312 years before the Christian era, the 'Applan Way,' which still stands as a monument to Appius Claudius, one of the great Caesars of antiquity, and an inspiration to our West Duluth friends who intended to out-do the famous road builder of Rome in the Getchell way. But, alas, the sloping gravel bank, the deep ravine, besides the lack of a terminal, there was nothing left to admire and commend but the beautiful cement bridge, the colossal nerve of the council which paid the bill, and the man whose name it bears.

"After diligent search and inquiry your committee has come to the conclusion that the road was started and not completed to appease the cravings for a job of an unsatisfied constituency that had been promised work provided certain candidates were elected as aldermen, from the western portion of our city. After election the successful candidate found himself in the same predicament as a governor-elect in Nevada. He had made so many pre-election promises that he was troubled to satisfy the longing and cravings of a hungry army of aspirants to office. He therefore organized surveying parties and told them to survey toll roads across the alkali plains to a certain point. After they had gotten far from their base of supply and with no terminal in sight, they insisted that the governor should tell them where their surveys were to end. He sent word for them to go on to hell, bridge it and go farther. They, of course, left their work in about the same condition that we find the Getchell road today. Your committee feels that he should be renominated, but, oh, the frailties of the human race and the lack of appreciation for work well done!

A. J. Mullin.

Next we come to our famous financier, Henry Julian Mullin. We find that he was born in 1875 in Cambridge, Mass., where he absorbed a liberal education by seepage, being so close to the seat of learning. His tendency along financial lines pointed him out as a fit subject and safe man for this exchange to trust for one year as its treasurer. He has received all the money, paid the bills, attended a few meetings and will retire with a handsome balance to the credit of the exchange. Pierpont Morgan could have done no better, but alas; the reward in this world for faithful work is the satisfaction of having done our duty and performed our alloted task to the best of our ability.

W. E. Richardson.

"William Eddy Richardson's term of office has expired, it is a loss to this exchange to have to bid adieu to a direct descendent of Blackstone. Your committee understands that he can trace his geneology back to the door of that famous jurist. We talk and poets sing of departed worth. The world has had its Websters and its Clays. Our city has its Ensign and its Cant, its Fesler and its Dancer, but this exchange has had but one Richardson and now his term of office has expired. It is the hope of your committee that he may regain his health and again become an active member of our exchange.

W. C. Sargent.

"Probably the oldest resident of our city in this exchange is William Coffin Sargent, who is about to retire from office. He was born in the city of Boston in 1859 and came to our city in 1869. His home was always near the shore of Lake Superior. The sounds of the angry waves beating upon the rocky shore is no doubt in a measure responsible for the noise Billy now makes. It is the hope of your committee that the sound of his sonorous voice will be heard in our city wherever real estate is to be bought or sold or corners located. William is long on noise, long on good, bright ideas for the upbuild of this exchange and long may we be favored by his presence and benefited by his sound judgment.

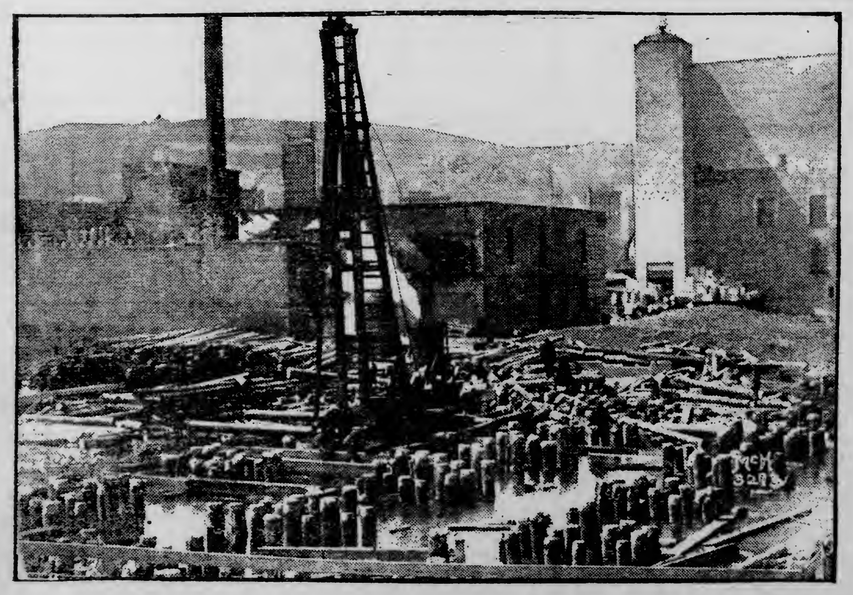

Henry Nolte.

"The first in importance of honor, but the last to be considered by your committee, is the member of the executive committee of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges, our own smooth, congenial, ever polite and always agreeable friend, Henry Nolte, who is the only man within this exchange who has the gift or reading the future so far as to be able to tell to a dead moral certainty where the kaiser is to eat his Christmas dinner six months in advance. It is surprising the extent to which we Germans are able to develop our faculties. In case we miss the mark, as sometimes happens, we come up like men and pay the stakes. He has done his work well, ever upholding our beloved city, lending respectability to us lesser lights, never seeming to be assuming, but ever ready to accord to all their just deserts. There is always a nitch in the temple of fame vacant for such men to occupy.

Compromise Report.

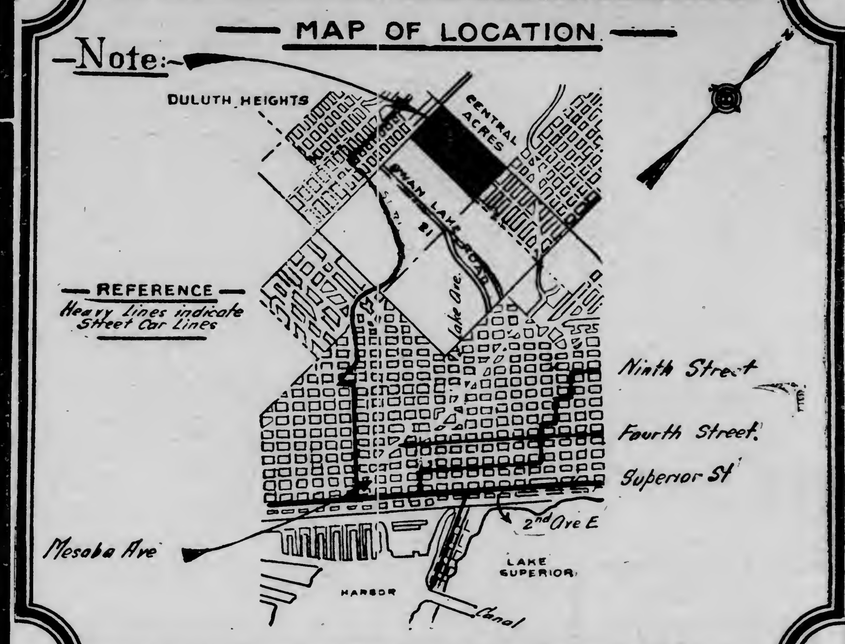

"Your committee has been so busy reviewing the past that it nearly forgot to provide for the future. As men grow older their greatest pleasure is to recount the heroic deeds of their friends and associates of former years, or watch their children, or their childrens' children take their places in the busy marts of trade. For that reason it is not safe to place men of mature age on a committee of this kind. They are apt to be either selfish or conceited. Your committee was blessed with both these qualities to such an extent that tney were unabled to agree upon candidates and a compromise report resulted."

SUBSTANTIAL ACTIVITY IS DEVELOPING IN REALTY

Woodruff Lumber Company Purchases Site on Garfield Avenue.

Duluth Will Be Well Represented at National Convention.

A greatly improved tone was noted by real estate operators during the past week, and hopes are now entertained that substantial activity will develop shortly. Negotiations in some important transactions in residence and industrial properties are reported to have been opened up, with every prospect of deals resulting.

One of the largest transactions in several months was put through yesterday in the purchase by the Woodruff Lumber company from the Midland company of the site occupied by its lumber yard, planing and interior finish mill on Garfield avenue, at a consideration said to have been approximately $30,000. The property has a frontage of nearly 1,000 feet on Garfield avenue, and in view of its extent, it is regarded as one of the most valuable centrally located industrial sites in the city. It has been occupied under a ground lease and the buildings upon it were erected by the lessees. The transaction was closed up through the Hoopes-Kohagen company, who represented the Midland company.

Will Attend Convention.

Duluth will be well represented at the annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges to open at Los Angeles, Cal., on June 21. J. E. Cooley, president of the local exchange, A. H. Brown, N. J. Upham, Jr., G. Gardner and George E. Lynott, have announced their intention of being on hand, and it is expected that a number of others will conclude to make up the party. The delegation will leave on Monday, June 14, and according to the plans, they will join the Twin Cities, Winnipeg and other contingents at Minneapolis, and the run from there will be made on a special train.

A. H. Brown, vice president of Stryker, Manley & Buck, has been nominated by the local exchange as a member of the National association's executive committee.

Good inquiry for acreages was reported by C. P. Craig & Co. That office sold four 2½-acre tracts at Greysolon Farms during the week, and also two building lots at Lakeside for the Lakeside Land company. One of these is to be improved at once in the building of a home.

The A. A. Fider company sold for Brede Edwards to J. G. Johnson, House No. 924 Eleventh avenue east at $3,500. That company bought for investment from F. E. Randall, two lots on Sixth street between Ninth and Tenth avenues east.

* * *

A. W. Taussig & Co. advised the best interest in several years in farming lands located in this district. Sales of two large parcels to be utilized for colonization purposes, are under negotiation and are expected to be closed up shortly. That office is about to place on the market an interesting proposition in outlying building lots.

* * *

George E. Lynott, manager of the Alliance Real Estate company, reported sales of five Exeter Farms tracts to Duluth buyers for improvement during the present season.

* * *

The N. J. Upham company sold a house and lot at Nineteenth avenue east and Ninth street and a lot on Twenty-third avenue west. Three lots at Waverly park were also disposed of by that office. It is announced that all lots in Waverly park will be advanced $100 above their original price after next week.

* * *

Stryker, Manley & Buck put through sales of two parcels at Ingleside park yesterday. All but a small proportion of the tracts included in that plat have been disposed of, and a large ony of homecrofters has been established there.

* * *

The McBean-Nesbitt company is arranging to place on the market a block of twenty desirable building sites at Hunter's Park. Each lot will be 50 by 200 feet in size. Gas, sewer and water privileges are available.

* * *

A. W. Kuehnow, president of the Gary Land company, reported the sale of three lots in Gary Central division yesterday to outside investors. Judging from the inquiry coming to hand, he expressed himself as feeling safe in predicting a good movement in building sites at Gary during the next few weeks.

* * *

Richardson, Day & Cheadle reported fair activity in acre tracts, outlying property and medium-priced residence lots, with sales as follows: Twelve tracts in "Central Acres;" three tracts in Norton's Acre Outlets; two 5-acre tracts on the Norton road; two lots in Chambers' division, and one lot at Bay View heights.

BANK CLEARINGS SHOW INCREASE

A satisfactory condition of affairs was evidenced in an increase of $8,110,330.02 in Duluth bank clearings for the first five months of the year.

Local bank officials express themselves optimistically regarding the business outlook in this city and district for the remainder of the year. Their cheerful views are based upon the magnificent crop prospects and the resumption of activity in steel trade circles. The recent decision in the United States Steel corporation case is regarded with satisfaction.

The following are the comparative figures in bank clearings for the five months:

	1915	1914
January	$16,686,553.71	$14,666,562.73
February	13,888,837.76	11,565,347.70
March	15,321,388.56	12,662,979.87
April	15,738,736.87	14,079,228.55
May	14,476,667.94	15,027,935.97
Totals	$76,112,284.84	$68,002,054.82
Increase, $8,110,330.02.

LAND ON MONTHLY PAYMENTS!

We are offering to settlers and investors a tract of about 100,000 acres of hardwood land in Douglas County, Wisconsin, only one hour's ride on the train from Duluth, on a cash payment of $1 per acre and the balance payable in monthly installments of $5 on each forty bought. The soil is a rich clay loam as fertile as any in America, and unexcelled for dairying, stock raising and general farming.

Douglas County climate is ideal. Summers comfortable and cool with long days, plenty of sunshine and plenty of rain. Winters steadily but not severely cold. No cyclones or bad blizzards. The early and late frosts, so dangerous to fruit and crops in other places, are counteracted here by the proximity of the lake.

Douglas County markets are the best. Chicago, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and St. Paul and all the cities of the Middle West and the great copper and iron mining regions of the North are within a few hours' ride, while the cities of Duluth and Superior, connected with the rural districts by good roads and the best of local train service, are a permanent and ever growing market for all farm products. The U. S. Steel corporation and the railroads are spending many millions annually to make the Twin Ports one of America's greatest commercial centers, and many conservative business men predict that Duluth will be a second Pittsburgh. All this means an immense increase in land values that will be yours if you buy now.

There are no better opportunities for land buyers than right here within a few miles of the Head of the Lakes, where clover grows like a weed, where freight rates are low and farm produce high, where building material are a source of income instead of expense, where the farmer buys in the lowest and sells in the highest market, where the soil is rich and the rainfall abundant, where dairy products run into millions annually and where the climate is the most wholesome in all the world. Timber, mineral rights and all go with the land.

Prices on our Douglas County lands will average about $15 per acre. Land seekers are taken out to look over our lands every day. Call or write.

SHELL FIRE IS INFERNO

"Hell on Earth," Writes Virginian Wounded in Battle of Ypres.

Believes Germany Is Trying to Draw Uncle Sam Into Big War.

Virginia, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Geoffrey Roper, employed up to last September as a bookkeeper at the retail sales offices here of the Bailey Lumber company, believes Germany is trying to drag the United States into the great European war. He expresses that opinion in a letter written from St. James Infirmary, Batham, S. W., where he is recovering from a wound through the leg received in the battle of Ypres of May 6, when the Princess Patricia's Canadian light infantry, of which he was a member, was practically wiped out by a German attack at the left of the line. The shell fire before the attack on the allied trenches, he declares cannot be correctly described by the phrase "hell upon earth." Roper's letter was written to H. C. Kelly here.

In the course of his letter telling of the shelling by the Germans, Mr. Roper writes:

"The Princess Patricia got it pretty badly the next day, losing 119 from shell fire only. It was quite the worst shelling we ever had. We then got relieved for two days, and on May 6 went in again. May 7 was very quiet, but about 4:30 o'clock of May 8, they started to shell us heavy.

Position Became Inferno.

"Their shelling was not immediately successful, but about 6:30 the next morning it increased and we went through the two very worst hours I ever spent in my life. Hell upon earth doesn't describe it. There wasn't a square foot of ground that wasn't turned over at some time or another. About 9 o'clock they made a general attack right along the line. By that time our firing line wasn't recognizable, and most of its occupants were killed or wounded. Consequently the support trench, about 40 yards behind, soon became the firing trench. Up to this time I left, about 10 a. m., we were still holding it, and I learn since then that we never lost it. The Germans broke through our left and right and we must have nearly got out off, but eventually they were driven back.

Followed Grim Order.

"Our orders were to hold on to the last man and how near it came to that I don't know for sure. We went in at nearly full fighting strength, about 800, and rumor says that only 63 were untouched that night. This is not official though. Now, for my own experiences. All our snipers were in a dugout when the shelling commenced. Some had been out all night and others were going out after breakfast, which I think we all managed to get. Nothing exciting happened until a shell burst on the roof and came through, burying two of us, but otherwise not hurting anybody, luckily. Of course, we all expected an attack and the support trench was lined before the Germans attacked. I was standing up with another fellow who had just had a pot at one of the Huns when a shrapnel burst close to us and took the cheek off the fellow and hit him in the throat. I helped him into a dugout and just as I was coming out another fellow crawled in, hit through the shoulder and out under the armpit. I helped to bandage them and came out again and heard Maj. Gault telling Capt. Hill to send a man down for reinforcements. Maj. Gault had been hit twice then and was crawling about on his stomach. I said I would go and as it turned out I was lucky.

Still Under Fire.

"I was still under shell fire, but it was some relief to be on the move. I doubled down most of the way, about 400 yards, and was pretty badly beat when I got there. I started crawling back slowly after the reinforcements. On the way back I noticed firing on my left and thought something was wrong so went over to see and found the Germans had broken through. I went back to warn some supports and it was while I was with them that I got hit. When I left the Germans had turned and beat it, but as we rushed up to them they shouted out, 'Don't shoot,' which rather put us out for a few minutes.

"I managed to hobble back to a dressing station and from there got down to Boulogne by various stages and from there over to my present address. That ends my list of experiences for a few weeks. The wound is not bad and healing nicely, but my leg is pretty badly bruised and very stiff.

"I would hate to see the United States dragged into this, but I really think the Germans are trying to make you get in in time; they are clean crazy."

GILE PIONEER BURIED.

Father of Mesaba Range Man and Woman Laid to Rest.

Hurley, Wis., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Funeral services were conducted from St. Mary's church here this week for John Newman, a pioneer resident of Gile, Wis., who died of pneumonia and who was the father of two people living on the Mesaba range of Minnesota. Rev. Father Klopp officiated and interment was made in Hurley cemetery.

Mr. Newman was born in Ireland Jan. 20, 1843. He resided at Gile for many years and the past few years has made his home here. Besides his widow he is survived by four sons, John Newman of Saxon, Con of Nemo, S. D., John and Phil of Hurley, and five daughters, Mrs. Dennis Madden of Chisholm, Minn., Mrs. Arthur Cuthbertson of Hibbing, Mrs. Bert Court of Gile, Margaret and Johanna of Republic, Mich. Those present at the funeral from out of town were, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Madden and daughter of Chisholm, Mr. and Mrs. Goggin of Republic, Mich., and Jerry Sullivan of Hibbing, Minn.

BOVEY JOTTINGS.

Bovey, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The dance given by the Yeomen lodge Friday evening of last week was well attended.

Chester Larson, who has been attending law school at St. Peter, has returned to his home here for the summer vacation.

Harry Lowe has returned from a business trip to New York and other Eastern cities.

Miss Camilla Olin came from Duluth for a visit with her parents, returning by automobile, accompanied by her mother, sister, Miss Vivian, and brother Charles Olin.

The Bovey Farmers' Co-operative creamery was formally opened Tuesday. The machinery was set in motion and 365 pounds of butter was churned, the first ponud selling for $5.

Mrs. Nels Lexen was a guest of friends in Chisholm last week.

E. H. Bither was in Grand Rapids Friday.

COMMITTEES OF COMMERCIAL CLUB

LAKE COUNTY AGENT ASKED FROM BOARD

Commissioners Urged to Appoint Expert to Advise Farmers.

Two Harbors, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thomas Owens, W. B. Woodward, Supt. H. E. Flynn and A. A. McPheeters, superintendent of agriculture of the city schools, appeared before the Lake county board here yesday and requested that the county make an appropriation for the maintenance and support of an agricultural agent for Lake county. The committee showed the commissioners how the right man could do a wonderful work by aiding the farmers in this section. Lake county is becoming settled rapidly with farmers each year and the demand for an agricultural expert becomes more keen each year. The commissioners thought it would be a good move but definite action was deferred until the next regular meeting during which time the commissioners will investigate for themselves.

To Inspect New Road.

Commissioners John Ohlund, Carl E. Bergen and John Norlen were appointed on a committee to inspect the new road recently constructed between Knife River, north to Stanley.

Fifteen hundred dollars was appropriated to grade a certain portion of the county road commencing at the boundary line of Lake and St. Louis counties and east and north into section 20. The work will be done by day labor and will be under the supervision of H. E. Hanson, superintendent or roads.

TOWER CEMENT WALKS.

Proposition Is Further Discussed By City Council.

Tower, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—A special meeting of the city council was held Thursday evening to further discuss the proposed new cement walks. At present the walks will be put in on the north side of the Main street only, that is if the property owners so deside. A committee has been appointed to wait on those concerned, and if a majority of signatures can be secured, the work will be done immediately.

The financial condition of the city will not permit of any more improvements being done only at the individual expense of property holders. Most of the individuals concerned in this project are in favor, so the committee anticipate no trouble in securing the necessary signatures.

WILL PLAY VIRGINIA.

Gopher Team of Two Harbors to Play Range City Team.

Two Harbors, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Gopher ball team will leave tonight for Virginia where they will meet the independent team of that place there tomorrow afternoon. Many local fans will go up in the morning to witness the game. The following members of the team will make the trip: Peter Unson, Robert Hastings, Harry McDonald, Barney Griffin, W. T. Roberts, Jack Woodward, Alex Johnson, H. Johnson W. Zirath, Bernie Lamber, Bud Ginter, C. Gustafson, and G. Reisberg.

EVELETH PERSONALS.

Eveleth, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hoel and Mr. and Mrs. James P. Boyle motored to Joyce's landing on Vermilion lake Sunday.

Dr. J. V. Johnson returned Tuesday from Rochester, where his brother-in-law, George Mulligan, is being treated. Dr. Johnson states that the Mayos have not yet been able to diagnose the case.

Mrs. Isadore Shanedling returned Monday evening from Chicago where she visited for five weeks with her mother and other relatives.

Miss Mary Brince returned Monday evening from Chicago where she has been studying music at the Conservatory of Music.

Mrs. Charles Chester and children returned last Sunday evening from Mesaba where they had spent several days visiting relatives.

Mrs. R. R. Trezona and Mrs. G. H. Dormer returned Saturday evening from the Twin Cities, where they spent several days.

Mrs. W. E. Hoy left Wednesday morning for Hurley, Wis., to spend several weeks with her sister, who is sick.

Mrs. Thomas Lee, Mrs. M. H. Haan, and Irvin and Ray White of Duluth, spent Sunday here.

R. M. Dungan and Henry Griswold are in Chicago on business.

R. S. Nelson spent Sunday with friends at Grand Rapids.

T. Banks was a recent Duluth business visitor.

FAVOR GUIDE POSTS OUT OF VIRGINIA

Virginia, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The matter of having guide posts erected on all roads to Virginia, where cross roads intersect, will be before the Commercial club for consideration at its next meeting, June 17. It is estimated that this can be done at a cost to the club of about $50.

NEW ORE RATE BOOMS SHIPPING

Considerable More Being Shipped From the Mesaba Range.

Hibbing, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Material increases in the ore output from the Mesabe range have resulted this week because of the new rates which went into effect June 1. Several independent properties which have been holding off shipments until the decrease in rates was effected, have started shipping and it is expected that despite gloomy predictions from operators the season will be one of the most active for years.

Differences between officials of the village of Hibbing and mining companies who have refused to pay the tax levy are only of a local nature, and have in no way interfered with mining operations within the village limits. The report that Mayor Power would serve injunctions against mining companies because of their refusal to pay is descredited here.

From Nashwauk, Keewatin, Chisholm and Buhl the increase in ore shipments have been decidedly noticeable. Although from corporation properties here, dispatchers declare that no new mines have started operating, there has been an increase from 10,000 to 15,000 tons of ore shipped daily which brings the total beyond the 100,000-ton mark.

Shenango Heavy Shipper.

At Hibbing the Shenango, an independent property, has begun heavier shipments since the new rates of 55 cents per ton to Lake Superior docks went into effect. This mine has been operating spasmodically all season, however. The Hawkins mine at Keewatin began shipments last week. This mine ships 60 car loads of ore a day over the Great Northern road. Approximately 63 tons of ore are hauled on each car. Other mines which have begun operations since June 1 are the Mace, which ships about 88 car loads a day; the Myers of Chisholm; the Albany, with an output of 50 car loads daily, and the Utica, which is removing 50 car loads daily. The Myers mine at Chisholm has sunk a new shaft and is shipping from 8 to 10 car loads from this, while about 65 car loads are being removed from the stock piles.

At Buhl, the Dean, Woodbridge, Sharon and Wanless are all working their stockpiles. None, however, have resumed underground operations. All these mines are independent properties.

For the Oliver Mining company, the Hull-Rust is still the big producer, putting out more than 500 car loads a day. The Mahoning is the heavy producer for the Great Northern Iron Ore company.

Two Harbors Shipments.

Two Harbors, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ore hauling on the Iron Range railroad continues fairly brisk. The shipments from the local docks are averaging about 1,000,000 tons per month with a prospect of that amount increasing considerably within the next few weeks as the need is felt that the independent mines, which thus far have been doing very little, will start shipping on account of the new rate being now in effect.

Business on the Iron Range so far this season has been much better than it was in 1914. Up to May 31, last, there was 1,246,322 tons shipped from the local docks against 692,496 for the same period in 1914. In the month of May, 1914, there was 636,716 tons of ore shipped as against 1,102,248 shipped in May this year.

The following boats were loaded here and cleared during the past week:

May 27—J. O. Mills and Josiah G. Munro.

May 28—D. G. Kerr, Maunalon, Sir William Fairbairn, barge Malda, steamer Frank Rockefeller, barge Marcia, steamers Normann, Howard L. Shaw and the Isaac L. Elwood.

May 29—Venus, Henry C. Frick, Henry H. Rogers, R. W. E. Bunson and the Sir William Siemens.

May 30—James J. Hill and barge Marsala.

May 31—John B. Cowle, barge Manda, steamer Mataafa, barge Sir Isaac Lothean Bell, steamer Simon J. Murphy and Danniel J. Morrell.

June 1—William B. Dickson, George Stevenson, barge John A. Roebling, steamer Lupus, J. Pierpont Morgan, Henry Phipps, Percival Roberts.

June 2—William E. Corey, Corsica, H. P. Bope, Rensselaer, bargo George H. Corliss.

June 3—James Corrigan, Indus, Zenith City, barge Magna.

June 4—William B. Schiller and the Alva C. Dinkey.

South Chandler Now Shipping.

Ely, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The South Chandler shipped its first ore Tuesday. The mine has been opened up for the past two years and is owned by B. M. Pattison.

The Pickands Mather company has purchased all the ore mined. At present the daily hoist of ore is being shipped but expectations are that orders will be received any time to start shipping the ore in stock.

WOOD MAKES ARRESTS.

Game Warden Rounds Up Offenders in Vermilion Country.

Ely, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Game Warden George E. Wood has been busy this week in the vicinity of Birch Lake dam and White Iron lake. Several arrests were made on charge of having under-sized fish in their possession or for fishing near a fishway.

S. Ambrosia, Bego Benda, Peter Chiabotti, Seraphino Rolando, Carlo Beradine, Joseph Markovich and Peter Handberg were taken before Justice W. A. Johnson at Winton and fined $10 and costs for having under-sized pike in their possession. Matt Pluth pleaded guilty to fishing in a fishway before Judge Sais of Lake county and paid a fine of $10 and costs. The balance of those against whom Wood had warrants were cited to appear at a future date.

DEBS TO SPEAK AT CHISHOLM PICNIC

Chisholm, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Socialists are looking eagerly forward to the advent of Eugene V. Debs, who will speak at Longyear lake Sunday, June 20 at the annual gathering of Socialists, considered the most important convention of the year.

COOK NOTES.

Cook, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The dance given Saturday last for the benefit of A. Hoben, who has been very sick for some time, was largely attended.

Isidore Roberts' oldest son fell into the Littlefork river Tuesday, but was rescued and appears to be in no way affected from the experience.

Supt. Helston of the D. W. & P. Ry., was a Cook business visitor Wednesday.

Mr. McCabe of the Standard Oil company of Virginia, arrived here Wednesday on business.

A. E. Bickford and company were from Virginia Thursday in his auto, and went out to Vermilion lake to fish.

A dance will be given at Goodwill tonight near Vermilion lake.

A. S. Hall of Duluth was a Cook business visitor Tuesday.

Clara Flake returned home to her folks in Greaney, Tuesday.

August Buboltz and Frank Carr were Virginia business visitors Thursday.

Mr. Casey of the Range Lumber company, has decided to go into the chicken business and is locating between Schimmels and the Littlefork river.

EVELETH'S PAVING IS NOT SELECTED

Council Hears Various Experts and Reaches No Conclusion.

Eveleth, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city councilmen heard all sides of the paving question last night and adjourned without reaching any conclusion as to the material to be used in paving the several blocks it has been decided to improve this year and for which two bids have been received.

Experts on paving, representing the manufacturers of creosote blocks, vitrified, brick, asphalt, bitulithic and other kinds of paving, advocated their wares, each claiming his product was the best. It was late at night when the council adjourned without reaching a decision, the matter going over until the next session.

Wednesday, Holiday.

Mayor Saari today issued a proclamation declaring next Wednesday, June 9, a holiday on account of the meeting here of the state convention of the Eagles, which will be held June 8, 9 and 10. The city is already being decorated and the expectation is that there will be a large attendance from all over the state.

FORMER GOPHER NOW WITH ITALIAN ARMY

Virginia, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Sharpen your bayonets," was the first order received by his regiment of infantry, according to a letter received by Romeo Marrelli, employe at the Alpena mine, from his cousin, Robert Tommossoni, formerly employed at the Spruce mine in Eveleth. Being out of work, he returned to Italy shortly after the European war commenced. He has been to the front since Italy declared war on Austria.

Tommossoni writes that his regiment was called out to repel a small revolution in his home town of Costa Claro, not far distant from Tyrol, where the fighting between Italy and Austria will be done, in the opinion of local Italians.

Marrelli and other Italians in this city are of the opinion that the greater number of men of military age, Italians by birth, residing on the range, will sacrifice their property in the mother country rather than return to bear arms for it.

To Work Pettit Mine.

Gilbert, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Pettit mine here of the Republic Iron & Steel company will resume operations July 1, according to Supt. Flannagan. This mine has been inactive since last summer. When operated to its full capacity it employs about 200 men. Two shovels have been loading ore from the stockpile for several weeks. This is an underground property.

GIVE FOLK DANCES.

Hibbing School Children Entertain Many School Patrons.

Hibbing, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first outdoor festival of music and folk dancing ever given by the Hibbing public schools was held at the baseball park on a platform in front of the grandstand Thursday and Friday and proved a decided success.

The program consisted of songs and folk dances, taught the children throughout the year from the kindergarten to the eighth grade, inclusive. Several hundred children took part. The folk dances naturally aroused the greatest interest. English, Russian, Swedish, French, Danish and Spanish dances being presented with spirit and notable rythm by children of all ages.

IRON JUNCTION DRY.

Council of Range Village Refuses to Renew Sole License.

Iron Junction, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—This village is now dry, the village council having refused to renew the only license in town, that held by Chris Anderson. The council was unanimous in its vote against renewing the license. It is said that the reason for the action of the council was because the village has no regular police officer.

EAGLES' RANGE TOUR.

Eveleth Committee to Visit All Towns in Interest of Convention.

Eveleth, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The committee in charge of the advertising for the Eagles' convention to be held here June 8, 9 and 10, has chartered a special car and will tour the range from Eveleth to Hibbing, Sunday, accompanied by a band. At each place they will make stops of several hours and the band will parade the streets.

All the money necessary to insure that the celebration will be a success has been collected with but little effort, according to J. P. M. Ward, one of the members of the committee.

Virginia Eagles will attend in a body June 9 and participate in the parade.

To Protect Virginia Trees.

Virginia, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—A campaign to instill into the minds of citizens a thought towards the care of the trees being planted in the parks and on the boulevards of the city, will be started by the park board in a few days. In cases where the trees are being destroyed by horses, the owners are to be prosecuted.

Eveleth Catholic Mission.

Eveleth, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Father Mullaley will begin an eight-day mission at St. Patrick's Catholic church tomorrow. It is expected the gatherings on the different days will be largely attended.

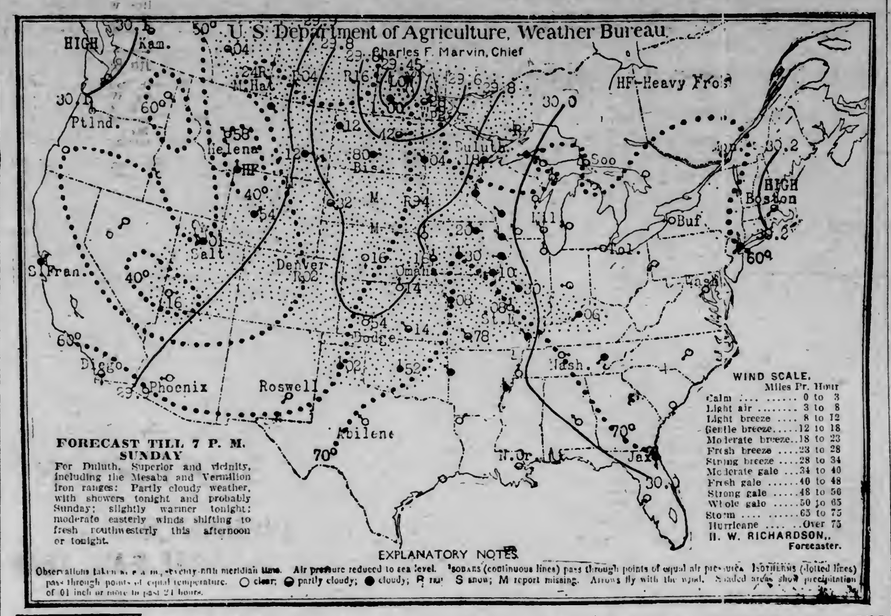

Grand Templars' Ball.

Virginia, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Oslo lodge, No. 83, I. O. G. T., will give an entertainment June 8 at the North Pole hall, in which the Norwegian Quartet club, one of the best choral organizations in the city, will participate. After the entertainment dancing will be enjoyed and later in the evening refreshments will be served.

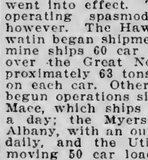

Pupils Give Program.

Gilbert, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. W. J. Dowling's piano students gave a musical program at her conservatory Friday afternoon. A large audience was present.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

WARMER

The first warm rain of the season and the first real thunder storm broke last night, which may herald the arrival of real summer weather. At any rate, it will be well to hope for the best. Warmer weather is predicted for tomorrow, with some more showers.

A year ago today was cloudy. The sun rose this morning at 4:14 and will set this evening at 7:58, giving fifteen hours and forty-four minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The barometric depression centered over Manitoba caused light to soaking showers over central and northwestern districts during Friday or last night. Heavy rain fell at Minnedosa, Manitoba. The twenty-four-hour temperature changes were generally slight. Hot weather prevails over the greater portion of the extreme South. Heavy frost occurred last night at Yellowstone, Wyo."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, June 5.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Sunday:

Minnesota — Partly cloudy with showers tonight or Sunday; cooler Sunday and in west portion tonight.

Wisconsin — Partly cloudy with probably showers late tonight or Sunday; warmer in east portion tonight; cooler in west portion Sunday.

Iowa—Partly cloudy with showers tonight or Sunday; cooler Sunday.

North Dakota and South Dakota—Showers this afternoon and probably tonight; cooler tonight; Sunday partly cloudy with cooler in east portions.

Montana—Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday; cooler tonight.

Lower Michigan—Fair tonight and Sunday, except probably showers Sunday on the north portion.

Upper Michigan—Probably showers tonight and Sunday; warmer tonight in south portion.

MISSING GIRL MAY BE IN ZENITH CITY

Anxious Two Harbors Parents Believe Girl in Hiding in Duluth.

Two Harbors, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ruth Thoran, aged 15 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erick Thoran, left home last week, and to date the parents, assisted by police in Duluth and other places, have not been able to locate her. Her father believes that she is in some place in Duluth. He claims that she was seen on Superior street on Saturday last. The girl's father states that she must be without funds, as she had no money when she left home, and he is at a loss to know how she managed to get out of the city. He states that the girl left home without any apparent reason. According to the father, this is not the only time that the girl has demonstrated that she desired to live apart from her parents. The girl is fair complexioned and is very large for her age. The father returned from Duluth yesterday after a fruitless search.

AURORA SIXTH GRADE GIVES "RIP VAN WINKLE"

Aurora, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The sixth grade pupils played "Rip Van Winkle" last night to a crowded house. They showed much cleverness and gave a very creditable production.

The annual school exhibit opened last night and was well attended. The work displayed by the various grades from the kindergarten to the high school, was up to a high standard and reflected much credit upon the scholars and their instructors. Talent of a high order was shown in every grade. The exhibit will be continued throughout all of next week.

GILBERT INJUNCTION CASE BEING HEARD

Virginia, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Whether the injunction restraining Gilbert from using water from Ely lake for municipal purposes will be made permanent will be decided today before Judge Martin Hughes at Hibbing, when the matter is heard on its merit. The temporary injunction was secured by Mike Cronin against President Frederick Barrett of the Gilbert council before Judge Martin Hughes.

Cronin claims that if the village is permitted to use the water from Ely lake for municipal purposes the water level of the lake will be materially lowered, which would result in considerable damage to his property, a summer resort on the lake. He also claims that the water will be contaminated.

He has within the last few months spent several thousand dollars on improvements on his summer resort on the lake shore.

Should the injunction be made permanent it will work considerable hardship to the village of Gilbert as its new $30,000 filtration plant is about completed and it will necessitate a change in the entire water system.

PAVING FOR ONE STREET

Farrell Would Provide Good Thoroughfare to West Duluth.

Oneota Improvement Out of Question; Club Rejects "Advisory" Plan.

That he will make every effort to have at least one of the two principal thoroughfares between West Duluth and Duluth paved this year was the statement of J. A. Farrell commissioner of public works, at the meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club last night. The meeting was one of the liveliest that has been held in some time, many of the members not mincing words in telling the commissioner that evasiveness in pushing such improvements by the commissioners had become a regular thing in the past.

Oneota Paving Not Considered.

Commissioner Farrell said that it was out of the question to consider the paving of Oneota street. He said that the cost would be more than the city could stand at this time and that the property, much of which is in ravines, could not stand the assessment. He also said that paving only the part to Thirty-ninth avenue would not relieve the situation. He said that Third street was different. Here the cost to the city was not so much. Ravines had to be filled, and at present there was a plan being worked out whereby he believed the work would be carried to a successful issue. He intimated that it was proposed to ask some of the large wholesalers to contribute in doing the work.

The members expressed the sentiment that they did not care which street was improved so that one of them was paved. David Sang led the discussion stating that from time to time different members of the commission had brought up one excuse after another against the paving of Oneota street. That property owners had turned down the proposed paving of Third street but that no remonstrance had been made against the improvement to Oneota. He contended that the commission should pave the street where the least objection was raised.

He said he objected to having any deficiency in the cost of paving Grand avenue paid out of the general fund of the city or from direct taxation. He said that this was an injustice to the property owners who had paid full assessments for the paving of streets in front of their homes.

In response to a statement that this end of the city was being neglected in street improvements, Mr. Farrell said that the city was now paying for improvements on Highland street and also intended spending about $6,000 on Commonwealth avenue in Gary. When asked if the latter was already appropriated he said: "No, not yet, and if we decide to pave either of these thoroughfares between Duluth and West Duluth, Gary will not get it. It will take all of the available money that the department can get together to meet this improvement."

The consensus of opinion of many of the members of the club at the close of the meeting was that there will be no paved street between Duluth and West Duluth this year. The property owners have, it was stated, filed a protest against any paving that would cost them more than $175 per 25-foot frontage, and according to Commissioner Farrell, it will cost about $260 for each lot of 25 feet to pave the street.

No "Kitchen Cabinet."

Members of the club also went on record as refusing to consider any membership or affiliation with any proposed "kitchen cabinet" or organization that will work in the nature of an advisory board to the commissioners. The resolution adopted, places the club as opposed to such an organization, but states that the club will work with any other organizations in the city for the betterment of the entire city.

Among the members who spoke during the discussion of the paving were Charles G. Futter, Thomas Olafson, County Commissioner Charles Kauppi, P. H. Martin, Louis Blechl, Emil J. Zauft, Andrew Myles, A. P. Carlson and others.

The club went on record as favoring the proposed purchase of all water meters by the city water and light department as outlined by Commissioner Merritt and D. A. Reed at the last meeting of the club.

MUST WALK NARROW PATH OR GO TO JAIL

Judge "Lays Down Law" to Delinquent Laundry Driver.

If Henry Holmwood, aged 34, 410½ Central avenue, values his liberty, he will keep away from saloons, make an honest effort to get steady employment and support his wife and family.

If he should be seen entering a saloon or even taking a "friendly" drink or shows a disposition to be lazy or indolent, he will be called upon by the district court to serve a year in jail.

Such was the condition of a parole which was granted Holmwood this morning when he appeared before Judge Dancer and pleaded guilty to an information charging him with having stolen $73 from W. E. Kern, laundry proprietor, who had employed him as a driver.

Kern claimed that there was a shortage of $73 in accounts collected by Holmwood between January and August, 1914. Holmwood admitted to the court that he had been careless and attributed his downfall to drink. He informed the court that this was his first offense.

Upon the recommendation of Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, and his own counsel, Paul Thompson, Holmwood was given a chance to "make good." He was sentenced to one year in the county jail but released under a suspension of the sentence for one year. The court directed him to make regular reports to F. E. Resche, probation officer.

WEST DULUTH BUILDERS

WILLIAM HOLM.

Twenty-three years ago there landed in Duluth a "green" country boy fresh from the shores of Europe with nothing but ambition. Today that same boy, William Holm, is managing a good-sized grocery store on Ramsey street and rapidly making his presence felt as a booster for the community.

"I had hard sledding when I first landed," said Mr. Holm today. "I have followed all kinds of work, that of the lumberjack, farmer, sailor, fisherman and in the shops. After getting a little start in business eight years ago, I find that I can be of more use to the community as a booster. I am firm in the opinion that West Duluth is the brightest spot in Duluth and Duluth the best place in the country."

In addition to being manager of the West Duluth Mercantile company, Mr. Holm is president of the West Duluth Realty company. He is also active in temperance work in this end of the city.

WEST DULUTH MAN LAND APPRAISER

Stephen J. Krakenberg of West Duluth, who has been in the employ of the state for several years as timber cruiser and scaler, has been appointed state land appraiser. The appointment was made public this morning and came from Governor W. S. Hammond's office at St. Paul.

Mr. Krankenberg has been a resident of West Duluth for more than twenty years. During the last ten years he has been in the department of the surveyor general of logs and lumber of this district. He is said to be thoroughly acquainted with the North woods districts.

WILL CELEBRATE WINNING OF FLAG

The winning of the Memorial day flag permanently by the Merritt school in the recent Memorial day parade will be celebrated with special exercises and a picnic tomorrow afternoon at the Merritt park, Fortieth avenue west and Seventh street. The preparations have been made under the direction of the Oneota and Hazelwood Improvement club, assisted by the Mothers' club of the Merritt school.

The exercises of dedicating the flag and hoisting it on the flag pole at the park will begin at 3 o'clock. The program will consist of marching by the children of the school, speaking, music and songs. Following the program ice cream and cake will be served to the children of the school. Parents are invited to attend and bring their lunch baskets.

TOWNER RETURNS FROM PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY

William Towner, 414 Fifty-ninth avenue west, delegate from the Duluth Presbytery to the general assembly of Presbyterian churches of the United States, held at Rochester, N. Y., returned home yesterday. Mr. Towner was the only delegate from Duluth and one of four from the district.

"The Presbyterians of the United States have made a great stride in membership, according to reports at the convention," said Mr. Towner this morning. "The total membership now is slightly over 1,105,000, an increase of 46,900 over that of last year. The finances of the denomination are in good shape."

The other delegates to the convention were: Rev. George Turner of Gilbert, Rev. James Watt of Carlton, and Louis Nelson of Mora. While in the East Mr. Towner visited his son William Towner of New York.

Lodge Memorial Service.

Edda lodge No. 15, Daughters of Norway, will hold its memorial services tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock jointly with other Daughters of Norway lodges of the city at the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street. The sermon will be preached by Rev. H. A. Ofstie.

Members of the Edda lodge will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the West Duluth Commercial club rooms. From there they will go in a body to the church. They will take a Grand avenue car shortly after meeting in the hall.

SUPERIOR

SUPERIOR MAY LOSE BALL TEAM

Superior may lose its baseball team if it does not get better support, according to A. L. Steece, owner of the team. Since the opening of the season the team has been losing from $70 to $100 daily, it is claimed.

Mr. Steece claims to have an offer to move his team to Brandon, Can. Business men of that community, he says, have offered him a cash bonus of $3,000 to bring the team to that city, and he says that he intends taking up the offer if he finds it made in good faith. Brandon, he said, is anxious to get into the Northern league.

In addition to the bonus, he claims to have been offered free use of the park for the season.

SUPERIOR'S FIRST CIGAR MAKER DIES

Henry Emerich, age 53, the man who made the first cigar in Superior, died yesterday at his room, 610 Tower avenue. Heart trouble was the cause of death. He had been a resident of Superior for nearly a quarter of a century.

Jury Again Disagrees.

After deliberating for thirty hours over evidence of the trial of Joseph Naughton, the jury was unable to agree and at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon was discharged. The jury stood nine for conviction and three for acquittal. This is the second time that a jury in this case has disagreed. State Prosecutor Hartley announced that another trial will be held later in the year.

FAVOR CENSORS FOR "MOVIES"

Mayor and Safety Head Indorse Proposal of Woman's Council.

Mayor Prince and Commissioner Silberstein declared this morning that they are both in favor of the amendment to the theater ordinance providing for a special motion picture censorship committee, as proposed by the Woman's council.

"If the women want to do the work and censor the motion pictures, I am willing to give them the permission," said the mayor. "These pictures are changed very often and with the many theaters in Duluth it will mean considerable work for them every week of the year."

"Our theater ordinance regulates motion pictures and prohibits obscene scenes of any kind," said Commissioner Silberstein, "but I am willing to give the women the opportunity to officially censor all our pictures. I haven't seen the amendment, so I really don't know its contents."

JUDGE IS NOT ALWAYS LENIENT

Fesler Insists on Arrest of Jitneur Formerly Released By Him.

When Oscar Carlson, aged 35, a jitneur, bumped into Ira Vesterfelt, throwing both Mr. Vesterfelt and his wife to the pavement last night, they refused to make a complaint and Officer O. Olson was about to release Carlson with a warning when District Judge Bert Fesler, a witness, insisted that the man be arrested. The accident happened at Sixth avenue west and Superior street.

Several months ago this situation was just reversed, when Carlson was before Judge Fesler on a charge of keeping a disorderly house and the police were eager to set an example. The judge paroled him with a warning. Carlson now has a penitentiary sentence hanging over his head.

Mr. Vesterfelt, who lives at 1124 East Ninth street, was but slightly injured. Carlson pleaded not guilty to a reckless driving charge in municipal court this morning and will be given a hearing June 8.

Julius Monson, aged 23, another jitneur, was operating without a rear lamp early this morning and was brought in by Officer Kreager. He also said he was not guilty and will be heard further on June 8.

JURY DEAD-LOCKED ON ASSAULT CASE

Fate of Woman in Doubt After Twenty-One Hours.

A disagreement is now looked for from the jury which is trying the question of whether Alice Wright, colored, is guilty or innocent of the charge of first or second degree assault.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon no word came from the jury room where the jurors have been dead locked for twenty-one hours. The jury took the case at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and spent all night deliberating upon the evidence.

The woman is charged with having assaulted Sam Dahl with a knife or sharp instrument after having robbed him of $5. Dahl was cut about his hands while attempting to recover his money. Hattie Jenkins, also colored, was jointly indicted with the Wright woman.

B. M. Goldberg appeared in the case as attorney for the defendant and County Attorney Greene prosecuted.

JOHNSON CASE HOLDS ATTENTION

Discharge of Official May Come Up Before C. S. Commission.

Who has the authority over the secretaryship of the civil service commission?

This question is paramount at the city hall and will probably end in a special hearing of the civil service commission to decide who has the right of appointment to that office. Opinion at the city hall is divided, and it is understood that the matter has already been informally placed before two of the members of the civil service body.

Last Wednesday night Commissioner Silberstein presented a communication to the council, announcing that Leonard McHugh, law clerk for City Attorney Green, would succeed Ruben Johnson as secretary of the civil service commission on July 1, the former to work without salary, thus saving the city $600 a year.

Two members of the city commission claim that the entire council should have the authority, while supporters of civil service say that the position should be kept out of politics and that it really is under the authority of that body. Mr. Johnson said this morning that he was appointed by the old civil service body and that his office is understood to be under civil service regulations.

Mr. Johnson is at present secretary of the civil service commission and the health department, having held these two offices for the last nine years.

APPLE CROP WILL BE LARGE

Growers Should Strive for Quality, Says R. S. Mackintosh.

That the present season promises a large crop of apples—in fact, a crop too large—is the opinion of R. S. Mackintosh of the University farm, St. Paul, who advocates a careful thinning of the fruit during the early summer.

"Superior fruit always sells," says Mr. Mackintosh. "Size and color attracts the eye and win the favor of the customer who would otherwise hesitate. Well-colored Wealthy apples often bring 50 cents a barrel more than poorly-colored fruit of the same variety. The Wealthy is the leading commercial apple in Minnesota.

"For the reason that the season promises a big crop, every owner of an orchard should make it his aim to get, not the largest possible crop, but the best possible crop. By sacrificing quantity he can improve the quality of his product. This shift from quantity to quality is made by thinning.

"Thinning should be done in the early summer. To thin properly, but one fruit in a cluster should be left, and there should be about six inches betwen fruits. Poor, misshapen or injured fruits should be removed. The earlier the work is done after the imperfect fruits have dropped off, the better will be the results.

MUCH PROGRESS IN BEAR RIVER DISTRICT

Engineer-Farmer Visits Duluth to Prove Up on Homestead.

C. L. Saxer, locomotive engineer and farmer, was in Duluth yesterday to prove up on his homestead in the Bear River country.

Mr. Saxer quit railroading about ten years ago to work his land. Now he has forty-five acres cleared and ready for the plow. Recently he went back to his run on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway. He turned his farm over to a manager. He expects to put in a big crop this year.

G. T. Peterson, editor of the Bear River Journal, and Robert W. Block, son of Former State Treasurer Block, accompanied Mr. Saxer to the city yesterday and served as witnesses in the proceeding of proving up his homestead.

According to Editor Peterson, good progress is being made with the installation of a new telephone system for the farmers of the Bear River district. The line will connect with Hibbing.

SUMMER COURSE IN HOME ECONOMICS

For the reason that interest in agriculture and home economics is increasing in the public schools of the state and especially in the rural and consolidated schools, a course in home economics and agriculture will be offered every summer at the College of Agriculture, University farm, St. Paul.

The course lasts six weeks and gives special opportunity to consolidated school principals and teachers of rural schools to study not only agriculture and home economics but manual training as well, in such a manner that they can in turn teach these subjects in their schools.

During this summer session there will also be classes in all subjects required in order to obtain teachers' certificates. The work begins June 14 and closes July 24. Last year more than 1,000 persons attended.

A bulletin giving further particulars can be obtained by writing A. V. Storm, conductor of state teachers' training school, University farm, St. Paul.

Look Out for Warbles.

Owners of cattle should be on the lookout for warbles on the backs of their animals this season, according to C. W. Howard of the division of entomology, University farm, St. Paul.

"Evidence of the presence of these flies is found in tumors or warbles on the backs of cattle. In the spring or early summer from these warbles drop grubs which burrow into the ground, and after about a month emerge as flies. These flies lay their eggs on the legs of cattle, the cattle lick the eggs off, and after a time the warbles appear on the backs of the cattle.

"The grubs may be removed by pressure around the warbles, and then crushed; or they may be destroyed by the injection of grease or oil into the openings of the tumors. In Europe from 20 to 40 drops of tincture of iodine is sometimes injected to kill the grubs."

THE COLLEGE "KIDDERS"

Cornell University Sun: Of the characteristics of the college man of today, the one which is perhaps the most distinctly marked is the ability and habit of "kidding," a practice redeemed to a great extent by the training which the college man receives in learning to give back as good as he receives. A man who has spent four years in an American institution of higher education is usually prepared for practical jokes of every known species, and for "kidding," clever, asinine, subtle or painfully obvious. He is about as easily ruffled by a jest as a hippopotamus is put to flight with an airgun.

The college man is an intellectual silk worm. About his real self, by a process of years, he has woven a thread of manner, of joke and jest so long and deep, that it is seldom that his real friends penetrate to the man within. His heart is anywhere but on his sleeve. And few would have it otherwise.

But, growing out of such an attitude towards the men with whom he comes daily in contact, the college man has reached an extreme. So long have his daily conversations and chats at the dinner table or in his study been mere "kidding matches" that in many cases he has lost his power to talk logically, consistently, upon a topic of any nature more serious than the Chicago game or the varsity's chances against Penn. And if perchance he has that power, he is afraid to use it, knowing well that the opening of any serious topic means the receipt of a choice and assorted collection of wit.

Picture a group of men in a fraternity or boarding house engaged in talking over a matter of any importance. The conversation is becoming interesting and logical. The men are intellectually on edge. Of a sudden a rustling sound is heard. The house baboon, scenting his opportunity, utters his racial noise and swings nimbly into the conversation. Immediately seriousness is at an end. The rest of the group, from force of habit, join in with that species of comment that can only be described as "clever." The subject is forgotten.

Undoubtedly this results from one or two men, college simians whose capacity for "cleverness" is greater than that of the undergraduates with whom they come in contact, and who cannot allow an opportunity for the exercise of this faculty go by unheeded. They have a melancholy reward. Ever, their most serious remarks are to be taken as a joke, it is impossible to look upon them seriously. The humor of the old circus conversation has its touch of pathos. "Why did Jones become a clown?" asks the tatooed man; "in college he was always the life of the party," answers the bearded woman.

Such a situation which tends toward the discouragement of any serious discussion among undergraduates is no small contributor to that intellectual slovenliness which educators declare to be perhaps the paramount problem in American universities. The average undergraduate reads what? His textbook on occasions, the Saturday Evening Post always, and some of the monthly magazines. The remainder of his reading course usually retails at $1.08 a volume.

No one would ask that the dinner meeting of students should resemble an undertakers' convention. But once in a while a serious thought outside of the classroom would not be amiss; a little wit could be well exchanged for a bit of real intellect.

A Brockton (Mass.) lawyer recently bought a revolver for self-protection, and after considerable thought decided that the best place to keep it was in the safe, so that if a burglar unexpectedly drops in all the lawyer will have to do is to walk to the safe, arrange the combination, open the door of the safe, hunt in his vest pocket for the key to the inner compartments, unlock the inner door, pull out the revolver, find some cartridges and then turn on the burglar.

HERALD WANT ADS

BOTH PHONES 324
ONE CENT A WORD

WANT AD RATES—Classified advertisements under regular headings, "Wanted—Male Help," "For Rent—Rooms," "For Sale—Miscellaneous," "Lost," "Found," etc., 1 cent per word per insertion, cash in advance. No advertisement, however, taken for less than 15 cents. Spaced advertisements or with machine border under any classification, 72 cents a measured inch—12 lines to the inch.

Standing classified advertisements, $1.00 per line per month, minimum space two lines.

Set in paragraphs or charged on the books, 6 cents per line, However, not less than two lines twice, or three lines once, accepted. All one-line "ads" charged as two lines.

CLOSING HOURS: Want Ads, to be classified properly in The Herald, should be in The Herald office before 12 o'clock, noon, (Saturdays 11:30 a. m.); when received at a later hour they are likely to be inserted under heading, "Too Late to Classify."

Count the words of your ad, including two words for the indexing of your ad and three words for a Herald address when such address is to be used; count each "initial" letter and each number or combination of figures as one word.

TELEPHONE YOUR WANT ADS to The Herald whenever it is more convenient to do so, if you are a telephone subscriber, and a bill will be mailed to you or a collector will call at your home or at your office the following day. This is an accommodation service rendered Herald Want Ad patrons and payment should always be promptly made on receipt of bill. Always ask that your telephone ad be repeated back to you by the telephone ad taker, to make sure that it has been taken correctly. The Herald cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

OUT-OF-TOWN ADVERTISEMENTS must be accompanied with cash in full payment for the same. Note the foregoing instructions about counting the words and the rate per word.

The Herald will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Persons advertising in The Herald Want columns and having the answers addressed in care of The Herald will please ask for check to enable them to get their letters, as none will be delivered except on presentation of checks.

All answers to advertisements should be enclosed in envelopes and care should be taken to see that they are properly addressed.

No mis-classification permitted under any circumstances.

Death, Funeral, Card of Thanks, Lodge or Society notices, not exceeding ten lines, $1.00 per insertion. Additional space at commercial rates.

In answering advertisements addressed to numbers in care of The Herald, do not inclose stamps.

Only advertisements set in 1 inch or more space will be run E. O. D. We accept advertisements on T. F. orders only when they are to appear without changes for a month or more.

All verbal orders to discontinue advertisements running more than one time must be confirmed in writing.

FARM AND FRUIT LANDS.

WE MAKE IT OUR BUSINESS TO GET YOU EXACTLY THE KIND OF FARM PROPERTY YOU ARE LOOKING FOR.

WE MAY HAVE IT NOW, IF NOT WE WILL FIND IT.

WE DEAL ONLY IN PROPERTIES WHICH WE CAN RECOMMEND TO YOU AS BARGAINS. FOR INSTANCE, WE HAVE FOR SALE:

40 acres in Hermantown, 11 miles from the center of Duluth, with house and barn; 10 acres cleared, all fenced, on good road, half mile from school. The price is $950. This is far below market value for property in Herman township.

80 acres of excellent land close to town on D., M. & N. railroad; fronts on good road. This is a very good buy at $14.50 per acre. We can allow easy terms.

160 acres 4 miles from Woodland car line; adjoining land recently sold at $50 per acre. We can sell this for $24.50 an acre.

SEVERAL GOOD LOW-PRICED FORTIES NEAR RAILROAD TOWNS.

LEMBERG MAY BE CAPTURED AT ANY MOMENT

ITALIAN FORCES HAVE BEGUN GENERAL ADVANCE ACROSS THE ISONZO, FORTY MILES TO SEA

RESISTANCE OF AUSTRIANS IS STRONGER

Has Effect of Making Emmanuel's Troops More Determined.

Tolmino on East of River Is One of Italians' Objectives.

Naval Forces Are Showing Great Activity in the Adriatic.

Udine, Italy, June 7, via Chiasso and Paris.—A general Italian advance is taking place today across the Isonzo river from Caporetto to the sea, a distance of about forty miles.

The movement is one of importance and hard fighting is taking place at Gradisca and in the vicinity of this town.

Draw Screen of Secrecy Tighter.

The Italian authorities are drawing tighter the screen of secrecy as to the Italian operation. Nevertheless it may be said that masses of Italian troops have been concentrated on the roads from Cormons, Palmanova and Cervignano.

The resistance of the Austrians is daily becoming stronger. This, Italian staff officers declare, has had the effect of making their men more determined.

Naval Activities.

Rome, June 7, via London.—The following official statement was issued by the war office.

"Naval detachments Saturday cut the cables uniting the continents to the islands of the Dalmatia archipelago. All the lighthouses and lookout stations of these islands were destroyed. The railways between Cattaro and Ragusa were bombarded and seriously damaged.

"The same day a group of our destroyers, which were unsuccessfully attacked by Austrian aeroplanes, again bombarded Monfalcone and sank several sailing craft laden with merchandise. Large vessels supporting the destroyers cruised in the same waters without seeing the enemy."

LIQUOR QUESTION UP IN TWELVE COUNTIES

Elections in Minnesota Under County Option Law of Last Legislature.

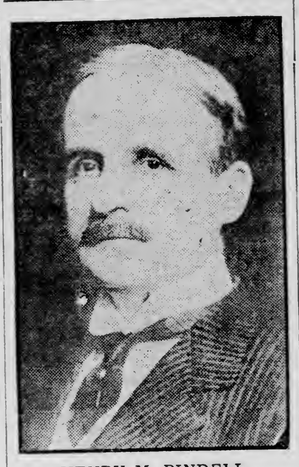

St. Paul, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—In twelve counties of Minnesota elections are being held today on the "wet" and "dry" issue as provided by the county option law enacted by the last legislature. Both the saloon and anti-liquor forces are claiming victory by narrow margins.

Of the energetic campaigns which have been waged in all the counties, that conducted in Todd county has been most aggressive, where the "dry" forces have made a determined fight under the leadership of William E. Lee, defeated candidate for election in the gubernatorial campaign last fall.

Mankato, in Blue Earth county, is the largest city in which the fight to oust the saloons has been made in the present campaign.

The counties voting today are: Olmstead, Blue Earth, Traverse, Todd, Pipestone, Renville, Dodge, Kandiyohi, Murray, Otter Tail, Redwood and Watonwan.

WOMEN HAVE SHARP SCRAP

Verbal Sparks Fly at Meeting of Suffrage Association.

Wisconsin Woman Says President Ran Steam Roller Over Her.

Chicago, June 7.—The mid-year conference of the National American Woman Suffrage association was but half an hour old today when verbal sparks began to fly. The participants were Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the association, Mrs. Thomas W. Youmans, president of the Wisconsin state organization, and as peacemaker, Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, president of the state organization of Ohio.

Mrs. Youmans accused Dr. Shaw of flattening her out with a steam roller.

The trouble arose over the Congressional union, a suffragist organization said to advocate militant methods, including attacks on parties and individuals which oppose the woman movement. This is one of the most important subjects to come before the conference.

Calls for Committee.

Mrs. Youmans offered a resolution calling for an arbitration committee on which the Congressional union should have fair representation, to consider all matters bearing on the

ORDERED TO SPARE ROMAN AMPHITHEATER

Venice, June 6, via Paris, June 7.—The Italian military authorities have issued instructions to ships and airships to spare from injury the remains of the famous Roman amphitheater at Pola, the Austrian naval base on the eastern side of the Adriatic.

The Italians claim this location is being used by the Austrians for military purposes; nevertheless they purpose to spare it.

NAVAL FIGHT IN THE BALTIC

Several German and One Russian Transport Are Sunk.

Engagement Occurs at the Approaches of Gulf of Riga.

London, June 7.—The naval engagement at the entrance to the Gulf of Riga resulted in the sinking of several German transports and one large vessel not named, says the Petrograd correspondent of the Times. The Russians lost one auxiliary ship.

It was surmised, the correspondent says, that a majority of the German ships hitherto concentrated at Kiel came out into the Baltic but the battle squadrons apparently were not engaged. It is believed in Petrograd that Germans will repeat their attempt to land troops on the Russian coast.

A semi-official statement issued at Petrograd says that the Russian transport Yenisei has been sunk by a German submarine, and that Russian submarines have sunk three German steamers.

Enemy Active.

The statement follows:

"Reports from observation posts and from our submarines watching the coast revealed activity by the enemy near our coast, especially the approaches to the Gulf of Riga. Large enemy war ships preceded by torpedo boats approached the entrance of the gulf on the third but withdrew on perceiving our fleet.

"Shortly afterward, the enemy sent out hydro-aeroplanes which attacked our ships. These hydro-aeroplane attacks were without result. Their projectiles missed our ships and they were driven off by our artillery.

"The enemy repeated the maneuver on the fourth but was again frustrated by our submarines. At the same time in the Baltic sea our transport Yenisei was attacked by the enemy's submarines and sunk, thirty-two men being saved.

"Reports dated the sixth seem to establish that three enemy steamers were sunk by mines placed in the route of the enemy and by the attacks of our submarines."

To Care for Children.

Rome, June 7, via Paris.—A number of wealthy or well-to-do Italian women are at present engaged in organizing local societies throughout the kingdom to care for the children of the lower classes in the daytime in order that their mothers, or other women in their families, may be free to work in field or factory in the place of men who are at the front.

RUSS CRUISER IN THE LATEST LIST OF PREY OF GERMAN SUBMARINES

Amur Said to Have Been Sunk Near Port in Baltic.

Half Dozen Smaller Vessels Are Sent to Bottom.

French Mine Layer Casabanca Strikes Mine in Aegean Sea.

Berlin, June 7, by wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—The following statement was given out here officially today:

"A German submarine on June 4 sank the Russian cruiser Amur of the second class, near a Baltic port."

A semi-official statement from Petrograd last night said that the Russian warship Yenisei had been sunk in the Gulf of Riga by a German submarine. The Amur, a minelayer of 2,926 tons displacement, was a sister ship of the Yenisei and it is probable that the names of these vessels have been confused, apparently only one of them having been sunk.

More Victims of Submarines.

London, June 7, noon.—The British bark Sunlight of Liverpool has been sunk by a German submarine. The crew of the vessel has been taken to Queenstown.

VOLUNTARILY EXILED FROM GREAT BRITAIN

Hotel Keeper of Queenstown Reaches New York on Steamer St. Louis.

New York, June 7.—Otto Humbert, owner of the Queen's hotel at Queenstown, where many survivors of the Lusitania were sheltered and cared for when they were rescued from the ocean, reached New York today, a voluntary exile from Great Britian.

Mr. Humbert, although a naturalized British citizen, is of German birth. This fact aroused so much criticism from the friends of the Lusitania's survivors, it is said, that he found it almost impossible to remain in Queenstown, notwithstanding his scrupulous care to so deport himself as to be above suspicion. He left home to avoid further unpleasantness and possible trouble.

The steamer St. Louis, aboard which Mr. Humbert was a passenger, brought 831 passengers, of whom 227 were in the first cabin.

It was the liner's first trip since she was refitted to accommodate first cabin passengers.

THAW'S TRIAL IS AGAIN POSTPONED

Put Over to Await Decision of Court of Appeals.

New York, June 7.—Harry K. Thaw's trial by jury to determine whether he is sane, originally set for today, was postponed till June 16 by Supreme Court Justice Hendrick to await the decision of the court of appeals on the state's appeal from Justice Hendrick's decision granting Thaw such a trial.

Inasmuch as counsel have signed a stipulation not to proceed until the higher court hands down its decision, the case doubtless will be postponed again on June 16 if the court of appeals has not acted by that time.

Detroit, June 7.—The seventh national conference on city planning began in Detroit today. Sessions will continue until Wednesday night. The delegates represent all sections of the United States and some Canadian cities.

AUSTRIAN SOLDIERS NOW WITHIN A FEW MILES OF CAPITAL

One Report Says Troops Are Only Twenty-Five Miles Away, While Another Places Them at Ten Miles.

Germans Sending Heavy Reinforcements to Western Line, Where Signs of Resumption of Offensive Are Apparent.

London, June 7.—Telegrams from Vienna say that Lemberg, capital of the Austrian crown land of Galicia, now in the hands of the Russians, may be taken at any moment by the Austro-German forces, according to a dispatch from Copenhagen to the Exchange Telegraph company.

One message from the Austrian capital says the Austrians are twenty-five miles from the town and other advices estimate the distance at only ten miles.

Reinforcements to West.

London, June 7.—Following the capture of the Russian position at Przemysl the Germans apparently have sent heavy reinforcements to the western line where there are distinct signs of a resumption of the offensive on the part of the invaders. Nevertheless the French report a slow and uninterrupted advance in the sector north of Arras, and important gains north of the Aisne.

According to a French official report French troops after a very effective bombardment at a point east of Tracy-le-Mont and north of the River Aisne, carried two successive lines of trenches on a front of one kilometer, together with several German works.

In the east the Austro-German advance is continuing, with Eastern Galicia figuring prominently as the objective. This move is regarded in London as political, the idea of the Germans and Austrians being to exert an influence upon Roumania.

CONDITION OF KING CRITICAL

Constantine of Greece Has High Temperature Following Operation.

Illness Said to Have Resulted From Stab From Wife.

Athens, via London, June 7.—The bulletin issued at midnight regarding the condition of King Constantine stated that his temperature was 103.3, his puise 125 and his respiration 26. His sleep was broken frequently during the night.

Condition Serious.

London, June 7.—The condition of King Constantine of Greece, is described as extremely critical in a Reuter dispatch from Athens filed at 11 o'clock last night. It was said anxious crowds were surrounding the palace.

Telegrams received at the Greek legation from Athens, filed several hours in advance of the Reuter dispatch were more reassuring. One of these messages timed 7:30 p. m. yesterday said the condition of the king was "not immediately dangerous," an earlier telegram described the operation performed yesterday on the king as "serious, but successful."

Stabbed by Wife.

Paris, June 7.—The punctured pleural region in the lobes of the lungs, from which King Constantine of Greece is now recovering, is due, according to a statement made by the diplomatic representative of a neutral power, to a tragic episode that occurred in April during a heated discussion between the king and his consort, Queen Sophia,

NOTE NOW READY FOR TRANSMISSION

President Has Completed Phraseology of Document to Germany.

Washington, June 7.—The American note to Germany concerning the sinking of the Lusitania virtually was ready today for transmission to Berlin. President Wilson worked until a late hour last night to complete its phraseology.

The note is said to be a vigorous reiteration of previous demands that Germany exercise the right of visit and search before attacking unarmed merchant ships. The delay in forwarding the note was to enable the president to so phrase it that there could be no room for doubt or further argument concerning the attitude of the United States.

Secretary Bryan had a conference with President Wilson at noon today and is understood to have gone over the final draft of the German note with him. After leaving the president Mr. Bryan refused to say whether the president had given him the note for transmission to Berlin and would not discuss it in any way.

ZEPPELIN BLOWN TO PIECES OVER BELGIUM BY BRITISH

German Airmen Again Visit the East Coast of England.

Explosive and Incendiary Bombs Dropped, Killing Five.

London, June 7.—The admiralty announced today that a Zeppelin had been blown to pieces over Belgium by British airmen.

It was announced at the admiralty this afternoon that a Zeppelin visited the east coast of England last night, dropping incendiary and explosive bombs. Five persons were killed and forty were injured. Two fires were caused by the incendiary bombs.

Drop Bombs on Harwich.

Berlin, June 7, by wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—"On the night of June 4-5 German naval dirigibles attacked the fortified mouth of the Humber (on the east coast of England), the naval port of Harwich (in Essex), England, and the harbor establishment at Harwich. They were conspicuously successful. Many bombs were dropped and there was a large number of explosions. One particularly violent explosion was that of a gas tank or oil tank which was hit. Bombs were dropped on the railroad depot.

"German airships were shot at vigorously by guns on land and on ships. They were not hit and returned safely."

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

The third Zeppelin raid over England since the early part of last week occurred last night. It resulted in the killing of five persons and wounding of forty by bombs dropped by the Germans. It is said the attack was made on the east coast.

The British admiralty announced that a British aviator destroyed a Zeppelin over Belgium.

A wireless dispatch from Berlin, which escaped the British censorship, gave in an official announcement the location of the places attacked in the Zeppelin raid of last Friday night. It is stated the fortified mouth of the Humber and the naval port of Harwich, both on the east coast of England were visited and that many bombs were dropped, causing considerable damage.

According to an official announcement at Berlin the Russian mine layer Amur was sunk in the Baltic by a German submarine. This probably is the vessel referred to in a semi-official dispatch from Petrograd, which, however, stated it was the Yenisei, a sister ship of the Amur, which was torpedoed. Heavy fighting is again in progress at various points along the western front. The French war office today announced the capture of two lines of Germain trenches over a front of 1,200 yards near Hebuterne and the repulse of German attacks north of the Aisne. The German statement declared that the French attack at Hebuterne was unsuccessful and that the French had been beaten back also in an attempted advance near Soissons, with the exception of one point at which they penetrated the outer German works.

In Galicia the victorious advance of the Austro-German forces continue. Telegrams from Vienna say that Lemberg, held by the Russians since the early part of the war, may be taken at any moment by the Teutonic allies.

A general Italian advance across the Isonzo river, for a distance of forty miles north of the Gulf of Trieste, has been begun. A dispatch from Udine, Italy, says heavy fighting is in progress at Gradisca. The Italian advance, the most formidable movement of the campaign, is meeting with the first determined resistance offered by the Austrians, and an important battle apparently is developing.

Contrary to the French and British claims of victory on the Gallipoli peninsula, the Turkish war office announces the allies were defeated in the recent heavy fighting, sustaining large losses. A counter-attack by the Turkish right wing against positions captured by the allies is said to have been successful.

The French mine layer Casablanca was sunk by a mine in the Aegean, with a probable loss of about sixty men. German submarines sank the British steamers Star of the West and Sunlight, with no loss of life.

BETTER WAGES FOR TRAINMEN

N. P. Officials and Union Come to Satisfactory Terms on Schedules.

Work of Brakemen Lightened and Pay Increased; Other Changes.

As a result of eighteen months' negotiations between the Northern Pacific trainmen and the officials of the rondroad, satisfactory wage schedules have been arranged. Trainmen on the Northern Pacific will receive the highest wage rate of any company in the West. The Trainmen's union expended $27,000 in the campaign, it is said.

More Pay for Brakemen.

One of the important features of the new schedule is the advance in the wages of brakeman from $2.78 a day to $2.82 a day, and a guaranteed minimum of 3,000 miles and a mandatory rule that provides for three brakemen on all main line local freight trains.

According to local officials of the road the new schedule will not increase the costs of the company by more than $25,000 a year. A new rule to the effect that passenger brakemen may select a new style of uniform will save each about $20 a year.

Other Changes.

Other important features of the new schedule follow:

Two cents an hour increase in wages for yardmen at Butte, Mont. Thirty men affected.

Yard crews beginning work before 6:30 a. m., or after 8 p. m., will be paid night rates, which are 2 cents an hour higher than day rates.

The rule governing seniority of yardmen and trainmen was amended to give these men the full exercise of their rights.

The rule requiring the company to give train and yardmen an investigation before administering discipline is improved in that it provides that the accused employe may appeal the case and offer evidence, and that the decision will be rendered promptly.

Switching Zones Established.

Switching zones, within which road crews will be paid in addition to the minimum day allowed on the road, are established at the principal switching centers.

The rights of passenger and freight trainmen are made interchangeable.

Trainmen will receive additional mileage at certain terminals, on account of the distance traveled by engines in large yards and additional compensation for the time consumed in turning engines at terminals, and switching will be paid for on all runs. Home terminals are established and crews in pool service must be paid for all time held in excess of twenty-two hours in other terminals. This is the only rule of its kind in the West. The schedules may be terminated by either side on thirty days' notice.

After the run the passengers will be asked to give suggestions as to future excursions.

Will Consider Finances.

St. Louis county commissioners at their regular monthly meeting at the courthouse tomorrow will consider plans for financing county funds, which will lose $290,000 by reason of the failure of the mining companies to pay taxes at Hibbing.

Will Postpone Action.

Action on the appointment of a successor to Ruben Johnson, secretary of the civil service commission, will be postponed by the city council until the former body takes action on the matter. This was announced this morning by one of the commissioners, who said that if a resolution is presented appointing Leonard McHugh to succeed Mr. Johnson on July 1, he will move that the matter will be laid over until the civil service commission can meet and take final action. A meeting of the civil service body will be held some time this week.

Stabbed During Quarrel.

When Henry Lahti, aged 36, and Frank Mack, aged 35, started a quarrel in a rooming house at 603 West Michigan street last night, Patrolman Honnold interfered and both men landed in jail. Mack was suffering from a severe knife wound in the back when brought to headquarters and claims that Lahti was responsible for it. Lahti was charged with second degree assault and his victim with drunkenness, after Dr. Harry Klein had dressed his wound. In police court this morning Mack was sentenced to seven days at the work farm, while his "friend" pleaded not guilty and will be given a hearing this afternoon.

M'DONNELL INDIGNANT

Will Protest Against Awarding of First Street Paving Contract.

Claiming that asphalt had originally been selected for the First street pavement, from Twenty-eighth avenue east to Congdon park, and that as the result he submitted a bid for that material alone, losing out because bitulithic had been decided on by a few of the property owners, Patrick McDonnell, contractor, said this afternoon that he will attend the council meeting this evening and enter a protest against the granting of the contract to the General Contracting company of Minneapolis.

Mr. McDonnell said today that he also owns 100 feet of property affected by the proposed pavement and that he understood all along that asphalt would be the material used. This understanding, he said, was given him before he prepared a bid on the pavement. His bid for asphalt was lowest, it having been $24,786.80, while George R. King's proposal was $26,197.53. The Minneapolis company entered the only bid on bitulithic for $24,985.67. A resolution awarding the contract will be introduced by Commissioner Farrell this evening.

"I am going to protest both as a competitive bidder and a property owner," said Mr. McDonnell. "I would like to have all the owners decide on the material desired before a contract is awarded."

The residents at Morningside park will attend the council meeting tonight in a body for the purpose of presenting a number of questions for settlement.

Mayor Prince announced this morning that the housing code will be laid over a week, instead of being presented this evening. Several typographical changes are now being made, he said.

Twentieth avenue west will be ordered paved with brick from Superior street to First street and sanitary sewers will be ordered in Tioga street and in Eleventh alley.

ASKS DIRECTED VERDICT.

Removal of Body in Cemetery Involves Corporation in Suit.

Taking of testimony in the suit on trial before Judge Cant and a district court jury in which Michael Scanlon is demanding $3,000 from the Cleveland-Cliffs company because the body of his 4-year-old daughter was consigned to an unmarked grave when the mining company moved a Catholic cemetery at Negaunee five years ago, was concluded this morning.

The company moved the court for a directed verdict in its favor and arguments are being heard by the court today. The company takes the position that the facts stated in Scanlon's complaint do not constitute a legal cause of action.

HOST TO IMPERIAL SAMARITAN BODY

Duluth council No. 3, Modern Samaritans, will be host tonight to the members of the imperial council and other delegates coming for the biennial convention of the imperial council of the order. There will be ritual work followed by a luncheon.

It is expected that officers for the supreme council will be elected tonight and other important business matters will be transacted. The meeting will be held at the old Masonic temple. Delegates from the Duluth lodges are L. A. Barnes of West Duluth and L. U. Young.

Eight candidates will be initiated into the order. After the initiation a short entertainment will be given. Those in charge consist of A. S. McDonald, chairman; Simon Clark, John Christie, Murdock McGregor and L. U. Young.

The convention will continue for three days, ending June 10.

OBITUARY

Eugene C. Alderman, 75, died at Springfield, Mass., June 5, following several weeks' illness due to a fall. He was born in Granby, Conn., in March, 1840, and was the son of Clydon and Mary Hatch Alderman. He served during the Civil war in the Twenty-fifth Connecticut volunteers. He celebrated his golden wedding a few years ago. He leaves a widow and eight children.

Albert B. Auer, who died at Pewaukee, Wis., was one of the oldest printers and Masons in the United States. With an ox team he took the first printing press to go so far west, and installed it in what is now Denver, Colo. He was for many years employed in the government printing office at Washington, D. C.

John C. Rice, one of the most widely known vaudeville comedians, died of uremia at Philadelphia, June 5, following an illness of forty-eight hours. His wife, Sallie Cohen, has been his partner in vaudeville since their marriage, twenty-five years ago.

Mrs. Sarah D. Winans, wife of J. Cory Williams, and past national president of the Women's Relief Corps, died at Toledo, June 4. She had been failing in health for a year.

GOOD MONTH FOR BURGLARS.

But Thieves and Other Crooks Fare Poorly During May.

Burglars did a land office business in Duluth during May, but it was a quiet month for thieves and other crooks. There were seventeen burglaries, and property valued at $2,064 was stolen or lost.

Lieut. N. U. G. Terry in his monthly report, issued today, shows that stolen property was valued at considerably less than half of the total stolen during April, when $5,520 worth of goods and money was missed.

Although burglars broke into many more places than usual, grocery store proprietors were the principal victims, and in many cases fresh creamery butter was about all that was taken by the nocturnal visitors.

More than half (56 per cent) of the property was recovered. There were fifty-eight cases of petty larceny, five of grand larceny, two of larceny from the person and two holdups.

FINE PIANOS THROWN ON THE MARKET

Eager Purchasers Securing Great Bargains at the Absolute Closing-Out Sale of the Kreidler Music Co., 21 Lake Ave. North, Duluth, Minn.

Chance of a Lifetime—Best Makes—All Guaranteed.

Low prices and easy terms make this sale a great boon to piano buyers as it places these fine pianos within reach of all.

Act Quickly and Go While the Fine Selection Is There.

You are sure to find a piano to suit you, as the stock includes many fine makes and designs at great price range.

The news of this great sale has created considerable excitement among the piano buyers and in musical circles. Many people have bought pianos who have frankly admitted that although they did not need a piano for some years to come, they simply could not let this chance pass to secure a fine piano at such a big saving.

Mr. Kreidler has decided to retire from the piano business and Jos. Calloway, acting for the manufacturers, is conducting this closing out sale and has agreed to sell the entire stock in fifteen days.

Your Home Should Be Musical.

There is no reason why you should not get a piano at this sale. $300 and $350 pianos, brand new, very fine, now $198 to $250, in mahogany and walnut; $250 and $275 pianos, $175 to $190, mahogany only; $400 and $450 finest possible, $287 to $315. Nothing like this ever known here before. Easy terms.

Reason for Sale and Low Prices.

To do this, these fine pianos must be marked very low and thus this going out of business of a large reliable piano house presents your greatest piano opportunity, a chance otherwise impossible. Fine pianos at prices and terms below those of inferior makes.

Go Today or Tonight.

It seems absurd to waste time and space to devote to details. The stock consists of the best makes, as Mehlin & Sons, Hallet & Davis, Conway and Lexington, and these are all marked at one-half to one-third off. How can you ever expect to have a better chance to buy than this, all full guaranteed?

Remember, this sale lasts but a short time and it will be impossible to obtain any of these pianos at closing out prices. The store must be vacated. Do not delay. Store open every evening, and you can buy then just as well as any other time. Make a deposit as no instrument can be reserved.

PEACE WOULD BE PREMATURE

New York, June 7.—Mrs. J. Harvey Page, a passenger on the St. Louis, made the long trip from Liverpool to New York so that she might scatter roses on the sea above the spot where her husband lies. He went down with the Lusitania. Having done this she will return at once to her home in Birmingham, England.

The St. Louis brought seven survivors of the Lusitania tragedy. Henry M. Pindell of Peoria, Ill., who resigned the ambassadorship to Russia not long after he was appointed by President Wilson, also was a passenger.

"This war will last two or three years more," he said. "I believe that peace now would be premature. They have got to settle this quarrel so that there will be a permanent pence and the time for that has not come. It is best, for the future, to let them fight it out."

Enos Curtin, a New York chemist, who has been in the field with the allied armies, described the gas used by the Germans as of three kinds, chlorine, bromine and so-called laughing gas. The last, he said, is of a kind that paralyzes the men from the waist down and caused them to flop about like fish out of water and laugh hysterically. Sodium sulphate and oxygen were used to neutralize these gases, he said, but these were ineffective if not taken soon after the gas had been inhaled. Even then, he said, it takes at least six hours to revive the men.

NO REPORT YET ON NEBRASKAN

Washington, June 7.—Ambassador Gerard reported today that the German admiralty as yet had no report on the torpedoing of the American steamer Nebraskan, but was conducting an investigation.

Ambassador Gerard's message was an answer to the state department inquiry whether any report had been received from German sources. Meanwhile the department awaits also a full report of the inquiry by American naval attaches sent to Liverpool from London.

TWO NABBED IN RAID.

Police Continue Clean-up of Disorderly Houses.

Police checked over a list of alleged disorderly rooming houses last night and a raid, the third under the Silberstein regime, resulted. Della Brown, age 40, and Ella Harvey, age 26, were arrested at 30 First avenue west.

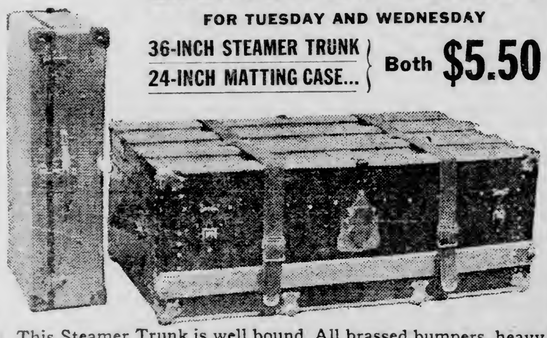

The Brown woman forfeited $100 bail in municipal court this morning on a charge of keeping an unlicensed drinking place, while the Harvey woman forfeited $20 bail. She was charged with being a common prostitute.

Chief of Police R. D. McKercher and Sergeant John Roberg made the arrests.

PRINCIPAL ASSAULTED

Parent Said to Have Used Militant Methods on School Head.

Because his daughter was refused admission to the Longfellow school unless she complied with the rules and regulations as set forth by the school board, Edward Griffith bore down on the principal's office early this morning and attempted militant methods, it is alleged.

Lieut. Charles E. Wilcox of the West Duluth police station was called, but when he arrived Mr. Griffith had left. It is probable that a warrant will be sworn out for Mr. Griffith this afternoon.

During the attack on the principal, Mr. Griffith knocked Mr. House's glasses off, it is alleged, and is then said to have lifted a chair with which to assault him. In the fracas the telephone box was broken from the wall and some of the books thrown about and shelves knocked down. Mr. House escaped with some minor bruises about the face.

Mr. Griffith is said to have several children attending the school. One of his children, according to the school authorities, has been in the habit of leaving the school at recess and going home, not showing up for the remainder of the session. This was called to the attention of the principal, who told the girl that such practice would have to cease. Failing to live up to the warning she was told that she need not show up again unless one of her parents came with her.

Mr. Griffith appeared this morning just before school was called. Mr. House began explaining the delinquency of the child and Mr. Griffith is alleged to have called Mr. House a liar. Mr. House then said: "Well, I have the records to prove it," and as he was about to stand up to go after these records, Mr. Griffith is said to have attacked him. Boys in the hallway, believing that their principal was about to be badly beaten or killed, ran breathlessly to the police station and Lieut. Wilcox responded.

FLAG IS HOISTED AT MERRITT PARK

Merritt park was the scene of a gathering of men, women and children yesterday afternoon in honor of the hoisting of the flag won by the children of the Merritt school. The flag was won for the third successive time by the children for making the best appearance in the Memorial day parade.

A short program of speeches and music was followed by games for the children. Among the speakers were: Commissioner Leonidas Merritt and P. J. Borgstrom. Following the program ice cream and cake was served by members of the Mothers' club of the Merritt school.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the lot owners and trustees of the Oneota Cemetery Association will be held at the West Duluth Public Library building on Monday, June 14th, 1915, at 7:30 p. m. By order of the president.

W. B. GETCHELL, Secretary.

BEGIN WORK ON NEW CHURCH BUILDING

Construction work has been begun on the building of the new home for the St. Stephen's German-English Lutheran church, to be located on the southeast corner of Fifty-eighth avenue west and Nicollet street. The edifice will cost about $15,000.

The congregation has had under consideration the construction of this building for some time. Its present church is located on Raleigh street and Sixty-eighth avenue west. This location has been found to be too far from the center of the district in which members of the church reside.

The new church will be of stone and brick construction and of a handsome design. It will have a full basement in which will be located the heating plant and rooms for the holding of social gatherings. The main auditorium will have a seating capacity for 400.

The congregation erected adjoining this site a handsome parsonage for its pastor, Rev. Walthier Sievers. The parsonage faces Nicollet street. It cost $4,000.

It is expected to have the church completed and ready for use early in September. The dedication of the building will be made a big event among the German Lutherans of the city.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF WEST DULUTH DIES

Mrs. Hilda Pollock, age 47, wife of Wesley S. Pollock, 1313 North Fifty-seventh avenue west, a pioneer resident of the Head of the Lakes, died Saturday evening at 5:40 o'clock at St. Luke's hospital following an illness of about six months. Death was due to heart trouble.

Mrs. Pollock was born in Superior, July 6, 1867. With the exception of a period of thirteen years between 1867 and 1880, during which time her parents were keepers of the Raspberry Island lighthouse, Mrs. Pollock has resided all of her life in either Duluth or Superior. Mrs. Pollock's parents were among the earliest settlers in West Duluth.

Mrs. Pollock leaves besides her husband, two daughters, Mrs. E. J. Nelson, and Miss Grace Pollock, and two sons, Kenneth and Charles. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Edith McAuley, who also resides in West Duluth. Mrs. Pollock was a first cousin of Congressman Irving Lenroot of Superior.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the family residence and at 3 o'clock from the Merritt Memorial M. E. church, Forty-sixth avenue west and Halifax street. Rev. Grant Fritz of Biwabik, former pastor of the church, will conduct the services. Interment will be in Oneota cemetery.

ZENITH FURNACE TEAM WINS AGAIN

The Zenith Furnace company's baseball team added another victory to its list yesterday by defeating the fast Proctor team by a score of 8 to 3. Kozak, pitcher for the winners, played a star game, allowing but four hits and striking out ten men. The Zeniths played without an error.

The Zeniths have played eleven games and lost only one. They have defeated every semi-professional team in the city. Next Sunday a game will probably be arranged with the New Duluth team.

The batters yesterday were: Kozak and Nelson for the Zeniths and Newman and Lemay for Proctor.

Cemetery Association Meeting.

The Oneota Cemetery association will hold its annual meeting this evening at the West Duluth public library. Every lot owner and trustee is expected to be present. The annual election of officers will be held following which a discussion of improvements to be made in the cemetery will take place.

West Duluth Briefs.

Mrs. H. Collins, 402 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, is confined to her home on account of a sprained ankle, sustained in a fall on the sidewalk Friday evening.

Memorial services will be held by Non-Excelled homestead, No. 4276, at Gilley's hall, Wednesday evening.

Miss Helen Roe, 116 North Fifty-sixth avenue west, is spending a few days visiting relatives in the Twin Cities.

Mrs. Belle Morrison of Cusson, Minn., has returned home after spending a few days visiting at the home of Mrs. Samuel Houston, 532 North Fifty-sixth avenue west.

The annual election of officers for West Duluth council, No. 255, and Pocahontas council, No. 319, Royal League, will take place tomorrow evening at the West Duluth Commercial club rooms.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Westminster Presbyterian church, Fifty-eighth avenue west and Ramsey street will entertain Friday evening at a social in the church parlors. It was planned for Thursday evening but postponed. The women in charge are Mrs. W. Hankins, Mrs. J. P. Wier, Mrs. Henry Clark and Mrs. Carrie Dibbel.

Watch repairing. Hurst, West Duluth.

NEW LEASE NECESSARY

City's Right to Water Front Will Expire Next Year.

Unless the city of Duluth obtains a new lease on the state dock property southeast of the right-of-way of the Duluth Transfer company in West Duluth, or makes improvements this year, it will lose all rights to use of the water frontage after April 20, 1916, according to an opinion handed down by City Attorney Greene. It will be presented to the council this evening.

According to the communication by Mr. Greene to the mayor, the bill passed by the state legislature in 1911 gave the city a five-year lease on the state property to be improved and used as a public dock. This contract will expire next year and a new lease must be obtained from the legislature, he states. This means that the agreement will become null and void after April 20, 1916, as the state body will not meet again until the winter of 1917. A bill extending the lease failed to pass the legislature that was in session last winter.

During the last four years the city has not improved the property, as is provided for in the lease, and the ownership will therefore revert to the state.

The state property begins about 639 feet southeast of the southeast line of Oneota street and extends several blocks west.

ODD FELLOWS GOING TO ST. PAUL MEET

A large delegation of Odd Fellows from Duluth and the range towns will attend the annual meeting of the Minnesota grand lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, which will be held this week at St. Paul. The first session will be held tomorrow.

Among the prominent members of the order from this city who will attend are Dr. W. H. Konkler, T. W. Hugo, Col. A. H. Paul, R. E. Macfarlane, A. E. Botsford and William Pettinger. They will represent Duluth lodge, No. 28, I. O. O. F.

Mayor Winn Fowers of St. Paul, who has taken an active interest in the order for several years, will be one of the speakers at the grand lodge convention.

OPPOSE CHESTER BRIDGE

Mayor Informed of Action Taken By West End Club.

Mayor Prince this morning received a communication from George M. Jensen, secretary of the West End Commercial club, to the effect that the organization at a special meeting last Friday voted unanimously against the expenditure of $32,000 for a bridge over Chester creek at Fourteenth avenue east and Ninth street.

Mr. Jensen states that the members of the club disapprove of the proposition, because that section of the city is sparsely settled and the money could better be used for other improvements needed in various sections of the city.

"BOUGHT AND PAID FOR."

Baldwin Players in Remarkable Production of Broadhurst Drama.

George Broadhurst's powerful drama, "Bought and Paid For," in the hands of the Baldwin Players, is this week's offering at the Lyceum. The play is decidedly the best yet presented this season by the stock company—which is possibly equivalent to saying that the play ranks, as shown Sunday, with many road productions.

In the play there are two sisters, Virginia and Fanny Blaine, both working girls, both pretty. Fanny marries "Jimmy" Gillie, a "third assistant shipping clerk at $14 a week," while her sister, through her position as telephone operator at a hotel, is thrown into the company of one of New York's very rich, self-made men, Robert Stafford. Stafford loves her; she likes him. He proposes marriage; she accepts.

Lifted from comparative poverty to affluence, the two families (Gillie meanwhile being raised to the position of a $100-per-week clerk in the Stafford business), seems to be happy; money is everywhere showered upon the two families. Virginia is shown in the lap of wealth—but there is one sinister ripple of dissatisfaction and unhappiness upon the surface of their joy. Virginia has learned that Stafford is big, generous, kind, lovable; she now loves him with all her heart; but all is spoiled by his one besetting sin—drink. Sober he is a gentleman; intoxicated by liquor, he becomes a different personality, brutal and disgusting. Thus life goes on for months, with conditions gradually becoming more and more unbearable for the fine-minded young wife, until, after a "scene" between drunken husband and heart-sore wife, the husband exclaims: "I bought and paid for you—you are mine!"

How the young wife, determined that the citations of the marriage laws, or the marriage vows, for that matter, do not give a husband the moral right to dominate the soul, life and body of a wife, leaves him; goes back to hard work and near-poverty; how the husband, conscience stricken, puts a detective—the best procurable—on the trail of his wife, not to "shadow" or harm her, but to watch over and guard her; and how Gillie, always "full of new and big ideas," finally hits upon a scheme to bring the two loving hearts once more together—at the same time getting back his own job with Stafford—forms a combination of drama, comedy, and, at the last, huge satisfaction for the audience, when it sees the couple reunited, happy, with drink ruled forever out of their lives; with the Gillies again in good circumstances, and everything ending happily.

Drama is the proper sphere for Harry L. Minturn, leading man of the Baldwins. As Robert Stafford, millionaire, generous, big, dominant, he this week does perhaps a bit better work than he has yet shown in Duluth, except possibly in "Fine Feathers." Mr. Minturn has a large following in Duluth at the present time, and such work as he does this week tells why and seems bound to increase the number of his friends.

As Virginia, wife of Stafford, Anne Bronaugh, leading woman, has not been cast to better advantage in weeks. Her chance this week to show dramatic capabilities is almost unlimited, and her scenes with Mr. Minturn are about the best bits of work the Baldwins have given in Duluth.

Margaret Lotus never has had more scope for her abilities than she has as the wife of "Jimmy" Gillie. She knows her lines, as is usual with her, to perfection; and the comedy she and her "husband," James Gillie, work into the play, was enjoyed thoroughly. Miss Lotus has evidently given the role careful study and she showed just why it is that the audience always receives her with a "hand" at her first appearance.

Then comes A. Romaine Callender, a comedian of rare skill and ability. As James Gillie, the man of many ideas, with millionaire aspirations, only lacking a chance to get "up there" among the elite; but, sad to state, only a $14-per-week third assistant shipping clerk without prospects, Mr. Callender is immense. But he does a good turn at the last—even though it was for the sole reason, perhaps, of getting back his job.

Mark Elliston, disguised past identity, plays with great effect the Jap "man" of Stafford. Pearl Melville, "subbing" for Geraldine Blair, plays Josephine, Virginia's maid, and does well.

The scenery used is of the very best, and the production is one that is well worth while. There will be the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

Next week's attraction by the Baldwins will be "The Ghost Breaker."

Theater Gossip.

J. C. Lewis, Jr., and his company of associate players headline the new bill at the New Grand in SKETCH FEATURES a novelty comedy offering, "Billy's Santa GRAND BILL. Claus." The Georgalis trio of rifle and pistol shots offer a novelty in Greek marksmanship. Many thrilling and sensational feats are accomplished with an ease and indifference to consequences that is remarkable.

Dean, Dorr and Dean offer a musical cocktail that is an entertaining and pleasing diversion. Bob Ferns, blackface comedian, closes the vaudeville part of the program with a clever line of comedy in an acceptable manner.

The feature photoplay, "In the Dark," in three reels, tells a beautiful story of a wife's love and devotion. One of the famous "Ham" comedies, "Desperate Dud, the Plumber," and "When a Feller's Nose Is Out of Joint," a Vitagraph special complete the bill. On Tuesday and Wednesday the second installment of the $800,000 photoplay, "The Diamond From the Sky" will be added to the bill. This installment is entitled, "An Eye For an Eye" and is in two reels.

Paul Armstrong, author of "The Escape," after seeing the film said laughingly, yet earnestly—

"THE ESCAPE" AT THE REX. "This is apt to make me famous," and so it has.

As everybody knows, the theme of "The Escape" is the theory of eugenics, and the purpose of the drama is to show the necessity of making theory a fact. The incidents of the drama all point in one direction—all aim to demonstrate that it is useless to look for the further advancement of the race if men and women physically and mentally unfit to produce worthy progeny are still permitted to marry haphazard. Physical culture magazines and many high-class journals throughout the country are seeing the need of teaching better and cleaner living. "The Escape" will be shown today and tomorrow at the Rex.

A treat is promised to patrons of the Lyric theater today and Tuesday as a dramatic offering

ENGLISH DRAMA AT THE LYRIC. direct from London will be the feature. This production, "The Middleman," is probably the finest ever produced in the London studios and nothing has been spared in the way of expensive stars, fitting locations and everything necessary to secure atmosphere. Albert Chevalier, the superb English actor, plays the leading male role and Jane Gail as co-star. Mr. Chevalier is not a stranger to Duluth people as he starred in an offering here some three years ago at $2 a seat. If you like a big story full of heart interest and powerful pulling situations, you will enjoy "The Middleman." Jane Gail is fine and the principals are a credit to Mr. Tucker, director. The expressive face of the great English artist, Albert Chevalier, will not soon be forgotten.

MORE GOLD COMES TO U. S. FROM CANADA

New York, June 7.—An additional $5,000,000 gold was received at the subtreasury today from Ottawa. Of this amount $2,500,000 was engaged last Friday, the other half coming unannounced. This inflow is supposed to be a continuance of the arrangement recently entered into by New York bankers and banking houses with London connections for the maintenance of exchange rates from this center on London.

Since Jan. 1, a total of about $55,000,000 gold has been received here from Canada, as an offset to the eighty odd millions of dollars of gold shipped from New York to the dominion in the early months of the war.

Decision Tuesday or Wednesday.

Atlanta, Ga., June 7.—A decision by the Georgia prison commission on Leo M. Frank's petition for commutation of his death sentence for the murder of Mary Phagan, will not be made before Tuesday or possibly Wednesday.

Union Church Notes.

The monthly business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Union church, will be held this evening at the hall in Glencoe building. Wednesday evening Bible Study class will resume its meetings, meeting at 8 o'clock, under the leadership of the pastor. Thursday evening the monthly board meeting will be held at the hall at 8 o'clock. Friday afternoon at 2:30 the mouthly meeting of the ladies' auxiliary of the church will be held at the home of Mrs. S. R. Chamberlain, 3422 Minnesota avenue, Park Point.

JOINT SANATORIUM HAS BEEN LOCATED

Aitkin, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The joint asanatorium for tubercular patients, to be built by Aitkin and Crow Wing counties, will be located about seven miles from the center of the village of Aitkin, near Cedar Lake, as close as possible to the boundary of the two counties. A commission of five members, three from Crow Wing county and two from this county, have the matter in charge. C. P. De Laitttre and Peter Larson have been appointed to represent Aitkin county.

Pulmotor Saves Boy.

Red Wing, Minn., June 7.—Prompt use of the pulmotor saved the life of Myron Lidberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lidberg, after the little fellow had been taken out of the river in front of the levee and lay unconscious and apparently breathing his last.

CLAIMS ARE AT VARIANCE

Turks Say Allies Have Been Repulsed With Heavy Losses.

Reports From London Declare British and French Successful.

Constantinople, June 6, via London, June 7.—The allied troops on the Gallipoli peninsula have been driven back with heavy losses, according to an official statement issued today by the Turkish war office which says:

"Stubborn fighting on the Seddul Bahr front has been successful for us. This was achieved by us by our right wing counter-attacking. The enemy was driven back in disorder into his old position after suffering heavy losses."

Allies Claim Successes.

London, June 7.—Official announcement was made last night that the British troops at the Dardanelles, as a result of their new offensive movement last week, captured two lines of Turkish trenches along a three-mile front. The statement follows:

"On the night of June 3-4, the Turks, having heavily bombarded a small fort in front of the extreme right French position, which previously had been captured, launched an infantry attack against it, which was repulsed with heavy loss to the enemy. At the same time, the Turks set fire to scrub in front of the left center of the position occupied by the British division and attacked, but met with no success.

Orders General Attack.

"On the morning of June 4, Sir Ian Hamilton ordered a general attack on the Turkish trenches in the southern area of the Gallipoli peninsula, preceded by a bombardment by all guns, assisted by battleships, cruisers and destroyers.

"At a given signal, the troops rushed forward with the bayonet. They were immediately successful all along the line, except in one spot, where the heavy wire entanglement was not destroyed by the bombardment.

"On the French extreme right the French captured a strong line of trenches, which, though heavily counter-attacked twice during the night, they stole out.

"We captured 400 prisoners, including ten officers. Among the prisoners were five Germans, the remains of a volunteer machine gun detachment from the Goeben, (the Turkish cruiser Sultan Selim).

"The result of these operations is that we have made an advance of 500 yards which includes two lines of Turkish trenches along a front of nearly three miles. We are now concentrating our new positions and strengthening the lines."

deen says the British steamer Star of the West has been sunk by a German submarine.

A trawler brought the crew into Aberdeen.

Four more trawlers have been sunk by German submarines. The attacks occurred off Peterhead Saturday and the Dogberry of Hull, Persimmon of Grimsby and Gazepound and Curlew of Sunderland were the victims.

The Hull trawler Bardol perhaps has also been sunk by a submarine. The crews of all these trawlers were saved.

Mine Layer Strikes Mine.

Paris, June 7.—The ministry of marine has given out an official announcement reading:

"The French mine layer Casabianca has struck a mine at the entrance of a bay in the Aegean sea. The captain and another officer and sixty-one sailors were picked up by a British torpedo boat destroyer. It is possible that other survivors were able to reach the coast, where they may have been taken prisoners by the Turks."

The French mine layer Casabianca was of 495 tons and 262 feet long. She had a complement of 128 men.

Will Pay for Greek Steamer.

Athens, June 7, via London.—The German government has admitted the responsibility of the commander of the German submarine who, on April 18, torpedoted and sunk the Greek steamer Ellispontos in the North sea.

The government agrees further to compensate the owners of the vessel, the value of which is to be decided by two experts, one Greek and one German.

subject, the committee to report later to the conferences.

A motion to table by Mrs. Stanley McCormick of New York carried, 49 to 25, above the protests of Mrs. Youmans, who insisted that she had a right to address the delegates on the subject.

"A motion to table is not open to discussion," said Dr. Shaw as she brought the gavel down and insisted on order. The vote was taken and the Wisconsin leader obtained recognition long enough to say:

Enters Protest.

"I wish to enter my solemn protest against tactics which shut off discussion of this most important subject."

Mrs. Upton sought to pour oil on the troubled waters by explaining that the tabling of the resolution was not due to opposition on the subject matter in it, but to the necessity of straightening out and separating distinctly the various problems before the conference and to proceed to their discussion in an orderly manner.

"Precisely so!" remarked Dr. Shaw, and representatives of the states were called upon to report progress in organizing by congressional districts as a part of the congressional committee's plan to influence congress in this way.

The average cup of coffee contains about 2½ grains of caffeine, a subtle, poisonous drug.

Caffeine is cumulative, and day by day pounds away at nerves, heart and other organs, finally showing in biliousness, headache, sleeplessness, heart flutter, nervous prostration, etc.

INSTANT POSTUM

has a flavour similar to mild, high-grade Java, but contains no coffee, caffeine, nor other harmful substance.

Postum—made of whole wheat, roasted with a little wholesome molasses—is a pure food-drink decidedly American, and is taking the place of coffee with thousands of people who appreciate health and comfort.

Postum comes in two forms:

Postum Cereal—the original form—requires thorough boiling to bring out its flavour and food value. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—the soluble form—is prepared in the cup Instantly with hot water. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious—cost per cup about the same—sold by grocers everywhere.

"BEYOND THE POINT OF ROCKS"

BREAK FROM SYNOD FEARED

Subject of Missions May Cause Trouble at Lutherans' Meeting.

Duluth Will Be Well Represented at Mill City Conference.

The Duluth district of the Swedish Lutheran church will be represented by four delegates, two of whom will be from Duluth, at the annual meeting of the Augustana Synod of Swedish Lutheran churches of America, which will convene on Wednesday for a ten-day session at Minneapolis. In addition to these delegates, every pastor in Duluth connected with the synod will attend the meetings.

Regular Delegates.

The regular delegates are Dr. John A. Krantz, pastor of the Elim Swedish Lutheran church of West Duluth; Andrew Blomquist, 1931 West Third street; Rev. D. J. Peterson of Cloquet, and J. Peterson of Eveleth. Among the pastors who will attend the meeting are Rev. C. A. Eckstrom of the Bethany church; Rev. C. A. Swan of the First church; Rev. Carl Oberg of the Bethel Swedish-Finnish church, and Rev. F. O. Hanson of the Trinity English Lutheran church. The latter left for Minneapolis on a late train last night.

Probably the most important subject to be brought up at the conference will be relating to foreign missions. It is claimed that mission subjects regarding India may lead to a break of the Augustana synod from the general federation of Lutheran conferences that now is represented by thirteen bodies. The Augustana synod has a membership strength of about one-third of this federation. The federation has been supporting missions in India, and the proposal, which may cause the break, is that the Augustana synod be allowed to maintain its own missions and send its own missionaries to this field and otherwise divide the field. Unless this is done, the break is considered certain.

May Adjust Differences.

Dr. Krantz, president of the Minnesota conference for many years, said this morning that he believed that all differences would likely be adjusted so that the breaking away from the federation would not take place.

Missions and charities will be the predominating subjects of the conference. Following the meeting, it is planned to have a meeting of ministers of Minnesota and Wisconsin at which the proposed building of the Children's home, to be located at the Head of the Lakes, will be taken up. This home is to be built under the auspices of the Minnesota conference.

The project is in the hands of a committee of the conference, all of whom are residents of Duluth and Superior. The members are Rev. Theodore Ekblad of Superior, chairman; Rev. J. A. Krantz, Rev. Carl O. Swan, Andrew Nelson of Superior, J. E. Wellberg of the West end and J. A. Forsman of West Duluth.

DANES CELEBRATE INDEPENDENCE DAY

Granting of Constitution Commemorated By Duluth Brotherhood.

Members of the Danish Brotherhood and Danish Sisterhood lodges of Duluth celebrated at the Woodman hall last night the granting of a constitutional government to the Danes. The constitutional government was granted on June 5, 1849, and the sixty-sixth anniversary was greeted Saturday in Denmark with the granting of suffrage to the women, which was also marked in the celebration last night by local members of the orders.

The program began at 6 o'clock with a banquet served by the members of the Sisterhood lodges. Oscar Peterson, president of the Duluth brotherhood, presided as toastmaster. Among the speakers were Mayor W. I. Prince, George M. Jensen, Rev. E. O. Soholm, pastor of the Danish Lutheran church, Niels Peterson of Superior and Mrs. Louis Larson of Superior.

The program also included musical numbers, vocal solos being given by Magnus Peterson of Superior and Fred Hoeffler.

FALLS TO DEATH THROUGH ORE CHUTE

John Anderson, Ore Puncher, Killed at Missabe Docks.

John Anderson, aged 25, an ore puncher at the Duluth, Missabe & Northern ore docks, was instantly killed by a fall through an ore pocket and down the chute into the hold of a steamer loading at the dock Saturday night. Anderson was standing on top of one of the ore cars punching the ore and is believed to have slipped. His fellow workmen heard him give a shout and saw him disappear. Attempts were made to stem the ore flood, but this was not accomplished until after several tons of the ore had followed him.

His body was recovered about an hour later. It was taken to Olson's undertaking rooms, 2014 West Superior street. The funeral will be held from there tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be made in Park Hill cemetery. Rev. W. E. Hermann will officiate.

Mr. Anderson had been working at the dock since the opening of the season. He boarded at 2828 West Michigan street. He leaves two brothers, Andrew and Samuel, both of whom live in Duluth.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Vasa Lodges Are Addressed By Rev. C. W. R. Wermine.

Members of the Sons of Vasa lodges of the West end and West Duluth took part yesterday forenoon in the annual memorial services for the order, held at the First Swedish M. E. church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street. Rev. C. W. R. Wermine spoke on "The Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man."

The members marched from the Woodman hall at 10 o'clock and the services commenced at 10:30. The lodges represented were Sons of Sweden No. 170, Sophia No. 209 and Gosta lodge No. 243.

EXTRA SHIFT AT SAWMILL

Alger-Smith Lumber Company Will Put on Night Crew.

Will Give Employment to About 150 Additional Men.

The Alger-Smith Lumber company will give employment to 150 additional men this evening when the company's Rice's Point sawmill will resume operations at night. The mill has been operating days only since the opening of its West Duluth mill early this month.

The company is now giving employment to more than 400 men at its two mills. This number is divided about equally between the mill on Garfield avenue and the one at West Duluth. Demand for lumber has been slowly increasing since the opening of the season and according to officials of the company it is possible that the mill at West Duluth may also be ordered to operate on full time nights.

During the last three weeks the West Duluth mill has been operating at one and one-fourth time. That is about half of the crew has been given employment so that a quarter day additional has been added to the time of the men on four days of the week. An extra large cut of Norway pine which the company has on hand has made it necessary to work until 9 o'clock each of the four nights each week in order to keep up with the order.

WEST END BUILDERS

HERMAN OLSON.

One of the three men to whom is given the credit for getting up the best parade that has even been witnessed in the West end is Herman Olson. During the preparation for the festival held a few days ago Mr. Olson worked overtime in getting into line the various business men and business interests of the West end so as to realize the best parade the district has ever witnessed.

Mr. Olson has been a West end booster for nearly ten years. He is associated with his brother in the grocery business at 2303 West Superior street.

Swedish M. E. Notes.

The official board of the First Swedish M. E. church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, will meet in the church this evening.

The Sunday school will hold its rehearsal for Children's day in the church tomorrow evening.

Services will be held by the Oneota branch at the home of Mrs. Frank Forsberg, 3911 West Eighth street, Wednesday evening.

A congregational meeting will be held Thursday evening at which a lay delegate will be selected to attend the annual state conference to be held at Atwater this summer.

The Epworth league will entertain at a literary and social meeting Friday evening.

West End Briefs.

At a meeting to be held this evening by representatives of temperance organizations at the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, plans will be made for the organization of a local "No-License League for St. Louis County."

A benefit social will be given by Sons of Sweden lodge, No. 170, Vasa Order, at the Woodman hall on July 2. The committee in charge consists of O. Olson, Gust Landin, Edwin Horngren, Repet Olson and Rev. C. W. R. Wermine.

The West end business men will hold their monthly noon luncheon at the Rex hotel on Wednesday. Victor Juten and N. J. Setterlund are in charge of the arrangements.

Edwin Blomberg of Minneapolis, who has been visiting relatives in the West end, left for his home yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Stacey of Hibbing were week-end visitors in the West end.

VICTORY MAY AFFECT MEXICAN SITUATION

Success on Part of Gen. Carranza's Lieutenants Is Reported.

Washington, June 7.—Advices bearing out reports of the victory for Obregon, Gen. Carranza's commander, over Villa and Angeles at Leon were awaited today by administration officials who are interested in the possible effect of such a turn on the Mexican situation. It was believed here that if Carranza has been victorious his next step would be an attempt to reenter Mexico City and establish a government with a view to obtaining recognition by the United States.

Victory Announced.

Vera Cruz, June 7.—Defeat of the forces of Gens. Angeles and Villa, the capture of the town of Leon and all of Villa's trains and artillery is announced in a report of Gen. Obregon of the Carranza army received here yesterday.

The report says:

"I have achieved an important victory. After a five-day battle, Angeles and Villa, with small groups of followers, fled in different directions. Our forces are pursuing them north of Leon.

"Leon has been occupied by Carranza troops. All the enemy's trains and artillery were captured. The battle extended over a zone of 300 miles.

"I have ordered the reconstruction of the railroad and telegraph with Vera Cruz."

who is a sister of the German emperor.

Stabs King With Paper Knife.

Notwithstanding her conversion to the orthodox Greek church upon her marriage, Queen Sophia remains passionately devoted to the policies of her imperial brother, and to the cause of Germany.

An animated conversation, it is stated, took place in the king's library one evening, which developed into a violent quarrel, during which the queen, whose occasional outbursts of impetuous temper are well known to all about her, seized a sharp pointed metallic paper knife, and scarcely realizing what she was about to do, being carried away by her hot temper, plunged the paper cutter at her husband's side.

Wound Causes Pleurisy.

The blade, according to the Tribune correspondent's informant, grazed the lower lobe of the king's lung.

The queen instantly expressed the deepest sorrow at the consequence of her impetuosity, but the king, naturally viewing the episode on its serious side, earnestly desired that the queen return to her own family. The truth was hushed up and the king gallantly attributed to influenza the pleurisy that set in owing to the wound.

This dramatic explanation of King Constantine's malady is declared by the relator of the episode to be absolutely accurate.

LEMBERG MAY BE TAKEN AT ANY MOMENT

cess along the River Pruth, near Kolomea, where the Austro-Germans are said to have been forced back across the river. Petrograd says also that the Russian lines of defense must be readjusted on account of the use of poisonous gases by the Germans. The reason for this is that these works, technically correct under the ordinary conditions of warfare, become death traps when exposed to this new engine of hostility.

The fighting along the central section of the River Isonzo has developed a series of fierce engagements with the Italians finding stronger opposition than they hitherto have met, the Austrians being formidably intrenched.

Get Foothold in Amara.

This morning the British public was informed that their forces have won a brilliant success at a point far from the main lines of battle on the continent. Sir Percy Cox, at the head of a strong naval and military force, has gained a foothold at Amara, on the Tigris river, half way from the head of the Persian gulf to the city of Bagdad. During the last few days the Anglo-Indian army operating in this field has captured many prisoners as well as guns and ammunition and have taken a gunboat, steamers and steel barges. It is said that the Turkish army opposed to it is so demoralized that it is doubtful if it will be able to offer serious resistance to a further British advance in Mesopotamia.

The only naval activity of the week end was the engagement at the entrance of the gulf of Riga, in the Baltic, which, according to Petrograd, resulted in the sinking of several German transports and one large unnamed vessel, with the Russians losing one auxiliary ship.

Details of this sea encounter are meager, but it is surmised in London that a majority of the German vessels concentrated at Kiel came out into the Baltic. It is quite clear, however, that no battle squadrons were engaged, as the fight was in no sense decisive.

It is expected in London that the Germans will renewed their efforts to land troops on the Baltic coast of Russia.

French Statement.

Paris, June 7, 2:40 p. m.—The French war office this afternoon gave out the following statement on the progress of hostilities:

"In the sector to the north of Arras last night was marked by an engagement of artillery of extreme severity, particularly in the vicinity of Lorette, of Ablain, of the Cabaret Rouge near Souchez, of The Labyrinth, and of Ecurie.

"The enemy in this same sector delivered two counter-attacks, each of which failed completely. One was against the sugar refinery of Souchez, which was checked by the fire of our artillery, while the other was against the northern part of 'the Labyrinth,' which was driven back by our infantry.

"On the other hand, our forces have made further progress. Particularly did we gain ground one kilometer (two-thirds of a mile) east of the Chapel of Lorette and in the central part of the work called 'the Labyrinth' we advanced about 100 yards.

"This morning at 5 o'clock we delivered an attack near Hebuterene against the positions of the enemy located in the neighborhood of the Toutvent farm. Here we occupied along a front of 1,200 yards two successive lines of trenches; made some prisoners and captured some machine guns.

"To the north of the Aisne not far from Moulin-Sous-Toutvent the counter-attacks on the part of the enemy reported yesterday were continued throughout the entire night. In this very intense fighting we have retained our gains, at the same time keeping possession of this front of about one kilometer of the two lines of trenches captured by us from the enemy during the day.

"The endeavor to bombard Verdun, reported the day before yesterday, has not since been repeated.

"There has been nothing to report from the remainder of the front."

Took 7,000 Prisoners.

Berlin, June 7, via London.—Special dispatches received in Berlin from Austrian army headquarters give details of the capture of Przemysl by the Austro-Germans not before published.

The Teutonic allies took 7,000 prisoners, 31 cannon and 30 machine guns when they entered Przemysl. The Russian garrison had been given orders to hold Przemysl to the last man but they were overwhelmed by the terrific artillery fire of the Germans and the Austrians.

Everything indicates that the Teutonic allies are beginning the sixth week of their Galician campaign with a promising outlook. The Russians have lost their line on the River San, and they appear also about to lose their positions on the River Dniester. These same advices indicate further that the Russians to the east and northeast of Czernowitz already have begun to retreat.

German Statement.

Berlin, June 7, via London, 3:20 p. m.—The war office issued the following statement today:

"Western theater of war: The French renewed their attacks on the southern slope of Lorette hills during the afternoon and evening of yesterday. Their attacks broke down completely under our fire. Further attempts to make an attack during the night were stopped at the outset.

"The enemy attacked unsuccessfully this morning southeast of Hebuterne, east of Doullen. The battle has not yet come to a conclusion. A French attack extending over the large front of Moulin-Sous-Toutvent, northeast of Solssons, was for the greater part repulsed immediately. In only one place did the attack reach our outer trenches, for possession of which fighting continues.

"Our position at Vauquois was attacked yesterday. Notwithstanding the employment of incendiary implements which covered our trenches with slightly burning liquid the French did not succeed in penetrating into our position. The enemy fled back into his own trenches with heavy losses.

"Eastern theater of war: North of the Kurschany our cavalry forced a passage across the Windau and advanced in a southeasterly direction. Southeast of Kurtowiany and in the region east of Rawdynikl our offensive made good progress and an additional 3,340 prisoners and ten machine guns fell into our hands. South of the Niemen the bank of the river has been cleared of all enemies as far as the line from Tolausie to Sapiezyszkl.

"Southeastern theater of war: During the battles at Przemysl 33,805 prisoners were taken.

"East of Przemysl the troops of the Teutonic allies continued their victorious battle. They drove back the enemy towards Wyszmia to the northeast of Mosciska. Part of the army under Gen. von Linsingen has crossed the Dniester at Zurawna and has taken the hill to the north of the eastern bank by storm. Further south the pursuit reached the Nowica-Kaluszkamien line. The number of prisoners taken has been increased to more than 13,000.

TO SIFT MATTER TO THE BOTTOM

More Middies May Be Dismissed From Naval Academy.

Annapolis, Md., June 7.—The naval court of inquiry appointed by Secretary Daniels to investigate charges of irregularity in connection with examinations at the naval academy met today. The inquiry will be wide in its scope and will delve into the whole question of "gouging."

Already three midshipmen have been dismissed and the recommendations of the academy authorities call for like treatment of seven others.

To Sift Whole Matter.

Washington, June 7.—Secretary Daniels said he was unable to indicate today when the naval academy squadron would leave Annapolis for the summer cruise, but he made it clear that the midshipmen would not depart until the conclusion of the investigation begun into irregularities in examinations.

"We intend to sift the whole matter to the very bottom," said Mr. Daniels, "and learn if possible, not only how many of the midshipmen had advance knowledge of the subject matter of the examinations, but how this knowledge was obtained."

ADVERSITY BEST SCHOOL

Obstacles Stimulate Effort and Develop Character, Says Dr. Hovis.

"Crutch Age" Relies Too Much on "Canned Thought."

Adversity is the best school for the development of character, according to Dr. William Forney Hovis, pastor of the Endion M. E. church, who preached yesterday morning on "The Use of Obstacles." He characterized the present time as the "crutch age" because of the use of so many helps. He said in part:

"An old proverb says 'crosses are the ladders that lead to heaven.' The reluctance with which people take up their crosses would seem to justify the inference that if crosses are the only means by which to reach the celestial realm, heaven will be a sparsely settled country. The tendency of the human heart is to avoid crosses.

"In our philosophical moments and especially when we are reflecting on the experience of others, we can agree with Emerson when he says, 'Nature, when she adds difficulties, adds brains,' or, with Horace when he declares that adversity has the effect of eliciting talents which in prosperous circumstances would have lain dormant. But the majority of us ordinarily prefer to have brains added, talents elicited and wit secured, in some less annoying way.

Taking Drudgery Out of Life.

"Men contrive ingenius methods to take the drudgery out of life. The age is characterized by what might be called 'canned' thought. We have 'explanations' and 'keys' for the solution of many knotty problems; we get our politics 'ready-made' in our morning and evening papers; we hire a man to do our praying; we have tables of logarithms, sines and cosines, and can make calculations by pressing a button and turning a crank. Some one has called our time the 'crutch age,' because we rely so much on 'helps' and 'aids' and mechanical devices.

"Without the necessity of encountering difficulty, life is easier, but men are worth less. One may be beaten in the battle, but he is stronger for the struggle. There is a difference between the fiber of the solitary oak on the hillside, storm-swept and sun-burned and twisted by tempests until its texture is hard as flint, and that of the slender sapling amid the forest shielded from angry winds and raging storms by the giant trees about it. Herein is the contrast between the rugged child of adversity and the pampered son of ease.

"An obstacle is sometimes an unsought blessing in disguise. Necessity is not only the mother of invention, but it is often the revealer of hidden and unsuspected power. Men surprise themselves when the time of testing comes. Emergencies discover giants. Character is never so magnificent as when it comes forth from the refiner's fire purged from slag and dross. Purity is always preceded by a process of refinement. When purity is an achievement, it is a concomitant of pain. It is more often true than not that men find profit in the hardships they encounter.

Working Under Difficulty.

"History amply verifies the statement of Spurgeon to the effect that many men owe the grandeur of their lives to their tremendous difficulties. A prison would hardly seem a place of special inspiration, nevertheless, the Puritan tinker of Elstow wrote his matchless tale of human experience and humn passion, that story of trial, sorrow, struggle and triumph, which has been translated into nearly every language of the world and of which more copies have been printed than any other book except the Bible, while imprisoned in Bedford jail. Sir Walter Raleigh is reputed to have taught the English how to smoke, but he did something worthy of the noted man he was—he penned 'The History of the World' in a gloomy cell in Britain's bastile on the River Thames. Daniel De Foe wrote 'Robinson Crusoe' while serving sentence in payment of the price of his political opinions. Luther translated the Bible in a cell in Wartburg castle and Dante worked in exile for a score of weary years.

"Difficulties call out great qualities in human life and make its greatness possible. It took the terrors of civil war to show the caliber of Grant. The world never would have breathed the full fragrance of Lincoln's life had not its flower been crushed by the rough-shod feet of conflict. A century of peace could not have made a Bismarck. When God wants to reveal man's power He tests him with a trial. When He wants to show how great a human soul can be amid unfavorable conditions, He puts a Paul in a Roman dungeon. He gives a Russ to the fires at Constance, He darkens the eyes of an immortal Milton, or sends a Livingstone to die in the heart of an undiscovered land.

Obstacles Stimulate.

"Obstacles often serve as stimuli to exertion. The determined man will turn impediments into stepping stones by which he will climb higher than he could have gone without them. The way of small resistance is conducive stupidity, lethargy and inaction.

"Obstacles develop force of character. Take two boys as much alike as can be found. Place one in the country away from the hothouse refinement and culture of the city. Give him simply the advantages of the district school, a few good books and a Sunday school. Clothe him in blue jeans and cowhide boots. Make him work till his hands are horny and his muscles hard. School him in adversity and compel him to sit at the foot of experience. Place the other amid the social life of a fashionable city. Teach him French, German and belles lettres. Send him to the university and dress him in clothes of the latest cut. With his soft, white hands, his well-kempt looks, his fine attire, his fastidious manners, he is ashamed of the plain garments, hard hands, tawny face and awkward manner of his friend, the country lad. The boy with no chance bemoans his fate and wonders why his lot should be so hard while the other's seems so easy. Time rolls on and they meet as men. The contrast is reversed. It is just as easy to distinguish the sturdy manhood which has been toughened and hammered and ground and sharpened and polished by contact with a real world, from the hothouse product with his flimsy character and flabby muscle, his spongy texture and mechanical ways, as it is for the shipbuilder to tell the difference between a plank from the rugged mountain oak and one from the pampered sapling of the forest. If you think that there is no difference, put them in the bottom of a vessel and test them in a stormy sea.

Find Self Through Adversity.

"Many a man never discovers himself until adversity has stripped him of false garments. The rock in the mountain ledge may grumble at the pick and drill, the rending hammer and the blasting powder which disturb its peace of centuries, but the beautiful statue on the public square whose every lineament is full of charm and whose glory is due to the mallet and the chisel will tell another story. The sculptor thinks only of the statue imprisoned in the marble block. So God is seeking to set the angel in the man or woman free. The affiliations of life are for purposes of refinement and intended to work out a greater weight of glory."

FABIANISM TOWARD EVIL

Maxim of Non-Resistance Subject of Rev. G. R. Gebauer's Sermon.

Indifference Toward Foe Brings Ultimate Abandonment of Attack.

At the First Unitarian church yesterday morning, the pastor Rev. George R. Gebauer, took for his subject "The Maxim of Non-Resistance" in which he dwelt upon the idea that non-resistance, or rather indifference, toward temptation—a sort of Fabian policy toward sin—would ultimately result in wearing out the attack. Said he, in part:

"Taking an impartial survey of all that Jesus said and did, taking the sermon on the mount in conjunction with the discourses by the sea and in the plains, we come to the conclusion, that Jesus in his 'resist not the evil one' simply proclaims in a hyperbolical form, a spiritual law, the principle of love, which, to him, was the Alpha and Omega of salvation. Kindliness, to the Master is the greatest and most efficacious thing in all human relations; it will remove mountains of ill-will and evil. And so it does, though we may not subscribe to an unconditional submission to evil, but hold that under certain conditions love may prove its virtue with a club. But no doubt there arise, constantly, conditions where the most noble and reasonable thing is not to resist evil. And whatever we may do, the spirit which prompts such non-resistance, the spirit of love, should be in all we do.

Law of Non-Resistance.

"But in regard to our inner life, where alone the kingdom of heaven and happiness resides, and where that joy is formed, the law of non-resistance becomes of supreme importance. Here we see more fully the truth of it. Only when the soul is free from the spirit of resistance to evil can there be peace in the soul. What makes many lives so wretched is just that inner struggle against what is unavoidable in life, and must be submitted to. Men fret and stew in the juice of their own foolishness and useless anger. They will break down in health, because their mind is struggling against some inward spook. There is often salvation alone in self-surrender to an evil. When we no longer resist the foe, then the foe will leave us, and peace and health will be ours, and new, strength and joy.

Ignore Attacks.

"Learn not to mind the attacks that come to you on the way of life; they belong to the highway. We are slandered, we are suspected without reason, we are the victims of jealousy, we are accused of all sorts of wrongs. Now what shall we do? Fight the slanderers? We may have to, but it is a poor way of doing. Shall we defend ourselves, try to prove how good we are? Worse still! It is all a vain undertaking. If people lie about you, let them lie; if they throw mud at you, the law will not clear you; the only way to overcome the evil tongues is not to recognize their wagging. If your enemy strike you on your left cheek, turn to him your right one also, and by that show him how little you care for his actions. The most foolish thing a man can do is to return evil for evil, and the other foolish thing is, to justify himself. Go your way calmly without noticing the barking dogs and they will soon quiet down. Resist not the evil one and your non-resistance will become a resistless power.

FATHERS SHOULD SET GOOD EXAMPLE

Parent's Personality the Greatest Power for Good, Says Pastor.

That fathers should set a worthy example for their sons and live not only for themselves, but for their children, was the keynote of the sermon preached yesterday morning by Rev. W. W. Lawrence, pastor of the Glen Avon Presbyterian church. His topic was "Fathers and Sons." He said in part:

"The greatest power in examples is that of personality. A man develops a personality which enters not only his life, but the life of his son. The personality which counts is that which has a passion for truth, a passion for humanity. So a father must develop a higher regard for truth in order to do good work in the life of his children.

"Every privilege brings a corresponding responsibility. In national affairs the ruler or king bears a tremendous responsibility because of his relation to the people; and in every organization no man can use the power for himself only, but he must use it for the greatest number for the greatest good in his organization. Every privilege bestowed upon us is just an obligation, and obligations cannot be fulfilled without benefiting both the man himself and the organization.

"A father should live with his son, and have the son live with him. The boy understands that the father does not care to go into all his affairs, but there is a fellowship between the father and son which may be helpful to both of them."

PASTOR DEFINES "UNPARDONABLE SIN"

Failure to use what nature gives was declared to be the "unpardonable sin" spoken of in the Bible in a sermon preached yesterday morning by Rev. Bruce Brown of California, who spoke at the First Christian church on that topic. He said in part:

"This age-long mysterious subject is not mysterious at all. There is an unpardonable sin against the arm. Bind it up for seven years and you can never move it again. Against the eye: Bandage them for five years and you can never see again. Nature takes away what we do not use. In plain language, the unpardonable sin is to kill the conscience. Heaven always is ready to forgive, but when conscience is dead repentance forever is impossible.

"I ask no one in this church to endure what I am saying. Call me a heretic if you will, but I believe so much in the love and mercy of Christ that I think he would go to the lowest depths of hell to die for any devil who would repent."

Rev. Mr. Brown is speaking temporarily at the First Christian church, and may be called to the pastorate permanently. His topic tonight will be "Shall We Know Each Other in Heaven."

In his announcement yesterday, he said that he would speak in 100 cities and towns this season on the Chautauqua platform.

PASSPORTS OF TWO REVOKED

American Citizens Living in Germany Too Free With Criticisms.

Berlin, June 7, via London—The passports of two American citizens living at Dresden, Leon Raines and Karl Recknagel, have been ordered revoked by the American embassy on instructions from the state department at Washington.

The men, it is said, adversely criticized the American government in the present crisis and declared in a newspaper article, that they were ashamed of their citizenship.

Attacked Government.

Washington, June 7.—It was explained at the state department that the passports of Leon Raines and Karl Reckangel had been revoked because of their published attacks on the American government. They were reported to have issued an open letter to President Wilson in the press of Germany and to have been the authors of circulars and pamphlets criticizing the United States.

As the giving of passports is a courtesy on the part of the state department, the privileges were ordered revoked through Ambassador Gerard on the ground that the men have violated their allegiance.

Revocation of the passports makes it practically impossible for either Raines or Reckangel to return to the United States before the conclusion of the war.

KEEN INTEREST IN CARNIVAL CONTEST

Nine Candidates in Race for Honors of Being "Queen."

Interest is on the increase in the contest of the Knights of Pythias for "Carnival queen." Nine girls are now in the race, and all have a large number of votes. Rose Coran is in the lead with 3,526 ballots to her credit.

The girl receiving the largest number of votes will be crowned "queen" of the carnival and be given a trip to the San Francisco exposition. Voting envelopes can be secured from any of the candidates or the contest manager.

Charles S. Palmer has been appointed contest manager and will count all votes.

Standing of the candidates to date follows:

Rose Coran	3526
Louise Henning	2845
Ada Johnson	3197
Nellie Doig	2312
Nazie Miller	2575
Alice Mattson	2144
Lillian Dinham	2176

L. J. SELIG AGAIN HEADS TEMPLE CONGREGATION

Leon J. Selig was re-elected president of the Temple Emanuel congregation at the annual election held in the vestry rooms yesterday morning.

Mr. Selig in his annual report announced that the membership has increased during the last year and that the congregation is now on a sound financial basis.

In addition to Mr. Selig's re-election, H. Y. Josephs and Charles D. Oreckovsky were again chosen for vice president and secretary, respectively.

LUSITANIA SURVIVOR WILL SAIL NO MORE.

Hancock, Mich., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred J. Milford of Hancock, assistant superintendent of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, has returned from England, where he had been visiting his father. Mr. Milford was a passenger on the ill-fated steamer Lusitania and was among the few surviving passengers. He says he has made his last trip across the ocean.

CHIEF OF POLICE KILLED BY AUTO

Scranton, Pa., June 7.—Henry Reese, chief of police of Dixbury, near here, was run down and killed here when he tried to signal an automobile, said to have been exceeding the speed limit. The chauffeur lost control of the steering wheel.

Mrs. David Slocum of Chicago, and Arthur P. Ridgway of this city, were in the car, and were slightly injured. James Reid, the chauffeur, was arrested and released in $5,000 bail.

Barely Escapes Drowning.

Lisbon, N. D., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Endeavoring to turn a top buggy around in a limited space resulted in Anton Ekern and Miss Bessie Hanson being precipitated into the Sheyenne river and Miss Hanson, who was caught in the top, narrowly escaped drowning.

Car Bumps Jitney.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 7.—Three men in a jitney were injured and narrowly escaped death, fifty street car passengers were imperiled by flying glass and thrown into a panic, when a street car left the tracks at Twenty-fourth street and Lisbon avenue and crushed a jitney against a post Saturday night.

Neutrality Disavowed.

London, June 7.—A dispatch to the Times from Sofia, dated Friday says: "A communication issued by the ministerial journal yesterday declaring that Bulgaria was resolved to adhere to neutrality, is now disavowed."

From Great Lakes to Gulf.

New Orleans, June 7.—The arrival here yesterday of the steamboat Steel City from La Salle, Ill., with a cargo of merchandise shipped to New Orleans by Chicago manufacturers, marked the beginning of what is expected to be a regular freight service by water from the Great Lakes to the gulf.

FATHERLAND SECONDARY

America First Is Sentiment of German American Societies.

Pass Resolutions Condemning Questioning of Their Loyalty.

"Severance of relations between this country and Germany will find us to a man on the side of the Stars and Stripes," said John Gonska in an address before members of the four principal German societies of the city at Maccabee hall yesterday afternoon.

"All German-Americans remember that they are Americans first," was the sentiment of the gathering, and Mr. Gonska's words were greeted by a fervid demonstration of patriotism.

Criticizing utterances credited to Bishop James D. Morrison of Episcopal diocese of Duluth which were taken as reflecting on the loyalty of German-Americans as a whole, those in attendance passed a resolution indignantly denying the truth of statements of the kind said to have been made.

"Once before in the history of the United States German-Americans fought father against son and brother against brother," said Mr. Gonska, who made the principal address, "and should the strain between the government at Washington and the fatherland reach the breaking point, the situation of 1861-65 will repeat itself.

Remember Americanism.

"In this time of stress, we of German birth or extraction must cling together. We must not forget the teachings of the fatherland, nor must we stand in awe of its enemies. But should the crisis come, then remember that you are Americans. Remember the oaths you took when you became citizens of this, your adopted land."

The meeting was ended when the members rose and sang "Die Wacht am Rhein" and "Star Spangled Banner."

The societies represented were: North Pole lodge, Sons of Herman; Arbeiter society, Germania Singing society and the German-American alliance.

W. M. Miller, 504 East First street, Fred Hase and Fred Doerfer gave short addresses. A musical program was given, including piano solos by Franz von Low, a vocal solo by Miss Stella Seligman, accompanied by Miss Violet Flaaten, and solos by Charles Zehnter, Franz Oppenheim and William Yannke. The German Singing society also gave several numbers.

J. A. Farrell, commissioner of public works, attended the meeting.

Text of Resolution.

The resolution adopted reads:

"Whereas, The Rt. Rev. Bishop J. D. Morrison of Duluth, in an address to the convention of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Duluth, in session in Trinity cathedral, on Tuesday, June 2, remarked as follows, according to report in the News Tribune on June 3: 'It may not be necessary to declare war, though we may find that breaking off all relations with the German empire is unavoidable. Seizing German shipping now interned in American ports and banishing all Germans of suspected loyalty, etc., would gain the end as well as a war declaration,' and

"Whereas, These remarks put in question the loyalty of citizens of German birth, and which condemns them, not on conviction, but on mere suspicion of disloyalty;

"Therefore, be it resolved, That we deplore that a prominent representative of the Christian church, by this uncalled-for insinuation, lowered the standard of Christ and sowed the seeds of suspicion in our midst, and that we indignantly repudiate this attack upon the character of citizens of German descent.

"Deutsch-Amerikanischer Central bund, W. M. Miller, president.

"Nordpol lodge, O. H. S., Tony Gulder, vice president.

"Gesang Verein Germania, F. Hass, president.

"Verein Eintracht, A. L. Braun, president."

PROFIT-SHARING COUPON PASSING

Marshall Field & Co. and Other Concerns Emulating Duluth's Example.

The day of the "profit-sharing coupon" seems to be rapidly passing elsewhere as here and the latest large concern to bar manufacturers using them is no less a one than Marshall Field & Co. of Chicago. Recently an attempt has been made to re-establish the trading stamp system in Duluth in the form of mileage coupons, and some merchants—few, however—were induced to adopt the plan. As a general thing the merchants of the city refused to take up the plan, having had enough of the trading stamps in the past; but those who made contracts will likely have to go through with them.

The various mercantile associations have officially condemned the plan, with the result that the system is confined to a few stores.

Condemnation of this plan, in whatever form, is becoming widespread, and Marshall Field & Co. have just announced that "in future they will not sell any merchandise which includes profit-sharing coupons." The adoption of this policy by Marshall Field & Co. has called forth expressions from retailers decrying the practice of giving profit-sharing coupons, mileage coupons and, in fact, all manner of premiums and trading stamps. Many retailers as a result of a vast experience express themselves in no uncertain terms as to what their opinions are regarding all manner of premium and stamp schemes.

One of Milwaukee's most important concerns is of the opinion that it would be a great blessing if a radical stand could be taken whereby all premiums, gifts, etc., be abolished.

A large enterprise located in Quincy, Ill., has written to a number of prominent firms from which they are accustomed to buy informing them that they would not handle their goods in the future if they engaged in the profit-sharing business and have instructed their buyers not to select goods that come with coupons.

One of the largest department stores in Indianapolis has notified all manufacturers that it will not handle merchandise if profit-sharing coupons are contained therein.

FUNDS FOR IMMIGRANTS

Campaign in Behalf of War Refugees Begun By Rev. R. Kornblith.

About $200 was raised by Rev. R. Kornblith of Philadelphia, district secretary of the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid society, at a meeting of local Jews held last evening at the Adath Israel synagogue. Dr. Kornblith will continue his campaign for funds the coming week.

Will Help War Victims.

The money being raised in a campaign extending to all parts of the country will be devoted to caring for the thousands of homeless Jews in Galicia, Poland, and other parts of Europe, who will be coming to this country after the war. Dr. Kornblith arrived here Friday from the Twin Cities, where he obtained $1,500 in subscriptions.

At the meeting last evening Dr. Kornblith delivered an address on the work of the Sheltering Aid society, being followed by Rabbi I. Teplitz of the Adath Israel synagogue. S. Karon, president of the congregation, presided. After the meeting a collection of $200 was made.

Immigration Wave.

"One of the effects of the present war," said Dr. Kornblith, "will be to precipitate an enormous wave of immigration toward the United States. The exodus from territory seized by Germany already has begun. When the readjustment of boundary lines is effected, still greater numbers will flock to America. Yet though the condition of the Jew in many European countries, especially in Russia, is being made intolerable, the Hebrew representation in the warring armies is extremely large. At least 300,000 are wearing the Russian uniform.

"The Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid society will have to bear the brunt of the burden of caring for the refugees from Europe. An instance of the work that the society is doing was securing the postponement of deportation of 200 Jews who last week were ordered back to the countries from which they came. Had they been returned now and not after the war it would have spelled worse than ruin for them. Preparing immigrants for naturalization is another phase of the society's work."

WANT NEXT YEAR'S STATE MEETING

Duluth Eagles Will Try for Convention of 1916.

Duluth delegates to the annual state convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles which will be held at Eveleth tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday, will endeavor to land the 1916 gathering for this city. The local delegation, consisting of V. M. Grady, state secretary, Julius Dworshak, W. S. Brown, Chris Tracey, A. E. Jackson, H. Collins, F. G. Sanstedt, John Gonska and James Parker, will leave for the range city tonight.

The state convention will open at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and will be attended by about 300 delegates from every large city in the state. These represent a total membership of 10,000. There will be a big parade on Wednesday morning, to be followed by a visit to the mines in the afternoon. A grand fireworks display is scheduled for Wednesday evening.

The local delegates have prepared for a big campaign in their effort to land the 1916 convention for this city.

COUNTY FARM CROP.

More Than 200 Acres Planted to Various Products.

More than 200 acres are now in crop at the county poor farm, according to the report which Chris Melby, superintendent, made to the county poor commission at its monthly meeting at the courthouse Saturday afternoon.

Practically all of the planting has been done. The principal crops are oats, corn, potatoes and garden truck.

The report of the medical superintendent, Dr. C. J. Woolway, showed that a large number of persons were cared for at the three institutions maintained at the farm during the month of May.

The month started out with a total population of 231 persons and ended with 222.

Society • Women's Clubs • Music • Drama

WHEN the report on the endowment fund was read at the meeting of the executive board of the General Federation of Women's clubs last week at Portland the Minnesota report was greeted with a loud cheer as the federation of this state is one of the first to raise its endowment assessment. It has paid $3,000 as its share.

Miss Rogers' Composition Is Mentioned in Chicago Paper.

The following mention of Miss Faith Helen Rogers' composition, "A Ballad of Trees and the Master," which was awarded a prize by the National Federation of Musical clubs, and which will be given on one of the programs at the biennial meeting which will be held at Los Angeles this summer is taken from yesterday's Chicago Tribune:

"An interesting feature of the festival will be the performance of the three successful compositions in the Federation competition—a song by Faith Helen Rogers of Duluth, Minn., the symphony in C minor by Arne Oldberg of Evanston, Ill., and the grand opera, 'Fairyland,' by Horatio W. Parker, dean of the musical department of Yale university, which won the prize over fifty-six other operatic works. This opera, under the leadership of Herz, conductor of the Metropolitan, will close the festival, after three performances."

Self-Help Work Will Be Carried on This Summer

The girls' self-help organization of Central high school, which was organized in 1911 under the auspices of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, has had marked success this year. Many girls are hoping to get work this summer that they may continue their high school courses next fall. Housekeepers, office men and all persons who need the services of girls for a day at a time or a few hours a day this summer are asked to telephone Miss Meroe Conlan before Friday, June 11, as it will be difficult to make arrangements with girls during the last week of school on account of examinations.

Owing to the large membership of the self-help organization a girl can be supplied for almost any kind of a position. Many members have had two years or more training in the commercial course and are able to do stenographic work and bookkeeping. Others, who have taken the domestic science course, are competent to serve at luncheons, teas and dinners. Others can do plain sewing and many can help with housework or take care of children. Some have taken courses in art and can supply calls for this work.

Minnesota Women Are On Federation Committees

As a result of the action taken by the executive board of the General Federation of Women's Clubs at the closing session of the meeting held in Portland last week, chairmen of all state federation committees will be placed in the same departments in the parent body. This action places a number of Minnesota women in the active working force of the federation.

Mrs. C. J. Backus of St. Paul, will be on the conservation committee of the general federation. Whoever succeeds Mrs. C. G. Higbee as chairman of the industrial and social conditions committee of the Minnesota federation will be on the same national committee. Miss Clara F. Baldwin of St. Paul, will be on the literature committee; Mrs. I. L. Ryplns of St. Paul, civil service committee; Mrs. C. W. Wells, Minneapolis, art committee; Mrs. C. J. Holman, Mankato, civic committee; Mrs. John Ransom, Albert Lea, handicraft committee; Mrs. C. G. Selvig, Crookston, country life committee; Mrs. H. H. Witherstein, Rochester, education committee; Mrs. Rudolph Geiser, Cannon Falls, home economics committee; Miss Josephine Schain, Minneapolis, legislation committee; Mrs. Charles L. Gilman, Minneapolis, music committee; Mrs. W. L. Marcley, Minneapolis, public health committee; Dr. Ethel Hurd, Minneapolis, social hygiene committee; Miss Josephine Brower, St. Cloud, public recreation committee.

The Minnesota delegation to the council meeting were the guests Friday of the Minnesota Society of Oregon for a trip up the Columbia river. Mrs. T. J. Baldwin of Portland was the hostess.

Before returning to Minnesota Mrs. C. L. Atwood of St. Cloud, Mrs. E. W. Osborne and Miss Maude Clum of St. Paul and Mrs. T. G. Winter and Mrs. C. M. Ferguson of Minneapolis will make a trip through California to visit clubs and make a survey of civic work.

Scandinavian W. C. T. U.

The Scandinavian W. C. T. U. will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. Gustafson, 2306 West Eighth street. Following the business meeting and election of officers there will be an open discussion of "Mothers of Today and Mothers of Former Years," under the leadership of Mrs. C. W. Stromgren.

Orchestra Engagement Closes

Mrs. Stephen H. Jones Is Presented to Saturday Evening Audience and Given Ovation---Confusion of Friday Night Not in Evidence.

The two concerts presented Saturday afternoon and evening at the curling club auditorium closed the series of concerts by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra which were presented in Duluth under the complimentary direction of Mrs. Stephen H. Jones. The auditors were seated on time and without confusion at the Saturday concerts, and the engagement was brought to a most successful conclusion.

At the afternoon program Mr. Oberhoffer chose to present the Cesar Franck symphony, six numbers of MacDowell's "Woodland Sketches," orchestrated by Mr. Oberhoffer himself, and two numbers from "Caucasian Sketches" by a modern Russian, Ipollitow-Iwanow, as the orchestral numbers. They were played with the delicacy and charm that characterize the work of the Minnesota conductor, and met with much favor by the immense audience that filled the rink. The soloists for the afternoon were Alma Beck, contralto, and Henry J. Williams, harpist, who is always popular with Duluth audiences. Miss Beck sang "O My Harp Immortal," from Gounod's "Sapho," and responded to the very enthusiastic applause with a dainty encore number. Mr. Williams played a fantasy with orchestra accompaniment, and as usual was one of the best received of the orchestra soloists. He responded to an encore.

Mrs. Jones Given an Ovation.

The evening concert was marked by the appearance of Mrs. Stephen H. Jones, whose untiring energy and civic spirit have made the local engagement of the orchestra possible, the first that Duluth has enjoyed in three years. Mrs. Jones was introduced by T. W. Hugo, who has himself been most interested in providing a wider opportunity for musical pleasures to Duluthians, and he briefly reviewed Duluth's musical progress. As the climax of his speech he presented Mrs. Jones to the audience, and she was received with a welcoming burst of applause and the tribute of several armsful of roses, a slight appreciation of Duluth's indebtedness to her for her activities in providing musical pleasure and incidentally helping maintain one of its most popular and worthy institutions, the curling club. The Saturday night audience was not lukewarm in showing its appreciation.

The orchestral numbers for the closing concert were Tschaikowsky's Fourth Symphony, Mozart's "Overture to the Magic Flute," two numbers by Sibelius, "Valse Triste," from the drama "Kuolema" and tone poem "Finlandia," and the ever-popular "Invitation to the Dance" of Weber. The soloists were Miss Marie Sundelius, who appeared in place of Alfred Lundquist, who, owing to a temporary indisposition, was unable to appear, and Cornelius Van Vliet, cellist. The concert was a fitting climax of a most successful engagement.

National American Woman Suffrage Association Opens Mid-Year Conference

Chicago, June 7.—Plans for vigorous campaigns to procure a national suffrage were sketched at the mid-year conference of the National American Woman Suffrage association, which opened here today.

Leaders in district organizations in forty-one states were urged to use all of their influence on congressmen in their districts to vote for the suffrage amendment in the next congress. The Susan B. Anthony amendment, which has gone to every session of congress in forty-three years, will be introduced when congress convenes again, according to Dr. Anna Howard Shaw of New York, president of the National association. The amendment provides that no state shall disfranchise its citizens because of sex.

"I hope that no session of congress passes that the Anthony amendment is not introduced until we have national suffrage," Dr. Shaw said. "We shall always push the issue until we get it."

Keep Out Militancy.

Speakers warned that militancy must be kept from the ranks of the organization. The fear that the methods of the English suffragists will be invoked by some of the suffrage workers in this country was responsible for the anti-militant attitude.

Among speakers on today's program, in addition to Dr. Shaw, were Mrs. Medill McCormick of Chicago, Miss Alice Stone Blackwell and Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton.

Alice Stone Blackwell of Boston, a veteran suffrage leader, declared that the addition of only a few more suffrage states would bring congress to the point of submitting to the people a nation-wide suffrage amendment.

Conflict Within the Cause.

The existence of two national organizations working for women's suffrage has developed a conflict within the cause, according to Mrs. Stanley McCormick of New York, who criticized the suffrage organization known as the Congressional union. Mrs. McCormick, vice president of the American Women Suffrage association, said:

"For the first time since 1889 there are two national organizations working for suffrage. One is the National American Woman Suffrage association, organized for state work in all the non-suffrage states and for Federal work in forty-one out of the forty-eight states. The second, made up of a comparatively small group of women, is known as the Congressional union. This new association proposes to organize within the states, in spite of the already existing state organizations, not to obtain suffrage within the states but merely to bring pressure to bear on congress for the passage of the Anthony amendment. This is not merely a duplication of effort but in many ways a conflict, for the Congressional union differs from the National association in fundamental characteristics.

"To begin with, it is not an elective body. Its officers are self-appointed and self-perpetuated. Secondly, its policy is avowedly militant, and finally, it has abandoned the old policy of non-partisanship and has declared war on the Democratic party.

"The question of whether the state associations wish to encourage or discourage the activities of the Congressional union and the establishment of its branches in the different states is a vital point, for if they wish to encourage them a change in the fundamental policies which have for many years governed the National association is involved."

The recent action of the king of Denmark in signing the suffrage bill aroused enthusiasm among the delegates. Dr. Shaw sent a cable message to Mrs. Joanna Munter, president of the Danish suffrage association, offering congratulations on the victory.

Mrs. Desha Breckinridge of Lexington, Ky., resigned from the national board of the association at the meeting held last night in advance of the conference. Mrs. Nellie Dugent Somerville of Greenville, Miss., was elected in her place. Mrs. Breckenridge resigned because her work in Kentucky prevented her giving the proper time to the national work it was said.

Children's Party.

Mrs. Conrad J. Schlaman of 412 Twelfth avenue east entertained twenty little girls Saturday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock for her daughter, Alvena. Daisies, the birth flower of the guest of honor, were used in decorating and the other appointments in the dining room carried out the white and yellow motif. Mrs. Schlaman was assisted by Miss May Nelson. The guests were:

Holloway-Flinn Wedding at Lake Minnetonka

The following account of the wedding of Miss Helen Holloway and Alfred Richard Flinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Flinn of 1715 East Superior street, is taken from yesterday's Minneapolis Tribune:

"The summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Holloway at Pine Lake View, Lake Minnetonka, was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock when their daughter, Miss Helen Holloway, and Alfred Richard Flinn of Duluth were united in marriage. The Rev. John Boden of St. Mary's Episcopal church read the service before an improvised altar of smilax, sweet peas and bridal wreath. Clusters of spring blossoms, bridal wreath and sweet peas were placed about the dining room.

"The bridal procession was led by the two little ribbon stretchers, Rosser Matson and Richard Zahn, who wore dark blue coats and long white trousers. They were followed by Miss Jennie Perry of Marriam Park, who was the bridesmaid. She was gowned in pink silk crepe trimmed with tulle and carried a shower bouquet of Ward roses. Miss Myra Flinn, the bridegroom's sister, was maid of honor. Her gown was of green chiffon taffeta made empire with a full ruffled skirt and she carried pink sweet peas. Little Jane Matson, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She preceded the bride and was dressed in white embroidered voile and carried a basket of spring flowers.

"The bride entered alone. She was dressed in white satin made round length. The bodice was cut decollette with short sleeves and trimmed with tulle. She wore a tulle veil made cap-effect, which fell to the hem of her gown. Her flowers were pale pink sweet peas and lillies of the valley.

"Seventy-five guests attended the reception which was held after the ceremony. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Flinn and Miss Amy Flinn of Duluth, parents and sister of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Gooch of Nebraska, brother-in-law and sister of the bride.

"Mr. Flinn and his bride left on a western trip and will be at home after July 1, in Contact, Nev."

"Handing It to Mrs. Jones"

"Kansas Cyclone of Energy," Says Orchestra Manager---"Orchestra Would Stand on Its Head If She Asked It To."

Expressed in the popular parlance of the day, "you have to hand it to Mrs. Steve."

Saturday evening, Carlo Fisher, assistant manager of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, was discussing Duluth's impresario, Mrs. Stephen H. Jones, who arranged the series of three concerts given Friday and Saturday.

"I don't know whether you people in Duluth appreciate Mrs. Jones or not," he said. "To me, she is the most remarkable personality I have ever met in my experience with the orchestra.

"She's a Kansas cyclone of energy—a 10,000-volt current of dynamics. She took us staid, easy going musicians off our feet. We thought we knew something about handling one of these affairs, but we found we had a lot to learn. I would like to see Mrs. Jones descend on New York and show them some western methods.

"She has gathered what were probably the three biggest audiences the orchestra has ever played to, and she had every seat sold weeks before the orchestra came, and capacity assured.

Single Handed Campaign.

"It was almost a single handed campaign. True, she had committees to help her, but she provided the energy and initiative. The decorating committee did an excellent piece of work, and everybody gave her cordial sympathy and support, but she was the dynamo that provided the energy for it all. If she was a man and was in business with that amount of energy and initiative, she would own your city. She can have anything the orchestra can give. We'd stand on our heads for her, if it would do her any good. There may have been bigger audiences gathered for a symphony concert in this country, but I don't know where it was. Certainly no more successful series has ever been arranged single handed, and if there have been bigger audiences they were in connection with some exposition, or well established festival. The orchestra played to between 11,000 and 12,000 people in those three concerts. For a city the size of Duluth that is simply marvelous. Our hats are off to her. We don't know how she did it, that's all, and she did it without getting a cent out of it for herself. In fact she spent considerable of her own money to give Duluth the biggest affair of its kind in the country."

Duluth, today, is joining Mr. Fisher in "handing it to Mrs. Jones." Her chief concern this morning seemed to be that David Duncan of the Carbolite company, who had charge of the excellent lighting arrangements, and the members of the various committees be given the credit due them for their efforts.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Intuition Is Not Infallible.

Exactly how many women do you know who pride themselves on their rather unusual ability to read character? They can tell by talking with a man or they can tell by the distance between his eyes, by the lines around his mouth, by the voice, by the walk, by his clothes or by any other of a hundred methods. And every woman is quite sure of the infallibility of her particular method.

Most young women will talk to you along the following lines: "I have been out in the world and can make my own way. I know something about reading character and can judge men by intuition. I am perfectly capable of selecting my own friends and of deciding just how far to trust them."

And then comes the fascinating foreigner with a shattered title, or the plain American scoundrel, and the girl believes in his charming manner or his nice gray eyes. Sometimes it happens that the trust that he doesn't deserve makes a man of him, but far oftener, I am afraid, it doesn't.

Still, you say, a man might be just as much mistaken. Possibly, though I doubt it. But it does not make such a difference with a man. When a foreign baron loomed into the public horizon, not so long ago, in his trail were dragged into publicity half a dozen women who had believed in him implicitly, and had even let him pawn their jewels. There were numerous tradesmen whom this imposter had cheated, but it doesn't mean so much to them; they will forget it when the year's expense books are closed, but the women cannot so easily leave the experience behind them.

Now, I am not urging women to be distrustful. There is nothing much more unattractive than a hard, cynical woman, who thinks that all men are villains, the only difference being in the depth of the dye. Trust when you find the object of your confidence worthy, and when you know you are right, believe, although all the rest of the world doubts. But don't place your trust by your personal reading of a man's character or your intuitions in regard to him if you know nothing else about him.

Although they have proven by their success in business and professions that they are not simply bundles of emotion and domesticity, women are still (the majority of them at least) more ruled by their hearts than their brains. Instead of reading the book of character in the rosy light, young women should be willing to let some older, wiser counsel, who knows more about the book, peek over the shoulder and help in the interpretation of it.

Miss Emelyn McDougall Becomes Bride of Lewis Gould Castle

Miss Emelyn McDougall, daughter of Capt. Alexander McDougall of 2201 East First street, and Lewis Gould Castle of Milwaukee, were married Saturday night at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's father in the presence of about sixty guests. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George B. Bridgeman of Minneapolis, a life-long friend of the family. Miss Lucille Bradley was the maid of honor and Robert Alton of Chicago was the best man. Miss Mazel Britts and Miss Dorothy Baker held the ribbons which were stretched by Philip Heimbach and Laird Goodman. The ceremony was performed in the living room before the fire place which was banked with palms, ferns, Easter lilies and white peonies. Cathedral candles furnished the only light during the ceremony.

Some of the Gowns.

La Brosse's orchestra played the Lohengrin wedding march for the processional. The bride who descended the stairs on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage, wore a gown of ivory satin combined with Chantilly lace and chiffon. Her tulle veil was arranged with orange blossoms which were worn by her mother at her wedding and she wore a short face veil. She carried her mother's Duchess lace handkerchief. Her bouquet was of lilies of the valley and orchids and was edged with lace. She wore the bridegroom's gift, a brooch of sapphires and filagree gold wound with seed pearls.

Miss Bradley wore turquois blue taffeta in empire style made with a lace and chiffon bodice and carried a French gold basket filled with pink Killarney rose buds. Miss Britts was gowned in light blue taffeta and Miss Baker wore a pink costume.

Mrs. A. Miller McDougall's gown was of white satin veiled in net with trimmings of crystal. Mrs. Frederick Castle of Milwaukee, mother of the bridegroom, wore a white satin costume draped with white lace. Miss Evelyn Castle of Milwaukee, sister of the bridegroom, wore light blue charmeuse. Miss Castle caught the bride's bouquet. Miss Margaret Florada, who presided at the punch bowl, wore a pale yellow costume.

Reception Follows.

In the receiving line with the bride and bridegroom at the reception for 150 guests which followed the ceremony were Capt. McDougall, Mr. and Mrs. A. Miller McDougall, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Castle, parents of the bridegroom.

American beauty roses, palms and ferns were the decorations in the reception hall and library. Ward roses formed the centerpiece in the dining room where yellow shaded candles burned. Baskets of ferns were hung in the rooms and bay trees and palms decorated the porch. Pink carnations were used in the upper rooms.

The bride wore a traveling suit of brown corded silk with hat to match. After a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Castle will make their home at Richland center, Wis.

The out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Curry Prescott, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Castle, parents of the bridegroom, and Miss Evelyn Castle, sister of the bridegroom, all of Milwaukee; Robert Alton and Horace G. Stone of Chicago, Miss Marjorie Hardy of Adrian, Mich.; Rev. George H. Bridgeman of Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Gress of Minneapolis; Mrs. Emmett Lambert and Miss Virginia Lambert of Cedar Island, Brule, Wis.

BRYAN, FINANCIER.

It seems odd, even startling, to hear Wall Street praising a financial proposal from William Jennings Bryan, but that is precisely what we hear.

One thing lately made plain is that if this country wants to sell goods to South America, it must discover ways and means of financing South American business.

Europe has been financing South America, and getting its trade in the bargain. Now Europe is too busy to finance anything but war, or to engage much in any trade but war. The South American market is open to us, providing we can meet its needs—chief among which is the need of financing it while we deal with it.

Wall Street had no answer to this problem. Mr. Bryan had. At a recent dinner in Washington he proposed this plan: Let the South American republic wishing to borrow money deposit its four per cent bonds with the American government. Against this let the American government issue and sell its three per cent bonds. The difference of one per cent would be devoted to a sinking fund, which in forty-seven years would redeem the debt.

To Wall Street, a financial suggestion from Mr. Bryan is a thing to be handled with tongs, if at all. The mere fact that Mr. Bryan is conceiving a financial suggestion is enough, ordinarily, to give Wall Street the shivers.

But this time it is different—very different indeed. For Wall Street seems to think that Mr. Bryan has said something—has proposed a sound and practical solution for a financial problem. For instance, listen to the National City bank of Wall Street and New York, a concern deeply interested in South America:

> Making allowance for all the difficulties that will be immediately thought of in the consummation of such a scheme, it still deserves to be pronounced not only a daring but A REALLY BRILLIANT CONCEPTION. It is daring because it goes beyond the conventional in government finance, but it is brilliant because it appeals to the imagination as offering something that, while attended by difficulties, is not impossible of realization, and if carried through successfully would be a HISTORIC ACT OF STATESMANSHIP.

What, O shades of the cross of gold and crown of thorns, O wraith of sixteen-to-one, do you know about that?

William Jennings Bryan evolving a financial scheme, and a Wall Street Rockefeller bank declaring that it is a "really brilliant conception" and that to carry it out would be a "historic act of statesmanship!"

'Ray for Bryan!

A St. Louis man is being accused of insanity just because he went to New York and bought five thousand dollars' worth of silk shirts for himself. No wonder there is an outcry against infringements on personal liberty.

"THEY NEVER SPEAK AS THEY PASS BY."

In times of peace the diplomatic colony at Washington is a very friendly little social circle. It gets along beautifully, enjoys to the full its little social exchanges, and has a good and easy time of it generally.

Now that the world is at war, it is different.

It is related that the diplomatic representatives of the countries now at war have relations, public and personal, only with the representatives of those allied with them. There are no relations whatever, either public or personal, between the representatives of countries that are enemies.

No matter how friendly these relations were before the war, the war ended them. If the German ambassador meets the French ambassador in the street, they pass each other, each without giving any evidence that the other is a visible object.

If the English ambassador enters a room in which the German ambassador happens to be, the German ambassador leaves at once.

Though once they were friends, the war has made them strangers.

And, we presume, the butler of the German ambassador passes the butler of the English ambassador with his nose haughtily elevated in the air, and when the English ambassador's errand boy meets the errand boy of the German ambassador, they stick out their tongues at each other.

Seems silly? Bless you, why shouldn't it seem silly? It IS silly.

Maybe the Mexicans would plead that they are merely revising their Constitution.

AND A WOMAN DID IT!

Duluth can be—and doubtless is—proud of the tremendous success of the engagement here of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra. It brought thousands out to fill the vast Curling club building at every performance. It pleased and satisfied the public. It resulted in a financial profit for the Curling club. It demonstrated the fact that the carefully cultivated and slowly developed musical appetite of Duluth has reached a high stage of development, and that's important, because no community really grows unless its growth is well rounded, unless the cultural side grows as well as the financial, commercial and industrial side.

It can no longer be said that Duluth fails in its appreciation of the higher things of life. It can no longer be said that Duluth does not patronize music. It both patronizes and appreciates.

The success of this enterprise marks a milestone in Duluth's history. It is a splendid thing to look back upon, and deserves every tribute that can be devised.

Full credit must be given, too, to the organizer of this success—to the woman who did what men didn't do, what men said couldn't be done—to Mrs. Stephen Jones, to whose indomitable persistance, untiring labors and boundless energy the great abundance of this satisfying success is largely due.

Why doesn't some enterprising hat man introduce a style to be known as "the frozen straw?"

THE SALE OF AMMUNITION.

There is a point or two about the sale of ammunition by American dealers to the warring nations of Europe that ought to be cleared up, not by any means in a spirit of controversy but only to make the record clear.

The United States has been criticized for permitting its manufacturers to sell arms and ammunition, chiefly on the ground that they sell only to the allies; and there has been insistence that the government stop this traffic. As to this, the position of the government is that it is not his country's fault that Germany is not in a position to buy, that it would be buying if delivery could be made, and that to stop the sale of arms because one side of the conflict is unable to buy would be to violate neutrality by taking a step in the interest of that side and against the other side.

It has been repeatedly stated, too, that Germany, during the Spanish-American war, refused to sell arms to Spain, and that this is proved by the autobiography of Andrew D. White, who was then the American ambassador to Germany. This is not so. The New York World, replying to a correspondent, thus explains the basis for this assertion:

> No such proof is to be found in Mr. White's autobiography. As ambassador, Mr. White heard that a ship was leaving port with munitions for Spain. In an excess of zeal which did no credit to his knowledge either of German or international law, he protested, and was told later that the ship in question carried no munitions.
> Ambassador White was then advised by the American state department on two points: That German sales of munitions to Spain would be wholly in accord with international law as asserted by the United States; nevertheless, that if it was contrary to German law it might be well to have the fact known. Mr. White thereupon made a quiet inquiry and found that German law did not forbid such sales to a belligerent nation. That was the end of the matter. The American government stood then where it stands today on the subject, and Germany stood in the same position as the American government then and now.

Ardent sympathizers with Germany may easily be forgiven for resenting the fact that American dealers are selling munitions of war to Germany's enemies. But it is a practice solidly founded in international law and practice. It is utterly no violation of neutrality, but to stop it simply because one side of the world-conflict is unable to buy from us most assuredly would be a violation of neutrality because it would be a departure from custom made solely for the benefit of the side that is unable to buy.

If there were a world law forbidding the manufacture, sale and transportation of munitions of war, then no such controversies as this could arise.

Among the criticisms of the jitney nobody has suggested the possibility of there being a disastrous strike of jitneurs.

A Recipe for a Good Wife.

Philadelphia Ledger: Thus wrote Bobby Burns, whose experience with women at least entitles his opinion to consideration:

> The scale of good wife-ship I divide into ten parts. Good nature, four; good sense, two; wit, one; personal charm, namely, sweet face, eloquent eyes, fine limbs, graceful carriage, all these one; as for the other qualities, such as fortune, connection and education more than the ordinary run, family, blood, etc., divide the two remaining degrees as you please.

The poet wrote that recipe for a good wife some time after he was married. I'd like to see a census of the students in leading girl colleges of America on this question of what qualities a wife should possess.

The World That Will Be

Editorial in the Toronto Globe.

Some one said the other day that the present war will prepare the way for "the British peoples to control the world." Were that the issue, then, indeed, had the crucified nations of Britain and of the world suffered in vain and wasted their life for naught. Prophecies in the Old Testament are interpreted to mean the reunion of the United States of America with the nations and countries of the British empire into one gigantic world power, whose word would be law and whose force would beat down resistance. The dream is vain.

But were that dream to come true it would be a world calamity more tragic than the war itself. There must be no world-mastership by any nation; not German, nor Russian, nor Oriental, not American, and please, God, not British. No nation is good enough to stereotype the national aspirations of humanity. No race is pure enough to make its life blood the motive power of all the world. No people are so near perfection that their culture is fit to dominate civilization. When any nation sets itself to mold all peoples after its own fixed type the great Lord God does as He has done many times in history: He smashes the pattern and begins again.

World power has wrought the downfall of many an empire. By that sin Germany today begins to totter to its fall. There was a place for Germany, a great place in the sun. It was the place of service; service to the minds of men, in delivering them from false philosophies as Kant and Hegel had already done; service to the bodies of men, in making the mysteries of nature yield their secrets for human good; service to the souls of men, in making truth more compelling than prophets ever told, more splendid than poets ever dreamed; service to all the nations of all the world, in making the brotherhood of man in the neighborhood of races the supreme policy of statesmanship. That matchless place in history might have been Germany's had she yielded to Christ's will-to-serve. Instead, she was beguiled by anti-Christ's will-to-power. By world ambition Germany lost paradise. How then can Britain hope to win by it?

But Britain has learned the secret of the more excellent way. Again and again has Asquith told it. Not by might, not by power, not by brute force, not by ambitious autocracies, not by selfish alliances, not by armed peace. That is not the new British note. All that jungle statecraft is gone, damned and doomed by its inevitable collapse into its own inescapable hell. And over against all that diplomacy of deceit Asquith sets "the partnership of the nations" in which "a place shall be made and kept for the little peoples and the smaller kingdoms—their free place in the sun."

Partnership, not antagonism! Co-operation, not conflict! Law, not force! Justice, not power! Equality for all, because mastership for none! For that Britain is ready to die. For that America ought to be fit to live. Nothing less is worth while. Nothing else matters.

A Censorship of Conscience

New York World: Again let it be said that the conduct of the American newspapers in this crisis has measured up to the highest traditions of free journalism.

There is no restraint upon them except the restraint of their own common sense. There is no censorship except the censorship of conscience. Yet no power of government could have compelled such a calm, reasonable, restrained discussion of the German reply as the American press has carried on voluntarily. We are bound to believe, too, that this state of mind accurately reflects the state of mind of the American people.

President Wilson in his address at the Associated Press luncheon pleaded for the "splendid courage of reserve moral force" in dealing with the grave questions that confronted the country, and this is exactly what has been shown both in respect to the Lusitania and to the German reply. If there is any jingoism here, it does not find its way into the important newspapers. "The man who will fight at the drop of the hat, whether he knows what the hat is dropped for or not," is receiving little publicity. Even Mr. Roosevelt put the extinguisher on himself after his ghastly outbreak on the president's note to Germany.

The events of the last month have been a heavy strain on that organized self-control which is the true basis of popular government, but the manner in which the American people have behaved should make every American prouder than ever of his country and of his countrymen.

Loafed Half the Time.

Kansas City Star: The late George A. Hearn, the millionaire business man and art collector of New York, was noted for his kind and reasonable treatment of his employes. Mr. Hearn used to smile at the new scientific management craze, of which he once said at a dinner:

"These scientific management people with their impossible claims of doubling and trebling a man's labor remind me of the humble hod carrier's impossible promise.

"A facetious boss said to a new hod carrier:

"'Look-a-here, friend, didn't I hire you to carry bricks up that ladder by the day?'

"'Yes, sir,' said the hod carrier, touching his cap.

"'Well, I've had my eye on you, and you've only done it half a day today. You spent the other half coming down the ladder.'"

"The hod carrier touched his cap again.

"'I'll try to do better tomorrow, sir,' he said, humbly."

Putting a Strain on Our Capacity.

Toledo Blade: A delegation of business men from Reading, Pa., visited Washington last week to inform the government that the city does not require and does not desire an appropriation of $100,000, made by the last congress for the extension of the Reading postoffice.

So many astonishing things are happening in the world that our powers of credence are in the best of training—meaning the powers of all of us. But there is a point where even the most gullible of human beings can swallow no more.

For instance, the news agencies at Washington must never send out word that Senator J. Ham. Lewis has mowed his pink whiskers. They must not tax our strength with the story that Secretary Bryan had declined to make a paid address. There will be trouble if an attempt is made to put over the yarn that Chicago has stopped bellowing for a larger allowance of lake water for its drainage canal.

Enough is enough. Washington must get back to the solid ground after venturing out into the morass of the incredible with that Reading tale.

The Norseman

Gunnar B. Bjornson in the Minneota Mascot.

Next Monday, June 7, there will be celebrated, wherever Norwegians congregate, an achievement in the history of Norway—the securing of its independence from Sweden.

It is patriotic, it shows respect and love for one's racial ancestry to commemorate achievements of this kind. But as an act of mere commemoration it has slight if any value.

If the act of commemoration is not a spur to emulation and to the consecration of individual and collective energies to the accomplishment of noble deeds and the upbuilding of higher character, then it has been in vain to recall and remember.

While it is a laudable desire to make Norway's reputation greater because of the devotion and praise of its sons, it is a far nobler ambition to make America better because of the energy, talents and loyalty of the sons and daughters of Norway domiciled here.

The Norseman has always been busy—idleness, racially speaking, is foreign to his nature.

He has always been looking to the improvement of his conditions—mentally and materially.

Cold and somewhat stoic by nature, he has still exhibited such deep feeling, such richness of red blood that his humane side has never been found wanting.

By environment and tradition the Norseman should be a conservative, and in many respects he is.

But it is interesting in this connection to note that in the states of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and the Dakotas, where the Scandinavian element of the population has been, to a large extent, a predominating factor, there we find that the cause of so-called progressive government and advanced political ideas has reached its greatest ascendency.

This is but another illustration of the restless energy of the Scandinavian, of his ambition for progress, his devotion to the cause of advancement.

Trace the Norseman through the whole of his national existence and you will find him ever fired with the spirit of healthy discontent.

He has never been satisfied to let well enough alone—he has always had an idea that he could make most anything just a little bit better.

But the improvement of his conditions in the country of his birth has not been an easy matter.

In the fatherland life and existence has been a fight from the cradle to the grave.

The physical conditions of the country, the extreme difficulty attending the labor for a livelihood, the uncompromising severity of the elements, all have combined to make the Norseman hardy, cold and uncompromising.

Few, indeed, have been the favors he has received in his struggles with nature.

Life under such conditions does not breed human hothouse plants—it produces men, men of iron constitution and nerves of steel.

Such were the men who made Norway famous in the days of old, such have been the men who have guarded her fame and transmitted her name untarnished from century to century.

The only thing that gives us a right to take pride in our ancestry is that we prove worthy of it—that we emulate the noble and the good which we extol and admire.

A true Norseman should be independent in thought.

He will shun shams. To him the question is not: Does it pay? But rather: Is it sound, wise, right?

He will despise the suggestion to take advantage of ignorance or misfortune.

A true Norseman has only contempt for a mean, a petty act.

There is something haughty—proud if you will—about the Norse race.

Cringing is foreign to their nature.

You might break, but would not bend the old Viking spirit.

We do not mean to say that these qualities, or this spirit, is an exclusive heritage of the Norse. Far from it.

It is found in every country, to some degree and in some form.

The Norse race is a race accustomed to deal with crises. The ship of state has seldom had smooth sailing on the North sea.

The Norseman has been nurtured and bred in battle. His cradle songs have been battle hymns and his national idols have been men of the sword.

For centuries his heaven was Walholl, where those who fell in battle would spend the days of eternity fighting and the nights in banqueting.

That was the Norseman's fighting forefather's ideal way of spending the everlasting hereafter.

Like their cousins, the Celts, you never had to kick them into a fight.

Country Theaters.

Omaha World-Herald: It appears that after all of the discussion concerning the monotony of farm life and how to relieve it, the proper plan has been discovered up in North Dakota. It is the country theater. It has already spread as far as the Philippines and Porto Rico and it is said that over 1,500 performances were given last year in North Dakota alone, all of them being successful. An account of one performance will give an idea of the new departure in taking the theater to the country and making life on the lonely farms in that prairie region enjoyable.

At one place a club resolved to give a minstrel show. At the first rehearsal only one young man was found who could give any sort of a performance. He could do a clog dance. At the second rehearsal a very fine tenor voice and a mandolin player were found, and at the third several other good voices were discovered. A quartet was formed and a twelve-piece band, containing many sorts of instruments, was organized. When the play was finally given twenty-eight different acts were presented. A theater critic who had heard of the performance took pains to be present expecting something very crude, but he reported that he saw "a variety of acts, some equal to a first-class professional performance." The whole neighborhood was made happy and the monotony of the long winter was dissipated.

Such plays as "Sam Average," "The Fatal Message," "Cherry Tree Farm" and others of like character have been given all over the state, sometimes in the schoolhouses, sometimes in churches—think of that—and sometimes in private houses or barns, and it is said that "they have become a distinct sociological force." Boston heard of them and the Drama league sent for Alford G. Arvold, who lives at Fargo and who was the inventor of the "country theater," to discuss the matter before that organization.

Not Particular.

Baltimore American: "I assure you, madam, my ancestors came over with the first settlers."

"Very likely. We had no immigration laws then."

A Chorus of French Prisoners

Albert J. Beveridge in the American Review of Reviews.

From some distance away there floats the music of human voices in song. There are many voices, very many voices. They are singing in harmony. You listen astounded. Can you be dreaming, you ask yourself—can this be a trick of the brain?

"Oh!" exclaims the German commander, noting your amazement. "That is the French chorus. It is exceedingly good, too. Come along and see them! I am sure they would be glad to have you."

You go to a long building, much like the barracks, but bare of any furniture within. The gray, snowy day has begun to decline, and the big room is in the gloaming. At least 200 French soldiers are arranged in a semi-circle, like a horseshoe magnet. At one point are grouped the bassos; at another the tenors; at another the baritones—each man holds in his hand a sheaf of paper, on which are written notes. All are singing.

In the center of this human tuning fork, stands a tall, slender French soldier, cap on head, his long blue military overcoat draping his figure almost to the floor. He is conducting the chorus, his baton rising, falling, curving, his figure swaing in time with the harmony.

So intent are the members of this prisoner chorus on their singing that they are not conscious that the camp commander and several officers have entered. Their soul is in their voices—yes, and in their faces, too, which, in the dim light, seem to you, in your now uplifted state, very refined, very noble.

In spirit, these uniformed, disarmed warriors are not at this moment in a prison camp at all, nor even in Germany. They are back in France, beloved, beautiful France. It is of their country they are singing now, of their homes, of their adored ones.

It is a song quarried from the very depths of their beings. They have written it themselves, there in the prison camp, in the heart of Germany; they have composed the music for it themselves, every note of it; words and music are alive, throbbing, passionate, tender, exalted. You are deeply touched, you feel as if in a holy presence. The German commander removes his cap, and stands silent and uncovered, motionless. You do the like, at the same time, unconsciously, as if moved by a common impulse.

The song of France and home and loved ones dies tremblingly away. For a moment there is silence, absolute, unbroken, profound. Then a tenor voice begins a solo. Rich, mellow, highly trained, the voice is full of fire, pathos and infinite emotion. And the accompaniment! The first impression on your now elevated senses is that a grand orchestra is hidden near at hand. But no; it is a miracle more extraordinary still. The superb tenor is accompanied by human orchestration. Those hundreds of French soldiers are humming, their mingled tones producing the effect of scores of pieces playing in harmony. Never before and never again in your life shall you hear the like of this vocal marvel.

It ceases. Silence again. Then: "Best congratulations!" It is the German commander speaking. From the background where we stood listening he has walked forward and is warmly shaking the soloist's hand, as he praises his singing. "Best congratulations!" he exclaims again, in French, and he grasps the hand of the conductor. And: "Best congratulations!" once more as, first right then left, he bows to the chorus.

"Merci, monsieur!" answers the pleased tenor. And "Merci, monsieur!" the conductor; and "Merci!" murmur the men. But all of them with dignity. The whole scene was very, very fine. No patronage on the part of the German commander, no truckling by his French charges; but mutual respect and self-respect on both sides.

Another evidence, this, of a staggering fact which has no intelligence in it; the two peoples who are shedding one another's blood most freely in this war do not dislike one another personally. On the contrary, they seem to get on very well together. You had noted this in the comments of French women in the territory occupied by the Germans, back of their western front. And here it is again in the prison camps.

Death Is an Adventure

"Why should we fear death?" said Charles Frohman of New York, aboard the Lusitania as he gave his life belt to a woman. "It is the greatest adventure that can come to one." The words were distinctive to an American gentleman facing finality. Death an adventure! And so it is when one has lived largely. Then, the full measure of earthly experience having been lived, eternal values established and the divine in us unfolding daily, it holds the yet richer promises and expectation in that continuation we hope for and of which we know so little. Change, growth, the opportunity to live more largely, and yet more beautifully. In the other event, the illusions of life all gone, its futilities weighing us down, the pitcher broken at the well, and the final weariness at hand, is death not a great and beautiful hazard? Despite its outward ugliness, a carcass at the bottom of the sea, a mangled body rotting in a deserted trench, does it not captivate the imagination? Extinction, maybe; a blotting out, that complete and dreamless peace from which there is no awakening, or yet—new life, new leaf to suit the newer day. A chance to mend the broken shard, the rebirth of old enthusiasms, illusion recreated, the larger aspiration, the fuller life. After all, what a gamble with unseen forces death is! Incidentally, how brave and how beautiful must have been, must still be, a soul which, under such circumstances, could have uttered a sentiment so exalted. To go, not like a quarry slave, but to wrap the draperies of the deep about one and lie down peacefully—isn't it fine? Isn't it the quality that belongs peculiarly to American manhood?

Verboten.

Syracuse Post-Standard: The Gorlitz Volks-Zeitung has been placed under the censorship for having published an article criticizing the torpedoing of the Lusitania.—Berlin dispatch.

The Post-Standard has repeatedly maintained that the savage warfare of Germany does not reflect the character of the German people, but that it is the studied strategy of the German military clique, to which the German people are bound because public opinion in the empire, never given fair opportunity for expression, is now completely stifled.

Some German citizens have taken exception to this proposition, feeling—we can't see why—that it is a reflection upon the kinsmen oversea.

The dispatch above quoted has its bearing upon this subject.

The Late Unlamented State Legislature

Suggestions and Comments From the State Press.

My, Such Language!

Bemidji Pioneer: One thing is sure. The non-partisan legislature has come to stay. It is a vast improvement over the political legislature. It is more economical, independent and no red-necked, pig-eyed political boss can run it.

Fond Memory Lingers.

Luverne Journal: That poor old 1915 legislature is still catching it right and left from the press of the state. Not even the Lusitania incident, nor the weather, nor baseball can seem to divert attention from it.

We May Never.

Anoka Union: The recent legislature didn't seem to care for the interests of the people. May we never look upon its like again.

The Optimistic Majority.

Olivia Times: Some of the newspapers of the state are trying to explain the action of the last legislature and some others are offering apologies for it. The most of us are trying to forget it.

Are You Ambitious?

Luverne Journal: Everybody gets from one to fifteen copies of the laws passed by the late legislature, depending on the number of newspapers good enough to send you one. If, after reading these twenty-two pages seven columns of small-typed grist, you don't find what you want, just remember that your esteemed fellow citizens choose a member of the house from your district next year. All you've got to do is to slip your county auditor a ten-spot and the first thing you know you will find yourself invited to St. Paul to sit in the marble palace. And there you can help make all the laws that you didn't find in the Law Supplements. Here's success to you, whoever you may be.

Talk That's "All Bosh."

International Falls Press: The talk about the non-partisan character of the legislature being responsible for the inefficiency of the house is all bosh. We ought not to elect men to make our state laws because they are Republicans, Democrats or Prohibitionists, but because they are men who have the best interest of their state at heart and are big enough to work and vote independently of any selfish interests.

Barking Up the Wrong Tree.

Virginia Enterprise: Critics of the late lamented Minnesota house of representatives in many instances are inclined to attribute its shortcomings to the fact that it was elected on a non-partisan basis. They go on the theory, apparently, that it would have been more efficient if it had been Republican by an overwhelming majority, as it probably would have been under the plan of legislative elections which formerly obtained. The trouble with the lower house of the state legislature was very largely the kind of men the people sent to it. Not all of them were incompetents by any means, and not all of them were out of place. However, it is apparent there were a goodly number in just those unfortunate positions. Neither was it a better or a worse house than the average, despite all that has been said. It simply left itself open to criticism a little more than the average does. Those who delight in belaboring a corpse may disport themselves at will in this matter, but they are silly and quite ridiculous when they find the trouble was because the legislature was elected on a non-partisan basis. The people must learn the lesson that you can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinlivan, the Sunshine Man.

There is not a single throb, in a single human bosom, that does not thrill at once with more than electric speed up to the mighty heart of God. You have not shed a tear or sighed a sigh that did not come back to you exalted and purified by having passed through the Eternal bosom.

We must not make too much of sympathy, or mere feeling. We do in things spiritual as we do with hothouse plants. The feeble exotic, beautiful to look at, but useless, has costly sums spent on it. The hardy oak, a nation's strength, is permitted to grow, scarcely observed, in the fence and copses. We prize feeling and praise its possessor. But feeling is only a sickly exotic in itself—a passive quality, having in it nothing moral, no temptation and no victory. A man is no more a good man for having feeling, than he is for having a delicate ear for music, or a far-seeing optic nerve. The Son of Man had feeling—He could be "touched." The tear would start from His eyes at the sight of human sorrow. But that sympathy was no exotic in His soul, beautiful to look at, too delicate for use. Feeling with Him led to this, "He went about doing good." Sympathy with Him was this, "Grace to help in time of need."—Well-Springs of Wisdom.

As Thou hast kept us through the days gone by and provided all our bodily needs, so, O Lord, may Thy constant care guard us from all harm and still give us our daily bread. To Thee is all glory and thanksgiving. Amen.

The Twilight Witch.

The twilight witch comes with her stars
And strews them through the blue;
Then breathes below the sunset bars
A breath of meadow rue;
She trails her veil across the skies
And mutters to the trees,
And in the wood, with firefly eyes
She makes the mysteries.
The twilight witch, with elf and fay,
Is coming down the slumber way,
Sleep, my dearie, sleep.

The twilight witch with crescent moon
Stoops on the wooded hill;
She answers to the owlet's tune,
And to the whippoorwill,
She leans above the reedy pool
And wakes the drowsy frog,
And with the toadstool, dim and cool,
Rims gray the old dead log.
The twilight witch comes stealing down
To take you off to slumber town;
Sleep, my dearie, sleep.

The twilight witch with windlike tread,
Has entered in the room;
She steals around your trundlebed
And whispers in the gloom.
She says: "I brought my steed along,
My fiery steed of gleams,
To bear you like a breath of song,
Into the land of dreams.
I am the witch who takes your hand
And leads you off to fairyland,
The far-off land of sleep."

SILBERSTEIN AND CIVIL SERVICE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

After a good many years of effort on the part of disinterested citizens we have a comprehensive and efficient civil service established in this city. It seems that the commissioner of public safety is opposed to civil service. He has so stated publicly on several occasions. He has also stated that he would not allow the civil service regulations to stand between him and any employe that he wishes to remove. Angry at the members of the civil service board because they would not acquiesce in the unjust removal of an efficient employe, the commissioner has announced that he will remove the secretary of the board and replace him by one of his own choosing. Whether the commissioner will be able to do this lawfully is very much to be doubted.

The commissioner does not believe in civil service. Very well, but the people of Duluth do, for they have embodied the principle in their charter, and no power can alter that charter except the people. Mr. Silberstein was not elected to alter the fundamental law of this city to suit himself, and if he attempts to do so, he will surely come to grief.

It would surely be a serious mistake for the city to abandon the principle of civil service, a principle that is applied in every up-to-date city in the country, and in all the departments of the Federal government. It would be taking a step backwards, and Duluth doesn't want to go backwards.

Another thing, the commissioner says that he is going to "insist" on the civil service commissioners actively supervising the examinations and grading the applicants. The three gentlemen composing the board are serving without compensation, they have large business interests of their own, and in justice to themselves they cannot be asked to spend days at a time watching applicants for the police force climb themselves and lift dumb-bells.

If the people of Duluth do not want civil service, let the matter be submitted to them in the form of an amendment to the charter and let us have no arbitrary actions on the part of any commissioner. Thanking you for the space, I remain, yours very truly,

W. H. GURNEE.

CITIZENS' STAFF GRATEFUL.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In remembering those who helped make the Memorial day exercises a success, the officers of the Citizens' Staff feel that The Herald should by no means be overlooked. You were certainly very generous in giving space to news items in regard to the old soldiers and the various exercises, and the Grand Army men and all who had to do with arranging the details greatly appreciated your courtesy.

Yours very truly,

T. F. UPHAM,
President Citizens' Staff.

THE JITNEY ORDINANCE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Who has asked Mr. Silberstein to make this amendment to the jitney ordinance? It can't be a friend of the jitneurs, I'm sure. Why, we thought we were all through discussing this ordinance. But someone can't let well enough alone and so must be a fussmaker instead of a peacemaker. According to this there can be an amendment passed every now and then and we won't know what will happen next.

It seems we have a great deal of trouble about this jitney ordinance. It reminds me of a cow chewing its cud. In other cities they have jitneys and are doing fine. But large concerns and money must rule in Duluth and the poor man is left out.

If this amendment passes it means loss for jitneys, wear and tear on cars and waste of oils and gasoline.

You people of Duluth must know and understand that the jitneys can and will not run when or where business is not good.

In bad weather there won't be many out, although some have been. And how is it expected? The automobile is not fitted up like a street car, and besides there are less street cars running in stormy weather.

And if they are to have certain routes. How about Fourth of July and other celebration days when most crowds go to parks and picnic places? Then only one or two will benefit and poor service will be had, whereas if they could run wherever needed on those days wouldn't that be to greater advantage?

Now the jitneurs are willing to give all the service they can. Anybody can call up the jitney headquarters and there will be an auto ready at a moment's notice. Beside the jitneurs have taken their passengers to their very doors if convenient and to accommodate.

You can't expect a jitney to climb those big hills of Duluth for only a nickel. But if you agree on a price why then I'm sure you will be accommodated.

Every wife, sister, brother, friend of the jitneys let us hear you oppose this amendment. It was bad enough before with the large bond which cost $125 for the season.

And anybody who was out Memorial day and saw children riding in the jitneys would never oppose the jitneys. I saw them and they looked so happy. Perhaps their first auto ride and only for a nickel.

And how many mothers don't like to go down town with her little ones, board a jitney and have a pleasure trip which before, perhaps, has been out of reach?

Shall always all enjoyments go to those who always have money?

Thanking the editor for this space, I am,

A JITNEUR'S WIFE.

"THE PRINCE OF PEACE."

To the Editor of The Herald:

Your paper has often spoken of the Prince of Peace. Who is or was he, and where did he establish peace?

Is there one prince of peace living now that the warring nations' governments know about? If there is, do you think the warring nations will have to come in line according to his dictation before they will be able to stop fighting?

A. O.

Hermansville, Mich., June 4.

The Prince of Peace, of course, is Jesus Christ. The other questions seem to be asked merely for the purpose of starting a religious controversy, but that if His teachings were followed, there would be no more war.—The Editor.

NO HARVEST UNLESS SEED IS PLANTED

To the Editor of The Herald:

"Since July 1, last year, the Soo has lost 6 per cent gross on the capital of $29,000,000, and the chief loss is in passenger traffic," says Mr. Pennington, president of the Soo.

I am indeed sorry for the railroads, of which the Soo is a fair example. The railroads are like the farmer, that harsaved his seeding wheat and when harvest time came, there was no harvest. In the two last years the railroad laid off more than 60 per cent of their wage earners. The purchasing power of these workers shrunk at least 80 per cent, which affected the other business men and they also had to lay off more wage workers and hence more home markets were closed and big business thought swollen brains alone would maintain the profit and saving the wage (the seed for more business) would be all savings, and I presume it was, because Mr. Pennington was quoted as saying, a few days ago, that "there was too much money in the banks."

Mr. Pennington should thank his stars that his road has lost so small a sum from its own folly. A groceryman, and not a very big one either, told me the other day, "that his last winter's loss would be between $3,000 and $4,000, and inasmuch as wages have now been cut far below living and many men are yet out of work, there is no show of ever recovering any of it." It is, I think, rather ungrateful for big business to speak of a 6-per cent loss in a self-inflicted panic. Thousands of small business men and wage earners have lost 100 per cent, yes even gone in debt to an unredeemable extent, and many are they that are looking for their breakfast on the "dump."

The railroads should not get an increase in freight rates when they are losing money in passenger rates. They should put their men back to work and restore the market and do business as before. Let business men never forget when the cow gets hay she may give milk, or that it is the wage dollar that promotes business and not the dollar of profit.

May God forbid that the farmer should ever go as insane as big business did and save his seed and expect a crop.

PRAISES WORK OF POLICE DEPARTMENT

To the Editor of The Herald:

It is pleasing to note the number of chauffeurs who are being arrested and haled into court for not having rear lights on their automobiles or jitney buses or for passing street cars when the latter are taking on or discharging passengers, and also for speeding. The police department will continue this good work until this class of people will all obey the law. Human life and limb are too precious to be either muffed out or mangled by the criminal carelessness of a crazy or incompetent chauffeur. Another class of law breakers of the moral debasing order have had a heavy blighting frost thrown on their hopes. These were persons intending to run disorderly houses in our fair city. Many of them took it for granted that when ex-Commissioner Hicken was no longer at the head of Duluth's safety department, things would relax, and the city would gradually return to a wide open policy, but their hopes have been blasted by the arrest of some of their kind, and with a warning from Chief McKercher that all disorderly houses will be weeded out and the offenders brought to the bar of justice, and that he will see to it that the laws are strictly enforced. Yours truly,

CITIZEN.

Duluth, June 7.

RUDE RECEPTION.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I attended the concert given by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra on Friday evening, and I believe that a majority of those present will agree with me when I say that the performers were accorded very rude treatment by a certain portion of the audience. The exquisite beauties of the first two movements of the symphony were marred by the people who came in late. Impolite as was this action at the beginning of the concert, it could not compare with the rudeness exhibited by the people who left the hall while Mr. Lindquest was singing his encore, and during the wonderful rendition of the overture to "Tannhauser."

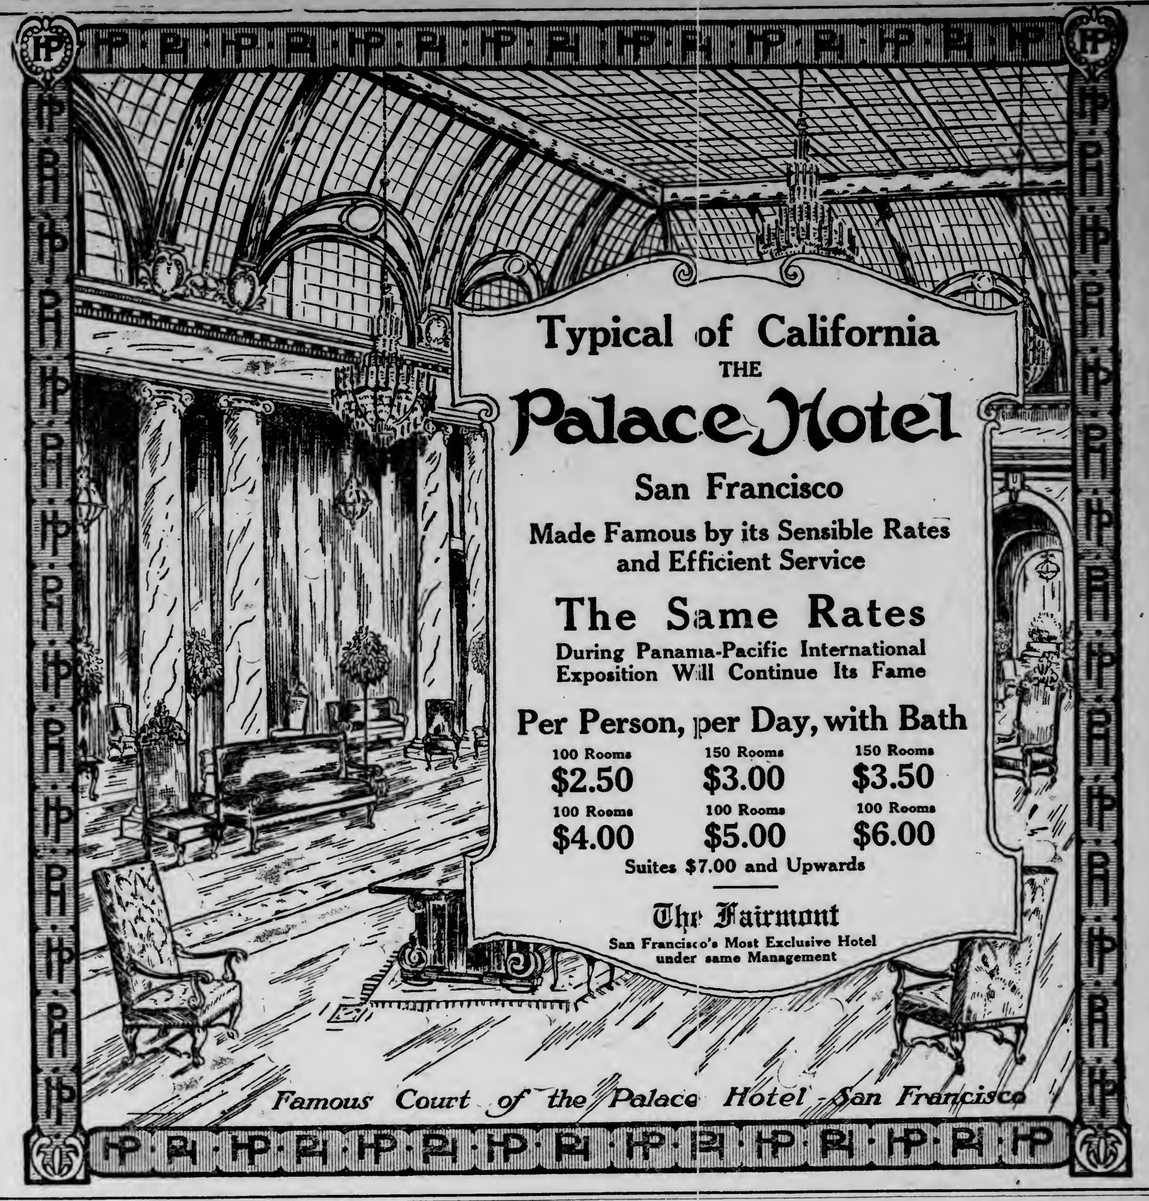

Duluth is indeed in a very early stage of musical development, when an organization like the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra receives such shocking treatment at the hands of one of its audiences.

Arises to Height of 20,000 Feet.

London, June 7.—Harry G. Hawker, the English aviator, flying on 80-horse power biplane at the army aviation grounds at Hendon yesterday, beat the British altitude record by attaining a height of 20,000 feet. The previous record was 14,500 feet. The flight occupied ninety minutes. Hawker was out of sight of the spectators for nearly an hour.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person sending it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

Mrs. C. A. M., Duluth—Will you please give me a recipe for devil's food?—Mrs. Rohrer gives the following: Half cup of butter one and a half cups of sugar, three cups pastry flour, four level teaspoonfuls baking powder, one cup milk, four squares chocolate, four eggs. Put the milk and chocolate into a double boiler and cook until smooth. Stand aside to cool. Beat the butter to a cream, add sugar and the yolks of eggs and beat until very light. Sift the flour and the baking powder together and add it alternately in small quantities with the chocolate mixture, then beat thoroughly for five minutes. Stir in carefully the well-beaten whites of the eggs. Bake in three layers in a moderate oven. When cold, put the layers together with cream filling to which has been added one cupful of chopped nuts. This is called also "brownstone front."

M. M., Baraga, Mich.—Will you kindly give me material on "The Life of Governor Goethals." It is to be used for an essay.—George Washington Goethals was born in Brooklyn, June 29, 1858. He was graduated at the College of the City of New York and West Point academy. He was appointed second lieutenant of engineers June 12, 1880. He had a long career in the engineering department of the government and was chief of engineers during the Spanish-American war. On Feb. 26, 1907, he was made chief engineer at the Panama canal and on April 1, 1914, the first civil governor of the canal zone.

W. E. Baker, Duluth—To settle an argument will you publish the count of a cribbage hand containing three fours and one seven?—You do not say what the turned card was. Assuming that it was worthless, the count would be fifteen-six and six, making twelve in all.

The Amateur Homecrofter

An Old-Fashioned Garden.

An old-fashioned garden is the real aristocrat among gardens—the goal often sought but seldom fully attained.

The owner of an old-fashioned garden is either a simple, old-fashioned woman under whose magic fingers everything that is planted grows, and who would have no other kind of garden, or one of the elect—a being of discriminating taste. The smug, carefully cropped lawns of the rich, the hotbeds, the perfectly planned, immaculately-trimmed beds all shout their newness and commonplaceness beside the old-fashioned garden.

For those who are now convinced that to become one of the elect it is necessary to have an old-fashioned garden, some simple instructions may now be given.

It's rather good form to decide on "native shrubs" for a background. Every good garden should have a background, and native shrubs are rather nifty in backgrounds. Native shrubs include anything you dig up at the side of the road.

The first requirement of a native shrub background is a neighbor and a friend—the terms may not be synonymous—who possesses an automobile. Broach the subject of picnics to him. Hint delicately that your chief desire for an automobile lies in the fact that it would permit you to take your friends on long jaunts into the country on Sundays and holidays. If that works, borrow a spade and a crowbar and a gunny sack from another neighbor—never work the same neighbor for both the auto and the other equipment—and when he honks at the door, nonchalantly throw in the hardware. On reaching a lonely country road suggest luncheon. While the wives are preparing the spread, tell your neighbor that you are making a garden and want to get some native shrubs. Pick out a healthy young evergreen tree and give him the spade, while you direct him how to avoid cutting the roots. When the evergreen reposes in the gunny sack in the tonneau of the car, select a sumac bush. You can tell them by the big reddish brown wart like swellings on them. Dig a few of these, or let your neighbor dig if he is a willing worker. By this time lunch should be ready. Eat.

After lunch, select some more shrubbery. If you happen to have stopped near a country estate of a city farmer, you might do pretty well. They sometimes have very good taste in hedges.

When the tonneau of the car is full, or your friend exhausted, urge an immediate return home, in order that you may be able to plant the native shrubs before nightfall.

There's your background, with perhaps some lilac bushes.

When, or if, you return the spade, see if your neighbor is transplanting things. Don't let him throw away any young shoots, or tender plants that have a good start.

With the background in, the rest is easy. By all means try some hollyhocks. Everybody tries them in Duluth, and nobody raises them. Hollyhocks take two years. Anybody can raise them from seeds the first year. Duluth, from the acre-and-liberty settlements to the steel plant, is strewn with dead yearling hollyhocks. They never bloom until the second year, and none ever live more than one year. But try them. There's nothing like learning by experience, and they're worth it if you win.

Geraniums, of course, should go in an old-fashioned garden, and sweet peas, and nasturtiums, and morning glories, and bachelor's buttons, and some old-fashioned roses. But nearly everyone remembers what an old-fashioned garden looks like. With the native shrub background, it should be easy, but if any experimenter gets a real, live hollyhock to bloom, he is requested to notify The Herald.—J. E. R.

SAYS HUSBAND MAY HAVE A DIVORCE

Mrs. Alma Fails to Prove She Has Not Negro Blood.

Detroit, Mich., June 7.—"Arthur can have his divorce as soon as he likes," Mrs. Alma Boone Little sighed wearily.

With light hair, gray eyes and pink complexion, Mrs. Little has sought vainly to prove she has no negro blood. The case has excited race animosities and attracted the attention of the whole country.

Mrs. Little married Arthur Little, a druggist here, son of Dr. John S. Little, early in 1914. He sued for divorce last January, declaring that his wife is an octoroon. He has affidavits from Mrs. F. Jefferson, formerly Mrs. Wade, a quadroon, and matron in a railroad station in Cincinnati, and from members of her family, that Mrs. Little is Mrs. Wade's daughter and that her father was Thaddeus Wade, a full-blooded negro.

MRS. ALMA LITTLE.

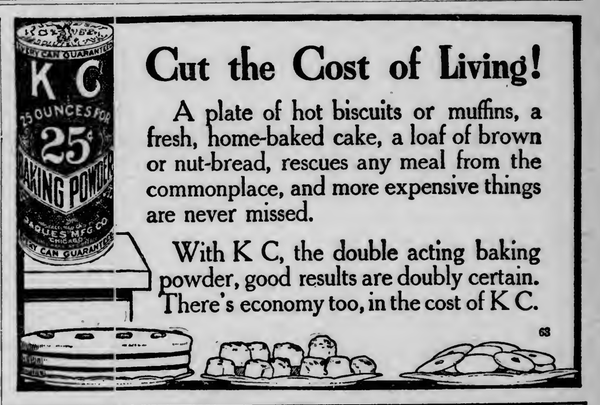

Mrs. Little vows her parents were of pure white blood, Mississippians, and descendants of Daniel Boone. Dying when she was very young, they left a considerable sum of money to the then Mrs. Wade, enjoining her to care for their small daughter. Mrs. Wade is only her foster-mother, Mrs. Little avers. She says frankly she did not tell her husband of her early environment, lest he get the idea she bore some relationship to her foster-mother.

Mrs. Little in her many futile efforts to prove that negro blood does not taint her has consulted several scientists, one, Dr. Victor C. Vaughan, dean of the medical department of the University of Michigan. Prof. Vaughan told Mrs. Little that to all outward appearances she is white, but that he could not make an affidavit to such a statement.

LYNCH CHAIRMAN OF FINANCE COMMITTEE

Washington, June 7.—Frederick B. Lynch of Minnesota was elected chairman of the finance committee of the national Democratic committee at a meeting held here Saturday, at which the full membership was present. He will succeed A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania, who has been appointed to the United States court of claims and tendered his resignation. Mr. Lynch was designated by Chairman W. F. McCombs of the national committee, and his selection ratified by the other committeemen.

Members of the committee said the meeting had no political significance.

Graduates of Duluth Normal School Hear Baccalaureate Sermon By Rev. T. W. MacLean---Class Day Wednesday

GRADUATING CLASS OF DULUTH NORMAL SCHOOL.

Rev. Thomas W. MacLean, vicar of Trinity cathedral, who preached on "The Ethics of Education" to the members of the senior class of the normal auditorium, took for his text "Wisdom is justified of her children." He spoke of wisdom as the union of a practical life and knowledge and characterized common sense, with the addition of ideals, as the best equipment for life. Dr. MacLean urged the members of the class to cultivate broad-mindedness which, he said, means not being bound up in one's own work but taking an interest in the big things of life.

Making a plea for pure minds in pure bodies, Dr. MacLean quoted the passage from "Sir Galahad"—"My strength is as the strength of ten because by heart is pure."

The musical numbers yesterday afternoon were the hymn, "Lead Us, O Father," by Mason; the anthem, "The Heavens Shout," by Beethoven, and the chorus, "I Will Sing of Mercy," by Novello.

Class day exercises will be held Wednesday morning, the alumnae will give its annual banquet Wednesday night and diplomas will be conferred Thursday morning on the following:

DEADLOCK ENDS IN A DISMISSAL

After spending twenty-two hours trying to reach an agreement, the jury in the case of the state against Alice Wright, a negress charged with assault, was discharged by Judge Ensign Saturday afternoon. The court directed that a mistrial of the case be entered on the records.

The woman was jointly indicted with Hattie Jenkins, also colored, on a charge of first degree assault. It is claimed that the two women attempted to rob one Sam Dahl of $5. While Dahl was attempting to recover his money from the pair he was badly slashed about the hands, arms and face. The alleged assault took place April 20.

The two women demanded separate trials. The jury in the Wright case went out at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. After reporting to the court that they were hopelessly divided, Judge Ensign discharged them at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

This morning another jury was impaneled to try the Jenkins woman. Dahl took the witness stand again this morning and again told the same story. Dahl's appearance in court this morning marked the fourth occasion he has testified as a complaining witness in a criminal prosecution at this term of court. He appeared as a witness at the trials of John Mack and Andrew Niemiecka, who were convicted of burglarizing his room at the Grace hotel.

VIRGINIA ROBBERY SUSPECTS ARRESTED

Virginia, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Four young men were arrested on the charge of holding up Charles Maki late Saturday night and relieving him of $12 and a gold watch. The accused are Tony and Joe Matchevitch, Joe Gilleskie and Orin Rogers. The watch was recovered. Joe Matchevitch and Joe Gillespie are being held, the other two having been released, and will have a hearing before Judge Carey tomorrow. It is reported the boys had all been drinking and held up the accused largely in a spirit of fun, but the police will push the charge.

ORDINANCE TO CENSOR FILMS

Safety Head Receives Copy of Measure Approved By Women.

Rev. Herbert Ford, pastor of the West Duluth Baptist church, this morning presented to Commissioner Silberstein a copy of the proposed amendment to the theater ordinance, providing for the appointment of an advisory committee to censor all motion pictures shown in Duluth. This ordinance was approved by the Woman's council last Friday morning.

Commissioner Silberstein said he will examine the new ordinance and also take it up with the other commissioners before presenting it to the council.

Urges Advisory Committee.

The amendment authorizes the appointment of an advisory committee to have the power to enter all motion picture theaters in the city and censor any objectionable scenes. There will be four members on the committee to be appointed by the safety commissioner, the school board, the Woman's council and the juvenile court.

The proposed amendment follows:

"By inserting a new section, numbered 7, as follows: Section 7: For the purpose of enforcing this ordinance and preventing the exhibition of any plays, exhibitions or performances of an obscene, indecent or immoral nature, an advisory committee is hereby authorized whose duty it shall be to inspect all moving pictures being displayed or exhibited for exhibition prior to their being displayed and all plays, performances, shows and exhibitions being given, or performed. It shall be the duty of said advisory committee to prosecute or cause to be prosecuted, by proper legal proceedings, all persons, firms, associations or corporations who violate any of the provisions of this ordinance. Said advisory committee and the members thereof shall have the right to freely enter any place or building wherein moving pictures are displayed or entertainments given, at any or all times, for the purpose of inspecting any picture that may be exhibited, or in the performance of any duty required to be performed by this ordinance. Said advisory committee shall be appointed respectively by the commissioner of public safety, school board, Woman's council and juvenile court."

CHANCE WORDS LEAD TO GAMBLING RAID

"I'll call you," said Theophilus Brown, age 34, "and I've only got two small pair."

Before he could satisfy his curiosity regarding the hand held by his opponent, Chief R. D. McKercher, with Sergeant John Roberg, stepped into the room and the poker game ended abruptly.

Theophilus, with Warren Rice, age 39, and Charles W. Jones, age 36, forfeited $10 bail in municipal court this morning for gambling, while George Stewart, age 40, was allowed to keep his money because he had not participated in the friendly game.

Chance words of two negroes who were arrested earlier in the day for drunkenness "tipped off" the game and led to the raid. Two dollars and twenty cents in "evidence" contradicted the negroes' story of a friendly game. The men were in a room at 22 West First street.

FAILS TO REGAIN CONSCIOUSNESS

Found in convulsions at the foot of some stairs ending at the sidewalk in front of a dwelling at 203 Pittsburgh avenue, Louis Krawn, age 32, died at St. Luke's hospital a few hours later.

The man did not recover consciousness sufficiently to give his name, or address, and police so far have been unable to establish his identity definitely. The name Louis Krawn is believed to be correct, and police say that he was a painter by trade.

Coroner C. F. McComb took charge of the body this morning and will hold an autopsy this afternoon in an attempt to determine the cause of his death.

It was thought at first that Krawn had fallen down stairs and injured himself, but Police Surgeon Klein was unable to find any marks after the man had been rushed to the hospital in the police emergency.

DULUTHIANS WILL ATTEND N. M. D. A.

It is expected that there will be a large attendance of Duluthians at the conference on development at Coleraine, Thursday and Friday of this week, of the Northern Minnesota Development association. Plans are now being made for many to go from here.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

LODGEMEN AT GRAND FORKS

Scottish Rite Bodies Are Meeting in North Dakota City.

New Temple to Be Dedicated and Shriners to Have Parade.

Grand Forks, N. D., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Grand Forks this week is the mecca of North Dakota Masons. Many are also coming from Minnesota and other points for the dedication of the new Masonic temple and other events. Ceremonial sessions of Jared consistory began today and will close Thursday evening with a big banquet. It is expected over 400 candidates will be in the class. About 200 candidates commenced the work today—the others joining the class tomorrow and the day following. Thursday evening the banquet will conclude the work.

Friday will see the first ceremonial session of Kem temple of Shriners and about 500 candidates will be initiated. For this feature about 2,500 to 3,000 Shriners are expected in the city. A big parade will be one of the features, headed by Col. Bill Cody, Buffalo Bill, who is a Shriner.

Seven Patrols in Line.

There will be seven patrols and bands in the parade and a series of novel stunts have been arranged for by the committee in charge.

From Friday until next Monday there will be a lull in the Masonic proceedings. On that date, however, the delegates for the Grand Lodge of Masons, the Grand Chapter of Masons and the Grand Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, will begin arriving in the city. Tuesday the sessions of these several bodies will open, and the dedication of the Masonic building will take place June 15, officers of the grand lodge being in charge.

CHAUTAUQUA AND SUMMER SCHOOL

Combination That Will Interest Teachers Studying at Crookston.

Crookston, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—A feature of special interest to teachers in attendance at the summer training school will be the chautauqua which will present a week's program here June 28-July 4.

There will be an exceptionally strong list of lectures musical and literary attractions and other numbers of merit. Some of the speakers this year will be Judge Schonover, Senator J. K. Vardmann, N. Poon Chew, the Chinese statesman and editor, Victor Murdock and James E. Watson, both men of national reputation, and Lou J. Beauchamp, the humorous philosopher. Arthur Kachel, the celebrated monologist, will render the "Melting Pot," and the famous Cambridge Players will present scenes from Shakespeare and Barrie. Some of the musical features are Kryl's Great band, Schildret's orchestra, the Old Home singer, the Orpheum Musical club and the University Girls.

The Red River Valley sangerfest will also be held here June 23 and 24. Several soloists of national reputation will appear at this meeting.

Located Near Crookston.

The school is located at the Northwest Experiment farm, only about a thirty-minute walk from Crookston, having all the advantages of the quiet and fresh air country, and yet is close enough to town to furnish all the benefits of that city. With daily bus and train service providing convenient transportation facilities, no more suitable place could have been selected for such a school.

Seven large brick buildings together with numerous other station buildings grouped conveniently on a beautiful campus, afford a comfortable school home. Senior hall, a commodious new dormitory, and the two former dormitories afford accommodations for 250 students. Good wholesome board and pleasant rooms are provided at a very reasonable cost.

RAISING OF SHEEP BENEFITS FARMERS

Crookston Experiment Farm Expert Tells What Animals Will Do.

Crookston, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prof. William Dietrich of the Crookston Experiment farm, says that the value of sheep on the farm for Northern Minnesota is not given due consideration, as sheep are, undoubtedly, among the most profitable animals for the farm, having a dual purpose, in a sense, as they produce wool, also lambs.

One of the handicaps of the Red River valley grain growing is the many kinds of noxious weeds. Since sheep like variety in their rations in the form of weeds they help very materially in clearing a farm of this pest.

Economical to Handle.

Sheep are very economical with respect to shelter, labor and water consumption. Being well supplied with a covering of wool the shelter need be only for dryness and protection from wind. Being ruminants they live very largely upon roughages as hay. With the form of manure coming from sheep it is necessary to clean out the sheep barn only once per year. The amount of bedding required, also, is very small. Sheep drink only small quantities of water and this reduces the labor in caring for them still further.

Taking these points into consideration and others that could be mentioned such as freedom from diseases and parasites, there is no form of livestock better adapted to the Red River valley farm than sheep.

KNIGHTS TEMPLARS IN COPPER COUNTRY

1,600 Members of Michigan Higher Masonic Order Meeting in Conclave.

Houghton, Mich., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—About 1,600 Knights Templars of Michigan will arrive here today, over 1,000 by the steamers North and South American from Lake Michigan, Lake Huron and Detroit river points this afternoon to attend the annual conclave for the grand commandery of Michigan at Houghton and Calumet.

The reception and grand ball will be held tonight at the Coliseum skating rink, Calumet, special trains and interurban cars taking visitors to that point from Houghton. The first business sessions of the conclave will be held here Tuesday morning and the grand parade and competitive drills will be held at Calumet Wednesday.

BELTRAMI COUNTY GETTING IN TAXES

Bemidji, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Last week was a busy one in the county treasurer's office receiving tax money. The largest check received was that of the Crookston Lumber company for $38,068.09; C. F. Ruggles sent in the next-largest check for $5,363.54. Other large taxpayers in their order are: The Shevlin company, Minneapolis, $3,334.46; Gopher Real Estate company, Duluth, $2,472.46; Northern Minnesota Dairy & Farm Land company, $1,610; Pine Tree Manufacturing company, Little Falls, $735.70; Towns & Son, Des Moines, Iowa, $707.12; J. J. Opsahl, $600; Johnston Land company, Duluth, $451.91.

CONFISCATED SAFE IS CLOSELY WATCHED

Bemidji, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The safe which was taken from the J. E. Maloy soft drink place Thursday evening by Indian Agents Brandt and Thomason, who suspected that it contained liquor and which is now in the hands of County Coroner Garfield Akerberg, under replevin papers, has been securely wrapped with chains and locked by the Indian agents, so that it cannot be tampered with. The safe has been removed from the county jail to the store of Akerberg, Kittleson & Co., the business place of the coroner, and is being guarded.

FARGO FIRE ANNIVERSARY

City Nearly Wiped Out By Flames Twenty-Two Years Ago.

Fargo, N. D., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Twenty-two years ago today the city had its great fire, during which buildings were burned on forty-two different blocks, including the leading business district. The financial loss aggregated $3,000,000, but instead of being regarded as a calamity it was thought to be rather beneficial as the growth and development of the new Fargo really began from that date. A movement is on foot to have an appropriate celebration on June 7, 1918, which will mark the quarter centennial of the big conflagration.

NORTH DAKOTA A. C. COMMENCEMENT ON

Fargo, N. D., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—This was senior day at the North Dakota Agricultural college and the annual exercises incident to the graduating class were held. This evening will see the president's reception, the exposition, which is a new feature, and the annual senior class ball. The commencement exercises proper will be held tomorrow when Rev. Dr. Ernest Wray Oneal of Chicago will be the leading speaker.

FARGO HOTEL CLERK RESISTS LONE ROBBER

Fargo, N. D., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—While alone in the office of the Fargo house at an early hour in the morning, Charles Moen, the night clerk, was faced by two strangers who demanded the cash in the desk drawer. He resisted and was struck in the jaw, but put up a fight and his assailants became alarmed and fled. Later the police arrested W. E. Buckley, who was identified by Moen as one of the men who attacked him.

EXILED FROM CANADA, ACCUSED OF STEALING

Kenmare, N. D., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Coming here last fall with a story he had been driven out of Canada because of his name and nationality on account of the sentiment against Germans, S. H. Schultz has just been arrested on a charge of stealing seven head of cattle in Burke county, and was held for trial.

MILL CITY AUTO THIEVES SENTENCED

Minneapolis, Minn., June 7.—"The time of the automobile thief's reckoning has come," announced Judge C. L. Smith in municipal court, when he sentenced to the workhouse for thirty days each, without the alternative of a fine, the following young men:

Arthur Finsen, Walter Larsen, Carl Ramin, William Lundeman.

None of the boys is more than 20 years old.

NORTH DAKOTA CHILD DROWNS AT HILLSBORO

Hillsboro, N. D., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Evelyn Pedersen, 8 years old, and other small companions, were fishing in the river near the railroad dam. The little girl fell into the water and was drowned as none of her companions were large enough to rescue her.

APPORTION DITCH COST.

Auditors of Three Counties Meet and Fix Respective Charges.

Crookston, Minn., June 7.—County Auditors George Dupont of Red Lake county, T. P. Anderson of Pennington and Henry Weite of Polk met here and figured the proportionate rate each county will pay for the construction of judicial ditch No. 60 which is now being constructed under the direction of D. A. Foley & Co. of Aitkin. They decided that the following rate or per cent will be followed.

Red Lake, 35.366 per cent; Pennington, 1.288 per cent; Polk, 63.346 per cent.

The ditch begins in the southern part of Pennington county, drains several townships in Red Lake county, enters Polk county and drains the townships of Belgium, Parnell and Crookston, entering the Red Lake river between Crookston and the Gentilly bridge. The Foley company have two large dredges constructing the ditch and expect to have every detail complete by early fall.

RED LAKE COUNTY TREASURER SUMMONED

Red Lake Falls, Minn., June 7.—The body of County Treasurer G. G. Kindseth of Red Lake county who died suddenly at his home here Friday was taken to Lakewood cemetery, Minneapolis, for burial.

Mr. Kindseth was about 50 years of age, and for over twelve years was head bookkeeper for the Red Lake Falls Milling company. Four years ago he was elected county treasurer of Red Lake county, which office he has since held.

He was much respected and esteemed by a large circle of friends.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Carrington, N. D.—Floyd Dierdorff of McHenry was presented with a pennant for perfect school attendance during the last eight years. The boy has just graduated from the eighth grade, and during his eight years' attendance, he never has been tardy nor absent a single day. That he has set a state record is the belief of educators.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Threatened injunctional proceedings against the board of education in its proposal to construct a new high school are being considered by the board.

The Grey Construction company of Watertown, S. D., has requested the board to indemnify it against any loss in the shipment of materials, etc., to the city in the event the injunctional proceedings are maintained.

Minot, N. D.—C. J. Brennan who resigned as a member of the school board of St. Mary's district, pending charges against him and W. E. Nicodemus of improper use of the school funds, was re-elected to his old position at the election last week by a majority of one vote.

Rheumatism? Here Are Some Real Facts

How to Overcome the Torture Without Harmful Drugs.

A legion of people have used S. S. S. and have overcome the worst forms of rheumatism.

This disease of the blood is little understood because of its strange symptoms, scarcely two people having it exactly alike. And yet, no matter what its form or how painful and distressing, S. S. S. seems to have almost a divine influence in driving it out, releasing the nerves from pain and clearing the joints and muscles so they work without restraint. The best explanation for this happy result is the fact that in S. S. S. are certain ingredients which act as an antidote. They are nature's providence to man.

Just as the meats, fats, salts and sugars of our daily food provide us with nourishment, so does S. S. S. give to the blood the exact medicinal requirement to clear the stream, drive out impurities and reconstruct the body if destructive germs have gained a foothold. Go to any drug store today and get a bottle of S. S. S. It will do you good. But be sure to refuse any and all substitutes. And if yours is a stubborn case, write to the Medical Adviser, The Swift Specific Co., 109 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. This department is presided over by a physician proud of his name by virtue of his distinguished family and a foremost doctor on his own merits.

DULUTH AND VIRGINIA SPLIT DOUBLE-HEADER

Dooks Take First Game By the Score of 1 to 0 and Lose Second By Count of 5 to 4; Cadreau Pitches for Ore Diggers; Collins Features Play.

Duluth and Virginia split the double-header of yesterday, the Dooks winning the first game by the score of 1 to 0 and losing the final game by the count of 5 to 4. Jackson held the visitors to two hits in the initial contest, Duluth gathering six hits off the twirling of Cadreau. Quarders and Wright mounded for Virginia and Boley for the Dooks in the closing half of the bill.

Collins scored the solitary run in the first half of the program in the eighth round. James was nearly the whole show in this game. He saved a run in the first round by a one-handed running catch. In the fourth Collins hit and stole and was thrown out at the plate on a hair-line decision. In the eighth James single, pilfered the second sack cleanly and counted the winning run of the game when Truman busted one into left.

Eddie Jackson twirled a lovely game and was accorded high-tone support. A bubble upon the part of Darby O'Brien was the only slip committed by Edward's mates.

Quarders Falls Down.

Quarders is the young pitcher that went to the Chicago White Sox from the wilds of Ashland. Believe us, that is some feat, going from Ashland to the White Sox. Later Quarders was shipped to Chattanooga, and now he is in the Northern league, and how! This young man started knolling for Virginia yesterday, but was called to the dog house in the sixth round. Bob Wright went to the hill and flung nice ball.

In the first round the locals mixed Quarders up on several bunts and shunted a run over the pan. In the hostile fifth Quarders started the going by singling. Boley mussed up the little ground offering of McCabe. After a sacrifice Manager Sundheim busted the ball over the fence and three runs were in.

One Over the Fence.

In the home half of the same round Wolfe hit one over the left field fence, Sweeley doubled and scored on Bud Croake's single. Collins was walked in the sixth, was sacrified to second, swiped third and came romping home when Darby singled.

Wolfe made a boot on the offering of Kernan in the ninth. An infield out advanced the runner to second from where he scored on Wright's single. The winning run came in the eleventh round, when Agnew hit one over the fence.

Chief Cadreau twirled better baseball for Virginia yesterday than he did for Duluth at any time during his short stay. The adage regarding the change of pasturage perhaps hits the chief in the right temple.

Last evening the Dooks left for Fort William to open a four-game series.

DUMONT HURLS GREAT BALL AGAINST CHEFS

Fargo, N. D., June 7.—Dumont held St. Boniface to one hit yesterday and the locals defeated the Chefs by the count of 1 to 0. Not only did Dumont hurl sensational baseball, but in the eighth round he contributed the single that sent the winning run over the pan. Dries' fielding was one of the features of the game, he accepting thirteen out of fourteen chances at third base. The score: R. H. E.

Bill Fails to Demonstrate.

Detroit, Mich., June 7.—"Wild Bill" Donovan, for years the idol of Detroit fans, tried yesterday to show his New York club the way to victory against the Tigers. He failed 6 to 4. Cheered by thousands of old-time friends, the Yankees' manager opposed Cavet for seven innings, during which the contest was a slugging match. Six of New York's hits were made off Cavet in the first two innings. Score: R. H. E.

TRAVIS WINS TITLE FOR FOURTH TIME

Rye, N. Y., June 9.—For the fourth time in his long golfing career, Walter J. Travis, the Garden City veteran, won the championship title of the Metropolitan Golf association on the Apawamis club links Saturday. In the 36-hole match, which decided this year's honor, Travis defeated John G. Anderson, a Boston man, by two up, after playing twice over the full course and holing out a 30-foot putt on the home green for a three. It was a brilliant finish to a well-contested match, the first half of which found the men on even terms.

Both played rather ragged golf during the morning round, neither displaying their finishing game. In the second round, however, they showed marked improvement and while Anderson had a bit of hard luck at times, he played a wonderful uphill game on the homeward journey, after he had been three down at the tenth green. He squared the match on the fifteenth but was unable to hold the pace.

WORK FARM WINS GAME.

Courthouse Nine Loses Contest By Score of 4 to 17.

A picked nine from Fred Ward's colony of misdemeanants on the Swan Lake road entertained a delegation from the courthouse Saturday afternoon with an exhibition of the great national outdoor game. As a matter of fact, the courthouse men were also playing, but the work farm crew easily took them into camp. The contest went seven innings, resulting in a score of 17 to 4 in favor of the farmers.

After Ball Pool Men.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 7.—Edwin Merriken, local representative of a Wilkesbarre, (Pa.), organization, alleged to be circulating baseball pools, was arrested here yesterday, charged with operating a gambling device. Merriken is the fourth man to be taken into custody here since the police crusade against baseball pools was started last Friday. He was released on bond.

BAD YEAR FOR NORTHERN; BASEBALL GENERALLY BAD

This Looks Like an Off Year for the Great National Pastime—Leagues Over the Country Are Suffering From Lack of Attendance—Commercializing of Baseball Has Dulled the Keen Interest of Many of Its Followers.

BY BRUCE.

During the present baseball season of the Northern league a jinx has persistently dogged the footsteps of the Burmeister organization. Adverse weather conditions have contributed to a grievous concoction of general adversity that has threatened the very life of the circuit. It's an off year in baseball, sure enough, and, like other leagues, the Northern is getting its share of misfortune.

While it is doubtful if more than one or two of the league magnates will admit it, the fact remains serene and unblinking that the mess attendant on the Pulford scandal hurt the league. The present season opened with a stretch of wretched weather, with an awful team representing Winnipeg and with conditions the country over little calculated to boost the game. Sum all this up and then add the European war and you have some of the reasons why the game is not drawing.

A. L. Steece is authority for the statement that his team drew $16 at the Winnipeg gate. Mr. Steece had figured on taking $2,500 out of Winnipeg this season. Here it is the first week in June and Mr. Steece declares he is eager to transfer the games of his team to some other town.

The attendance at Duluth has been the worst in years. This cannot be accounted for by the poor showing of the team. There is something deeper and more significant. It is something that sharp students of baseball are eagerly endeavoring to search out—for the national existence of baseball is in a rather shaky condition, if the truth were known.

The Commercial Tinge.

Back in the days of less than a decade ago fans heard little of the money side of baseball. Dollars and cents were kept in their place and never crowded the sport interest from the mind of the followers of the greatest of all sports. And then came trooping to the front the money-mad magnates and quickly in their wake came the money-mad players. Blooie, blooie! There goes your old game!

It has been the habit for theatrical magnates to exploit the salaries of famous stars. In baseball the practice was never followed until the last few years. The public never bothered its head over how much a man was making in baseball. It eagerly scrutinized his batting average first of all, then followed down the average line to the last item of his playing ability.

Money being the first consideration of the modern baseball magnate, it is to be presumed that he imagined in a weak and baleful moment that the public too was wildly interested in the amount the famous players were receiving. At first the public was somewhat interested. We are all more or less curious. But there was a surfelt of financial figures; the wild and frenzied 'gloating over big salaries swept baseball gossip from the sporting pages and swiftly turned a great sporting pastime into a sordid commercial proposition.

Philadelphia has made it possible for the Chicago Americans to win a pennant perhaps—and why? Purely business. As a business proposition the greatest team in the world did not prove a profitable venture in Philadelphia—and lo and behold, it was decided to place a winning team where it would pay.

You can't blame the Philadelphia magnates perhaps—but the whole sum and substance of this financial part of the game has served to lessen the interest of the fan and hurt the game.

You might ask what all this has to do with the Northern league. The real fan is a person who reads widely of baseball. What affects a fan in Philadelphia because of the general conditions surrounding the game is exceedingly liable to affect the fan in Duluth. You can figure it out yourself. Every league throughout the length and breadth of the country is feeling the effects of that subtle something that has changed the public attitude, for the time being at least, toward the game.

Bad weather and other purely local causes have played their part in hurting the gate in the Northern, but if you casually ask a large number of persons who ordinarily follow the game over the country with keen interest, you will find that the edge of the keenness has been worn away, that there is less enthusiasm in the game in general.

Why? That's the great question. Amateur sports, some say. The commercializing of the game, shout others. Golf and automobiles, suggest others. All things have their zenith, is the theory of other followers of the game, who declare that professional baseball in the United States reached its crest of popularity a few years back, and has been slowly receding in interest.

Whatever is the cause, and no one seems just able to place a definite

COBB SURPASSING PREVIOUS RECORDS

TY COBB.

In all previous seasons Ty Cobb led all of the other players of the American league. This year he is accomplishing something infinitely more difficult—he is leading his own greatest previous record. This is proving a great season for the Georgia Peach. Cobb is leading the American league in batting, stolen bases and scoring runs. Some record. Not only that, but he is pulling feats that are daily winning games for the Detroit Tigers.

LEAGUE RACES TIGHTENING UP

National, American and Federal Groups in Close Contest.

Cobb Doing Most Brilliant Individual Work of Any.

New York, June 7.—Tightening up of the races in both the major leagues featured last week's play. Both the Chicago teams, which occupy the premier positions, made rather poor work of it and each is threatened by a rival for the lead. Philadelphia being close behind the Cubs, with Brooklyn chasing the latter, while the White Sox are hanging on to the top by a margin of a few points over Detroit.

While the Boston Red Sox, awakening from their long lethargy, played the most consistent ball of any club in either league during the week, the attention of the fans in the American league circuit, was largely centered upon the spectacular work of the Detroits and especially upon that of its scintillating star Tyrus Cobb. Witnesses of the recent exhibition given by the Georgia wonder declare he is playing the game of his career. Not only is Tyrus leading the league in batting, in stolen bases and in runs scored, but game after game he is doing something that pulls his club out winner, frequently against odds.

Tenacious White Sox.

The White Sox, it may be noted, are clinging to their hard-earned lead with a tenacious grip. They were close to being displaced early in the week, but rallied and staved off the Tiger charge, Urban Faber helping along by winning his eighth straight game. They are now in the midst of a series with the Red Sox in Boston with honors so far even. The Boston pitching staff seems at least to have rounded into good shape, Foster, Mays, Wood, Ruth and Collins, all having done excellent work during the week. New York, which started so promisingly, is fast slipping out of the first division, the team having won only two of its last thirteen games.

Poor Second Division.

Washington can hardly be said to have improved, and no notable difference is to be noted in the work of either the St. Louis club or the Philadelphians. The Athletics presented during the course of the week an infield in which there appeared only one member of the former "$100,000 quartet"—Jack Barry. Connie Mack seems to have acquired a valuable player in Young Malone, however, and is playing him at second in place of the veteran Lajoie. Cleveland has been picking up appreciably since the recent shift in management.

Better in National.

Individual brilliancies were not so marked in the National as in the American league during the week, but the senior organization continues to maintain much the prettier fight.

Chicago is in the throes of another old-time tussle with the Giants, with the difference, however, that no question of the leadership is involved between them. The Giants, however, are apparently on the up-grade, while the Cubs have been slipping recently, five runs being their total score in the five games of last week.

The Bostons failed to do anything to improve their standing, closing their home stay weakly, but coming out a winner yesterday in Cincinnati after opening their western tour with a defeat.

In Association Games.

Columbus, by winning a majority of recent games, pulled out of last place in the American association race for the first time this season. Minneapolis succeeded the Senators at the end of the procession. Indianapolis continues to hold the lead.

The race in the Federal league continues close among six of the eight clubs, and shifts in the standing are frequent. Pittsburgh was not actually dislodged from the leadership during the week, although Chicago worked into a tie for first place as a result of Monday's games, and Kansas City caught up with the leaders on two other occasions during the week, only to fall back again. Yesterday, however, the Missourians again tied the first position holders. Newark worked up to second place Saturday, but yesterday lost an opportunity to go into the lead by losing a double-header to the tail-end Buffalo team, while Pittsburgh was succumbing to Chicago. The setoff dropped Newark to the bottom of the first division.

The Buffeds have been doing better since the change which made Harry Lord manager. Lee Magee's Brooklyns seem unable to emerge from the second division, although keeping close enough to endanger the occupants of the select circle.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Naughty Baby

HE is healthy, has a good digestion, nothing particular the matter, only the little mischief thinks now that he is 6 months old he is entitled to raise hob with the folks every night. He fights bedtime, and insists on all sorts of fool performances before he will consent to close his eyes; mayhap he will even demand a swig of dope in the shape of "harmless" soothing syrup, if his parents are utterly without conscience.

He wakes often at night, and cries, and has to be coaxed back to sleep. His little nose isn't big enough; it seems to be all clogged up, notwithstanding, as his misguided mother says, notwithstanding we don't take him outdoors. Because, we should say, instead of notwithstanding.

What's the diagnosis?

We shall make three guesses—a doctor is entitled to at least that many in the case of a baby.

Spoiled By Silly Habits.

First, his mother has spoiled him by singing, rocking, jingling or otherwise coaxing him to sleep. He has learned his importance and the little rascal likes the sensation of showing his authority. By rights a baby should be undressed at bedtime, bathed, have his back rubbed, nighty and didy put on, and go to bed all by himself, or at least go asleep without any fool didos. If he is started right he will acquire the habit of natural, ready sleep at sleeping time.

Cheated Out of His Birthright.

Second guess: The baby is coddled, denied his full share of outdoor air, cheated out of his birthright. Every baby at 6 months should be out in the open air from 10 a. m. until 2 p. m., at least. If he doesn't get that much open air each day he isn't quite receiving a square deal. It is only fair for him to retaliate at night when he is cheated by day. Give him a fair show and he'll sleep rings around every one else in the house; deny him his airing and he is bound to get even with you one way or another.

Adenoids Often a Cause.

Third and last guess: Supposing he has been coddled, protected, overdressed, overheated; kept in hothouse atmosphere and exposed to all sorts of respiratory infections, in kisses by thoughtless admirers, it is only natural that the baby's defense system should become pretty active—his adenoid tissue increases in size, and that means obstruction to nose breathing, restlessness, peevishness, noisy breathing, frequent slight "colds." Even adenoids can be overcome if the bbay gets his five hours outdoor airing each day. But once thoroughly established, adenoids must be operated on, no matter what the baby's age.

Questions and Answers.

INTESTINAL INDIGESTION.

Our little boy, aged 3, suffers frequent attacks of intestinal indigestion, with fever, pain, loss of appetite, etc. Can you advise about diet and treatment?

ANSWER—Yes, but by letter. Send stamped addressed envelope for advice.

COFFEE AND COMPLEXION.

At 18 I had a beautiful complexion. At 20 it is rough, dark, sallow. I drink coffee three times a day. Is that the cause?

ANSWER—I do not think so, though once a day would be better. Coffee and complexion are not enemies.

BUNION.

I have a bunion of four years' standing. Will you kindly advise what can be done for it?

ANSWER—Probably only surgery will cure it. If you will write for detailed information we will gladly give advice.

FLAT FEET.

"Sir: I have flat feet," writes T. S., "and would like to know if arch supports would help me. My heels give me much pain."

ANSWER—Not ready-to-wear arch supports, surely. If the arch is absolutely broken down some form of support may be advisable, but generally it is better, for permanent results, to have the feet examined and perhaps strapped by your doctor.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to Health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through these columns; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnoses. Address all letters to Dr. William Brady, care of The Herald. All questions will be answered, whether they come from people living in Duluth or outside, provided they comply with the rules here stated.

Not Sold By Weight

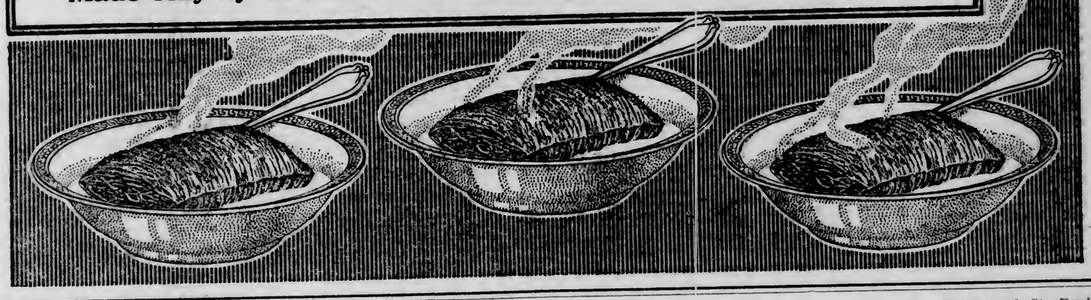

When you buy Shredded Wheat you are paying something for the patented process by which the whole wheat is made digestible in the human stomach. We are not selling raw wheat. It is what you digest, not what you eat, that builds muscle, bone and brain.

Shredded Wheat

is the whole wheat made digestible by steam-cooking, shredding and baking. The filmy, porous shreds are quickly permeated by the digestive juices, enabling the body to take up every particle of nutriment stored in the whole wheat grain. Don't be misled by net weight regulations or comparisons of raw, indigestible foods with Shredded Wheat.

Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, heated in the oven to restore crispness, served with hot milk or cream, make a complete, nourishing, satisfying meal at a total cost of five or six cents. Also delicious with fruits. TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat Wafer, eaten as a toast with butter or soft cheese, or as a substitute for white flour bread or crackers.

TITLE GAME CANCELED

School Row Causes End of Grade School Baseball Season.

All games in the Duluth Grade School championship series have been called off. Some inside work, it is said, has resulted in the canceling of the final game in the series between the Washington and Jefferson schools.

Not satisfied with the refusal of the Lincoln school team to play, it seems that certain persons have exerted influence to cause a calling off of the Washington and Jefferson game.

It was announced today that the league activities for the season were thus brought to an abrupt and sudden termination.

TRANS-MISSISSIPPI GOLF TOURNEY BEGINS

Memphis, Tenn., June 7.—Course conditions were pronounced ideal for fast golf and low scores at the start today of the fifteenth annual tournament of the trans-Mississippi golf association over the links of the Memphis Country club.

Approximately 200 players, representing more than a score of clubs in cities west of the Mississippi river, were entered in the tournament and paired to start at five-minute intervals in the first half of the 36-hole qualifying round.

J. D. Cady, Rock Island, Ill., Arsenal Golf club, present title-holder, was paired with J. P. Edrington of Memphis, as one of the early starters in today's play.

SHOOT HUNTING DOG; PAIR ARE FINED $124

Edgeley, N. D., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—It cost George Fode $124.50 when he had his 15-year-old son shoot a hunting dog belonging to Joseph Wood. All reside at Alfred, this county, and the shooting was a result of a neighborhood strife. Wood sued Fode for damages for the loss of the dog and was awarded $50 and costs of the action.

BLUME AFTER NEW PITCHER

At Least One More Twirler Needed on the Dook Staff.

Although Jack Doyle was not in either game of yesterday, the former Fargoite is still a member of the Dooks. The man, let out by Col Bob Unglaub, left last night with the remainder of the aggregation Darby is conducting on a short circuit tour of the league.

Blume is going to get at least one more pitcher. Chief Williams may be used as a pitcher until an addition to the hurling staff is secured. Boley may be kept—and he may not. His job is uncertain. Jackson and Turner look like fixtures.

Brown has been recalled from Superior and will play third on the trip. When Williams goes to the hill Doyle will play the garden.

Omaha has sent Larson back to Grand Forks. This is the twirler who was drafted from the Flickers by St. Paul and later sent to the Western league. The kid failed to deliver for the Omaha team and thus comes back to the old Northern.

Larson should prove of great assistance to the Flickers. Turner failed to make a great hit in the Western league, and yet is standing them on their heads in this circuit.

Burmeister is dickering with business men of Regina, Canada, with a view of having some of the St. Boniface games transferred to that city. Superior fans are endeavoring to persuade Owner Steece to keep his team in Superior. At that it is an even bet that the Swamp Angels keep right on playing over there.

WITH THE AMATEURS

Wet grounds caused a postponement of the Fitwell-Arnold game of yesterday. The Fitwells would like to arrange a game with the Northern Hardware team.

The M. I. Stewart baseball team forfeited a game to the F. H. Lounsberry team yesterday.

* * *

The Lester Park team defeated the baseball team of the Polish Athletic club yesterday by the score of 10 to 5. Jensen and Naddy formed the battery for the winners, and Stack, Bergh and Haos for the losers.

* * *

Cayo, pitching for the Cubs yesterday, struck out twenty-one of the batters of the Gordons. Not a hit was registered off Cayo, errors giving the Gordons two runs. The Cubs won by the score of 6 to 2.

* * *

The Northern Shoe Company baseball team defeated the Hermantown team yesterday by the score of 7 to 6. The fielding and batting of Neipp of the Northerns was a feature.

* * *

The Duluth Heights baseball team won a double-header yesterday, defeating the Woodlands, 4 to 3, in a seven-inning game, and the Maccabees, 17 to 6.

Umpire Perine Dead.

Oakland, Cal., June 7.—Fred (Bull) Perine, former American league umpire, who suffered a sunstroke in 1912, while umpiring in New York, is dead in the Napa, Cal., state hospital, to which he was committed more than a year ago. Inability to return to the game he loved affected his mind.

Capture of Turner Denied.

Ottawa, Ont., June 7.—An assertion by the Overseas News agency in a dispatch from Berlin by wireless last Friday night that "Colonel Turner, commanding the Third Canadian infantry brigade," had been captured, was denied by Minister of Militia Hughes last night. Gen. Hughes stated he had been officially informed by cable that Brig.-Gen. Turner, V. C., D. S. O., commanding the Third infantry brigade, is well and with his brigade.

FAST WORK ON HIGHWAY

Duluth-Twin City Road Will Be Ready for Autoists July 1.

Hinckley and Sandstone Active, Says President of Auto Club.

The Duluth-Twin Cities highway will be in excellent condition for automobile travel by the latter part of July, according to Dr. J. D. Park, president of the Duluth Auto club.

"Work on the roadway is progressing rapidly," said Dr. Park yesterday, "and sometime this summer I expect to see automobilists making the trip in about seven hours. The road commissioners at Sandstone and Hinckley have both promised me that they would start repairing the highways near their respective cities and when that work is finished, the worst stretch from here to the cities will be repaired. In addition a crew of men is now draining the Hinckley swamp, which has been a nightmare for all those who have made the trip in the past.

"The roads through Carlton are in great condition. The people of Carlton county have been working and spending their money to make the roads right and they deserve great credit. The sand hills are a thing of the past. The only thing needed now is a coat of gravel on the road between here and Carlton, and a little work on the road west of Willow River."

SUPREME COURT DECIDES MULE IS NOT A HORSE

A mule is not a horse.

Neither is a horse a mule.

The Minnesota supreme court has just handed down a decision which judiciously determines the legal status of the hybrid.

One C. J. Ost of Owatonna obtained the arrest and conviction of one G. T. Greer on the charge of stealing a span of mules. Ost then claimed statutory reward for the apprehension of horse thieves.

Judge Childress of the district court at Owatonna refused the reward. He held that a mule was not a horse.

Webster defines the mule as being a hybrid—half-horse, half-ass. The two mules stolen by Greer, Ost reasoned, were equivalent to one horse and one ass.

The supreme court did not reason this way and affirmed the judgment of the lower court.

In an opinion written by Justice Bunn, the court says: "The statute is in derogation of the common law; though probably justified in the early days of the state, there is little excuse for its existence today. It should be strictly construed."

MILWAUKEE TRAIN THROUGH BRIDGE

Engineer and Firemen Are Killed Near Lake City, Minn.

St. Paul, Minn., June 7.—The discovery late last night of the body of Chase E. Brooks, aged 35 years, of Whitewater, Wis., a brakeman, increases to four the deaths caused when the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Passenger Train No. 5, eastbound, was wrecked near Lake City, Minn., and Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Passenger Train No. 17, northbound, was derailed near Roberts, Wis., during the heavy storm late Saturday night. The body of Brooks, the only one recovered, was found in an empty mail car.

Plunges Into Creek.

Wilbur Taber of Minneapolis, engineer; Roy Brobert of St. Paul, fireman, and Brooks were killed when Milwaukee Train No. 5 plunged twenty feet into a creek at the bottom of a ravine through a storm-damaged bridge two miles north of Lake City. Divers are attempting to recover the two missing bodies.

Dorsey Shane of St. Paul, engineer on the Omaha road, was fatally scalded when his engine left the rails and tipped over by striking a landslide near Roberts, Wis. He was rescued by a tramp who had been riding on the train and died soon after.

DULUTH COULD MUSTER 1,800 TRAINED MEN.

More than 1,800 trained men could be furnished by Duluth in case a call to the colors was issued by the government, according to local army men. These would include about 300 Spanish war veterans, 250 in the National Guard, 165 in the militia, 300 in the navy reserves, 410 in the various fraternal orders, 100 high school cadets and nearly 200 trained men and former university cadets.

To Summer Tourists and Their Duluth Hosts!

The Street Railway Company wants to do its share toward giving summer visitors in this city a good impression of Duluth.

The street car service of any city is one of the first features to impress a visitor. We want visitors to Duluth to carry away an impression of clean, well ventilated, comfortable cars; prompt and efficient service, and courteous employes.

Here is an extract from the company's rules which may be of interest to summer visitors:

"Conductors are expected to be familiar with principal points along their route, so as to be able to give information to passengers about streets, parks, connecting or intersecting railway lines, depots, ferries, public buildings, large stores, hospitals, theaters, etc."

General information regarding the city can be obtained if you will "Ask Mr. Hanna" in Spalding hotel lobby. He can tell you what car to board to reach any given point in the city. After you have boarded that car the conductor will give you any further information you need.

Mr. Hanna will also run sight-seeing cars for the special benefit of tourists and their Duluth hosts during the coming summer.

A trip to the top of our Inclined Railway will give a visitor a better general idea of the topography of the Head of the Lakes than any number of maps, and a view that is equalled by few on this continent.

EVELETH WILL GREET EAGLES

Decked Out in Colors of Order for Big State Convention.

Mayor Saari Will Give Visitors to City Fitting Welcome Tuesday.

Eveleth, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eveleth is in holiday attire and a holiday spirit prevails for the state convention of Eagles. From end to end the streets are decked out in red, white and blue, the colors of the Eagles. The decorations are putting the finishing touches on the streets and public buildings and the business men of the city are busy fixing up their places, inside and outside.

The convention will really begin tonight when two special cars reach the city with the Twin City delegation and band. The Duluth Eagles will arrive Tuesday morning with an accompaniment of Wisconsin Eagles from Superior who can take no official part in the Minnesota convention.

Mayor Jacob S. Saari will welcome the visiting Eagles at the auditorium at 11 o'clock and Tuesday State President A. D. Erkel will respond. Business sessions will occupy the delegates' attention until 3 p. m. when autos have been arranged for to take all delegates and visiting Eagles on a tour through the mines. At 8 in the evening a public session will be held at the auditorium with an excellent musical program. Wednesday morning and early afternoon will be given over to business sessions. From 2 to 6 in the afternoon a "Mulligan" will be served at Ely lake park. At 7 in the evening there will be a grand parade through the streets in which Eveleth Eagles, visiting Eagles, fire and police department, decorated cars and citizens will take part. At 10 in the evening there will be a big display of fireworks at Central park.

Good Sport Program.

The committee on sports has arranged an excellent program covering the three days. Tuesday afternoon the Virginia and Superior ball clubs are scheduled to play. Wednesday afternoon the Hibbing and Chisholm teams will play and Thursday the Daily Virginians and Aurora will meet. Fifteen prizes have been offered for races on the streets Wednesday afternoon.

There will be plenty of attractions on the streets during the convention. Holders of concessions on "Carnival Street" and the main business streets are busy today getting their stands in shape.

Officers will be elected and the next meeting place selected on Thursday, the last day of the convention. There is nothing else on the official program for the day.

CHISHOLM AFTER STATE CONVENTION

Going to Try and Hold Firemen's Gathering for 1916.

Chisholm, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—In order to prevent some rival town taking from Chisholm the state firemen's convention scheduled to be held here next year the Commercial club will be represented at the annual convention of fire fighters that opens at Pine City tomorrow by Joseph Austin, R. M. Heskett, A. H. Kleffman and Gust Anderson.

It is proposed by the president of the club that clubrooms be secured here if sufficient encouragement is received by the finance committee when it makes the rounds for membership fees. It is proposed to rent suitable rooms and furnish them in first-class club style. The membership fee has been fixed at $25 with $1 per month dues.

Plans for Fourth.

The Fourth of July celebration committee proposes to have the biggest celebration that has ever been held in the village and the following sub-committees will attend to the business of making it so:

INTEREST BOYS IN TOWN BETTERMENT

Junior Civic League Idea Being Agitated in Hibbing.

Hibbing, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The organization of a junior civic league here has been undertaken by C. C. Alexander, superintendent of schools, and J. E. Lawler, secretary of the Hibbing Commercial club. It is expected that this organization of young men workers for a better town will prove a valuable auxiliary to the Commercial club.

The purposes of the organization and methods of formation were outlined by Secretary J. E. Lawler at the conference of the Federation of Secretaries of Minnesota Commercial Clubs recently at Minneapolis.

The league will be composed of young male pupils in the high school, and its object will be to stimulate civic pride by making members familiar with facts of the village and through other educational propaganda. Factors which will lead to the growth and upbuilding of Hibbing will be impressed upon the minds of the members. Incidentally, the organization will give the youths knowledge of civic and business affairs not being included in the curriculum of the high school.

CHISHOLM ASSAULT CASE BEING TRIED

Pair Alleged to Have Attacked Wrestler, Face Jury.

Hibbing, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—A jury was selected in district court before Judge Hughes this morning to try the case against Glahia Baklosh and Hady Aday, both of Chisholm, indicted by the grand jury on a first degree assault charge, it being alleged they attacked and shot Tom Short, a range wrestler, in Chisholm, April 21 last.

Assistant County Attorney Boyle is prosecuting, while Attorney Freeman of Chisholm is defending. The case may be given to the jury late today.

FRANK BROBERT BEING SOUGHT

Frank Brobert, a locomotive engineer who formerly worked on the Minnesota & Northern Wisconsin road, left Duluth a few days ago for the Mesaba range and is now being sought by his relatives in St. Paul, as they want him to come there to attend the funeral of his brother, Roy Brobert, a Milwaukee railroad engineer, who was killed last Saturday in Southern Minnesota.

ARREST CHISHOLM MAN.

Alleged He Violated Ordinance Requiring License for Merry-Go-Round.

Chisholm, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank G. Harris of Chisholm, who recently purchased land on the eastern shores of Longyear lake and established a park there, was arrested on a charge of running a merry-go-round without a license. An ordinance was passed Wednesday by the village council requiring a license fee of $10 per day or $250 per year to operate a merry-go-round within the village limits. The particular spot at which the park is situated is half a mile from the business section of the town and motor boats, also placed upon the lake by Mr. Harris, take pleasure seekers from the city to the park. This is the first attempt to make Longyear lake a pleasure resort and the idea is taking to such an extent that thousands of people from Chisholm and surrounding towns spend their Sundays at the new park. The park has cost already several thousand dollars and gives employment to seven people at present, while it is expected at least fifteen people will be employed when all the contemplated amusement devices are ready for business.

Mr. Harris will claim the ordinance under which he was arrested is illegal when the case comes up for trial next Friday.

LITTLE ONES DO WELL.

Taconite Children Present Operetta "Land of Dolls."

Taconite, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The primary and kindergarten of the local school under the direction of Miss Hutchens and Pierce, gave an operetta "The Land of Dolls" in the town hall Friday evening and the little folks did very well, the cast being as follows:

Ely Young Men Are Graduated From Stout Institute.

Ely, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alvin and Stuart Schaefer, John Rantio, Ernest Knutson, August Hupakka, and Joseph Prisk have returned from Menomonie, Wis., where they have been attending the Stout institute.

Alvin Schaefer, Ernest Knutson and John Rantio received their diplomas Thursday as manual training instructors. The former also specialized in printing. August Hupakka, Joseph Prisk, and Stuart Schaefer will belong to the senior class next year at Stout.

ODD FELLOWS WILL GATHER ON JUNE 17

First Annual Meet of Three Links Club at Joyland Then.

Tower, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The date of the first annual meet of the newly organized Three Link club, consisting solely of local and range Odd Fellows, has been changed to June 17, when the entire membership, numbering thirty-seven, will, in all probability, attend. Only the members will be present at this outing, but after the meet the families of members will be entitled to the use of the bungalow. The building has just recently been completed, being located at Joyland, eight miles up the lake, and will no doubt be a popular rendezvous for those entitled to its use.

Buildings Being Fitted Up.

The buildings owned by the Vermilion Boat and Outing club are being refitted for occupancy this week, most of the furnishings having been brought to town for storage during the winter months. The demand for quarters has already started, and some of the cottages are now occupied and many more already engaged for periods of the summer. The Gold island cottages are all in readiness, while those at the Isle of Pines will also be ready in a few days. The company has added a number of rowboats to their equipment and should now be able to supply the needs of the increasing number of patrons.

The Goodwill summer home on Lake Vermilion was the scene of a pretty dancing party Saturday night, when the third annual ball was given. Several couples from here attended, while many from Cook were also present. Many remained over night at the hotel and enjoyed the early morning fishing, returning home about noon yesterday.

MARBLE MUSIC FESTIVAL

School Pupils Acquit Themselves Well in Entertainment.

Marble, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local pupils who participated in the music festival given Friday evening were generally praised for their work under Miss August, accompanist, and Miss G. M. Bowden.

The program was as follows:

"Greeting the Gypsy Queen," Girls' Glee club; Medley of American patriotic songs and chorus.

FUNERAL AT TOWER.

Body of James Sloggett, Old Soudan Resident, Buried.

Tower, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The remains of James Sloggett, who died Thursday in a Duluth hospital, were brought here for burial Saturday noon. The funeral was held at 2 p. m., Rev. Mr. Mapson of Ely officiating and the remains were interred in the family lot beside those of the father, who died several years ago.

The family was at one time residents of Soudan, being among the first families to settle there. Mr. Sloggett was a bachelor, age 58, and leaves a sister, Mrs. Chinn of Elba, who, together with her husband, Supt. Chinn, and an uncle, James Sloggett, and wife of Gilbert, were here to attend the funeral. Among the other former Towerites who were here were Messrs. and Madames Mitchell and Tobin from Ely. Several people from the Mesaba range towns were also in attendance.

ANNUAL PICNIC AT POKEGAMA LAKE

Grand Rapids, Minn., June 7.—The clerks and band's picnic, which is an annual affair in which the whole of Grand Rapids and many from Coleraine, Bovey and other range towns and from Deer River and Cohasset participate, has been scheduled to come off on Thursday, June 24, at Pokegama lake. The following officers and committees were elected: President, C. J. Eller; secretary, Art Peterson; treasurer, C. E. Aiken; committee on advertising, Art Peterson, Ed Whaling and W. W. Libby; soliciting, Will Powers, Truman Seamans, Al. Furley and Ed Whaling; sports, Will Powers, Ed Whaling, Jerom Meyers, T. H. Shoaff; transportation, Ray Le Roux, Will Maddy, Al Furley and Fred Jutras.

CHISHOLM EAGLES POSTPONE PICNIC

Chisholm, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Owing to stormy weather, the annual June picnic scheduled for Sunday at Longyear Lake park under the auspices of the Eagles was postponed. Victor L. Powers of Hibbing was slated for a speech, in which it was announced that he would outline the action to be taken in the tax squabble.

ELY NEWS NOTES.

Ely, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Suomi synod church gave a children's program at the K. of P. hall. Many attended.

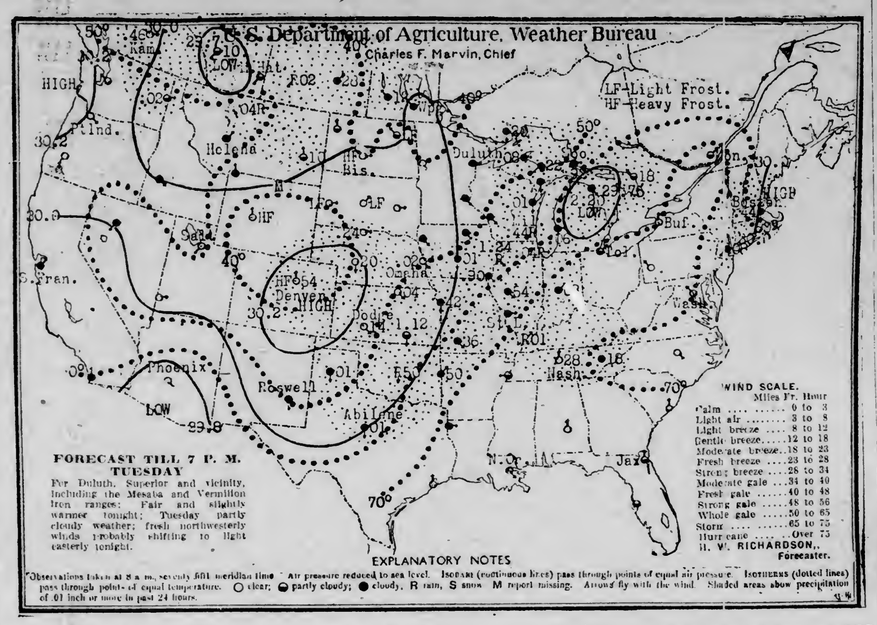

Rev. and Mrs. Koivumaki and baby left this morning for Hancock, Mich., to attend the convention of the Suomi Opista in that city this week.

To Improve Expression As Well As Complexion

No face is really beautiful that lacks expression. Do you realize that continual use of powders and creams tends to spoil pliancy of skin and elasticity of expression? Why not quit cosmetics, use something better, which won't clog the pores or make the skin dry, pasty or oily? Ordinary mercolized wax acts quite differently from any cosmetic. It wonderfully improves any complexion, giving it life and expression. By gradually, harmlessly peeling off the thin veil of surface skin, it brings to view a pure, soft, spotless complexion, delicately beautiful and youthful. Every druggist has this wax; it is seldom more than an ounce is needed. It is spread on nightly like cold cream and washed off mornings. In a week or two the transformation is complete.

Wrinkles do not of course enhance the expression. Neither do the pasty things many use to eradicate them. A treatment free from all objection is made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel; use as a wash lotion. This soon removes even the most obstinate wrinkles. —Advertisement.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

FAIR

Sunday was fine, and while clouds at times made one think that there was going to be rain, they proved to be only baffling. The weather was none too warm, however. Today started off with a clearing sky and bright sunlight. Those deceived into wearing their straws regretted it later, for clouds came in a wing thickness, and there will likely be rain before the day is over.

A year ago today was fine. The sun rose this morning at 4:14 and will set this evening at 8 o'clock, giving fifteen hours and forty-six minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Showers fell over New England, the lake region, Central Valley states, the Southwest and greater portion of the Northwest during the last twenty-four to forty-eight hours. Heavy rains occurred at Alpena, Mich., Davenport, Iowa, and Wichita, Kan. Cooler weather prevails in the Lower Missouri and Upper Mississippi valleys and upper lake region. Light to heavy frosts occurred last night in the Dakotas, Colorado and Wyoming."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, June 7.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Minnesota—Fair and warmer tonight; Tuesday increasing cloudiness with warmer in southeast portion.

Wisconsin—Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; slightly warmer Tuesday.

Iowa—Fair tonight and Tuesday; rising temperature Tuesday and in west portion tonight.

North Dakota—Showers tonight or Tuesday; warmer in south portion tonight; cooler Tuesday.

Montana—Showers tonight; Tuesday probably unsettled; cooler in north and west portions tonight.

Lower Michigan—Fair and cooler tonight; Tuesday fair.

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight and Tuesday; cooler tonight in extreme east and extreme south portions.

RAT BOUNTY IS NOT ATTRACTIVE TO BOYS.

Deer River, Minn., June 7.—The bounty of 5 cents per rat does not seem to be much of an inducement to Deer River boys to hunt the rodents. For the past four weeks since the reward was offered only $2.50 has been paid by the Women's Civic league in bounties. The offer is still good and will be until a certain sum set aside for this good cause has been expended.

LOOKS OVER FIELD.

Virginia Minister Investigates the Cuyuna Range Conditions.

Virginia, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. W. J. Bell of this city, representing the presbytery of Duluth, has been in Brainerd and an the Cuyuna range the past week. The Presbyterian church has been planning on putting a Slavonic worker and colporteur on the Cuyuna range, and Mr. Bell has been viewing the possibilities of the field with this in mind.

VIRGINIA CHAPTER O. E. S. IS INSTITUTED

Virginia, Minn., June 7.—A local chapter of the East Chapter of Eastern Star was instituted here Saturday night. The charter was received at a meeting held in the Masonic temple. Grand Worthy Matron Mrs. Burnham of Minneapolis was in charge of the ceremonies, which were attended by about 100 visiting members from Duluth and range towns.

Virginia chapter of the Eastern Star was organized last December and has a membership of fifty-seven. Mrs. Anhalt is worthy matron of Star of the East chapter. Tonight the Mesaba chapter of Hibbing will receive its charter at that place and the grand officers and other visitors to the Virginia meeting will attend that installation. They will go from Virginia in a special car.

RIVER LOGGER DROWNS NEAR GRAND RAPIDS

Grand Rapids, Minn., June 7.—Eli Sickle was drowned in Prairie lake, about three miles north of town. Sickle and two other men, all employed by the Boyd & Gilbert log drive, attempted to cross the lake in an old boat that had been discarded.

When they got out from shore about 200 yards the boat capsized. Two of the men clung to the overturned boat, but Sickle stated he was going to swim to shore. A few minutes after letting go of the boat he sank.

Eli Sickle was an old resident of this part of the country and was well known here. He was unmarried and about 40 years old. His body has not been recovered.

BIGFORK BOY DROWNS.

Bigfork, Minn., June 7.—Dewey Harrington, aged 16, whose parents live here, was drowned last week while helping drive logs on Deer creek. The body was recovered and the funeral wes held here Friday.

HIBBING CITIZENS GOING TO COLERAINE

Hibbing, Minn., Jun 7.—The Commercial club has designated the following to represent the club at the Northern Minnesota development meeting at Coleraine next Thursday and Friday: Mayor V. L. Power, W. J. West, A. P. Silliman, D. D. McEachin, Dr. F. R. Thomas, Rupert Swinnerton, Robert Stratton, R. W. Hitchcock, C. M. Atkinson, W. J. Ryder, John Healy, S. C. Scott, W. C. Barrett and T. C. Congdon.

Lumber Concern Busy.

Virginia, Minn., June 7.—Activities in the Virginia & Rainy Lake Lumber company camps in the neighborhood of Cusson are increasing each week. The company now has employed there nearly 1,000 men. Two new camps are being started, one at station 32 and another at station 34. These camps will handle billed or special orders.

Buhl Fishermen Lucky.

Ely, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Some Buhl men arrived Saturday evening and spent Sunday fishing at Birch lake, returning to Buhl Sunday evening, enthusiastic in their praises of the Ely lakes fishing.

Ely Teachers at Party.

Ely, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Some of the school teachers remained here for a week to attend the house party at Co-ri-reen cottage on Thomas' island in Long lake. Mrs. Cerveny of Eveleth was chaperone.

NO SETTLERS ARE VICTIMS OF FIRES

Ranger Vibert Looks With Suspicion on Fires South of Aurora.

Cloquet, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Percy Vibert of this city, ranger in the Minnesota Forest service, says reports that three settlers lost their homes in the forest fires south of Aurora are unfounded. He says the origin of the nine fires south of Aurora is a mystery. There has been no burning of slash there by the lumber companies since May 9 and no locomotives have been operating through this district," declared Mr. Vibert. "The only loss to settlers was one small building used as a barn, and the settlers lost no sleep nor expended any muscle in fighting these fires. One of my patrolmen hired eleven settlers there to guard a logging road to keep the fire from crossing and then started to another blaze some distance away, after posting the men along the road. Being suspicious of their good faith, the patrolman went but a short distance and returned only to find that the men had left their posts and were pulling off an impromptu athletic meet. He fired the bunch on the spot.

"These fires were fought and gotten under control by men hired by the lumber companies of Cloquet, headed by F. W. Wilhelmi and J. C. Campbell. They had a crew of eighty-five men with six overseers and brought up two locomotives with tank cars. The loss here was 15,000 to 20,000 ties belonging to the Cloquet Tie & Post company, two cars loaded with pulpwood and one empty car. A hoist on the Cloquet river with a few thousand feet of logs was burned, as was also about 2,500 ties belonging to Saari Brothers. The assistance from the settlers was noticeable only by its absence.

Seventeen Fires in All.

"In all there have been seventeen fires in this section during this dry period. Two near Aurora, five on the Alger-Smith logging road, four in Carlton county, four on the line of the Iron Range railroad, one on the Canadian Northern and one on the Fond du Lac reservation. Aside from the losses mentioned, but little damage was done and practically no standing timber of value was destroyed or damaged.

These fires were handled by the ranger and his patrolmen getting to the scene as quickly as possible and organizing a fighting force and then hurry to the next call if there are several fires in progress.

"The various railroad companies have been willing to give the forest service all possible assistance in fighting these fires and have co-operated with us most admirably. I regret that I cannot say as much for the settlers of the Aurora district."

PASS EXAMINATIONS.

Aitkin, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following pupils in the rural schools of Aitkin county have passed the state examinations for eighth grade work and received their diplomas: Viva Drone, Thomas Drone, Amy Dowd, Leonard Engstrom, Daniel Erickson, Caroline Fulton, Ally Fertila, Magdelina Friestrad, Nannie Green, Esther Gould, Bertha Harrie, Leslie Hilsenhoff, Alice Hawkinson, Amelia Lofgren, Amanda Libeck, Esther Linder, Hilda Lundin, Floy Montee, Irene Newstrom, Henning Norberg, Inga Otterson, Marvin Oakes, John Paxen, Jessie Perkins, Hazel Pitt, Adolph Relander, Carl Swedberg, Olga Thorson, Signe Williams, Thury Wickstrom.

STATE SENATE OFFICIAL OPENS OFFICE HERE

Leland S. Duxbury, who was assistant secretary of the state senate during the recent session, has begun the practice of law in Duluth and has opened offices in the First National bank building. Mr. Duxbury begins his career in Duluth with a better acquaintance than most newcomers, for the reason that during his service in the legislature he had occasion to meet a great many Duluthians and others from this county, as well as to get well acquainted with the St. Louis county members of both house and senate.

Mr. Duxbury is a son of Senator F. A. Duxbury of Caledonia, who was here recently, and who, during the recent session, was one of Duluth's warmest friends.

THE PAIN OF NEURALGIA

People think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face but neuralgia may affect any nerve of the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease is the same, the cause is the same and the remedy to be effective, must be the same.

The pain of neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood, which normally carries nourishment to the nerves, for some reason no longer does so and the pain that you feel is the cry of the nerves for food. The reason why the blood fails to properly nourish the nerves is often because the blood itself is weak and thin.

Anemia, or thin blood, is the most common cause of neuralgia. Build up the thin blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and you are attacking neuralgia at its root. These tonic pills also have a peculiar and direct action on the nerves so that they are probably the very best possible remedy for the treatment of neuralgia.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Get a box today and write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free book "Nervous Disorders, A Method of Home Treatment."

MISSIONARIES ARE NOT HARMED

Those Working in Persia, Near War Zone, Are Safe.

Grand Forks, N. D., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Missionaries working only forty miles from the scene of the Urumiah, Persia, massacres, have not been harmed, according to a cablegram received yesterday by Rev. J. N. Lohre of Grand Forks, president of the Hauges Lutheran Missionary society, under the direction of which the missionaries are working.

The missionaries report they have cared for over 2,000 refugees, but up to the present time, they have not been included in the zone of war operations.

The Hauges society has recently taken over the work in the war zone of the Hermannsburg Missionary society, which has several field workers in the danger zone. These also are reported safe.

Most of the missionaries are residents of the Northwest.

NEWSPAPER ZINC UP 200 PER CENT

War Causes Big Increase in Metal Used for Cuts.

Producers of zinc and lead in and around Joplin, Mo., and at other points where there are zinc mines, are jubilant at the rise in prices of the metal, but users of zinc are not so much so, for the price has jumped just 200 per cent since the war began. In Duluth the chief users of the highest grades of zinc are the newspapers. There are others, but they probably do not use the metal in such large quantities nor do they have to have the highest grade.

The newspapers make their cuts for publication on the very best grade of zinc, and these days pictures cost money with a vengeance. Before the war the newspapers got their supplies of the metal sheets, measuring 18 by 22 inches, for 85 cents but now they are paying $2.55, just three times as much as before. "To secure the shadow ere the substance fades" is no simple financial proposition just now.

At Joplin on Saturday night, the market closed with zinc ore having reached a basic price of $112 a ton, a record, and being $27 a ton over the close a week previous. A year ago zinc ore was $40 a ton.

SHARP DECLINES ARE RECORDED IN MARKET

Wheat Breaks to Lowest Figures in Months on Liquidation.

Flaxseed Fairly Steady, With Good Support From Crushers' Interests.

Duluth Board of Trade, June 7.—The market was steady around the close on light trading. Further weakness developed in durum and it sold at lowest figures in several months.

July wheat closed 7⅝c off, September 17⅛c off, and December 23½c off. July durum closed 13c off, and September 6c off. Rye, unchanged at $1.11@1.13, and barley, unchanged to 1c off at from 63c to 71c. No close was made in oats.

At Winnipeg, July oats closed 1¼c off at 54½c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis September wheat closed at $1.04, and calls at $1.11.

Operators for a fall again had their innings in the wheat market today. All the influences were on the bear side. To begin with, Liverpool cables came 1½@2½d lower, with heavy arrivals reported and considerable grain on the way. Crop reports from over the Northwest were all favorable and with liberal marketings of winter wheat expected to begin about the end of this month, millers were out of the market for the time being. In the estimation of experts there are abundant supplies of old wheat to carry the trade through till new grain starts to come in, and it is noted that arrivals at all the markets are heavy for the season. That is taken to indicate that there is still considerable grain in farmers' hands. Stocks in Minneapolis elevators have held their own during the past two weeks, and though supplies of wheat in Duluth houses are now down below the 2,000,000 bu mark, the great bulk of it is lower grade stuff, and it is dragging.

Perhaps the main factor in the market at the start today was reported progress of the allies in forcing the passage of the Dardanelles. Dealers are watching developments there closely as it is taken as assured that the releasing of Russian supplies would exercise a big bearish effect on the market.

The weakness was initiated at Winnipeg, where re-selling by exporters was reported. That resulted in a raid upon the July future, its market tumbling 10c during the first few minutes of operations. Resting spots were found at the decline, and the market then became dull and steady.

Locally July wheat sold off a maximum of 9¼c. It opened ¼c off at $1.23 and then broke in chunks to a low of $1.20. At that level the liquidation spent itself and support appeared. A recovery was made to $1.26, and at the noon-hour the quotation stood at $1.25½, with trading in limited volume. September opened unchanged at $1.12, and sold down to $1.09¾. December opened 1c off at $1.12¾ and declined 1¾c more. Durum also showed extreme weakness, with no support appearing in it. July durum opened 2c off at $1.31, and broke 6c more. September declined 6c to $1.10.

Flax Breaks, Too.

Flaxseed in a measure participated in the break in wheat at the start to the extent of 3¾c. Good buying by crushers appeared at the low spots and a recovery was made. It is believed that the government crop report as relating to flaxseed, it being dry, as relating to wheat, it being moist, at about 3d decline."

BULLS IN THE FLAX MARKET

Growing Feeling That Seed Is "Good Buy"—Curious Break.

The last week has been a curious one in flax. The seed has had more activity during the last six days than has been its share for a long time, and just why it had more ups and downs is hardly apparent. When the break in wheat and coarse grains came at the first of the week, flax followed suit for no apparent reason, while at the same time industrial stocks were going up. The break in grains came on the German reply, but when industrial stocks were good enough to be boosted, sighting possible increase in manufacturing, it was to be expected that flax would take a similar tack, owing to the fact that it is a manufacturing proposition. Of course for several days Buenos Aires and Liverpool had been off, while American flax remained steady, and that might have had some effect, but the drop was so pronounced—13 cents and over—that it cannot be figured out that that would warrant it.

However the seed began to come back right away, and got to within 6 cents of what it was a week ago, when a slight set-back occurred Saturday, the slowness of movement of the seed causing the break, which was small, however. But there is a growing feeling of bullishness in the market, and any indication that the end of the war is in sight will cause an unprecedented bulge.

WAR SHARES ARE STRONG

Further Decline of Canadian Pacific Has Disturbing Influence.

Bethlehem Steel Has Another Advance—Closing Is Irregular.

New York, June 7.—Increased confidence was shown by the stock market on the resumption of trading today, prices in general making substantial gains. War shares were most conspicuous, General Electric advancing 4½ points to the new high record of 168½, while Westinghouse, Crucible Steel and allied stocks advanced 1 to 2. Automobile issues were next in favor, General Motors advancing 5 points to the new high record of 157. Canadian Pacific was the feature of the international group, gaining 1¼ as against 3¼ in London. Pressure soon wiped out its rise but was without effect elsewhere.

Canadian Pacific's steady decline to 149½, a loss of 5 points from its best quotation of the morning, finally exerted a disturbing influence in other parts of the list, with especial heaviness in Reading and American Can. Later, St. Paul, Southern Pacific, United States Steel and Traction stocks fell to levels under Saturday's close. According to report a considerable part of today's offerings, especially of Canadian Pacific, came from Amsterdam, which probably represented further German liquidation. War shares also were affected by the weakness in the more stable issues. Bonds were steady.

Support was extended after virtually all the representative shares had fallen under last week's closing. Canadian Pacific rallied two points but the recovery elsewhere was slight.

Strength in war specialties, motors and coppers and heaviness in Canadian Pacific were the striking features of today's markets. A half point jump in Bethlehem Steel and further gains in coppers were the features of the final hour. The closing was irregular.

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, June 7. — Offerings more plentiful that had been looked for acted today as a weight on the hog market. Rainy weather tended to handicap sellers of cattle except in regard to yearlings. Prices for sheep and lambs failed to recede at first, notwithstanding that arrivals showed a material increase compared with a week ago, but subsequently lambs suffered a decline.

Hogs—Receipts, 34,000; slow at Saturday's average; bulk, $7.55@7.65; light, $7.45@7.75; mixed, 7.35@7.72½; heavy, $7.10@7.65; rough, $7.10@7.25; high, $5.75@7.40.

Cattle—Receipts, 17,000; weak; native beef steers, $6.75@9.30; western steers, $6.80@8.05; cows and heifers, $3.20@8.75; calves, $7.50@10.25.

Sheep — Receipts, 10,000; steady; sheep, $6.40@7.20; lambs, $7.75@10.75.

London Stocks.

London, June 7.—American securities opened slightly under parity. Later Amalgamated Copper was firm, but Canadian Pacific reacted and became dull. The closing was steady.

STOCK BROKERS FEELING BULLISH

Brokers are still bullish upon the stock market outlook, feeling that all the underlying conditions are strong and that further advances in quotations are to be expected in leading securities. Reviewing last week's operations, Charles E. Lewis & Co. had the following letter from New York:

"Last week was a pleasant one for owners of stocks.

"At the opening Tuesday the German reply to the American note of protest against the Gulflight and Lusitania attacks had been thoroughly digested by the public, and the quite unanimous construction placed upon it was that its tone was highly unsatisfactory.

"Yet the stock market held like a rock. As we stated in our letter of a week ago, the market position had been fairly tested by the Nebraskan incident of Wednesday of last week and found to be strong. Leaders fell but 1 to 1½ points on the German reply, and then the market gradually increased both with reference to values and activity, until Thursday, when prices became very strong under the leadership of Steel, affected by the rapidly improving trade situation and anticipation of an early decision in the government suit against the Steel corporation. This came down Thursday evening, giving the company victory in all essential points.

"The sharp bulge in prices following the steel decision invited profit-taking, and there was a reduction of 1⅞ points from the high level, which left the average 9½ points above the lowest reached shortly after the Lusitania disaster.

"Decision in the Steel case must be considered from a broad standpoint. It will be appealed by the government and passed upon by the supreme court a year or more hence. It may not stand, as the decisions of the lower courts in the American Tobacco and the New York 8 per cent gas law test failed to do. However, the decision is commented upon as a common-sense finding and one that appeals to the people as a whole, who long ago wearied of the business of persecution. Until the higher court has said that the recent decision is not good law, the business community as a whole will gather confidence and encouragement from it.

"When this decision is considered with the interstate commerce commission's grant of a rate increase to the Eastern railroads, the natural movement in financial conditions produced by the Federal reserve bank laws and the elimination by the war of the bad effects upon business in manufacturing lines produced by the Underwood tariff, there are brought together four great fundamental changes of a favorable character which constitute a foundation of mighty strength on which to build for the future.

"Impressions as to what is the German attitude in the controversy with this country over the German submarine policy were changed on the visit of Ambassador Bernstorff to the president. He is understood to have informed the latter that the German note would have been more responsive had he been better able to communicate satisfactorily with his government, and the more favorable impression was strengthened later by announcement that the ambassador had sent a personal messenger to his government to give better information as to the situation here than he was able to forward with the means of communication at his command.

"President Wilson's strong and solemn warning to Mexican leaders that unless they could agree upon a stable and efficient government in the interest of the Mexican people very shortly, our government would use such means as it deemed advisable to bring a settlement in the Mexican situation, naturally benefited stocks of corporations which own large Mexican interests."

BUSINESS UPTURN HERE, SAYS ROWE

Wallace H. Rowe of Pittsburgh, president of the Pittsburgh Steel company, is of the opinion that the upturn in business in general has come. Mr. Rowe passed through Duluth late Saturday afternoon together with the other officers and directors of the Pittsburgh Steel company, on their way back East after having been on their annual inspection of the Rowe mine, a property belonging to the company at Riverton, Minn., on the Cuyuna range.

Mr. Rowe announced that heavier shipments will go forward from the Rowe mine this year, beginning immediately. Last year the first shipments were made, but were small.

"Business as a whole is waking up," said Mr. Rowe, Saturday. "That is particularly true in regard to the steel business. Steel is feeling the effects first this year, contrary to most occasions of the kind; and the other lines are already feeling the good effects. I look for a start on a continuous revival. The war, of course, has helped business here but it is time for normal conditions to return, and they are coming rapidly."

STATE FIREMEN TO MEET ON TUESDAY

Pine City, Minn., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—This evening the advance guard of the crowds expected tomorrow for the opening of the forty-third annual session of the Minnesota State Firemen's association will arrive.

The various committees will meet the visitors at the trains. The meeting will be called to order by President Collins at 9 a. m. Tuesday, in the new naval militia armory. Rev. Father Leo will give the opening prayer.

M. B. Hurley will welcome the visitors and Chief Twiford will respond. Then will come the address of State Insurance Commissioner S. D. Works.

A feature of the meeting will be an address by L. W. Ayers of Virginia, Minn., the first white child born in Minnesota. He is over 70. Former Mayor Dan Lawler of St. Paul will address the firemen Wednesday.

WHOLESALE GROCERS WILL VISIT DULUTH

Thirty-six members of the New England Wholesale Grocers' association are due in Duluth this afternoon. The leading wholesale grocery men of Boston have been on a visit to the San Francisco fair and are returning via Duluth for the purpose of taking the Tionesta down the lakes.

Dinner will be eaten at the Spalding after which the New Englanders will board the boat for the final lap of their return trip. Chester W. Smith is in charge of the tourists.

W. O. SMITH DIES.

Had Been Resident of Duluth for Twenty-Four Years.

William O. Smith, 2721 Minnesota avenue, for twenty-four years a Duluth resident, died at St. Luke's hospital yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock after a short illness. He was 58 years old.

Mr. Smith was born in Hamilton, Ont., and came to Duluth in 1891. At the time of his death he was traveling auditor of the Modern Samaritans. He was a member of the Ionic Masonic lodge and the Odd Fellows.

He leaves a widow, three daughters, Eunice, Gladys and Dorothy; one son, George O., and a sister, Mrs. F. W. McDunnough, of this city.

Funeral services will be held from the Masonic temple tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, with interment at Forest Hill cemetery.

New Treaty Ratified.

London, June 7.—A Stockholm dispatch to the Morning Post says that a new treaty between Sweden and Russia has been ratified at Petrograd. It governs the financial, commercial and industrial relations of the two countries.

"LIVE" SESSION LOOKED FOR

Silberstein Will Urge Jitney Amendment Despite All Protests.

Merritt May Oppose Measure; Jitneurs Active in Fight.

Tonight's regular council meeting promises to be full of fireworks.

That the session will be a lively one is certain, in view of the fact that the amendment to the jitney ordinance providing for hourly schedules and routes will be introduced by Commissioner Silberstein of the safety division. The Duluth Jitney association has voiced its opposition to it. The commissioner repeated this morning that the amendment will be introduced, despite all the objections.

It is also understood that Commissioner Merritt is opposed to the amendment and a lively discussion is expected to ensue immediately after the amendment is given its last reading and before it comes up for a final vote. A majority of the commissioners are believed to favor the measure.

The Duluth Jitney association at a meeting last Friday evening unanimously voted against the amendment to the ordinance and a committee was appointed to hold a conference with Commissioner Silberstein on Saturday morning. After reporting the safety head declared that the amendment would be introduced despite the objections. Edward M. Kelley, president of the association, who headed the delegation to Mr. Silberstein, said this morning that a number of the jitney drivers will be present at the council meeting tonight to voice their protest against the amendment.

The jitney ordinance was passed three weeks ago and will go into effect on June 19.

STEAMER STRANDS IN SAULT RIVER

South American, With Templars on Board, Grounds During Fog.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamer South American with 410 Knights Templars on their way to the annual conclave at Houghton, Mich., spent six hours aground in St. Mary's river last night.

Both the South American and her sister ship, the North American, were due here at 10:30 Sunday night. The North American arrived at midnight and took on board the commandery, locking up at 4:30 this morning.

In the dense fog, the South American, whose contingent consisted of the knights from points on the east shore of Lake Michigan, stranded near Nine-Mile Point in Hay lake. When the fog lifted this morning she succeeded in releasing herself without much trouble and reached the Sault to lock up at 7:30.

LAKE LEVELS IN MAY.

Lower Than Last Year; Estimated Higher for Present Month.

The United States lake survey reports the stages of the Great Lakes for the month of May, 1915, as follows:

Lakes—	Above Sea Level.
Superior	601.65
Michigan-Huron	579.64
Erie	571.69
Ontario	245.15

Lake Superior is .31 foot higher than last month, .58 foot lower than a year ago, .30 foot below the average stage of May of the last ten years, 1.40 feet below the high stage of May, 1861, and .83 foot above the low stage of May, 1911. Average stages of the last ten years indicate that the June level will be .3 foot higher.

Lakes Michigan-Huron are .16 foot higher than last month, .68 foot lower than a year ago, 1.07 feet below the average stage of May of the last ten years, 3.88 feet below the high stage of May, 1886, and .08 foot above the low stage of May, 1896. Average stages of the last ten years indicate that the June level will be .3 foot higher.

Lake Erie is .24 foot higher than last month, 1.21 feet lower than a year ago, 1.12 feet below the average stage of May of the last ten years, 2.73 feet below the high stage of May, 1862, and .38 foot above the low stage of May, 1901. Average stages of the last ten years indicate that the June level will be .2 foot higher.

Lake Ontario is .11 foot higher than last month, 1.80 feet lower than a year ago, 1.76 feet below the average stage of May of the last ten years, 3.80 feet below the high stage of May, 1870, and .19 feet above the low stage of May, 1872. Average stages of the last ten years indicate that the June level will be .1 foot higher.

BIG LUMBER CARGOES REACH OGDENSBURG

The steamer E. P. Jones, which left Duluth last week with the largest cargo of lumber ever shipped out of here on a single vessel, reached Ogdensburg, N. Y., in safety last Thursday. The cargo amounted to 1,882,000 feet of lumber. The previous record at Ogdensburg was held by the steamer John C. Howard, which brought to the Klondyke 1,400,000 feet two years ago.

The steamer Follette also reached the same port with nearly a million feet of lumber and the steamer Aztec is unloading a third cargo, an unusual number of vessels to arrive at one time.

The 1915 shipping season has been marked by record-breaking loads of package freight shipped from Ogdensburg to upper lake ports in the steamers of the Rutland fleet.

To Have Plates Replaced.

The steamer Jenney arrived this morning from the East and proceeded immediately to the shipyard in Superior. Several of her plates will have to be replaced, as a result of a jamming she got recently at the Sault. The damage is not very extensive.

First Passengers Arrive.

The Anchor line steamer Tionesta arrived yesterday with thirty passengers on board, the first of the season. The Tionesta will leave this afternoon with a return list. This marks the opening of the passenger season in Duluth and it will soon be in full swing, keeping up until in September.

ARSON SUGGESTED AS CAUSE OF FIRE

Stranger Thought to Have Started Blaze at Suburban Residence.

Incendiarism is one of several theories advanced by firemen as to the cause of an $8,000 blaze Saturday morning which destroyed a dwelling at 6124 East Superior street, owned by Mrs. Wilma Park.

At the time of the fire Mrs. Park was absent from the city and her home was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Finch. Neighbors first saw the flames and turned in an alarm, while the occupants of the house were driven out before they had time to save even their personal belongings.

By the time fire fighting apparatus reached the scene, the flames had made such a headway that it was impossible to get them under control and the house was gutted. Included in the loss was a library valued at $1,200. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

A strange man was seen prowling around the Finch residence late on the night before the fire, according to neighbors. Chief Randall, with apparatus from engine company No. 6, responded to the alarm.

ARRESTED AFTER LONG SEARCH

Police Watch the Home of John E. Brown for Ten Days.

After a ten-days' search, during which a cordon of police was stationed around his home constantly, John E. Brown, age 21, a chauffeur, was arrested on a Woodland car yesterday afternoon charged with indecent assault. The father of a 7-year-old girl is the complainant in the case, the warrant being issued by the county attorney.

On May 22 the girl, with her sister, age 8, applied at the Brown residence, 12 West Winona street, offering flowers for sale. Brown is alleged to have agreed to buy from them, and invited them to step inside until he could get some change.

Although the crime is alleged to have been committed that afternoon, a warrant was not issued until several days later. Beginning Thursday, May 27, police guarded the home of Brown's parents, where he lives, in the hope that he would return.

His arrest was accomplished when he was seen boarding a Woodland car Sunday morning and Lieut. F. A. Schulte, with Sergt. John Englert, in an automobile, caught up with the car before Brown alighted.

He told the police that he had been in Minneapolis four days, and had secured a job there. He had returned home for some clothes and planned to resume his work at once.

"I didn't do it," he declared at headquarters, "and I can't remmebr ever seeing the girls before. There is some mistake. I heard some rumors about an affair of this kind several days ago, and even asked a Woodland patrolman if he knew the names of the girls."

Brown said he had been drinking the night before, and that he slept most of Saturday, including the afternoon. He has no recollections of asking anyone to come in the house, or taking them upstairs, he said.

Arraigned before Judge Smallwood in municipal court this morning, Brown pleaded not guilty, and was held for an examination June 9 in $500 bail.

TRIBUTE FROM HIS FELLOW TOWNSMEN

FRED B. MYERS.

Fred B. Myers, the Biwabik banker, who has just moved to Duluth to engage in business here, is paid a high tribute as a man and a citizen, by the people of his home town. He is described in the Biwabik paper as a graduate of the "school of hard knocks," and Biwabik considers his departure a heavy loss to that city.

He is said to have been the foremost citizen in that town, whose advice for the public good was always listened to with interest and profit. His business career was one of rapid progress, having risen from the cashiership of the Biwabik state bank to the presidency of the First National bank. In his business capacity he gained a large acquaintanceship and was highly regarded throughout Northern Minnesota. He was also president of the State bank of Aurora and head of the First National bank of Gilbert, and has large property holdings on the range.

Mr. Myers is engaged in the bonding business of Duluth.

ENGINEERS WILL HOLD MEETING HERE

Branches of State Society Will Convene Friday and Saturday.

Members of the Minnesota branches of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will hold a joint session Friday and Saturday, the program for the two days having been announced yesterday by Secretary Eva of the Commercial club.

The visitors will arrive in Duluth over a special train early Friday evening. W. N. Ryerson of the Great Northern Power company will deliver an illustrated lecture on the company's plant and J. H. Hearding will talk on "The Iron Ore Industry of Minnesota" during the opening meeting at the Commercial club after the arrival of the engineers.

A trip to the ore and coal docks will be made on Saturday morning, to be followed by a luncheon at noon at the Spirit Lake branch of the boat club and a visit to the steel plant in the afternoon. The boat for the trip will be furnished by the Commercial club. The women of the party will be entertained at the Lyceum during the program.

A banquet at the Commercial club at 6:30 o'clock will bring the session to a close.

HEAD COMMITTEE FOR MAYO SCHEME

Board of Regents Expected to Accept Affiliation Plan Wednesday.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 7.—By unanimous vote the executive committee of the University of Minnesota regents consisting of the entire board except Dr. W. J. Mayor, late Saturday approved a report favoring the affiliation of the graduate school of medicine with the Mayo foundation at Rochester, on the revised terms as finally made to the board by the Mayo brothers. The report had been prepared by a subcommittee consisting of Fred B. Snyder, president of the board; President George E. Vincent, and Pierce Butler of St. Paul.

The vote was taken after a lengthy hearing, mostly consumed in a colloquy between members of the board and Dr. Charles L. Greene of St. Paul, leader of the opposition to the Mayo plan. Dr. Greene and others asked for more time to meet the questions covered in the report.

Up to Regents Wednesday.

The report itself, and this request for more time, will be presented by the executive committee to the board of regents at its regular meeting next Wednesday. Action is expected at that time. The report doubtless will be adopted, and steps then will be taken to enter on the temporary period of affiliation, to last six years.

Regents took issue sharply with Dr. Greene and with alumni who appeared to oppose the plan. Pierce Butler declared that all the adverse arguments were directed at the first proposal, and not against the revised plan, which has met all the former objections. Dr. Greene said he was not ready to state his objections formally to the revised plan, and asked for more time to study it.

CATHOLIC FORESTERS MEET THIS WEEK

New Ulm, Minn., June 7.—The twelfth biennial state convention of the Catholic Order of Foresters will be held in this city tomorrow and Wednesday with about 200 delegates present.

One of the features of the convention will be the initiation of a class of 100 members. Members of St. John court of this city will serve a banquet in honor of the delegates. Rev. R. Schlinkert of this city will be toastmaster, and addresses will be delivered by Bishop James Trobec, Chief Ranger P. H. Martin of Duluth, Julius A. Coller of Shakopee, Rev. E. Monge of Faribault, and Math Bantz of St. Paul.

DRILL SATISFACTORY.

Commander Eaton Pleased With Work of Militia on Cruise.

The work of the naval militia during the cruise of the United States training ship Gopher was perfectly satisfactory, according to Commander Guy Eaton upon his return last night from a cruise with the militia to Bark bay. The boat cleared the harbor Saturday. One hundred men were on board.

Commander Eaton says that the men engaged in routine work, boat drill and work about the ship to his entire satisfaction. "Everything went off like clock-work," said Mr. Eaton today. "I was surprised to see the efficiency shown by the men in handling themselves."

The Gopher will make its next cruise June 14.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY.

Finnish Socialist Newspaper Ends First Year of Publication.

The first anniversary of the publication of the Finnish paper, Socialisti, was celebrated by Duluth Finns at their hall on Lake avenue north last night. About 300 persons were present and listened to the program. Luncheon was served.

The following program was given:

COAL AT LOW PRICES.

City Will Order Supply During the Warm Season.

In order to obtain the advantages of buying coal in the present low market, city department heads are planning to fill their bins to capacity during this month. As the summer advances the price of coal increases, continuing its rise throughout the winter. Last week the council decided to buy coal in the open market, instead of making a contract with some local coal company for the entire year. An appropriation of $3,500 for the year's supply will be authorized at the council meeting this evening.

FRISCO HOTEL RATES ARE NOT EXORBITANT

Because of the report that hotels in San Francisco are charging exorbitant rates during the Panama exposition, the Palace Hotel company is starting a campaign of publicity regarding the rates being charged at that hostelry. A series of advertisements will be published in The Herald and other newspapers of the country setting forth the lists of prices and accommodations, to correct the erroneous impression that prevails.

CANNOT SHIP LIQUOR.

Milwaukee Railroad Also Enjoined By North Dakota Officials.

Mandan, N. D., June 7.—H. R. Bitzing, assistant attorney general of North Dakota, has secured an injunction from Judge J. M. Hanley, restraining the Milwaukee railroad from accepting for shipment into North Dakota any intoxicating liquors. Attorney General Linde says that the Great Northern and Soo line would be enjoined this week. The Northern Pacific was enjoined a month ago.

GERMAN LUTHERANS MEET THIS WEEK

New Ulm, Minn., June 7.—The annual conference of the German Evangelical Lutheran synod of Minnesota will be held in New Ulm from June 10 to 16, inclusive. One hundred and fifty delegates will be in attendance. The delegates will be composed of ministers and lay delegates from the different Evangelical Lutheran congregations of the state. Questions regarding the synod and different Lutheran institutions and points of doctrine will be discussed and action taken.

FALL FROM BRIDGE FATAL FOR FORKS MAN

Grand Forks, N. D., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Martin Johnson, aged 41, pitched forty feet to death in the Red river, off the Northern Pacific bridge, Saturday night. His body was found Sunday.

GRAND FORKS MAN DIES FOLLOWING FALL

Grand Forks, N. D., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Lammey, who operated a street car here fourteen years ago, was killed late Saturday.

Lammey was painting the roof of the porch of his residence, when his ladder slipped and he was precipitated to the cement walk, ten feet below, alighting on his head. His skull was crushed. Two hours later he was dead.

EPISCOPALIANS ARE AT GRAND FORKS

Grand Forks, N. D., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual convocation of the North Dakota Episcopalians opened here yesterday afternoon, and will continue till tomorrow.

Bishop John P. Tyler reported today on the development of Episcopalian work during the past year, showing a very satisfactory increase both in parishioners in the state, and in the effective work of the established churches. Mission work among Indians has been particularly successful.

ROOSEVELT AND PARTY VISITING IN MISSISSIPPI

Pass Christian, Miss., June 7.—Col. Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt arrived here today to visit John M. Parker. Tomorrow the colonel and a party of men will board the Louisiana conservation commission's yacht for a trip among the Federal and state game preserves of about 30,000 acres. It is said it was at Col. Roosevelt's suggestion that the first Federal preserve was established in Louisiana, but he has never seen it.

Big Marquette Normal Class.

Marquette, Mich., June 7.—The graduation class at the Northern State Normal school this year will, it is expected, number 74 students, who will be given life certificates, and 16 who will be given limited certificates as graduates from the graded school course. Of these 89 graduates, 21 are from Marquette. The commencement exercises will be held in the auditorium of the new administration building, June 22.

N. D. LIGNITE RATE IS NOW IN EFFECT

Bismarck, N. D., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new lignite tariff, introduced by railroads operating in the state, and taking the place of the tariff recently declared confiscatory by the supreme court of the United States, is now effective.

Under the order filed with the commission, the new rate is approximately 40 per cent higher than the rate that was declared void.

The interstate rate on lignite, which also has been boosted, will become effective on June 30.

SEEKING GRADUATES AS SCHOOL TEACHERS

Grand Forks, N. D., June 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—University of North Dakota graduates seemingly are demanded in the state as teachers, over fifty having been engaged. The commencement exercises will be opened at the end of this week, and will continue throughout next week.

PERSONAL.

—THE ANSWER—

TO THE QUESTION WE ASKED IN OUR AD OF LAST WEEK.

What is the difference between the so-called piano factory representative and the ordinary retail piano store?

The difference is this: The "so-called piano factory representative" IS NOT a factory representative at all; he is financially irresponsible, and obtains his pianos entirely on a commission or consignment basis. He does not own or pay for a single piano or even a piano stool. When he pays the factory for the goods, he pays with your contract, if you purchase on the contract plan.

The "ordinary retail store" purchases pianos usually on the note plan where they can purchase the cheapest—often not taking quality into consideration.

The Raudenbush & Sons Piano company have their own factory, and manufacture pianos and player pianos, and own all their pianos and player pianos, and at their warerooms, 232 West First street, Duluth, sell direct to the people, thus eliminating the "so-called piano factory representative" and the "ordinary retail piano store" and their profits, which amount to $100 or more on each piano.

IF YOU WISH TO SAVE THIS AMOUNT, BE SURE AND CALL ON US.

Do You Think as highly of your store--of your business--as your competitor does of his? Does your advertising, in comparison with his, show it?

HOPELESSLY LOST

are most lost articles, even though found by a person who is willing and anxious to return them, UNLESS he tells about it in the "Lost and Found" column—

EVERYONE in Duluth reads The Herald lost and found columns when they find anything, knowing that the article will be advertised there if advertised at all. Let the public know through The Herald "Lost and Found" columns when you lose a thing and it generally will be returned.
